Shares

McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation

Common Stock

This is an initial public offering of shares of common stock of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation. The selling stockholder identified in this prospectus is offering all of the shares to be sold in the offering. We will not receive any of the proceeds from the sale of the shares. PVF Holdings LLC intends to distribute the net proceeds of this offering, after giving effect to the underwriting discount, to its members, which include certain members of our board of directors and senior management team and various of their affiliates, and affiliates of Goldman Sachs & Co., which is one of the book-running managers for this offering.

Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for the common stock. It is currently estimated that the initial public offering price per share will be between $ and $. We intend to apply to have our common stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol “MRC”.

See “Risk Factors” beginning on page 18 to read about factors you should consider before buying shares of the common stock.

Neither the Securities and Exchange Commission nor any state securities commission has approved or disapproved of these securities or passed upon the adequacy or accuracy of this prospectus. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

This summary highlights selected information contained elsewhere in this prospectus. You should carefully read the entire prospectus, including the "Risk Factors" and the consolidated financial statements and related notes included elsewhere in this prospectus, before making an investment decision. In this prospectus, all references to "the Company", "McJunkin Red Man", "we", "us", and "our" refer to McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation and its consolidated subsidiaries, unless the context otherwise requires or where otherwise indicated, and references to the "Red Man Transaction" are to the October 2007 business combination of McJunkin Corporation ("McJunkin") and Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. ("Red Man"). We use non-GAAP measures in this prospectus, including Adjusted EBITDA. For a reconciliation of this measure to Net income, see footnote 3 under "— Summary Consolidated Financial Information."

Our Business

We are the largest North American distributor of pipe, valves and fittings ("PVF") and related products and services to the energy industry based on sales and the leading PVF distributor serving this industry across each of the upstream (exploration, production, and extraction of underground oil and gas), midstream (gathering and transmission of oil and gas, gas utilities, and the storage and distribution of oil and gas) and downstream (crude oil refining and petrochemical processing) markets. We have an unmatched presence of over 250 branches that are located in the most active oil and gas regions in North America. We offer an extensive array of PVF and oilfield supplies encompassing over 100,000 products, we are diversified by geography and end market and we seek to provide best-in-class service to our customers by satisfying the most complex, multi-site needs of some of the largest companies in the energy and industrials sectors as their primary supplier. As a result, we have an average relationship of over 20 years with our top ten customers and our pro forma sales in 2007 were over twice as large as our nearest competitor in the energy industry. We believe the critical role we play in our customers' supply chain, our unmatched scale and extensive product offering, our broad North American geographic presence, our customer-linked scalable information systems and our efficient distribution capabilities serve to solidify our long-standing customer relationships and drive our growth.

We have benefited in recent years from several growth trends within the energy industry including high levels of expansion and maintenance capital expenditures by our customers. This growth in spending has been driven by several factors, including underinvestment in North American energy infrastructure, production and capacity constraints and anticipated strength in the oil, natural gas, refined products and petrochemical markets. While current prices for oil and natural gas are high relative to historical levels, we believe that investment in the energy sector by our customers would continue at prices well below current levels. In addition, our products are often used in extreme operating environments leading to the need for a regular replacement cycle. As a result, over 50% of our historical and pro forma sales in 2007 were attributable to multi-year maintenance, repair and operations ("MRO") contracts where we have demonstrated an over 99% average annual retention rate since 2000. The combination of these ongoing factors has helped increase demand for our products and services, resulting in record levels of customer orders to be shipped as of September 2008. For the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 on a pro forma basis, we generated sales of $3,952.7 million, Adjusted EBITDA of $370.4 million and net income of $150.8 million. In addition, for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007, without giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, we generated sales of $2,124.9 million, EBITDA of $171 million and net income of $56.9 million, and for the twelve months ended October 31, 2007, before giving effect to the Red Man Transaction, Red Man generated sales of $1,982.0 million, EBITDA of $170 million and net income of $82.2 million.

We have established a position as the largest North American PVF distributor to the energy industry based on sales. We distribute products throughout North America and the Gulf of Mexico, including in PVF intensive, rapidly expanding oil and natural gas production areas such as the Bakken, Barnett, Fayetteville, Haynesville and Marcellus shales. Growth in these oil and natural gas production areas is driven by improved production technology, favorable market trends and robust capital expenditure budgets. Furthermore, our Canadian subsidiary Midfield Supply ULC and its subsidiaries ("Midfield"), one of the three largest Canadian PVF distributors based on sales, provides PVF products to oil and gas companies operating primarily in Western Canada, including the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin, Alberta Oil Sands and heavy oil markets. These regions are still in the early stages of infrastructure investment with numerous companies seeking to facilitate the long-term harvesting of difficult to extract and process crude oil.

McJunkin Red Man Locations

Across our extensive North American platform we offer a broad complement of products and services to the upstream, midstream and downstream sectors of the energy industry, as well as other industrial (including general manufacturing, pulp and paper, food and beverage) and other energy (power generation, liquefied natural gas, coal, alternative energy) end markets. During the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 on a pro forma basis, approximately 46% of our sales were attributable to upstream activities, approximately 22% were attributable to midstream activities and approximately 32% were attributable to downstream and other processing activities which include the refining, chemical and other industrial and energy end markets. In addition, before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, during the twelve months ended December 31, 2007, approximately 36% of our sales were attributable to upstream activities, approximately 18% were attributable to midstream activities and approximately 46% were attributable to downstream and other processing activities.

We offer more than 100,000 products including an extensive array of PVF, oilfield supply, automation, instrumentation and other general and specialty products to our customers across our various end markets. Due to the demanding operating conditions in the energy industry and high costs associated with equipment failure, customers prefer highly reliable products and vendors with established qualifications and experience. As our PVF products typically represent a fraction of the total cost of the project, our customers place a premium on service given the high cost to them of maintenance or new project delays. Our products are typically used in high-volume, high-stress, abrasive applications such as the gathering and transmission of oil and natural gas, in high-pressure, extreme temperature and high-corrosion applications such as in heating and desulphurization in the processing and refining industries and in steam generation units in the power industry.

With over 250 locations servicing the energy and industrial sectors, we are an important link between our more than 10,000 customers and our more than 10,000 suppliers. We add value to our customers and suppliers in a number of ways:

- Broad Product Offering and High Customer Service Levels: The breadth and depth of our product offering enables us to provide a high level of service to our energy and industrial customers. Given our North American inventory coverage and branch network, we are able to fulfill orders more quickly, including orders for less common and specialty items, and provide our customers with a greater array of value added services, including multiple daily deliveries, volume purchasing, product testing and supplier assessments, inventory management and warehousing, technical support, just-in-time delivery, order consolidation, product tagging and tracking, and system interfaces customized to customer and supplier specifications, than if we operated on a smaller scale and/or only at a local or regional level. Thus our clients, particularly those operating throughout North America, can quickly and efficiently source the most suitable products with the least amount of downtime and at the lowest total transaction cost.
- Approved Manufacturer List ("AML") Services: Our customers rely on us to provide a high level of quality control for their PVF products. We do this by regularly auditing many of our suppliers for quality assurance through our Supplier Registration Process. We use our resulting Approved Supplier List (the "MRM ASL") to supply products across many of the markets we support, particularly for downstream and midstream customers. This process has enabled us to achieve a preferred vendor status with many key end users in the industry that utilize our AML services to help devise and maintain their own approved manufacturer listings. In this manner, we seek to ensure that our customers timely receive reliable and high quality products without incurring additional administrative and procurement expenses. Our suppliers in turn look to us as a key partner, which has been important in establishing us as an important link in the supply chain and a leader in the industry.
- Customized and Integrated Service Offering: We offer our customers integrated supply services including product procurement, product quality assurance, physical warehousing, and inventory management and analysis using our proprietary customized information technology platform. This is part of an overall strategy to promote a "one stop" shop for PVF purchases across the upstream-midstream-downstream spectrum and throughout North America through integrated supply agreements and MRO contracts that enable our customers to focus on their core operations and increase the efficiency of their business.

Our Industry

We primarily serve the North American oil and gas industry, generating over 90% of our sales from supplying PVF products and various services to customers throughout the energy industry. Given the diverse requirements and various factors that drive the growth of the upstream, midstream and downstream energy markets, our sales to each sector may vary from time to time, though the overall strength of the global energy market is typically a good indicator of our performance. The underinvestment in North American energy infrastructure, together with production and capacity constraints and anticipated strength in the oil, natural gas, refined products and petrochemical markets, have spurred high levels of expansion and maintenance capital expenditures in our energy end markets by our customers. Furthermore, as participants in the energy industry continue to focus on raising operating efficiency, they have been increasingly looking to outsource their procurement and related administrative functions to distributors like us.

Beyond the oil and gas industry, we also supply products and services to other energy sectors such as coal, power generation, liquefied natural gas and alternative energy facilities. We also provide products such as automation and instrumentation products and corrosion resistant piping products to more general industrial end markets such as pulp and paper, metals processing, fabrication, pharmaceutical, food and beverage and manufacturing companies.

Our Competitive Strengths

We consider the following to be our key competitive strengths:

Market Leader with Complete North American Coverage and Significant Scale. We are the leading North American distributor of PVF and related products to the energy industry based on sales, with at least twice the sales of our nearest competitor in the energy industry in 2007. Our North American network of over 250 locations in 38 U.S. states and in Canada gives us a significant market presence and provides us with substantial economies of scale that we believe make us a more effective competitor. The benefits of our size and extensive North American presence include: (1) the ability to act as a single-source supplier to large, multi-location customers operating across all segments of the energy industry; (2) the ability to commit significant financial resources to further develop our operating infrastructure, including our information systems, and provide a strong platform for future expansion; (3) volume purchasing benefits from our suppliers; (4) an ability to leverage our extensive North American inventory coverage to provide greater overall breadth and depth of product offerings; (5) the ability to attract and retain effective managers and salespeople; and (6) a business model exhibiting a high degree of operating leverage. Our presence and scale have also enabled us to establish an efficient supply chain and logistics platform, allowing us to better serve our customers and further differentiate us from our competitors.

High Level of Integration and MRO Contracts with a Blue Chip Customer Base. We have a diversified customer base with over 10,000 active customers and serve as the sole or primary supplier in all end markets or in specified end markets or geographies for many of our customers. Our top ten customers, with whom we have had relationships for more than 20 years on average, accounted for less than 30% of 2007 pro forma sales and no single customer accounted for more than 5% of 2007 pro forma sales. Before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, our top ten customers accounted for approximately 30% of our 2007 sales and our largest customer accounted for approximately 6% of our 2007 sales. We enjoy fully integrated relationships, including interconnected technology systems and daily communication, with many of our customers and we provide an extensive range of integrated and outsourced supply services, allowing us to market a “total transaction cost” concept as opposed to individual product prices. We provide such services as multiple daily deliveries, zone stores management, valve tagging, truck stocking and significant system support for tracking and replenishing inventory, which we believe results in deeply integrated customer relationships. We sell products to many of our customers through multi-year MRO contracts which are typically renegotiated every three to five years. Although there are typically no guaranteed minimum purchase amounts under these contracts, these MRO customers, representing over 50% of both our 2007 historical and pro forma sales, provide a relatively stable revenue stream and help mitigate against industry downturns. We believe we have been able to retain customers by ensuring a high level of service and integration, as evidenced by our annual average MRO contract retention rate of over 99% since 2000. Furthermore, we have recently signed new MRO contracts displacing competitors that provide opportunities for us to gain new customers and broaden existing customer relationships.

Business and Geographic Diversification in High-Growth Areas. We are well diversified across the upstream, midstream and downstream operations of the energy industry, as well as through our participation in selected industrial end markets. During the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 on a pro forma basis, we generated approximately 46% of our sales in the upstream sector, 22% in the midstream sector, and 32% in the downstream, industrial and other energy end markets. Before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, during the twelve months ended December 31, 2007, approximately 36% of our sales were attributable to upstream activities, approximately 18% were attributable to midstream activities and approximately 46% were attributable to downstream and other processing activities. This diversification affords us some measure of protection in the event of a downturn in any one end market while providing us the ability to offer “one stop” shopping for most of our integrated energy customers. In addition, our more than 250 branches are located near major hydrocarbon and refining regions throughout North America, including rapidly expanding oil and natural gas exploration and production (“E&P”) areas in North America, such as the Bakken, Barnett, Fayetteville, Haynesville and Marcellus shales. Our geographic diversity enhances our ability to respond to customers quickly, gives us a strong presence in these high growth E&P areas and reduces our exposure to a downturn in any one region.

Strategic Supplier Relationships. We have extensive relationships with our suppliers and have key supplier relationships dating back in certain instances over 60 years. We purchased approximately $1 billion of products from our top ten suppliers for the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 on a pro forma basis, representing approximately 32% of our purchases. Before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, during the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 we purchased approximately $431 million of products from our top ten suppliers, representing approximately 30.7% of our purchases. We believe our customers view us as an industry leader for the formal processes we use to evaluate vendor performance and product quality. We employ individuals, certified by the International Registry of Certificated Auditors, who specialize in conducting manufacturer assessments both domestically and internationally. Our Supplier Registration Process (“SRP”), which allows us to maintain the MRM ASL, serves as a significant strategic advantage to us in developing, maintaining and institutionalizing key supplier relationships. For our suppliers, being included on the MRM ASL represents an opportunity for them to increase their product sales to our customers. The SRP also adds value to our customers, as they collaborate with us regarding specific manufacturer performance, our past experiences with products and the results of our on-site supplier assessments. Having a timely, uninterrupted supply of those mission critical products from approved vendors is an essential part of our customers’ day-to-day operations and we work to fulfill that need through our SRP.

A Leading IT Platform Focused on Customer Service. Our business is supported by our integrated, scalable and customer-linked customized information systems. These systems and our more than 3,400 employees are linked by a wide area network. We are currently implementing an initiative, expected to be completed in 2009, that will combine our business operations onto one enterprise server-based system. This will enable real-time access to our business resources, including customer order processing, purchasing and material requests, distribution requirements planning, warehousing and receiving, inventory control and accounting and financial functions. Significant elements of our systems include firm-wide pricing controls resulting in disciplined pricing strategies, advanced scanning and customized bar-coding capabilities, allowing for efficient warehousing activities at customer as well as our own locations, and significant levels of customer-specific integrations. We believe that the customized integration of our customers’ systems into our own information systems has increased customer retention by reducing their expenses, thus creating switching costs when comparing us to alternative sources of supply. Typically, smaller regional and local competitors do not have IT capabilities that are as advanced as ours.

Highly Efficient, Flexible Operating Platform Drives Significant Free Cash Flow Generation. We place a particular emphasis on practicing financial discipline as evidenced by our strong focus on return on assets, minimal capital expenditures and high free cash flow generation. Our disciplined cost control, coupled with our active asset management strategies, result in a business model exhibiting a high degree of operating leverage. As is typical with the flexibility associated with a distribution operating model, our variable cost base includes substantially all of our cost of goods sold and a significant portion of our operating costs. Furthermore, our maintenance capital expenditures were less than 0.2% of our pro forma sales for the year ended December 31, 2007. This cost structure allows us to adjust to changing industry dynamics and, as a result, during periods of decreased sales activity, we typically generate significant free cash flow as our costs are reduced and working capital contracts.

Experienced and Motivated Management Team. Our senior management team has an average of over 25 years of experience in the oilfield and industrial supply business, the majority of which has been with McJunkin Red Man or its predecessors. After giving effect to this offering, senior management will own % of our company indirectly through their equity interests in PVF Holdings LLC. We also seek to incentivize and align management with shareholder interests through equity-linked compensation plans. Furthermore, executive compensation is based on profitability and return-on-investment targets which we believe drives accountability and further aligns the organization with our shareholders.

Our Business Strategy

Our goal is to become the largest global distributor of PVF and related products to the energy and industrials sectors. We intend to grow our business by leveraging our existing position as the largest North American distributor of PVF products and services to the energy industry based on sales. Our strategy is focused on pursuing growth by increasing organic market share and growing our business with current customers, expanding into new geographies and end markets, further penetrating the Canadian Oil Sands and downstream sector, pursuing selective strategic acquisitions and investments, increasing recurring revenues through integrated supply, MRO and project contracts, and continuing to increase our operational efficiency.

Increase Organic Market Share and Grow Business with Current Customers. We are committed to expanding upon existing deep relationships with our current customer base while at the same time striving to secure new customers. To accomplish this, we are focused on providing a “one stop” PVF procurement solution throughout North America and across the upstream, midstream and downstream sectors of the energy industry, cross-selling by leveraging our expanded product offering resulting from the business combination between McJunkin Corporation (“McJunkin”) and Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. (“Red Man”) in October 2007, and increasing our penetration of existing customers’ new multiyear projects.

The migration of existing customer relationships to sole or primary sourcing arrangements is a core strategic focus. We seek to position ourselves as the sole or primary provider of a broad complement of PVF products and services for a particular customer, often by end market and/or geography, or in certain instances across all of a customer’s North American upstream, midstream and downstream operations. Several of our largest customers have recently switched to sole or primary sourcing contracts with us. Additionally, we believe that significant opportunities exist to expand upon heritage McJunkin and Red Man existing deep customer and supplier relationships and thereby increase our market share. While we believe that the heritage McJunkin and Red Man organizations each maintained robust product offerings, there also remain opportunities to cross-sell certain products into the other heritage organization’s customer base and branch network. As part of these efforts, we are working to further strengthen our service offerings by augmenting our product portfolio, management expertise and sales force.

We also aim to increase our penetration of our existing customers’ new projects. For example, while we often provide nearly 100% of the PVF products for certain customers under MRO contracts, increased penetration of those customers’ new downstream and midstream projects remains a strategic priority. Initiatives are in place to deepen relationships with engineering and construction firms and to extend our product offering into certain niches. We recently integrated core project groups in several locations to focus solely on capturing new multi-year project opportunities and we are encouraged by these initial efforts.

Expand into New Geographies and End Markets. We intend to selectively establish new branches in order to facilitate our expansion into new geographies, and enter end markets where extreme operating environments generate high PVF product replacement rates. We continue to evaluate establishing branches and service and supply centers, entering into joint ventures, and making acquisitions in select domestic and international regions. While we believe that we are one of three PVF distributors with branches throughout North America, there is opportunity to expand via new branch openings in certain geographic areas.

While our near term strategy is to continue to expand within North America, we believe that attractive opportunities exist to expand internationally. Though we currently maintain only one branch outside North America, we continue to actively evaluate opportunities to extend our offering to key international markets, particularly in West Africa, the Middle East, Europe and South America. The E&P opportunity and current installed base of energy infrastructure internationally is significantly larger than in North America and as a result we believe represents an attractive long term opportunity both for ourselves and our largest customers. While our near term focus internationally will be centered on growing our business with our already largely global customer base, the increased focus, particularly by foreign-owned integrated oil companies, on efficiency, cost savings, process improvements and core competencies has also generated potential growth opportunities to add new customers that we will continue to monitor closely.

We also believe opportunities exist for expansion into new and under penetrated end markets where PVF products are used in specialized, highly corrosive applications. These end markets include pulp and paper, food and beverage and other general industrial markets, in addition to other energy end markets such as power generation, liquefied natural gas, coal, nuclear and ethanol. We believe our extensive North American branch platform, comprehensive PVF product offering, and reputation for high customer service and technical expertise positions us to participate in the growth in these end markets.

We believe there also remains an opportunity to continue to expand into certain niche and specialty products that complement our current extensive product offering. These products include automated valves, instrumentation, stainless, chrome and high nickel alloy PVF, large diameter carbon steel pipe and certain specialty items, including steam products.

Further Penetrate the Canadian Oil Sands, Particularly the Downstream Sector. The Canadian Oil Sands region and its attendant downstream markets represent very attractive growth areas for our company. Improvements in mining and in-situ technology are driving significant investment in the area and, according to the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board, the Canadian Oil Sands contain an ultimately recoverable crude bitumen resource of 315 billion barrels, with established reserves of almost 173 billion barrels at December 2007. Canada has the second largest recoverable crude oil reserves in the world, behind Saudi Arabia. Capital and maintenance investments in the Canadian Oil Sands are expected to experience dramatic growth due to rising global energy demand and advancements in recovery and upgrading technologies. According to the Alberta Ministry of Energy, an estimated CDN$67 billion (US$66.2 billion) was invested in Canadian Oil Sands projects from 2000 to 2007. These large facilities require significant ongoing PVF maintenance well in excess of traditional energy infrastructure, given the extremely harsh operating environments and highly corrosive conditions. According to the Alberta Ministry of Energy, almost CDN$170 billion (US$168 billion) in Canadian Oil Sands-related projects were underway or proposed as of June 2008, which we estimate could generate significant PVF expenditures.

While Midfield has historically focused on the upstream and midstream sectors in Canada, we believe that a significant opportunity exists to penetrate the Canadian Oil Sands downstream market which includes the upgrader and refinery markets. We are the leading provider of PVF products to the downstream market in the U.S. and believe this sector expertise and existing customer relationships can be utilized by our upstream and midstream Canadian operations to grow our downstream sector presence in this region. We also believe there is a significant opportunity to penetrate the Canadian Oil Sands extraction market involving in-situ recovery methods, including SAGD (steam assisted gravity drainage) and CSS (cyclic steam stimulation) techniques used to extract the bitumen. We have formed a full team overseen by senior management, have made recent inventory and facility investments in Canada, including a new 60,000 square foot distribution center facility located near Edmonton, and have opened additional locations in Western Canada to address this opportunity. Finally, we also believe that an attractive opportunity exists to more fully penetrate the MRO market in Canada, including refineries, petrochemical facilities, utilities and pulp and paper and other general industrial markets.

Pursue Selective Strategic Acquisitions and Investments. Acquisitions have been a core focus and acquisition integration a core competency for us. We continue to seek opportunities to strengthen our franchise through selective acquisitions and strategic investments. In particular, we will consider investments that enhance our presence in the energy infrastructure market and enable us to leverage our existing operations, either through acquiring new branches or by acquiring companies offering complementary products or end market breadth. Our industry remains highly fragmented and we believe a significant number of small and larger acquisition opportunities remain that offer favorable synergy potential and attractive growth characteristics. Acquisitions have been a core focus for both the heritage McJunkin and Red Man organizations which we plan to continue. In addition to the business combination between McJunkin and Red Man, since 2000 we have integrated 19 acquisitions which collectively represented over $900 million in sales in the year of acquisition. Important recent acquisitions include Midfield, one of the three largest oilfield supply companies in Canada with 68 branches, and Midway-Tristate Corporation (“Midway”), a leading oilfield distributor primarily serving the Rockies and Appalachia regions. Historically, our operating scale and integration capabilities have enabled us to realize important synergies, while minimizing execution risk, which we intend to focus on with future acquisitions.

Increase Recurring Revenues through Integrated Supply, MRO and Project Contracts. We have entered into and continue to pursue integrated supply, MRO and project contracts with certain of our customers. These arrangements generally designate us as the sole or primary source provider of the upstream, midstream, and/or downstream requirements of our customers. In certain instances we are the sole or primary source provider for our customers across all the energy sectors and/or North American geographies within which the customer operates.

Our customers have, over time, increasingly moved toward centralized PVF procurement management at the corporate level rather than at individual local units. While these developments are partly due to significant consolidation among our customer base, sole or primary sourcing arrangements allow customers to focus on their core operations and provide economic benefits by generating immediate savings for the customer through administrative cost and working capital reductions, while providing for increased volumes, more stable revenue streams and longer term visibility for us. We believe we are well positioned to obtain these arrangements due to our (1) geographically diverse and strategically located branch network, (2) experience, technical expertise and reputation for premier customer service operating across all segments of the energy industry, (3) breadth of available product lines and value added services, and (4) existing deep relationships with customers and suppliers.

We also have exclusive and non-exclusive MRO contracts and new project contracts in place. Our customers are increasing their maintenance and capital spending, which is being driven by aging infrastructure, their increased utilization of existing facilities and the decreasing quality of energy feedstocks. Our customers benefit from MRO agreements through lower inventory investment and the reduction of transaction costs associated with the elimination of the bid submission process, and our company benefits from the recurring revenue stream that occurs with an MRO contract in place. We believe there are additional opportunities to utilize MRO arrangements for servicing the requirements of our customers and we are actively pursuing such agreements.

Continued Focus on Operational Efficiency. We strive for continued operational excellence. Our branch managers, regional management and corporate leadership team continually examine branch profitability, working capital management, and return on managed assets and utilize this information to optimize national, regional and local strategies, reduce operating costs and maximize cash flow generation. As part of this effort, management incentives are centered on meeting EBITDA and return on assets targets.

In order to improve efficiencies and profitability, we work to leverage operational best practices, optimize our vendor relationships, purchasing, and inventory levels, and source inventory internationally when appropriate. As part of this strategy, we have integrated our heritage purchasing functions and believe we have developed strong relationships with vendors that value both our national footprint and volume purchasing capabilities. Because of this, we are often considered the preferred distribution channel. As we continue to consolidate our vendor relationships, we plan to devote additional resources to assist our customers in identifying products that improve their processes, day-to-day operations and overall operating efficiencies. We believe that offering these value added services maximizes our value to our customers and helps differentiate us from competitors.

Risk Factors

While our business has grown in recent years, we face various risks. For example, decreased capital expenditures in the energy industry could lead to decreased demand for our products and services and could therefore have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. We face other risks including, among others, fluctuations in steel prices, economic downturns, our lack of long-term contracts with many of our customers and suppliers and the absence of minimum purchase obligations under the long-term customer contracts that we do have, and risks associated with the integration of our predecessor companies, McJunkin and Red Man. Additionally, we have significant indebtedness. As of June 26, 2008, we had total debt outstanding of $1,284.7 million and we had borrowing availability of $542.5 million under our credit facilities. Our significant indebtedness could limit our ability to obtain additional financing, our ability to use operating cash flow in other areas of our business, and our ability to compete with other companies that are less leveraged, and could have other negative consequences. See “Risk Factors” for a more detailed discussion of these risks and other risks associated with our business.

Recent Developments

On July 31, 2008, we acquired the remaining approximate 49% minority voting interest in our Canadian subsidiary, Midfield Supply ULC, one of the three largest oilfield supply companies in Canada with 68 branches, for total payments of approximately $135.67 million.

On September 5, 2008, we entered into an agreement to acquire LaBarge Pipe & Steel Company (“LaBarge”). LaBarge is engaged in the sale and distribution of carbon steel pipes (predominantly large diameter pipe) for use primarily in the North American energy infrastructure market and had net sales revenue of $200.6 million in 2007. We agreed to pay $160 million for LaBarge on a debt-free, cash-free basis, subject to a working capital adjustment and customary indemnification provisions, plus up to an additional $45 million if LaBarge meets certain EBITDA targets in 2008 and 2009. The transaction is expected to close early in the fourth quarter of 2008 and is subject to the satisfaction or waiver of several customary closing conditions, including regulatory approval.

Summary Consolidated Financial Information

On January 31, 2007, McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation, an affiliate of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc., acquired a majority of the equity of the entity now known as McJunkin Red Man Corporation (then known as McJunkin Corporation) (the "GS Acquisition"). In this prospectus, the term "Predecessor" refers to McJunkin Corporation and its subsidiaries prior to January 31, 2007 and the term "Successor" refers to the entity now known as McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation and its subsidiaries on and after January 31, 2007. As a result of the change in McJunkin Corporation's basis of accounting in connection with the GS Acquisition, Predecessor's financial statement data for the one month ended January 30, 2007 and earlier periods is not comparable to Successor's financial data for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and subsequent periods.

McJunkin Corporation completed a business combination transaction with Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. (the "Red Man Transaction") on October 31, 2007. At that time McJunkin Corporation was renamed McJunkin Red Man Corporation. Operating results for the eleven-month period ended December 31, 2007 include the results of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation for the full period and the results of Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. ("Red Man") for the two months after the business combination on October 31, 2007. Accordingly, our results for the 11 months ended December 31, 2007 are not comparable to McJunkin's results for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005.

The summary consolidated financial information presented below under the captions Statement of Operations Data and Other Financial Data for the one month ended January 30, 2007 (Predecessor) and the eleven months ended December 31, 2007, and the summary consolidated financial information presented below under the caption Balance Sheet Data as of December 31, 2007, have been derived from the consolidated financial statements of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation included elsewhere in this prospectus that have been audited by Ernst & Young LLP, independent registered public accounting firm. The summary consolidated financial information presented below as of and for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2006 has been derived from the consolidated financial statements of our predecessor, McJunkin Corporation, included elsewhere in this prospectus that have been audited by Schneider Downs & Co., Inc., independent registered public accounting firm.

The summary unaudited interim consolidated financial information presented below under the captions Statement of Operations Data and Other Financial Data for the six months ended June 26, 2008 and the five months ended June 28, 2007, and the summary unaudited consolidated financial information presented below under the caption Balance Sheet Data as of June 26, 2008, have been derived from our unaudited interim consolidated financial statements, which are included elsewhere in this prospectus and have been prepared on the same basis as our audited consolidated financial statements. In the opinion of management, the interim data reflect all adjustments, consisting of normal and recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair presentation of results for these periods. Operating results for the six months ended June 26, 2008 include the results of McJunkin Corporation and Red Man for the full period. Operating results for the five-month period ending June 28, 2007 do not reflect the operating results of Red Man, as the Red Man Transaction did not occur until October 31, 2007. Accordingly, the results for the six months ended June 26, 2008 are not comparable to the results for the five months ended June 28, 2007. In addition, operating results for the six-month period ended June 26, 2008 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ended December 31, 2008.

The summary unaudited pro forma consolidated statements of operations data for the six months ended June 28, 2007 and the year ended December 31, 2007 give pro forma effect to (1) the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction, as if each such transaction had occurred on January 1, 2007, and (2) our entering into our $575 million term loan facility and our $700 million revolving credit facility, as if we had entered into these facilities on January 1, 2007.

The pro forma statement of operations data for the six months ended June 28, 2007 includes McJunkin Corporation's results for the one month ended January 30, 2007 (before the GS Acquisition), McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation's results for the five months ended June 28, 2007 (before the Red Man Transaction), and Red Man's results for the six months ended April 30, 2007. The pro forma statement of operations data for the year ended December 31, 2007 includes McJunkin Corporation's results for the one month ended January 30, 2007, McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation's results for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 (reflecting the results of McJunkin Corporation for the full eleven months but excluding the results of Red Man for the two months ended December 31, 2007), and Red Man's results for the twelve months ended October 31, 2007.

All information in this prospectus assumes that in conjunction with the initial public offering, we will effect a for stock split.

The historical data presented below has been derived from financial statements that have been prepared using United States generally accepted accounting principles, or GAAP. This data should be read in conjunction with "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and the consolidated financial statements and related notes included elsewhere in this prospectus.

(3) Adjusted EBITDA is used in our senior secured term loan facility, senior secured revolving credit facility, and junior term loan facility in the ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA, and is also used in our senior secured term loan facility and junior term loan facility in the ratio of consolidated adjusted EBITDA to consolidated interest expense. See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations — Liquidity and Capital Resources — Revolving Credit Facility and Term Loan Facility — Covenants”. Adjusted EBITDA is defined in our credit facilities as net income plus depreciation and amortization, amortization of intangibles, interest expense, income tax expense, stock-based compensation, LIFO expense, certain non-recurring and transaction-related expenses (including transaction costs associated with the GS Acquisition, our acquisition of Midway-Tristate Corporation, and the Red Man Transaction), minority interest, charges in connection with an employee profit sharing plan for certain employees of our subsidiary Midfield Supply ULC, and certain other adjustments, including franchise taxes and pro forma adjustments relating to acquisitions. We present Adjusted EBITDA because it is a material component of material covenants in our senior secured term loan facility and junior term loan facility. In addition, we believe it is a useful indicator of our operating performance. We believe this for the following reasons:

- Our management uses Adjusted EBITDA for planning purposes, including the preparation of our annual operating budget and financial projections, as well as for determining a significant portion of the compensation of our executive officers;
- Adjusted EBITDA is widely used by investors to measure a company’s operating performance without regard to items, such as interest expense, income tax expense, and depreciation and amortization, that can vary substantially from company to company depending upon their financing and accounting methods, the book value of their assets, their capital structures and the method by which their assets were acquired; and
- securities analysts use Adjusted EBITDA as a supplemental measure to evaluate the overall operating performance of companies.

Particularly, we believe that Adjusted EBITDA is a useful indicator of our operating performance because:

- Our lenders believed Adjusted EBITDA was the appropriate performance measure for the key operational covenants in our senior secured term loan facility and junior term loan facility (see “Description of Our Indebtedness”);
- Adjusted EBITDA measures our company’s operating performance without regard to LIFO expense, which is high due to recent inflation and therefore reflects an overstatement of the cost of goods sold over recent periods, and we believe that this adjustment assists in comparing us to our peers, because many of our peers do not use the LIFO method of inventory valuation; and
- Adjusted EBITDA measures our company’s operating performance without regard to non-recurring and transaction-related expenses incurred in connection with business combination transactions such as the Red Man Transaction.

Adjusted EBITDA, however, does not represent and should not be considered as an alternative to net income, cash flow from operations, or any other measure of financial performance calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP. Our Adjusted EBITDA may not be comparable to similar measures reported by other companies because other companies may not calculate Adjusted EBITDA in the same manner as we do. Although we use Adjusted EBITDA as a measure to assess the operating performance of our business, Adjusted EBITDA has significant limitations as an analytical tool because it excludes certain material costs. For example, it does not include interest expense, which has been a necessary element of our costs. Because we use capital assets, depreciation expense is a necessary element of our costs and our ability to generate revenue. In addition, the omission of the amortization expense associated with our intangible assets further limits the usefulness of this measure. Adjusted EBITDA also does not include the payment of certain taxes, which is also a necessary element of our operations. Furthermore, Adjusted EBITDA does not account for LIFO expense, and therefore to the extent that recently purchased inventory accounts for a relatively large portion of our sales, Adjusted EBITDA may overstate our operating performance. Because Adjusted EBITDA does not account for certain expenses, its utility as a measure of our operating performance has material limitations. Because of these limitations management does not view Adjusted EBITDA in isolation or as a primary performance measure and also uses other measures, such as net income and sales, to measure operating performance.

(a) Includes transaction costs associated with the GS Acquisition, our acquisition of Midway-Tristate Corporation, and the Red Man Transaction.

(b) Includes franchise tax expense, certain consulting fees, gains and losses on the sale of assets and other nonrecurring items.

In addition, we have also presented in this prospectus our EBITDA for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and Red Man's EBITDA for the twelve months ended December 31, 2007. The most comparable GAAP measure to EBITDA is Net income. We calculate our EBITDA for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 ($171 million) by adding our Net income for this period ($56.9 million) with our interest expense ($61.7 million), income tax expense ($36.5 million), amortization of intangibles ($10.5 million), and depreciation and amortization ($5.4 million) for the same period. We calculate Red Man's EBITDA for the twelve months ended October 31, 2007 ($170 million) by adding Red Man's Net income for this period ($82.2 million) with Red Man's interest expense ($20.6 million), income tax expense ($57.6 million), and depreciation and amortization ($9.7 million) for the same period.

We present EBITDA because we believe it is a useful indicator of our operating performance, as described above with respect to Adjusted EBITDA. EBITDA, however, does not represent and should not be considered an alternative to measures of financial performance calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, as described above with respect to Adjusted EBITDA.

(4)Adjusted to give effect (1) to an estimated $5.4 million of expenses incurred in connection with this offering and (2) for our purchase on July 31, 2008 of the approximate 49% minority voting interest in Midfield Supply ULC, one of our subsidiaries. Our total debt, including current portion, would increase by $5.4 million due to offering-related expenses based on our estimate of such expenses. In connection with our purchase of the minority voting interest in Midfield, our total debt, including current portion, increased from $1,284.7 million to $1,384.7 million because we incurred an additional $100 million of debt in order to fund the purchase. Our minority interest in subsidiaries was eliminated upon consummation of the purchase because we had no minority interest in subsidiaries other than the purchased interest. Our stockholders' equity has decreased from $824.4 million to $819.0 million, or by $5.4 million, on account of the $5.4 million of offering-related expenses.

RISK FACTORS

You should carefully consider each of the following risks and all of the information set forth in this prospectus before deciding to invest in our common stock. If any of the following risks and uncertainties develops into actual events, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected. In that case, the price of our common stock could decline and you could lose some or all of your investment.

Risks Related to Our Business

Decreased capital expenditures in the energy industry, which can result from decreased oil and natural gas prices among other things, can materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

A large portion of our revenue depends upon the level of capital expenditures in the oil and gas industry, including capital expenditures in connection with exploration, drilling, production, gathering, transportation, refining and processing operations. Demand for our products and services is particularly sensitive to the level of exploration, development and production activity of, and the corresponding capital expenditures by, oil and natural gas companies. A material decline in oil or natural gas prices could depress levels of exploration, development and production activity, and therefore could lead to a decrease in our customers' capital expenditures. If our customers' capital expenditures decline, our business will suffer.

Prices for oil and natural gas are subject to large fluctuations in response to relatively minor changes in the supply of and demand for oil and natural gas, market uncertainty, and a variety of other factors that are beyond our control. Oil and natural gas prices are currently at levels higher than historical long term averages, and worldwide oil and gas drilling and exploration activity is also at very high levels. A decline in oil and natural gas prices could result in decreased capital expenditures in the oil and gas industry, and could therefore have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Many factors affect the supply of and demand for energy and therefore influence oil and gas prices, including:

- the level of domestic and worldwide oil and gas production and inventories;
- the level of drilling activity and the availability of attractive oil and gas field prospects, which may be affected by governmental actions, such as regulatory actions or legislation, or other restrictions on drilling, including those related to environmental concerns;
- the discovery rate of new oil and gas reserves and the expected cost of developing new reserves;
- the actual cost of finding and producing oil and gas;
- depletion rates;
- domestic and worldwide refinery overcapacity or undercapacity and utilization rates;
- the availability of transportation infrastructure and refining capacity;
- increases in the cost of the products that we provide to the oil and gas industry, which may result from increases in the cost of raw materials such as steel;
- shifts in end-customer preferences toward fuel efficiency and the use of natural gas;
- the economic and/or political attractiveness of alternative fuels, such as coal, hydrocarbon, wind, solar energy and biomass-based fuels;

- increases in oil and gas prices and/or historically high oil and gas prices, which could lower demand for oil and gas products;
- worldwide economic activity including growth in countries that are not members of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development ("non-OECD countries"), including China and India;
- interest rates and the cost of capital;
- national government policies, including government policies which could nationalize or expropriate oil and gas exploration, production, refining or transportation assets;
- the ability of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) to set and maintain production levels and prices for oil;
- the impact of armed hostilities, or the threat or perception of armed hostilities;
- pricing and other actions taken by competitors that impact the market;
- environmental regulation;
- technological advances;
- global weather conditions and natural disasters;
- an increase in the value of the U.S. dollar relative to foreign currencies; and
- tax policies.

Oil and gas prices have been and are expected to remain volatile. This volatility has historically caused oil and gas companies to change their strategies and expenditure levels from year to year. We have experienced in the past, and we will likely experience in the future, significant fluctuations in operating results based on these changes. In particular, such volatility in the oil and gas markets could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our business, results of operations and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected by general economic conditions.

Many aspects of our business, including demand for our products and the pricing and availability of supplies, are affected by U.S. and global general economic conditions. General economic conditions and predictions regarding future economic conditions also affect our forecasts, and a decrease in demand for our products or other adverse effects resulting from an economic downturn may cause us to fail to achieve our anticipated financial results. General economic factors beyond our control that affect our business and end markets include interest rates, recession, inflation, deflation, consumer credit availability, consumer debt levels, performance of housing markets, energy costs, tax rates and policy, unemployment rates, commencement or escalation of war or hostilities, the threat or possibility of war, terrorism or other global or national unrest, political or financial instability, and other matters that influence spending by our customers. Increasing volatility in financial markets may cause these factors to change with a greater degree of frequency or increase in magnitude. An economic downturn could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition and could also lead to a decrease in the market price of our common stock.

We may be unable to compete successfully with other companies in our industry.

We sell our products and services in very competitive markets. In some cases, we compete with large oilfield services providers with substantial resources and smaller regional players that may increasingly be willing to provide similar products and services at lower prices. Our revenues and earnings could be adversely affected by competitive actions such as price reductions, improved delivery and other actions by competitors. Our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected to the extent that our competitors are successful in reducing our customers' purchases of our products and services. Competition could also cause us to lower our prices which could reduce our margins and profitability.

Demand for our products could decrease if manufacturers of our products were to sell a substantial amount of goods directly to end users in the markets we serve.

We do not manufacture any of the products that we distribute. Historically, users of PVF and related products in the United States, in contrast to users of PVF and related products outside the United States, have purchased such products through distributors and not directly from manufacturers. If customers were to purchase the products that we sell directly from manufacturers, or if manufacturers sought to increase their efforts to sell directly to end users, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected. These or other developments that remove us from, or limit our role in, the distribution chain, may harm our competitive position in the marketplace and reduce our sales and earnings.

We may experience unexpected supply shortages.

We distribute products from a wide variety of manufacturers and suppliers. Nevertheless, in the future we may have difficulty obtaining the products we need from suppliers and manufacturers as a result of unexpected demand or production difficulties. Also, products may not be available to us in quantities sufficient to meet our customer demand. Our inability to obtain sufficient products from suppliers and manufacturers, in sufficient quantities, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We may experience cost increases by suppliers, which we may be unable to pass on to our customers.

In the future, we may face supply cost increases due to, among other things, unexpected increases in demand for supplies, decreases in production of supplies or increases in the cost of raw materials or transportation. Our inability to pass supply price increases on to our customers could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. For example, we may be unable to pass increased supply costs on to our customers because significant amounts of our sales are derived from stocking program arrangements, contracts and maintenance, repair and operations ("MRO") arrangements which provide our customers time limited price protection, which may obligate us to sell products at a set price for a specific period. In addition, if supply costs increase, our customers may elect to purchase smaller amounts of products or may purchase products from other distributors. While we may be able to work with our customers to reduce the effects of unforeseen price increases because of our relationships with them, we may not be able to reduce the effects of such cost increases. In addition, to the extent that competition leads to reduced purchases of our products or services or reduction of our prices, and such reductions occur concurrently with increases in the prices for selected commodities which we use in our operations, including steel, nickel and molybdenum, the adverse effects described above would likely be exacerbated and could result in a prolonged downturn in profitability.

We do not have contracts with most of our suppliers. The loss of a significant supplier would require us to rely more heavily on our other existing suppliers or to develop relationships with new suppliers, and such a loss may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Given the nature of our business, and consistent with industry practice, we do not have contracts with most of our suppliers. Purchases are generally made through purchase orders. Therefore, most of our suppliers have the ability to terminate their relationships with us at any time. Approximately 32% of our total purchases during 2007 on a pro forma basis were from our ten largest suppliers. Before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, approximately 30.7% of our total purchases during 2007 were from our ten largest suppliers. Although we believe there are numerous manufacturers with the capacity to supply our products, the loss of one or more of our major suppliers could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Such a loss would require us to rely more heavily on our other existing suppliers or develop relationships with new suppliers, which may cause us to pay higher prices for products due to, among other things, a loss of volume discount benefits currently obtained from our major suppliers.

Price reductions by suppliers of products sold by us could cause the value of our inventory to decline. Also, such price reductions could cause our customers to demand lower sales prices for these products, possibly decreasing our margins and profitability on sales to the extent that our inventory of such products was purchased at the higher prices prior to supplier price reductions and we are required to sell such products to our customers at the lower market prices.

The value of our inventory could decline as a result of price reductions by manufacturers of products sold by us. We believe the risk of a material reduction in the value of our inventory is mitigated due to the fact that we do not carry a significant amount of speculative inventory, our significant supply commitments are generally for relatively short-term periods, and we have been selling the same types of products to our customers for many years (and therefore do not expect that our inventory will become obsolete). However, there is no assurance that a substantial decline in product prices would not result in a write-down of our inventory value. Such a write-down could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition.

Also, decreases in the market prices of products sold by us could cause customers to demand lower sale prices from us. These price reductions could reduce our margins and profitability on sales with respect to such lower-priced products to the extent that we purchase such products at the higher prices prior to supplier price reductions and we are required to sell such products to our customers at the lower market prices. Reductions in our margins and profitability on sales could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

A substantial decrease in the price of steel could significantly lower our gross profit.

We distribute many products manufactured from steel and, as a result, our business is significantly affected by the price and supply of steel. When steel prices are lower, the prices that we charge customers for products may decline, which affects our gross profit. The steel industry as a whole is cyclical and at times pricing and availability of steel can be volatile due to numerous factors beyond our control, including general domestic and international economic conditions, labor costs, sales levels, competition, consolidation of steel producers, fluctuations in the costs of raw materials necessary to produce steel, import duties and tariffs and currency exchange rates. This volatility can significantly affect the availability and cost of steel for our suppliers. When steel prices decline, customer demands for lower prices and our competitors' responses to those demands could result in lower sale prices and, consequently, lower gross profit.

If steel prices rise, we may be unable to pass along the cost increases to our customers.

We maintain inventories of steel products to accommodate the lead time requirements of our customers. Accordingly, we purchase steel products in an effort to maintain our inventory at levels that we believe to be appropriate to satisfy the anticipated needs of our customers based upon historic buying practices, contracts with customers and market conditions. Our commitments to purchase steel products are generally at prevailing market prices in effect at the time we place our orders. If steel prices increase between the time we order steel products and the time of delivery of such products to us, our suppliers may impose surcharges that require us to pay for increases in steel prices during such period. Demand for our products, the actions of our competitors, and other factors will influence whether we will be able to pass such steel cost increases and surcharges on to our customers, and we may be unsuccessful in doing so.

We do not have long-term contracts with many of our customers and while we generated more than 50% of our pro forma sales in 2007 from multi-year maintenance, repair and operations ("MRO") contracts, our contracts, including our MRO contracts, generally do not commit our customers to any minimum purchase volume. The loss of a significant customer may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Given the nature of our business, and consistent with industry practice, we do not have long-term contracts with many of our customers and our contracts, including our maintenance, repair and operations contracts, generally do not commit our customers to any minimum purchase volume. Therefore, a significant number of our customers may terminate their relationships with us or reduce their purchasing volume at any time, and even our MRO customers are not required to purchase products from us. Furthermore, the long-term customer contracts that we do have are generally terminable without cause on short notice. Our 10 largest customers represented approximately 29% of our total pro forma sales for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007. Before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, our ten largest customers represented approximately 30% of our total sales for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007. The products that we may sell to any particular customer depend in large part on the size of that customer's capital expenditure budget in a particular year and on the results of competitive bids for major projects. Consequently, a customer that accounts for a significant portion of our sales in one fiscal year may represent an immaterial portion of our sales in subsequent fiscal years. The loss of a significant customer, or a substantial decrease in a significant customer's orders, may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Changes in our customer and product mix could cause our gross margin percentage to fluctuate.

From time to time, we may experience changes in our customer mix and in our product mix. Changes in our customer mix may result from geographic expansion, daily selling activities within current geographic markets, and targeted selling activities to new customer segments. Changes in our product mix may result from marketing activities to existing customers and needs communicated to us from existing and prospective customers. If customers begin to require more lower-margin products from us and fewer higher-margin products, our business, results of operations and financial condition may suffer.

We face risks associated with our business combination with Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. in October 2007, and this business combination may not yield all of its intended benefits.

We are currently continuing the process of integrating the McJunkin and Red Man businesses, which were previously operated independently and sometimes competed with one another. If we cannot successfully integrate these two businesses, there may be a material adverse effect on our combined business, results of operations and financial condition. The difficulty of combining the companies presents challenges to our management, including:

- operating a significantly larger combined company with operations in more geographic areas and with more business lines;
- integrating personnel with diverse backgrounds and organizational cultures;
- coordinating sales and marketing functions;
- retaining key employees, customers or suppliers;
- integrating the information systems;
- preserving the collaboration, distribution, marketing, promotion and other important relationships; and
- consolidating other corporate and administrative functions.

If the risks associated with the Red Man Transaction materialize and we are unable to sufficiently address them, there is a possibility that the results of operations of our combined company could be less successful than the separate results of operations of McJunkin and Red Man, taken together, if the Red Man Transaction had never occurred.

We may be unable to successfully execute or effectively integrate acquisitions.

One of our key operating strategies is to selectively pursue acquisitions, including large scale acquisitions, in order to continue to grow and increase profitability. However, acquisitions, particularly of a significant scale, involve numerous risks and uncertainties, including intense competition for suitable acquisition targets; the potential unavailability of financial resources necessary to consummate acquisitions in the future; increased leverage due to additional debt financing that may be required to complete an acquisition; dilution of our stockholders' net current book value per share if we issue additional equity securities to finance an acquisition; difficulties in identifying suitable acquisition targets or in completing any transactions identified on sufficiently favorable terms; and the need to obtain regulatory or other governmental approvals that may be necessary to complete acquisitions. In addition, any future acquisitions may entail significant transaction costs and risks associated with entry into new markets.

In addition, even when acquisitions are completed, integration of acquired entities can involve significant difficulties, such as:

- failure to achieve cost savings or other financial or operating objectives with respect to an acquisition;
- strain on the operational and managerial controls and procedures of our business, and the need to modify systems or to add management resources;
- difficulties in the integration and retention of customers or personnel and the integration and effective deployment of operations or technologies;
- amortization of acquired assets, which would reduce future reported earnings;
- possible adverse short-term effects on our cash flows or operating results;
- diversion of management's attention from the ongoing operations of our business;
- failure to obtain and retain key personnel of an acquired business; and
- assumption of known or unknown material liabilities or regulatory non-compliance issues.

Failure to manage these acquisition growth risks could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our significant indebtedness may affect our ability to operate our business, and may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We have now and will likely continue to have a significant amount of indebtedness. As of June 26, 2008, we had total debt outstanding of $1,284.7 million and we had borrowing availability of $542.5 million under our credit facilities. We and our subsidiaries may incur significant additional indebtedness in the future. If new indebtedness is added to our current indebtedness, the risks described below could increase. Our significant level of indebtedness could have important consequences, such as:

- limiting our ability to obtain additional financing to fund our working capital, acquisitions, expenditures, debt service requirements or other general corporate purposes;
- limiting our ability to use operating cash flow in other areas of our business because we must dedicate a substantial portion of these funds to service debt;

- limiting our ability to compete with other companies who are not as highly leveraged;
- subjecting us to restrictive financial and operating covenants in the agreements governing our and our subsidiaries' long-term indebtedness;
- exposing us to potential events of default (if not cured or waived) under financial and operating covenants contained in our or our subsidiaries' debt instruments that could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition;
- increasing our vulnerability to a downturn in general economic conditions or in pricing of our products; and
- limiting our ability to react to changing market conditions in our industry and in our customers' industries.

In addition, borrowings under our credit facilities bear interest at variable rates. If market interest rates increase, such variable-rate debt will create higher debt service requirements, which could adversely affect our cash flow. Our pro forma interest expense for the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 was $60.8 million. Without giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, our interest expense for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 was $61.7 million.

Our ability to make scheduled debt payments, to refinance our obligations with respect to our indebtedness and to fund capital and non-capital expenditures necessary to maintain the condition of our operating assets, properties and systems software, as well as to provide capacity for the growth of our business, depends on our financial and operating performance, which, in turn, is subject to prevailing economic conditions and financial, business, competitive, legal and other factors. Our business may not generate sufficient cash flow from operations, and future borrowings may not be available to us under our credit facilities in an amount sufficient to enable us to pay our indebtedness or to fund our other liquidity needs. We may seek to sell assets to fund our liquidity needs but may not be able to do so. We may also need to refinance all or a portion of our indebtedness on or before maturity. We may not be able to refinance any of our indebtedness on commercially reasonable terms or at all.

In addition, we are and will be subject to covenants contained in agreements governing our present and future indebtedness. These covenants include and will likely include restrictions on certain payments and investments, the redemption and repurchase of capital stock, the issuance of stock of subsidiaries, the granting of liens, the incurrence of additional indebtedness, dividend restrictions affecting us and our subsidiaries, asset sales, transactions with affiliates and mergers and acquisitions. They also include financial maintenance covenants which contain financial ratios we must satisfy each quarter. Any failure to comply with these covenants could result in a default under our credit facilities. Upon a default, unless waived, the lenders under our secured credit facilities would have all remedies available to a secured lender, and could elect to terminate their commitments, cease making further loans, institute foreclosure proceedings against our or our subsidiaries' assets, and force us and our subsidiaries into bankruptcy or liquidation.

In addition, any defaults under our credit facilities or our other debt could trigger cross defaults under other or future credit agreements and may permit acceleration of our other indebtedness. If our indebtedness is accelerated, we cannot be certain that we will have sufficient funds available to pay the accelerated indebtedness or that we will have the ability to refinance the accelerated indebtedness on terms favorable to us or at all. For a description of our credit facilities, please see "Description of Our Indebtedness".

We are a holding company and depend upon our subsidiaries for our cash flow.

We are a holding company. Our subsidiaries conduct all of our operations and own substantially all of our assets. Consequently, our cash flow and our ability to meet our obligations or to pay dividends or make other distributions in the future will depend upon the cash flow of our subsidiaries and the payment of funds by our subsidiaries to us in the form of dividends, tax sharing payments or otherwise. In addition, McJunkin Red Man Corporation, our direct subsidiary and the primary obligor under our $1,275 million senior secured credit facilities, is also dependent to a significant extent on the cash flow of its subsidiaries in order to meet its debt service obligations.

The ability of our subsidiaries to make any payments to us will depend on their earnings, the terms of their current and future indebtedness, tax considerations and legal and contractual restrictions on the ability to make distributions. In particular, our subsidiaries' credit facilities currently impose significant limitations on the ability of our subsidiaries to make distributions to us and consequently our ability to pay dividends to our stockholders. Subject to limitations in our credit facilities, our subsidiaries may also enter into additional agreements that contain covenants prohibiting them from distributing or advancing funds or transferring assets to us under certain circumstances, including to pay dividends.

Our subsidiaries are separate and distinct legal entities. Any right that we have to receive any assets of or distributions from any of our subsidiaries upon the bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation or reorganization of any such subsidiary, or to realize proceeds from the sale of their assets, will be junior to the claims of that subsidiary's creditors, including trade creditors and holders of debt issued by that subsidiary.

Changes in our credit profile may affect our relationship with our suppliers, which could have a material adverse effect on our liquidity.

Changes in our credit profile may affect the way our suppliers view our ability to make payments and may induce them to shorten the payment terms of their invoices, particularly given our high level of outstanding indebtedness. Given the large dollar amounts and volume of our purchases from suppliers, a change in payment terms may have a material adverse effect on our liquidity and our ability to make payments to our suppliers, and consequently may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected if restrictions on imports of line pipe, oil country tubular goods, or certain of the other products that we sell are lifted.

U.S. law currently imposes tariffs and duties on imports from certain foreign countries of line pipe and oil country tubular goods, and, to a lesser extent, on imports of certain other products that we sell. If these restrictions are lifted, if the tariffs are reduced or if the level of such imported products otherwise increases, and these imported products are accepted by our customer base, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected to the extent that we would then have higher-cost products in our inventory or if prices and margins are driven down by increased supplies of such products. If prices of these products were to decrease significantly, we might not be able to profitably sell these products and the value of our inventory would decline. In addition, significant price decreases could result in a significantly longer holding period for some of our inventory, which could also have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We are subject to strict environmental, health and safety laws and regulations that may lead to significant liabilities.

We are subject to a variety of federal, state, local, foreign and provincial environmental, health and safety laws and regulations, including those governing the discharge of pollutants into the air or water, the management, storage and disposal of hazardous substances and wastes, the responsibility to investigate and cleanup contamination and occupational health and safety. Fines and penalties may be imposed for non-compliance with applicable environmental, health and safety requirements and the failure to have or to comply with the terms and conditions of required permits. Historically, the costs to comply with environmental and health and safety requirements have not been material. However, the failure by us to comply with applicable environmental, health and safety requirements could result in fines, penalties, enforcement actions, third party claims for property damage and personal injury, requirements to clean up property or to pay for the costs of cleanup, or regulatory or judicial orders requiring corrective measures, including the installation of pollution control equipment or remedial actions.

Under certain laws and regulations, such as the federal Superfund law, the obligation to investigate and remediate contamination at a facility may be imposed on current and former owners or operators or on persons who may have sent waste to that facility for disposal. Liability under these laws and regulations may be without regard to fault or to the legality of the activities giving rise to the contamination. Although we are not aware of any active litigation against us under the federal Superfund law or its state equivalents, contamination has been identified at several of our current and former facilities, and we have incurred and will continue to incur costs to investigate and remediate these conditions.

Moreover, we may incur liabilities in connection with environmental conditions currently unknown to us relating to our existing, prior, or future sites or operations or those of predecessor companies whose liabilities we may have assumed or acquired. We believe that indemnities contained in certain of our acquisition agreements may cover certain environmental conditions existing at the time of the acquisition, subject to certain terms, limitations and conditions. However, if these indemnification provisions terminate or if the indemnifying parties do not fulfill their indemnification obligations, we may be subject to liability with respect to the environmental matters that may be covered by such indemnification obligations.

In addition, environmental, health and safety laws and regulations applicable to our business and the business of our customers, including laws regulating the energy industry, and the interpretation or enforcement of these laws and regulations, are constantly evolving and it is impossible to predict accurately the effect that changes in these laws and regulations, or their interpretation or enforcement, may have upon our business, financial condition or results of operations. In particular, legislation and regulations limiting emissions of greenhouse gases, including carbon dioxide associated with the burning of fossil fuels, are at various stages of consideration and implementation, and if fully implemented, could negatively impact the market for our products and, consequently, our business. Should environmental laws and regulations, or their interpretation or enforcement, become more stringent, our costs could increase, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may not have adequate insurance for potential liabilities, including liabilities arising from litigation.

In the ordinary course of business, we have and in the future may become the subject of various claims, lawsuits and administrative proceedings seeking damages or other remedies concerning our commercial operations, products, employees and other matters, including potential claims by individuals alleging exposure to hazardous materials as a result of our products or operations. Some of these claims may relate to the activities of businesses that we have acquired, even though these activities may have occurred prior to our acquisition of such businesses. Our products are sold primarily for use in the energy industry, which is subject to inherent risks that could result in death, personal injury, property damage, pollution or loss of production. In addition, defects in our products could result in death, personal injury, property damage, pollution or damage to equipment and facilities. Actual or claimed defects in the products we distribute may give rise to claims against us for losses and expose us to claims for damages.

We maintain insurance to cover certain of our potential losses, and we are subject to various self-retentions, deductibles and caps under our insurance. It is possible, however, that judgments could be rendered against us in cases in which we would be uninsured and beyond the amounts that we currently have reserved or anticipate incurring for such matters. Even a partially uninsured claim, if successful and of significant size, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Furthermore, we may not be able to continue to obtain insurance on commercially reasonable terms in the future, and we may incur losses from interruption of our business that exceed our insurance coverage. Finally, even in cases where we maintain insurance coverage, our insurers may raise various objections and exceptions to coverage which could make uncertain the timing and amount of any possible insurance recovery.

Due to our position as a distributor, we are subject to personal injury, product liability and environmental claims involving allegedly defective products.

Certain of our products are used in potentially hazardous applications that can result in personal injury, product liability and environmental claims. A catastrophic occurrence at a location where our products are used may result in us being named as a defendant in lawsuits asserting potentially large claims, even though we did not manufacture the products, and applicable law may render us liable for damages without regard to negligence or fault. Particularly, certain environmental laws provide for joint and several and strict liability for remediation of spills and releases of hazardous substances. Certain of these risks are reduced by the fact that we are a distributor of products produced by third-party manufacturers, and thus in certain circumstances we may have third-party warranty or other claims against the manufacturer of products alleged to have been defective. However, there is no assurance that such claims could fully protect us or that the manufacturer would be able financially to provide such protection. There is no assurance that our insurance coverage will be adequate to cover the underlying claims and our insurance does not provide coverage for all liabilities (including liability for certain events involving pollution).

We are a defendant in asbestos-related lawsuits, and exposure to these and any future lawsuits could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We are a defendant in lawsuits involving approximately 835 plaintiffs as of September 24, 2008 alleging, among other things, personal injury, including mesothelioma and other cancers, arising from exposure to asbestos-containing materials included in products distributed by us in the past. The complaints in these lawsuits typically name many other defendants. In the majority of these lawsuits, little or no information is known regarding the nature of the plaintiffs' alleged injuries or their connection with the products we distributed. Based on our experience with asbestos litigation to date, as well as the existence of certain insurance coverage, we do not believe that the outcome of these cases will have a material impact on us. However, the potential liability associated with asbestos lawsuits is subject to many uncertainties, including negative developments in the cases pending against us, the current or future insolvency of co-defendants, adverse changes in relevant laws or the interpretation thereof, and the extent to which insurance will be available to pay for defense costs, judgments or settlements. Further, we expect that additional claims will be filed against us in the future, but we are unable to predict the number, timing and magnitude of such future claims with any certainty. Therefore, we cannot assure you that pending or future asbestos litigation will not ultimately have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. See "Risk Factors — We may not have adequate insurance for potential liabilities, including liabilities arising from litigation", "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations — Contractual Obligations, Commitments and Contingencies — Legal Proceedings" and "Business — Overview of Our Business — Legal Proceedings" for more information.

If we lose any of our key personnel, we may be unable to effectively manage our business or continue our growth.

Our future performance depends to a significant degree upon the continued contributions of our management team and our ability to attract, hire, train and retain qualified managerial, sales and marketing personnel. Particularly, we rely on our sales and marketing teams to create innovative ways to generate demand for our products. The loss or unavailability to us of any member of our management team or a key sales or marketing employee could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition to the extent we are unable to timely find adequate replacements. We face competition for these professionals from our competitors, our customers and other companies operating in our industry. We may be unsuccessful in attracting, hiring, training and retaining qualified personnel, and our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely effected under such circumstances.

Interruptions in the proper functioning of our information systems or failure to timely and properly complete our current information systems integration project could disrupt operations and cause increases in costs and/or decreases in revenues.

The proper functioning of our information systems is critical to the successful operation of our business. We depend on our information technology systems to process orders, track credit risk, manage inventory and monitor accounts receivable collections. Our information systems also allow us to efficiently purchase products from our vendors and ship products to our customers on a timely basis, maintain cost-effective operations and provide superior service to our customers. Although our information systems are protected through physical and software safeguards and remote processing capabilities exist, information systems are still vulnerable to natural disasters, power losses, telecommunication failures and other problems. If critical information systems fail or are otherwise unavailable, our ability to procure products to sell, process and ship customer orders, identify business opportunities, maintain proper levels of inventories, collect accounts receivable and pay accounts payable and expenses could be adversely affected. Our ability to integrate our systems with our customers' systems would also be significantly affected. We maintain information systems controls designed to protect against, among other things, unauthorized program changes and unauthorized access to data on our information systems. If our information systems controls do not function properly, we face increased risks of unexpected errors and unreliable financial data.

In addition, we are currently integrating the information systems of our predecessor companies McJunkin Corporation and Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. and our Canadian subsidiary, Midfield Supply ULC. Our failure to timely and properly complete this project and train our staff in the use of the integrated system could cause similar negative effects.

The loss of third-party transportation providers upon whom we depend, or conditions negatively affecting the transportation industry, could increase our costs or cause a disruption in our operations.

We depend upon third-party transportation providers for delivery of products to our customers. Strikes, slowdowns, transportation disruptions or other conditions in the transportation industry, including, but not limited to, shortages of truck drivers, disruptions in rail service, increases in fuel prices and adverse weather conditions, could increase our costs and disrupt our operations and our ability to service our customers on a timely basis. We cannot predict whether or to what extent recent increases or anticipated increases in fuel prices may impact our costs or cause a disruption in our operations going forward.

We may need additional capital in the future and it may not be available on acceptable terms.

We may require more capital in the future to:

- fund our operations;
- finance investments in equipment and infrastructure needed to maintain and expand our distribution capabilities;

- enhance and expand the range of products we offer; and
- respond to potential strategic opportunities, such as investments, acquisitions and international expansion.

We cannot assure you that additional financing will be available on terms favorable to us, or at all. The terms of available financing may place limits on our financial and operating flexibility. If adequate funds are not available on acceptable terms, we may be forced to reduce our operations or delay, limit or abandon expansion opportunities. Moreover, even if we are able to continue our operations, the failure to obtain additional financing could reduce our competitiveness.

Hurricanes or other adverse weather events could negatively affect our local economies or disrupt our operations, which could have an adverse effect on our business or results of operations.

Certain areas in which we operate in the United States, including areas in the southeastern United States, are susceptible to hurricanes and other adverse weather conditions. Such weather events can disrupt our operations, result in damage to our properties and negatively affect the local economies in which we operate. Additionally, we may experience communication disruptions with our customers, vendors and employees. In late August 2005 and September 2005, Hurricanes Katrina and Rita struck the Gulf Coast of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Texas and caused extensive and catastrophic physical damage to those market areas. Hurricanes can cause physical damage to our branches and require us to close branches in order to secure our employees. Additionally, our sales order backlog and shipments can experience a temporary decline immediately following hurricanes.

We cannot predict whether or to what extent damage caused by future hurricanes and tropical storms will affect our operations or the economies in regions where we operate. Such adverse weather events could result in disruption of our purchasing and/or distribution capabilities, interruption of our business that exceeds our insurance coverage, our inability to collect from customers and increased operating costs. Our business or results of operations may be adversely affected by these and other negative effects of hurricanes or other adverse weather events.

The failure of Red Man Distributors LLC to continue to be certified as a minority business enterprise could result in the loss of customers or volume which may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our wholly owned subsidiary, McJunkin Red Man Corporation owns 49% of the outstanding equity interests in Red Man Distributors LLC (“RMD”), an Oklahoma limited liability company formed on November 1, 2007 for the purposes of distributing oil country tubular goods in North America as a certified minority supplier. RMD is currently certified by each of the Oklahoma Minority Supplier Development Council and the North Central Texas Regional Certification Agency as a minority business enterprise. If for any reason RMD ceases to be certified as a minority business enterprise, then customers who may derive advantages from purchasing products from RMD as a result of its status as a certified minority business enterprise could terminate their relationships with RMD or reduce their purchasing volume. The loss of a significant customer of RMD, or a significant decrease in a customer’s orders, may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We have a substantial amount of goodwill and other intangibles recorded on our balance sheet, partly because of our recent acquisitions and business combination transactions. The amortization of acquired assets will reduce our future reported earnings and, furthermore, if our goodwill or other intangible assets become impaired, we may be required to recognize charges that would reduce our income.

As of June 26, 2008, we had $1.8 billion of goodwill and other intangibles recorded on our balance sheet. A substantial portion of these intangible assets result from our use of purchase accounting in connection with the GS Acquisition, our acquisition of Midway-Tristate Corporation, and the Red Man Transaction. In accordance with the purchase accounting method, the excess of the cost of purchased assets over the fair value of such assets is assigned to intangible assets and is amortized over a period of time. The amortization expense associated with our intangible assets will have a negative effect on our future reported earnings. Many other companies, including many of our competitors, will not have the significant acquired intangible assets that we have because they have not participated in recent acquisitions and business combination transactions similar to ours. Thus, their reported earnings will not be as negatively affected by the amortization of intangible assets as our reported earnings will be.

Additionally, under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, goodwill and certain other intangible assets are not amortized but must be reviewed for possible impairment annually, or more often in certain circumstances if events indicate that the asset values are not recoverable. Such reviews could result in an earnings charge for the impairment of goodwill, which would reduce our income and negatively affect our stock price even though there would be no impact on our underlying cash flow.

We face risks associated with conducting business in markets outside of North America.

Nigeria is currently the only country outside of North America in which we conduct business, though we are aware that our customers use our products outside of North America as well. In addition, we are evaluating the possibility of establishing distribution networks in certain other foreign countries, particularly in West Africa, the Middle East, Europe and South America. Though our revenue from business in developing countries is currently not significant, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected by changes in the developing countries in which we do business in the future or in which we expand our business, particularly those countries which have historically experienced a high degree of political and/or economic instability. Examples of risks inherent in such non-North American activities include changes in the political and economic conditions in the countries in which we operate, including civil uprisings and terrorist acts, unexpected changes in regulatory requirements, changes in tariffs, the adoption of foreign or domestic laws limiting exports to certain foreign countries, fluctuations in currency exchange rates and the value of the U.S. dollar, restrictions on repatriation of earnings, expropriation of property without fair compensation, governmental actions that result in the deprivation of contract or proprietary rights, the acceptance of business practices which are not consistent with or antithetical to prevailing business practices we are accustomed to in North America, and governmental sanctions. If we begin doing business in a foreign country in which we do not presently operate, we may also face difficulties in operations and diversion of management time in connection with establishing our business there.

The requirements of being a public company, including compliance with the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act and the requirements of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, may strain our resources, increase our costs and distract management, and we may be unable to comply with these requirements in a timely or cost-effective manner.

As a public company, we will be subject to the reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or the Exchange Act, and the corporate governance standards of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, or the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, and the New York Stock Exchange. These requirements may place a strain on our management, systems and resources. The Exchange Act will require that we file annual, quarterly and current reports with respect to our business and financial condition within specified time periods. The Sarbanes-Oxley Act will require that we maintain effective disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting. Due to our limited operating history, our disclosure controls and procedures and internal controls may not meet all of the standards applicable to public companies subject to the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. In order to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, significant resources and management oversight will be required. This may divert management's attention from other business concerns, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and the price of our common stock.

We also expect that it could be difficult and will be significantly more expensive to obtain directors' and officers' liability insurance, and we may be required to accept reduced policy limits and coverage or incur substantially higher costs to obtain the same or similar coverage. As a result, it may be more difficult for us to attract and retain qualified persons to serve on our board of directors or as executive officers. Advocacy efforts by shareholders and third parties may also prompt even more changes in governance and reporting requirements. We cannot predict or estimate the amount of additional costs we may incur or the timing of such costs.

We will be exposed to risks relating to evaluations of controls required by Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act.

We are in the process of evaluating our internal controls systems to allow management to report on, and our independent auditors to audit, our internal control over financial reporting. We will be performing the system and process evaluation and testing (and any necessary remediation) required to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, and will be required to comply with Section 404 in our annual report for the year ended December 31, 2009 (subject to any change in applicable SEC rules). Furthermore, upon completion of this process, we may identify control deficiencies of varying degrees of severity under applicable U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, or SEC, and Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, or PCAOB, rules and regulations that remain unremediated. As a public company, we will be required to report, among other things, control deficiencies that constitute a "material weakness" or changes in internal controls that, or that are reasonably likely to, materially affect internal control over financial reporting. A "material weakness" is a significant deficiency or combination of significant deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that results in a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis.

If we fail to implement the requirements of Section 404 in a timely manner, we might be subject to sanctions or investigation by regulatory authorities such as the SEC or the PCAOB. If we do not implement improvements to our disclosure controls and procedures or to our internal controls in a timely manner, our independent registered public accounting firm may not be able to certify as to the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting pursuant to an audit of our internal control over financial reporting. This may subject us to adverse regulatory consequences or a loss of confidence in the reliability of our financial statements. We could also suffer a loss of confidence in the reliability of our financial statements if our independent registered public accounting firm reports a material weakness in our internal controls, if we do not develop and maintain effective controls and procedures or if we are otherwise unable to deliver timely and reliable financial information. Any loss of confidence in the reliability of our financial statements or other negative reaction to our failure to develop timely or adequate disclosure controls and procedures or internal controls could result in a decline in the price of our common stock. In addition, if we fail to remedy any material weakness, our financial statements may be inaccurate, we may face restricted access to the capital markets and our stock price may be adversely affected.

We are a "controlled company" within the meaning of the New York Stock Exchange rules and, as a result, will qualify for, and may rely on, exemptions from certain corporate governance requirements.

A company of which more than 50% of the voting power is held by an individual, a group or another company is a "controlled company" within the meaning of the New York Stock Exchange rules and may elect not to comply with certain corporate governance requirements of the New York Stock Exchange, including:

- the requirement that a majority of our board of directors consist of independent directors;
- the requirement that we have a nominating/corporate governance committee that is composed entirely of independent directors with a written charter addressing the committee's purpose and responsibilities; and
- the requirement that we have a compensation committee that is composed entirely of independent directors.

Following this offering, we will rely on all of the exemptions listed above. Accordingly, you will not have the same protections afforded to stockholders of companies that are subject to all of the corporate governance requirements of the New York Stock Exchange.

We are a newly combined company with a limited combined operating history, and the financial statements presented in this prospectus may therefore not give you an accurate indication of what our future results of operations are likely to be.

The Red Man Transaction closed on October 31, 2007 and we have operated as a combined company only since that time. Our limited combined operating history may make it difficult to forecast our future operating results and financial condition. Because of the significance of the Red Man Transaction, the financial statements for periods prior to the transaction are not comparable with those after the transaction, and the lack of comparable data may make it difficult to evaluate our results of operations and future prospects. The only historical financial statements of our combined company included in this prospectus are audited financial statements for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 (which includes McJunkin's results for the full eleven-month period and Red Man's results for only the two months following October 31, 2007) and unaudited financial statements for the six months ended June 26, 2008. Pro forma financial information that assumes that the Red Man Transaction closed on January 1, 2007 as opposed to the actual closing date of October 31, 2007 is presented with respect to the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 and the six months ended June 28, 2007. However, due to our limited combined operating history, these historical financial statements and the related pro forma information may not give you an accurate indication of what our actual results would have been if the combination had been completed at the beginning of the periods presented or of what our future results of operations and financial condition are likely to be. In addition, we acquired Midway-Tristate Corporation in April 2007, and we acquired the remaining approximate 49% minority voting interest in Midfield in July 2008, but our pro forma financial statements do not (and are not required to) give effect to either of these transactions.

Additionally, other historical financial statements reflecting the separate historical results of operations, financial position and cash flows of McJunkin and Red Man prior to the Red Man Transaction are also included in this prospectus. These financial statements reflect the results of operations, financial condition and cash flows of McJunkin and Red Man as stand-alone companies and thus they may not give you an accurate indication of what our combined results would have been if the Red Man Transaction had been completed at an earlier time or of what our future results of operations and financial condition are likely to be.

Risks Related to this Offering and our Common Stock

There is no existing market for our common stock, and we do not know if one will develop to provide you with adequate liquidity. If our stock price fluctuates after this offering, you could lose a significant part of your investment.

Prior to this offering, there has not been a public market for our common stock. If an active trading market does not develop, you may have difficulty selling any of our common stock that you buy. The initial public offering price for the shares will be determined by negotiations among the Company, the selling stockholder and the underwriters and may not be indicative of prices that will prevail in the open market following this offering. Consequently, you may not be able to sell shares of our common stock at prices equal to or greater than the price you paid in this offering. The market price of our common stock may be influenced by many factors including:

- fluctuations in oil and natural gas prices;
- the failure of securities analysts to cover our common stock after this offering or changes in financial estimates by analysts;
- announcements by us or our competitors of significant contracts or acquisitions or other business developments;
- variations in quarterly results of operations;
- loss of a large customer or supplier;
- U.S. and international general economic conditions;
- increased competition;
- terrorist acts;
- future sales of our common stock or the perception that such sales may occur; and
- investor perceptions of us and the industries in which our products are used.

As a result of these factors, investors in our common stock may not be able to resell their shares at or above the initial offering price. In addition, the stock market in general has experienced extreme price and volume fluctuations that have often been unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of companies like us. These broad market and industry factors may significantly reduce the market price of our common stock, regardless of our operating performance.

Following the completion of this offering, certain affiliates of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. will continue to control us and may have conflicts of interest with other stockholders. Conflicts of interest may arise because affiliates of our principal stockholder have continuing agreements and business relationships with us.

Upon completion of this offering, certain affiliates of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. (the “Goldman Sachs Funds”) will control % of our outstanding common stock, or % if the underwriters exercise their option in full. As a result, the Goldman Sachs Funds will continue to be able to control the election of our directors, determine our corporate and management policies and determine, without the consent of our other stockholders, the outcome of any corporate transaction or other matter submitted to our stockholders for approval, including potential mergers or acquisitions, asset sales and other significant corporate transactions. The Goldman Sachs Funds will also have sufficient voting power to amend our organizational documents.

Conflicts of interest may arise between our principal stockholder and us. Affiliates of our principal stockholder engage in transactions with our company. One affiliate of our principal stockholder, Goldman Sachs Credit Partners, L.P., is the joint lead arranger for our $1,275 million senior secured credit facilities and our $450 million term loan facility. See “Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions". Further, the Goldman Sachs Funds are in the business of making investments in companies and may, from time to time, acquire and hold interests in businesses that compete directly or indirectly with us and they may either directly, or through affiliates, also maintain business relationships with companies that may directly compete with us. In general, the Goldman Sachs Funds or their affiliates could pursue business interests or exercise their voting power as stockholders in ways that are detrimental to us but beneficial to themselves or to other companies in which they invest or with whom they have a material relationship. Conflicts of interest could also arise with respect to business opportunities that could be advantageous to the Goldman Sachs Funds and they may pursue acquisition opportunities that may be complementary to our business, and as a result, those acquisition opportunities may not be available to us. Under the terms of our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, the Goldman Sachs Funds will have no obligation to offer us corporate opportunities. See "Description of Our Capital Stock — Corporate Opportunities".

As a result of these relationships, the interests of the Goldman Sachs Funds may not coincide with the interests of our company or other holders of our common stock. So long as the Goldman Sachs Funds continue to control a significant amount of the outstanding shares of our common stock, the Goldman Sachs Funds will continue to be able to strongly influence or effectively control our decisions, including potential mergers or acquisitions, asset sales and other significant corporate transactions. See "Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions".

We do not currently intend to pay dividends in the foreseeable future.

It is uncertain when, if ever, we will declare dividends to our stockholders. We do not currently intend to pay dividends in the foreseeable future. Our ability to pay dividends is constrained by our holding company structure under which we are dependent on payments by our subsidiaries. Additionally, we and our subsidiaries are parties to credit agreements which restrict our ability and their ability to pay dividends. See "Dividend Policy" and "Description of our Indebtedness". You should not rely on an investment in us if you require dividend income. In the foreseeable future, the only possible return on an investment in us would come from an appreciation of our common stock and there can be no assurance that our common stock will appreciate after this offering.

Shares eligible for future sale may cause the price of our common stock to decline.

Sales of substantial amounts of our common stock in the public market, or the perception that these sales may occur, could cause the market price of our common stock to decline. This could also impair our ability to raise additional capital through the sale of our equity securities. Under our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, we are authorized to issue up to shares of common stock, of which shares of common stock are currently outstanding. Of these shares, the shares of common stock sold in this offering will be freely transferable without restriction or further registration under the Securities Act by persons other than "affiliates", as that term is defined in Rule 144 under the Securities Act. Our principal stockholder, directors and executive officers, who collectively beneficially own shares, will enter into lock-up agreements, pursuant to which they will agree, subject to certain exceptions, not to sell or transfer, directly or indirectly, any shares of our common stock for a period of 180 days from the date of this prospectus, subject to extension in certain circumstances. Upon the expiration of these lock-up agreements, all of these shares of common stock will be tradable subject to limitations imposed by Rule 144 under the Securities Act. See "Shares Eligible for Future Sale".

CAUTIONARY NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This prospectus contains forward-looking statements. Statements that are predictive in nature, that depend upon or refer to future events or conditions or that include the words “believe”, “expect”, “anticipate”, “intend”, “estimate” and other expressions that are predictions of or indicate future events and trends and that do not relate to historical matters identify forward-looking statements. Our forward-looking statements include, among others, statements about our business strategy, our industry, our future profitability, and the costs of operating as a public company. These statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors, including the factors described under “Risk Factors”, that may cause our actual results and performance to be materially different from any future results or performance expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. Such risks and uncertainties include, among other things:

- decreases in oil and gas prices;
- decreases in oil and gas industry expenditure levels, which may result from decreased oil and natural gas prices or other factors;
- increased usage of alternative fuels, which may negatively affect oil and gas industry expenditure levels;
- U.S. and international general economic conditions;
- our ability to compete successfully with other companies in our industry;
- the risk that manufacturers of our products will sell a substantial amount of goods directly to end users in the markets that we serve;
- unexpected supply shortages;
- cost increases by our suppliers;
- our lack of long-term contracts with most of our suppliers;
- increases in customer, manufacturer and distributor inventory levels;
- price reductions by suppliers of products sold by us, which could cause the value of our inventory to decline;
- decreases in steel prices, which could significantly lower our profit;
- increases in steel prices, which we may be unable to pass along to our customers, which could significantly lower our profit;
- our lack of long-term contracts with many of our customers and our lack of contracts with customers that require minimum purchase volumes;
- changes in our customer and product mix;
- the potential adverse effects associated with integrating Red Man into our business and whether the Red Man Transaction will yield its intended benefits;
- ability to integrate acquired companies into our business;
- the success of our acquisition strategies;
- our significant indebtedness;
- the dependence on our subsidiaries for cash to meet our debt obligations;
- changes in our credit profile;
- a decline in demand for certain of our products if import restrictions on these products are lifted;

- environmental, health and safety laws and regulations;
- the sufficiency of our insurance policies to cover losses, including liabilities arising from litigation;
- product liability claims against us;
- pending or future asbestos-related claims against us;
- the potential loss of key personnel;
- interruption in the proper functioning of our information systems or failure to timely and properly complete our current information systems integration project;
- loss of third-party transportation providers;
- potential inability to obtain necessary capital;
- risks related to hurricanes and other adverse weather events;
- the failure of Red Man Distributors LLC to continue to be certified as a minority business enterprise;
- impairment of our goodwill or other intangible assets;
- adverse changes in political or economic conditions in the countries in which we operate;
- potential increases in costs and distraction of management resulting from the requirements of being a public company;
- risks relating to evaluations of internal controls required by Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act;
- the operation of our company as a “controlled company”; and
- our limited operating history as a combined company.

You should not place undue reliance on our forward-looking statements. Although forward-looking statements reflect our good faith beliefs, reliance should not be placed on forward-looking statements because they involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors, which may cause our actual results, performance or achievements to differ materially from anticipated future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events, changed circumstances or otherwise.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We will not receive any of the proceeds from the sale of shares of our common stock by PVF Holdings LLC, the selling stockholder. PVF Holdings LLC intends to distribute the net proceeds of this offering, after giving effect to the underwriting discount, to its members, which include certain members of our board of directors and senior management team and various of their affiliates. See “Principal and Selling Stockholders”.

Additionally, affiliates of Goldman, Sachs & Co. own a majority interest in PVF Holdings LLC. Accordingly, such affiliates will receive a significant portion of the proceeds from this offering. See “Underwriting”.

DIVIDEND POLICY

Following the completion of this offering, we do not anticipate paying any cash dividends in the foreseeable future. We currently intend to retain future earnings from our business, if any, to finance operations and the expansion of our business. Any future determination to pay cash dividends will be at the discretion of our board of directors and will be dependent upon our financial condition, results of operations, capital requirements and other factors that the board deems relevant. In addition, the covenants contained in our subsidiaries' credit facilities limit the ability of our subsidiaries to pay dividends to us, which limits our ability to pay dividends to our stockholders. Our ability to pay dividends is also limited by the covenants contained in our $450 million term loan facility, and our ability to pay dividends may be further limited by covenants contained in the instruments governing future indebtedness that we or our subsidiaries may incur in the future. See "Description of Our Indebtedness".

On May 21, 2008, our board of directors approved a dividend of $475 million to our stockholders, of which $474,096,204 was distributed to PVF Holdings LLC and $903,796 was held by us in accordance with the terms of our restricted stock award agreements with holders of our restricted stock. PVF Holdings LLC distributed its share of the proceeds of the dividend to its members, including certain members of our board of directors and management team, in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Limited Liability Company Agreement of PVF Holdings LLC. See "Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions — Transactions with the Goldman Sachs Funds — May 2008 Dividend". For a list of our executive officers and directors who received proceeds of this dividend and the amount of proceeds that each received, see the table in "Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions — Transactions with Executive Officers and Directors — May 2008 Dividend" on page 147. This dividend is not indicative of future dividends we may pay to our stockholders.

CAPITALIZATION

The following table sets forth our consolidated cash and cash equivalents and capitalization as of June 26, 2008:

- on an actual basis; and
- on an as adjusted basis to give effect to (1) the payment of expenses in connection with this offering and (2) transactions in connection with our purchase of the minority interest in Midfield Supply ULC, one of our subsidiaries, on July 31, 2008.

You should read this table in conjunction with “Unaudited Pro Forma Consolidated Financial Statements”, “Selected Historical Consolidated Financial Data”, “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” and the consolidated financial statements and related notes included elsewhere in this prospectus.

	Actual	As Adjusted
	(in millions)
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 8.8	$
Debt (including current portion):
Senior secured revolving credit facility(1)	204.4
Senior secured term loan facility	567.8
Junior term loan facility	450.0
Midfield revolving credit facility(2)	51.7
Midfield term loan facility	9.8
Midfield notes payable	1.0
Total debt before Midfield shareholder loans	1,284.7
Midfield shareholder loans(3)	29.1
Total debt	1,313.8
Minority interest in subsidiaries(3)
Stockholders’ equity:
Common stock, $0.01 par value per share; shares authorized, shares issued and outstanding(4)
Preferred stock, $0.01 par value per share; no shares authorized, issued or outstanding, actual; shares authorized; no shares issued and outstanding as adjusted
Additional paid-in capital
Total stockholders’ equity	825.7
Total capitalization	$	$

(1) As of June 26, 2008, we had outstanding $204.4 million of borrowings and availability of $490.9 million under our senior secured revolving credit facility.

(2) As of June 26, 2008, we had outstanding $51.7 million of borrowings and availability of $51.6 million under the Midfield revolving credit facility. The as adjusted amount includes $5.4 million in drawings under our revolving credit facility for purposes of paying expenses in connection with this offering.

(3) The as adjusted column gives effect to total payments made in connection with our purchase on July 31, 2008 of all of the minority interest in Midfield Supply ULC, one of our subsidiaries. Total payments consisted of CDN$90.04 million (US$87.97 million) paid to shareholders of and lenders to Midfield Holdings (Alberta) Ltd., the holder of the minority interest, and approximately US$47.7 million paid to former shareholders of Red Man pursuant to the stock purchase agreement entered into in connection with the Red Man Transaction. In connection with the purchase of the minority interest, the Midfield shareholder loans were paid in full. Our minority interest in subsidiaries was eliminated upon consummation of the purchase because we had no minority interest in subsidiaries other than the purchased interest.

(4) The number of shares of common stock outstanding on an actual and as adjusted basis:

- excludes shares of common stock issuable upon the exercise of stock options granted to certain of our employees pursuant to the McJ Holding Corporation 2007 Stock Option Plan; and
- excludes shares of non-vested restricted stock awarded to certain of our employees and directors pursuant to the McJ Holding Corporation 2007 Restricted Stock Plan.

DILUTION

Our pro forma net tangible book value per share as of June 26, 2008, both before and after giving effect to this offering, was approximately $ million. Pro forma net tangible book value per share represents the amount of tangible assets less total liabilities divided by the pro forma number of shares of common stock outstanding (giving effect to the for split of our common stock which will occur prior to the pricing of this offering). There will be no increase in our pro forma net tangible book value per share on account of this offering because we will not receive any proceeds from the sale of shares in this offering. Purchasers of shares in this offering will not incur immediate dilution because our pro forma net tangible book value per share will not be affected by this offering.

The following table sets forth as of June 26, 2008 the number of shares of common stock purchased from us or to be purchased from the selling stockholder, total consideration paid or to be paid and the average price per share paid by our existing stockholders and by new investors, on a pro forma basis to give effect to the for split of our common stock which will occur prior to the pricing of this offering:

	Shares Purchased		Total Consideration		Average Price
	Number	Percent	Amount	Percent	Per Share
Existing stockholders(1)		%	$	%	$
New investors(2)(3)
Total		%	$	%	$

(1) Total consideration and average price per share paid by the existing stockholders give effect to the $475 million distribution made to the existing stockholders in May 2008 using proceeds from our senior secured revolving credit facility and junior term loan facility. If the table were adjusted to not give effect to these payments, existing stockholders' total consideration for their shares would be $ with an average share price of $.

(2) A $1.00 increase (decrease) in the assumed initial public offering price of $ per share, which is the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, would increase (decrease) total consideration paid by new investors and total consideration paid by all stockholders by $ million, assuming the number of shares offered by the selling stockholder, as set forth on the cover page of the prospectus, remains the same.

(3) If the underwriters exercise their option to purchase shares from the selling stockholder in full, then new investors would purchase shares, or approximately % of shares outstanding, and the total consideration paid by new investors would increase to $, or % of the total consideration paid (based on the midpoint of the range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus).

As of June 26, 2008, there were options outstanding to purchase shares of our common stock, with exercise prices ranging from $ to $ per share and a weighted average exercise price of $ per share (after taking into account the for split of our common stock which will occur prior to the pricing of this offering). Also, as of June 26, 2008, there were shares of unvested restricted stock outstanding (after giving effect to the stock split). The tables and calculations above assume that those options have not been exercised and the restricted stock has not vested. If these options were exercised at the weighted average exercise price and the restricted stock was fully vested, the additional dilution per share to new investors would be $.

SELECTED HISTORICAL CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL DATA

On January 31, 2007, McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation, an affiliate of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc., acquired a majority of the equity of the entity now known as McJunkin Red Man Corporation (then known as McJunkin Corporation) (the "GS Acquisition"). In this prospectus, the term "Predecessor" refers to McJunkin Corporation and its subsidiaries prior to January 31, 2007 and the term "Successor" refers to the entity now known as McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation and its subsidiaries on and after January 31, 2007. As a result of the change in McJunkin Corporation's basis of accounting in connection with the GS Acquisition, Predecessor's financial statement data for the one month ended January 30, 2007 and earlier periods is not comparable to Successor's financial data for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and subsequent periods.

McJunkin Corporation completed a business combination transaction with Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. (the "Red Man Transaction") on October 31, 2007. At that time McJunkin Corporation was renamed McJunkin Red Man Corporation. Operating results for the eleven-month period ended December 31, 2007 include the results of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation for the full period and the results of Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. ("Red Man") for the two months after the business combination on October 31, 2007. Accordingly, our results for the 11 months ended December 31, 2007 are not comparable to McJunkin's results for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005.

The selected consolidated financial information presented below under the captions Statement of Operations Data and Other Financial Data for the one month ended January 30, 2007 (Predecessor) and the eleven months ended December 31, 2007, and the selected consolidated financial information presented below under the caption Balance Sheet Data as of December 31, 2007, have been derived from the consolidated financial statements of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation included elsewhere in this prospectus that have been audited by Ernst & Young LLP, independent registered public accounting firm. The selected consolidated financial information presented below as of and for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2006 has been derived from the consolidated financial statements of our Predecessor, McJunkin Corporation, included elsewhere in this prospectus that have been audited by Schneider Downs & Co., Inc., independent registered public accounting firm. The selected consolidated financial information presented below as of and for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2004 has been derived from the audited consolidated financial statements of our predecessor, McJunkin Corporation, that are not included in this prospectus.

The selected unaudited interim consolidated financial information presented below under the captions Statement of Operations Data and Other Financial Data for the six months ended June 26, 2008 and the five months ended June 28, 2007, and the selected unaudited consolidated financial information presented below under the caption Balance Sheet Data as of June 26, 2008, have been derived from our unaudited interim consolidated financial statements, which are included elsewhere in this prospectus and have been prepared on the same basis as our audited consolidated financial statements. In the opinion of management, the interim data reflect all adjustments, consisting of normal and recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair presentation of results for these periods. Operating results for the six months ended June 26, 2008 include the results of McJunkin Corporation and Red Man for the full period. Operating results for the five-month period ending June 28, 2007 do not reflect the operating results of Red Man, as the Red Man Transaction did not occur until October 31, 2007. Accordingly, the results for the six months ended June 26, 2008 are not comparable to the results for the five months ended June 28, 2007. In addition, operating results for the six-month period ended June 26, 2008 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ended December 31, 2008.

The purchase price allocation for the GS Acquisition has been finalized but the purchase price allocation for the Red Man Transaction has not been finalized. We expect the purchase price allocation for the Red Man Transaction to be finalized by October 31, 2008. The purchase price has been finalized for both the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction and the consideration for such transactions will not increase.

PRO FORMA CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

On January 31, 2007, McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation, an affiliate of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc., acquired a majority of the equity of McJunkin Red Man Corporation (then known as McJunkin Corporation) (the "GS Acquisition"). In connection with the GS Acquisition, McJunkin Corporation entered into a $575 million term loan facility on January 31, 2007. On October 31, 2007, McJunkin Corporation completed a business combination transaction with Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. (the "Red Man Transaction"). At that time McJunkin Corporation was renamed McJunkin Red Man Corporation. McJunkin Red Man Corporation entered into a $650 million revolving credit facility on October 31, 2007 in connection with the Red Man Transaction. This revolving credit facility was upsized to $700 million on June 10, 2008.

The unaudited pro forma consolidated income statement of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation for the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 has been derived from (1) the audited consolidated statement of income of McJunkin Corporation for the one month ended January 30, 2007 (before the GS Acquisition), (2) the audited consolidated statement of income of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 (which includes the results of McJunkin for 11 months and the results of Red Man for the two months ended December 31, 2007), and (3) the audited statement of operations of Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. for the twelve months ended October 31, 2007. The unaudited pro forma consolidated income statement of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation for the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 has been adjusted to exclude the results of Red Man for the two months ended December 31, 2007 and to give pro forma effect to (1) the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction as if each such transaction had occurred on January 1, 2007, and (2) our entering into our $575 million term loan facility and our $700 million revolving credit facility, as if we had entered into these facilities on January 1, 2007.

The unaudited pro forma consolidated income statement of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation for the six months ended June 28, 2007 has been derived from (1) the audited consolidated statement of income of McJunkin Corporation for the one month ended January 30, 2007 (before the GS Acquisition), (2) the unaudited consolidated statement of income of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation for the five months ended June 28, 2007 (before the Red Man Transaction), and (3) the unaudited consolidated statement of operations of Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. for the six months ended April 30, 2007. The unaudited pro forma consolidated income statement of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation for the six months ended June 28, 2007 has been adjusted to give pro forma effect to (1) the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction as if each such transaction had occurred on January 1, 2007, and (2) our entering into our $575 million term loan facility and our $700 million revolving credit facility, as if we had entered into these facilities on January 1, 2007.

The purchase price allocation for the GS Acquisition has been finalized but the purchase price allocation for the Red Man Transaction has not been finalized. We expect the purchase price allocation for the Red Man Transaction to be finalized by October 31, 2008. The purchase price has been finalized for both the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction and the consideration for such transactions will not increase.

The unaudited pro forma consolidated financial statements do not give effect to our acquisition of Midway-Tristate Corporation ("Midway") on April 30, 2007 and therefore do not include Midway's results for the four months ended April 30, 2007 nor do they give pro forma effect to Midway as if the acquisition had occurred on January 1, 2007. Midway was not a "significant" acquisition within the meaning of Rule 3-05 of Regulation S-X. The unaudited pro forma income statements also do not give effect to our purchase of the approximate 49% minority voting interest in Midfield, one of our subsidiaries, on July 31, 2008. Red Man originally acquired 51% of Midfield in 2005 and the purchase of the remaining 49% in July 2008 was not a "significant" acquisition within the meaning of Rule 3-05 of Regulation S-K. The assets and liabilities of Midfield are included in the audited consolidated financial statements of MRM at December 31, 2007.

The unaudited pro forma consolidated financial statements are provided for informational purposes only and do not purport to represent or be indicative of the results that actually would have been obtained had the transactions described above occurred on January 1, 2007 and are not intended to project our consolidated financial position or results of operations for any future period. The pro forma adjustments are based on available information and certain assumptions that we believe are reasonable. The pro forma adjustments and certain assumptions are described in the accompanying notes. Other information included under this heading has been presented to provide additional analysis. We will expense the costs of this offering.

The unaudited pro forma consolidated financial statements below should be read in conjunction with the historical financial statements, the related notes and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" included elsewhere in this prospectus.

(a) Reflects the increase in depreciation resulting from the revaluation of our property, plant and equipment in connection with the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction, as if these transactions had each occurred on January 1, 2007. All significant assets that were acquired in each of these transactions were revalued to their estimated fair value. The pro forma adjustment was determined by dividing the fair value of each asset over the newly determined life of the respective asset as determined as of the date of the transactions. This methodology assumes that a valuation completed as of January 1, 2007 would have yielded a similar result. Utilizing this asset-by-asset approach, we determined that six months of depreciation for the assets acquired in the GS Acquisition would have equated to $2.5 million, and six months of depreciation for the assets acquired in the Red Man Transaction would have equated to $2.9 million. Therefore, the pro forma adjustment includes a $544,000 increase in depreciation in connection with the revaluation of property, plant and equipment acquired in the GS Acquisition, and a $80,000 increase in depreciation in connection with the revaluation of property, plant and equipment acquired in the Red Man Transaction, for an adjustment of $624,000 overall.

Fair Value of Fixed Assets Acquired in the GS Acquisition

Asset Description	Fair Value (in millions)	Average Life
Land	$ 5.0
Buildings and improvements	10.1	40
Machinery, shop equipment, and vehicles	15.7	5
Furniture, fixtures, and office equipment	2.9	3

Fair Value of Fixed Assets Acquired in the Red Man Transaction

Asset Description	Fair Value (in millions)	Average Life
Land	$ 1.3
Buildings and improvements	3.2	40
Machinery, shop equipment, and vehicles	4.4	8
Furniture, fixtures, and office equipment	6.1	3

(b) Reflects the increase in amortization of intangibles in connection with the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction, as if these transactions had each occurred on January 1, 2007. In accordance with the purchase accounting method, the fair value of certain identifiable assets is amortized over the asset's estimated life. The pro forma adjustment was determined by dividing the fair value of the intangible asset over the estimated life of the asset. This methodology assumes that a valuation completed as of January 1, 2007 would have yielded a similar result. Using straight line amortization, we determined that the six month amortization expense for the assets related to the GS Acquisition is $5.3 million, and the six month amortization expense for the assets related to the Red Man Transaction is $6.9 million. Therefore the pro forma adjustment includes a $707,500 increase in the amortization of intangibles in connection with the assets acquired in the GS Acquisition, and a $5,371,000 increase in amortization of intangibles in connection with the assets acquired in the Red Man Transaction, for an adjustment of $6,078,500 overall.

GS Acquisition-related Amortizable Intangibles

Amortizable Intangible	Value (in millions)	Estimated Life (in Years)
Backlog	$ 1.6	1
Customer Base	356.0	40
Non-Compete Agreements	1.0	5

Red Man Transaction-related Amortizable Intangibles

Amortizable Intangible	Value (in millions)	Estimated Life (in Years)
Red Man Customer Base	229.0	17

(c) Reflects compensation expense relating to the equity awards granted to certain employees in connection with the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction, as if each had occurred on January 1, 2007. A Black-Scholes option pricing model was used to estimate the fair value of the stock options granted in 2007. For purposes of measuring compensation, we relied on a calculated value that requires certain assumptions including the volatility based on the appropriate industry sector. For a discussion of these assumptions, see Note 9 to our historical financial statements for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007. This adjustment was calculated based on the actual expense recorded in June 2008, because this would have reflected six months of stock-based compensation expense using the aforementioned assumptions. Any forfeitures would have been immaterial in determining this adjustment.

(d) Reflects the interest expense for (1) interest resulting from our entering into our $575 million term loan facility and the $700 million revolving credit facility, as if we entered into these facilities on January 1, 2007 and (2) amortization of the related deferred financing costs. To calculate interest expense, an average interest rate of 7.11% based on LIBOR was multiplied by an average annual debt balance of $802 million. The total annual interest expense based on the assumptions described is $57.5 million, and the total for six months would be $28.5 million. The total adjustment to the pro forma financials for interest expense is a decrease of $3.3 million. Deferred financing fees for both the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction were recorded at the closing dates, and the pro forma adjustment assumes that both transactions occurred as of January 1, 2007. The deferred financing fees for the GS Acquisition were $15.5 million and the deferred financing fees for the Red Man Transaction were $7.7 million. These fees are amortized using the straight line amortization method over 74 months. Therefore, the six month amortization expense related to the deferred financing fees for six months is $1,896,000. The total adjustment to the pro forma financials for deferred financing fees is an increase of $326,000. Actual interest expense may be higher or lower depending upon fluctuations in interest rates. A $^1/_8$% change in interest rates would have resulted in a $501,000 change in interest expense for the six-month period. No pro forma adjustment has been made to reflect an increase in interest expense that would have resulted had we entered into our $450 million junior term loan facility at any time during the six-month period because our entry into this facility was not related to funding the Red Man Transaction or the GS Acquisition.

(e) Reflects elimination of our minority interest related to McJunkin Appalachian Oilfield Supply Company in connection with the GS Acquisition on January 31, 2007 as if we acquired the minority interest on January 1, 2007.

(f) Reflects the reduction in income tax expense as a result of (1) the pro forma adjustments described above, which resulted in a lower amount of pre-tax income, and (2) the lower effective income tax rate applicable to our combined company, which is lower than the historical income tax rates applicable to McJunkin and Red Man separately, as if our combined company's current income tax rate was in effect from January 1, 2007 onward. The tax rate assumed in this calculation was 37.5%. The total adjustment necessary was calculated by multiplying this rate with the total adjusted pre-tax income. The adjustment needed is the difference between this calculated rate and the tax recorded in the respective financial statements.

(g) Stock options are disregarded in the calculation of earnings per share if they are determined to be anti-dilutive. At June 28, 2007, the company's anti-dilutive stock options totaled 1,169.

This methodology assumes that a valuation completed as of January 1, 2007 would have yielded a similar result. Utilizing this asset-by-asset approach, we determined that a full year of depreciation for the assets acquired in the GS Acquisition would have equated to $5.1 million, and the full year of depreciation for the assets acquired in the Red Man Transaction would have equated to $5.7 million. Therefore, the pro forma adjustment includes a $590,000 decrease in depreciation in connection with the revaluation of property, plant and equipment acquired in the GS Acquisition, and a $760,000 increase in depreciation in connection with the revaluation of property, plant and equipment acquired in the Red Man Transaction, for an adjustment of $170,000 overall.

Fair Value of Fixed Assets Acquired in the GS Acquisition

Asset Description	Fair Value (in millions)	Average Life
Land	$ 5.0
Buildings and improvements	10.1	40
Machinery, shop equipment, and vehicles	15.7	5
Furniture, fixtures, and office equipment	2.9	3

Fair Value of Fixed Assets Acquired in the Red Man Transaction

Asset Description	Fair Value (in millions)	Average Life
Land	$ 1.3
Buildings and improvements	3.2	40
Machinery, shop equipment, and vehicles	4.4	8
Furniture, fixtures, and office equipment	6.1	3

(b) Reflects the increase in amortization of intangibles in connection with the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction, as if these transactions had each occurred on January 1, 2007. In accordance with the purchase accounting method, the fair value of certain identifiable assets is amortized over the asset's estimated life. The pro forma adjustment was determined by dividing the fair value of the intangible asset over the estimated life of the asset. This methodology assumes that a valuation completed as of January 1, 2007 would have yielded a similar result. Using straight line amortization, we determined that the full year amortization expense for the assets related to the GS Acquisition is $10.7 million, and the full year amortization expense for the assets related to the Red Man Transaction is $13.9 million. Therefore, the pro forma adjustment includes a $190,000 increase in the amortization of intangibles in connection with the assets acquired in the GS Acquisition, and a $10,250,000 increase in amortization of intangibles in connection with the assets acquired in the Red Man Transaction, for an adjustment of $10,440,000 overall.

Amortizable Intangible	Value (in millions)	Estimated Life (in Years)
Backlog	$ 1.6	1
Customer Base	356.0	40
Non-Complete Agreements	1.0	5

Red Man Transaction-related Amortizable Intangibles

Amortizable Intangible	Value (in millions)	Estimated Life (in Years)
Red Man Backlog	$ 2.0	1
Midfield Customer Base	31.4	13

(c) Reflects compensation expense relating to the equity awards granted to certain employees in connection with the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction, as if each had occurred on January 1, 2007. A Black-Scholes option pricing model was used to estimate the fair value of the stock options granted in 2007. For purposes of measuring compensation, we relied on a calculated value that requires certain assumptions including the volatility based on the appropriate industry sector. For a discussion of these assumptions, see Note 9 to our audited historical statements for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 for these assumptions. This adjustment was calculated based on the actual expense recorded in June 2008, because this would have reflected six months of stock based-compensation expense using the aforementioned assumptions. The adjustment was calculated by annualizing the actual 2008 expense. Any forfeitures would have been immaterial in determining this adjustment.

(d) Reflects the interest expense for (1) interest resulting from our entering into our $575 million term loan facility and the $700 million revolving credit facility, as if we entered into these facilities on January 1, 2007 and (2) amortization of the related deferred financing costs. To calculate interest expense, an average interest rate of 7.11% based on LIBOR was multiplied by an average annual debt balance of $802 million. The total annual interest expense based on the assumptions described is $57.5 million. The total adjustment to the pro forma financials for interest expense is a decrease of $14.6 million. Deferred financing fees for both the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction were recorded at the closing date, and the pro forma adjustment assumes that both transactions occurred as of January 1, 2007. The deferred financing fees for the GS Acquisition were $15.5 million and the deferred financing fees for the Red Man Transaction were $7.7 million. These fees are amortized using the straight line amortization method over 74 months. Therefore, the amortization expense related to the deferred financing fees for the full year is $3,792,000. The total adjustment to the pro forma financials for deferred financing fees is an increase of $338,000. Actual interest expense may be higher or lower depending upon fluctuations in interest rates. A 1/8% change in interest rates would have resulted in a $1,002,000 change in interest expense for the twelve-month period. No pro forma adjustment has been made to reflect an increase in interest expense that would have resulted had we entered into our $450 million junior term loan facility at any time during the twelve-month period because our entry into this facility was not related to funding the Red Man Transaction or the GS Acquisition.

(e) Reflects elimination of our minority interest related to McJunkin Appalachian Oilfield Supply Company in connection with the GS Acquisition on January 31, 2007 as if we acquired the minority interest on January 1, 2007.

(f) Reflects the reduction in income tax expense as a result of (1) the pro forma adjustments described above, which resulted in a lower amount of pre-tax income, and (2) the lower effective income tax rate applicable to our combined company, which is lower than the historical income tax rates applicable to McJunkin and Red Man separately, as if our combined company's current income tax rate was in effect from January 1, 2007 onward. The tax rate assumed in this calculation was 37.5%. The total adjustment necessary was calculated by multiplying this rate with the total adjusted pre-tax income. The adjustment needed is the difference between this calculated rate and the tax recorded in the respective financial statements.

(g) Stock options are disregarded in the calculation of earnings per share if they are determined to be anti-dilutive. At December 31, 2007, the company's anti-dilutive stock options totaled 3,533.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations in conjunction with our financial statements and related notes included elsewhere in this prospectus. This discussion and analysis contains forward-looking statements that involve risks, uncertainties and assumptions. Our actual results may differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of a number of factors, including, but not limited to, those set forth under "Risk Factors", "Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements" and elsewhere in this prospectus.

Overview

We are the largest North American distributor of pipe, valves and fittings ("PVF") and related products and services to the energy industry based on sales and the leading PVF distributor serving this industry across each of the upstream (exploration, production, and extraction of underground oil and gas), midstream (gathering and transmission of oil and gas, gas utilities, and the storage and distribution of oil and gas) and downstream (crude oil refining and petrochemical processing) markets. We have an unmatched presence of over 250 branches that are located in the most active oil and gas regions in North America. We offer an extensive array of PVF and oilfield supplies encompassing over 100,000 products, we are diversified by geography and end market and we seek to provide best-in-class service to our customers by satisfying the most complex, multi-site needs of some of the largest companies in the energy and industrial sectors as their primary supplier. As a result, we have an average relationship of over 20 years with our top ten customers and our pro forma sales in 2007 were over twice as large as our nearest competitor in the energy industry. We believe the critical role we play in our customers' supply chain, our unmatched scale and extensive product offering, our broad North American geographic presence, our customer-linked scalable information systems and our efficient distribution capabilities serve to solidify our long-standing customer relationships and drive our growth.

We have benefited in recent years from several growth trends within the energy industry including high levels of expansion and maintenance capital expenditures by our customers. This growth in spending has been driven by several factors, including underinvestment in North American energy infrastructure, production and capacity constraints and anticipated strength in the oil, natural gas, refined products and petrochemical markets. While current prices for oil and natural gas are high relative to historical levels, we believe that investment in the energy sector by our customers would continue at prices well below current levels. In addition, our products are often used in extreme operating environments leading to the need for a regular replacement cycle. As a result, over 50% of our historical and pro forma sales in 2007 were attributable to multi-year maintenance, repair and operations ("MRO") contracts where we have demonstrated an over 99% average annual retention rate since 2000. The combination of these ongoing factors has helped increase demand for our products and services, resulting in record levels of customer orders to be shipped as of September 2008. For the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 on a pro forma basis, we generated sales of $3,952.7 million, Adjusted EBITDA of $370.4 million and net income of $150.8 million. During the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 on a pro forma basis, approximately 46% of our sales were attributable to upstream activities, approximately 22% were attributable to midstream activities, and approximately 32% were attributable to downstream activities. In addition, for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007, without giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, we generated sales of $2,124.9 million, EBITDA of $171 million and net income of $56.9 million, and for the twelve months ended October 31, 2007, before giving effect to the Red Man Transaction, Red Man generated sales of $1,982.0 million, EBITDA of $170 million and net income of $82.2 million.

Key Factors Affecting Our Business

Our revenues are predominantly derived from the sale of PVF and other oilfield service supplies to the energy industry in North America. Our business is therefore dependent upon conditions in the energy sector and, in particular, maintenance and expansionary capital expenditures by our customers in the upstream, midstream and downstream sectors of the energy industry. Growth in spending has been, and we believe will continue to be, driven by several factors, including underinvestment in North American energy infrastructure, production and capacity constraints, and anticipated strength in the oil, natural gas, refined products and petrochemical markets. The outlook for future oil, natural gas, refined products and petrochemical prices are influenced by numerous factors, including but not limited to the factors listed in "Risk Factors" beginning on page 18 as well as the following factors:

- Oil and gas price volatility. Proceeds from the sale of PVF and related products to the oil and gas industry constitute a significant portion of our sales. As a result, we depend upon the oil and gas industry and its ability and willingness to make capital expenditures to explore for, develop and produce oil and gas and refined products. If these expenditures decline due to declining prices or otherwise, our business will suffer.
- Fluctuations in steel prices. Fluctuations in steel prices can lead to volatility in the pricing of our products, which can influence the buying patterns of our customers and have a negative impact on our results of operations.
- Economic downturns. The demand for our products is dependent on the general economy, the energy and industrials sectors and other factors. Downturns in the general economy or in the energy and industrials sectors (domestically or internationally) could cause demand for our products to materially decrease.
- Increases in customer, manufacturer and distributor inventory levels of PVF and related products. Customer, manufacturer and distributor inventory levels of PVF and related products can change significantly from period to period. Increases in our customers' inventory levels can have a direct adverse affect on the demand for our products when customers draw from inventory rather than purchase new products. Reduced demand, in turn, would likely result in reduced sales volume and overall profitability. Increased inventory levels by manufacturers or other distributors can cause an oversupply of PVF and related products in our markets and reduce the prices that we are able to charge for our products. Reduced prices, in turn, would likely reduce our profitability.

History

McJunkin Corporation ("McJunkin") and Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. ("Red Man"), two leading national PVF distributors, completed a business combination transaction in October 2007 to create our combined company ("McJunkin Red Man"). The combination created the largest North American PVF distributor to the energy industry based on sales, with pro forma sales of more than twice those of our nearest competitor in the energy industry.

McJunkin Corporation

McJunkin Corporation (formerly known as McJunkin Supply Company) was founded in 1921 in Charleston, West Virginia by brothers-in-law Jerry McJunkin and H. Bernard Wehrle and initially primarily served the local oil and gas industry. Following post-war economic expansion, by the end of the 1960s McJunkin had 29 branches in 18 states with sales of approximately $60 million, focusing primarily on the downstream sector. In 1989 McJunkin broadened its upstream presence by merging its oil and gas division with Appalachian Pipe & Supply Co. to form McJunkin Appalachian Oilfield Supply Company ("McJunkin Appalachian"), which focused primarily on upstream oil and gas customers. Since 2001, McJunkin Corporation has integrated eight acquisitions, with pro forma revenues in the respective years of acquisition totaling approximately $300 million, and became a leading supplier of PVF products to customers in the Appalachian region and California.

In January 2007, affiliates of Goldman Sachs Capital Partners (the “Goldman Sachs Funds”) acquired a controlling interest in McJunkin Corporation. The Goldman Sachs Funds are part of Goldman Sachs’ Principal Investment Area, a leading private equity and mezzanine investor.

Red Man Pipe & Supply Co.

Red Man was founded in 1977 in Tulsa, Oklahoma by the late Lewis B. Ketchum, a member and former Chief of the Delaware Indian Tribe headquartered in Oklahoma. The heritage and tradition of the Delaware Indian was very important to Mr. Ketchum and was the basis upon which he gave the company the name “Red Man”. Red Man began as a distributor to the upstream energy sector and subsequently expanded into the midstream and downstream energy sectors. Since then, Red Man has grown organically and through a number of acquisitions in the United States. In 2005, Red Man acquired an approximate 51% voting interest in Canadian oilfield distributor Midfield, giving Red Man a significant presence in the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin. We acquired the remaining voting interest and equity interest in Midfield on July 31, 2008.

In October 2007, McJunkin and Red Man completed a business combination transaction (the “Red Man Transaction”) to form the combined company, McJunkin Red Man.

Results of Operations

Our results of operations for the year ended December 31, 2007 consist of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation’s results of operations for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin Corporation’s results of operations for the one month ended January 30, 2007. Our financial statements for 2007 include two reporting periods because on January 31, 2007, the entity now known as McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation, an affiliate of the Goldman Sachs Funds, acquired a majority of the equity of the entity now known as McJunkin Red Man Corporation (then known as McJunkin Corporation, or McJunkin), and McJunkin’s basis of accounting was deemed to have changed on that date. As a result, we have compared below (1) our results of operations for the six months ended June 26, 2008 with our results of operations for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin’s results of operations for the one month ended January 30, 2007, (2) our results of operations for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin’s results of operations for the one month ended January 30, 2007 with McJunkin’s results of operations for the year ended December 31, 2006, and (3) McJunkin’s results of operations for the year ended December 31, 2006 with McJunkin’s results of operations for the year ended December 31, 2005. McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation’s results of operations for periods subsequent to January 30, 2007 (before the GS Acquisition occurred) may not be comparable to McJunkin’s results of operations prior to that date.

Operating results for the eleven-month period ended December 31, 2007 include the results of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation for the full period and the results of Red Man for the two months after the business combination on October 31, 2007. Accordingly, results for the year ended December 31, 2006 (which do not reflect the operating results of Red Man) are not comparable to the results for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 (which include the operating results of Red Man for two months). Operating results for the five-month period ending June 28, 2007 do not reflect the operating results of Red Man, as the Red Man Transaction did not occur until October 31, 2007. Accordingly, the results for the six months ended June 26, 2008 (which include the operating results of Red Man for the full period) are not comparable to the results for the five months ended June 28, 2007.

Given the materiality of Red Man’s financial results to our business, we have also compared (1) the results of operations of Red Man for the year ended October 31, 2007 with Red Man’s results of operations for the year ended October 31, 2006 and (2) the results of operations of Red Man for the year ended October 31, 2006 with Red Man's results of operations for the year ended October 31, 2005. Red Man's results of operations are included in our results of operations beginning after October 31, 2007.

Six Months Ended June 26, 2008 (Successor) Compared to the Five Months Ended June 28, 2007 (Successor) and the One Month Ended January 30, 2007 (Predecessor)

Sales. Sales include the revenue recognized from the sales of our products and services to customers and freight billings to customers, less cash discounts taken by customers in return for their early payment of our invoices to them. Our sales were $2,196 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to $785 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's sales of $143 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007. The increase of $1,268 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007 was due to the inclusion of $1,047 million of Red Man sales in the six months ended June 26, 2008, as well as the inclusion of Midway Tri-State's sales for the full six months of 2008 compared with only May and June of 2007 of approximately $48 million and significant increases in our exploration and production and petroleum refining business.

Cost of Sales. Cost of sales consists of the cost of our products at their weighted average actual cost, in-bound and out-bound freight expense, LIFO expense, manufacturers' rebates, physical inventory gains/losses, and inventory obsolescence charges, less cash discounts that we earn by early payment of vendor invoices. Our cost of sales was $1,804 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to $636 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's cost of sales of $115 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007. As a percentage of sales, cost of sales was 82.1% for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to 81.0% for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and 80.4% for the one-month period ended January 30, 2007. The increase of $1.053 billion for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007 was due to the inclusion of $882 million of Red Man cost of sales, the inclusion of Midway's cost of sales for the full six months of 2008 compared with only May and June of 2007 of approximately $40 million, increases in our exploration and production and petroleum refining business, and additional LIFO expense resulting from greater rates of inflation in the cost of our products in 2008. Certain purchasing costs and warehousing activities (including receiving, inspection, stocking, picking and packing costs), as well as general warehousing expenses, are included in selling, general and administrative expenses and not in cost of sales. As such, our gross profit may not be comparable to others who may include these expenses as a component of cost of goods sold. Purchasing and warehousing activities costs approximated $24.0 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 compared to $11.4 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's $2.3 million expense for the one month ended January 30, 2007.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Costs such as salaries, wages, employee benefits, rent, utilities, communications, insurance, fuel, and taxes (other than state and federal income taxes) that are necessary to operate our branch and corporate operations are included in selling, general and administrative expenses. Also contained in this category are certain items that are non-operational in nature, including certain costs of acquiring and integrating other businesses. Our selling, general and administrative expenses were $200.1 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to $80.7 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's selling, general and administrative expenses of $14.6 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007. As a percentage of sales, selling, general and administrative expenses were 9.1% for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to 10.3% for the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007. The increase of $104.8 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007 was due to the inclusion of Red Man's $98.7 million of selling, general and administrative expenses; the absence of $8.6 million of expenses incurred in the 2007 periods related to the GS Acquisition (including payments of $6.2 million to former McJunkin Appalachian shareholders); an increase in wages and benefits of $8.7 million; Red Man integration expenses of $2.3 million; and an increase in fuel expense of $0.8 million.

Depreciation and Amortization. Our depreciation and amortization was $5.2 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to $1.7 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's depreciation and amortization of $0.3 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007. The increase of $3.2 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007 was due to the inclusion of depreciation on the Midway Supply and Red Man assets from the date of each transaction as well as the write up of assets to fair value in purchase accounting for the GS Acquisition and the Midway and Red Man transactions. Depreciation increased $234,000 due to the Midway transaction, and $2.6 million due to the Red Man transaction.

Amortization of Intangibles. In connection with the January 2007 acquisition of a controlling interest in McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds, the April 2007 acquisition of Midway Tristate by McJunkin, and the October 2007 business combination between Red Man and McJunkin, the fair values of intangible assets were determined based upon assumptions related to future cash flows, discounts rates and asset lives. These amortizable intangible assets consist of sales order backlog at the date of the transactions, the customer base of each entity, and non-compete agreements which are amortized over a weighted average amortization period of 30.3 years. Our amortization of intangibles was $15.6 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to $4.6 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's amortization of intangibles of $0.02 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007. The increase of $11.0 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007 was the result of the timing of each of the three transactions described above. In particular, the six months ended June 26, 2008 included $10.5 million of amortization expense associated with the Red Man Transaction for which there were no corresponding amounts for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and one month ended January 30, 2007. This $10.5 million of amortization expense includes $2.6 million of amortization which was estimated in 2007 because the business combination occurred late in the year and the purchase price allocation was preliminary pending receipt of appraisals and valuations at year-end. Further, amortization of intangibles increased $335,000 for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007 due to amortization expense related to the Midway transaction.

Profit Sharing. We have a qualified, defined-contribution plan for employees who meet eligibility requirements, generally six months of service. This plan provides for annual discretionary contributions generally based upon company operating results. Our profit sharing expense was $13.5 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to $5.6 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's profit sharing of $1.3 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007. The increase of $6.6 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007 was due to an increase in the number of our employees primarily as a result of the Midway and Red Man transactions. Profit sharing increased $7.1 million due to the Red Man Transaction.

Stock-Based Compensation. Our equity-based compensation consists of restricted common units in PVF Holdings LLC, profit units in PVF Holdings LLC, restricted stock and non-qualified stock options. In conjunction with the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds, certain key employees received restricted common units in PVF Holdings LLC, and in conjunction with the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds and the Red Man Transaction, certain key employees received profits units in PVF Holdings LLC. In addition, effective March 27, 2007, our board of directors approved the formation of the 2007 Restricted Stock Plan and the 2007 Stock Option Plan. The purpose of these plans is to aid us in recruiting and retaining key employees, directors and consultants of outstanding ability and to motivate such key employees, directors and consultants to exert their best efforts on our behalf by providing them incentives in the form of restricted stock and stock options. It is expected that the Company will benefit from the added interest which such key employees, directors and consultants will have in the welfare of the Company as a result of their proprietary interest in the Company's success. Our stock-based compensation was $3.3 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to $1.3 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and no stock-based compensation for the one month ended January 30, 2007. The increase of $2.0 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007 was due to the adoption of our equity plans in January and March 2007 and the addition of incremental participants as a result of the Red Man Transaction in October 2007. Stock-based compensation increased $1.7 million due to the addition of the Red Man participants in October 2007.

Operating Income. As a result of the aforementioned items, our operating income was $154.5 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to $55.1 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's operating income of $11.7 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007, an increase of $87.7 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007.

Interest Expense. Our interest expense was $35.0 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to $24.3 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's interest expense of $0.1 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007. The increase of $10.6 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007 was primarily due to increased amounts of debt incurred and/or assumed in conjunction with the GS Acquisition and the Midway and Red Man transactions, including Midfield's Canadian debt. We incurred approximately $83 million of debt on our asset-backed revolving credit facility in connection with the acquisition of Midway resulting in an increase in interest expense of approximately $1.4 million. Interest expense was further increased by approximately $8.4 million as a result of the incurrence of approximately $190 million of incremental borrowings under our asset-backed revolving credit facility and the assumption of approximately $68 million of debt in connection with the Red Man Transaction. Interest expense for the six months ended June 26, 2008 also reflects approximately $2.6 million of expense associated with the Junior Term Loan Facility which was entered into on May 22, 2008, the proceeds of which were used to fund a dividend to our shareholders.

Minority Interests. Our minority interests were $0.1 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 (all related to Midfield) as compared to none for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's minority interests of $0.4 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007 (which was due to McJunkin Appalachian). The decrease of $0.3 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007 was due to the repurchase of the minority interest held by McJunkin Appalachian's management in January 2007. In connection with our 1989 transaction with Appalachian Pipe and Supply which formed our McJunkin Appalachian subsidiary, certain members of Appalachian's management group retained a minority ownership in the combined company. As part of the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds in January 2007, these minority shareholders were bought out and McJunkin Appalachian became a wholly owned subsidiary of McJunkin. On December 31, 2007, McJunkin Appalachian was merged into McJunkin Red Man Corporation. In addition, in 2005 Red Man acquired an approximate 51% interest in Midfield.

Other Income (Expense), Net. Our other expense, net was $0.3 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to other expense, net of $0.9 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's other expense, net of $15,000 for the one month ended January 30, 2007. The decrease of $0.6 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007 was due in part to $0.4 million derivatives expense, $0.1 million increase in bank charges, and $0.1 million increase in directors' fees.

Income Tax Expense. Our income tax expense was $43.2 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to $12.3 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's income tax expense of $4.6 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007. The increase of $26.3 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007 was due to the inclusion of Red Man's results, which added $10.3 million to our income tax expense, and higher pre-tax income, partially offset by certain tax savings in the six months ended June 26, 2008. Our effective tax rates were 36.26% for the six months ended June 26, 2008, 41.18% for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and 41.08% for the one month ended January 30, 2007. These rates differ from the federal statutory rate of 35% principally as a result of state income taxes. The rate for the six months ended June 26, 2008 is lower than the rates for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and the one month ended January 30, 2007 primarily due to lower state taxes.

Net Income. Our net income was $75.9 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to $17.6 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and McJunkin's net income of $6.6 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007. Net income increased $51.7 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the combined six-month period ended June 28, 2007.

Eleven Months Ended December 31, 2007 (Successor) and One Month Ended January 30, 2007 (Predecessor) Compared to Year Ended December 31, 2006 (Predecessor)

Sales. Our sales were $2.1 billion for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin's sales were $142.5 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007, as compared to McJunkin's sales of $1.7 billion for the year ended December 31, 2006. The increase of $554 million for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 was due to the inclusion of Red Man's sales of $297 million and Midway's sales of approximately $98 million during the 2007 periods, and increases in our exploration and production and petroleum refining business.

Cost of Sales. Our cost of sales was $1.7 billion for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin's cost of sales was $115 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007, as compared to McJunkin's cost of sales of $1.4 billion for the year ended December 31, 2006. As a percentage of sales, cost of sales was 81.6% for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to 81.4% for the year ended December 31, 2006. The increase in cost of sales of $455 million for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 was due to the inclusion of Red Man's cost of sales of $252 million and Midway's cost of sales of approximately $83 million, and increases in our exploration and production and petroleum refining business, partially offset by a decrease in LIFO expense of $6.5 million due to decreased inflation rates in the cost of our products in 2007. Certain purchasing costs and warehousing activities (including receiving, inspection, stocking, picking and packing costs), as well as general warehousing expenses, are included in selling, general and administrative expenses and not in cost of sales. As such, our gross profit may not be comparable to others who may include these expenses as a component of cost of goods sold. Purchasing and warehousing activities costs approximated $34.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2007 compared to $26.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2006.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Our selling, general and administrative expenses were $201.9 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin's selling, general and administrative expenses were $14.6 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007, as compared to McJunkin's selling, general and administrative expenses of $173.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2006. As a percentage of sales, selling, general and administrative expenses were 9.5% for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to 10.1% for the year ended December 31, 2006. The increase of $42.6 million for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 was due to the inclusion of two months of Red Man's selling, general and administrative expenses totaling $28.0 million in the twelve-months ended December 31, 2007; payments of $6.2 million to the former McJunkin Appalachian shareholders in 2007; eight months of expenses of approximately $4.4 million from the Midway operations acquired at the end of April 2007; $4.2 million of expenses related to the GS Acquisition in 2007; an increase in franchise taxes of $1.3 million due to the increase in shareholders equity resulting from the GS Acquisition; $0.8 million in acquisition and integration expenses related to Red Man; a $0.6 million increase in fuel costs; and $0.3 million in acquisition and integration expenses related to Midway.

Depreciation and Amortization. Our depreciation and amortization was $5.4 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin's depreciation and amortization was $0.3 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007, as compared to McJunkin's depreciation and amortization of $3.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2006. The increase of $1.8 million for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 was primarily due to the recording of depreciation expense with respect to the Red Man and Midway transactions in 2007, and the write up of McJunkin's assets to fair value in conjunction with the GS Acquisition in January 2007. Depreciation increased $143,000 in connection with the write up of the fixed assets related to the GS Acquisition. Depreciation also increased $1.1 million and $235,000 due to the Red Man and Midway transactions, respectively.

Amortization of Intangibles. Our amortization of intangibles was $10.5 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin's amortization of intangibles was $16,000 for the one month ended January 30, 2007, as compared to McJunkin's amortization of intangibles of $0.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2006. The increase of $10.2 million for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 was due to the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds in January 2007 ($9.8 million) and the Midway acquisition in April 2007 ($0.7 million). Intangibles amortization totaling $2.6 million with respect to the Red Man Transaction was recorded in the six months ended June 26, 2008.

Profit Sharing. Our profit sharing was $13.2 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin's profit sharing was $1.3 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007, as compared to McJunkin's profit sharing of $15.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2006. The decrease of $0.6 million for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 was due to lower non-qualified plan contributions as a result of the departure of several members of management who left the company in connection with the GS Acquisition, offset in part by an increase of approximately 100 employees added with the Midway acquisition on April 30, 2007.

Stock-Based Compensation. Our stock-based compensation was $3.0 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007. McJunkin had no stock based compensation for the one month ended January 30, 2007 or for the year ended December 31, 2006. Our equity-based compensation consists of restricted common units in PVF Holdings LLC, profit units in PVF Holdings LLC, restricted stock and non-qualified stock options. In conjunction with the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds, certain key employees received restricted common units in PVF Holdings LLC, and in conjunction with the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds and the Red Man Transaction, certain key employees received profits units in PVF Holdings LLC. In addition, effective March 27, 2007 our board of directors approved the formation of the 2007 Restricted Stock Plan and the 2007 Stock Option Plan.

Operating Income. Our operating income was $156.3 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin's operating income was $11.7 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007, as compared to McJunkin's operating income of $126.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2006. Operating income increased by $41.9 million for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 as a result of the items mentioned above.

Interest Expense. Our interest expense was $61.7 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin's interest expense was $0.1 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007, as compared to McJunkin's interest expense of $2.8 million for the year ended December 31, 2006. The increase of $59.0 million for the combined twelve-month period ended

December 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 was primarily due to our entering into and borrowing under our then-existing $300 million asset-backed revolving credit facility and our $575 million term loan facility to finance the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds on January 31, 2007.

Minority Interests. Our minority interests were $0.1 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin's minority interests were $0.4 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007, as compared to McJunkin's minority interests of $4.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2006. The decrease of $3.6 million for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 was primarily due to the minority shareholders in McJunkin Appalachian selling their interests as part of the January 2007 acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds whereby McJunkin Appalachian became a wholly owned subsidiary.

Other Income (Expense), Net. Our other expense, net was $1.1 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin's other expense, net was $15,000 for the one month ended January 30, 2007, as compared to McJunkin's other expense, net of $1.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2006. The decrease of $0.2 million expense for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 was due to a change in our corporate charitable contributions policy in 2007 which reduced contribution expense in 2007 by $0.4 million and a decrease in board of directors' fees of $0.2 million, offset in part by the absence of gains from the sales of various parcels of real estate ($0.5 million) and life insurance proceeds received by McJunkin upon the deaths of certain stockholders not actively involved in management of the company, which were lower in 2007 as compared to 2006 by $0.3 million.

Income Tax Expense. Our income tax expense was $36.5 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin's income tax expense was $4.6 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007, as compared to McJunkin's income tax expense of $48.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2006. The decrease of $7.2 million for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 was due to (1) a decrease in pretax income of $13.2 million, permanent items decreased by $3.5 million due to one month of minority interest compared to 12 months in 2006, (2) a decrease in state taxable income of $14.6 million which resulted in a decrease in state income tax expense, and (3) a foreign tax credit of $.8 million in 2007 which we did not have in 2006, offset in part by an increase of $2.4 million relating to the inclusion of Red Man's results for the last two months of 2007.

The total provision for income taxes varied from the U.S. federal statutory rate due to the following:

	Successor		Predecessor
	Period		Period		Period
	Eleven Months Ended December 31, 2007		One Month Ended January 30, 2007		Year Ended December 31, 2006

Net Income. Our net income was $56.9 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and McJunkin's net income was $6.6 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007, as compared to McJunkin's net income of $69.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2006. The decrease of $6.1 million for the combined twelve-month period ended December 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 was due to the factors described above.

Sales. McJunkin's sales were $1.7 billion for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to $1.4 billion for the year ended December 31, 2005. The increase of $268 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2005 was due to increases in our sales to the exploration and production, gas transmission and distribution, and petroleum refining end markets.

Cost of Sales. McJunkin's cost of sales was $1.4 billion for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to $1.2 billion for the year ended December 31, 2005. As a percentage of sales, McJunkin's cost of sales was 81.4% for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to 81.4% for the year ended December 31, 2005. The increase of $217 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2005 was due to increases in our sales to the exploration and production, gas transmission and distribution, and petroleum refining end markets, partially offset by a decrease in LIFO expense of $7.9 million resulting from a decrease in the inflation rate experienced in the cost of our products. Certain purchasing costs and warehousing activities (including receiving, inspection, stocking, picking and packing costs), as well as general warehousing expenses, are included in selling, general and administrative expenses and not in cost of sales. As such, our gross profit may not be comparable to others who may include these expenses as a component of cost of goods sold. Purchasing and warehousing activities costs approximated $26.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 compared to $25.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2005.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. McJunkin's selling, general and administrative expenses were $173.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to $155.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2005. As a percentage of sales, McJunkin's selling, general and administrative expenses were 10.2% for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to 10.8% for the year ended December 31, 2005. The increase of $18.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2005 was due to an $8.4 million increase in incentive compensation expense due to higher levels of sales and profitability; a $4.6 million increase in employee salaries, wages, overtime, benefits, and temporary labor due to increased sales activity; $3.0 million of consulting fees for strategic planning services; an increase in fuel costs of $0.6 million; and $0.4 million of expenses related to the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds. Additionally, in 2005 we recorded losses of $0.7 million related to Hurricanes Katrina and Rita on which insurance recoveries were higher than anticipated. As a result of these insurance recoveries, 2006 expenses were reduced by $0.3 million.

Depreciation and Amortization. McJunkin's depreciation and amortization was $3.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to $3.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2005. The increase of $0.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2005 was due to the depreciation recorded in 2006 regarding certain distribution center expansions that were made in 2005.

Amortization of Intangibles. McJunkin's amortization of intangibles was $0.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 and $0.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2005.

Profit Sharing Expenses. McJunkin's profit sharing expenses were $15.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to $13.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2005. The increase of $2.0 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended

December 31, 2005 was due to increased compensation, primarily management incentive compensation, increased profitability and an increase in the number of employees from year to year.

Operating Income. As a result of the items mentioned above, McJunkin's operating income was $126.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to $95.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2005, an increase of $30.3 million.

Interest Expense. McJunkin's interest expense was $2.8 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to $2.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2005, an increase of $0.1 million attributable to marginally higher levels of debt.

Minority Interests. McJunkin's minority interests were $4.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to $2.8 million for the year ended December 31, 2005. The increase of $1.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2005 was due to a $9.5 million increase in net income at McJunkin Appalachian to $28.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 from $19.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2005.

Other Expenses, Net. McJunkin's other expenses, net were $1.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to $1.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2005. The increase of $0.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2005 was partly due to a $0.3 million increase in allowance for doubtful accounts receivable, offset by a decrease in charitable contributions expense in 2006 of $0.6 million due to the absence in 2006 of certain special contributions made in 2005, including $0.1 million in contributions made to Hurricane Katrina relief efforts. Additionally, we realized a gain of $0.7 million on the sale of real estate in 2006, realized a gain of $0.9 million on the sale of stock in PrimeEnergy in 2005, and received income of $0.5 million from swap valuation in 2005 (the swap instrument expired in 2005).

Income Tax Expense. McJunkin's income tax expense was $48.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to $36.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2005. The increase of $11.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2005 was due to pre-tax income increased $28.8 million and permanent items increased $1.0 million primarily due to increased minority interest income related to McJunkin Appalachian.

The total provision for income taxes varied from the U.S. federal statutory rate due to the following:

	Predecessor
	Period		Period
	Year Ended December 31, 2006		Year Ended December 31, 2005
	(dollars in thousands)
Federal tax expense at statutory rate	$41,270	35%	$31,193	35%
State taxes net of federal income tax benefit	5,653	4.8%	4,254	4.8%
Non-deductible expenses	409	0.3%	372	0.4%
Other	1,008	0.9%	764	0.9%
Income tax provision	$48,340	41.0%	$36,583	41.0%

Net Income. McJunkin's net income was $69.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to $52.5 million for the year ended December 31, 2005. The increase of $17.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended December 31, 2005 was due to the factors described above.

Sales. Red Man's sales were $2.0 billion for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $1.8 billion for the year ended October 31, 2006. The increase of $166.7 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2006 was due primarily to an increase of $179.5 million in Red Man US sales to $1,499.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $1,319.7 million for the year ended October 31, 2006, partially offset by a $12.8 million decrease in Midfield sales to $482.8 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $495.6 million for the year ended October 31, 2006. The increase in Red Man US sales was primarily attributable to growth in upstream and midstream oil & gas operations reflecting higher spending by exploration, production and field services companies associated with increased drilling and completion activities. The decrease in Midfield sales was attributable to a slowing of spending by exploration, production and field services companies associated with decreased drilling and completion activities in Canada.

Cost of Products Sold. Red Man's cost of products sold was $1.6 billion for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $1.6 billion for the year ended October 31, 2006. As a percentage of sales, Red Man's cost of products sold was 82.4% for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to 85.4% for the year ended October 31, 2006. The increase of $81.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2006 was due primarily to an increase in sales of $166.7 million to $1,982.0 million in the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $1,815.3 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 due primarily to growth in upstream and midstream oil & gas operations reflecting higher spending by exploration, production and field services companies associated with increased drilling and completion activities. The decrease in the percentage of cost of product sold of 82.4% in 2007 as compared with 85.4% in 2006 was due to lower cost of product sold percentages for both the Midfield business and the Red Man US business in 2007 as compared to 2006, due to lower cost of product sold percentages of other pipe, valve and fittings partially offset by an overall increase in tubulars cost of product sold percentages in 2007 as compared to 2006. Also, Red Man had an $8.0 million decrease in the LIFO reserve in 2007 as compared to a $35.9 million increase in the LIFO reserve in 2006. Certain purchasing costs and warehousing activities (including receiving, inspection, stocking, picking and packing costs), as well as general warehousing expenses, are included in selling, general and administrative expenses and not in cost of products sold. As such, our gross profit may not be comparable to others who may include these expenses as a component of cost of goods sold. Purchasing and warehousing activities costs approximated $17.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 compared to $14.8 million for the year ended October 31, 2006.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Red Man's selling, general and administrative expenses were $186.6 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $172.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2006. As a percentage of sales, Red Man's selling, general and administrative expenses were 9.4% for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to 9.5% for the year ended October 31, 2006. The increase of $14.4 million, or 8.4%, for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2006 was due to an increase in sales of $166.7 million in 2007 compared with 2006, which represents a 9.2% increase in sales, which resulted in increased selling, general and administrative expenses commensurate with the sales activity increase.

Operating Income. Red Man's operating income was $163.1 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $92.0 million for the year ended October 31, 2006. The increase of $71.1 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2006 was due to the factors described above.

Interest Expense. Red Man's interest expense was $20.6 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $15.0 million for the year ended October 31, 2006. The increase of

$5.6 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2006 was due to higher average borrowings during 2007 as compared to 2006.

Other Income (Expense), Net. Red Man's other income (expense), net was $(2.7) million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $3.3 million for the year ended October 31, 2006. The decrease of $6.0 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2006 was primarily due to a goodwill impairment loss on Midfield of $5.1 million recorded in the year ended October 31, 2007. Red Man performed an impairment analysis for its goodwill and intangible assets and engaged an independent valuation specialist to determine the fair values of Red Man's business units. The valuation analysis determined that the fair value of the Nusco pipe division's goodwill and intangible assets was lower than their carrying value as of July 31, 2007.

Income Tax Expense. Red Man's income tax expense was $57.6 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $26.5 million for the year ended October 31, 2006. The increase of $31.1 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2006 was primarily due to an increase in earnings before income taxes of $59.5 million to $139.8 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $80.3 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as well as an increase in the effective income tax rate in 2007 as compared to 2006.

Non-Controlling Interest. Red Man's non-controlling interest was $0.1 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $0.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2006.

Earnings From Discontinued Operations. Red Man earnings from discontinued operations were $(2.2) million for the year ended October 31, 2006. These earnings are associated with Nusco Mfg., a division of Midfield Supply ULC, which was disposed of in June 2006.

Gain on Sale of Discontinued Operations. Red Man recorded a gain on sale of discontinued operations of $8.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 in connection with the disposition in June 2006 of Nusco Mfg., a division of Midfield Supply ULC.

Net Income. Red Man's net income was $82.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to $59.6 million for the year ended October 31, 2006. The increase of $22.6 million for the year ended October 31, 2007 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2006 was due to the factors described above.

Sales. Red Man's sales were $1.8 billion for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to $1.2 billion for the year ended October 31, 2005. The increase of $591.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2005 was primarily due to the acquisition of a controlling interest in Midfield in June 2005. Sales of Midfield were $495.6 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared with $158.7 million for the year ended October 31, 2005, an increase of $336.9 million due to a full year of sales in 2006. In addition, Red Man US sales were $1,319.7 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared with $1,065.4 million for the year ended October 31, 2005, an increase of $254.3 million due primarily to growth in upstream and midstream oil & gas operations reflecting higher spending by exploration, production & field services companies associated with increased drilling and completion activities.

Cost of Products Sold. Red Man's cost of products sold was $1.6 billion for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to $1.0 billion for the year ended October 31, 2005. As a percentage of sales, Red Man's cost of products sold was 85.4% for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to 83.6% for the year ended October 31, 2005. The increase of $528.1 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2005 was primarily due to the acquisition of Midfield in June 2005 and growth in upstream and midstream oil and gas operations in the United States. In addition, Red Man US cost of products sold was $1,132.5 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared with $886.7 million for the year ended October 31, 2005, an increase of $245.8 million, primarily due to growth in upstream and midstream oil and gas operations reflecting higher spending by exploration, production and field services companies associated with increased drilling and completion activities. The increase in cost of product sold as a percentage of sales of 85.4% in 2006 as compared with 83.6% in 2005 was due to higher cost of product sold percentages for the Midfield business which was a larger percentage of the overall Red Man business in 2006 as compared to 2005 and an overall increase in tubulars cost of product sold percentages in the United States in 2006 as compared to 2005, partially offset by lower cost of product sold percentages of other pipe, valve and fittings business in the United States. Also, Red Man had a $35.9 million increase in the LIFO reserve in 2006, which increased its cost of products sold as a percentage of sales as compared with a $0.7 million reduction in 2005, which decreased its cost of products sold as a percentage of sales. Certain purchasing costs and warehousing activities (including receiving, inspection, stocking, picking and packing costs), as well as general warehousing expenses, are included in selling, general and administrative expenses and not in cost of products sold. As such, our gross profit may not be comparable to others who may include these expenses as a component of cost of goods sold. Purchasing and warehousing activities costs approximated $14.8 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 compared to $10.0 million for the year ended October 31, 2005.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Red Man's selling, general and administrative expenses were $172.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to $100.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2005. As a percentage of sales, Red Man's selling, general and administrative expenses were 9.5% for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to 8.2% for the year ended October 31, 2005. The increase of $72.0 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2005 was due primarily to an additional $47.7 million in expenses for Midfield due to including them for a full year in 2006. In addition, there was an additional $18.2 million in employee related expenses in the United States due primarily to a 12.4% increase in the overall average headcount in 2006 as compared with 2005 due to increased business activities. The increase in selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of sales of 9.5% in 2006 as compared with 8.2% in 2005 was primarily due to higher Midfield expenses as a percentage of overall expenses in 2006 as compared with 2005.

Operating Income. Red Man's operating income was $92.0 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to $100.9 million for the year ended October 31, 2005. The decrease of $8.9 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2005 was due to an increase in the LIFO reserve of $35.9 million in 2006 as compared to a $0.7 million reduction in 2005, and an increase in selling, general and administrative expenses to $172.2 million in 2006 as compared to $100.2 million in 2005, partially offset by an increase in pre-LIFO gross margin of $300.1 million in 2006 as compared to $200.4 million in 2005.

Interest Expense. Red Man's interest expense was $15.0 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to $8.4 million for the year ended October 31, 2005. The increase of $6.6 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2005 was due primarily to $7.3 million of interest on debt of Midfield for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to $2.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2005. This increase was primarily due to a full year of interest in 2006 as compared to four and one-half months in 2005 due to the acquisition of Midfield in June 2005. In addition, Red Man U.S. interest expense for the year ended October 31, 2006 was $7.7 million as compared to $6.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2005 due primarily to increased borrowings in 2006 versus 2005.

Other Income (Expense), Net. Red Man's other income (expense), net was $3.3 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to $1.0 million for the year ended October 31, 2005. The increase of $2.3 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2005 was primarily due to an insurance settlement related to Hurricanes Katrina and Rita in 2006.

Income Tax Expense. Red Man's income tax expense was $26.5 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to $34.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2005. The decrease of $7.7 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to the year ended October 31, 2005 was due primarily to a decrease in earnings before income taxes of $13.2 million in 2006 as compared to 2005 as well as a lower effective income tax rate in 2006 as compared to 2005.

Non-Controlling Interest. Red Man's non-controlling interest was $0.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to none for the year ended October 31, 2005.

Earnings From Discontinued Operations. Red Man's earnings from discontinued operations were $(2.2) million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to $0.5 million for the year ended October 31, 2005. These earnings are associated with Nusco Mfg., a division of Midfield Supply ULC, which was disposed of in June 2006.

Gain on Sale of Discontinued Operations. Red Man recorded a gain on sale of discontinued operations of $8.2 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 in connection with the disposition by Midfield of Nusco Mfg. in June 2006.

Net Income. Red Man's net income was $59.6 million for the year ended October 31, 2006 as compared to $59.8 million for the year ended October 31, 2005, a decrease of $0.2 million.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our primary sources of liquidity consist of cash generated from our operating activities, existing cash balances and borrowings under our existing revolving credit facilities. Our ability to generate sufficient cash flows from our operating activities will continue to be primarily dependent on our sales of pipe, valves, fittings and other products and services to our customers at margins sufficient to cover fixed and variable expenses. As of June 26, 2008 we had cash and cash equivalents of $8.8 million and up to $542.5 million available under our revolving credit facilities.

We believe our sources of liquidity will be sufficient to satisfy the anticipated cash requirements associated with our existing operations for at least the next twelve months. However, our future cash requirements could be higher than we currently expect as a result of various factors. Additionally, our ability to generate sufficient cash from our operating activities depends on our future performance, which is subject to general economic, political, financial, competitive and other factors beyond our control.

Our credit facilities consist of a $575 million term loan facility, a $700 million revolving credit facility, a $450 million junior term loan facility, and the two credit facilities of our subsidiary Midfield. The $575 million term loan facility was entered into for purposes of financing the GS Acquisition in January 2007, and was subsequently amended in connection with the Red Man Transaction in October 2007. The $700 million revolving credit facility was entered into for purposes of financing the Red Man Transaction in October 2007. The $450 million junior term loan facility was entered into in connection with our May 2008 recapitalization and the proceeds of the facility were distributed by way of a dividend to stockholders of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation.

Revolving Credit Facility and Term Loan Facility

Our subsidiary McJunkin Red Man Corporation is the borrower under a $700 million revolving credit facility (the "Revolving Credit Facility") and a $575 million term loan facility (the "Term Loan Facility" and, together with the Revolving Credit Facility, the "Senior Secured Facilities"). $204.4 million of borrowings were outstanding and $490.9 million were available under the Revolving Credit Facility as of June 26, 2008. Goldman Sachs Credit Partners L.P. and Lehman Brothers Inc. are co-lead arrangers and joint bookrunners for each of these facilities.

McJunkin Red Man Corporation entered into the Term Loan Facility, as well as a $300 million asset-backed revolving credit facility with The CIT Group/Business Credit, Inc., and the other financial institutions party thereto, in January 2007 for purposes of financing the acquisition of McJunkin Corporation by affiliates of Goldman Sachs. The Term Loan Facility was amended, and the Revolving Credit Facility was entered into, for purposes of financing the Red Man Transaction in October 2007 and refinancing the $300 million asset-backed revolving credit facility. The Revolving Credit Facility was upsized on June 10, 2008 from $650 million to $700 million.

Letter of Credit and Swingline Sublimits. The Revolving Credit Facility provides for the extension of both revolving loans and swingline loans and the issuance of letters of credit. The aggregate principal amount of revolving loans outstanding at any time under the Revolving Credit Facility may not exceed $700 million, subject to adjustments based on changes in the borrowing base and less the sum of aggregate letters of credit outstanding and the aggregate principal amount of swingline loans outstanding, provided that the borrower may elect to increase the limit on the revolving loans or term loans outstanding as described in "— Incremental Facilities" below. There is a $60 million sub-limit on swingline loans and the total letters of credit outstanding at any time may not exceed $60 million.

Maturity. The revolving loans have a maturity date of October 31, 2013 and the swingline loans have a maturity date of October 24, 2013. Any letters of credit outstanding under the Revolving Credit Facility will expire on October 24, 2013. The maturity date of the term loans under the Term Loan Facility is January 31, 2014.

Interest Rate and Fees. The term loans bear interest at a rate per annum equal to, at the borrower's option, either (i) the greater of the prime rate and the federal funds effective rate plus 0.50%, plus in either case 2.25%; or (ii) LIBOR plus 3.25%. On June 26, 2008, $567.8 million was outstanding under the Term Loan Facility and the interest rate on these loans was 6.13%.

The revolving loans bear interest at a rate per annum equal to, at the borrower's option, either (i) the greater of the prime rate and the federal funds effective rate plus 0.50%, plus in either case (a) 0.50% if the borrower's consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio is greater than or equal to 2.75 to 1.00, (b) 0.25% if such ratio is greater than or equal to 2.00 to 1.00 but less than 2.75 to 1.00, or (c) 0.00% if such ratio is less than 2.00 to 1.00; or (ii) LIBOR plus (a) 1.50% if the borrower's consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio is greater than or equal to 2.75 to 1.00, (b) 1.25% if such ratio is greater than or equal to 2.00 to 1.00 but less than 2.75 to 1.00, or (c) 1.00% if such ratio is less than 2.00 to 1.00. Interest on swingline loans is calculated on the basis of the rate described in clause (i) of the preceding sentence. The weighted average interest rate on the revolving loans as of June 26, 2008 was 4.14% and the interest rate on the swingline loans was 5.25%.

Additionally, the borrower is required to pay a commitment fee with respect to unutilized revolving credit commitments at a rate per annum equal to (i) 0.375% if the borrower's consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio is greater than or equal to 2.75 to 1.00 and (ii) 0.25% if such ratio is less than 2.75 to 1.00. The borrower is also required to pay fees on the stated amounts of outstanding letters of credit for the account of all revolving lenders at a per annum rate equal to (i) 1.375% if the borrower's consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio is greater than or equal to 2.75 to 1.00, (ii) 1.125% if such ratio is greater than or equal to 2.00 to 1.00 but less than 2.75 to 1.00, or (iii) 0.875% if such ratio is less than 2.00 to 1.00. The borrower is required to pay a fronting fee for the account of the letter of credit issuer in respect of each letter of credit issued by it at a rate for each day equal to 0.125% per annum on the average daily stated amount of such letter of credit. The borrower is also obligated to pay directly to the letter of credit issuer upon each issuance of, drawing under, and/or amendment of, a letter of credit issued by it such amount as the borrower and the letter of credit issuer agree upon for issuances of, drawings under or amendments of, letters of credit issued by the letter of credit issuer.

Prepayments. The borrower may voluntarily prepay revolving loans, swingline loans and term loans in whole or in part at the borrower's option, in each case without premium or penalty. If the borrower refinances the term loans on certain terms prior to October 31, 2008, the borrower will be subject to a prepayment penalty of 1.00% of the aggregate principal amount of such payment. The borrower is required to prepay outstanding term loans with 100% of the net cash proceeds of:

- a disposition of any business units, assets or other property of the borrower or any of the borrower's restricted subsidiaries not in the ordinary course of business, subject to certain exceptions for permitted asset sales;
- a casualty event with respect to collateral for which the borrower or any of its restricted subsidiaries receives insurance proceeds, or proceeds of a condemnation award or other compensation;
- the issuance or incurrence by the borrower or any of its restricted subsidiaries of indebtedness, subject to certain exceptions; and
- any sale-leaseback transaction permitted under the Term Loan Facility.

Not later than the date that is 90 days after the last day of any fiscal year, the borrower under the Term Loan Facility will be required to prepay the outstanding term loans under the Term Loan Facility with an amount equal to (i) 50% of "excess cash flow" for such fiscal year, provided that (a) the percentage will be reduced to 25% if the borrower's ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated EBITDA for the most recent four consecutive fiscal quarters is no greater than 2.50 to 1.00 but greater than 2.00 to 1.00, and (b) no prepayment of term loans with excess cash flow is required if the borrower's ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated EBITDA for the most recent four consecutive fiscal quarters is no greater than 2.00 to 1.00, minus (ii) the principal amount of term loans under the Term Loan Facility voluntarily prepaid during such fiscal year.

In addition, if at any time the aggregate amount of outstanding loans, unreimbursed letter of credit drawings and undrawn letters of credit under the Revolving Credit Facility exceeds the total revolving credit commitments and (ii) the borrowing base, the borrower will be required to repay outstanding loans or cash collateralize letters of credit in an aggregate amount equal to such excess, with no reduction of the commitment amount. If the amount available under the Revolving Credit Facility is less than 7% of total revolving credit commitments for any period of five consecutive business days, or an event of default pursuant to certain provisions of the Revolving Credit Facility has occurred, the borrower would be required to transfer funds from certain blocked accounts daily into a collection account under the exclusive control of the agent under the Revolving Credit Facility.

Amortization. The term loans are repayable in quarterly installments in an amount equal to the principal amount of the term loans outstanding on the quarterly installment date multiplied by 0.25%, with the balance of the principal amount due on the term loan maturity date of January 31, 2014.

Incremental Facilities. Subject to certain terms and conditions, the borrower may request an increase in revolving loan commitments and term loan commitments. The increase in revolving loan commitments may not exceed the sum of (i) $150 million, plus (ii) only after the entire amount in the preceding clause (i) is drawn, an amount such that on a pro forma basis after giving effect to the new revolving credit commitments and certain other specified transactions, the secured leverage ratio will be no greater than 4.75 to 1.00. The borrower's ability to borrow under such incremental facilities, however, would still be limited by the borrowing base. The incremental term loan commitments may not exceed the difference between (i) up to $100 million, and (ii) the sum of all incremental revolving commitments and incremental term loan commitments taken together. Any lender that is offered to provide all or part of the new revolving loan commitments or new term loan commitments may elect or decline, in its sole discretion, to provide such new commitments. No lender is required to fund any of such amounts.

Collateral and Guarantors. The obligations under the Senior Secured Facilities are guaranteed by the borrower's wholly owned domestic subsidiaries. The obligations under the Revolving Credit Facility are secured, subject to certain significant exceptions, by substantially all of the assets of the borrower and the subsidiary guarantors, including (i) a first-priority security interest in personal property consisting and arising from inventory and accounts receivable; (ii) a second-priority pledge of certain of the capital stock held by the borrower or any subsidiary guarantor; and (iii) a second-priority security interest in, and mortgages on, substantially all other tangible and intangible assets of the borrower and each subsidiary guarantor. The obligations under the Term Loan Facility are secured, subject to exceptions, by substantially all of the assets of the borrower and the subsidiary guarantors, including (i) a second-priority security interest in personal property consisting of and arising from inventory and accounts receivable; (ii) a first-priority pledge of certain of the capital stock held by the borrower or any subsidiary guarantor; and (iii) a first-priority security interest in, and mortgages on, substantially all other tangible and intangible assets of the borrower and each subsidiary guarantor.

Covenants. The Senior Secured Facilities contain customary covenants. These agreements, among other things, restrict, subject to certain exceptions, the ability of the borrower and its subsidiaries to incur additional indebtedness, create liens on assets, engage in mergers, consolidations or sales of assets, dispose of subsidiary interests, make investments, loans or advances, pay dividends, make payments with respect to subordinated indebtedness, enter into sale and leaseback transactions, change the business conducted by the borrower and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, and enter into agreements that restrict subsidiary dividends or limit the ability of the borrower or any subsidiary guarantor to create or keep liens for the benefit of the lenders with respect to the obligations under the Senior Secured Facilities. The Senior Secured Facilities require the borrower to enter into interest rate swap, cap and hedge agreements for purposes of ensuring that no less than 50% of the aggregate principal amount of the total indebtedness of the borrower and its subsidiaries then outstanding is either subject to such interest rate agreements or bears interest at a fixed rate.

The Term Loan Facility requires the borrower to maintain a maximum ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA and a minimum ratio of consolidated adjusted EBITDA to consolidated interest expense. Each of these ratios is calculated for the period that is four consecutive fiscal quarters prior to the date of calculation. These financial covenants are set forth in the table below:

Four Consecutive Fiscal Quarters Ending on:	Maximum Consolidated Total Debt to Consolidated Adjusted EBITDA Ratio	Minimum Consolidated Adjusted EBITDA to Consolidated Interest Expense Ratio
June 30, 2008	4.25:1.00(a)	3.00:1.00(b)
September 30, 2008	4.25:1.00	3.00:1.00
December 31, 2008	4.25:1.00	3.00:1.00
March 31, 2009	3.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
June 30, 2009	3.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
September 30, 2009	3.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
December 31, 2009	3.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
March 31, 2010	2.75:1.00	3.25:1.00
June 30, 2010	2.75:1.00	3.25:1.00
September 30, 2010	2.75:1.00	3.25:1.00
December 31, 2010	2.75:1.00	3.25:1.00
March 31, 2011	2.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
June 30, 2011	2.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
September 30, 2011	2.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
December 31, 2011	2.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
March 31, 2012 and thereafter	2.50:1.00	3.50:1.00

(a) The borrower's actual consolidated total debt to consolidated Adjusted EBITDA ratio was 2.44:1.00 for the four fiscal quarters ending on December 31, 2007 and was 1.95:1.00 for the four fiscal quarters ending on June 30, 2008.

(b) The borrower's actual consolidated Adjusted EBITDA to consolidated interest expense ratio was 5.27:1.00 for the four fiscal quarters ending on December 31, 2007 and was 6.86:1.00 for the four fiscal quarters ending on June 30, 2008.

If the borrower fails to comply with the consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio, then within ten days after the date on which financial statements for the applicable period are due under the Term Loan Facility, the Goldman Sachs Funds and other investors in the borrower (or any direct or indirect parent of the borrower) have a cure right which allows any of them to make a direct or indirect equity investment in the borrower or any restricted subsidiary of the borrower in cash. If such cure right is exercised, the consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio of the borrower will be recalculated to give pro forma effect to the net cash proceeds received from the exercise of the cure right. The cure right is subject to certain limitations. For the four prior consecutive fiscal quarters, there must be at least one fiscal quarter in which the cure right is not exercised. Additionally, the equity investment contributed under the cure right may not exceed the amount necessary to bring the borrower back into compliance with the restrictions regarding the borrower's consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio.

The computation of the consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio and the consolidated adjusted EBITDA to consolidated interest expense ratio are governed by the specific terms of the Term Loan Facility. The computation of these ratios requires a calculation of consolidated adjusted EBITDA. In general, under the terms of our Revolving Credit Facility, Term Loan Facility and our Junior Term Loan Facility (as described below), adjusted EBITDA is defined as consolidated net income, plus (without duplication and to the extent already deducted in arriving at consolidated net income):

- total interest expense and to the extent not reflected in such total interest expense, any losses on hedging obligations or other derivative instruments entered into for the purpose of hedging interest rate risk, net of interest income and gains on such hedging obligations and costs of surety bonds in connection with financing activities;
- provisions for taxes based on income, profits or capital, including state, franchise and similar taxes and foreign withholding taxes paid or accrued;
- depreciation and amortization;
- other non-cash charges;
- extraordinary losses and unusual or non-recurring charges, severance, relocation costs and curtailments or modifications to pension and post-retirement employee benefit plans;
- restructuring charges or reserves;
- any deductions attributable to minority interests;
- management, monitoring, consulting and advisory fees and related expenses paid to the Goldman Sachs Funds and their affiliates;
- any costs or expenses incurred pursuant to any management equity plan or stock option plan or any other management or employee benefit plan or agreement or any stock subscription or shareholder agreement, to the extent that such costs or expenses are funded with cash proceeds contributed to the capital of McJunkin Red Man Corporation or net cash proceeds of an issuance of stock or stock equivalents of McJunkin Red Man Corporation; and
- (i) for any period that includes a fiscal quarter occurring prior to the fifth fiscal quarter occurring after January 31, 2007, certain specified cost savings and (ii) for any period that includes a fiscal quarter occurring thereafter, the amount of net cost savings that we project in good faith to be realized as a result of specified actions taken by us in connection with certain specified transactions, including the Red Man Transaction (calculated on a pro forma basis as though such cost savings had been realized on the first day of such period), net of the amount of actual benefits realized during such period from such actions, subject to certain limitations and exceptions with respect to clause (ii) above; less, without duplication and to the extent included in arriving at consolidated net income, the sum of the following:

- extraordinary gains and unusual or non-recurring gains;
- non-cash gains (excluding any non-cash gain to the extent it represents the reversal of an accrual or reserve for a potential cash item that reduced consolidated net income in any prior period);
- gains on asset sales (other than asset sales in the ordinary course of business);
- any net after-tax income from the early extinguishment of indebtedness or hedging obligations or other derivative instruments; and
- all gains from investments recorded using the equity method; provided that certain adjustments, such as certain currency translation gains and losses and adjustments resulting from the application of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 133, shall be excluded from the calculation of consolidated adjusted EBITDA to the extent they are included in consolidated net income. Additionally, to the extent included in consolidated net income, the adjusted EBITDA of properties, businesses or assets acquired during the applicable period shall be included in the calculation of consolidated adjusted EBITDA to the extent not subsequently disposed of, and the adjusted EBITDA of properties, businesses and assets sold during the applicable period shall be excluded from the calculation of adjusted EBITDA.

Also, the calculation of consolidated adjusted EBITDA with respect to any period includes, to the extent included in consolidated net income, for the four consecutive fiscal quarters last ended to the extent such four-quarter period includes all or any part of a fiscal quarter included in a “post-acquisition period” (a period beginning on the date that a permitted acquisition is consummated and ending on the last day of the fourth full fiscal quarter immediately following the date that the permitted acquisition is consummated), a pro forma adjustment equal to the increase or decrease in consolidated adjusted EBITDA projected by us in good faith as a result of (i) actions taken during such post-acquisition period for the purposes of realizing reasonably identifiable and factually supportable cost savings or (ii) any additional costs incurred during such post-acquisition period, in each case in connection with the combination of the operations of such acquired entity or business with our operations. For purposes of this calculation, it may be assumed that such cost savings will be realizable during the entirety of the four consecutive fiscal quarters last ended, and that any such pro forma increase or decrease to consolidated adjusted EBITDA shall be without duplication for cost savings or additional costs already included in consolidated adjusted EBITDA for the four consecutive fiscal quarters last ended.

We present consolidated adjusted EBITDA, or Adjusted EBITDA, because it is a material component of material covenants within our Term Loan Facility and Junior Term Loan Facility and also affects the interest rate charged on revolving loans under our Revolving Credit Facility. As such, it has a material impact on our liquidity and financial position. However, Adjusted EBITDA is not a defined term under GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to net income as a measure of operating results or as an alternative to cash flows as a measure of liquidity. Adjusted EBITDA is calculated as follows:

	Predecessor			Successor	Pro Forma	Successor	Pro Forma	Successor
	Year Ended December 31, 2005	Year Ended December 31, 2006	One Month Ended January 30, 2007	Eleven Months Ended December 31, 2007	Year Ended December 31, 2007	Five Months Ended June 28, 2007	Six Months Ended June 28, 2007	Six Months Ended June 26, 2008

Although the Revolving Credit Facility does not require the borrower to comply with any financial ratio maintenance covenants, if less than 7% of the then-outstanding credit commitments are available to be borrowed under the Revolving Credit Facility at any time, the borrower will not be permitted to borrow additional amounts unless its pro forma ratio of consolidated adjusted EBITDA to consolidated fixed charges is at least 1.00 to 1.00.

The Term Loan Facility provides that the borrower and its restricted subsidiaries may not make, or commit to make, capital expenditures in excess of $25 million in any year. If the actual amount of capital expenditures made in any fiscal year is less than the amount permitted to be made in such fiscal year, the amount of such difference may be carried forward and used to make capital expenditures in the succeeding fiscal year, though the carried forward amount may not be used beyond the immediately succeeding fiscal year.

Events of Default. The Senior Secured Facilities contain customary events of default. The events of default include the failure to pay interest and principal when due, failure to pay fees and any other amounts owed under the Senior Secured Facilities when due, a breach of certain covenants in the Senior Secured Facilities, a breach of any representation or warranty contained in the Senior Secured Facilities in any material respect, defaults in payments with respect to any other indebtedness in excess of $15 million (under the Term Loan Facility) or in excess of $30 million (under the Revolving Credit Facility), defaults with respect to other indebtedness in excess of $15 million (under the Term Loan Facility) or in excess of $30 million (under the Revolving Credit Facility) that has the effect of accelerating such indebtedness, bankruptcy, certain events relating to employee benefits plans, failure of a material subsidiary's guarantee to remain in full force and effect, failure of the security agreement, pledge agreements pursuant to which the stock of any material subsidiary is pledged, or any mortgage for the benefit of the lenders under the Term Loan Facility to remain in full force and effect, entry of one or more judgments or decrees against the borrower or its restricted subsidiaries involving a liability of $15 million or more in the aggregate (under the Term Loan Facility) or $30 million or more in the aggregate (under the Revolving Credit Facility), and the invalidation of subordination provisions of any document evidencing permitted additional debt having a principal amount in excess of $15 million.

The Senior Secured Facilities also contain an event of default upon the occurrence of a change of control. Under the Senior Secured Facilities, a "change of control" shall have occurred if (i) the Goldman Sachs Funds and certain of their affiliates shall cease to beneficially own at least 35% of the voting power of the outstanding voting stock of the borrower (other than as a result of one or more widely distributed offerings of the common stock of the borrower or any direct or indirect parent of the borrower); or (ii) any person, entity or "group" (within the meaning of Section 13(d) or 14(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended) shall have acquired beneficial ownership of a percentage of the voting power of the outstanding voting stock of the borrower that exceeds the percentage of the voting power of such voting stock then beneficially owned, in the aggregate, by the Goldman Sachs Funds and certain of their affiliates, unless, in the case of either clause (i) or (ii) above, the Goldman Sachs Funds and certain of their affiliates have, at such time, the right or the ability by voting power, contract or otherwise to elect or designate for election at least a majority of the board of directors of the borrower; or (iii) a majority of the board of directors of the borrower ceases to consist of "continuing directors", defined as individuals who (a) were members of the board of directors of the borrower on October 31, 2007 (or January 31, 2007 for purposes of determining whether an event of default has occurred under the Term Loan Facility), (b) who have been a member of the board of directors for at least 12 preceding months, (c) who have been nominated to be a member of the board of directors, directly or indirectly, by the Goldman Sachs Funds and certain of their affiliates or persons nominated by the Goldman Sachs Funds and certain of their affiliates or (d) who have been nominated to be a member of the board of directors by a majority of the other continuing directors then in office.

Junior Term Loan Facility

On May 22, 2008, McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation, as the borrower, entered into a $450 Million Term Loan Credit Agreement (the "Junior Term Loan Facility"). Goldman Sachs Credit Partners L.P. and Lehman Brothers Inc. were the co-lead arrangers and joint bookrunners under this facility. The proceeds from the Junior Term Loan Facility, along with $25 million in proceeds from revolving loans drawn under the Revolving Credit Facility, were used to fund a dividend to McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation's stockholders, including PVF Holdings LLC. PVF Holdings LLC distributed the proceeds it received from the dividend to its members, including the Goldman Sachs Funds and certain of our directors and members of our management. See "Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions — Transactions with the Goldman Sachs Funds — May 2008 Dividend". The term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility are not subject to amortization and the principal of such loans must be repaid on January 31, 2014.

Interest Rate and Fees. The term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility bear interest at a rate per annum equal to, at the borrower's option, either (i) the greater of the prime rate and the federal funds effective rate plus 0.50%, plus in either case 2.25%, or (ii) LIBOR multiplied by the statutory reserve rate plus 3.25%.

Prepayments. We may voluntarily prepay term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility in whole or in part at our option, without premium or penalty. After the payment in full of the term loans under the Term Loan Facility, we will be required to prepay outstanding term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility with 100% of the net cash proceeds of:

- a disposition of any of our or our restricted subsidiaries' business units, assets or other property not in the ordinary course of business, subject to certain exceptions for permitted asset sales;
- a casualty event with respect to collateral for which we or any of our restricted subsidiaries receives insurance proceeds, or proceeds of a condemnation award or other compensation;
- the issuance or incurrence by us or any of our restricted subsidiaries of indebtedness, subject to certain exceptions; and
- any sale-leaseback transaction permitted under the Junior Term Loan Facility.

Also, after the payment in full of the term loans under the Term Loan Facility, not later than the date that is 90 days after the last day of any fiscal year, we will be required to prepay the outstanding term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility with an amount equal to (i) 50% of "excess cash flow" for such fiscal year, provided that (a) the percentage will be reduced to 25% if the borrower's ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA for the most recent four consecutive fiscal quarters is no greater than 2.50 to 1.00 but greater than 2.00 to 1.00, and (b) no prepayment of term loans with excess cash flow is required if the borrower's ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA for the most recent four consecutive fiscal quarters is no greater than 2.00 to 1.00, minus (ii) the principal amount of term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility voluntarily prepaid during such fiscal year.

We must also prepay the principal amount of the term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility with 50% of the cash proceeds received by us from a "Qualified IPO", net of underwriting discounts and commissions and other related reasonable costs and expenses. A "Qualified IPO" is defined as a bona fide underwritten sale to the public of our common stock or the common stock of any of our direct or indirect subsidiaries or our direct or indirect parent companies pursuant to a registration statement that is declared effective by the SEC or the equivalent offering on a private exchange or platform. Prepayment is only required if we or one of our subsidiaries receives cash proceeds from the Qualified IPO.

Collateral. The term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility are secured by perfected security interests in and liens on substantially all of the personal property and certain real property of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation, including the common stock we hold of McJunkin Red Man Corporation. The term loans are not guaranteed by any of our subsidiaries or by PVF Holdings LLC.

Certain Covenants and Events of Default. The Junior Term Loan Facility contains customary covenants for a holding company facility. These agreements, among other things, restrict, subject to certain exceptions, the ability of the borrower to incur additional indebtedness, create liens on assets, and engage in activities or own assets other than certain specified activities and assets. Also, the Junior Term Loan Facility requires the borrower to maintain a maximum ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA and a minimum ratio of consolidated adjusted EBITDA to consolidated interest expense. Each of these ratios is calculated for the period that is four consecutive fiscal quarters prior to the date of calculation. These financial covenants are set forth in the table below:

Four Consecutive Fiscal Quarters Ending on:	Maximum Consolidated Total Debt to Consolidated Adjusted EBITDA Ratio	Minimum Consolidated Adjusted EBITDA to Consolidated Interest Expense Ratio
June 30, 2008	4.75:1.00(a)	2.50:1.00(b)
September 30, 2008	4.75:1.00	2.50:1.00
December 31, 2008	4.75:1.00	2.50:1.00
March 31, 2009	4.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
June 30, 2009	4.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
December 31, 2009	4.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
March 31, 2010	3.25:1.00	2.75:1.00
June 30, 2010	3.25:1.00	2.75:1.00
September 30, 2010	3.25:1.00	2.75:1.00
December 31, 2010	3.25:1.00	2.75:1.00
March 31, 2011	3.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
June 30, 2011	3.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
September 30, 2011	3.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
December 31, 2011	3.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
March 31, 2012 and thereafter	3.00:1.00	3.00:1.00

(a) The borrower's actual consolidated total debt to consolidated Adjusted EBITDA ratio was 2.44:1.00 for the four fiscal quarters ending on December 31, 2007 and was 1.95:1.00 for the four fiscal quarters ending on June 30, 2008.

(b) The borrower's actual consolidated Adjusted EBITDA to consolidated interest expense ratio was 5.27:1.00 for the four fiscal quarters ending on December 31, 2007 and was 6.86:1.00 for the four fiscal quarters ending on June 30, 2008.

Consolidated adjusted EBITDA is calculated under the Junior Term Loan Facility in a similar manner as under the Senior Secured Facilities. See "Description of Our Indebtedness — Revolving Credit Facility and Term Loan Facility — Covenants".

The Junior Term Loan Facility provides that the borrower and its restricted subsidiaries may not make, or commit to make, capital expenditures in excess of $30 million in any year. If the actual amount of capital expenditures made in any fiscal year is less than the amount permitted to be made in such fiscal year, the amount of such difference may be carried forward and used to make capital expenditures in the succeeding fiscal year, though the carried forward amount may not be used beyond the immediately succeeding fiscal year.

If the borrower fails to comply with the consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio, then the Goldman Sachs Funds and other investors in the borrower have a cure right that is similar to the cure right provided with respect to the Term Loan Facility. See "Description of Our Indebtedness — Revolving Credit Facility and Term Loan Facility — Covenants".

The Junior Term Loan Facility also contains customary events of default that are similar to the events of default under the Senior Secured Credit Facilities, including an event of default upon a change of control. See "Description of Our Indebtedness — Revolving Credit Facility and Term Loan Facility — Events of Default".

Purchases of Outstanding Loans. Subject to certain terms and conditions, the Goldman Sachs Funds and their affiliates may from time to time seek to purchase term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility from the lenders under the facility pursuant to open market purchases in an aggregate amount not to exceed 30% of the aggregate principal amount of the loans outstanding under the Junior Term Loan Facility. The Goldman Sachs Funds and their affiliates may contribute such purchased loans to PVF Holdings LLC as an equity contribution in return for equity interests in PVF Holdings LLC and PVF Holdings LLC will then contribute such loans to the borrower under the Junior Term Loan Facility as an equity contribution in return for additional stock of the borrower. In the case of such purchases of term loans by the Goldman Sachs Funds and their affiliates followed by contributions of the purchased loans to PVF Holdings LLC and then to the borrower, the loans subject to such purchases and contributions shall be cancelled.

In addition, the borrower under the Junior Term Loan Facility may from time to time seek to purchase, subject to certain terms and conditions, term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility from the lenders under the facility pursuant to open market purchases. In the case of such purchases by the borrower, the loans subject to such purchases shall be cancelled.

Midfield CDN$150 Million (US$148.26 Million) Revolving Credit Facility

One of our subsidiaries, Midfield Supply ULC, is the borrower under a CDN$150 million (US$148.26 million) revolving credit facility (the “Midfield Revolving Credit Facility”) with Bank of America, N.A. and certain other lenders from time to time parties thereto. Proceeds from this facility may be used by Midfield for working capital and other general corporate purposes. As of June 26, 2008, US$51.7 million of borrowings were outstanding and US$51.6 million were available under the Midfield Revolving Credit Facility. The facility provides for the extension of up to CDN$150 million (US$148.26 million) in revolving loans, subject to adjustments based on the borrowing base and less the aggregate letters of credit outstanding under the facility. Letters of credit may be issued under the facility subject to certain conditions, including a CDN$10 million (US$9.88 million) sub-limit. The revolving loans have a maturity date of November 2, 2010. All letters of credit issued under the facility must expire at least 20 business days prior to November 2, 2010.

Interest Rate and Fees. The revolving loans bear interest at a rate equal to either (i) the Canadian prime rate, plus (a) 0.25% if the “average daily availability” (as defined in the loan and security agreement for the facility) for the previous fiscal quarter was less than CDN$30 million (US$29.65 million) or (b) 0.00% if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was greater than or equal to CDN$30 million (US$29.65 million), or, at the borrower’s option, (ii) the rate of interest per annum equal to the rates applicable to Canadian Dollar Bankers’ Acceptances having a comparable term as the proposed loan displayed on the “CDOR Page” of Reuter Monitor Money Rates Service, plus (a) 1.75% if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was less than CDN$30 million (US$29.65 million), (b) 1.50% if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was greater than or equal to CDN$30 million (US$29.65 million) but less than CDN$60 million (US$59.3 million), or (c) 1.25% if the if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was greater than or equal to CDN$60 million (US$59.3 million).

The borrower must pay a monthly unused line fee with respect to unutilized revolving loan commitments equal to (i) 0.25% if the outstanding amount of borrowings under the facility for the immediately preceding fiscal quarter are greater than 50% of the revolving loan commitments, or (ii) 0.375% if otherwise. The borrower must pay a monthly fronting fee equal to 0.125% per annum of the stated amount of letters of credit issued and must also pay a monthly fee to the agent on the average daily stated amount of letters of credit issued equal to (i) 1.75% if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was less than CDN$30 million (US$29.65 million), (ii) 1.50% if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was greater than or equal to CDN$30 million (US$29.65 million) but less than CDN$60 million (US$59.3 million), or (iii) 1.25% if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was greater than or equal to CDN$60 million (US$59.3 million).

Prepayments. The borrower may prepay the revolving loans from time to time without premium or penalty.

Collateral and Guarantors. The Midfield Revolving Credit Facility is secured by substantially all of the personal property of Midfield Supply ULC and its subsidiary guarantors, Mega Production Testing Inc. and Hagan Oilfield Supply Ltd.

Certain Covenants and Events of Default. The Midfield Revolving Credit Facility contains customary covenants. These agreements, among other things, restrict, subject to certain exceptions, the ability of the borrower and its subsidiaries to incur additional indebtedness, create liens on assets, make distributions, make investments, sell, lease or transfer assets, make loans or advances, pay certain debt, amalgamate, merge, combine or consolidate with another entity, enter into certain types of restrictive agreements, engage in any business other than the business conducted by the borrower and its subsidiaries on the closing date of the Midfield Revolving Credit Facility, enter into transactions with affiliates, become a party to certain employee benefit plans, enter into certain amendments with respect to subordinated debt, make acquisitions, enter into transactions which would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect or cause a default, enter into sale and leaseback transactions, and terminate certain agreements.

Additionally, the Midfield Revolving Credit Facility requires the borrower to maintain a leverage ratio of no greater than 3.50 to 1.00 (measured on a monthly basis) and to maintain a fixed charge coverage ratio of at least 1.15 to 1.00 (measured on a monthly basis). The facility also prohibits the borrower and its subsidiaries from making capital expenditures in excess of $5 million in the aggregate during any fiscal year, subject to exceptions for certain expenditures and provided that if the actual amount of capital expenditures made in any fiscal year is less than the amount permitted to be made in such fiscal year, up to $250,000 of such excess may be carried forward and used to make capital expenditures in the succeeding fiscal year.

The Midfield Revolving Credit Facility contains customary events of default. The events of default include, among others, the failure to pay interest, principal and other obligations under the facility's loan documents when due, a breach of any representation or warranty contained in the loan documents, breaches of certain covenants, the failure of any loan document to remain in full force and effect, a default with respect to other indebtedness in excess of $250,000 if the other indebtedness may be accelerated due to such default, judgments against the borrower and its subsidiaries in excess of $250,000 in the aggregate, the occurrence of any loss or damage with respect to the collateral if the amount not covered by insurance exceeds $100,000, cessation or governmental restraint of a material part of the borrower's or a subsidiary's business, insolvency, certain events related to benefits plans, the criminal indictment of a senior officer of the borrower or a guarantor or the conviction of a senior officer of the borrower or a guarantor of certain crimes, an amendment to the shareholders agreement among Midfield Supply ULC, the entity now known as McJunkin Red Man Canada Ltd. and Midfield Holdings (Alberta) Ltd. without the prior written consent of Bank of America, N.A., and any event or condition that has a material adverse effect on the borrower or a guarantor.

A "change of control" is also an event of default. A "change of control" occurs if (i) McJunkin Red Man Canada Ltd. ceases to own and control, directly or indirectly, 51% or more of the voting equity interests of Midfield Supply ULC, (ii) a change in the majority of directors of Midfield Supply ULC occurs, unless approved by the then-majority of directors, or (iii) all or substantially all of Midfield Supply ULC's assets are sold or transferred.

Midfield CDN$15 Million (US$14.83 Million) Facility

One of our subsidiaries, Midfield Supply ULC, is also the borrower under a CDN$15 million (US$14.83 million) credit facility with Alberta Treasury Branches. The facility is secured by substantially all of the real property and equipment of Midfield Supply ULC and its subsidiary guarantors. The facility contains customary covenants and events of default. The borrower's leverage ratio must not exceed 3.50 to 1.00, its fixed charge coverage ratio must be at least 1.15 to 1.00, and its ratio of tangible asset value to borrowings outstanding must be at least 2.00 to 1.00.

The Midfield CDN$15 million (US$14.83 million) facility and the Midfield CDN$150 million (US$148.26 million) facility are subject to an intercreditor agreement which relates to, among other things, priority of liens and proceeds of sale of collateral.

The company also received proceeds of $1.0 million from the sale of certain investments.

Red Man

Red Man's net cash used in investing activities for the year ended October 31, 2007 was $12.5 million. The company used $12.2 million to purchase property, plant and equipment. In April and May, 2007, Red Man purchased 100% interests in two separate companies in Canada for an aggregate of $3.7 million. Red Man also had net proceeds of $3.4 million from the disposal of certain property, plant and equipment assets.

Red Man's net cash provided by investing activities for the year ended October 31, 2006 was $3.5 million. Red Man sold the Nusco Manufacturing division of Midfield Supply ULC in June 2006 for cash proceeds of $35.2 million. Red Man used $14.4 million of cash to purchase property, plant and equipment. In June 2006 Red Man purchased certain assets from Bear Tubular, Inc. for $4.6 million in cash. In 2006 through a series of transactions, Red Man acquired 100% interests in four separate companies in Canada for an aggregate of $8.2 million in cash. Red Man also made cash advances to a related party of $4.9 million. Red Man also had net proceeds from other investing activities of $0.4 million.

Red Man's net cash used in investing activities for the year ended October 31, 2005 was $50.4 million. Red Man purchased a 51% controlling interest in Midfield Supply ULC in June 2005 for $45.9 million. In addition, $5.8 million was used to purchase property, plant and equipment. These uses were partially offset by proceeds from other investing activities of $1.3 million.

Cash Flows Provided by (Used in) Financing Activities

McJunkin Red Man

Our net cash used in financing activities for the six months ended June 26, 2008 was $55.2 million. We used $31.4 million for payments on long-term obligations, as well as $9.3 million for debt issuance costs. We received cash equity contributions of $5.0 million and proceeds from long-term obligations of $454.5 million, which was used to fund $475 million of dividends to our shareholders.

Our net cash provided by financing activities for the five months ended June 28, 2007 was $945.9 million. This was attributable to financings for the acquisitions noted above ($747.4 million proceeds from long-term borrowings and cash equity contributions of $226.2 million). We also made payments of $4.9 million on other long-term obligations and $22.8 million for debt issuance costs.

Our net cash used in financing activities for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 was $1.7 billion. This was attributable to financings for the acquisitions noted above ($897.5 million proceeds from long-term borrowings and cash equity contributions of $899.2 million). We also made payments of $78.8 million on other long-term obligations and $30.6 million for debt issuance costs.

McJunkin

McJunkin's net cash used in financing activities for the one month ended January 31, 2007 was $8.3 million, which consisted of payments on long-term obligations.

McJunkin's net cash used in financing activities for the year ended December 31, 2006 was $17.2 million. We paid dividends of $26.9 million to our shareholders which were partially funded with $10.1 million of long-term debt.

McJunkin's net cash used in financing activities for the year ended December 31, 2005 was $21.1 million. The company used $11.2 million to reduce long-term obligations and paid $9.8 million in dividends to shareholders.

Red Man

Red Man's net cash used in financing activities for the year ended October 31, 2007 was $78.2 million. Red Man used cash to pay down net borrowings of $45.3 million. In addition, Red Man paid off its existing line of credit of $120.0 million in connection with the merger transaction with McJunkin. Also, Red Man paid $27.6 million on its operating line of credit, $7.1 million on repayments of notes payable and $6.2 million in payments to minority shareholders. These amounts were partially offset by $120.0 million in advances from McJunkin in connection with the merger transaction and $6.2 million in capital contributions associated with the merger. There was an additional $1.8 million of cash provided by other net financing activities.

Red Man's net cash provided by financing activities for the year ended October 31, 2006 was $52.7 million. Red Man had cash provided by net borrowings on its line of credit of $64.0 million. Additionally, Red Man had $13.1 million provided in advances from minority shareholders. These amounts of cash provided were partially offset by $20.4 million used in payments of notes payable and net payments were $4.0 million on other debt items.

Red Man's net cash provided by financing activities for the year ended October 31, 2005 was $60.9 million. Red Man had cash provided by net borrowings on its line of credit of $49.2 million. Additionally, Red Man had $20.4 million provided by additional notes payable. These amounts of cash provided were partially offset by $8.0 million in payments to minority shareholders and net payments on $0.7 million on other debt items.

Working Capital

Our working capital at June 26, 2008 was $686.1 million, consisting of $1,355.2 million in current assets and $669.1 million in current liabilities. Working capital at December 31, 2007 was $663.5 million, consisting of $1,159.7 million in current assets and $496.2 million in current liabilities. In addition, we had available borrowing capacity under our revolving credit facilities of $542.5 million at June 26, 2008 and $384.0 million at December 31, 2007.

Contractual Obligations, Commitments and Contingencies

Contractual Obligations

The following table summarizes our minimum payment obligations as of December 31, 2007 relating to long-term debt, interest payments, capital leases, operating leases, purchase obligations and other long-term liabilities for the periods indicated.

	Amount of Commitment Expiration per Period
	Total	Less than 1 year	1-3 years	3-5 years	More than 5 years
			(in millions)
Contractual Obligations
Long-term debt(1)	$ 868.4	$ 19.8	$ 62.5	$ 11.5	$774.6
Interest payments(2)	366.7	64.2	123.8	118.9	59.8
Interest rate swap	81.3	27.1	54.2
Capital leases	10.1	0.9	1.9	1.9	5.4
Operating leases	46.9	18.3	18.9	7.5	2.2
Purchase obligations(3)	846.7	846.7
Other long-term liabilities reflected on our balance sheet under GAAP	49.1	25.0	24.1	—	—
Total	$2,269.2	$1,002.0	$285.4	$139.8	$842.0

(1) Long-term debt amortization is based on the contractual terms of our credit facilities. As of December 31, 2007, $868.4 million was outstanding under these facilities. On May 22, 2008, we entered into a $450 million junior term loan facility. As of June 26, 2008, giving effect to this new facility, a total of $1,284.8 million was outstanding under our credit facilities. See “Description of Our Indebtedness”. As of June 26, 2008, our total minimum amortization payments with respect to long-term debt were $1,284.8 million, with payments of $16.6 million due within less than one year from June 26, 2008, $63.2 million due within one to three years of that date, $11.5 million due within three to five years of that date, and $1,193.5 million due more than five years from that date.

(2) Interest payments are based on interest rates in effect at December 31, 2007 and assume contractual amortization payments.

(3) Purchase obligations reflect our commitments to purchase PVF products in the ordinary course of business. Information presented with respect to purchase obligations is presented (1) with respect to U.S. purchase obligations, as of June 26, 2008 and (2) with respect to Canadian purchase obligations, as of August 2008.

Our ability to make payments on and to refinance our indebtedness, to fund planned capital expenditures and to satisfy our other capital and commercial commitments will depend on our ability to generate cash flow in the future. This, to a certain extent, is subject to general economic, financial, competitive, legislative, regulatory and other factors that are beyond our control. However, our business may not generate sufficient cash flow from operations, and future borrowings may not be available to us under our credit facilities in an amount sufficient to enable us to pay our indebtedness or to fund our other liquidity needs. We may seek to sell assets to fund our liquidity needs but may not be able to do so. We may also need to refinance all or a portion of our indebtedness on or before maturity. We may not be able to refinance any of our indebtedness on commercially reasonable terms or at all.

Standby Letters of Credit

In the normal course of business with customers, vendors and others, we are contingently liable for performance under standby letters of credit and bid, performance and surety bonds. We were contingently liable for approximately $8.2 million of standby letters of credit and bid, performance and surety bonds at December 31, 2007. Management does not expect any material amounts to be drawn on these instruments.

Legal Proceedings

We are a defendant in various legal proceedings, including numerous asbestos claims. Although we believe that we have currently established sufficient reserves with respect to these claims, we cannot assure you that the assumptions on which our reserves are based will not need to be revised in the future. Accordingly, if our actual liability for current and future asbestos claims is higher than the amounts reserved for these claims, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. See “Business — Legal Proceedings” for more information.

Seasonality

Our business experiences mild seasonal effects as demand for our products is generally higher during the months of August, September and October. Demand for our products during the months of November and December and early in the year generally tends to be lower due to a lower level of activity in our end markets near the end of the calendar year. As a result, our results of operations for the third quarter are generally stronger than those for our fourth quarter. In addition, certain E & P activities typically experience a springtime reduction due to seasonal thaws and regulatory restrictions, limiting the ability of drilling rigs to operate effectively during these periods.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We do not have any “off-balance sheet arrangements” as such term is defined within the rules and regulations of the SEC.

Critical Accounting Policies

We prepare our consolidated financial statements in accordance with GAAP. In order to apply these principles, management must make judgments and assumptions and develop estimates based on the best available information at the time. Actual results may differ based on the accuracy of the information utilized and subsequent events. Our accounting policies are described in the notes to our audited financial statements included elsewhere in this prospectus. These critical accounting policies could materially affect the amounts recorded in our financial statements. We believe the following describes significant judgments and estimates used in the preparation of our consolidated financial statements:

Investments: Investments are carried at fair value based on quoted market prices. Prior to the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds on January 31, 2007, these available for sale investments were recorded at fair value and reflected as investments on the balance sheets. Changes to the fair value of the assets were recorded in other comprehensive income, net of related deferred taxes. On January 31, 2007, these investments were reclassified as assets held for sale as more fully described in Assets Held for Sale below.

Assets Held for Sale: Certain of the Company's assets, consisting principally of certain available for sale securities and certain real estate holdings, were designated as non-core assets under the terms of the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds. The Company has classified these as assets held for sale in the balance sheet. A corresponding liability to predecessor shareholders, net of related deferred income taxes, has been recognized to reflect the obligation to the shareholders of record at the date of the acquisition. Upon the sale of these assets, 95% of the proceeds net of associated taxes will be distributed to the predecessor shareholders. No gain or loss will be recognized as the result of the sale of these assets.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts: A portion of our accounts receivable will not be collected due to non-payment, bankruptcies and sales returns. Our accounting policy for the provision for doubtful accounts requires providing an amount based on the evaluation of the aging of accounts receivable, trend analysis, detailed analysis of potential high-risk customers' accounts, and the overall market and economic conditions of our customers. Because this process is subjective and based on estimates, ultimate losses may differ significantly from those estimates. Receivable balances are written off when we determine that the balance is uncollectible.

Derivatives and Hedging: The Company uses derivative financial instruments, primarily interest rate swaps to reduce its exposure to potential interest rate increases. The Company records all derivatives on the balance sheet at fair value, which is determined by independent market quotes. The Company's swap is designated as a cash flow hedge and it measures the effectiveness of the hedge, or the degree that the gain (loss) for the hedging instrument offsets the loss (gain) on the hedged item, at each reporting period. The effective portion of the gain (loss) on the derivative instrument is recognized in other comprehensive income as a component of equity and, subsequently, reclassified into earnings when the forecasted transaction affects earnings. The ineffective portion of a derivative's change in fair value is recognized in earnings immediately. Derivatives that do not qualify for hedge treatment are recorded at fair value with gains (losses) recognized in earnings in the period of change.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets: Goodwill represents the excess of cost over the fair value of net assets acquired. Recorded goodwill balances are not amortized but, instead, are evaluated for impairment annually or more frequently if circumstances indicate that an impairment may exist.

Intangible assets are initially recorded at fair value at the date of acquisition. The determination of fair value involves key assumptions regarding discount rates and cash flow estimates. Amortization is provided using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. The carrying value of intangible assets is subject to an impairment test on an annual basis, or more frequently if events or circumstances indicate a possible impairment. The measure of impairment is based on the estimated fair values.

Income Taxes: Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded for differences between the financial and tax bases of assets and liabilities using the tax rate expected to be in effect when tax benefits and costs will be realized.

The Company adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation (FIN) 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes — an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109, which provides specific guidance on the financial statement recognition, measurement, reporting and disclosure of uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. We recognize the impact of our tax positions in our financial statements if those positions will more likely than not be sustained on audit, based on the technical merit of the position.

Inventories: The Company's inventories are generally valued at the lower of cost (principally last-in, first-out method) or market. The Company believes the LIFO method more fairly presents the results of operations by more closely matching current costs with current revenues. The use of the last-in, first-out (LIFO) method of accounting for inventories results in a substantial recognition of the effects of inflation in the Company's financial statements. LIFO expense or income is determined consistently year to year in a manner which is in accordance with the guidance in the 1984 AICPA LIFO Issues Paper, "Identification and Discussion of Certain Financial Accounting and Reporting Issues Concerning LIFO Inventories." Certain inventories held in Canada totaling $78.6 million, at December 31, 2007, are valued at the lower of weighted average cost or market. Periodically, the Company evaluates inventory for estimated net realizable value at the lower of cost or market based upon excess slow moving or obsolete inventory.

Revenue Recognition: The Company recognizes revenue as products are shipped, title has transferred to the customer, and the customer assumes the risk and rewards of ownership. Out-bound shipping and handling costs are reflected in cost of goods sold, and freight charges billed to customers are reflected in revenues. Unusual arrangements are subject to management approval.

Equity-Based Compensation: The Company's equity-based compensation consists of restricted common units, profit units, restricted stock and non-qualified stock options. The cost of employee services received in exchange for an award of an equity instrument is measured based on the grant-date fair value of the award. The Company's policy is to expense stock-based compensation using the fair-value of awards granted, modified or settled. Restricted common units, profit units, and restricted stock are credited to equity as they are expensed over their vesting periods based on the current market value of the shares to be granted.

The fair value of non-qualified stock options is measured on the grant date of the related equity instrument using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model and is recognized as compensation expense over the applicable vesting period.

Recently Issued Accounting Standards

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued SFAS No. 157, Fair Value Measurements, which establishes a framework for reporting fair values and expands disclosures about fair value measurement. Certain provisions of SFAS 157 became effective beginning January 1, 2008. The adoption of this standard had no material impact on our financial position or results of operations. At June 26, 2008, the only financial assets and financial liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis are our derivative instruments.

In February 2008, the FASB issued FASB Staff Position 157-2 which defers the effective date of SFAS 157 for nonfinancial assets and nonfinancial liabilities, except for items that are recognized or disclosed at fair value in an entity's financial statements on a recurring basis (at least annually). We will be required to adopt SFAS 157 for these nonfinancial assets and nonfinancial liabilities as of January 1, 2009. Management has not determined the impact that the adoption of SFAS 157 deferral provisions will have on our financial position or earnings.

In February 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities (SFAS 159), which allows entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value. The provisions of SFAS 159 were effective as of January 1, 2008. We did not elect the fair value option for any asset or liability. Therefore, the adoption of SFAS 159 did not impact our consolidated financial statements as of the six months ended June 26, 2008.

In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 141(R), Business Combinations. This statement defines the acquirer as the entity that obtains control of one or more businesses in the business combination, establishes the acquisition date as the date that the acquirer achieves control and requires the acquirer to recognize the assets acquired, liabilities assumed and any non-controlling interest at their fair values as of the acquisition date. This statement also requires that acquisition-related costs of the acquirer be recognized separately from the business combination and such costs will generally be expensed as incurred. We will be required to adopt this statement as of January 1, 2009. The impact of adopting SFAS 141(R) has not been determined.

In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 160, Non-controlling Interests in Consolidated Financial Statements — an amendment of ARB No. 51. SFAS 160 establishes accounting and reporting standards for the non-controlling interest in a subsidiary and for the deconsolidation of a subsidiary. It clarifies that a non-controlling interest in a subsidiary is an ownership interest in the consolidated entity that should be reported as equity in the consolidated financial statements. SFAS 160 requires retroactive adoption of the presentation and disclosure requirements for existing minority interests. All other requirements of SFAS 160 must be applied prospectively. SFAS 160 is effective for us beginning January 1, 2009. We are currently evaluating the potential impact of the adoption of SFAS 160 on our consolidated financial statements

In March 2008, the FASB issued SFAS No. 161, Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities— an amendment of FASB Statement No. 133. This statement will change the disclosure requirements for derivative instruments and hedging activities. Entities are required to provide enhanced disclosures about how and why an entity uses derivative instruments, how derivative instruments and related hedged items are accounted for under Statement 133 and its related interpretations, and how derivative instruments and related hedged items affect an entity's financial position, net earnings, and cash flows. We will be required to adopt this statement as of January 1, 2009. The adoption of SFAS 161 is not expected to have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

The risk inherent in our market risk sensitive instruments and positions is the potential loss from adverse changes in interest rates.

As of June 26, 2008, all of our $1,284.7 million of outstanding term debt was at floating rates. An increase of 1.0% in the LIBOR rate would result in an increase in our interest expense of approximately $10.2 million per year.

As of June 26, 2008, all of our $256.1 million of outstanding revolving debt was at floating rates. If this amount remained outstanding for an entire year, an increase of 1.0% in the LIBOR rate would result in an increase in our interest expense of approximately $2.6 million per year.

We use derivative financial instruments to help manage our interest rate risk. On December 3, 2007, we entered into a floating to fixed interest rate swap agreement, effective December 31, 2007, for a notional amount of $700.0 million to limit our exposure to interest rate increases relating to a portion of our floating rate indebtedness. The interest rate swap agreement terminates after three years. At June 26, 2008, the fair value of our interest rate swap agreement was a loss of approximately $3.2 million, which amount is included in accrued liabilities. As of the effective date of the interest rate swap agreement, we designated the interest rate swap as a cash flow hedge. As a result, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of our swap was recorded as a component of other comprehensive income. At June 26, 2008, $1.6 million of unrecognized losses, net of tax, on the interest rate swap agreement was included in other comprehensive income.

As a result of the interest rate swap agreement, our effective interest rates as to the $700.0 million floating rate indebtedness will be 4.868% for associated indebtedness on our Revolving Credit Facility and 7.118% for associated indebtedness on the Term Loan Facility per quarter through 2010 and result in an average fixed rate of 6.672%.

BUSINESS

General

We are the largest North American distributor of pipe, valves and fittings ("PVF") and related products and services to the energy industry based on sales and the leading PVF distributor serving this industry across each of the upstream (exploration, production, and extraction of underground oil and gas), midstream (gathering and transmission of oil and gas, gas utilities, and the storage and distribution of oil and gas) and downstream (crude oil refining and petrochemical processing) markets. We have an unmatched presence of over 250 branches that are located in the most active oil and gas regions in North America. We offer an extensive array of PVF and oilfield supplies encompassing over 100,000 products, we are diversified by geography and end market and we seek to provide best-in-class service to our customers by satisfying the most complex, multi-site needs of some of the largest companies in the energy and industrials sectors as their primary supplier. As a result, we have an average relationship of over 20 years with our top ten customers and our pro forma sales in 2007 were over twice as large as our nearest competitor in the energy industry. We believe the critical role we play in our customers' supply chain, our unmatched scale and extensive product offering, our broad North American geographic presence, our customer-linked scalable information systems and our efficient distribution capabilities serve to solidify our long-standing customer relationships and drive our growth.

We have benefited in recent years from several growth trends within the energy industry including high levels of expansion and maintenance capital expenditures by our customers. This growth in spending has been driven by several factors, including underinvestment in North American energy infrastructure, production and capacity constraints and anticipated strength in the oil, natural gas, refined products and petrochemical markets. While current prices for oil and natural gas are high relative to historical levels, we believe that investment in the energy sector by our customers would continue at prices well below current levels. In addition, our products are often used in extreme operating environments leading to the need for a regular replacement cycle. As a result, over 50% of our historical and pro forma sales in 2007 were attributable to multi-year maintenance, repair and operations ("MRO") contracts where we have demonstrated an over 99% annual average retention rate since 2000. The combination of these ongoing factors has helped increase demand for our products and services, resulting in record levels of customer orders to be shipped as of September 2008. For the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 on a pro forma basis, we generated sales of $3,952.7 million, Adjusted EBITDA of $370.4 million and net income of $150.8 million. In addition, for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007, without giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, we generated sales of $2,124.9 million, EBITDA of $171 million and net income of $56.9 million, and for the twelve months ended October 31, 2007, before giving effect to the Red Man Transaction, Red Man generated sales of $1,982.0 million, EBITDA of $170 million and net income of $82.2 million.

We have established a position as the largest North American PVF distributor to the energy industry based on sales. We distribute products throughout North America and the Gulf of Mexico, including in PVF intensive, rapidly expanding oil and natural gas production areas such as the Bakken, Barnett, Fayetteville, Haynesville and Marcellus shales. The Bakken shale is located in the Williston Basin and is primarily in Montana, North Dakota and Saskatchewan, the Barnett shale is located in the Fort Worth Basin in Texas, the Fayetteville shale is located in the Arkoma Basin and is primarily in northern Arkansas, the Haynesville shale is located primarily in southwestern Arkansas, northwestern Louisiana and east Texas, and the Marcellus shale is located in the Appalachian Basin and is primarily in Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York. Growth in these oil and natural gas production areas is driven by improved production technology, favorable market trends and robust capital expenditure budgets. Furthermore, Midfield, one of the three largest Canadian PVF distributors based on sales, provides PVF products to oil and gas companies operating primarily in Western Canada, including the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin, Alberta Oil Sands and heavy oil markets. These regions are still in the early stages of infrastructure investment with numerous companies seeking to facilitate the long-term harvesting of difficult to extract and process crude oil.

McJunkin Red Man Locations

Across our extensive North American platform we offer a broad complement of products and services to the upstream, midstream and downstream sectors of the energy industry, as well as other industrial (including general manufacturing, pulp and paper, food and beverage) and other energy (power generation, liquefied natural gas, coal, alternative energy) end markets. During the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 on a pro forma basis, approximately 46% of our sales were attributable to upstream activities, approximately 22% were attributable to midstream activities and approximately 32% were attributable to downstream and other processing activities which include the refining, chemical and other industrial and energy end markets. In addition, before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, during the twelve months ended December 31, 2007, approximately 36% of our sales were attributable to upstream activities, approximately 18% were attributable to midstream activities and approximately 46% were attributable to downstream and other processing activities.

We offer more than 100,000 products including an extensive array of PVF, oilfield supply, automation, instrumentation and other general and specialty products to our customers across our various end markets. Due to the demanding operating conditions in the energy industry and high costs associated with equipment failure, customers prefer highly reliable products and vendors with established qualifications and experience. As our PVF products typically represent a fraction of the total cost of the project, our customers place a premium on service given the high cost to them of maintenance or new project delays. Our products are typically used in high-volume, high-stress, abrasive applications such as the gathering and transmission of oil and natural gas, in high-pressure, extreme temperature and high-corrosion applications such as in heating and desulphurization in the processing and refining industries and in steam generation units in the power industry.

With over 250 locations servicing the energy and industrial sectors, we are an important link between our more than 10,000 customers and our more than 10,000 suppliers. We add value to our customers and suppliers in a number of ways:

- Broad Product Offering and High Customer Service Levels: The breadth and depth of our product offering enables us to provide a high level of service to our energy and industrial customers. Given our North American inventory coverage and branch network, we are able to fulfill orders more quickly, including orders for less common and specialty items, and provide our customers with a greater array of value added services, including multiple daily deliveries, volume purchasing, product testing and supplier assessments, inventory management and warehousing, technical support, just-in-time delivery, order consolidation, product tagging and tracking, and system interfaces customized to customer and supplier specifications, than if we operated on a smaller scale and/or only at a local or regional level. Thus our clients, particularly those operating throughout North America, can quickly and efficiently source the most suitable products with the least amount of downtime and at the lowest total transaction cost.

- Approved Manufacturer List ("AML") Services: Our customers rely on us to provide a high level of quality control for their PVF products. We do this by regularly auditing many of our suppliers for quality assurance through our Supplier Registration Process. We use the resulting MRM ASL to supply products across many of the markets we support, particularly for downstream and midstream customers. This process has enabled us to achieve a preferred vendor status with many key end users in the industry that utilize our AML services to help devise and maintain their own approved manufacturer listings. In this manner, we seek to ensure that our customers timely receive reliable and high quality products without incurring additional administrative and procurement expenses. Our suppliers in turn look to us as a key partner, which has been important in establishing us as an important link in the supply chain and a leader in the industry.
- Customized and Integrated Service Offering: We offer our customers integrated supply services including product procurement, product quality assurance, physical warehousing, and inventory management and analysis using our proprietary customized information technology platform. This is part of an overall strategy to promote a "one stop" shop for PVF purchases across the upstream-midstream-downstream spectrum and throughout North America through integrated supply agreements and MRO contracts that enable our customers to focus on their core operations and increase the efficiency of their business.

Industry Overview and Trends

We primarily serve the North American oil and gas industry, generating over 90% of our revenues from supplying PVF products and various services to customers throughout the energy industry. Given the diverse requirements and various factors that drive the growth of the upstream, midstream and downstream energy sectors, our sales to each sector may vary from time to time, though the overall strength of the energy market is typically a good indicator of our performance. Globally, the energy industry is experiencing a number of favorable supply and demand dynamics that have led companies to make substantial investments to expand their physical infrastructure and processing capacities. On the demand side, world energy markets are benefiting from the increased consumption of energy, caused in part by the industrialization of China, India, and other non-OECD countries, as well as continued global energy infrastructure expansion. At the same time, energy supply has been constrained due to increasing scarcity of natural resources, declining excess capacity of existing energy assets, geopolitical instability, natural and other unforeseen disasters, and more stringent regulatory, safety and environmental standards. These demand and supply dynamics underscore the need for investment in energy infrastructure and the next level of global exploration, extraction, production, transportation, refining and processing of energy inputs.

Upstream: Oil and Gas. Exploration and production ("E&P") companies, commonly referred to as upstream companies, search for gas and oil underground and extract it to the surface. Representative companies include BP p.l.c., Chesapeake Energy Corporation, Chevron Corporation, ConocoPhillips Company, Canadian Natural Resources Ltd., EnCana Corporation, Exxon Mobil Corporation, Husky Energy Inc., Royal Dutch Shell plc, and Suncor Corporation. Exploration and production companies typically purchase oilfield supplies including tools, sucker rods, pumps, storage tanks and meters while producers primarily purchase high density polyethylene pipe, valves and general oilfield supplies.

The capital spending budgets of North American oil and gas companies have grown in recent years as tight supply conditions and strong global demand have spurred companies to expand their operations. According to the June 2008 Drilling and Production Outlook prepared by Spears & Associates, Inc., North American drilling and completion spending has grown by a 30.5% compound annual growth rate from 2002 to 2007 and is projected to grow by 10.2% from 2008 to 2013. Much of this growth is expected to come from a need to compensate for accelerating depletion rates in existing domestic oil and natural gas reservoirs, improved E&P technologies, increased demand for natural gas, especially from power generation, and an anticipated rebound in Canadian upstream activity.

Due to this unprecedented level of exploration expenditures, U.S. and Canadian rig counts are expected to increase at a 4.8% and a 5.7% compound annual growth rate, respectively, between 2007 and 2012, according to the June 2008 Drilling and Production Outlook prepared by Spears & Associates, Inc. Furthermore, more technically sophisticated drilling methods, such as deep and horizontal drilling, which tend to have higher PVF requirements, coupled with higher oil and natural gas prices relative to long term averages, are making E&P in previously underdeveloped areas like Appalachia and the Rockies more economically feasible. As part of this trend, there has been growing commercial interest by our customers in several shale deposit areas in the U.S., including the Bakken, Barnett, Fayetteville, Haynesville and Marcellus shales, where we have a strong local presence.

In Canada, improvements in mining and in-situ technology are driving increased investment in the Canadian Oil Sands which, according to the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board, contain established reserves of almost 174 billion barrels. This represents the second largest recoverable crude oil reserve in the world, behind Saudi Arabia. As a result, according to Canadian Oil Sands Supply Costs and Development Projects (2007-2027), a report prepared by the Canadian Energy Research Institute, projected annual capital expenditures in the Canadian Oil Sands could increase from CDN$24.9 billion (US$24.61 billion) in 2008 to CDN$53.1 billion (US$52.84 billion) by 2011, a 28.7% compound annual growth rate, assuming that all Oil Sands projects that are currently announced enter the production phase. As a result of these factors, we believe that the North American upstream market presents strong growth prospects on which we are well positioned to capitalize.

Midstream: Energy. The midstream sector of the oil and gas industry is comprised of companies that provide gathering, storage, transmission, distribution, and other services related to the movement of oil, natural gas, and refined petroleum products from sources of production to demand centers. Representative midstream companies include Atmos Energy Corporation, AGL Resources Inc., Buckeye Partners, L.P., Consolidated Edison, Inc., DCP Midstream Partners, LP, Enterprise Products Partners L.P., Kinder Morgan Energy Partners, L.P., Magellan Midstream Partners, L.P., NiSource, Inc., Vectren Energy, and Williams Partners L.P. Core products supplied for midstream infrastructure include carbon steel line pipe for gathering and transporting oil and gas, actuation systems for the remote opening and closing of valves, plastic pipe for “last mile” transmission to end user locations, and metering equipment for the measurement of oil and gas delivery.

Midstream: Gas Utilities. The gas utilities portion of the midstream sector has been one of McJunkin Red Man’s fastest growing markets since regulatory changes enacted in the late 1990s permitted utilities to outsource their PVF purchasing and procurement needs. Outsourcing provides significant labor and working capital savings to customers through the consolidation of product procurement spending and the delegation of warehousing operations to us. We estimate that approximately one third of gas utilities currently outsource and we anticipate that several of the remaining large gas utilities will most likely switch from the direct sourcing model to a distributor model. Furthermore, gas utilities will increasingly seek operating efficiencies as large natural gas pipelines and related distribution networks continue to be built, and will increasingly rely on companies such as ours to optimize their supply chains.

Midstream: Oil and Gas Transmission. The pipeline and transmission sector is anticipated to exhibit significant growth over the next three years due to the new discoveries of gas reserves in various oil and natural gas shale gas fields and the need for additional pipelines to carry heavy sour crude from Canada to refineries in the United States. Recent heightened activity in oil and gas fields such as the Bakken, Barnett, Fayetteville, Haynesville and Marcellus shales remain largely unsupported by transmission facilities of the appropriate scale necessary to bring the oil and natural gas to market. This need for large pipelines to transport energy feedstocks to markets is creating significant growth for PVF and other products we sell. According to the EIA, 200 planned or approved projects (as of April 2008), call for 10,100 miles of new pipeline between 2008 and 2010, more than twice the level from the prior three-year period, and are estimated to cost over $28 billion. Drivers of this pipeline development and growth include the development of natural gas production in new geographies, the need for increased pipeline interconnection to lower price differences within regions, and the need to link facilities, liquefied natural gas and otherwise, that may be developed over the next decade.

The need for increased safety and governmental demands for pipeline integrity has also accelerated the MRO cycle for PVF products in this segment. After 2000, the U.S. Department of Transportation mandated programs that hasten, based on population densities and other considerations, the testing of existing lines to ensure that the integrity of the pipe remains consistent with its original design criteria. All pipe falling outside the necessary performance criteria as it relates to safety and overall integrity must be replaced. These new regulations for pipeline integrity management will continue to stimulate MRO demand for products as older pipelines are inspected and eventually replaced.

Downstream and Other Processing Industries: Oil and Gas. Typical downstream activities include the refining of crude oil and the selling and distribution of products derived from crude oil, as well as the production of petrochemicals. Representative downstream companies include BP plc, Chevron, ConocoPhillips Company, Exxon Mobil Corporation, Marathon Oil Corporation, Shell Oil, and Valero Energy Corporation. Refinery infrastructure products include carbon steel line pipe and gate valves, fittings to construct piping infrastructure and chrome or high alloy pipe and fittings for high heat and pressure applications. Chemical/petrochemical products include corrosive-resistant stainless steel or high alloy pipes, multi-turn valves and quarter-turn valves.

Total U.S. refinery capacity utilization remains high, averaging approximately 90% over the last twenty-three years according to data provided by the Energy Information Administration. No new refineries have been built in the U.S. since 1976, and the number of refineries has declined from 223 in 1985 to 149 in 2006 where it has since remained constant. This continued high level of refinery utilization has stressed the existing refinery infrastructure and accelerated PVF product replacement rates. Furthermore, we expect that additional increases in production to meet growing demand for refined products will result in a greater number of expansion projects at existing refineries. According to the EIA, cumulative capacity additions are expected to increase nearly threefold, or from approximately 0.5 Mmbl/day in 2007 to approximately 1.4 Mmbl/day by 2010. We believe that this trend of increased new project and MRO activities, coupled with continued high capacity utilization and the need to reinvest in existing plants, will generate significant new project and MRO contract opportunities for us.

U.S. Petroleum Products Consumption vs. U.S. Refining Capacity

As refineries look for ways to improve margins and value-added capabilities, they are also increasingly investing in broadening the crudes that they process to include heavier, sourer crude. Increasingly heavy and sour crude is harsher and more corrosive than light sweet crude and requires high-grade alloys in many parts of the refining process. As a result of these corrosive characteristics, processing heavier and sourer crudes shortens product replacement cycles and, as a result, creates additional MRO contract opportunities for us following project completion. Thus, we believe that our specialty products will be in high demand to meet this need. Our specialty products include, among others, corrosion resistant components and steam products used in various process applications in refineries.

Petrochemical plants generally use crude oil, natural gas, or coal as a basis to produce a variety of primary petrochemicals (e.g. ethylene and propylene) that are the building blocks for most of the manufactured goods produced in the world today. The burgeoning economies in China, India and other non-OECD countries have generated increasing demand for petrochemicals and we expect that future increases in demand will require additional capital expenditures to increase capacity. Industry participants include integrated oil and gas companies with significant petrochemical operations and large industrial chemical companies, such as BP Chemicals, Celanese Chemicals, E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, Eastman Chemicals Company, Exxon Mobil Corporation and Lyondell Chemical Company.

Other Industries Served. Beyond the oil and gas industry, we also supply products to other energy sectors such as coal, power generation, liquefied natural gas and alternative energy facilities. We also serve more general industrial end markets such as pulp and paper, metals processing, fabrication, pharmaceutical, food and beverage and manufacturing companies, which together make use of products such as corrosion resistant piping products as well as automation and instrumentation products. Some of the customers we serve in these markets include Alcoa, Inc., Arcelor Mittal, Eli Lilly and Company, Georgia Pacific Corporation, International Paper Company and U.S. Steel Corporation. These other markets are typically characterized by large physical plants requiring significant ongoing maintenance and capital programs to ensure efficient and reliable operations.

Overview of Our Business

Competitive Strengths

We consider the following to be our key competitive strengths:

Market Leader with Complete North American Coverage and Significant Scale. We are the leading North American distributor of PVF and related products to the energy industry based on sales, with at least twice the sales of our nearest competitor in the energy industry in 2007. Our North American network of over 250 locations in 38 U.S. states and in Canada gives us a significant market presence and provides us with substantial economies of scale that we believe make us a more effective competitor. The benefits of our size and extensive North American presence include: (1) the ability to act as a single-source supplier to large, multi-location customers operating across all segments of the energy industry; (2) the ability to commit significant financial resources to further develop our operating infrastructure, including our information systems, and provide a strong platform for future expansion; (3) volume purchasing benefits from our suppliers; (4) an ability to leverage our extensive North American inventory coverage to provide greater overall breadth and depth of product offerings; (5) the ability to attract and retain effective managers and salespeople; and (6) a business model exhibiting a high degree of operating leverage. Our presence and scale have also enabled us to establish an efficient supply chain and logistics platform, allowing us to better serve our customers and further differentiate us from our competitors.

High Level of Integration and MRO Contracts with a Blue Chip Customer Base. We have a diversified customer base with over 10,000 active customers and serve as the sole or primary supplier in all end markets or in specified end markets or geographies for many of our customers. Our top ten customers, with whom we have had relationships for more than 20 years on average, accounted for less than 30% of 2007 pro forma sales and no single customer accounted for more than 5% of 2007 pro forma sales. Before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, our top ten customers accounted for approximately 30% of our 2007 sales and our largest customer accounted for approximately 6% of our 2007 sales. We enjoy fully integrated relationships, including interconnected technology systems and daily communication, with many of our customers and we provide an extensive range of integrated and outsourced supply services, allowing us to market a “total transaction cost” concept as opposed to individual product prices. We provide such services as multiple daily deliveries, zone stores management, valve tagging, truck stocking and significant system support for tracking and replenishing inventory, which we believe results in deeply integrated customer relationships. We sell products to many of our customers through multi-year MRO contracts which are typically renegotiated every three to five years. Although there are typically no guaranteed minimum purchase amounts under these contracts, these MRO customers, representing over 50% of both our 2007 historical and pro forma sales, provide a relatively stable revenue stream and help mitigate against industry downturns. We believe we have been able to retain customers by ensuring a high level of service and integration, as evidenced by our annual average MRO contract retention rate of over 99% since 2000. Furthermore, we have recently signed new MRO contracts displacing competitors that provide opportunities for us to gain new customers and broaden existing customer relationships.

Business and Geographic Diversification in the High-Growth Areas. We are well diversified across the upstream, midstream and downstream operations of the energy industry, as well as through our participation in selected industrial end markets. During the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 on a pro forma basis, we generated approximately 46% of our sales in the upstream sector, 22% in the midstream sector, and 32% in the downstream, industrial and other energy end markets. Before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, during the twelve months ended December 31, 2007, approximately 36% of our sales were attributable to upstream activities, approximately 18% were attributable to midstream activities and approximately 46% were attributable to downstream and other processing activities. This diversification affords us some measure of protection in the event of a downturn in any one end market while providing us the ability to offer "one stop" shopping for most of our integrated energy customers. In addition, our more than 250 branches are located near major hydrocarbon and refining regions throughout North America, including rapidly expanding oil and natural gas E&P areas in North America, such as the Bakken, Barnett, Fayetteville, Haynesville and Marcellus shales. Our geographic diversity enhances our ability to respond to customers quickly, gives us a strong presence in these high growth E&P areas and reduces our exposure to a downturn in any one region.

Strategic Supplier Relationships. We have extensive relationships with our suppliers and have key supplier relationships dating back in certain instances over 60 years. We purchased approximately $1 billion of products from our top ten suppliers for the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 on a pro forma basis, representing approximately 32% of our purchases. Before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, during the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 we purchased approximately $431 million of products from our top ten suppliers, representing approximately 30.7% of our purchases. We believe our customers view us as an industry leader for the formal processes we use to evaluate vendor performance and product quality. We employ individuals, certified by the International Registry of Certificated Auditors, who specialize in conducting manufacturer assessments both domestically and internationally. Our Supplier Registration Process ("SRP"), which allows us to maintain the MRM ASL, serves as a significant strategic advantage to us in developing, maintaining and institutionalizing key supplier relationships. For our suppliers, being included on the MRM ASL represents an opportunity for them to increase their product sales to our customers. The SRP also adds value to our customers, as they collaborate with us regarding specific manufacturer performance, our past experiences with products and the results of our on-site supplier assessments. Having a timely, uninterrupted supply of those mission critical products from approved vendors is an essential part of our customers' day-to-day operations and we work to fulfill that need through our SRP.

A Leading IT Platform Focused on Customer Service. Our business is supported by our integrated, scalable and customer-linked customized information systems. These systems and our more than 3,400 employees are linked by a wide area network. We are currently implementing an initiative, expected to be completed in 2009, that will combine our business operations onto one enterprise server-based system. This will enable real-time access to our business resources, including customer order processing, purchasing and material requests, distribution requirements planning, warehousing and receiving, inventory control and all accounting and financial functions. Significant elements of our systems include firm-wide pricing controls resulting in disciplined pricing strategies, advanced scanning and customized bar-coding capabilities, allowing for efficient warehousing activities at customer as well as our own locations, and significant levels of customer-specific integrations. We believe that the customized integration of our customers' systems into our own information systems has increased customer retention by reducing their expenses, thus creating switching costs when comparing us to alternative sources of supply. Typically, smaller regional and local competitors do not have IT capabilities that are as advanced as ours.

Highly Efficient, Flexible Operating Platform Drives Significant Free Cash Flow Generation. We place a particular emphasis on practicing financial discipline as evidenced by our strong focus on return on assets, minimal capital expenditures and high free cash flow generation. Our disciplined cost control, coupled with our active asset management strategies, result in a business model exhibiting a high degree of operating leverage. As is typical with the flexibility associated with a distribution operating model, our variable cost base includes substantially all our cost of goods sold and a significant portion of our operating costs. Furthermore, our maintenance capital expenditures were less than 0.2% of our pro forma sales for the year ended December 31, 2007. This cost structure allows us to adjust to changing industry dynamics and, as a result, during periods of decreased sales activity, we typically generate significant free cash flow as our costs are reduced and working capital contracts.

Experienced and Motivated Management Team. Our senior management team has an average of over 25 years of experience in the oilfield and industrial supply business, the majority of which has been with McJunkin Red Man or its predecessors. After giving effect to this offering, senior management will own % of our company indirectly through their equity interests in PVF Holdings LLC. We also seek to incentivize and align management with shareholder interests through equity-linked compensation plans. Furthermore, executive compensation is based on profitability and return-on-investment targets which we believe drives accountability and further aligns the organization with our shareholders.

Business Strategy

Our goal is to become the largest global distributor of PVF and related products to the energy and industrials sectors. We intend to grow our business by leveraging our existing position as the largest North American distributor of PVF products and services to the energy industry based on sales. Our strategy is focused on pursuing growth by increasing organic market share and growing our business with current customers, expanding into new geographies and end markets, further penetrating the Canadian Oil Sands and downstream sector, pursuing selective strategic acquisitions and investments, increasing recurring revenues through integrated supply, MRO and project contracts, and continuing to increase our operational efficiency.

Increase Organic Market Share and Grow Business with Current Customers. We are committed to expanding upon existing deep relationships with our current customer base while at the same time striving to secure new customers. To accomplish this, we are focused on providing a “one stop” PVF procurement solution throughout North America and across the upstream, midstream and downstream sectors of the energy industry, cross-selling by leveraging our expanded product offering resulting from the business combination between McJunkin and Red Man in October 2007, and increasing our penetration of existing customers’ new multiyear projects.

The migration of existing customer relationships to sole or primary sourcing arrangements is a core strategic focus. We seek to position ourselves as the sole or primary provider of a broad complement of PVF products and services for a particular customer, often by end market and/or geography, or in certain instances across all of a customer’s North American upstream, midstream and downstream operations. Several of our largest customers have recently switched to sole or primary sourcing contracts with us. Additionally, we believe that significant opportunities exist to expand upon heritage McJunkin and Red Man existing deep customer and supplier relationships and thereby increase our market share. While we believe that both heritage McJunkin and Red Man organizations each maintained robust product offerings, there also remain opportunities to cross-sell certain products into the other heritage organization’s customer base and branch network. As part of these efforts, we are working to further strengthen our service offerings by augmenting our product portfolio, management expertise and sales force.

We also aim to increase our penetration of our existing customers’ new projects. For example, while we often provide nearly 100% of the PVF products for certain customers under MRO contracts, increased penetration of those customers’ new downstream and midstream projects remains a strategic priority. Initiatives are in place to deepen relationships with engineering and construction firms and to extend our product offering into certain niches. We recently integrated core project groups in several locations to focus solely on capturing new multi-year project opportunities and we are encouraged by these initial efforts.

Expand into New Geographies and End Markets. We intend to selectively establish new branches in order to facilitate our expansion into new geographies, and enter end markets where extreme operating environments generate high PVF product replacement rates. We continue to evaluate establishing branches and service and supply centers, entering into joint ventures, and making acquisitions in select domestic and international regions. While we believe that we are one of three PVF distributors with branches throughout North America, there is opportunity to expand via new branch openings in certain geographies and end markets.

While our near term strategy is to continue to expand within North America, we believe that attractive opportunities exist to expand internationally. Though we currently maintain only one branch outside of North America, we continue to actively evaluate opportunities to extend our offering to key international markets, particularly in West Africa, the Middle East, Europe and South America. The E&P opportunity and current installed base of energy infrastructure internationally is significantly larger than in North America and as a result we believe represents an attractive long term opportunity both for ourselves and our largest customers. While our near term focus internationally will be centered on growing our business with our already largely global customer base, the increased focus, particularly by foreign-owned integrated oil companies, on efficiency, cost savings, process improvements and core competencies has also generated potential growth opportunities to add new customers that we will continue to monitor closely.

We also believe opportunities exist for expansion into new and under penetrated end markets where PVF products are used in specialized, highly corrosive applications. These end markets include pulp and paper, food and beverage and other general industrial markets, in addition to other energy end markets such as power generation, liquefied natural gas, coal, nuclear and ethanol. We believe our extensive North American branch platform, comprehensive PVF product offering, and reputation for high customer service and technical expertise positions us to participate in the growth in these end markets.

We believe there also remains an opportunity to continue to expand into certain niche and specialty products that complement our current extensive product offering. These products include automated valves, instrumentation, stainless, chrome and high nickel alloy PVF, large diameter carbon steel pipe and certain specialty items, including steam products.

Further Penetrate the Canadian Oil Sands, Particularly the Downstream Sector. The Canadian Oil Sands region and its attendant downstream markets represent very attractive growth areas for our company. Improvements in mining and in-situ technology are driving significant investment in the area and, according to the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board, the Canadian Oil Sands contain an ultimately recoverable crude bitumen resource of 315 billion barrels, with established reserves of almost 173 billion barrels at December 2007. Canada has the second largest recoverable crude oil reserves in the world, behind Saudi Arabia. Capital and maintenance investments in the Canadian Oil Sands are expected to experience dramatic growth due to rising global energy demand and advancements in recovery and upgrading technologies. According to the Alberta Ministry of Energy, an estimated CDN$67 billion (US$66.2 billion) was invested in Canadian Oil Sands projects from 2000 to 2007. These large facilities require significant ongoing PVF maintenance well in excess of traditional energy infrastructure, given the extremely harsh operating environments and highly corrosive conditions. According to the Alberta Ministry of Energy, almost CDN$170 billion (US$168 billion) in Canadian Oil Sands-related projects were underway or proposed as of June 2008, which we estimate could generate significant PVF expenditures.

While Midfield has historically focused on the upstream and midstream sectors in Canada, we believe that a significant opportunity exists to penetrate the Canadian Oil Sands downstream market which includes the upgrader and refinery markets. We are the leading provider of PVF products to the downstream market in the U.S. and believe this sector expertise and existing customer relationships can be utilized by our upstream and midstream Canadian operations to grow our downstream sector presence in this region. We also believe there is a significant opportunity to penetrate the Canadian Oil Sands extraction market involving in-situ recovery methods, including SAGD (steam assisted gravity drainage) and CSS (cyclic steam stimulation) techniques used to extract the bitumen. We have formed a full team overseen by senior management, have made recent inventory and facility investments in Canada, including a new 60,000 square foot distribution center facility located near Edmonton, and have opened additional locations in Western Canada to address this opportunity. Finally, we also believe that an attractive opportunity exists to more fully penetrate the MRO market in Canada, including refineries, petrochemical facilities, utilities and pulp and paper and other general industrial markets.

Pursue Selective Strategic Acquisitions and Investments. Acquisitions have been a core focus and acquisition integration a core competency for us. We seek opportunities to strengthen our franchise through selective acquisitions and strategic investments. In particular, we will consider investments that enhance our presence in the energy infrastructure market and enable us to leverage our existing operations, either through acquiring new branches or by acquiring companies offering complementary products or end market breadth. Our industry remains highly fragmented and we believe a significant number of small and larger acquisition opportunities remain that offer favorable synergy potential and attractive growth characteristics. Acquisitions have been a core focus for both the heritage McJunkin and Red Man organizations which we plan to continue. In addition to the business combination between McJunkin and Red Man, since 2000 we have integrated 19 acquisitions which collectively represented over $900 million in sales in the year of acquisition. Important recent acquisitions include Midfield, one of the three largest oilfield supply companies in Canada with 68 branches, and Midway-Tristate Corporation (“Midway”), an oilfield distributor primarily serving the Rockies and Appalachia regions. Historically, our operating scale and integration capabilities have enabled us to realize important synergies, while minimizing execution risk, which we intend to focus on with future acquisitions.

Increase Recurring Revenues through Integrated Supply, MRO and Project Contracts. We have entered into and continue to pursue integrated supply, MRO and project contracts with certain of our customers. These arrangements generally designate us as the sole source or primary provider of the upstream, midstream, and/or downstream requirements of our customers. In certain instances we are the sole or primary source provider for our customers across all the energy sectors and/or North American geographies within which the customer operates.

Our customers have, over time, increasingly moved toward centralized PVF procurement management at the corporate level rather than at individual local units. While these developments are partly due to significant consolidation among our customer base, sole or primary sourcing arrangements allow customers to focus on their core operations and provide economic benefits by generating immediate savings for the customer through administrative cost and working capital reductions while providing for increased volumes, more stable revenue streams and longer term visibility for us. We believe we are well positioned to obtain these arrangements due to our (1) geographically diverse and strategically located branch network, (2) experience, technical expertise and reputation for premier customer service operating across all segments of the energy industry, (3) breadth of available product lines and value added services, and (4) existing deep relationships with customers and suppliers.

We also have exclusive and non-exclusive MRO contracts and new project contracts in place. Our customers are increasing their maintenance and capital spending, which is being driven by aging infrastructure, their increased utilization of existing facilities and the decreasing quality of energy feedstocks. Our customers benefit from MRO agreements through lower inventory investment and the reduction of transaction costs associated with the elimination of the bid submission process, and our company benefits from the recurring revenue stream that occurs with an MRO contract in place. We believe there are additional opportunities to utilize MRO arrangements for servicing the requirements of our customers and we are actively pursuing such agreements.

branch profitability, working capital management, and return on managed assets and utilize this information to optimize national, regional and local strategies, reduce operating costs and maximize cash flow generation. As part of this effort, management incentives are centered on meeting EBITDA and return on assets targets.

In order to improve efficiencies and profitability, we work to leverage operational best practices, optimize our vendor relationships, purchasing, and inventory levels and source inventory internationally when appropriate. As part of this strategy, we have integrated our heritage purchasing functions and believe we have developed strong relationships with vendors that value both our national footprint and volume purchasing capabilities. Because of this, we are often considered the preferred distribution channel. As we continue to consolidate our vendor relationships, we plan to devote additional resources to assist our customers in identifying products that improve their processes, day-to-day operations and overall operating efficiencies. We believe that offering these value added services maximizes our value to our customers and helps differentiate us from competitors.

Products

Through our over 250 strategic locations in North America, we distribute over 100,000 products from over 10,000 suppliers primarily used in specialized applications in the energy infrastructure market. Our products are used in the construction, maintenance, repair and overhaul of equipment used in extreme operating conditions such as high pressure, high/low temperature, high corrosive and high abrasive environments.

The breadth and depth of our product offerings and our extensive North American presence allow us to provide high levels of service to our customers. Due to our national inventory coverage, we are able to fulfill more orders more quickly, including those with lower volume and specialty items, than we would be able to if we operated on a smaller scale and/or only at a local or regional level. Approximately two-thirds of our pro forma sales for the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 consisted of sales of carbon, stainless and alloy pipe, valves and specialty products. Sales of oilfield and industrial supplies, fittings, gas products and other products comprised the remainder. Before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, approximately three quarters of our sales for the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 consisted of sales of carbon, stainless and alloy pipe, valves and specialty products, while sales of oilfield and industrial supplies, fittings, gas products and other products comprised the remainder. Key product groups are described below:

Carbon and Alloy Pipe. Carbon pipes are typically used in high-yield, high-stress, abrasive applications such as gathering and transmission of oil, natural gas and phosphates. Steel alloy pipes are composed of iron, carbon, and one or more other elements such as chromium, cobalt or nickel. Alloy products are principally used in high-pressure, extreme temperature and high-corrosion applications such as in heating and desulphurization in the processing and refining industries and in steam generation units in the power industry.

Valves and Specialty Products. Products offered include ball, butterfly, gate, globe, check, needle and plug valves which are manufactured from cast steel, stainless/alloy steel, forged steel, carbon steel or cast and ductile iron. Valves are generally used in oilfield and industrial applications to control direction, velocity and pressure of fluids and gases within transmission networks. Specialty products include corrosion resistant components and steam products used in various process applications in refineries and petrochemical plants.

Oilfield and Industrial Supplies. Products include high density polyethylene pipe, valves, well heads, pumping units, rods and other related oilfield and production equipment.

Carbon Fittings. Products include carbon weld fittings, flanges and accessory items used primarily to connect piping and valve systems for the transmission of various liquids and gases.

Gas Products. Products include risers, meters, polyethylene pipe and fittings and various other gas carrying materials that are used primarily in the distribution of natural gas to residential and commercial customers.

Stainless Pipe and Fittings. Products include stainless, alloy and corrosion resistant pipe, tubing, fittings and flanges that are used primarily in chemical process applications.

Services

We provide our customers, including our customers with MRO contracts, with a comprehensive array of services including multiple daily deliveries, zone stores management, valve tagging, truck stocking and significant system interfaces that directly tie the customer into our proprietary information systems. Our proprietary information systems allow us to interface with our customers' IT systems, thereby providing a seamless and integrated supply service. Such services strengthen our position with our customers as we become more integrated into the customer's business and supply chain and are able to market a "total transaction cost" concept rather than individual product prices.

Our comprehensive information systems platform, which provides for customer and supplier electronic integrations, information sharing, and e-commerce applications, further strengthens our ability to provide high levels of service to our customers. Our highly specialized implementation group focuses on the integration of our information systems and implementation of improved business processes with those of a new customer during the initiation phase. By maintaining a specialized team, we are able to utilize best practices to implement our systems and processes, thereby providing solutions to customers in a more organized, efficient and effective manner. This approach is valuable to large, multi-location customers who have demanding service requirements.

As major integrated and large independent energy companies have implemented efficiency initiatives to focus on their core business, many of these companies have begun outsourcing their procurement and inventory management requirements. In response to these initiatives and to satisfy customer service requirements, we offer integrated supply services to customers who wish to outsource all or a part of the administrative burden associated with sourcing PVF and other related products, and we also have employees on-site at many customer locations. Our integrated supply group offers procurement-related services, physical warehousing services, product quality assurance and inventory ownership and analysis services.

Customers

Our principal customers are companies active in the upstream, midstream and downstream sectors of the energy industry as well as in other industrial and energy sectors. Due to the demanding operating conditions in the energy industry and high costs associated with equipment failure, customers prefer highly reliable products and vendors with established qualifications and experience. As our PVF products typically represent a fraction of the total cost of the project, our customers place a premium on service given the high cost to them of maintenance or new project delays. We strive to build long-term relationships with our customers by maintaining our reputation as a supplier of high-quality, efficient and reliable products and value-added services and solutions.

We have a diverse customer base with over 10,000 active customers. We are not dependent on any one customer or group of customers. A majority of our customers are offered terms of net, 30 days (due within 30 days of the customer's receipt of the invoice). Customers generally have a right to return our products. However, returns have been immaterial to our total sales. For the twelve months ended December 31, 2007, our top ten customers represented less than 30% of our pro forma sales. For the twelve months ended December 31, 2007, before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, our top ten customers accounted for approximately 30% of our sales. For many of our largest customers, we are often their sole or primary provider by end market or geography, their largest or second largest supplier in aggregate, or in certain instances the sole provider for their upstream, midstream and downstream procurement needs. We believe that many customers for which we are not the end market exclusive or comprehensive North American sole source PVF provider will continue to reduce their number of suppliers in an effort to reduce costs and administrative burdens and focus on their core operations. As such, we believe these customers will seek to select PVF distributors with the most extensive product offering and broadest geographic presence. Furthermore, we believe our business will strengthen as companies in the energy industry continue to consolidate and the larger, resulting companies look to larger distributors such as ourselves as their sole or primary source PVF provider.

Suppliers

We source our products from more than 10,000 suppliers. Our suppliers benefit from access to our diversified customer base and, by consolidating customer orders, we benefit from stronger purchasing power and preferred vendor programs. During the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 on a pro forma basis, we purchased approximately $1 billion of products from our top 10 suppliers, representing approximately 32% of our total purchases. Before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction, during the twelve months ended December 31, 2007 we purchased approximately $431 million of products from our top ten suppliers, representing approximately 30.7% of our purchases. Our largest supplier accounted for approximately 9% of our total purchases in 2007 on a pro forma basis and accounted for approximately 7% of our total purchases in 2007 before giving pro forma effect to the Red Man Transaction. We source a significant majority of our products directly from the manufacturer.

We believe our customers and suppliers recognize us as an industry leader for the formal processes we use to evaluate the performance of our vendors as well as the products they furnish to our company. This assessment process is referred to as the MRM Supplier Registration Process, which involves employing individuals, certified by the International Registry of Certificated Auditors, who specialize in conducting on-site assessments of our manufacturers as well as monitoring and evaluating the quality of goods produced. The result of this process is the MRM ASL. Products from the manufacturers on this list are supplied across many of the end markets we support. Given that many of our largest customers, especially those in the refinery and chemical industries, maintain their own formal AML listing, we are recognized as an important source of information sharing with our key customers regarding the results of our on-site assessment. For this reason, together with management’s commitment to promote high quality products that bring the best overall value to our customers, we often become the preferred provider of AML products to these customers. Many of our customers regularly collaborate with us regarding specific manufacturer performance, our own experience with vendors’ products and the results of our on-site supplier assessments. The emphasis placed on the MRM ASL by both our customers and suppliers helps secure our central and critical position in the global PVF supply chain.

We utilize a variety of freight carriers in addition to our corporate fleet to ensure timely and efficient delivery of our product. Our strategy is to build volume with selected “core” common carriers in order to obtain a pricing advantage and to align responsibility for customer service. Placing freight regularly with over 50 different carriers provides us with a substantial pool of qualified carriers to draw from as market conditions change.

Sales and Marketing

We distribute our products to a wide variety of end-users. Our broad distribution network and customer base allow us to capitalize on our extensive inventory base. Local relationships, depth of inventory, service and timely delivery are critical to the sales process in the PVF distribution industry. Our marketing efforts are customer and product driven, and provide a system that is more responsive to changing customer and product needs than a traditional, fully centralized structure.

Our sales model applies a two-pronged approach to address both the regional and national markets. Regional sales teams, led by eight senior vice presidents with an average tenure of 26 years at McJunkin Red Man or its predecessors, are based in our core geographic regions and the national accounts sales team is focused on specific customer types, including large national customers and gas utility customers, supported by groups with specific expertise, including integrated supply and implementation. Our overall sales force is internally divided into outside and inside sales forces.

Our 342 (as of December 31, 2007) outside sales representatives develop relationships with prospective and existing customers in an effort to better understand their needs and to increase the number of our products specified or approved by a given customer. Outside sales representatives may be branch outside sales representatives, focused on customer relationships in specific geographies, or technical outside sales representatives, who focus on specific products and provide detailed technical support to customers.

In order to address the needs of our customer base, our inside sales force of 762 individuals (as of December 31, 2007) is responsible for processing orders generated by new and existing customers as well as by our outside sales force. The inside sales force prepares packages based on specific customer needs, interfaces with manufacturers to determine product availability, ensures on-time delivery and establishes pricing of materials and services based on guidelines and predetermined metrics set by management.

Information Systems

Our technology approach allows for extensive integration and customization with our clients. We believe that this is accretive to the customer's value proposition and increases customer loyalty. Thus, our customized information systems enable on-line real-time access to appropriate resources and are an integral part of our competitive advantage, particularly among larger customers whose own information systems we integrate with seamlessly.

Third party and web-based applications are incorporated in our platform to further enhance the IT offering. Customer and supplier electronic integrations, information sharing, and e-commerce applications help support and secure long-standing relationships and foster additional business with our customers. Scanning and customized bar-coding systems increase efficiency. Our corporate Intranet also includes web-based applications such as its Sales History Analysis Reporting Program ("SHARP"), a Wizard Document and Report Library and a Document Imaging application that includes more than 5 million documents and reports. As of December 31, 2007, we had a staff of approximately 60 IT professionals.

We currently operate two primary information systems inherited from the combination of McJunkin and Red Man. Management has thoroughly evaluated both systems for functionality, degree of customer and internal integration, controls, accounting and reporting capability, acquisition implementation, scalability, reliability, speed and Sarbanes-Oxley upgradeability. Information systems have been a critical focus and a three-step integration plan has been put in place with the final transition to an enhanced hybrid information system platform combining certain elements of the heritage McJunkin and Red Man systems expected to be fully completed in 2009. This plan enables the company to leverage the benefits of both systems while reducing the risk associated with any major system change.

Upon completion of our information systems integration initiative, our branches will be linked by our wide area networks into an existing integrated, scalable, enterprise server-based system allowing online, real-time access to all business resources including customer order processing, purchasing and material request, distributing requirements planning, warehousing and receiving, inventory control and all accounting and financial functions. Prior to project completion, we are merging geographically overlapping locations and migrating these and certain other locations to the chosen information systems platform. We have already successfully transitioned 10 locations in this manner. This serves as both a validation of our approach and a confirmation of our conversion process, a key to minimizing information systems risk and any disruption to the business and customer base.

Employees

As of June 26, 2008, we had approximately 3,484 employees worldwide. Thirty employees belong to the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and are covered by collective bargaining agreements. We believe we have good relationships with our employees and have not had any major issues such as strikes or business interruptions during the past several years.

Properties

We operate a modified hub and spoke model that is centered around our 6 distribution centers in North America with more than 250 locations which have inventory and local employees. Additionally, in order to maintain strong customer relationships, we hold inventory at approximately 700 on-site customer locations.

The company maintains two corporate headquarters, the precedent McJunkin headquarters in Charleston, WV, which focuses on downstream, gas utilities (midstream), and Appalachian upstream activities, and the precedent Red Man headquarters in Tulsa, OK, which focuses on upstream and pipeline (midstream) activities. We also maintain a main corporate office for our Canadian operations in Calgary, Alberta.

Competition

We are the largest PVF distributor to the energy industry in North America based on sales. The broad PVF distribution industry is fragmented and includes large, nationally recognized distributors, major regional distributors and many smaller local distributors, with the potential for further consolidation. The principal methods of competition include offering prompt local service, fulfilment capability, breadth of product and service offerings, price and total costs to the customer. Our competitors include national recognized distributors, such as Wilson Industries, Inc. (a subsidiary of Smith International, Inc.) and National Oilwell Varco, Inc., several large regional or product-specific competitors, and many local, family-owned PVF distributors.

Environmental Matters

We are subject to a variety of federal, state, local, foreign and provincial environmental, health and safety laws and regulations, including those governing the discharge of pollutants into the air or water, the management, storage and disposal of hazardous substances and wastes, the responsibility to investigate and cleanup contamination and occupational health and safety. Fines and penalties may be imposed for non-compliance with applicable environmental, health and safety requirements and the failure to have or to comply with the terms and conditions of required permits. Historically, the costs to comply with environmental and health and safety requirements have not been material. We are not aware of any pending environmental compliance or remediation matters that, in the opinion of management, are reasonably likely to have a material effect on our business, financial position or results of operations. However, the failure by us to comply with applicable environmental, health and safety requirements could result in fines, penalties, enforcement actions, third party claims for property damage and personal injury, requirements to clean up property or to pay for the costs of cleanup, or regulatory or judicial orders requiring corrective measures, including the installation of pollution control equipment or remedial actions.

Under certain laws and regulations, such as the federal Superfund law, the obligation to investigate and remediate contamination at a facility may be imposed on current and former owners or operators or on persons who may have sent waste to that facility for disposal. Liability under these laws and regulations may be without regard to fault or to the legality of the activities giving rise to the contamination. Although we are not aware of any active litigation against us under the federal Superfund law or its state equivalents, contamination has been identified at several of our current and former facilities, and we have incurred and will continue to incur costs to investigate and remediate these conditions. Moreover, we may incur liabilities in connection with environmental conditions currently unknown to us relating to our prior, existing or future sites or operations or those of predecessor companies whose liabilities we may have assumed or acquired.

In addition, environmental, health and safety laws and regulations applicable to our business and the business of our customers, including laws regulating the energy industry, and the interpretation or enforcement of these laws and regulations, are constantly evolving and it is impossible to predict accurately the effect that changes in these laws and regulations, or their interpretation or enforcement, may have upon our business, financial condition or results of operations. In particular, legislation and regulations limiting emissions of greenhouse gases, including carbon dioxide associated with the burning of fossil fuels, are at various stages of consideration and implementation, and if fully implemented, could negatively impact the market for our products and, consequently, our business. Should environmental laws and regulations, or their interpretation or enforcement, become more stringent, our costs could increase, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Legal Proceedings

From time to time, we have been subject to various claims and involved in legal proceedings incidental to the nature of our businesses. We maintain insurance coverage to reduce financial risk associated with certain of these claims and proceedings. It is not possible to predict the outcome of these claims and proceedings. However, in our opinion, there are no material pending legal proceedings that are likely to have a material effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations, although it is possible that the resolution of certain actual or threatened claims or proceedings could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operation in the period of resolution.

We are a defendant in lawsuits involving approximately 835 plaintiffs as of September 24, 2008 alleging, among other things, personal injury, including mesothelioma and other cancers, arising from exposure to asbestos-containing materials included in products distributed by us in the past. The complaints in these lawsuits typically name many other defendants. In the majority of these lawsuits, little or no information is known regarding the nature of the plaintiffs' alleged injuries or their connection with the products we distributed. As of June 2008, lawsuits involving approximately 11,240 claims have been brought against us. Of these claims, approximately 10,414 have been resolved (7,140 have been dismissed, 33 have been settled and 3,241 were resolved prior to 1995 as part of two mass settlements with payments not allocated to individual claims). No asbestos lawsuit has resulted in a judgment against us to date. In 2008, we along with outside accounting and financial consultants, conducted an analysis of pending and probable asbestos-related claims to determine the adequacy of our accrual for these claims. This analysis consisted of developing per claim settlement estimates for each category of claim by alleged disease type based on our historical settlement experience. These estimates were applied to each of our pending individual claims. Liability with respect to mass filings was estimated by determining the number of individual plaintiffs included in the mass filings likely to have claims resulting in settlements based on our historical experience with mass filings. Finally, likely claims expected to be asserted against us over the next fifteen years were predicted based on public health estimates of future incidences of certain asbestos-related diseases in the general U.S. population and per claim settlement estimates were applied to those estimated claims. Based on our analysis and the existence of certain insurance coverage, we do not believe that the outcome of our pending and probable cases will have a material impact on us. The potential liability associated with asbestos lawsuits, however, is subject to many uncertainties, including negative developments in the cases pending against us, the current or future insolvency of co-defendants, adverse changes in relevant laws or the interpretation thereof, and the extent to which insurance will be available to pay for defense costs, judgments or settlements. Further, we anticipate that additional claims will be filed against us in the future, but are unable to predict the number, timing and magnitude of such future claims with any certainty. Therefore, we cannot assure you that the pending or future asbestos litigation will not ultimately have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Mr. Adams' career in the PVF distribution industry began in 1980 with Vinson Supply Co., which was acquired by Red Man in 1995. He has served in many roles at Red Man, including as branch manager from 1995 to 1997, manager — alliances and marketing from 1997 to 2000, director — e-commerce & alliances from 2000 to 2002, and vice-president — sales and marketing from 2002 to 2007. His current roles and responsibilities include retention and growth of existing MRO contracts and proactive growth in domestic and international oil and gas markets. In addition to sales responsibilities, he also manages the pricing strategy and marketing programs. Mr. Adams received his business administration degree in marketing from the University of North Texas.

Rory M. Isaac has served as senior corporate vice president — sales & marketing (focusing on downstream, industrials and gas utilities operations) at our company since August 2008 and at McJunkin Red Man Corporation, our subsidiary, since November 2007. He served as senior corporate vice president — national accounts at McJunkin from 1995 to 2000 and as senior corporate vice president — national accounts, utilities and marketing at McJunkin from 2000 to 2007. Mr. Isaac joined McJunkin in 1981. He has extensive experience in sales, customer relations and management and has served at McJunkin as a branch manager, regional manager and regional vice president. In 1995 he began working in the corporate office of McJunkin in Charleston, West Virginia as senior vice president for national accounts, where he was responsible for managing and growing McJunkin's national accounts customer base and directing business development efforts into integrated supply markets. In 1999 he took on the additional responsibility of growing McJunkin's market share in key initiative areas including gas products and marketing McJunkin's capabilities. Prior to joining McJunkin, Mr. Isaac worked at Consolidated Services, Inc. and Charleston Supply Company. Mr. Isaac attended the Citadel.

Gary A. Ittner has served as senior corporate vice president of supply chain management at our company since August 2008 and at McJunkin Red Man Corporation, our subsidiary, since November 2007. He has specific responsibility for the procurement of all industrial valves, automation, fittings and alloy tubular products. Prior to November 2007, he served as senior corporate vice president of supply management at McJunkin (which became McJunkin Red Man Corporation after the Red Man Transaction in October 2007) since March 2001. Before joining the Supply Management Group, Mr. Ittner worked in various field positions including branch manager, regional manager, and senior regional vice president. He is a past chairman of the executive committee of the American Supply Association's Industrial Piping Division. Mr. Ittner began working at McJunkin in 1971 following his freshman year at the University of Cincinnati and joined the company full-time following his graduation in 1974.

Dennis Niver has served as senior corporate vice president of supply chain management at our company since August 2008 and at McJunkin Red Man Corporation, our subsidiary, since November 2007. He joined Red Man in 1977 with founder Lew Ketchum, helping to grow the company as it emerged as a major player in its industry. He served as purchasing manager at Red Man before he was named vice-president — purchasing in 1989. He served as vice-president — purchasing and alliances at Red Man from 1993 through October 2007. Mr. Niver received his education from the University of Tulsa. He currently serves as chairman of the IPD executive committee for the American Supply Association, as well as the supply chain management committee for the Petroleum Equipment Suppliers Association.

Ken Hayes has served as senior corporate vice president of standard and line pipe at our company since August 2008 and at McJunkin Red Man Corporation, our subsidiary, since November 2007. He leads and directs all activities associated with the performance of the standard and line pipe product line. Mr. Hayes has had 29 years of experience in the industrial, oilfield and tubular distribution business. His primary focus for the past 19 years has been on the carbon steel standard and line pipe product line. He previously served as director of standard and line pipe at Red Man from April 1999 through October 2007. He initially joined Red Man in 1979 as division manager and served in sales in various locations. Mr. Hayes received his bachelor of science degree in business management from New Mexico State University.

Stephen W. Lake has served as senior corporate vice president, general counsel and corporate secretary of our company and of McJunkin Red Man Corporation, our subsidiary, since June 2008.

Prior to that date he was senior vice president — general counsel of McJunkin Red Man Corporation since joining McJunkin Red Man Corporation in January 2008. Previously, Mr. Lake was a shareholder at the law firm Gable & Gotwals in Tulsa, Oklahoma from January 1, 1998 through January 6, 2008, where he practiced in the areas of mergers and acquisitions and securities law. He was a member of the board of directors of Gable & Gotwals from January 1, 2005 through January 6, 2008 and an associate of that firm from September 1991 until becoming a shareholder in January 1998. He served as executive vice president of McJunkin Appalachian from 1989 to June 2008. Mr. Fox joined McJunkin in 1989 when Appalachian Pipe merged with McJunkin's oil and gas division to form McJunkin Appalachian. Mr. Fox founded Appalachian Pipe in 1984, together with his brother Stephen G. Fox and Steven G. Park, as a successor corporation to Branchland Pipe & Supply. Branchland Pipe & Supply was started by Mr. Fox's grandfather, David Fox, in 1919. Mr. Fox has spent his entire career in the oil and gas distribution industry in the Appalachian area. Mr. Fox graduated from Marshall University with a bachelor's degree in business administration.

Craig Ketchum has served as the chairman of our board of directors since September 2008 and as a member of our board of directors since October 2007. He was the president and chief executive officer of our company and of McJunkin Red Man Corporation, our subsidiary, from May 2008 to September 2008. Prior to that, he served as co-president and co-chief executive officer of McJunkin Red Man Corporation since the business combination between McJunkin and Red Man in October 31, 2007. He has served at Red Man in various capacities since 1979, including store operations and sales, working at Red Man locations in Ardmore, Oklahoma, Tulsa, Oklahoma, Denver, Colorado, and Dallas, Texas. He was named vice president — sales at Red Man in 1991, executive vice president of Red Man in 1994 and president and chief executive officer in 1995. He also served on Red Man's board of directors. During his tenure as Red Man's leader, Red Man sales increased significantly and he led Red Man's acquisition of a majority voting interest in Midfield Supply ULC, a successful Canadian oilfield distributor, as well as other strategic acquisitions that provided opportunities for Red Man to expand its product offering and geographic presence. In 2007 he led the key team players in the successful business combination between McJunkin and Red Man. As president and chief executive officer of our company, his expanded leadership responsibilities in 2007 and 2008 included serving on our board of directors, planning and formulating strategies for our combined company, leading our combined senior management team, communicating corporate strategy and vision to all employees, and blending cultures and organizational structures. Mr. Ketchum graduated from the University of Central Oklahoma with a business degree and joined Red Man in 1979. He has served as chairman of the Petroleum Equipment Suppliers Association. He currently serves on the board of the Metropolitan Tulsa Chamber of Commerce and is active in the Young President's Organization.

Rhys J. Best has been a member of our board of directors since December 1, 2007. From 1999 until June 2004, Mr. Best was chairman, president and chief executive officer of Lone Star Technologies, Inc., a company engaged in producing and marketing casing, tubing, line pipe and couplings for the oil and gas, industrial, automotive, and power generation industries. From June 2004 until Lone Star was acquired by the United States Steel Corporation in June 2007, Mr. Best was chairman and chief executive officer of Lone Star. Mr. Best retired in June 2007. Before joining Lone Star in 1989, Mr. Best held several leadership positions in the banking industry. In 1985 he was named president of First City Bank Dallas, which, at that time, was the second largest bank in the First City system. Earlier, he had worked at Manufacturers Hanover Corporation of New York and Interfirst Bank of Dallas. Mr. Best graduated from the University of North Texas with a Bachelor of Business Administration Degree and earned an M.B.A. from Southern Methodist University. He is a member of the board of directors of Cabot Oil & Gas Corporation, an independent natural gas producer, Trinity Industries, which owns a group of businesses providing products and services to the industrial, energy, transportation, and construction sectors, and Austin Industries, Inc., a Dallas-based general construction company. He is also a member of the board of directors of Crosstex Energy GP, LLC, the general partner of the general partner of Crosstex Energy, L.P., an independent midstream energy services company. He is also involved in a number of industry-related and civic organizations, including the Petroleum Equipment Suppliers Association (for which he has previously served as chairman) and the Maguire Energy Institute of Southern Methodist University. He serves on the board of advisors of the College of Business Administration at the University of North Texas.

Henry Cornell has been a member of our board of directors since November 29, 2006. Mr. Cornell is a managing director in the Principal Investment Area of Goldman, Sachs & Co., which he joined in 1984. He is a member of the Investment Committee of the Principal Investment Area of Goldman, Sachs & Co. Mr. Cornell also serves on the board of directors of The First Marblehead Corporation and Knight Inc. Mr. Cornell received a B.A. from Grinnell College and a J.D. from New York Law School.

Christopher A.S. Crampton has been a member of our board of directors since January 31, 2007. He is currently a vice president in the Principal Investment Area of Goldman, Sachs & Co., which he joined in 2003. From 2000 to 2003, he worked in the investment banking division of Deutsche Banc Alex. Brown. He is a graduate of Princeton University.

John F. Daly has been a member of our board of directors since January 31, 2007. Mr. Daly is a managing director in the Principal Investment Area of Goldman Sachs, where he has worked since 2000. In 1998 and from 1999 to 2000, he was a member of the Investment Banking Division of Goldman Sachs. From 1991 to 1997, Mr. Daly was a Senior Instructor of Mechanical & Aerospace Engineering at Case Western Reserve University. He earned a B.S. and M.S. in Engineering from Case Western Reserve University and an M.B.A. from the Wharton School of Business. Mr. Daly currently serves as a director of Cooper-Standard Automotive Inc. and Hawker Beechcraft, Inc.

Harry K. Hornish, Jr. has been a member of our board of directors since October 31, 2007. From October 2002 to November 2005, he was the president and chief executive officer of National Waterworks, Inc., a distributor of products used to build, repair and maintain water and wastewater transmission systems. Mr. Hornish retired in November 2005. Prior to joining National Waterworks, Mr. Hornish was the president and chief operating officer of U.S. Filter Distribution Group, Inc. since February 1998 and also served as the executive vice president of U.S. Filter Distribution from its inception in 1996 until February 1998. Prior to serving at U.S. Filter Distribution Group, Mr. Hornish was the president and chief executive officer of The Utility Supply Group, Inc., which was acquired by U.S. Filter Distribution Group in 1996 after it was spun off from CertainTeed Corporation in 1994. Mr. Hornish was employed at CertainTeed Corporation from 1987 to 1994, where he held executive positions in both the Building Materials and the Utility Supply divisions. His early career included several sales, marketing, and senior management positions with the distribution division of Owens Corning Fiberglas. He is currently a member of the board of directors of Underground Solutions, Inc., a provider of infrastructure technologies for water and sewer applications, and Generac Corp., a manufacturer of standby and prime power generators. Mr. Hornish received a B.A. in political science from Marshall University.

Sam B. Rovit has been a member of our board of directors since June 2008. Mr. Rovit was also a member of the board of directors of McJunkin Corporation from 2001 until January 2007. Mr. Rovit is a partner at Bain Corporate Renewal Group, a unit of Bain & Company which provides turnaround services. Mr. Rovit joined the Bain Corporate Renewal Group in January 2008 and was a partner at Bain & Company from 1989 to June 2005. From July 2005 to June 2007, he was the president and CEO of Swift & Co., a meat processing company. Mr. Rovit earned an M.B.A. from Harvard Business School and a Master of Arts in law and diplomacy from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University where he studied military strategy and international business. He received a bachelor's degree in Public Policy from Duke University.

H.B. Wehrle, III has been a member of our board of directors since January 31, 2007. He served as our president and chief executive officer from January 31, 2007 to October 30, 2007. From October 31, 2007 to May 2008, Mr. Wehrle served as co-president and co-chief executive officer of McJunkin Red Man Corporation, and from May 2008 until September 2008 he served as chairman of our board of directors. Mr. Wehrle began his career with McJunkin Corporation in 1973 in sales. He subsequently served as treasurer and was later promoted to executive vice president. He was elected president of McJunkin Corporation in 1987. Mr. Wehrle graduated from Princeton University and received an M.B.A. from Georgia State University. He is affiliated with the American Supply Association and the Young Presidents' Organization. He serves on the boards of the Central WV Regional Airport Authority, the Mid-Atlantic Technology, Research and Innovation Center and the National Institute for Chemical Studies in Charleston, West Virginia. He also serves on the board of the Mountain Company in Parkersburg, West Virginia. H.B. Wehrle, III is the brother of Stephen D. Wehrle, our executive vice president — branch sales and operations.

Each of our directors, except for Andrew Lane, is also a director of PVF Holdings LLC, the selling stockholder in this offering. Mr. Wehrle, one of our directors, is chairman of PVF Holdings LLC.

Board of Directors

Our board of directors consists of nine members. The current directors are included above. Our directors are elected annually to serve until the next annual meeting of stockholders or until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

Prior to the completion of this offering, our board will establish an audit committee and a compensation committee. Our board of directors has determined that we are a "controlled company" under the rules of the New York Stock Exchange and, as a result, will qualify for, and may rely on, exemptions from certain corporate governance requirements of the New York Stock Exchange. Pursuant to the "controlled company" exception to the board of directors and committee composition requirements, we will be exempt from the rules that require that (a) our board of directors be comprised of a majority of "independent directors", (b) our compensation committee be comprised solely of "independent directors" and (c) we establish a nominating and corporate governance committee comprised solely of "independent directors" as defined under the rules of the New York Stock Exchange. The "controlled company" exception does not modify the independence requirements for the audit committee, and we intend to comply with the audit committee requirements of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and the New York Stock Exchange, which require that our audit committee be composed of at least one independent director at the closing of this offering, a majority of independent directors within 90 days of this offering and all independent directors within a year of this offering.

Audit Committee. Our audit committee will be comprised of , , and . will be chairman of the audit committee. Our board of directors has determined that qualifies as an "audit committee financial expert". The audit committee's responsibilities will be to assist the board of directors in monitoring our financial reporting process, accounting functions and internal controls; to oversee the qualifications, independence, appointment, retention, compensation and performance of our independent registered public accounting firm; to recommend to the board of directors the engagement of our independent accountants; to review with the independent accountants the plans and results of the auditing engagement; and to oversee "whistle-blowing" procedures and certain other compliance matters.

Compensation Committee. Our compensation committee will be comprised of , , and . will be chairman of the compensation committee. The principal responsibilities of the compensation committee will be to establish policies and periodically determine matters involving executive compensation, recommend changes in employee benefit programs, grant or recommend the grant of stock options and stock awards and provide counsel regarding key personnel selection. See "— Executive Compensation— Compensation Discussion and Analysis".

Executive Compensation

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

Introduction

Prior to this offering, the company has been privately owned. On January 31, 2007, the Goldman Sachs Funds acquired a controlling interest in McJunkin. In October 2007, McJunkin and Red Man entered into a business combination transaction to form the combined company, McJunkin Red Man Corporation. The Goldman Sachs Funds are part of Goldman Sachs' Principal Investment Area, one of the world's largest private equity and mezzanine investors. The overriding objective of our owners and management prior to this offering has been to increase the economic value and size of the company during the period of ownership. Our compensation philosophy has been primarily designed to support achieving that objective. In addition, compensation decisions during 2007 and 2008 have been made with an eye toward successfully integrating the compensation programs of McJunkin and Red Man.

To date, the compensation committee of the board of directors of PVF Holdings LLC (our controlling stockholder, with over 98% of our common stock prior to this offering) has overseen companywide compensation practices, reviewed, developed and administered executive compensation programs and made recommendations to the board of directors of PVF Holdings LLC on compensation matters. Harry K. Hornish, Peter C. Boylan, III and John F. Daly serve as members of this committee. In addition, the compensation committee of the board of directors of the company, which, during fiscal year 2007 was also composed of Messrs. Boylan, Hornish and Daly, has overseen and made recommendations to the board of directors of the company on compensation matters specific to the company. With respect to compensation matters, in general, each compensation committee makes recommendations to its corresponding full board of directors, and each board of directors has final decision-making authority. However, with respect to certain compensation policies or plans, the boards of directors of PVF Holdings LLC and the company may delegate to their respective compensation committees the authority to make decisions. In August 2008, the board of directors of the company delegated the authority to its compensation committee to administer the company's stock option and restricted stock plans.

Each compensation committee has established an advisory group that develops recommendations and proposals. Each advisory group consists of Craig Ketchum (the chairman of our board of directors), H.B. Wehrle, III (a member of our board of directors), James F. Underhill (our chief financial officer), David Lewis (our senior vice president of human resources), Diana Morris (our vice president of investor relations, payroll and benefits) and Russ Hoos (our vice president of human resources). Andrew Lane, our current chief executive officer, will serve as chairman of these advisory groups. The advisory group will continue to advise the compensation committee of the company following this offering. The compensation committees of PVF Holdings LLC and the company hold meetings on the same days on which meetings of the boards of directors are held and at other times as needed.

The compensation committee of PVF Holdings LLC has historically:

- Reviewed both performance and compensation to ensure that the company maintains its ability to attract and retain superior executives in key positions and that the compensation provided to those employees is competitive with the compensation paid to similarly situated executives at our peer companies;
- Reviewed and authorized the company to enter into employment, severance and other compensation agreements with senior executives;

- Administered the McJunkin Red Man Corporation Variable Compensation Plan (a general bonus plan), the Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. Retirement Savings Plan, the McJunkin Corporation Profit-Sharing and Savings Plan and Trust and the McJunkin Red Man Non-Qualified Deferred Compensation Plan;
- Performed such duties and responsibilities as may be assigned by our board of directors under the terms of any other executive compensation plan and/or with respect to the issuance and management of profits units and common units in PVF Holdings LLC; and
- Reviewed and established perquisites and employee benefits policies.

Following this offering, the compensation committee of the company will generally take over the duties of the compensation committee of PVF Holdings LLC. For purposes of this Compensation Discussion and Analysis, “board of directors” and “compensation committee” refer to the board of directors and the compensation committee of PVF Holdings LLC unless otherwise specified. We do not expect our overall compensation philosophy to materially change as a result of the compensation committee of the company taking over these compensation-related duties.

Compensation Philosophy and Objectives

Our compensation committee believes that our executive compensation program should be structured to reward the achievement of specific annual, long-term and strategic performance goals of the company. The executive compensation philosophy of the compensation committee is threefold:

- To align the interests of executive officers with those of our shareholders, thereby providing long-term economic benefit to the company’s shareholders;
- To provide competitive financial incentives in the form of salary, bonus and benefits, with the goal of attracting and retaining talented executive officers; and
- To maintain a compensation program whereby executive officers who demonstrate exceptional performance will have the opportunity to realize appropriate economic rewards.

Following this offering, our executive compensation program will continue to be structured to ensure an appropriate balance between compensation and the company’s financial performance and shareholder returns, as well as between short-term and long-term performance.

Setting Executive Compensation

Role of the Compensation Committee

The compensation committee has established annual and long-term cash and equity programs to motivate our executive officers to achieve the business goals established by the company. In addition to considering our philosophy and objectives, the compensation committee considered the pre-acquisition compensation packages of executive officers of McJunkin and Red Man and their interests in PVF Holdings LLC through equity rollovers and co-investments in establishing our compensation program. Based on these factors, the compensation committee devised a compensation program designed to keep our executive officers highly incentivized.

Role of Executive Officers

During 2007, H.B. Wehrle, III and Craig Ketchum (each of whom served as chief executive officer), consulted with the compensation committee regularly with respect to executive compensation. Messrs. H.B. Wehrle and Ketchum made recommendations to the compensation committee regarding the total compensation packages for executive officers (except with respect to their own compensation as chief executive officers), including the amount and form of compensation. These recommendations were presented to the compensation committee for review, input and approval, and the compensation committee either accepted or rejected such recommendations. The compensation packages of Messrs. H.B. Wehrle and Ketchum were negotiated in connection with the GS Acquisition and Red Man Transaction, respectively. The compensation package of our current chief executive officer, Andrew Lane, was negotiated as part of the company's offer of employment to Mr. Lane.

Role of Compensation Consultant

Due to the nature of our ownership, the compensation committee did not engage compensation consultants in connection with the determination of executive compensation in 2007. However, the company recently engaged Hewitt Associates, an outside global human resources consulting firm, to review our compensation program, including executive compensation. Hewitt Associates is expected to produce a report late this year in which the company's compensation program is compared to the compensation programs of a group of peer companies. To ensure that our compensation program remains competitive with those of our peers, we plan to continue to evaluate our program in connection with our review of the Hewitt Associates report and other relevant considerations.

Components of Executive Compensation

The individuals who served as our chief executive officer or chief financial officer in fiscal year 2007 and our next three most highly compensated executive officers serving as of December 31, 2007 were H.B. Wehrle, III, Craig Ketchum, James F. Underhill, David Fox, III, Dee Paige and Stephen D. Wehrle. In this prospectus, we refer to these individuals as our named executive officers. For the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007, the principal components of compensation for our named executive officers were:

- Base salary
- Short-term incentive compensation
- Long-term equity incentive compensation
- Retirement and other benefits
- Perquisites and other personal benefits

Base Salary

The company provides named executive officers and other employees with base salary to compensate them for services rendered during the fiscal year. Base salary for each named executive officer is determined based on his position and responsibility and on available market data. During its annual review of base salaries for executives, the compensation committee primarily considers each executive officer's individual performance and an internal review of the executive's compensation, both individually and as compared to that of other executive officers.

Short-term Incentive Compensation

McJunkin Red Man Corporation maintains an annual cash bonus plan, the Variable Compensation Plan. Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Underhill, Fox and S. Wehrle participated in this plan in fiscal year 2007 starting on February 1, 2007 following the GS Acquisition. Messrs. Ketchum and Paige began participating in this plan in fiscal year 2008. Each of the named executive officers has a target annual incentive bonus equal to 100% of annual base salary. The determination of awards pursuant to the plan depends on the achievement of two corporate performance objectives, one with respect to adjusted earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization ("Adjusted EBITDA") and the other with respect to return on net assets ("RONA"), the achievement of which constitutes

80% and 20% of annual awards, respectively. For fiscal year 2007, the Adjusted EBITDA and RONA goals for the heritage McJunkin Corporation under the Variable Compensation Plan were as follows:

Performance Level	Adjusted EBITDA	RONA	Percent of Target Award Payout
Threshold	$146,639,160	34.87%	5%
Target	$181,036,000	43.05%	100%
Maximum	$181,036,000	43.05%	100%

These annual performance goals were determined by a budgeting process that involved an examination of the company's markets, customers and general outlook and the setting of growth targets based on these factors. The fiscal year 2007 performance goals related solely to the performance of McJunkin, and excluded the performance of Red Man. Starting in fiscal year 2008, the performance goals will relate to the performance of the entire organization, not solely to that of McJunkin. No awards are payable under the plan unless at least 81% of the annual goal has been achieved. At 81% achievement, there is a payout of 5% of each participant's target annual incentive bonus; this payout increases in 5% increments for each additional percent of achievement up to full achievement of the annual goal. Upon full achievement of the annual goal, 100% of the target annual incentive bonus is paid, which is the maximum award possible under the plan. Performance measures are evaluated on an annual basis in connection with awards to the named executive officers.

As a result of McJunkin meeting its fiscal year 2007 performance goals, the named executive officers who participated in the plan during 2007 were paid 100% of their target annual incentive bonuses (with the exception of Mr. Fox, who earned 97.4% of his target Variable Compensation Plan award for this period), pro-rated to reflect participation for eleven months of the year. The amounts paid under this plan for performance in fiscal year 2007 are as follows: $632,500 for Mr. H.B. Wehrle, $412,500 for Mr. Underhill, $513,643 for Mr. Fox and $531,667 for Mr. S. Wehrle. As part of an agreement reached with Messrs. Ketchum and Paige in connection with the Red Man Transaction, they will be eligible to receive awards under the Variable Compensation Plan starting in 2008.

During Red Man's fiscal year ending on October 31, 2007, Messrs. Ketchum and Paige participated in the Red Man bonus plan. The Red Man bonus pool for fiscal 2007, when Red Man was a standalone company before the Red Man Transaction, was determined by senior management of Red Man based on Red Man's overall profitability, including pre-tax profitability and pre-LIFO (last-in, first-out) profitability, and was not determined based on a formulaic method. After the bonus pool was determined, senior management made a discretionary allocation to business unit leaders of the organization, based on senior management's assessment as to each business unit's contribution to overall profitability. Business unit leaders, in turn, made discretionary awards to the employees in their units. The amounts awarded to Messrs. Ketchum and Paige for fiscal year 2007 under this plan were determined by senior management in their discretion. These awards are set forth in the bonus column of the Summary Compensation Table below. On November 1, 2007 following the Red Man Transaction, executive vice presidents, senior vice presidents and other senior officers of Red Man (including Messrs. Ketchum and Paige) were integrated into the Variable Compensation Plan starting in fiscal year 2008. Certain employees of Red Man continue to participate in the Red Man bonus plan.

In addition to amounts earned by Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Underhill, Fox and S. Wehrle pursuant to the Variable Compensation Plan during fiscal year 2007, they also earned amounts pursuant to the pre-GS Acquisition McJunkin incentive plan for performance during January 2007. These amounts are as follows: $187,000 for Mr. H.B. Wehrle, $73,900 for Mr. Underhill, $127,264 for Mr. Fox and $177,650 for Mr. S. Wehrle. The McJunkin incentive plan is a formulaic plan, pursuant to which such amounts were earned based on the operating profitability of McJunkin. Senior vice presidents, vice presidents and other senior officers of McJunkin were integrated into the Variable Compensation Plan on February 1, 2007 following the GS Acquisition. Certain employees of McJunkin continue to participate in the McJunkin incentive plan.

Mr. H.B. Wehrle will no longer participate in the Variable Compensation Plan as of October 1, 2008, the date his employment agreement is scheduled to terminate pursuant to the letter agreement dated as of September 24, 2008 between Mr. H.B. Wehrle, PVF Holdings LLC and McJunkin Red Man Corporation (the "Letter Agreement").

Long-term Equity Incentive Compensation

Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Ketchum, Underhill, Paige and S. Wehrle have been awarded profits units, and Mr. Fox has been awarded restricted common units, each in respect of PVF Holdings LLC, the terms of which are described in Articles III and VII of the Limited Liability Company Agreement of McJ Holdings LLC (currently known as PVF Holdings LLC) (the "PVF LLC Agreement"). The profits units and restricted common units granted to the named executive officers have been granted pursuant to their employment agreements. Although Mr. H.B. Wehrle's employment agreement is scheduled to terminate on October 1, 2008, his profits units will continue to be governed pursuant to the terms of the Letter Agreement and the PVF LLC Agreement. Prior to this offering, PVF Holdings LLC owned over 98% of our common stock.

The named executive officers were not required to make any capital contribution in exchange for their profits units and restricted common units, which were awarded as compensation. Profits units have no voting rights, whereas restricted common units have voting rights with respect to that class of interests. PVF Holdings LLC may from time to time distribute its available cash to holders of common units and profits units. Distributions are made, first, to holders of common units (including restricted common units), pro rata in proportion to the number of such units outstanding at the time of distribution, until each holder has received an amount equal to such holder's aggregate capital contributions and, second, to holders of all units (including profits units) pro rata in proportion to the number of units outstanding at the time of such distribution. Distributions in respect of restricted common units, however, are held by the company until such restricted common units become vested and are no longer subject to forfeiture. Please see the table titled "Outstanding Equity Awards at 2007 Fiscal Year-End" below for the number of profits units and restricted common units held by the named executive officers as of December 31, 2007.

Pursuant to the PVF LLC Agreement, profits units and restricted common units generally become vested in one-third increments on each of the third, fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant. In the event of a termination of employment other than for "Cause" (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement), the named executive officers will forfeit all unvested profits units and restricted common units. All profits units and restricted common units, whether vested or unvested, will be forfeited upon a termination of the named executive officer's employment for Cause. In the event of a termination by reason of death or Disability (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement), all unvested profits units and restricted common units will be vested and nonforfeitable. The PVF LLC Agreement also specifies that profits units and restricted common units may be subject to more favorable vesting schedules if approved by the board of directors of PVF Holdings LLC.

The employment agreement of Mr. S. Wehrle provides for an alternative vesting schedule for his profits units, with such profits units vesting in equal installments on the fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant, which, for Mr. S. Wehrle, was January 31, 2007. Profits units held by Mr. S. Wehrle remain subject to the forfeiture provisions set forth in the PVF LLC Agreement with respect to a termination of employment other than for cause or by reason of death or Disability (as described in the previous paragraph). The vesting schedules of profits units held by Messrs. Underhill and Paige and restricted common units held by Mr. Fox are governed by the PVF LLC Agreement with respect to a termination due to death or Disability, but each of their employment agreements provides that in the event of the termination of Mr. Underhill's, Mr. Paige's or Mr. Fox's employment by McJunkin Red Man Corporation without "Cause" (as defined in the employment agreement) or by Mr. Underhill, Mr. Paige or Mr. Fox with "Good Reason" (as defined in the employment agreement), all of the profits units held by Messrs. Underhill and Paige and the restricted common units held by Mr. Fox will vest and no longer be subject to forfeiture. Messrs. Underhill and Paige will forfeit all vested and unvested profits units held by them in the event of a termination for Cause by McJunkin Red Man Corporation. With respect to restricted common units held by Mr. Fox, in the event that Mr. Fox is terminated for "Cause" (as defined in the employment agreement), Mr. Fox will not forfeit his restricted common units that are vested at the time of termination, but PVF Holdings LLC will have the opportunity to purchase vested restricted common units held by Mr. Fox at "Fair Market Value" (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement). In the event of a termination by reason of death or Disability, profits units and restricted common units held by Messrs. Underhill, Paige and Fox become vested in accordance with the PVF LLC Agreement. Profits units held by Messrs. H.B. Wehrle and Ketchum are fully vested and not subject to forfeiture under any circumstances, pursuant to Mr. H.B. Wehrle's Letter Agreement and Mr. Ketchum's employment agreement.

Profits units and restricted common units have been granted to the named executive officers in connection with the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction. The number of profits units and restricted common units awarded to the named executive officers has been determined based on various factors, including a consideration of what size award is required to adequately incentivize the executives (as part of the executives' overall compensation package), the extent to which the executives have invested in the company and, most notably, negotiations between executives and the company as part of the overall negotiations relating to the GS Acquisition and the Red Man Transaction.

Each of the named executive officers also holds common units in PVF Holdings LLC. On January 31, 2007, Messrs. H.B. Wehrle and S. Wehrle contributed shares of McJunkin and McJunkin Appalachian to PVF Holdings LLC in exchange for common units in PVF Holdings LLC and Mr. Fox contributed shares of McJunkin Appalachian to PVF Holdings LLC in exchange for common units in PVF Holdings LLC, which common units were subsequently transferred to a trust established by Mr. Fox. Also on January 31, 2007, Mr. Underhill purchased common units in PVF Holdings LLC. On October 31, 2007, Mr. Ketchum (through an LLC) contributed shares of Red Man to PVF Holdings LLC in exchange for common units in PVF Holdings LLC. In addition, Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Underhill and S. Wehrle purchased common units in PVF Holdings LLC on October 31, 2007. Mr. Paige purchased common units in PVF Holdings LLC on November 29, 2007. Common units held by the named executive officers were not awarded as part of their compensation. Please see the section titled "Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions — Transactions with Executive Officers and Directors — Investments in PVF Holdings LLC" below for a more detailed description of the common units and the number of common units held by each named executive officer.

The company also maintains a restricted stock plan and two stock option plans (one each for participants in the United States and Canada). Pursuant to these plans, awards of restricted stock and stock options may be granted to key employees, directors and consultants of the company. Generally, shares of restricted stock become vested in four installments on the second, third, fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant and stock options become vested in three installments on the third, fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant, each conditioned on continued employment and subject to accelerated vesting under certain circumstances. The named executive officers have not been granted any restricted stock or stock option awards due to their receipt of profits units and restricted common units in PVF Holdings LLC as part of their compensation packages and their participation in equity rollovers and co-investments.

In connection with the hiring of our new chief executive officer, Andrew Lane, on September 10, 2008, Mr. Lane purchased $3 million of our common stock and was granted stock options in respect of $31 million of our common stock. Mr. Lane's options will vest in equal installments on the second, third, fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant, each conditioned on continued employment and subject to accelerated vesting in the event of certain terminations of employment or the occurrence of a change in control (as defined in the employment agreement).

Retirement and Other Benefits

On December 31, 2007, the company adopted the McJunkin Red Man Corporation Deferred Compensation Plan. Under the terms of the plan, select members of management and highly compensated employees may defer receipt of a specified amount or percentage of cash compensation, including annual bonuses. The plan was adopted in part to compensate certain participants for benefits forgone in connection with the GS Acquisition. Each of the named executive officers currently participates in the plan with the exception of Mr. Paige. Mr. H.B. Wehrle will no longer be eligible to receive company contributions pursuant to this plan upon the termination of his employment agreement on October 1, 2008. McJunkin Red Man Corporation makes predetermined annual contributions to each participant's account, less any discretionary matching contributions made on behalf of the participant by the company to a defined contribution plan for such calendar year.

If a participant's account balance as of the beginning of a calendar year is less than $100,000, such balance will be credited quarterly with interest at the "Prime Rate" (as defined in the plan) plus 1%. If a participant's account balance at the beginning of a calendar year is $100,000 or greater, the participant may choose between being credited quarterly with interest at the Prime Rate plus 1% or having his or her account deemed converted into a number of phantom common units of PVF Holdings LLC. If no investment election is made, a participant's account will be credited quarterly with interest at the Prime Rate plus 1%. Mr. H.B. Wehrle, the only named executive officer with a balance in excess of $100,000 as of December 31, 2007, did not make this election. As of December 31, 2007, all existing participants were fully vested in their entire accounts, including contributions by McJunkin Red Man Corporation. People who become participants after December 31, 2007 will be fully vested in their elective deferral amounts and shall become vested in contributions by McJunkin Red Man Corporation as determined by the administrator of the plan. For additional information, please see the table titled "Nonqualified Deferred Compensation for 2007" below.

Participants receive the vested balance of their accounts, in cash, upon a "Separation from Service" (as defined in Section 409A ("Section 409A") of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code")). Such amount is paid in three annual installments (with interest) commencing on January 1 of the second calendar year following the calendar year in which the Separation from Service occurs. In the event of a participant's death or "Permanent Disability" (as defined in the plan), or upon a "Change in Control" (as defined in the plan) of McJunkin Red Man Corporation, the full amount of a participant's account, vested and unvested, shall be paid within 30 days following such event, to the participant's beneficiary in the case of death, or to the participant, in the case of Permanent Disability or a Change in Control. Notwithstanding the foregoing regarding the timing of payments, distributions to "specified employees" (as defined in Section 409A of the Code) may be required to be delayed in accordance with Section 409A of the Code.

Perquisites and Other Forms of Compensation

The company provides named executive officers with perquisites and other personal benefits that the company and the compensation committee believe are reasonable and consistent with its overall compensation program. The compensation committee reviews the perquisites and personal benefits provided to named executive officers to ensure the reasonableness of such programs. In addition to participation in the plans and programs described above, the named executive officers are provided use of company automobiles, club memberships and, in some cases, reimbursement of reasonable relocation expenses.

Each of the named executive officers has entered into an employment agreement with McJ Holding LLC (currently known as PVF Holdings LLC) and McJunkin Corporation (currently known as McJunkin Red Man Corporation) that contain provisions regarding severance payments and benefits. These agreements are designed to promote stability and continuity of senior management at the company. Mr. H.B. Wehrle's employment agreement is scheduled to terminate on October 1, 2008 in accordance with the Letter Agreement, which does not provide for severance payments or benefits under any circumstances. Additional information regarding payment under these severance provisions is provided below, in the section titled “Potential Payments Made Upon Termination or a Change in Control”.

Terminated Arrangements

In connection with the GS Acquisition, McJunkin terminated certain of its benefit plans, namely the McJunkin Supplemental Executive Savings Plan and Trust and deferred compensation arrangements entered into by McJunkin with certain executives. The McJunkin Supplemental Executive Savings Plan and Trust was a non-qualified deferred compensation plan designed to provide executives with supplemental retirement benefits in addition to the benefits provided under McJunkin’s qualified retirement plan, which were limited by applicable law. The deferred compensation arrangements were arrangements between McJunkin and certain executives that provided for supplemental retirement benefits, which were calculated as a percentage of five year average earnings. Each of these plans was terminated on January 31, 2007 in connection with the GS Acquisition. Participants have received full distribution of benefits under each of these plans.

Tax and Accounting Implications

Deductibility of Executive Compensation

Upon completion of the initial public offering, Section 162(m) of the Code will limit the deductibility of compensation in excess of $1 million paid out to any of our executive officers unless specific and detailed criteria are satisfied. We believe that it is in the company’s best interest to deduct compensation paid to our executive officers. We will consider the anticipated tax treatment to the company and our executive officers in the review and determination of compensation payments and incentives. We believe that the compensation that historically has been paid and that will be paid will meet the criteria and will be deductible. It will be the intent of the company to preserve the deductibility of compensation payments. No assurance, however, can be given that compensation will be fully deductible under Section 162(m) of the Code.

Nonqualified Deferred Compensation

All deferred compensation arrangements have been structured in a manner intended to comply with Section 409A of the Code.

Compensation Committee Report

The compensation committee reviewed and discussed the Compensation Discussion and Analysis required by Item 402(b) of Regulation S-K with management and, based on such review and discussions, the compensation committee recommended to the company’s board of directors that the Compensation Discussion and Analysis be included in this Registration Statement.

Summary Compensation Table for 2007

The following table sets forth certain information with respect to compensation earned during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007 for all individuals who served as our chief executive officer and our chief financial officer during fiscal year 2007, and our next three most highly compensated executive officers serving as of December 31, 2007. In this prospectus, we refer to these individuals as our named executive officers.

(1) For Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Underhill, Fox and S. Wehrle, these amounts represent the base salary paid to them by McJunkin for service during 2007, both prior to and following the GS Acquisition. Messrs. Ketchum and Paige became employed by McJunkin Red Man Corporation on October 31, 2007 in connection with the Red Man Transaction. For Messrs. Ketchum and Paige, these amounts represent the base salary paid to them for service during 2007, by Red Man prior to the Red Man Transaction and by McJunkin Red Man Corporation thereafter.

(2) These numbers reflect the amount recognized for financial statement reporting purposes in accordance with FAS 123R for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 with respect to profits units in PVF Holdings LLC held by Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Ketchum, Underhill, Paige and S. Wehrle and restricted common units in PVF Holdings LLC held by Mr. Fox. A discussion of the assumptions underlying the valuation of these profits units is provided in Note 9 to our audited financial statements for the eleven months ending December 31, 2007, included elsewhere in this prospectus.

(3) These amounts represent cash awards earned pursuant to the Variable Compensation Plan in respect of performance during the 2007 fiscal year. As a result of McJunkin meeting its fiscal year 2007 performance goals, the named executive officers who participated in the plan in 2007 were paid 100% of their target annual incentive bonuses (with the exception of Mr. Fox, who earned 97.4% of his target Variable Compensation Plan award for this period), pro-rated to reflect participation during eleven months of the year. Amounts paid under the Variable Compensation Plan for 2007 performance are as follows: $632,500 for

Mr. H.B. Wehrle, $412,500 for Mr. Underhill, $513,643 for Mr. Fox and $531,667 for Mr. S. Wehrle. Messrs. Ketchum and Paige will be eligible to earn awards under the Variable Compensation Plan starting in fiscal year 2008. Please refer to the Compensation Discussion and Analysis and the narrative following the "Grants of Plan-Based Awards in Fiscal Year 2007" table for a discussion of the 2007 performance goals. Amounts in this column also include amounts earned under the pre-GS-Acquisition McJunkin bonus plan for performance during the month of January 2007, in the amounts as follows: $187,000 for Mr. H.B. Wehrle, $73,900 for Mr. Underhill, $127,264 for Mr. Fox and $177,650 for Mr. S. Wehrle.

(4) Mr. H.B. Wehrle was sole president and chief executive officer of McJunkin during 2007 until October 30, 2007 and co-president and co-chief executive officer with Mr. Ketchum from October 31, 2007 until May 6, 2008. On May 7, 2008, Mr. Ketchum became sole president and chief executive officer.

(5) This amount includes (i) a contribution by McJunkin Red Man Corporation of $110,000 to Mr. H.B. Wehrle's nonqualified deferred compensation plan account; (ii) a $49,293 contribution made by McJunkin Red Man Corporation with respect to January 2007 contributions due under the McJunkin Supplemental Executive Savings Plan and Trust, which was terminated in connection with the GS Acquisition; (iii) a $21,224 contribution made by McJunkin Red Man Corporation with respect to January 2007 contributions due under a pre-GS Acquisition McJunkin deferred compensation arrangement, which was terminated in connection with the GS Acquisition; (iv) with respect to the McJunkin Corporation Profit-Sharing and Savings Plan, $35,000 representing profit sharing and salary deferral matching contributions made by McJunkin Red Man Corporation; (v) $19,620 attributable to a company-provided automobile; and (vi) $7,725 with respect to country club dues paid by McJunkin Red Man Corporation on behalf of Mr. H.B. Wehrle.

(6) Mr. Ketchum became co-president and co-chief executive officer of McJunkin Red Man Corporation on October 31, 2007 in connection with the Red Man Transaction. Mr. Ketchum served as sole president and chief executive officer from May 7, 2008 until September 9, 2008. On September 10, 2008 Mr. Ketchum became chairman of our board of directors when Andrew Lane was hired to serve as our chief executive officer.

(7) This amount represents the annual bonus paid to Mr. Ketchum pursuant to the Red Man bonus plan for performance during the fiscal year ended October 31, 2007.

(8) This amount includes (i) a contribution by McJunkin Red Man Corporation of $20,000 to Mr. Ketchum's nonqualified deferred compensation plan account; (ii) with respect to the Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. Retirement Savings Plan, $10,338 representing a salary deferral match contribution; (iii) $5,600 attributable to a company-provided automobile, a portion of which was paid by Red Man prior to the Red Man Transaction and a portion of which was paid by McJunkin Red Man Corporation following the Red Man Transaction; and (iv) $7,748 with respect to country club dues paid on behalf of Mr. Ketchum, a portion of which was paid by Red Man prior to the Red Man Transaction and a portion of which was paid by McJunkin Red Man Corporation following the Red Man Transaction.

(9) In connection with the consummation of the GS Acquisition, Mr. Underhill received a $750,000 transaction bonus, to be paid in installments, and conditioned on Mr. Underhill's continued service through each respective payment date. This amount represents the portion of Mr. Underhill's transaction bonus earned in 2007.

(10) This amount includes (i) a contribution by McJunkin Red Man Corporation of $64,167 to Mr. Underhill's nonqualified deferred compensation plan account; (ii) a $10,861 contribution made by McJunkin Red Man Corporation with respect to January 2007 contributions due under the McJunkin Supplemental Executive Savings Plan and Trust, which was terminated in connection with the GS Acquisition; (iii) with respect to the McJunkin Corporation Profit-Sharing and Savings Plan, $35,000 representing profit sharing and salary deferral matching contributions made by McJunkin Red Man Corporation; (iv) $12,948 attributable to a company-provided automobile; and (v) $4,254 with respect to country club dues paid by McJunkin Red Man Corporation on behalf of Mr. Underhill.

(11) This amount includes (i) a payment of $2,480,000 to Mr. Fox in connection with the GS Acquisition as a gross-up for taxes in respect of restricted common units in PVF Holdings LLC granted to Mr. Fox; (ii) a contribution by McJunkin Red Man Corporation of $91,666 to Mr. Fox's nonqualified deferred compensation plan account; (iii) a $15,705 contribution made by McJunkin Red Man Corporation with respect to January 2007 contributions due under the McJunkin Supplemental Executive Savings Plan and Trust, which was terminated in connection with the GS Acquisition; (iv) with respect to the McJunkin Corporation Profit-

Sharing and Savings Plan, $35,000 representing profit sharing and salary deferral matching contributions made by McJunkin Red Man Corporation; (v) $12,948 attributable to a company-provided automobile; and (vi) $3,611 with respect to country club dues paid by McJunkin Red Man Corporation on behalf of Mr. Fox.

(12) This amount represents (i) a $500,000 payment to Mr. Paige pursuant to the Red Man bonus plan for performance during the fiscal year ended October 31, 2007 and (ii) a $700,000 transaction bonus paid to Mr. Paige by Red Man in connection with the Red Man Transaction.

(13) This amount includes (i) a payment of $436,867 by PVF Holdings LLC to Mr. Paige on January 12, 2008 in partial settlement of phantom shares in Red Man surrendered by Mr. Paige plus interest, to which Mr. Paige became entitled as a result of services performed in 2007; (ii) with respect to the Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. Retirement Savings Plan, $7,831 representing a salary deferral match contribution; and (iii) $4,809 with respect to country club dues paid on behalf of Mr. Paige, a portion of which was paid by Red Man prior to the Red Man Transaction and a portion of which was paid by McJunkin Red Man Corporation following the Red Man Transaction.

(14) This amount includes (i) a contribution by McJunkin Red Man Corporation of $82,500 to Mr. S. Wehrle's nonqualified deferred compensation plan account; (ii) a $46,433 contribution made by McJunkin Red Man Corporation with respect to January 2007 contributions due under the McJunkin Supplemental Executive Savings Plan and Trust, which was terminated in connection with the GS Acquisition; (iii) a $17,459 contribution made by McJunkin Red Man Corporation with respect to January 2007 contributions due under a pre-GS Acquisition McJunkin deferred compensation arrangement, which was terminated in connection with the GS Acquisition; (iv) with respect to the McJunkin Corporation Profit-Sharing and Savings Plan, $35,000 representing profit sharing and salary deferral matching contributions, made by McJunkin Red Man Corporation; (v) $22,736 attributable to a company-provided automobile; and (vi) $4,221 with respect to country club dues paid by McJunkin Red Man Corporation on behalf of Mr. S. Wehrle.

Grants of Plan-Based Awards in Fiscal Year 2007

(1) These are the grant dates for the awards set forth in the sixth column of this table.

(2) Under the Variable Compensation Plan, no awards are payable unless there is at least 81% achievement of the annual performance goals, which are comprised of Adjusted EBITDA and RONA, during the relevant fiscal year. At 81% achievement, there is a payout of 5% of participants' target annual incentive bonus. The named executive officers, except for Messrs. Ketchum and Paige, began participating in the Variable Compensation Plan on February 1, 2007. As a result, the amounts in this column reflect 5% of each named executive officer's target annual incentive bonus that would have been paid upon 81% achievement of the performance goals, pro-rated to reflect participation during eleven months of the year. If the named executive officers had participated in the Variable Compensation Plan during the entire 2007 year, threshold payouts would have been as follows: $34,500 for Mr. H.B. Wehrle, $22,500 for Mr. Underhill, $28,750 for Mr. Fox and $29,000 for Mr. S. Wehrle.

(3) Payout under the Variable Compensation Plan increases in 5% increments for each additional percent of achievement beyond 81% up to full achievement of the annual goal. Upon full achievement of the annual goal, 100% of the target annual incentive bonus is paid, which is the maximum award possible under the plan. In 2007, 100% of the performance goals were attained (for all named executive officers other than Mr. Fox). The amounts in these columns reflect 100% of the named executive officers' target annual incentive bonuses for 2007, pro-rated to reflect participation for eleven months of the year. These amounts are also the maximum payouts possible under the Variable Compensation Plan for 2007. If the named executive officers had participated in the Variable Compensation Plan during the entire 2007 year, target and maximum payouts would have been as follows: $690,000 for Mr. H.B. Wehrle, $450,000 for Mr. Underhill, $575,000 for Mr. Fox and $580,000 for Mr. S. Wehrle. Please refer to the Compensation Discussion and Analysis and the narrative following the “Grants of Plan-Based Awards in Fiscal Year 2007” for a discussion of the specific 2007 performance goals.

(4) For Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Ketchum, Underhill, Paige and S. Wehrle, these amounts reflect the number of profits units in PVF Holdings LLC granted under the PVF LLC Agreement during 2007. For Mr. Fox, this amount reflects the number of restricted common units in PVF Holdings LLC granted under the PVF LLC Agreement during 2007. Pursuant to the PVF LLC Agreement, profits units and restricted common units generally become vested in equal increments on each of the third, fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant subject to accelerated vesting under certain circumstances, but may be subject to more favorable vesting schedules if approved by the board of directors of PVF Holdings LLC. The employment agreements for Mr. S. Wehrle provides that his profits units become vested in equal increments on each of the fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant. Profits units held by Messrs. Underhill and Paige and restricted common units held by Mr. Fox become vested in accordance with the terms of the PVF LLC Agreement, but each of their employment agreements provides that if, at any time, Mr. Underhill, Mr. Paige or Mr. Fox terminates his employment with Good Reason (as defined in the employment agreement) or McJunkin Red Man Corporation terminates Mr. Underhill’s, Mr. Paige’s or Mr. Fox’s employment without Cause (as defined in the employment agreement), all profits units and restricted common units held by them shall become vested. With respect to restricted common units held by Mr. Fox, in the event that Mr. Fox is terminated for “Cause” (as defined in the employment agreement), Mr. Fox will not forfeit his restricted common units that are vested at the time of termination, but PVF Holdings LLC will have the opportunity to purchase vested restricted common units held by Mr. Fox at “Fair Market Value” (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement). Profits units held by Messrs. H.B. Wehrle and Ketchum are fully vested and not subject to forfeiture under any circumstances, pursuant to Mr. H.B. Wehrle’s Letter Agreement and Mr. Ketchum’s employment agreement.

(5) These amounts represent the grant date fair value, computed in accordance with FAS 123R, of profits units (for Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Ketchum, Underhill, Paige and S. Wehrle) and restricted common units (for Mr. Fox) in PVF Holdings LLC granted to the named executive officers in 2007. A discussion of the assumptions underlying the valuation is provided in Note 9 to our audited financial statements for the eleven months ending December 31, 2007, included elsewhere in this prospectus.

(6) Messrs. Ketchum and Paige will be eligible to receive awards under the Variable Compensation Plan beginning in fiscal year 2008.

Employment Agreements

Named Executive Officers

Each of the named executive officers entered into an employment agreement with McJ Holding LLC (currently known as PVF Holdings LLC) and McJunkin Corporation (currently known as McJunkin Red Man Corporation) or McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation. Mr. Ketchum entered into an amended and restated employment agreement with McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation on September 26, 2008. The employment agreements among McJ Holding LLC, McJunkin Corporation and Mr. Underhill, Mr. Fox and Mr. S. Wehrle were entered into on December 4, 2006 with an effective date of January 31, 2007. The employment agreement among McJ Holding LLC, McJunkin Corporation and Mr. Paige was entered into and became effective on October 31, 2007. The employment agreement among McJ Holding LLC, McJunkin Corporation and Mr. H.B. Wehrle was entered into on December 4, 2006, became effective on January 31, 2007, and is scheduled to terminate on October 1, 2008 pursuant to the Letter Agreement. The description of the employment agreements in the following paragraph includes a description of Mr. H.B. Wehrle’s employment agreement in order to assist in understanding the information presented in the Summary Compensation Table and Grants of Plan-Based Awards Table.

Each of the employment agreements has a term of three years and provides for an initial annual base salary to be reviewed annually and which may be adjusted upward at the discretion of the board of directors of McJunkin Red Man Corporation (or a committee thereof). Messrs. H.B. Wehrle's and Ketchum's initial base salaries are each $690,000, Mr. Underhill's is $450,000, Mr. Fox's is $575,000, Mr. Paige's is $338,750 and Mr. S. Wehrle's is $580,000. The employment agreements also provide for an annual cash bonus to be based upon such individual and/or company performance criteria to be established for each respective fiscal year by the board of directors of McJunkin Red Man Corporation in consultation with the chief executive officer. The target annual cash bonus for each named executive officer is equal to 100% of their respective base salaries in effect at the beginning of the relevant fiscal year. Participation in the Variable Compensation Plan began on February 1, 2007 for Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Underhill, Fox and S. Wehrle and will begin in fiscal year 2008 for Messrs. Ketchum and Paige.

The employment agreements provide for certain severance payments and benefits following a termination of employment under certain circumstances. These benefits are described below in the section titled "Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change in Control".

Andrew Lane

On September 10, 2008, we entered into an employment agreement with Andrew Lane as our new chief executive officer and as a member of our board of directors. The employment agreement has a term of five years, which will automatically be extended on the fifth anniversary of September 10, 2008, the effective date of the agreement, and each subsequent anniversary thereof for one year unless ninety days written notice of non-extension is given by Mr. Lane or us to the other party. The employment agreement provides for an initial base salary of $700,000 to be reviewed annually and which may be adjusted upward at the discretion of the board of directors (or a committee thereof), and an annual cash bonus to be based upon such individual and/or company performance criteria to be established for each respective fiscal year by our board of directors, with a target annual bonus of 100% of Mr. Lane's base salary in effect at the beginning of such fiscal year. As provided for in the employment agreement, Mr. Lane purchased $3 million of our common stock and was granted options in respect of $31 million of our common stock.

If Mr. Lane's employment is terminated during the term by us other than for cause or disability (as each is defined in the employment agreement), or by Mr. Lane for good reason (as defined in the employment agreement), Mr. Lane shall be entitled to: (i) compensation and benefits accrued but unpaid as of the termination date (the "Accrued Amounts"), (ii) a pro-rata bonus for the year in which termination occurs ("Pro-Rata Bonus"), (iii) a payment equal to $^1/_{12}$ of base salary and $^1/_{12}$ target annual bonus each month for eighteen months following termination, (iv) continuation of medical benefits for eighteen months on the same terms as senior executives of the company and (v) pro-rata vesting of Mr. Lane's outstanding stock options, in accordance with the terms of the employment agreement ("Pro-Rata Option Vesting"). All of the foregoing benefits shall be subject to (i) the execution of a general release, (ii) compliance with restrictive covenants and (iii) any required delay of payment under Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code. If Mr. Lane's employment is terminated during the term by reason of his death or disability, Mr. Lane (or his estate, if applicable), will receive (i) the Accrued Amounts, (ii) a Pro-Rata Bonus and (iii) Pro-Rata Option Vesting. Mr. Lane is subject to covenants prohibiting competition, solicitation of customers and employees and interference with business relationships during his employment and for eighteen months thereafter, and is also subject to perpetual restrictive covenants regarding confidentiality, non-disparagement and proprietary rights.

H.B. Wehrle, III

On September 24, 2008, Mr. H.B. Wehrle, PVF Holdings LLC and McJunkin Red Man Corporation entered into the Letter Agreement, pursuant to which Mr. H.B. Wehrle's employment agreement will terminate by mutual agreement on October 1, 2008. Pursuant to the Letter Agreement, Mr. H.B. Wehrle will be paid an amount equal to approximately $2,281,396, which represents the value of all amounts to which he would have become entitled during the remaining term of his employment agreement. Also pursuant to the Letter Agreement, Mr. H.B. Wehrle will continue to hold his profits units in accordance with the terms of the Letter Agreement and the PVF LLC Agreement. Also on September 24, 2008, Mr. H.B. Wehrle executed a release of claims in favor of the company and its affiliates.

Profits Units and Restricted Common Units

Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Ketchum, Underhill, Paige and S. Wehrle have been awarded profits units and Mr. Fox has been awarded restricted common units, each in respect of PVF Holdings LLC, the terms of which are described in Articles III and VII of the PVF LLC Agreement. Profits units have no voting rights, whereas restricted common units have voting rights with respect to that class of interests. PVF Holdings LLC may from time to time distribute its available cash to holders of common units and profits units. Distributions are made, first, to holders of common units (including restricted common units), pro rata in proportion to the number of such units outstanding at the time of distribution, until each holder has received an amount equal to such holder's aggregate capital contributions and, second, to holders of all units (including profits units) pro rata in proportion to the number of units outstanding at the time of such distribution. Distributions in respect of restricted common units, however, are held by the company until such time as such restricted common units become vested and are no longer subject to forfeiture.

Pursuant to the PVF LLC Agreement, profits units and restricted common units generally become vested in equal increments on each of the third, fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant. In the event of a termination of employment other than for "Cause" (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement), the named executive officers will forfeit all unvested profits units and restricted common units. All profits units and restricted common units, whether vested or unvested, will be forfeited upon a termination of the named executive officers' employment for Cause. In the event of a termination by reason of death or Disability, all unvested profits units and restricted common units would become vested. The PVF LLC Agreement also specifies that profits units and restricted common units may be subject to more favorable vesting schedules if approved by the board of directors of PVF Holdings LLC.

The employment agreement of Mr. S. Wehrle provides for an alternative vesting schedules for their profits units, which will become vested in equal installments on the fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant, which was January 31, 2007. Profits units held by S. Wehrle remain subject to the forfeiture provisions set forth in the PVF LLC Agreement with respect to a termination of employment other than for cause or by reason of death or Disability (as described in the previous paragraph). The vesting schedules of profits units held by Messrs. Underhill and Paige and restricted common units held by Mr. Fox are governed by the PVF LLC Agreement, but each of their employment agreements provides that in the event of a termination of Mr. Underhill's, Mr. Paige's or Mr. Fox's employment by McJunkin Red Man Corporation without "Cause" (as defined in the employment agreement) or by Mr. Underhill, Mr. Paige or Mr. Fox with "Good Reason" (as defined in the employment agreement), all of the profits units and restricted common units held by them will vest and no longer be subject to forfeiture. Messrs. Underhill and Paige will forfeit all vested and unvested profits units held by them in the event of a termination for Cause by McJunkin Red Man Corporation. With respect to restricted common units held by Mr. Fox, in the event that Mr. Fox is terminated for "Cause" (as defined in the employment agreement), Mr. Fox will not forfeit his restricted common units that are vested at the time of termination, but PVF Holdings LLC will have the opportunity to purchase vested restricted common units held by Mr. Fox at "Fair Market Value" (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement). In the event of a termination by reason of death or Disability, profits units and restricted common units held by Messrs. Underhill, Paige and Fox become vested in accordance with the PVF LLC Agreement. Profits units held by Messrs. H.B. Wehrle and Ketchum are fully vested and not subject to forfeiture under any circumstances, pursuant to Mr. H.B. Wehrle's Letter Agreement and Mr. Ketchum's employment agreement.

Variable Compensation Plan

McJunkin Red Man Corporation maintains an annual cash bonus plan, the Variable Compensation Plan. Each of the named executive officers participates in this plan and has a target annual incentive bonus equal to 100% of his annual base salary. The determination of awards pursuant to the plan depends upon the achievement of two corporate performance measures, Adjusted EBITDA and RONA, the achievement of which constitutes 80% and 20% of annual awards, respectively. These performance measures are evaluated on an annual basis in connection with awards to the named executive officers. No awards are payable under the plan unless at least 81% of the annual goal has been achieved. At 81% achievement, there is a payout of 5% of each participant's target annual incentive bonus; this payout increases in 5% increments for each additional percent of achievement up to full achievement of the annual goal. Upon full achievement of the annual goal, 100% of the target annual incentive bonus is paid, which is the maximum award possible under the plan.

Starting on February 1, 2007, following the GS Acquisition, Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Underhill, Fox and S. Wehrle participated in this plan. Messrs. Ketchum and Paige, who joined the company on October 31, 2007, will be eligible to receive awards under the plan starting in fiscal year 2008. During the 2007 fiscal year, the performance goals were Adjusted EBITDA of $181,036,000 and RONA of 43.05%. These 2007 performance goals related solely to the performance of McJunkin Red Man Corporation, and excludes the performance of Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. As a result of McJunkin meeting its performance goals, the named executive officers who participated in the plan during 2007 were paid 100% of their target annual incentive bonus (with the exception of Mr. Fox, who earned 97.4% of his target Variable Compensation Plan award for this period), pro-rated to reflect participation for eleven months of the year. Amounts earned by the named executive officers under this plan in 2007 were as follows: $632,500 for Mr. H.B. Wehrle, $412,5000 for Mr. Underhill, $513,643 for Mr. Fox and $531,667 for Mr. S. Wehrle. Mr. H.B. Wehrle will no longer participate in the Variable Compensation Plan upon the termination of his employment agreement on October 1, 2008.

(1) Reflects profits units granted to Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Ketchum, Underhill, Paige and S. Wehrle in 2007 and restricted common units granted to Mr. Fox in 2007, each in respect of PVF Holdings LLC pursuant to the PVF LLC Agreement. Pursuant to the PVF LLC Agreement, profits units and restricted common units generally become vested in equal increments on each of the third, fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant, but may be subject to more favorable vesting schedules if approved by the board of directors of PVF Holdings LLC. The employment agreement for Mr. S. Wehrle provides that his profits units become vested in equal increments on each of the fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant subject to accelerated vesting under certain circumstances. Profits units held by Messrs. Underhill and Paige and restricted common units held by Mr. Fox become vested in accordance with the PVF LLC Agreement, but each of their employment agreements provides that if, at any time, Mr. Underhill, Mr. Paige or Mr. Fox terminate their employment with "Good Reason" (as defined in the employment agreement) or McJunkin

Red Man Corporation terminates Mr. Underhill's, Mr. Paige's or Mr. Fox's employment without "Cause" (as defined in the employment agreement), all profits units and restricted common units held by them shall become vested. With respect to restricted common units held by Mr. Fox, in the event that Mr. Fox is terminated for "Cause" (as defined in the employment agreement), Mr. Fox will not forfeit his restricted common units that are vested at the time of termination, but PVF Holdings LLC would have the opportunity to purchase vested restricted common units held by Mr. Fox at "Fair Market Value" (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement). The date of grant for Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Underhill, Fox and S. Wehrle was January 31, 2007 and for Messrs. Ketchum and Paige was October 31, 2007. Profits units held by Messrs. H.B. Wehrle and Ketchum are fully vested and not subject to forfeiture under any circumstances, pursuant to Mr. H.B. Wehrle's Letter Agreement and Mr. Ketchum's employment agreement.

(2) The market value of unvested profits units and restricted common units in PVF Holdings LLC on December 31, 2007 was $0.

(1) These amounts are included in the All Other Compensation column of the Summary Compensation Table.

McJunkin Red Man Corporation maintains the McJunkin Red Man Corporation Deferred Compensation Plan, in which all named executive officers participate with the exception of Mr. Paige. Mr. H.B. Wehrle will no longer be eligible to receive company contributions pursuant to this plan upon the termination of his employment agreement on October 1, 2008. Under the terms of the plan, select members of management and highly compensated employees may defer receipt of a specified amount or percentage of their cash compensation, including annual bonuses. In addition, McJunkin Red Man Corporation makes annual contributions to participants' accounts. This plan was adopted by McJunkin Red Man Corporation on December 31, 2007, on which date company contributions to accounts held by the named executive officers set forth above were made by McJunkin Red Man Corporation. There were no executive officer contributions, earnings, withdrawals or distributions with respect to these accounts during 2007.

If a participant's account balance as of the beginning of a calendar year is less than $100,000, such balance will be credited quarterly with interest at the "Prime Rate" (as defined in the plan) plus 1%. If a participant's account balance at the beginning of a calendar year is $100,000 or greater, the participant may elect between being credited quarterly with interest at the Prime Rate plus 1% or having his or her account deemed converted into a number of phantom common units of PVF Holding LLC. If no investment election is made, a participant's account will credited quarterly with interest at the Prime Rate plus 1%. Mr. H.B. Wehrle, the only named executive officer with a balance in excess of $100,000 as of December 31, 2007, did not make this election.

The named executive officers are currently fully vested in their accounts, including company contributions. Participants receive the vested balance of their accounts, in cash, upon a "Separation from Service" (as defined in Section 409A). Such amount is paid in three annual installments (with interest) commencing on January 1 of the second calendar year following the calendar year in which the Separation from Service occurs. In the event of a participant's death or "Permanent Disability" (as defined in the plan), or upon a "Change in Control" (as defined in the plan) of McJunkin Red Man Corporation, the full amount of a participant's account, vested and unvested, shall be paid within 30 days following such event, to the participant's beneficiary, in the case of death, or to the participant, in the case of Permanent Disability or a Change in Control. Notwithstanding the foregoing regarding the timing of payments, distributions to "specified employees" (as defined in Section 409A of the Code) may be required to be delayed in accordance with Section 409A of the Code.

(1) The aggregate number of shares of our common stock subject to option awards outstanding on December 31, 2007 was for each of Messrs. Boylan and Best (taking into account the stock split).

(2) Mr. Hornish participates in the company medical and dental plans that are offered to employees. The company pays all costs of this coverage for Mr. Hornish. This amount represents the annual cost to the company of providing such coverage, pro-rated to reflect Mr. Hornish's coverage for two months of the 2007 year. Starting in 2008, Mr. Hornish will receive an annual fee of $100,000 for his service on our board of directors. In addition, starting in 2008, Mr. Hornish will no longer be eligible to participate in the company health and dental plans available to employees.

(3) Mr. Boylan was awarded stock options in respect of shares on December 24, 2007 (taking into account the stock split). The amount in the table reflects the dollar amount recognized for financial statement reporting purposes in accordance with FAS 123R for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007. A discussion of the assumptions underlying the valuation is provided in Note 9 to our audited financial statements for the eleven months ending December 31, 2007, included elsewhere in this prospectus.

(4) The grant date fair value of Mr. Boylan's option award, computed in accordance with FAS 123R, was $1,281 using the Black Scholes method. A discussion of the assumptions underlying the valuation is provided in Note 9 to our audited financial statements for the eleven months ending December 31, 2007, included elsewhere in this prospectus.

(5) Mr. Best was awarded stock options in respect of shares on December 24, 2007 (taking into account the stock split). The amount in the table reflects the dollar amount recognized for financial statement reporting purposes in accordance with FAS 123R for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007. A discussion of the assumptions underlying the valuation is provided in Note 9 to our audited financial statements for the eleven months ending December 31, 2007, included elsewhere in this prospectus.

(6) The grant date fair value of Mr. Best's option award, computed in accordance with FAS 123R, was $1,226 using the Black Scholes method. A discussion of the assumptions underlying the valuation is provided in Note 9 to our audited financial statements for the eleven months ending December 31, 2007, included elsewhere in this prospectus.

(7) Each of these directors served on our board of directors during 2007, but did not receive any compensation for such service. Mr. Cornell has served on our board of directors since November 29, 2006. Messrs. Crampton and Daly have served on our board of directors since January 31, 2007. Craig Ketchum has served on our board of directors since October 31, 2007. Kent Ketchum served on our board of directors from October 31, 2007 until August 2008. Mr. Fox and Mr. Wehrle served on our board from January 31, 2007 until August 2008.

Mr. Hornish was appointed to the board of directors of McJunkin Red Man Corporation on March 20, 2007 and to our board of directors on October 31, 2007. The amounts for Mr. Hornish in the above table were earned by him for his service on the board of directors of McJunkin Red Man Corporation and on the board of directors of the company during 2007 following each respective appointment date. Mr. Boylan was appointed to our board of directors as of October 31, 2007 and Mr. Best was appointed to our board of directors as of December 1, 2007. As a result, the cash fees received by Messrs. Boylan & Best during fiscal year 2007 are also for a partial year of service. For their service as directors in 2007, Mr. Hornish was entitled to receive an annual fee of $150,000 and Messrs. Boylan and Best were entitled to receive an annual fee of $100,000. Starting in 2008, Mr. Hornish will receive an annual fee of $100,000 for his service on our board of directors. In addition, starting in 2008, Mr. Hornish will no longer be eligible to participate in the company health and dental plans available to our employees. On December 24, 2007, each of Messrs. Best and Boylan was granted an option to purchase of our common shares, with an original exercise price of $ (taking into account the stock split). The exercise price was subsequently reduced to $ (taking into account the stock split) in connection with our recapitalization in May 2008. Messrs. Hornish, Boylan and Best were the only directors to receive compensation for services performed in 2007. All directors are also reimbursed for travel expenses and other out-of-pocket costs incurred in connection with their attendance at meetings.

On June 16, 2008, Sam Rovit was appointed to serve on our board of directors, for which he will be paid an annual cash fee of $100,000 in respect of his services. Also in connection with Mr. Rovit's appointment, he was granted an option to purchase of our common shares at an exercise price of $ (taking into account the stock split).

All option grants made to directors were made pursuant to the McJ Holding Stock Option Plan and generally vest in equal increments on each of the third, fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant, conditioned on continued service and subject to accelerated vesting under certain circumstances.

Potential Payments upon Termination or Change in Control

Each of the named executive officers would be entitled to certain payments and benefits following a termination of employment under certain circumstances and upon a change in control. These benefits are summarized below. The amounts of potential post-employment payments and benefits in the table following the narrative below assume that termination of employment took place on December 31, 2007.

The narrative and table below describe our obligations to Messrs. Ketchum, Underhill, Fox, Paige and S. Wehrle pursuant to their employment agreements and to Mr. H.B. Wehrle pursuant to the Letter Agreement, as well as our obligations to the named executive officers pursuant to other compensatory arrangements.

Voluntary Separation

In the event of the voluntary separation of each named executive officer except for Messrs. H.B. Wehrle and Ketchum, all unvested profits units and restricted common units in PVF Holdings LLC held by such officer (which, as of December 31, 2007, included all profits units and restricted common units held by each named executive officer) would be forfeited pursuant to the PVF LLC Agreement. Pursuant to the Letter Agreement and Mr. Ketchum's employment agreement, profits units held by H.B. Wehrle and Mr. Ketchum would be vested and nonforfeitable. The fully vested accounts in the McJunkin Red Man Corporation Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Plan held by each named executive officer would become payable (subject to the requirements of Section 409A of the Code). Each named executive officer would also be paid the value of any accrued but unused vacation time as of December 31, 2007.

Termination Not for Cause and Termination for Good Reason

The employment agreements to which Messrs. Ketchum, Underhill, Fox, Paige and S. Wehrle are parties provide that if McJunkin Red Man Corporation terminates the named executive officer's employment other than for "Cause" or "Disability" (as such terms are defined in the employment agreement) or if the named executive officer terminates his employment for "Good Reason" (as such term is defined in the employment agreement), then the named executive officer would be entitled to (i) all accrued, but unpaid, obligations (including, but not limited to, salary, bonus, expense reimbursement or vacation pay), (ii) continuation of base salary for a period of 12 months at the rate in effect immediately prior to termination, (iii) continuation of medical benefits for 12 months or until such earlier time as he becomes eligible for medical benefits from a subsequent employer on the same terms as active senior executives of McJunkin Red Man Corporation and (iv) a pro-rata annual bonus for the fiscal year in which termination occurs, based on actual performance through the end of the fiscal year. However, because Messrs. Ketchum and Paige did not participate in the Variable Compensation Plan during fiscal year 2007, they would not be entitled to a pro-rata annual bonus assuming a termination date of December 31, 2007. The termination payments and the provision of benefits described in this paragraph are subject to the execution of a release and compliance with restrictive covenants prohibiting competition, solicitation of employees and interference with business relationships during the restriction period applicable to each named executive officer. The restriction period for each of Messrs. Ketchum, Fox and S. Wehrle is the greater of (i) five years following the effective date of the employment agreement and (ii) the duration of employment and 24 months following termination of employment, and the restriction period for Messrs. Underhill and Paige is the duration of employment and 12 months following termination of employment.

Pursuant to the Letter Agreement, Mr. H.B. Wehrle is not entitled to any severance payments or benefits in the event that his service as chairman of the board of directors of PVF Holdings LLC or as a member of our board of directors is terminated under any circumstances. In addition, the Letter Agreement does not contemplate severance in the event of a termination of Mr. H.B. Wehrle's service for good reason. As a result, Mr. H.B. Wehrle would not be entitled to base salary continuation, a pro-rata bonus or medical benefit continuation in the event of his termination under these circumstances. Mr. H.B. Wehrle is subject to restrictive covenants during his service as a director and for the period that ends on the later of (i) January 31, 2012 or (ii) twenty-four (24) months following the date that he ceases to serve either as chairman of the board of directors of PVF Holdings LLC or as a member of the board of directors of the company.

In addition, Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Ketchum, Underhill, Paige and S. Wehrle hold profits units and Mr. Fox holds restricted common units, each in respect of PVF Holdings LLC. The vesting schedules of these profits units and restricted common units are described in the narrative following the "Grants of Plan-Based Awards in Fiscal Year 2007" table. As of December 31, 2007, all profits units and restricted common units held by the named executive officers were unvested. In the event of the termination of a named executive officer's employment by the company other than for Cause or by a named executive officer for Good Reason, all unvested profits units held by the named executive officers would be forfeited, with the exception of the profits units held by Messrs. Underhill and Paige, which would be fully vested and nonforfeitable. Profits units held by Messrs. H.B. Wehrle and Ketchum would be fully vested and not subject to forfeiture. Under these circumstances Mr. Fox's restricted common units would also become fully vested and nonforfeitable.

The fully vested account in the McJunkin Red Man Corporation Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Plan held by each named executive officer would become payable (subject to the requirements of Section 409A) upon a termination by the company of such named executive officer's employment other than for Cause or a termination of employment by such named executive officer for Good Reason.

Each named executive officer would also be paid the value of any accrued but unused vacation time as of December 31, 2007.

In determining the appropriate payment and benefit levels, the compensation committee considers what level of compensation is required to attract and motivate executive officers. In making decisions regarding executive officer compensation, the compensation committee considers the overall economic value of the compensation packages for executive officers, which includes a consideration of the payments and benefits to which an executive officer would be entitled in the event of certain qualifying terminations or a change in control.

Termination by the Company for Cause

Pursuant to the PVF LLC Agreement, upon a termination of employment by the company for Cause, profits units held by Messrs. Ketchum, Underhill, Paige and S. Wehrle, whether or not vested, would be forfeited immediately for no consideration. Pursuant to the Letter Agreement, and Mr. Ketchum's employment agreement, profits units held by Messrs. H.B. Wehrle and Ketchum would be fully vested and nonforfeitable. Unvested restricted common units held by Mr. Fox would also be forfeited immediately for no consideration in the event of Mr. Fox's termination by the company for Cause. However, restricted common units held by Mr. Fox that are vested at the date of his termination (none of Mr. Fox's restricted common units were vested as of December 31, 2007) would not be forfeited, but would be subject to a right of repurchase by McJunkin Red Man Corporation. As described in the narrative following the "Nonqualified Deferred Compensation" table, the fully vested accounts in the McJunkin Red Man Corporation Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Plan held by each named executive officer would become payable (subject to the requirements of Section 409A). Each named executive officer would also be paid the value of any accrued but unused vacation time as of December 31, 2007.

Termination due to Death or Disability

Pursuant to the employment agreements to which Messrs. Ketchum, Underhill, Paige, Fox and S. Wehrle are parties, upon a termination of employment due to the death or disability, they (or their beneficiaries) would be entitled to receive a pro-rata portion of the annual bonus for the fiscal year in which termination occurs, based on actual performance through the end of the fiscal year. However, because Messrs. Ketchum and Paige did not participate in the Variable Compensation Plan during fiscal year 2007, they would not be entitled to a pro-rata annual bonus assuming a termination date of December 31, 2007.

Pursuant to the Letter Agreement, Mr. H.B. Wehrle would not be entitled to a pro-rata annual bonus for the fiscal year in which his termination occurs because his participation in the Variable Compensation Plan will end upon the termination of his employment agreement. Pursuant to the PVF LLC Agreement, all unvested profits units held by Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Ketchum, Underhill, Paige and S. Wehrle (which, as of December 31, 2007, included all of their profits units) would be fully vested and nonforfeitable in the event of a termination due to death or "Disability" (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement). Mr. Fox's restricted common units would also become fully vested. In the event of termination due to death or "Permanent Disability" (as such term is defined in the McJunkin Red Man Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Plan), the full amount of each named executive officer's account, whether or not vested, would be payable. Each named executive officer (or their beneficiaries) would also be paid the value of any accrued but unused vacation time as of December 31, 2007.

Change in Control

The PVF LLC Agreement provides that in the event of a Transaction (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement), profits units and restricted common units would be fully vested and nonforfeitable. This accelerated vesting of the profits units and restricted common units was negotiated as part of the PVF LLC Agreement in connection with overall negotiations relating to the GS Acquisition. The PVF LLC Agreement defines "Transaction" as (i) any event which results in the GSCP Members (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement) and its or their Affiliates (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement) ceasing to directly or indirectly beneficially own, in the aggregate, at least 35% of the equity interests of McJunkin Red Man Corporation that they beneficially owned directly or indirectly as of January 31, 2007; or (ii) in a single transaction or a series of related transactions, the occurrence of the following event: a majority of the outstanding voting power of PVF Holdings LLC, McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation or McJunkin Red Man Corporation, or substantially all of the assets of McJunkin Red Man Corporation, shall have been acquired or otherwise become beneficially owned, directly or indirectly, by any Person (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement) (other than any Member (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement) on the effective date of the PVF LLC Agreement or any of its or their Affiliates, or PVF Holdings LLC or any of its Affiliates) or any two or more Persons (other than any Member on the date of the PVF LLC Agreement or any of its or their Affiliates, or the McJunkin Red Man Corporation or any of its Affiliates) acting as a partnership, limited partnership, syndicate or other group, entity or association acting in concert for the purpose of voting, acquiring, holding or disposing of the voting power of PVF Holdings LLC, McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation or McJunkin Red Man Corporation; it being understood that, for this purpose, the acquisition or beneficial ownership of voting securities by the public shall not be an acquisition or constitute beneficial ownership by any Person or Persons acting in concert. The table below assumes that a Transaction as so defined has occurred.

Pursuant to the McJunkin Red Man Corporation Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Plan, the full amount of a participant's account becomes vested to the extent not already vested upon a Change in Control and shall be paid within thirty days of such Change in Control. The plan defines "Change in Control" as, in a single transaction or a series of related transactions, the occurrence of the following event: a majority of the outstanding voting power of PVF Holdings LLC, McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation or McJunkin Red Man Corporation, or substantially all of the assets of McJunkin Red Man Corporation, shall have been acquired or otherwise become beneficially owned, directly or indirectly, by any Person (as defined in the plan) (other than any Member (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement) or any of its or their affiliates, or PVF Holdings LLC or any of its affiliates) or any two or more Persons (other than any Member or any of its or their affiliates, or PVF Holdings LLC or any of its affiliates) acting as a partnership, limited partnership, syndicate or other group, entity or association acting in concert for the purpose of voting, acquiring, holding or disposing of the voting power of PVF Holdings LLC, McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation or McJunkin Red Man Corporation; it being understood that, for this purpose, the acquisition or beneficial ownership of voting securities by the public shall not be an acquisition or constitute beneficial ownership by any Person or Persons acting in concert. The table below assumes that a Change in Control as so defined has occurred. The accelerated vesting of accounts under the McJunkin Red Man Corporation Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Plan in the event of a change in control does not provide an extra benefit to the named executive officers because each of their accounts was fully vested as of the effective date of the plan, which was December 31, 2007.

(1) These amounts represent accrued but unused vacation time as of December 31, 2007.

(2) Each of the named executive officers has an annual target bonus of 100% of annual base salary at the beginning of the relevant fiscal year. Except for Messrs. Ketchum and Paige, who will be eligible to earn awards starting in fiscal year 2008, the named executive officers participated in the Variable Compensation Plan starting on February 1, 2007. The Adjusted EBITDA and RONA performance goals for the Variable Compensation Plan were satisfied in fiscal year 2007. As a result, assuming a termination as of December 31, 2007, pursuant to the terms of their employment agreements, Messrs. H.B. Wehrle, Underhill, Fox and S. Wehrle would be entitled to receive their target annual incentive bonus, pro-rated to reflect participation during eleven months of the year.

(3) In the event of a Transaction (as defined in the PVF LLC Agreement) or a termination by reason of death or Disability, the profits units and restricted common units in PVF Holdings LLC held by the named executive officers would become fully vested.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

During the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007, our compensation committee was comprised of Peter C. Boylan, III, John F. Daly, and Harry K. Hornish Jr.

In connection with the Red Man Transaction, Red Man paid a fee of $4 million to Boylan Partners LLC. On December 17, 2007, Mr. Boylan made an investment of $1 million in PVF Holdings LLC in exchange for 254.2065 common units in PVF Holdings LLC. Mr. Boylan made his investment in PVF Holdings LLC through a limited liability company which he controls. In May 2008, Mr. Boylan's limited liability company holding common units in PVF Holdings LLC received a dividend of $389,653.01 in connection with our May 2008 recapitalization. See "Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions — Transactions with Executive Officers and Directors — May 2008 Dividend".

Mr. Daly is a managing director in the Principal Investment Area of Goldman, Sachs & Co. For a description of the company's transactions with Goldman, Sachs & Co. and certain of its affiliates, see "Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions — Transactions with the Goldman Sachs Funds".

On April 13, 2007, Harry K. Hornish, Jr. made an investment of $1.5 million in PVF Holdings LLC in exchange for 381.3098 common units in PVF Holdings LLC. The investment consisted of $500,000 in cash and a $1 million promissory note issued to PVF Holdings LLC. The $500,000 in cash and $1 million promissory note were subsequently contributed to McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation by PVF Holdings LLC. In connection with our May 2008 dividend, the amount of the note was reduced to $498,467.01. Mr. Hornish repaid the note in full on August 7, 2008. See "Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions — Transactions with Executive Officers and Directors".

PRINCIPAL AND SELLING STOCKHOLDERS

The following table presents information regarding beneficial ownership of our common stock by:

- each of our directors;
- each of our named executive officers;
- each stockholder known by us to beneficially hold five percent or more of our common stock;
- each selling stockholder; and
- all of our executive officers and directors as a group.

Beneficial ownership is determined under the rules of the SEC and generally includes voting or investment power with respect to securities. Unless indicated below, to our knowledge, the persons and entities named in the table have sole voting and sole investment power with respect to all shares beneficially owned, subject to community property laws where applicable. Shares of common stock subject to options that are currently exercisable or exercisable within 60 days of the date of this prospectus are deemed to be outstanding and to be beneficially owned by the person holding such options for the purpose of computing the percentage ownership of that person but are not treated as outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage ownership of any other person. Except as otherwise indicated, the business address for each of our beneficial owners is c/o McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation, 8023 East 63rd Place, Tulsa, Oklahoma 74133.

Mr. Cornell, Mr. Daly, The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. and Goldman, Sachs & Co. each disclaims beneficial ownership of the shares of common stock owned directly or indirectly by PVF Holdings LLC and the Goldman Sachs Funds, except to the extent of their pecuniary interest therein, if any.

(2) Mr. Lane owns shares directly. Mr. Lane also owns options to purchase shares of our common stock at an exercise price of . The date of grant for Mr. Lane's options was September 10, 2008. These options will generally vest in one-fourth annual increments on the second, third, fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant.

(3) Mr. Underhill owns no shares of common stock directly. Mr. Underhill owns shares indirectly through his ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC. Mr. Underhill does not have the power to vote or dispose of shares of common stock that correspond to his ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC and thus does not have beneficial ownership of such shares. Mr. Underhill also owns profits units in PVF Holdings LLC. These profits units do not give Mr. Underhill beneficial ownership of any shares of our common stock because they do not give Mr. Underhill the power to vote or dispose of any such shares.

(4) Mr. Fox owns no shares of common stock directly. Mr. Fox has transferred all of his common units (including his restricted common units) in PVF Holdings LLC, corresponding to shares of our common stock, to a trust for the benefit of members of his family. Neither Mr. Fox nor the trust has the power to vote or dispose of the common units of PVF Holdings LLC held by the trust, which correspond to shares of our common stock, and therefore neither Mr. Fox nor the trust has beneficial ownership of these shares of our common stock.

(5) Mr. Paige owns no shares of common stock directly. Mr. Paige owns shares indirectly through his ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC. Mr. Paige does not have the power to vote or dispose of shares of common stock that correspond to his ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC and thus does not have beneficial ownership of such shares. Mr. Paige also owns profits units in PVF Holdings LLC. These profits units do not give Mr. Paige beneficial ownership of any shares of our common stock because they do not give Mr. Paige the power to vote or dispose of any such shares.

(6) Mr. Wehrle owns no shares of common stock directly. Mr. Wehrle owns shares indirectly through his ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC. Mr. Wehrle does not have the power to vote or dispose of shares of common stock that correspond to his ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC and thus does not have beneficial ownership of such shares. Mr. Wehrle also owns profits units in PVF

Holdings LLC. These profits units do not give Mr. Wehrle beneficial ownership of any shares of our common stock because they do not give Mr. Wehrle the power to vote or dispose of any such shares.

(7) Mr. Ketchum owns no shares of common stock directly. Mr. Ketchum owns common units in PVF Holdings LLC both directly and through a limited liability company which correspond to shares of common stock owned by PVF Holdings LLC. Mr. Ketchum does not have the power to vote or dispose of shares of common stock that correspond to his ownership or his limited liability company's ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC and thus does not have beneficial ownership of such shares. Mr. Ketchum also owns profits units in PVF Holdings LLC. These profits units do not give Mr. Ketchum beneficial ownership of any shares of our common stock because they do not give Mr. Ketchum the power to vote or dispose of any such shares.

(8) Mr. Best owns no shares of common stock directly. Mr. Best owns shares indirectly due to his limited liability company's ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC. Mr. Best does not have the power to vote or dispose of shares of common stock that correspond to such limited liability company's ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC and thus does not have beneficial ownership of such shares. Mr. Best also owns options to purchase shares of our common stock at an exercise price of $. The date of grant for these options was December 24, 2007. These options will generally vest in one-third annual increments on the third, fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant.

(9) Mr. Hornish owns no shares of common stock directly. Mr. Hornish owns shares indirectly through his ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC. Mr. Hornish does not have the power to vote or dispose of shares of common stock that correspond to his ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC and thus does not have beneficial ownership of such shares.

(10) Mr. Rovit owns no shares of common stock directly. Mr. Rovit owns shares indirectly through his ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC. Mr. Rovit does not have the power to vote or dispose of shares of common stock that correspond to his ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC and thus does not have beneficial ownership of such shares. Mr. Rovit also owns options to purchase shares of our common stock at an exercise price of $. The date of grant for these options was June 27, 2008. These options will generally vest in one-third annual increments on the third, fourth and fifth anniversaries of the date of grant.

(11) Mr. Wehrle owns no shares of common stock directly. Mr. Wehrle owns shares indirectly through his ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC. Mr. Wehrle does not have the power to vote or dispose of shares of common stock that correspond to his ownership of common units in PVF Holdings LLC and thus does not have beneficial ownership of such shares. Mr. Wehrle also owns profits units in PVF Holdings LLC. These profits units do not give Mr. Wehrle beneficial ownership of any shares of our common stock because they do not give Mr. Wehrle the power to vote or dispose of any such shares.

(12) The number of shares of common stock owned by all directors and executive officers, as a group, reflects (i) all shares of common stock directly owned by PVF Holdings LLC, with respect to which Henry Cornell and John F. Daly may be deemed to share beneficial ownership, and (ii) shares of our common stock held by Andrew Lane, our chief executive officer and a director of our company.

The following table sets forth, as of June 26, 2008, the number of common units and profits units of PVF Holdings LLC held by each of our directors, executive officers and beneficial owners of more than five percent of our common stock. The table also sets forth the amount of proceeds that each of these unit holders will receive from this offering upon PVF Holdings LLC's distribution of the net proceeds of this offering to its unit holders and the percentage of proceeds to be received in proportion to all unit holders. Pursuant to the amended and restated limited liability company agreement of PVF Holdings LLC, distributions of the net proceeds of this offering will be allocated as follows: first, to the holders of common units pro rata in proportion to the number of common units outstanding at the time of such distribution, until each common unit holder has received an amount equal to such holder's aggregate capital contributions made to PVF Holdings LLC in exchange for common units; and second, to the holders of all units (including profits units), pro rata in proportion to the number of units (including profits units) outstanding at the time of such distribution.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

This section describes related party transactions between McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation and its directors, executive officers and 5% stockholders and their immediate family members.

Transactions with the Goldman Sachs Funds

Prior to this offering, certain affiliates of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc., including GS Capital Partners V Fund, L.P., GS Capital Partners VI Fund, L.P. and related entities, or the Goldman Sachs Funds, were the majority owners of PVF Holdings LLC, our direct parent company. Following the consummation of this offering, PVF Holdings LLC will remain the majority owner of our company and the Goldman Sachs Funds will continue to be the majority owners of PVF Holdings LLC.

McJunkin Acquisition

On December 4, 2006, the entity now known as McJunkin Red Man Corporation entered into a definitive agreement to be acquired by the entity now known as McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation, an indirect subsidiary of the Goldman Sachs Funds (the "GS Acquisition"). Shareholders of McJunkin Red Man Corporation received consideration in the form of cash or a combination of cash and common units in PVF Holdings LLC (as described in further detail below). On January 31, 2007, the GS Acquisition closed and a direct wholly owned subsidiary of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation merged with and into McJunkin Red Man Corporation, with McJunkin Red Man Corporation surviving the merger and becoming a direct subsidiary of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation. Immediately prior to the closing of the merger, certain shareholders of McJunkin Red Man Corporation and McJunkin Appalachian Oilfield Supply Company ("McJunkin Appalachian", which entity was a subsidiary of McJunkin Red Man Corporation, but has since been merged out of existence) contributed their shares of McJunkin Red Man Corporation and McJunkin Appalachian, as applicable, to the entity now known as PVF Holdings LLC in exchange for common units in PVF Holdings LLC. We refer to these common unit holders as the "McJunkin Rollover Equity Holders".

The acquisition of McJunkin Red Man Corporation was financed by a $225.6 million capital contribution by certain Goldman Sachs Funds in PVF Holdings LLC, investments in PVF Holdings LLC by the McJunkin Rollover Equity Holders valued at $166.5 million (including restricted common units valued at $7 million), $575.0 million in term loans and $75.0 million in revolver borrowings.

In connection with the GS Acquisition, McJunkin Red Man Corporation paid (i) a $10 million sponsor fee to an affiliate of the Goldman Sachs Funds, (ii) a $2.5 million investment banking advisory fee to an affiliate of the Goldman Sachs Funds, and (iii) an $8.5 million debt financing fee to an affiliate of the Goldman Sachs Funds.

Red Man Transaction

West Oklahoma PVF Company, our indirect subsidiary, entered into a Stock Purchase Agreement on July 6, 2007 with Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. ("Red Man"), PVF Holdings LLC, Craig Ketchum, and the holders of 100% of the outstanding common stock of Red Man, pursuant to which West Oklahoma PVF Company acquired all of the outstanding capital stock of Red Man in a business combination transaction (the "Red Man Transaction"). Shareholders of Red Man received consideration in the form of cash or a combination of cash and common units in PVF Holdings LLC (as described in further detail below). The Red Man Transaction was consummated on October 31, 2007.

The Goldman Sachs Funds made a capital contribution of $574.3 million in PVF Holdings LLC for purposes of financing the Red Man Transaction. Additionally, prior to making such capital contribution, the Goldman Sachs Funds offered to each of the McJunkin Rollover Equity Holders the option of making an additional equity investment in PVF Holdings LLC in an amount required to preserve such holder's pro rata interest in PVF Holdings LLC relative to the other equity holders in PVF Holdings LLC prior to the Red Man Transaction. The McJunkin Rollover Equity Holders were also given the option to redeem their interests in PVF Holdings LLC at a fixed price per unit, or to continue to hold their interests without any additional subscriptions or redemptions. Certain McJunkin Rollover Equity Holders chose to exercise their option to make an additional equity investment in PVF Holdings LLC and consequently contributed $83.9 million to PVF Holdings LLC in exchange for common units of PVF Holdings LLC for purposes of financing the Red Man Transaction.

Immediately prior to the closing of the Red Man Transaction, certain shareholders of Red Man (the "Red Man Rollover Equity Holders") contributed their shares of Red Man to PVF Holdings LLC in exchange for common units in PVF Holdings LLC. The Red Man Transaction was also financed by $322.5 million in revolving loans under McJunkin Red Man Corporation's revolving credit facility. Immediately following the closing of the Red Man Transaction, an immediate family member of Craig Ketchum remitted to McJunkin Red Man Corporation the amount of $517,366.12 to fund McJunkin Red Man Corporation's payment of withholding taxes on such immediate family member's account, relating to the transfer to such immediate family member of certain assets that were excluded from the Red Man Transaction.

In connection with the Red Man Transaction, McJunkin Red Man Corporation paid certain affiliates of the Goldman Sachs Funds a $10 million merger and acquisition advisory fee and a $2 million investment banking advisory fee. McJunkin Red Man Corporation also paid a $4 million advisory fee to Boylan Partners LLC, which is owned by Peter Boylan.

May 2008 Dividend

On May 22, 2008, McJunkin Red Man Corporation borrowed $25 million in revolving loans under its revolving credit facility and distributed the proceeds of the loans to McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation. On the same date, McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation borrowed $450 million in term loans under its term loan facility and distributed the proceeds of the term loans, together with the proceeds of the revolving loans, to its stockholders, including PVF Holdings LLC. PVF Holdings LLC used the proceeds from the dividend to fund distributions to members of PVF Holdings LLC in May 2008. The Goldman Sachs Funds received $311,722,411.39 in such distribution.

Credit Facilities

Goldman Sachs Credit Partners L.P., an affiliate of Goldman, Sachs & Co., or Goldman Sachs, is one of the lenders under our Revolving Credit Facility, Term Loan Facility and Junior Term Loan Facility. Goldman Sachs Credit Partners is also a co-lead arranger and joint bookrunner under each of these facilities and is also the syndication agent under the Term Loan Facility and the Junior Term Loan Facility. Goldman Sachs Credit Partners was also a lender, co-lead arranger, joint bookrunner and syndication agent under the revolving credit facility that we entered into in January 2007. The January 2007 revolving credit facility was entered into in connection with the financing of the GS Acquisition and, at that time, we paid this Goldman Sachs affiliate an $8.5 million financing fee. The January 2007 revolving credit facility was terminated in October 2007 in connection with our entering into the Revolving Credit Facility and the Red Man Transaction. In conjunction with entering into the Revolving Credit Facility and the Term Loan Facility in October 2007, we paid a $4.9 million financing fee to Goldman Sachs Credit Partners. We also paid a $4.4 million fee to Goldman Sachs Capital Partners in May 2008 in connection with the Junior Term Loan Facility and a fee of $0.5 million to Goldman Sachs Credit Partners in June 2008 in connection with the $50 million upsizing of our Revolving Credit Facility. See "Description of Our Indebtedness".

Transactions with Prideco

In November/December 2007, and continuing in 2008, Red Man, a subsidiary of McJunkin Red Man Corporation, has leased and continues to lease certain equipment and buildings from Prideco,

LLC, an entity owned by Craig Ketchum (the chairman of our board of directors and our former president and chief executive officer) and certain of his immediate family members. Craig Ketchum owns a 25% interest in Prideco, LLC. Red Man paid Prideco, LLC an aggregate rental amount of $535,985 in November/December 2007. Under four separate real property leases, Red Man leases office and warehouse space for the wholesale distribution of pipes, valves and fittings from Prideco, LLC. The total rental amount for November/December 2007 under these leases was $21,100. The location of the leased property, monthly rent in 2007, term, expiration date, square footage of the leased premises and renewal option for each of these leases are included in the table below:

Location	Monthly 2007 Rent	Term	Expiration	Square Feet	Renewal Option
Artesia, NM	$ 2,000	5 years	May 31, 2013	8,750	One five-year renewal option
Lovington, NM	$ 2,350	3 years	September 30, 2009	6,000	None
Tulsa, OK	$ 2,700	3 years	March 31, 2009	7,500	One three-year renewal option
Woodward, OK	$ 3,500	5 years	July 31, 2012	6,000	None

Additionally, under one master lease, Prideco, LLC leases approximately 498 trucks, cars and sports utility vehicles to Red Man. All of these vehicles are used in Red Man's operations. Under the master lease, most vehicles are leased for a term of 36 months. The total rental amount for November/December 2007 under this lease was $514,885.

We believe the rental amounts under Red Man's leases with Prideco, LLC are generally comparable to market rates negotiable among unrelated third parties.

Transactions with Hansford Associates Limited Partnership

McJunkin Red Man Corporation leases certain land and buildings from Hansford Associates Limited Partnership, a limited partnership in which H. B. Wehrle, III (a member of our board of directors) and E. Gaines Wehrle (a former member of our board of directors) and Stephen D. Wehrle (one of our executive officers) and certain of their immediate family members are limited partners. Together, these three persons and their immediate family members have a 50% ownership interest in the limited partnership. McJunkin Red Man Corporation (and its predecessor) paid Hansford Associates Limited Partnership an aggregate rental amount of $2,583,184 in 2007, $2,403,240 in 2006, and $2,343,240 in 2005.

Transactions with Appalachian Leasing Company

McJunkin Red Man Corporation leases certain land and buildings from Appalachian Leasing Company, an entity in which David Fox, III, one of our executive officers, and certain of Mr. Fox's immediate family members have an ownership interest. Mr. Fox and his immediate family members have a 67.5% ownership interest in Appalachian Leasing Company. McJunkin Red Man Corporation (and its predecessor) paid Appalachian Leasing Company an aggregate rental amount of $146,064 in 2007, $153,144 in 2006, and $154,344 in 2005. Under two separate leases, McJunkin Red Man Corporation leases office and warehouse space for the wholesale distribution of pipes, valves and fittings from Appalachian Leasing Company. The location of the leased property, monthly rent as of September 2008, term, expiration date, square footage of the leases premises and renewal option for each of these leases are included in the table below:

Location	Monthly Rent as of September 2008	Term	Expiration	Square Feet	Renewal Option
Hurricane, WV	$ 10,005.00	3 years	December 31, 2010	6,500	Four three-year renewal options
Corbin, KY	$ 3,752.50	3 years	May 31, 2009	8,000	None

We believe that the rental amounts under McJunkin Red Man Corporation's leases with Appalachian Leasing Company are generally comparable to market rates negotiable among unrelated third parties.

Transactions with Executive Officers and Directors

Investments in PVF Holdings LLC

Certain of our current and former executive officers and directors are members of PVF Holdings LLC, our majority stockholder. These executive officers and directors do not have or share the right to vote or dispose of the shares of our common stock held by PVF Holdings LLC and thus do not have beneficial ownership of such shares. See "Principal and Selling Stockholders".

On January 31, 2007, in connection with the GS Acquisition, certain of our current and former executive officers and directors contributed shares of McJunkin Red Man Corporation and McJunkin Appalachian to PVF Holdings LLC in exchange for common units in PVF Holdings LLC. The number of shares of McJunkin Red Man Corporation and McJunkin Appalachian contributed by each such executive officer and director, the value of such contribution, and the number of common units of PVF Holdings LLC received in consideration for such contribution are indicated in the table below.

Name	Shares of McJunkin Corporation Contributed	Shares of McJunkin Appalachian Contributed	Value of Shares Contributed	Number of Common Units of PVF Holdings LLC Received in Exchange

(1) Mr. Fox's common units in PVF Holdings LLC were transferred to a trust established by Mr. Fox.

(2) As used in this table, "Other Wehrle Family Members" include the immediate family members of H.B. Wehrle, III, E. Gaines Wehrle, Stephen D. Wehrle and Michael H. Wehrle.

On January 31, 2007, Mr. Fox was awarded 640.6004 restricted common units in PVF Holdings LLC. At the time these units were awarded, they had a value of $2.52 million. Also on January 31, 2007, certain of our executive officers and directors received profits units in PVF Holdings LLC in connection with the GS Acquisition. Each of Rory Isaac, Gary Ittner and James F. Underhill received profits units as follows: 381.3098 profits units for Mr. Isaac, 381.3098 profits units for Mr. Ittner, and 597.3853 profits units for Mr. Underhill. Each of Messrs. Isaac, Ittner, and Underhill also contributed $857.14 in cash to PVF Holdings LLC in exchange for 0.2179 common units. H.B. Wehrle, III received 381.3098 profits units and Stephen D. Wehrle received 190.6549 profits units on January 31, 2007.

On April 13, 2007, Harry K. Hornish, Jr., a member of our board of directors, made an investment of $1.5 million in PVF Holdings LLC in exchange for 381.3098 common units. The investment consisted of $500,000 in cash and a $1 million promissory note issued to PVF Holdings LLC. The $500,000 in cash and $1 million promissory note were subsequently contributed to McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation by PVF Holdings LLC. In connection with the May 2008 dividend, the amount of the note was reduced to $498,467.01. Mr. Hornish repaid the note in full on August 7, 2008.

On October 31, 2007, in connection with the Red Man Transaction, E. Gaines Wehrle, Martha G. Wehrle, Michael H. Wehrle and Russell Isaacs, each a McJunkin Rollover Equity Holder, exercised their option to purchase additional common units in PVF Holdings LLC. See "— Transactions with the Goldman Sachs Funds — Red Man Transaction" above. Mr. E. Gaines Wehrle purchased 1,669.9676 additional common units for a price of $6,569,334.58. On April 30, 2008, Mr. Wehrle transferred all of his common units to a trust that he established. The trust received 4,766.4306 common units. Ms. Martha G. Wehrle purchased an additional 198.9309 common units for a price of $782,556.17. Mr. Michael H. Wehrle purchased 1,621.7420 additional common units for a price of $6,379,623.97. Mr. Russell Isaacs purchased 56.0408 additional common units for a price of $220,453.93. In connection with the Red Man Transaction, the immediate family members of H.B. Wehrle, III, E. Gaines Wehrle, Stephen D. Wehrle and Michael H. Wehrle exercised their option to purchase 10,555.4465 additional common units for a price of $41,523,116.19.

Additionally, in October 2007, PVF Holdings LLC provided an opportunity for select employees of PVF Holdings LLC and its subsidiaries to purchase common units ("McJunkin Management Coinvest"). Certain executive officers and directors purchased common units in the McJunkin Management Coinvest on October 31, 2007. The number of common units purchased and the amount paid for such units is set forth in the table below:

Name	Amount Contributed to PVF Holdings LLC	Number of Common Units of PVF Holdings LLC Received
H.B. Wehrle, III	$3,000,000.00	762.6195

Investments in McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation

On September 10, 2008, Andrew Lane made an investment of $3,000,000 in our company in exchange for 340.4379 shares of our common stock.

McJunkin Acquisition

Under the terms of the merger agreement for the GS Acquisition, McJunkin Red Man Corporation was required to use its commercially reasonable efforts promptly following the closing of the merger to sell certain of its assets (the "Non-Core Assets") for cash and to distribute 95% of the net proceeds of such sales, less 40% of taxable gains, to McJunkin Red Man Corporation's shareholders of record immediately prior to the merger. The Non-Core Assets included (i) approximately 20% of the outstanding common stock of PrimeEnergy Corporation, (ii) approximately 32% of the ownership interests of Vision Exploration & Production Co., LLC, (iii) certain real property located in Charleston, West Virginia, including a building, (iv) an apartment located in New York, New York, (v) a farm located in Union, West Virginia, and (vi) a vacant lot located in Charleston, West Virginia. At December 31, 2006, these assets had a net book value of approximately $27.1 million. Of the Non-Core Assets, the ownership interest of Vision Exploration &

Production Co., LLC, the apartment located in New York, New York, and the farm located in Union, West Virginia have each been sold, and in 2007 aggregate proceeds of $2.552 million were distributed to those individuals and entities who were shareholders of record of McJunkin Red Man Corporation immediately prior to the merger. In connection with such sale of Non-Core Assets, H.B. Wehrle, III (one of our directors) received $180,751, E. Gaines Wehrle (a former director of our company) received $198,972, Stephen D. Wehrle (one of our executive officers) received $157,282, Michael H. Wehrle (a former director of our company) received $193,141, Martha G. Wehrle (a former director of our company) received $24,052 and their immediate family members received $933,781 due to their status as shareholders of record of McJunkin Red Man Corporation immediately prior to the merger. Of the Non-Core Assets sold, McJunkin Red Man Corporation sold its ownership interest in Vision Exploration & Production Co., LLC to E. Gaines Wehrle, a former director of our company, for $250,000. McJunkin Red Man Corporation is currently in the process of selling the remaining Non-Core Assets.

In connection with the GS Acquisition, on December 4, 2006 we entered into an indemnity agreement with certain former shareholders of McJunkin Red Man Corporation, including H.B. Wehrle, III and Stephen D. Wehrle. Under the indemnity agreement, certain former shareholders of McJunkin Red Man Corporation agreed to jointly and severally indemnify (i) McJunkin Red Man Corporation, (ii) McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation and (iii) the wholly owned subsidiary of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation which merged with and into McJunkin Red Man Corporation in connection with the GS Acquisition, and their respective shareholders, members, partners, officers, directors, employees, attorneys, accountants, affiliates, agents, other advisors and successors, from and against all costs incurred by such indemnified parties relating to the holding and disposition of the Non-Core Assets, and the distribution of net proceeds with respect to such disposition, to the extent the costs for each non-core asset exceeds the net proceeds received in the sale of such non-core asset.

Additionally, the indemnity agreement provided that from and after the effective time of the merger that was consummated in connection with the GS Acquisition, the indemnifying shareholders would jointly and severally indemnify the indemnified parties for (i) any amounts paid or payable by McJunkin Red Man Corporation or any of its subsidiaries to any of its officers, directors or employees in excess of $965,000 in the nature of any “stay-pay bonuses” as a result of the merger, other than payments to certain specific employees, and (ii) any failure to properly withhold any amounts required to be withheld by McJunkin Red Man Corporation or any of its subsidiaries relating to stay-pay bonuses or any similar such payments (which indemnity only applied to withholding obligations that arose before the effective time of the merger on January 31, 2007).

May 2008 Dividend

Certain members of our management team and certain current and former members of our board of directors are members of PVF Holdings LLC and therefore participated in PVF Holdings LLC’s cash distributions to its members in May 2008. Phantom Shares Surrender Agreements

In connection with the Red Man Transaction, on October 30, 2007, PVF Holdings LLC and Red Man entered into phantom shares surrender agreements with each of Jeffrey Lang and Dee Paige, who were then employees of Red Man. Pursuant to these agreements, Mr. Lang and Mr. Paige surrendered all phantom shares awarded to them under Red Man's phantom stock plan, which was terminated in connection with the Red Man Transaction.

As consideration for Mr. Lang's surrender of his phantom shares, we are required to pay him $175,000 on each of January 1, 2008, October 31, 2008, and January 1, 2009, in each case (i) provided that Mr. Lang is still employed with us on the relevant payment date, (ii) plus interest for the period from November 1, 2007 to the payment date at a rate equal to 4.88%, and (iii) less any withholding that we may be required to make. All of such payments are immediately due and payable in certain circumstances, including if Mr. Lang is terminated without cause. As consideration for Mr. Paige's surrender of his phantom shares, we are required to pay him $433,333.33 on each of January 1, 2008, October 31, 2008, and October 31, 2009, in each case (i) provided that Mr. Paige is still employed with us on the relevant payment date, (ii) plus interest for the period from November 1, 2007 to the payment date at a rate equal to 4.88%, and (iii) less any withholding that we may be required to make. All of such payments are immediately due in certain circumstances, including if Mr. Paige is terminated without cause.

Betty Ketchum will cease to be an employee of our company effective October 31, 2008. Brian Ketchum, brother of Craig Ketchum, is employed by our company and the pro rated portion of his compensation in November/December 2007 (following the Red Man Transaction) was $345,704. Kevin Ketchum, brother of Craig Ketchum, is employed by our company and the pro rated portion of his compensation in November/December 2007 (following the Red Man Transaction) was $348,286. Kent Ketchum, brother of Craig Ketchum and a former member of our board of directors, was formerly employed by Red Man and the pro rated portion of his compensation in November/December 2007 (following the Red Man Transaction) was $481,532. Since January 2008, Kent Ketchum has been employed by Red Man Distributors LLC. David Fox, Jr., father of David Fox, III, was previously employed by our company and earned aggregate compensation of $246,523 in 2005 and $289,918 in 2006.

Anthony Zande, brother-in-law of H.B. Wehrle, III (one of our directors), was employed by our company until June 2008 and earned aggregate compensation of $160,409 in 2006 and $161,613 in 2007. Helen Lynne Wehrle Zande, H.B. Wehrle, III's sister, was employed by our company until December 2007 and earned aggregate compensation of $1,243,350 in 2005, $1,549,378 in 2006, and $258,535 in 2007.

E. Gaines Wehrle was a director of our company from January 2007 until August 2008. E. Gaines Wehrle was employed by our company until January 31, 2007 and earned aggregate compensation of $2,269,499 in 2005, $2,980,532 in 2006 and $226,047 in 2007. Chilton Wehrle Mueller, sister of E. Gaines Wehrle, was employed by our company until January 31, 2007 and earned aggregate compensation of $1,240,579 in 2005, $1,492,217 in 2006 and $110,060 in 2007. Michael H. Wehrle, brother of E. Gaines Wehrle, was employed by our company until January 31, 2007 and earned aggregate compensation of $2,278,143 in 2005, $2,976,421 in 2006 and $223,519 in 2007. Cody Mueller, brother-in-law of E. Gaines Wehrle, was employed by our company until April 15, 2008 and earned aggregate compensation of $381,858 in 2006 and $495,185 in 2007.

Transactions with Bain & Company

Sam Rovit, a member of our board of directors, is a partner at Bain Corporate Renewal Group, a unit of Bain & Company. Mr. Rovit joined Bain Corporate Renewal Group in January 2008 and was a partner at Bain & Company from 1989 to June 2005. In 2006, Bain & Company provided consulting services to the entity now known as McJunkin Red Man Corporation and McJunkin Red Man Corporation paid Bain & Company $2,976,432 for such services.

Registration Rights Agreement

Prior to this offering, we intend to enter into a new registration rights agreement with PVF Holdings LLC pursuant to which we may be required to register the sale of our shares held by PVF Holdings LLC. Under the registration rights agreement, PVF Holdings LLC will have the right, including in connection with this offering, to request that we use our reasonable best efforts to register the sale of shares held by PVF Holdings LLC on its behalf on up to six occasions including requiring us to file shelf registration statements permitting sales of shares into the market from time to time over an extended period. PVF Holdings LLC's right to demand registration will be subject to certain limitations contained in the registration rights agreement, including our right to decline to cause a registration statement for a demand registration to be declared effective within 180 days after the effective date of any of our other registration statements.

In addition, PVF Holdings LLC will have the ability to exercise certain piggyback registration rights with respect to its own securities if we elect to register any of our equity securities. The registration rights agreement will also include provisions dealing with allocation of securities included in registration statements, registration procedures, indemnification, contribution and allocation of expenses. The registration rights agreement will also provide that if PVF Holdings LLC is dissolved, an amended and restated registration rights agreement will become automatically effective and the existing agreement will terminate. Pursuant to the terms of such amended and restated registration rights agreement, the existing members of PVF Holdings LLC would thereafter be entitled to certain registration rights with respect to our shares which are distributed to them in connection with any such dissolution of PVF Holdings LLC.

Management Stockholders Agreement

Each holder of a stock option and/or restricted stock award from the company, including the members of our board of directors who have received stock option awards, is a party to a management stockholders agreement. The management stockholders agreement provides that upon the termination of a restricted stock or stock option holder's employment with us (including, in the case of a non-employee member of our board of directors, the termination of his or her service on our board), we may exercise our right to purchase all or a portion of the restricted stock and/or stock received upon the exercise of stock options held by such employee or director (or his or her permitted transferee). In the event of a termination by us with cause, the call option price would be the lesser of (i) the fair market value on the date of repurchase (determined in accordance with the management stockholders agreement) or (ii) the price paid for the stock by such employee or director. Under all other circumstances, the call option price would be the fair market value of the stock subject to the call option on the date of repurchase (determined in accordance with the management stockholders agreement).

The management stockholders agreement prohibits the transfer of any shares of our stock (including restricted stock) by a restricted stock or stock option holder, other than (i) following the death of such holder pursuant to the terms of any trust or will of the deceased or by the laws of intestate succession or (ii) in connection with our exercise of our call option.

In connection with the hiring of our new chief executive officer, Andrew Lane, on September 10, 2008, Mr. Lane purchased shares of our common stock and was granted stock options in respect of our common stock. In connection with this purchase and grant, Mr. Lane became a party to the management stockholders agreement. Upon the consummation of this offering, Mr. Lane will no longer be a party to the management stockholders agreement in respect of common stock held by him, whether acquired by purchase or upon exercise of his stock options.

Purchase of Midfield Minority Interest

In June 2005, a subsidiary of Red Man, which is now known as McJunkin Red Man Canada Ltd. ("CanHCo") acquired an equity interest in Midfield Supply ULC ("Midfield"). This transaction is referred to as the "Midfield Investment". Midfield is an unlimited liability corporation incorporated under the laws of Alberta and is one of the three largest distributors of PVF products to the energy sector in the four Western Canadian provinces. The headquarters of Midfield is in Calgary, Alberta. Pursuant to the Midfield Investment, CanHCo acquired an approximate 51% voting interest (constituting an approximately 49% equity interest) in Midfield. The remainder of the voting and equity interest was held by Midfield Holdings (Alberta) Ltd. ("MinorityHCo"), an Alberta corporation. The Midfield Investment was an acquisition transaction whereby the existing shareholders of the predecessor entity to Midfield partially liquidated their ownership interests. There were in excess of 200 shareholders of the predecessor entity, who were largely employees or former employees of that entity. Prior to the Midfield Transaction described below, employees of Midfield were shareholders of MinorityHCo. These shareholders were largely employees or former employees of Midfield or its predecessor. Certain employees of Midfield own common units in PVF Holdings LLC.

In connection with the Midfield Investment, a shareholders agreement was entered into among CanHCo, MinorityHCo and Midfield. One of the features of the shareholders agreement was the "Call Right", which was held by CanHCo, and was a right to acquire the securities of Midfield held by MinorityHCo. This allowed CanHCo to acquire the remainder of the ownership in Midfield that it did not acquire in June 2005 at the time of the Midfield Investment. The Call Right was exercisable during a six-month period which commenced on June 15, 2008. Pursuant to the Call Right, CanHCo had the option to provide a purchase notice to MinorityHCo, and was entitled to acquire the shares of Midfield held by MinorityHCo at a price provided by formula. We were required to concurrently acquire all related shareholder loans owing by Midfield to Holdings. CanHCo had intended to exercise the Call Right in the manner described above, however, the Call Right transaction was ultimately structured as a purchase by CanHCo of all of the outstanding securities of MinorityHCo from its shareholders (the "Midfield Transaction"). On July 31, 2008, we paid approximately CDN$90.04 million (US$87.97 million) to the shareholders of and lenders to MinorityHCo, of which $2 million is being held in escrow for one year to satisfy any potential indemnification claims against such shareholders and lenders. On August 1, 2008, pursuant to the stock purchase agreement entered into in connection with the Red Man Transaction, a subsidiary of McJunkin Red Man Corporation paid approximately $47.7 million to former shareholders of Red Man, including Craig Ketchum, Kent Ketchum (brother of Craig Ketchum), and an immediate family member of Craig Ketchum, who received approximately $4.5 million, $6.2 million, and $165,250 respectively.

Red Man Distributors LLC

Red Man Distributors LLC ("RMD") is an Oklahoma limited liability company formed on November 1, 2007 for the purposes of distributing oil country tubular goods in North America as a certified minority supplier. McJunkin Red Man Corporation is a member of RMD and owns 49% of the outstanding equity interests of RMD. The other members of RMD, consisting of Craig Ketchum, Kent Ketchum, Kevin Ketchum and Brian Ketchum, own in the aggregate the remaining 51% of the outstanding equity interests of RMD. RMD is managed by its members. McJunkin Red Man Corporation is retained by RMD as an independent contractor to provide general corporate and administrative services to RMD. McJunkin Red Man Corporation is paid an annual services fee of $725,000 by RMD to provide such services. In addition, McJunkin Red Man Corporation is paid an annual license fee for the right and license to use the name "Red Man". McJunkin Red Man Corporation pays RMD a specified percentage of RMD's gross monthly revenue for the relevant month from sales of products by RMD that are sourced from McJunkin Red Man Corporation.

Related Party Transaction Policy

Beginning on January 31, 2007, we had in place an informal policy for the review, approval, ratification and disclosure of related party transactions. Under this policy, related party transactions were required to be entered into on an arms' length basis. In addition, from January 31, 2007 until the completion of this offering, we are bound by a provision in the PVF LLC Agreement which provides that neither we nor any of our subsidiaries may enter into any transactions with any of the Goldman Sachs Funds or any of their affiliates except for transactions which (i) are otherwise permitted or contemplated by the PVF LLC Agreement, or (ii) are on fair and reasonable terms not materially less favorable to us than we would obtain in a hypothetical comparable arms' length transaction with a person that was not an affiliate of the Goldman Sachs Funds. Our credit facilities also contain covenants which, subject to certain exceptions, require us to conduct all transactions with any of our affiliates on terms that are substantially as favorable to us as we would obtain in a comparable arms' length transaction with a person that is not an affiliate.

Prior to the completion of this offering, our board of directors will adopt a Related Party Transaction Policy, which is designed to monitor and ensure the proper review, approval, ratification and disclosure of related party transactions involving us. This policy applies to any transaction, arrangement or relationship (or any series of similar transactions, arrangements or relationships) in which we were, are or will be a participant and the amount involved exceeds $120,000, and in which any related party had, has or will have a direct or indirect material interest. The audit committee of our board of directors must review, approve and ratify a related party transaction if such transaction is consistent with the Related Party Transaction Policy and is on terms, taken as a whole, which the audit committee believes are no less favorable to us than could be obtained in an arms-length transaction with an unrelated third party, unless the audit committee otherwise determines that the transaction is not in our best interests. Any related party transaction or modification of such transaction which our board of directors has approved or ratified by the affirmative vote of a majority of directors, who do not have a direct or indirect material interest in such transaction, does not need to be approved or ratified by our audit committee. In addition, related party transactions involving compensation will be approved by our compensation committee in lieu of our audit committee.

DESCRIPTION OF OUR INDEBTEDNESS

The following summaries of the material terms of our revolving credit facility, two term loan credit facilities and the debt of our subsidiary Midfield Supply ULC are only general descriptions and are not complete and, as such, are subject to and are qualified in their entirety by reference to the provisions of the revolving credit facility, the two term loan credit facilities, and the agreements governing Midfield Supply ULC's debt, as applicable.

Revolving Credit Facility and Term Loan Facility

Our subsidiary McJunkin Red Man Corporation is the borrower under a $700 million revolving credit facility (the "Revolving Credit Facility") and a $575 million term loan facility (the "Term Loan Facility" and, together with the Revolving Credit Facility, the "Senior Secured Facilities"). $204.4 million of borrowings were outstanding and $490.9 million were available under the Revolving Credit Facility as of June 26, 2008. Goldman Sachs Credit Partners L.P. and Lehman Brothers Inc. are co-lead arrangers and joint bookrunners for each of these facilities.

McJunkin Red Man Corporation entered into the Term Loan Facility, as well as a $300 million asset-backed revolving credit facility with The CIT Group/Business Credit, Inc. and the other financial institutions party thereto, in January 2007 for purposes of financing the acquisition of McJunkin Corporation by affiliates of Goldman Sachs. The Term Loan Facility was amended, and the Revolving Credit Facility was entered into, for purposes of financing the Red Man Transaction in October 2007 and refinancing the $300 million asset-backed revolving credit facility. The Revolving Credit Facility was upsized on June 10, 2008 from $650 million to $700 million.

Letter of Credit and Swingline Sublimits. The Revolving Credit Facility provides for the extension of both revolving loans and swingline loans and the issuance of letters of credit. The aggregate principal amount of revolving loans outstanding at any time under the Revolving Credit Facility may not exceed $700 million, subject to adjustments based on changes in the borrowing base and less the sum of aggregate letters of credit outstanding and the aggregate principal amount of swingline loans outstanding, provided that the borrower may elect to increase the limit on the revolving loans or term loans outstanding as described in "— Incremental Facilities" below. There is a $60 million sub-limit on swingline loans and the total letters of credit outstanding at any time may not exceed $60 million.

Maturity. The revolving loans have a maturity date of October 31, 2013 and the swingline loans have a maturity date of October 24, 2013. Any letters of credit outstanding under the Revolving Credit Facility will expire on October 24, 2013. The maturity date of the term loans under the Term Loan Facility is January 31, 2014.

Interest Rate and Fees. The term loans bear interest at a rate per annum equal to, at the borrower's option, either (i) the greater of the prime rate and the federal funds effective rate plus 0.50%, plus in either case 2.25%; or (ii) LIBOR plus 3.25%. On June 26, 2008, $567.8 million was outstanding under the Term Loan Facility and the interest rate on these loans was 6.13%.

The revolving loans bear interest at a rate per annum equal to, at the borrower's option, either (i) the greater of the prime rate and the federal funds effective rate plus 0.50%, plus in either case (a) 0.50% if the borrower's consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio is greater than or equal to 2.75 to 1.00, (b) 0.25% if such ratio is greater than or equal to 2.00 to 1.00 but less than 2.75 to 1.00, or (c) 0.00% if such ratio is less than 2.00 to 1.00; or (ii) LIBOR plus (a) 1.50% if the borrower's consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio is greater than or equal to 2.75 to 1.00, (b) 1.25% if such ratio is greater than or equal to 2.00 to 1.00 but less than 2.75 to 1.00, or (c) 1.00% if such ratio is less than 2.00 to 1.00. Interest on swingline loans is calculated on the basis of the rate described in clause (i) of the preceding sentence. The weighted average interest rate on the revolving loans as of June 26, 2008 was 4.14% and the interest rate on the swingline loans was 5.25%.

Additionally, the borrower is required to pay a commitment fee with respect to unutilized revolving credit commitments at a rate per annum equal to (i) 0.375% if the borrower's consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio is greater than or equal to 2.75 to 1.00 and (ii) 0.25% if such ratio is less than 2.75 to 1.00. The borrower is also required to pay fees on the stated amounts of outstanding letters of credit for the account of all revolving lenders at a per annum rate equal to (i) 1.375% if the borrower's consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio is greater than or equal to 2.75 to 1.00, (ii) 1.125% if such ratio is greater than or equal to 2.00 to 1.00 but less than 2.75 to 1.00, or (iii) 0.875% if such ratio is less than 2.00 to 1.00. The borrower is required to pay a fronting fee for the account of the letter of credit issuer in respect of each letter of credit issued by it at a rate for each day equal to 0.125% per annum on the average daily stated amount of such letter of credit. The borrower is also obligated to pay directly to the letter of credit issuer upon each issuance of, drawing under, and/or amendment of, a letter of credit issued by it such amount as the borrower and the letter of credit issuer agree upon for issuances of, drawings under or amendments of, letters of credit issued by the letter of credit issuer.

Prepayments. The borrower may voluntarily prepay revolving loans, swingline loans and term loans in whole or in part at the borrower's option, in each case without premium or penalty. If the borrower refinances the term loans on certain terms prior to October 31, 2008, the borrower will be subject to a prepayment penalty of 1.00% of the aggregate principal amount of such prepayment. The borrower is required to prepay outstanding term loans with 100% of the net cash proceeds of:

- a disposition of any business units, assets or other property of the borrower or any of the borrower's restricted subsidiaries not in the ordinary course of business, subject to certain exceptions for permitted asset sales;
- a casualty event with respect to collateral for which the borrower or any of its restricted subsidiaries receives insurance proceeds, or proceeds of a condemnation award or other compensation;
- the issuance or incurrence by the borrower or any of its restricted subsidiaries of indebtedness, subject to certain exceptions; and
- any sale-leaseback transaction permitted under the Term Loan Facility.

Not later than the date that is 90 days after the last day of any fiscal year, the borrower under the Term Loan Facility will be required to prepay the outstanding term loans under the Term Loan Facility with an amount equal to (i) 50% of "excess cash flow" for such fiscal year, provided that (a) the percentage will be reduced to 25% if the borrower's ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated EBITDA for the most recent four consecutive fiscal quarters is no greater than 2.50 to 1.00 but greater than 2.00 to 1.00, and (b) no prepayment of term loans with excess cash flow is required if the borrower's ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated EBITDA for the most recent four consecutive fiscal quarters is no greater than 2.00 to 1.00, minus (ii) the principal amount of term loans under the Term Loan Facility voluntarily prepaid during such fiscal year.

In addition, if at any time the aggregate amount of outstanding loans, unreimbursed letter of credit drawings and undrawn letters of credit under the Revolving Credit Facility exceeds the total revolving credit commitments or the borrowing base, the borrower will be required to repay outstanding loans or cash collateralize letters of credit in an aggregate amount equal to such excess, with no reduction of the commitment amount. If the amount available under the Revolving Credit Facility is less than 7% of total revolving credit commitments for any period of five consecutive business days, or an event of default pursuant to certain provisions of the Revolving Credit Facility has occurred, the borrower would be required to transfer funds from certain blocked accounts daily into a collection account under the exclusive control of the agent under the Revolving Credit Facility.

Amortization. The term loans are repayable in quarterly installments in an amount equal to the principal amount of the term loans outstanding on the quarterly installment date multiplied by 0.25%, with the balance of the principal amount due on the term loan maturity date of January 31, 2014.

Incremental Facilities. Subject to certain terms and conditions, the borrower may request an increase in revolving loan commitments and term loan commitments. The increase in revolving loan commitments may not exceed the sum of (i) $150 million, plus (ii) only after the entire amount in the preceding clause (i) is drawn, an amount such that on a pro forma basis after giving effect to the new revolving credit commitments and certain other specified transactions, the secured leverage ratio will be no greater than 4.75 to 1.00. The borrower's ability to borrow under such incremental facilities, however, would still be limited by the borrowing base. The incremental term loan commitments may not exceed the difference between (i) up to $100 million, and (ii) the sum of all incremental revolving commitments and incremental term loan commitments taken together. Any lender that is offered to provide all or part of the new revolving loan commitments or new term loan commitments may elect or decline, in its sole discretion, to provide such new commitments.

Collateral and Guarantors. The obligations under the Senior Secured Facilities are guaranteed by the borrower's wholly owned domestic subsidiaries. The obligations under the Revolving Credit Facility are secured, subject to exceptions, by substantially all of the assets of the borrower and the subsidiary guarantors, including (i) a first-priority security interest in personal property consisting of and arising from inventory and accounts receivable; (ii) a second-priority pledge of certain of the capital stock held by the borrower or any subsidiary guarantor; and (iii) a second-priority security interest in, and mortgages on, substantially all other tangible and intangible assets of the borrower and each subsidiary guarantor. The obligations under the Term Loan Facility are secured, subject to certain significant exceptions, by substantially all of the assets of the borrower and the subsidiary guarantors, including (i) a second-priority security interest in personal property consisting of and arising from inventory and accounts receivable; (ii) a first-priority pledge of certain of the capital stock held by the borrower or any subsidiary guarantor; and (iii) a first-priority security interest in, and mortgages on, substantially all other tangible and intangible assets of the borrower and each subsidiary guarantor.

Covenants. The Senior Secured Facilities contain customary covenants. These agreements, among other things, restrict, subject to certain exceptions, the ability of the borrower and its subsidiaries to incur additional indebtedness, create liens on assets, engage in mergers, consolidations or sales of assets, dispose of subsidiary interests, make investments, loans or advances, pay dividends, make payments with respect to subordinated indebtedness, enter into sale and leaseback transactions, change the business conducted by the borrower and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, and enter into agreements that restrict subsidiary dividends or limit the ability of the borrower or any subsidiary guarantor to create or keep liens for the benefit of the lenders with respect to the obligations under the Senior Secured Facilities. The Senior Secured Facilities require the borrower to enter into interest rate swap, cap and hedge agreements for purposes of ensuring that no less than 50% of the aggregate principal amount of the total indebtedness of the borrower and its subsidiaries then outstanding is either subject to such interest rate agreements or bears interest at a fixed rate.

The Term Loan Facility requires the borrower to maintain a maximum ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA and a minimum ratio of consolidated adjusted EBITDA to consolidated interest expense. Each of these ratios is calculated for the period that is four consecutive fiscal quarters prior to the date of calculation. These financial covenants are set forth in the table below:

June 30, 2008	4.25:1.00	3.00:1.00
September 30, 2008	4.25:1.00	3.00:1.00
December 31, 2008	4.25:1.00	3.00:1.00
March 31, 2009	3.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
June 30, 2009	3.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
September 30, 2009	3.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
December 31, 2009	3.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
March 31, 2010	2.75:1.00	3.25:1.00
June 30, 2010	2.75:1.00	3.25:1.00
September 30, 2010	2.75:1.00	3.25:1.00
December 31, 2010	2.75:1.00	3.25:1.00
March 31, 2011	2.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
June 30, 2011	2.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
September 30, 2011	2.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
December 31, 2011	2.50:1.00	3.25:1.00
March 31, 2012 and thereafter	2.50:1.00	3.50:1.00

If the borrower fails to comply with the consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio, then within ten days after the date on which financial statements for the applicable period are due under the Term Loan Facility, the Goldman Sachs Funds and other investors in the borrower (or any direct or indirect parent of the borrower) have a cure right which allows any of them to make a direct or indirect equity investment in the borrower or any restricted subsidiary of the borrower in cash. If such cure right is exercised, the consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio of the borrower will be recalculated to give pro forma effect to the net cash proceeds received from the exercise of the cure right. The cure right is subject to certain limitations. For the four prior consecutive fiscal quarters, there must be at least one fiscal quarter in which the cure right is not exercised. Additionally, the equity investment contributed under the cure right may not exceed the amount necessary to bring the borrower back into compliance with the restrictions regarding the borrower's consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio.

Although the Revolving Credit Facility does not require the borrower to comply with any financial ratio maintenance covenants, if less than 7% of the then-outstanding credit commitments are available to be borrowed under the Revolving Credit Facility at any time, the borrower will not be permitted to borrow additional amounts unless its pro forma ratio of consolidated adjusted EBITDA to consolidated fixed charges is at least 1.00 to 1.00.

The Term Loan Facility provides that the borrower and its restricted subsidiaries may not make, or commit to make, capital expenditures in excess of $25 million in any year. If the actual amount of capital expenditures made in any fiscal year is less than the amount permitted to be made in such fiscal year, the amount of such difference may be carried forward and used to make capital expenditures in the succeeding fiscal year, though the carried forward amount may not be used beyond the immediately succeeding fiscal year.

Events of Default. The Senior Secured Facilities contain customary events of default. The events of default include the failure to pay interest and principal when due, failure to pay fees and any other amounts owed under the Senior Secured Facilities when due, a breach of certain covenants in the Senior Secured Facilities, a breach of any representation or warranty contained in the Senior Secured Facilities in any material breach, defaults in payments with respect to any other indebtedness in excess of $15 million (under the Term Loan Facility) or in excess of $30 million (under the Revolving Credit Facility), defaults with respect to other indebtedness in excess of $15 million (under the Term Loan Facility) or in excess of $30 million (under the Revolving Credit Facility) that has the effect of accelerating such indebtedness, bankruptcy, certain events relating to employee benefits plans, failure of a material subsidiary's guarantee to remain in full force and effect, failure of the security agreement, pledge agreements pursuant to which the stock of any material subsidiary is pledged, or any mortgage for the benefit of the lenders under the Term Loan Facility to remain in full force and effect, entry of one or more judgments or decrees against the borrower or its restricted subsidiaries involving a liability of $15 million or more in the aggregate (under the Term Loan Facility) or $30 million or more in the aggregate (under the Revolving Credit Facility), and the invalidation of subordination provisions of any document evidencing permitted additional debt having a principal amount in excess of $15 million.

The Senior Secured Facilities also contain an event of default upon the occurrence of a change of control. Under the Senior Secured Facilities, a "change of control" shall have occurred if (i) the Goldman Sachs Funds and certain of their affiliates shall cease to beneficially own at least 35% of the voting power of the outstanding voting stock of the borrower (other than as a result of one or more widely distributed offerings of the common stock of the borrower or any direct or indirect parent of the borrower); or (ii) any person, entity or "group" (within the meaning of Section 13(d) or 14(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended) shall have acquired beneficial ownership of a percentage of the voting power of the outstanding voting stock of the borrower that exceeds the percentage of the voting power of such voting stock then beneficially owned, in the aggregate, by the Goldman Sachs Funds and certain of their affiliates, unless, in the case of either clause (i) or (ii) above, the Goldman Sachs Funds have, at such time, the right or the ability by voting power, contract or otherwise to elect or designate for election at least a majority of the board of directors of the borrower; or (iii) a majority of the board of directors of the borrower ceases to consist of "continuing directors", defined as individuals who (a) were members of the board of directors of the borrower on October 31, 2007 (or January 31, 2007 for purposes of determining whether an event of default has occurred under the Term Loan Facility), (b) who have been a member of the board of directors for at least 12 months preceding October 31, 2007 or January 31, 2007, as the case may be, (c) who have been nominated to be a member of the board of directors, directly or indirectly, by the Goldman Sachs Funds and certain of their affiliates or persons nominated by the Goldman Sachs Funds and certain of their affiliates or (d) who have been nominated to be a member of the board of directors by a majority of the other continuing directors then in office.

Junior Term Loan Facility

On May 22, 2008, McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation, as the borrower, entered into a $450 Million Term Loan Credit Agreement (the "Junior Term Loan Facility"). Goldman Sachs Credit Partners L.P. and Lehman Brothers Inc. were the co-lead arrangers and joint bookrunners under this facility. The proceeds from the Junior Term Loan Facility, along with $25 million in proceeds from revolving loans drawn under the Revolving Credit Facility, were used to fund a dividend to McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation's stockholders, including PVF Holdings LLC. PVF Holdings LLC distributed the proceeds it received from the dividend to its members, including the Goldman Sachs Funds and certain of our directors and members of our management. See "Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions — Transactions with the Goldman Sachs Funds — May 2008 Dividend". The term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility are not subject to amortization and the principal of such loans must be repaid on January 31, 2014.

Interest Rate and Fees. The term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility bear interest at a rate per annum equal to, at the borrower's option, either (i) the greater of the prime rate and the federal funds effective rate plus 0.50%, plus in either case 2.25%, or (ii) LIBOR multiplied by the statutory reserve rate plus 3.25%.

Prepayments. We may voluntarily prepay term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility in whole or in part at our option, without premium or penalty. After the payment in full of the term loans under the Term Loan Facility, we will be required to prepay outstanding term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility with 100% of the net cash proceeds of:

- a disposition of any of our or our restricted subsidiaries' business units, assets or other property not in the ordinary course of business, subject to certain exceptions for permitted asset sales;
- a casualty event with respect to collateral for which we or any of our restricted subsidiaries receives insurance proceeds, or proceeds of a condemnation award or other compensation;
- the issuance or incurrence by us or any of our restricted subsidiaries of indebtedness, subject to certain exceptions; and
- any sale-leaseback transaction permitted under the Junior Term Loan Facility.

Also, after the payment in full of the term loans under the Term Loan Facility, not later than the date that is 90 days after the last day of any fiscal year, we will be required to prepay the outstanding term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility with an amount equal to (i) 50% of "excess cash flow" for such fiscal year, provided that (a) the percentage will be reduced to 25% if the borrower's ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA for the most recent four consecutive fiscal quarters is no greater than 2.50 to 1.00 but greater than 2.00 to 1.00, and (b) no prepayment of term loans with excess cash flow is required if the borrower's ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA for the most recent four consecutive fiscal quarters is no greater than 2.00 to 1.00, minus (ii) the principal amount of term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility voluntarily prepaid during such fiscal year.

We must also prepay the principal amount of the term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility with 50% of the cash proceeds received by us from a "Qualified IPO", net of underwriting discounts and commissions and other related reasonable costs and expenses. A "Qualified IPO" is defined as a bona fide underwritten sale to the public of our common stock or the common stock of any of our direct or indirect subsidiaries or our direct or indirect parent companies pursuant to a registration statement that is declared effective by the SEC or the equivalent offering on a private exchange or platform. Prepayment is only required if we or one of our subsidiaries receives cash proceeds from the Qualified IPO.

Collateral. The term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility are secured by perfected security interests in and liens on substantially all of the personal property and certain real property of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation, including the common stock we hold of McJunkin Red Man Corporation. The term loans are not guaranteed by any of our subsidiaries or by PVF Holdings LLC.

Certain Covenants and Events of Default. The Junior Term Loan Facility contains customary covenants for a holding company facility. These agreements, among other things, restrict, subject to certain exceptions, the ability of the borrower to incur additional indebtedness, create liens on assets, and engage in activities or own assets other than certain specified activities and assets. Also, the Junior Term Loan Facility requires the borrower to maintain a maximum ratio of consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA and a minimum ratio of consolidated adjusted EBITDA to consolidated interest expense. Each of these ratios is calculated for the period that is four consecutive fiscal quarters prior to the date of calculation. These financial covenants are set forth in the table below:

Four Consecutive Fiscal Quarters Ending on:	Maximum Consolidated Total Debt to Consolidated Adjusted EBITDA Ratio	Minimum Consolidated Adjusted EBITDA to Consolidated Interest Expense Ratio
June 30, 2008	4.75:1.00	2.50:1.00
September 30, 2008	4.75:1.00	2.50:1.00
December 31, 2008	4.75:1.00	2.50:1.00
March 31, 2009	4.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
June 30, 2009	4.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
December 31, 2009	4.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
March 31, 2010	3.25:1.00	2.75:1.00
June 30, 2010	3.25:1.00	2.75:1.00
September 30, 2010	3.25:1.00	2.75:1.00
December 31, 2010	3.25:1.00	2.75:1.00
March 31, 2011	3.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
June 30, 2011	3.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
September 30, 2011	3.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
December 31, 2011	3.00:1.00	2.75:1.00
March 31, 2012 and thereafter	3.00:1.00	3.00:1.00

Consolidated adjusted EBITDA is calculated under the Junior Term Loan Facility in a similar manner as under the Senior Secured Facilities. See “— Revolving Credit Facility and Term Loan Facility — Covenants.”

The Junior Term Loan Facility provides that the borrower and its restricted subsidiaries may not make, or commit to make, capital expenditures in excess of $30 million in any year. If the actual amount of capital expenditures made in any fiscal year is less than the amount permitted to be made in such fiscal year, the amount of such difference may be carried forward and used to make capital expenditures in the succeeding fiscal year, though the carried forward amount may not be used beyond the immediately succeeding fiscal year.

If the borrower fails to comply with the consolidated total debt to consolidated adjusted EBITDA ratio, then the Goldman Sachs Funds and other investors in the borrower have a cure right that is similar to the cure right provided with respect to the Term Loan Facility. See “— Revolving Credit Facility and Term Loan Facility — Covenants”.

The Junior Term Loan Facility also contains customary events of default that are similar to the events of default under the Senior Secured Credit Facilities, including an event of default upon a change of control. See “— Revolving Credit Facility and Term Loan Facility — Events of Default”.

Purchases of Outstanding Loans. Subject to certain terms and conditions, the Goldman Sachs Funds and their affiliates may from time to time seek to purchase term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility from the lenders under the facility pursuant to open market purchases in an aggregate amount not to exceed 30% of the aggregate principal amount of the loans outstanding under the Junior Term Loan Facility. The Goldman Sachs Funds and their affiliates may contribute such purchased loans to PVF Holdings LLC as an equity contribution in return for equity interests in PVF Holdings LLC and PVF Holdings LLC will then contribute such loans to the borrower under the Junior Term Loan Facility as an equity contribution in return for additional stock of the borrower. In the case of such purchases of term loans by the Goldman Sachs Funds and their affiliates followed by contributions of the purchased loans to PVF Holdings LLC and then to the borrower, the loans subject to such purchases and contributions shall be cancelled.

In addition, the borrower under the Junior Term Loan Facility may from time to time seek to purchase, subject to certain terms and conditions, term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility from the lenders under the facility pursuant to open market purchases. In the case of such purchases by the borrower, the loans subject to such purchases shall be cancelled.

Midfield CDN$150 Million (US$148.26 Million) Revolving Credit Facility

One of our subsidiaries, Midfield Supply ULC, is the borrower under a CDN$150 million (US$148.26 million) revolving credit facility (the "Midfield Revolving Credit Facility") with Bank of America, N.A. and certain other lenders from time to time parties thereto. Proceeds from this facility may be used by Midfield for working capital and other general corporate purposes. As of June 26, 2008, US$51.7 million of borrowings were outstanding and $51.6 million were available under the Midfield Revolving Credit Facility. The facility provides for the extension of up to CDN$150 million (US$148.26 million) in revolving loans, subject to adjustments based on the borrowing base and less the aggregate letters of credit outstanding under the facility. Letters of credit may be issued under the facility subject to certain conditions, including a CDN$10 million or US$9.88 million sub-limit. The revolving loans have a maturity date of November 2, 2010. All letters of credit issued under the facility must expire at least 20 business days prior to November 2, 2010.

Interest Rate and Fees. The revolving loans bear interest at a rate equal to either (i) the Canadian prime rate, plus (a) 0.25% if the "average daily availability" (as defined in the loan and security agreement for the facility) for the previous fiscal quarter was less than CDN$30 million (US$29.65 million) or (b) 0.00% if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was greater than or equal to CDN$30 million, (US$29.65 million) or, at the borrower's option, (ii) the rate of interest per annum equal to the rates applicable to Canadian Dollar Bankers' Acceptances having a comparable term as the proposed loan displayed on the "CDOR Page" of Reuter Monitor Money Rates Service, plus (a) 1.75% if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was less than CDN$30 million (US$29.65 million), (b) 1.50% if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was greater than or equal to CDN$30 million (US$29.65 million) but less than CDN$60 million (US$59.3 million), or (c) 1.25% if the if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was greater than or equal to CDN$60 million (US$59.3 million).

The borrower must pay a monthly unused line fee with respect to unutilized revolving loan commitments equal to (i) 0.25% if the outstanding amount of borrowings under the facility for the immediately preceding fiscal quarter are greater than 50% of the revolving loan commitments, or (ii) 0.375% if otherwise. The borrower must pay a monthly fronting fee equal to 0.125% per annum of the stated amount of letters of credit issued and must also pay a monthly fee to the agent on the average daily stated amount of letters of credit issued equal to (i) 1.75% if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was less than CDN$30 million (US$29.65 million), (ii) 1.50% if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was greater than or equal to CDN$30 million (US$29.65 million) but less than CDN$60 million (US$59.3 million), or (iii) 1.25% if the average daily availability for the previous fiscal quarter was greater than or equal to CDN$60 million (US$59.3 million).

Prepayments. The borrower may prepay the revolving loans from time to time without premium or penalty.

Collateral and Guarantors. The Midfield Revolving Credit Facility is secured by substantially all of the personal property of Midfield Supply ULC and its subsidiary guarantors, Mega Production Testing Inc. and Hagan Oilfield Supply Ltd.

Certain Covenants and Events of Default. The Midfield Revolving Credit Facility contains customary covenants. These agreements, among other things, restrict, subject to certain exceptions, the ability of the borrower and its subsidiaries to incur additional indebtedness, create liens on assets, make distributions, make investments, sell, lease or transfer assets, make loans or advances, pay certain debt, amalgamate, merge, combine or consolidate with another entity, enter into certain types of restrictive agreements, engage in any business other than the business conducted by the borrower and its subsidiaries on the closing date of the Midfield Revolving Credit Facility, enter into transactions with affiliates, become a party to certain employee benefit plans, enter into certain amendments with respect to subordinated debt, make acquisitions, enter into transactions which would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect or cause a default, enter into sale and leaseback transactions, and terminate certain agreements.

Additionally, the Midfield Revolving Credit Facility requires the borrower to maintain a leverage ratio of no greater than 3.50 to 1.00 (measured on a monthly basis) and to maintain a fixed charge coverage ratio of at least 1.15 to 1.00 (measured on a monthly basis). The facility also prohibits the borrower and its subsidiaries from making capital expenditures in excess of $5 million in the aggregate during any fiscal year, subject to exceptions for certain expenditures and provided that if the actual amount of capital expenditures made in any fiscal year is less than the amount permitted to be made in such fiscal year, up to $250,000 of such excess may be carried forward and used to make capital expenditures in the succeeding fiscal year.

The Midfield Revolving Credit Facility contains customary events of default. The events of default include, among others, the failure to pay interest, principal and other obligations under the facility's loan documents when due, a breach of any representation or warranty contained in the loan documents, breaches of certain covenants, the failure of any loan document to remain in full force and effect, a default with respect to other indebtedness in excess of $250,000 if the other indebtedness may be accelerated due to such default, judgments against the borrower and its subsidiaries in excess of $250,000 in the aggregate, the occurrence of any loss or damage with respect to the collateral if the amount not covered by insurance exceeds $100,000, cessation or governmental restraint of a material part of the borrower's or a subsidiary's business, insolvency, certain events related to benefits plans, the criminal indictment of a senior officer of the borrower or a guarantor or the conviction of a senior officer of the borrower or a guarantor of certain crimes, an amendment to the shareholders agreement among Midfield Supply ULC, the entity now known as McJunkin Red Man Canada Ltd. and Midfield Holdings (Alberta) Ltd. without the prior written consent of Bank of America, N.A., and any event or condition that has a material adverse effect on the borrower or a guarantor.

A "change of control" is also an event of default. A "change of control" occurs if (i) McJunkin Red Man Canada Ltd. ceases to own and control, directly or indirectly, 51% or more of the voting equity interests of Midfield Supply ULC, (ii) a change in the majority of directors of Midfield Supply ULC occurs, unless approved by the then-majority of directors, or (iii) all or substantially all of Midfield Supply ULC's assets are sold or transferred.

Midfield CDN$15 Million (US$14.83 Million) Facility

One of our subsidiaries, Midfield Supply ULC, is also the borrower under a CDN$15 million (US$14.83 million) credit facility with Alberta Treasury Branches. The facility is secured by substantially all of the real property and equipment of Midfield Supply ULC and its subsidiary guarantors. The facility contains customary covenants and events of default. The borrower's leverage ratio must not exceed 3.50 to 1, its fixed charge coverage ratio must be at least 1.15 to 1, and its ratio of tangible asset value to borrowings outstanding must be at least 2.00 to 1.

The Midfield CDN$15 million (US$14.83 million) facility and the Midfield CDN$150 million (US$148.26 million) facility are subject to an intercreditor agreement which relates to, among other things, priority of liens and proceeds of sale of collateral.

DESCRIPTION OF OUR CAPITAL STOCK

Immediately following the completion of this offering, our authorized capital stock will consist of shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, and shares of preferred stock, par value $0.01 per share, the rights and preferences of which may be established from time to time by our board of directors. Upon the completion of this offering, there will be outstanding shares of common stock and no outstanding shares of preferred stock. The following description of our capital stock does not purport to be complete and is subject to and qualified by our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and bylaws, which are included as exhibits to the registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part, and by the provisions of applicable Delaware law.

Common Stock

Holders of our common stock are entitled to one vote for each share on all matters voted upon by our stockholders, including the election of directors, and do not have cumulative voting rights. Subject to the rights of holders of any then outstanding shares of our preferred stock, our common stockholders are entitled to any dividends that may be declared by our board of directors. Holders of our common stock are entitled to share ratably in our net assets upon our dissolution or liquidation after payment or provision for all liabilities and any preferential liquidation rights of our preferred stock then outstanding. Holders of our common stock have no preemptive rights to purchase shares of our stock. The shares of our common stock are not subject to any redemption provisions and are not convertible into any other shares of our capital stock. All outstanding shares of our common stock are fully paid and nonassessable. The rights, preferences and privileges of holders of our common stock will be subject to those of the holders of any shares of our preferred stock we may issue in the future.

Our common stock will be represented by certificates, unless our board of directors adopts a resolution providing that some or all of our common stock shall be uncertificated. Any such resolution will not apply to any shares of common stock that are already certificated until such shares are surrendered to us.

Preferred Stock

Our board of directors may, from time to time, authorize the issuance of one or more series of preferred stock without stockholder approval. We have no current intention to issue any shares of preferred stock.

One of the effects of undesignated preferred stock may be to enable our board of directors to discourage an attempt to obtain control of our company by means of a tender offer, proxy contest, merger or otherwise. The issuance of preferred stock may adversely affect the rights of our common stockholders by, among other things:

- restricting dividends on the common stock;
- diluting the voting power of the common stock;
- impairing the liquidation rights of the common stock; or
- delaying or preventing a change in control without further action by the stockholders.

Limitation on Liability and Indemnification of Officers and Directors

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation limits the liability of directors to the fullest extent permitted by Delaware law. The effect of these provisions is to eliminate the rights of our company and our stockholders, through stockholders' derivative suits on behalf of our company, to recover monetary damages against a director for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, including breaches resulting from grossly negligent behavior. However, our directors will be personally liable to us and our stockholders for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty, for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, under Section 174 of the Delaware General Corporation Law or for any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit. In addition, our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and bylaws provide that we will indemnify our directors and officers to the fullest extent permitted by Delaware law. We may enter into indemnification agreements with our current directors and executive officers prior to the completion of this offering. We also maintain directors and officers insurance.

Corporate Opportunities

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation provides that Goldman, Sachs & Co. and its affiliates (which include the Goldman Sachs Funds) have no obligation to offer us any opportunity to participate in business opportunities presented to Goldman, Sachs & Co. or its affiliates even if the opportunity is one that we might reasonably have pursued, and that neither Goldman, Sachs & Co. nor its affiliates will be liable to us or our stockholders for breach of any duty by reason of any such activities unless, in the case of any person who is a director or officer of our company, such business opportunity is expressly offered to such director or officer in writing solely in his or her capacity as an officer or director of our company. Stockholders will be deemed to have notice of and consented to this provision of our amended and restated certificate of incorporation.

Delaware Anti-Takeover Law

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation provides that we are not subject to Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, which regulates corporate acquisitions. This law provides that specified persons who, together with affiliates and associates, own, or within three years did own, 15% or more of the outstanding voting stock of a corporation may not engage in business combinations with the corporation for a period of three years after the date on which the person became an interested stockholder. The law defines the term “business combination” to include mergers, asset sales and other transactions in which the interested stockholder receives or could receive a financial benefit on other than a pro rata basis with other stockholders.

Removal of Directors; Vacancies

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and bylaws provide that any director or the entire board of directors may be removed with or without cause by the affirmative vote of the majority of all shares then entitled to vote at an election of directors. Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and bylaws also provide that any vacancies on our board of directors will be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the board of directors then in office, even if less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director.

Voting

The affirmative vote of a plurality of the shares of our common stock present, in person or by proxy will decide the election of any directors, and the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of our common stock present, in person or by proxy will decide all other matters voted on by stockholders, unless the question is one upon which, by express provision of law, under our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, or under our bylaws, a different vote is required, in which case such provision will control.

Action by Written Consent

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and bylaws provide that stockholder action can be taken by written consent of the stockholders only if Goldman, Sachs & Co. and its affiliates beneficially own more than 25.0% of the outstanding shares of our common stock.

Ability to Call Special Meetings

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and bylaws provide that special meetings of our stockholders can only be called pursuant to a resolution adopted by a majority of our board of directors or by the chairman of our board of directors. Special meetings may also be called by the holders of not less than 25% of the outstanding shares of our common stock if Goldman, Sachs & Co. and its affiliates beneficially own 25% or more of the outstanding shares of our common stock. If Goldman, Sachs & Co. and its affiliates beneficially own less than 25% of the outstanding shares of our common stock, stockholders will not be permitted to call a special meeting or to require our board to call a special meeting.

Amending Our Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation provides that our certificate of incorporation may be amended by the affirmative vote of a majority of the board of directors and by the affirmative vote of the majority of all shares of our common stock then entitled to vote at any annual or special meeting of stockholders. In addition, our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and bylaws provide that our bylaws may be amended, repealed or new bylaws may be adopted by the affirmative vote of a majority of the board of directors or when a quorum is present at any meeting, by the vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of our common stock entitled to vote thereon, present and voting, in person or represented by proxy.

Advance Notice Provisions for Stockholders

In order to nominate directors to our board of directors or bring other business before an annual meeting of our stockholders, a stockholder's notice must be received by the Secretary of the Company at the principal executive offices of the Company not earlier than 120 calendar days and not later than 90 calendar days before the first anniversary of the previous year's annual meeting of stockholders, subject to certain exceptions contained in our bylaws. If the date of the applicable annual meeting is more than 30 days before or more than 30 days after such anniversary date, notice by a stockholder to be timely must be so delivered not earlier than 120 calendar days before the date of such annual meeting and not later than 90 calendar days before the date of such annual meeting or, if the first public announcement of the date of such annual meeting is less than 100 days prior to the date of such annual meeting, the tenth day following the date on which public announcement of the date of such meeting is first made by the Company. The adjournment or postponement of an annual meeting or the announcement shall not commence a new time period for the giving of a stockholder's notice as described above.

Listing

We intend to apply to list our common stock on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol "MRC".

SHARES ELIGIBLE FOR FUTURE SALE

Upon the completion of this offering, we will have outstanding shares of common stock. The shares sold in this offering plus any additional shares sold by the selling stockholder upon exercise of the underwriters' option will be freely tradable without restriction under the Securities Act, unless purchased by our "affiliates" as that term is defined in Rule 144 under the Securities Act. In general, affiliates include executive officers, directors and our largest stockholders. Shares of common stock purchased by affiliates will be subject to the resale limitations of Rule 144.

The remaining shares outstanding following this offering are restricted securities within the meaning of Rule 144. Restricted securities may be sold in the public market only if registered or if they qualify for an exemption from registration under Rule 144 promulgated under the Securities Act, which is summarized below.

Our executive officers and directors and our principal stockholder, PVF Holdings LLC, will enter into lock-up agreements in connection with this offering, generally providing that they will not offer, sell, contract to sell, or grant any option to purchase or otherwise dispose of our common stock or any securities exercisable for or convertible into our common stock owned by them for a period of 180 days after the date of this prospectus without the prior written consent of Goldman, Sachs & Co.

Despite possible earlier eligibility for sale under the provisions of Rule 144 under the Securities Act, any shares subject to the lock-up agreement will not be salable until the lock-up agreement expires or is waived by Goldman, Sachs & Co. Taking into account the lock-up agreement, and assuming that PVF Holdings LLC is not released from its lock-up agreement, the shares held by our affiliates will be eligible for future sale in accordance with the requirements of Rule 144 upon the expiration of the lock-up agreement.

In general, under Rule 144 as currently in effect, after the expiration of lock-up agreements, a person who has beneficially owned restricted securities for at least six months would be entitled to sell within any three-month period a number of shares that does not exceed the greater of the following:

- one percent of the number of shares of common stock then outstanding, which will equal approximately shares immediately after this offering; or
- the average weekly trading volume of the common stock during the four calendar weeks preceding the sale.

Sales under Rule 144 by affiliates are also subject to manner-of-sale requirements, notice requirements and the availability of current public information about us.

PVF Holdings LLC, which will hold shares of our common stock upon the completion of this offering if the underwriters' option to purchase additional shares from PVF Holdings LLC is not exercised (shares of our common stock upon completion of this offering if the underwriters' option is exercised in full), will enter into a new registration rights agreement with us prior to the consummation of this offering. Pursuant to this registration rights agreement, PVF Holdings LLC can request that we use our reasonable best efforts to register its shares with the SEC, including in connection with this offering, on up to six occasions, including pursuant to shelf registration statements. In addition, under the registration rights agreement PVF Holdings LLC will have the ability to exercise certain piggyback registration rights with respect to its own securities if we elect to register any of our equity securities. Immediately after this offering, all of our shares held by PVF Holdings LLC will be entitled to these registration rights.

The registration rights agreement will also provide that if PVF Holdings LLC is dissolved, an amended and restated registration rights agreement will become automatically effective and the existing agreement will terminate. Pursuant to the terms of such amended and restated registration rights agreement, the existing members of PVF Holdings LLC would thereunder be entitled to certain registration rights with respect to our shares which are distributed to them in connection with any such dissolution of PVF Holdings LLC.

CERTAIN U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS FOR NON-U.S. HOLDERS

The following is a general discussion of the material U.S. federal income and estate tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of our common stock by a non-U.S. holder. This discussion is for general information only and is not tax advice. For purposes of this discussion, the term "non-U.S. holder" means a beneficial owner of our common stock that is not, for U.S. federal income tax purposes:

- an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States or a former citizen or resident of the United States subject to taxation as an expatriate;
- a corporation (or other entity classified as a corporation for these purposes) created or organized in, or under the laws of, the United States or any political subdivision of the United States;
- a partnership (including any entity or arrangement classified as a partnership for these purposes);
- an estate whose income is includible in gross income for U.S. federal income tax purposes regardless of its source; or
- a trust, if (1) a United States court is able to exercise primary supervision over the trust's administration and one or more "United States persons" (within the meaning of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or the Code) has the authority to control all of the trust's substantial decisions, or (2) the trust has a valid election in effect under applicable U.S. Treasury regulations to be treated as a United States person.

An individual may be treated as a resident of the United States in any calendar year for U.S. federal income tax purposes, instead of as a nonresident, by, among other ways, being present in the United States on at least 31 days in that calendar year and for an aggregate of at least 183 days during a three-year period ending in the current calendar year. For purposes of this calculation, an individual would count all of the days present in the current year, one-third of the days present in the immediately preceding year and one-sixth of the days present in the second preceding year. Residents are taxed for U.S. federal income purposes as if they were U.S. citizens.

If a partnership (or other entity taxable as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) owns our common stock, the tax treatment of a partner of the partnership may depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership and upon certain determinations made at the partner level. Partners in partnerships that own our common stock should consult their own tax advisors as to the particular U.S. federal income and estate tax consequences applicable to them.

This discussion does not address all of the aspects of U.S. federal income and estate taxation that may be relevant to a non-U.S. holder in light of the non-U.S. holder's particular investment or other circumstances. In particular, this discussion only addresses a non-U.S. holder that holds our common stock as a capital asset (generally, investment property) and does not address:

- special U.S. federal income tax rules that may apply to particular non-U.S. holders, such as financial institutions, insurance companies, tax-exempt organizations, and dealers and traders in stocks, securities or currencies;
- non-U.S. holders holding our common stock as part of a conversion, constructive sale, wash sale or other integrated transaction or a hedge, straddle or synthetic security;
- any U.S. state and local or non-U.S. or other tax consequences; or
- the U.S. federal income or estate tax consequences for the beneficial owners of a non-U.S. holder.

This discussion is based on provisions of the Code, applicable U.S. Treasury regulations and administrative and judicial interpretations, all as in effect or in existence on the date of this prospectus.

Subsequent developments in U.S. federal income or estate tax law, including changes in law or differing interpretations, which may be applied retroactively, could have a material effect on the U.S. federal income and estate tax consequences of owning and disposing of our common stock as set forth in this discussion.

If you are considering purchasing our common stock, you should consult your tax advisor regarding the U.S. federal, state, local and non-U.S. income, estate and other tax consequences to you of owning and disposing of our common stock.

Dividends

We do not anticipate paying any cash dividends on our common stock in the foreseeable future. See “Dividend Policy”. In the event, however, that we pay dividends on our common stock that are not effectively connected with a non-U.S. holder’s conduct of a trade or business in the United States, a U.S. federal withholding tax at a rate of 30%, or a lower rate under an applicable income tax treaty, will be withheld from the gross amount of the dividends paid to such non-U.S. holder.

In order to claim the benefit of an applicable income tax treaty, a non-U.S. holder will be required to provide a properly completed and executed U.S. Internal Revenue Service Form W-8BEN (or other applicable form) in accordance with the applicable certification and disclosure requirements. Special rules apply to partnerships and other pass-through entities and these certification and disclosure requirements also may apply to beneficial owners of partnerships and other pass-through entities that hold our common stock. A non-U.S. holder that is eligible for a reduced rate of U.S. federal withholding tax under an income tax treaty may obtain a refund or credit of any excess amounts withheld by filing an appropriate claim for a refund with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. Non-U.S. holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding their entitlement to benefits under a relevant income tax treaty and the manner of claiming the benefits.

Dividends that are effectively connected with a non-U.S. holder’s conduct of a trade or business in the United States and, if required by an applicable income tax treaty, are attributable to a permanent establishment maintained by the non-U.S. holder in the United States, generally will be taxed on a net income basis at the regular graduated rates and in the manner applicable to United States persons. In that case, the U.S. federal withholding tax discussed above will not apply if the non-U.S. holder provides a properly completed and executed U.S. Internal Revenue Service Form W-8ECI (or other applicable form) in accordance with the applicable certification and disclosure requirements. In addition, a “branch profits tax” may be imposed at a 30% rate, or a lower rate under an applicable income tax treaty, on dividends received by a foreign corporation that are effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States.

Gain on disposition of our common stock

A non-U.S. holder generally will not be taxed on any gain realized on a disposition of our common stock unless:

- the gain is effectively connected with the non-U.S. holder’s conduct of a trade or business in the United States and, if required by an applicable income tax treaty, is attributable to a permanent establishment maintained by the non-U.S. holder in the United States; in these cases, the gain generally will be taxed on a net income basis at the regular graduated rates and in the manner applicable to United States persons (unless an applicable income tax treaty provides otherwise) and, if the non-U.S. holder is a foreign corporation, the “branch profits tax” described above may also apply;
- the non-U.S. holder is an individual who holds our common stock as a capital asset, is present in the United States for at least 183 days in the taxable year of the disposition and meets other requirements (in which case, except as otherwise provided by an applicable income tax treaty, the gain, which may be offset by U.S. source capital losses, generally will be subject to a flat 30% U.S. federal income tax, even though the non-U.S. holder is not considered a resident alien under the Code); or

- we are or have been a "U.S. real property holding corporation" for U.S. federal income tax purposes at any time during the shorter of the five-year period ending on the date of disposition or the period that the non-U.S. holder held our common stock.

Generally, a corporation is a "U.S. real property holding corporation" if the fair market value of its "U.S. real property interests" equals or exceeds 50% of the sum of the fair market value of its worldwide real property interests plus its other assets used or held for use in a trade or business. The tax relating to stock in a U.S. real property holding corporation generally will not apply to a non-U.S. holder whose holdings, direct and indirect, at all times during the applicable period, constituted 5% or less of our common stock, provided that our common stock was regularly traded on an established securities market. We believe that we are not currently, and we do not anticipate becoming in the future, a U.S. real property holding corporation.

Federal estate tax

Our common stock that is owned or treated as owned by an individual who is not a U.S. citizen or resident of the United States (as specially defined for U.S. federal estate tax purposes) at the time of death will be included in the individual's gross estate for U.S. federal estate tax purposes, unless an applicable estate tax or other treaty provides otherwise and, therefore, may be subject to U.S. federal estate tax.

Information reporting and backup withholding tax

Dividends paid to a non-U.S. holder may be subject to U.S. information reporting and backup withholding. A non-U.S. holder will be exempt from backup withholding if the non-U.S. holder provides a properly completed and executed U.S. Internal Revenue Service Form W-8BEN or otherwise meets documentary evidence requirements for establishing its status as a non-U.S. holder or otherwise establishes an exemption.

The gross proceeds from the disposition of our common stock may be subject to U.S. information reporting and backup withholding. If a non-U.S. holder sells our common stock outside the United States through a non-U.S. office of a non-U.S. broker and the sales proceeds are paid to the non-U.S. holder outside the United States, then the U.S. backup withholding and information reporting requirements generally will not apply to that payment. However, U.S. information reporting, but not U.S. backup withholding, will apply to a payment of sales proceeds, even if that payment is made outside the United States, if a non-U.S. holder sells our common stock through a non-U.S. office of a broker that:

- is a United States person;
- derives 50% or more of its gross income in specific periods from the conduct of a trade or business in the United States;
- is a "controlled foreign corporation" for U.S. federal income tax purposes; or
- is a foreign partnership, if at any time during its tax year:
    - one or more of its partners are United States persons who in the aggregate hold more than 50% of the income or capital interests in the partnership; or
    - the foreign partnership is engaged in a United States trade or business, unless the broker has documentary evidence in its files that the non-U.S. holder is not a United States person and certain other conditions are met or the non-U.S. holder otherwise establishes an exemption.

If a non-U.S. holder receives payments of the proceeds of a sale of our common stock from or through a U.S. office of a broker, the payment is subject to both U.S. backup withholding and information reporting unless the non-U.S. holder provides a properly completed and executed U.S. Internal Revenue Service Form W-8BEN certifying that the non-U.S. Holder is not a “United States person” or the non-U.S. holder otherwise establishes an exemption.

Backup withholding is not an additional tax. A non-U.S. holder generally may obtain a refund of any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules that exceed the non-U.S. holder’s U.S. federal income tax liability, if any, by filing a refund claim with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

THE U.S. FEDERAL INCOME AND ESTATE TAX DISCUSSION SET FORTH ABOVE IS INCLUDED FOR GENERAL INFORMATION PURPOSES ONLY. YOU SHOULD CONSULT YOUR TAX ADVISOR TO DETERMINE THE U.S. FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL AND NON-U.S. TAX CONSEQUENCES TO YOU OF OWNING AND DISPOSING OF OUR COMMON STOCK.

UNDERWRITING

The Company, the selling stockholder and the underwriters will enter into an underwriting agreement with respect to the shares being offered. Subject to certain conditions, each underwriter has severally agreed to purchase the number of shares indicated in the following table. Goldman, Sachs & Co. and Lehman Brothers Inc. are the representatives of the underwriters and the joint book-running managers for this offering.

Underwriters	Number of Shares
Goldman, Sachs & Co.
Lehman Brothers Inc.
J.P. Morgan Securities Inc.
Deutsche Bank Securities Inc.
Robert W. Baird & Co. Incorporated
Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC
Stephens Inc.
Total

The underwriters are committed to take and pay for all of the shares being offered, if any are taken, other than the shares covered by the option described below unless and until this option is exercised. We expect that the underwriting agreement will provide that the obligations of the underwriters to take and pay for the shares are subject to a number of conditions, including, among others, the accuracy of the Company's and the selling stockholder's representations and warranties in the underwriting agreement, listing of the shares, receipt of specified letters from counsel and the Company's independent registered public accounting firm, and receipt of specified officers' certificates.

If the underwriters sell more shares than the total number set forth in the table above, the underwriters have an option to buy up to an additional shares from the selling stockholder. They may exercise that option for 30 days. If any shares are purchased pursuant to this option, the underwriters will severally purchase shares in approximately the same proportion as set forth in the table above.

The following table shows the per share and total underwriting discounts and commissions to be paid to the underwriters by the selling stockholder. These amounts are shown assuming both no exercise and full exercise of the underwriters' option to purchase additional shares of common stock.

	No Exercise	Full Exercise
Per Share	$	$
Total	$	$

Shares sold by the underwriters to the public will initially be offered at the initial public offering price set forth on the cover page of this prospectus. Any shares sold by the underwriters to securities dealers may be sold at a discount of up to $ per share from the initial public offering price. If all the shares are not sold at the initial public offering price, the representatives may change the offering price and the other selling terms. The offering of the shares by the underwriters is subject to receipt and acceptance and subject to the underwriters' right to reject any order in whole or in part.

The Company, its executive officers and directors and the selling stockholder have agreed with the underwriters, subject to certain exceptions, not to dispose of or hedge any of their common stock or securities convertible into or exchangeable for shares of common stock during the period from the date of this prospectus continuing through the date 180 days after the date of this prospectus, except with the prior written consent of the representatives. This agreement does not apply to any existing employee benefit plans. See "Shares Eligible for Future Sale" for a description of certain transfer restrictions.

The 180-day restricted period described in the preceding paragraph will be automatically extended if: (1) during the last 17 days of the 180-day restricted period the Company issues an earnings release or announces material news or a material event; or (2) prior to the expiration of the 180-day restricted period, the Company announces that it will release earnings results during the 15-day period following the last day of the 180-day period, in which case the restrictions described in the preceding paragraph will continue to apply until the expiration of the 18-day period beginning on the issuance of the earnings release or the announcement of the material news or material event.

Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for the common stock. The initial public offering price will be negotiated among the Company, the selling stockholder and the representatives. The factors to be considered in determining the initial public offering price of the shares include:

- the history and prospects for our industry;
- our historical performance, including our net sales, net income, margins and certain other financial information;
- estimates of our business potential and earnings prospects;
- an assessment of our management;
- investor demand for our shares of common stock;
- market valuations of companies that we and the representatives believe to be comparable; and
- prevailing securities markets at the time of this offering.

We intend to apply to list our common stock on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol “MRC”. In order to meet the requirements for listing the common stock on the New York Stock Exchange, the underwriters have undertaken to sell lots of 100 or more shares to a minimum of 2,000 beneficial holders.

In connection with this offering, the underwriters may purchase and sell shares of the common stock in the open market. These transactions may include short sales, stabilizing transactions and purchases to cover positions created by short sales. Short sales involve the sale by the underwriters of a greater number of shares than they are required to purchase in this offering. “Covered” short sales are sales made in an amount not greater than the underwriters’ option to purchase additional shares from the selling stockholder in this offering. The underwriters may close out any covered short position by either exercising their option to purchase additional shares or purchasing shares in the open market. In determining the source of shares to close out the covered short position, the underwriters will consider, among other things, the price of shares available for purchase in the open market as compared to the price at which they may purchase additional shares pursuant to the option granted to them. “Naked” short sales are any sales in excess of that option. The underwriters must close out any naked short position by purchasing shares in the open market. A naked short position is more likely to be created if the underwriters are concerned that there may be downward pressure on the price of the shares of common stock in the open market after pricing that could adversely affect investors who purchase in this offering. Stabilizing transactions consist of various bids for or purchases of shares of common stock made by the underwriters in the open market prior to the completion of this offering.

The underwriters may also impose a penalty bid. This occurs when a particular underwriter repays to the underwriters a portion of the underwriting discount received by it because the representatives have repurchased shares sold by or for the account of that underwriter in stabilizing or short covering transactions.

Purchases to cover a short position and stabilizing transactions may have the effect of preventing or retarding a decline in the market price of the shares of common stock and, together with the imposition of the penalty bid, may stabilize, maintain or otherwise affect the market price of the shares of common stock. As a result, the price of the shares of common stock may be higher than the price that otherwise might exist in the open market. If these activities are commenced, they may be discontinued at any time. These transactions may be effected on the New York Stock Exchange, in the over-the-counter market or otherwise.

Each underwriter has represented and agreed that:

(a) it has only communicated or caused to be communicated and will only communicate or cause to be communicated an invitation or inducement to engage in investment activity (within the meaning of Section 21 of the FSMA) received by it in connection with the sale of the shares in circumstances in which Section 21(1) of the FSMA does not apply to the Company; and

(b) it has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the FSMA with respect to anything done by it in relation to the shares in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom.

In relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area which has implemented the Prospectus Directive (each, a Relevant Member State), each underwriter has represented and agreed that with effect from and including the date on which the Prospectus Directive is implemented in that Relevant Member State (the Relevant Implementation Date) it has not made and will not make an offer of shares to the public in that Relevant Member State prior to the publication of a prospectus in relation to the shares which has been approved by the competent authority in that Relevant Member State or, where appropriate, approved in another Relevant Member State and notified to the competent authority in that Relevant Member State, all in accordance with the Prospectus Directive, except that it may, with effect from and including the Relevant Implementation Date, make an offer of shares to the public in that Relevant Member State at any time:

(a) to legal entities which are authorized or regulated to operate in the financial markets or, if not so authorized or regulated, whose corporate purpose is solely to invest in securities;

(b) to any legal entity which has two or more of (1) an average of at least 250 employees during the last financial year; (2) a total balance sheet of more than €43 million and (3) an annual net turnover of more than €50 million, as shown in its last annual or consolidated accounts;

(c) to fewer than 100 natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Directive) subject to obtaining the prior consent of the representatives for any such offer; or

(d) in any other circumstances which do not require the publication by the Company of a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression an “offer of shares to the public” in relation to any shares in any Relevant Member State means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the shares to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe the shares, as the same may be varied in that Relevant Member State by any measure implementing the Prospectus Directive in that Relevant Member State and the expression Prospectus Directive means Directive 2003/71/EC and includes any relevant implementing measure in each Relevant Member State.

The shares may not be offered or sold by means of any document other than (i) in circumstances which do not constitute an offer to the public within the meaning of the Companies Ordinance (Cap. 32, Laws of Hong Kong), or (ii) to “professional investors” within the meaning of the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571, Laws of Hong Kong) and any rules made thereunder, or (iii) in other circumstances which do not result in the document being a “prospectus” within the meaning of the Companies Ordinance (Cap. 32, Laws of Hong Kong), and no advertisement, invitation or document relating to the shares may be issued or may be in the possession of any person for the purpose of issue (in each case whether in Hong Kong or elsewhere), which is directed at, or the contents of which are likely to be accessed or read by, the public in Hong Kong (except if permitted to do so under the laws of Hong Kong) other than with respect to shares which are or are intended to be disposed of only to persons outside Hong Kong or only to "professional investors" within the meaning of the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571, Laws of Hong Kong) and any rules made thereunder.

This prospectus has not been registered as a prospectus with the Monetary Authority of Singapore. Accordingly, this prospectus and any other document or material in connection with the offer or sale, or invitation for subscription or purchase, of the shares may not be circulated or distributed, nor may the shares be offered or sold, or be made the subject of an invitation for subscription or purchase, whether directly or indirectly, to persons in Singapore other than (1) to an institutional investor under Section 274 of the Securities and Futures Act, Chapter 289 of Singapore, or the SFA, (2) to a relevant person, or any person pursuant to Section 275(1A), and in accordance with the conditions, specified in Section 275 of the SFA or (3) otherwise pursuant to, and in accordance with the conditions of, any other applicable provision of the SFA.

Where the shares are subscribed or purchased under Section 275 by a relevant person which is: (a) a corporation (which is not an accredited investor) the sole business of which is to hold investments and the entire share capital of which is owned by one or more individuals, each of whom is an accredited investor; or (b) a trust (where the trustee is not an accredited investor) whose sole purpose is to hold investments and each beneficiary is an accredited investor, shares, debentures and units of shares and debentures of that corporation or the beneficiaries' rights and interest in that trust shall not be transferable for 6 months after that corporation or that trust has acquired the shares under Section 275 except: (1) to an institutional investor under Section 274 of the SFA or to a relevant person, or any person pursuant to Section 275(1A), and in accordance with the conditions, specified in Section 275 of the SFA; (2) where no consideration is given for the transfer; or (3) by operation of law.

The securities have not been and will not be registered under the Securities and Exchange Law of Japan (the "Securities and Exchange Law") and each underwriter has agreed that it will not offer or sell any securities, directly or indirectly, in Japan or to, or for the benefit of, any resident of Japan (which term as used herein means any person resident in Japan, including any corporation or other entity organized under the laws of Japan), or to others for re-offering or resale, directly or indirectly, in Japan or to a resident of Japan, except pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of, and otherwise in compliance with, the Securities and Exchange Law and any other applicable laws, regulations and ministerial guidelines of Japan.

The shares may not be offered, sold and delivered directly or indirectly, or offered or sold to any person for reoffering or resale, directly or indirectly, in Korea or to any resident of Korea except pursuant to the applicable laws and regulations of Korea, including the Korea Securities and Exchange Act and the Foreign Exchange Transaction Law and the decrees and regulations thereunder. The shares have not been registered with the Financial Services Commission of Korea for public offering in Korea. Furthermore, the shares may not be resold to Korean residents unless the purchaser of the shares complies with all applicable regulatory requirements (including but not limited to government approval requirements under the Foreign Exchange Transaction Law and its subordinate decrees and regulations) in connection with the purchase of the shares.

This prospectus has not been and will not be registered as a prospectus with the Registrar of Companies in India or with the Securities and Exchange Board of India. This prospectus or any other material relating to these securities is for information purposes only and may not be circulated or distributed, directly or indirectly, to the public or any members of the public in India and in any event to not more than 50 persons in India. Further, persons into whose possession this prospectus comes are required to inform themselves about and to observe any such restrictions. Each prospective investor is advised to consult its advisors about the particular consequences to it of an investment in these securities. Each prospective investor is also advised that any investment in these securities by it is subject to the regulations prescribed by the Reserve Bank of India and the Foreign Exchange Management Act and any regulations framed thereunder.

No prospectus or other disclosure document (as defined in the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) of Australia ("Corporations Act")) in relation to the shares has been or will be lodged with the Australian Securities & Investments Commission ("ASIC"). This document has not been lodged with ASIC and is only directed to certain categories of exempt persons. Accordingly, if you receive this document in Australia:

(a) you confirm and warrant that you are either:

(i) a "sophisticated investor" under section 708(8)(a) or (b) of the Corporations Act;

(ii) a "sophisticated investor" under section 708(8)(c) or (d) of the Corporations Act and that you have provided an accountant's certificate to us which complies with the requirements of section 708(8)(c)(i) or (ii) of the Corporations Act and related regulations before the offer has been made;

(ii) a person associated with the company under section 708(12) of the Corporations Act; or

(iv) a "professional investor" within the meaning of section 708(11)(a) or (b) of the Corporations Act, and to the extent that you are unable to confirm or warrant that you are an exempt sophisticated investor, associated person or professional investor under the Corporations Act any offer made to you under this document is void and incapable of acceptance; and

(b) you warrant and agree that you will not offer any of the shares for resale in Australia within 12 months of those shares being issued unless any such resale offer is exempt from the requirement to issue a disclosure document under section 708 of the Corporations Act.

The underwriters do not expect sales to discretionary accounts to exceed five percent of the total number of shares offered. The underwriters have informed us that they do not intend to confirm sales to discretionary accounts without the prior specific written approval of the customer.

The Company and the selling stockholder estimate that their share of the total expenses of this offering will be approximately $5.4 million.

The Company and the selling stockholder have agreed to indemnify the several underwriters against specified liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act.

Affiliates of Goldman, Sachs & Co. own more than 10% of the Company's outstanding common stock. As a result, Goldman, Sachs & Co. is deemed to be an affiliate of the Company under Rule 2720(b)(1) of the NASD Conduct Rules and is deemed to have a conflict of interest under Rule 2720 of such Rules. PVF Holdings LLC, the selling stockholder in this offering, will receive the net proceeds of this offering. Affiliates of Goldman, Sachs & Co. own a majority interest in PVF Holdings LLC, which owns a majority of our outstanding common stock. Accordingly, such affiliates will receive approximately % of the proceeds from this offering. This offering will be made in compliance with the applicable provisions of Rule 2720 of the NASD Conduct Rules as required by such Rules. Rule 2720 requires that the initial public offering price be no higher than that recommended by a "qualified independent underwriter", as defined by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"). Lehman Brothers Inc. is serving as a qualified independent underwriter and will assume the customary responsibilities of acting as a qualified independent underwriter in pricing the offering and conducting due diligence. We have agreed to indemnify Lehman Brothers Inc. against any liabilities arising in connection with its role as a qualified independent underwriter, including liabilities under the Securities Act.

Certain of the underwriters and their respective affiliates have, from time to time, performed, and may in the future perform, various financial advisory, investment banking, commercial banking and other services for the company, for which they received or will receive customary fees and expenses. Furthermore, certain of the underwriters and their respective affiliates may, from time to time, enter into arms-length transactions with us in the ordinary course of their business.

Goldman Sachs Credit Partners L.P. is a co-lead arranger and joint bookrunner under our Revolving Credit Facility, Term Loan Facility and Junior Term Loan Facility. Goldman Sachs Credit Partners L.P. is also the syndication agent under the Term Loan Facility and the Junior Term Loan Facility. For a description of other transactions between us and Goldman Sachs & Co. and its affiliates, including payments of dividends and payments under our credit facilities by us to such affiliates, see “Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions”.

Lehman Brothers Inc. is a co-lead arranger and joint bookrunner under our Revolving Credit Facility, Term Loan Facility, and Junior Term Loan Facility. Lehman Brothers Inc. is also the syndication agent under the Term Loan Facility. Lehman Commercial Paper Inc., an affiliate of Lehman Brothers Inc., is an administrative agent and collateral agent under the Term Loan Facility and the Junior Term Loan Facility.

JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., an affiliate of J.P. Morgan Securities Inc., is a lender under the Revolving Credit Facility and is also a co-documentation agent and reference lender under that facility. JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. is also a reference lender under the Term Loan Facility and the Junior Term Loan Facility, and is a lender under the Midfield Revolving Credit Facility.

A prospectus in electronic format may be made available on Internet sites or through other online services maintained by one or more of the underwriters and/or selling group members participating in this offering, or by their affiliates. In those cases, prospective investors may view offering terms online and, depending upon the particular underwriter or selling group member, prospective investors may be allowed to place orders online. The underwriters may agree with us to allocate a specific number of shares for sale to online brokerage account holders. Any such allocation for online distributions will be made by the representatives on the same basis as other allocations.

Other than the prospectus in electronic format, the information on any underwriter’s or selling group member’s web site and any information contained in any other web site maintained by an underwriter or selling group member is not part of the prospectus or the registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part, has not been approved and/or endorsed by us or any underwriter or selling group member in its capacity as underwriter or selling group member and should not be relied upon by investors.

If you purchase shares of common stock offered in this prospectus, you may be required to pay stamp taxes and other charges under the laws and practices of the country of purchase, in addition to the offering price listed on the cover page of this prospectus.

LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the shares of common stock offered by this prospectus will be passed upon for our company by Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP, New York, New York. Davis Polk & Wardwell, New York, New York is acting as counsel to the underwriters.

EXPERTS

The consolidated financial statements of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2007, and for the period from inception (January 31, 2007) to December 31, 2007, and those of McJunkin Corporation and subsidiaries predecessor to McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation for the period from January 1, 2007 to January 30, 2007, appearing in this Prospectus and Registration Statement have been audited by Ernst & Young LLP, independent registered public accounting firm, as set forth in their report thereon appearing elsewhere herein, and are included in reliance upon such report given on the authority of such firm as experts in accounting and auditing.

Schneider Downs & Co., Inc., independent registered public accounting firm, has audited the financial statements of McJunkin Corporation at December 31, 2005 and December 31, 2006 and for the years ended December 31, 2005 and December 31, 2006, as set forth in their report. We have included these financial statements in the prospectus and elsewhere in the registration statement in reliance on the report of Schneider Downs & Co., Inc., given on their authority as experts in accounting and auditing.

The consolidated financial statements of Red Man Pipe and Supply Company at October 31, 2007 and October 31, 2006 and for each of the three years in the period ended October 31, 2007, included in this Prospectus have been so included in reliance on the report of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, independent accountants, given on the authority of said firm as experts in auditing and accounting.

The auditor of our predecessor, McJunkin Corporation, was Schneider Downs & Co., Inc. through December 31, 2006. At the direction of our board of directors, Schneider Downs & Co., Inc. was dismissed and on June 1, 2007 the company engaged Ernst & Young LLP as its independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007. The reports of Schneider Downs & Co., Inc. on our predecessor's financial statements for the past two fiscal years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 did not contain an adverse opinion or a disclaimer of opinion and were not qualified or modified as to uncertainty, audit scope, or accounting principles. In connection with the audits of our predecessor's financial statements for each of the two fiscal years ended December 31, 2006 and in the subsequent interim period through the date of appointment of Ernst & Young, LLP, there were no disagreements with Schneider Downs & Co., Inc. on any matters of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure, or auditing scope and procedures which, if not resolved to the satisfaction of Schneider Downs & Co., Inc. would have caused Schneider Downs & Co., to make reference to the matter in their report. In addition, no event occurred which requires disclosure under Item 304(a)(2) of Regulation S-K. The company has requested Schneider Downs & Co., to furnish it a letter addressed to the Commission stating whether it agrees with the above statements. A copy of that letter, dated August 18, 2008, is filed as Exhibit 16 to the registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part.

WHERE YOU CAN FIND MORE INFORMATION

We have filed with the SEC a registration statement on Form S-1 under the Securities Act with respect to the common stock. This prospectus does not contain all of the information set forth in the registration statement and the exhibits and schedules to the registration statement. For further information with respect to us and our common stock, we refer you to the registration statement and the exhibits and schedules filed as a part of the registration statement. Statements contained in this prospectus concerning the contents of any contract or any other document are not necessarily complete. If a contract or document has been filed as an exhibit to the registration statement, we refer you to the copy of the contract or document that has been filed as an exhibit and reference thereto is qualified in all respects by the terms of the filed exhibit.

The registration statement, including exhibits and schedules, may be inspected without charge at the Public Reference Room of the SEC at 100 F Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20549, and copies of all or any part of it may be obtained from that office after payment of fees prescribed by the SEC. Information on the operation of the Public Reference Room may be obtained by calling the SEC at 1-800-SEC-0330. The SEC maintains a web site that contains reports, proxy and information statements and other information regarding registrants that file electronically with the SEC at http://www.sec.gov.

INDEX TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of McJunkin Red Man Corporation and subsidiaries

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheet of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation and subsidiaries (the Company) as of December 31, 2007, and the related consolidated statements of income, shareholders' equity, and cash flows for the period from inception (January 31, 2007) to December 31, 2007. We have also audited the accompanying consolidated statements of income, shareholders' equity and cash flows of McJunkin Corporation and subsidiaries (McJunkin) predecessor to the Company for the period from January 1, 2007 to January 30, 2007. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. The financial statements of McJunkin as of December 31, 2006, and for each of the two years in the period then ended were audited by other auditors whose report dated January 13, 2007, expressed an unqualified opinion on those statements.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. We were not engaged to perform an audit of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation and subsidiaries at December 31, 2007, and the consolidated results of their operations and their cash flows for the period from inception (January 31, 2007) to December 31, 2007, and the consolidated results of operations and cash flows of McJunkin Corporation and Subsidiaries, predecessor to the Company for the period from January 1, 2007 to January 30, 2007, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

McJUNKIN RED MAN HOLDING CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES

NOTE 1 — SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Business Operations: McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation (the Company) is a holding company co-headquartered in Charleston, West Virginia and Tulsa, Oklahoma. Holding is a substantially owned subsidiary of PVF Holdings LLC. The Company's wholly owned subsidiary, McJunkin Red Man Corporation and its subsidiaries (MRM) are national distributors of pipe, valves, and fittings, with locations in principal industrial, hydrocarbon producing and refining areas throughout the United States and Canada. Major customers represent the natural gas producing, petroleum refining, chemical and other segments of the raw materials processing and construction industries. Products are obtained from a broad range of suppliers.

The Company operates as a single reportable segment, which represents the Company's business of providing industrial pipe valves and fittings to various customers through our distribution operations located throughout North America. The Company has operations in eight geographic regions, which have similar economic characteristics, and similar products and services, types or classes of customers, distribution methods and similar regulatory environments in each location. The total consolidated net sales outside of the United States were 4.49% for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007, 0.8% for the one month ended January 30, 2007 and 0.8% and 1.0% for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. The percentage of total consolidated assets outside of the United States as of December 31, 2007 and 2006 was 11.0% and 0.7%, respectively.

Basis of Presentation: PVF Holdings LLC, (formerly known as McJ Holding LLC) was formed on November 20, 2006 by affiliates of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. ("Goldman Sachs") and a control group of certain shareholders of McJunkin Corporation (McJunkin) for the purpose of acquiring McJunkin on January 31, 2007. The affiliates of Goldman Sachs referred to in the previous sentence are GS Capital Partners V Fund, L.P., GS Capital Partners V Offshore Fund, L.P., GS Capital Partners V GmbH & Co. KG, and GS Capital Partners V Institutional, L.P. (collectively, the "Goldman Sachs Funds"). Management and control of all of the Goldman Sachs Funds is vested exclusively in their general partners and investment managers, which are wholly owned direct and indirect subsidiaries of Goldman Sachs. The investment manager of each of the Goldman Sachs Funds is Goldman, Sachs & Co., which is a wholly owned subsidiary of Goldman Sachs. In connection with the acquisition by the Goldman Sachs Funds of a controlling interest in McJunkin, a new basis of accounting and reporting was established that reflected the Goldman Sachs Funds' cost of the acquisition. This new accounting basis has been pushed down to the Company's accounts and is reflected in the Company's consolidated balance sheet (successor basis) at December 31, 2007.

Because PVF Holdings LLC and the Company had no operations, assets, or business prior to their acquisition of McJunkin, McJunkin is the predecessor of MRM, the Company, and PVF Holdings LLC. While these statements have been prepared to present the financial position and results of operations for the Company, such financial position and results would not be significantly different if reported at either the PVF Holdings LLC or the MRM levels of consolidation.

All references to the "Predecessor" relate to McJunkin for periods prior to January 31, 2007. All references to the "Successor" relate to the Company for periods subsequent to January 31, 2007. As a result, the consolidated income statements and statements of cash flows for the eleven-month period ended December 31, 2007 consist of the earnings and cash flows of the Company. The consolidated income statements and statements of cash flows of the Company for the month ended January 30, 2007 and for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, are presented as Predecessor financial statements for comparison purposes.

December 31, 2007

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation and its wholly owned and majority owned subsidiaries. The residual ownership in the equity and income of Midfield Supply ULC (Midfield), a 51% owned, Canada-based subsidiary, is reflected as minority interest. All significant intercompany transactions have been eliminated.

Cash Equivalents: The Company considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less at the date of purchase to be cash equivalents.

Financial Instruments: In the normal course of business, the Company invests in various financial assets and incurs various financial liabilities. Financial instruments that potentially could subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of trade accounts and notes receivable and an interest rate swap agreement. The Company's financial assets and liabilities are generally recorded in the consolidated balance sheets at historical cost, which approximates fair value. Specific treatment of certain financial instruments is discussed below.

Investments: Investments are carried at fair market value based on quoted market prices. Prior to the acquisition by the Goldman Sachs Funds on January 31, 2007, these available for sale investments were recorded at fair value and reflected as investments on the balance sheets. Changes to the fair value of the assets were recorded in other comprehensive income, net of related deferred taxes. On January 31, 2007, these investments were reclassified as assets held for sale as more fully described in Assets Held for Sale below.

Short-Term and Long-Term Borrowings: Borrowings under the credit facilities have variable rates that reflect currently available terms and conditions for similar debt. The carrying amount of this debt is a reasonable estimate of its fair value.

Leases: Management estimated the fair value of the Company's lease obligations using discounted cash flow analysis based on the Company's current lease rates for similar leases, and determined that the fair value is not materially different from carrying values.

Derivatives: The Company utilizes interest rate swaps to reduce its exposure to potential interest rate increases. Changes in fair values of derivative instruments were based upon independent market quotes.

Assets Held for Sale: Certain of the Company's assets, consisting principally of certain available for sale securities and certain real estate holdings, were designated as non-core assets under the terms of the acquisition by the Goldman Sachs Funds . The Company has classified these as assets held for sale in the balance sheet. A corresponding liability to predecessor shareholders has been recognized to reflect the obligation to the shareholders of record at the date of the acquisition. Upon the sale of these assets, the proceeds net of associated taxes will be distributed to the predecessor shareholders. No gain or loss will be recognized as the result of the sale of these assets.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts: Management's evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance for losses on receivables is based upon periodic evaluation of accounts that may have a higher credit risk using information available about the customer and other relevant data. This formal analysis is inherently subjective and requires management to make significant estimates of factors affecting doubtful accounts, including customer specific information, current economic conditions, volume, growth and composition of the account, and other factors such as financial statements, news reports and published credit ratings. The amount of the allowance for the remainder of the trade balance is not evaluated individually but is based upon historical loss experience. Because this process is subjective and based on estimates, ultimate losses may differ from those estimates. Receivable balances are written off when we determine that the balance is uncollectible. Subsequent recoveries, if any, are credited to the allowance when received. The provision for losses on receivables, which is not material, is included in other expenses in the accompanying consolidated statements of income. Activity in the allowance for doubtful accounts is set forth in the table below.

	Beginning Balance	Additions Charged to Costs & Expenses	Deductions	Ending Balance
		(In thousands) (Successor)
Eleven months ended
December 31, 2007	$ 2,059.6	$ 4,450.2	$ 157.6	$6,352.2
One month ended January 30, 2007	2,015.0	45.0	0.4	2,059.6
(Predecessor)
Year ended December 31, 2006	1,743.3	414.0	142.3	2,015.0

Concentration of Credit Risk: Most of the Company's business activity is with customers in the chemical, petroleum, refining and other segments of the raw materials processing industry. In the normal course of business the Company grants credit to these customers in the form of trade accounts receivable. These receivables could potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk; however, the Company minimizes such risk by closely monitoring extensions of trade credit. The Company generally does not require collateral on its trade receivables.

The Company has a broad customer base doing business in all regions of the United States as well as parts of Canada. During 2007, 2006 and 2005, the Company did not have sales to any customers in excess of 10% of gross sales and at those respective year-ends, no individual customer balances exceeded 10% of gross accounts receivable. Accordingly, no significant concentration of credit risk is considered to exist.

Debt Issuance Costs: The Company defers costs directly related to obtaining financing and amortizes them over the term of the loan on a straight-line basis which is not materially different than the effective interest method. Such amounts are reflected in the consolidated income statement as a component of interest expense.

Derivatives and Hedging: The Company records all derivatives on the balance sheet at fair value. If a derivative is designated as a cash flow hedge, the Company measures the effectiveness of the hedge, or the degree that the gain (loss) for the hedging instrument offsets the loss (gain) on the hedged item, at each reporting period. The effective portion of the gain (loss) on the derivative instrument is recognized in other comprehensive income as a component of equity and, subsequently, reclassified into earnings when the forecasted transaction affects earnings. The ineffective portion of a derivative's change in fair value is recognized in earnings immediately. Derivatives that do not qualify for hedge treatment are recorded at fair value with gains (losses) recognized in earnings in the period of change.

December 31, 2007

Fixed Assets: Land, buildings and equipment are stated on the basis of cost. For financial statement purposes, depreciation is computed over the estimated useful lives of the assets principally by the straight-line method; accelerated depreciation and cost recovery methods are used for income tax purposes. When assets are retired or otherwise disposed of, the cost and related accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and any gain or loss is reflected in income for the period. Maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Ranges of estimated useful lives for financial reporting purposes are as follows:

Buildings and improvements	40 years
Machinery, shop equipment and vehicles	3-10 years
Furniture, fixtures and office equipment	3-10 years

Foreign Currency Translation and Transactions: Gains and losses from balance sheet translation of operations outside of the United States where the applicable foreign currency is the functional currency are included as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income within stockholders' equity. Gains and losses resulting from foreign currency transactions are recognized currently in the consolidated income statements.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets: Goodwill represents the excess of cost over the fair value of net assets acquired. Recorded goodwill balances are not amortized but, instead, are evaluated for impairment annually or more frequently if circumstances indicate that an impairment may exist.

Intangible assets are initially recorded at fair value at the date of acquisition. Amortization is provided using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. The carrying value of intangible assets is subject to an impairment test on an annual basis, or more frequently if events or circumstances indicate a possible impairment. The measure of impairment is based on the estimated fair values.

Income Taxes: Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded for differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of assets and liabilities using the tax rate expected to be in effect when the taxes will actually be paid or refunds received.

The Company adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation (FIN) 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes — an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109, which clarifies the accounting and disclosure for uncertain tax positions, as defined. FIN 48 requires that a tax position meet a "probable recognition threshold" for the benefit of the uncertain tax position to be recognized in the financial statements. The impact of adoption was not material.

Insurance: The Company is self-insured for portions of employee healthcare and maintains a deductible program as it relates to workers' compensation, automobile liability, asbestos claims and general liability claims including, but not limited to, product liability claims, which are secured by various letters of credit totaling $3.1 million. Commercially comprehensive catastrophic coverage is maintained. The company's liability and related expenses for claims are estimated based upon past experience. The company's historical claim data is used to project anticipated losses. The reserves are deemed by the company to be sufficient to cover outstanding claims including those incurred but not reported as of the estimation date.

Under our Property & Casualty Program, we are self-insured for automobile collision and automobile comprehensive coverage. We are also self-insured for product recall. We also currently self-insure for ocean cargo shipments to Nigeria. The dollar volume of product fluctuates depending on the particular shipment. For all other coverage, we carry commercially reasonable and nonmaterial deductibles. We have an umbrella liability policy that covers liabilities in excess of $1 million, except that this policy only covers automobile-related liabilities in excess of $3 million. We also have excess liability coverage for liabilities in excess of $25 million.

Inventories: The Company's inventories are generally valued at the lower of cost (principally last-in, first-out method) or market. The Company believes the LIFO method more fairly presents the results of operations by more closely matching current costs with current revenues. The Company records an adjustment each month, if necessary, for the expected annual effect of inflation, and these estimates are adjusted to actual results determined at year-end. This practice excludes certain inventories held in Canada totaling $78.6 million, at December 31, 2007, that are valued at the lower of weighted average cost or market.

Long-Lived Assets: The carrying value of long-lived assets is evaluated whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the asset may be impaired. Upon the occurrence of such an event or change in circumstance, an impairment loss is recognized when estimated undiscounted future cash flows resulting from the use of the asset, including disposition, is less than the carrying value of the asset. Impairment is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the fair value.

Reclassifications: Certain immaterial amounts in the prior years' financial statements have been reclassified to conform to the current year's presentation.

Revenue Recognition: The Company recognizes revenue as products are shipped, title has transferred to the customer, and the customer assumes the risk and rewards of ownership. Out-bound shipping and handling costs are reflected in cost of goods sold, and freight charges billed to customers are reflected in revenues.

Equity-Based Compensation: The Company's equity-based compensation consists of restricted common units, profit units, restricted stock and non-qualified stock options. The cost of employee services received in exchange for an award of an equity instrument is measured based on the grant-date fair value of the award. The Company's policy is to expense stock-based compensation using the fair-value of awards granted, modified or settled. Restricted common units, profit units, and restricted stock are credited to equity as they are expensed over their vesting periods based on the current market value of the shares to be granted.

The fair value of non-qualified stock options is measured on the grant date of the related equity instrument using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model and is recognized as compensation expense over the applicable vesting period.

Earnings Per Share: Basic earnings per share are computed based upon the weighted average number of common units outstanding. Diluted earnings per share include the dilutive effect of restricted stock and stock options.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements: In December 2007, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 141R (SFAS No. 141R), Business Combinations — Revised. SFAS No. 141R requires an acquirer to recognize the assets acquired, the liabilities assumed, and any non-controlling interest in the acquiree at the acquisition date, measured at the fair values as of that date, with limited exceptions specified in the statement. That replaces Statement 141's cost-allocation process, which required the cost of an acquisition to be allocated to the individual assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values. The statement applies to business combinations for which the acquisition date is on or after the beginning of the first annual reporting period beginning on or after December 15, 2008. The Company has not yet completed the analysis necessary to determine the impact adoption of this standard may ultimately have on future financial reporting.

In September 2006, the FASB issued Statement on Financial Accounting Standards No. 157 (SFAS No. 157), Fair Value Measurements. SFAS No. 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. The provisions of SFAS No. 157 are effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. The Company does not expect adoption of SFAS No. 157 to have a material effect on its results of operations or financial position.

In February 2007, the FASB issued Statement on Financial Accounting Standards No. 159 (SFAS No. 159), The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities. SFAS No. 159 provides companies with an option to report selected financial assets and liabilities at fair value. It also established presentation and disclosure requirements to facilitate comparisons between companies using different measurement attributes for similar types of assets and liabilities. This statement is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. The Company does not expect adoption of SFAS No. 159 to have a material effect on its results of operations or financial position.

In December 2007, the FASB issued Statement on Financial Accounting Standards No. 160 (SFAS No. 160), Noncontrolling Interests in Consolidated Financial Statements — an amendment of Accounting Research Bulletin No. 51. SFAS No. 160 establishes accounting and reporting standards for ownership interests in subsidiaries held by parties other than the parent, the amount of consolidated net income attributable to the parent and to the noncontrolling interest, changes in a parent's ownership interest and the valuation of retained noncontrolling equity investments when a subsidiary is deconsolidated. SFAS No. 160 also establishes disclosure requirements that clearly identify and distinguish between the interests of the parent and the interests of the noncontrolling owners. This statement is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2008. The Company has not yet completed the analysis necessary to determine the impact adoption of this standard may ultimately have on future financial reporting.

NOTE 2 — TRANSACTIONS

Acquisition of Controlling Interest in McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds

The acquisition of a controlling interest in McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds was accounted for in accordance with the provisions of Emerging Issues Task Force No. 88-16, Basis in Leveraged Buyout Transactions (EITF 88-16). EITF 88-16 requires a partial or complete change in accounting basis when there has been a change in control of voting interest. In this transaction, the Goldman Sachs Funds, which had no previous ownership interest in McJunkin, acquired an approximately 55% ownership interest in McJunkin on a fully-diluted basis. The purchase price paid to effect the acquisition was allocated to the fair value of acquired assets and liabilities at January 31, 2007.

Certain members of the Company's executive management team held equity interests in McJunkin, the Predecessor, prior to this transaction and continue to hold equity interests in the Successor. As outlined in EITF 88-16, such members of management are deemed to be part of the control group and the basis of their interests in the Successor after the acquisition was carried over at the basis of their interests in the Predecessor prior to the acquisition as determined by the lesser of their residual interest in the Predecessor and their residual interest in the Successor. Because the 15.8% collective ownership of these individuals prior to the transaction exceeded the 8.3% collective ownership of these individuals subsequent to the transaction, their basis in the Predecessor was carried over to the Successor at a value equaling 8.3% of the Company's historical basis. The difference between this historical basis and the fair value of these interests is reflected in the purchase price allocation table below as a carryover basis adjustment.

The purchase price was approximately $1,008.5 million. The sources and uses of funds in connection with the acquisition are summarized below (in millions):

Sources
Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility	$ 75.0
Term Loan Facility	575.0
Equity contribution — cash	225.6
Equity contribution — non-cash	159.5
Total sources	$ 1,035.1
Uses
Consideration paid to stockholders (including non-cash rollover by McJunkin and McApple stockholders of $159.5 million)	$ 983.4
Transaction costs	16.5
Debt issuance costs	22.8
General corporate purposes	7.6
Repayment of existing debt	4.8
Total uses	$ 1,035.1

In connection with the purchase price allocation, the fair values of long-lived and intangible assets were determined based upon assumptions related to future cash flows, discount rates and asset lives utilizing currently available information. As of January 31, 2007, the Company recorded adjustments to reflect property and equipment, inventory, intangible assets for its tradename, customer-related intangibles, and backlog at their estimated fair values. The Company also acquired the minority interest in McJunkin Appalachian Oilfield Supply Company (McJunkin Appalachian), which became wholly owned concurrent with the acquisition by the Goldman Sachs Funds.

Acquisition of Midway-Tristate Corporation

On April 30, 2007, MRM, through its wholly owned subsidiary McJunkin Appalachian, acquired a 100% interest in Midway-Tristate Corporation (Midway). Midway is engaged primarily in the distribution of pipe, equipment and supplies to the oil and gas and utility industries in Michigan, West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah, Wyoming, and Colorado. The acquisition of Midway significantly increased McJunkin Appalachian's presence particularly in the strategic Rocky Mountain region.

The purchase price was approximately $83.3 million and has preliminarily been allocated as follows (in millions):

Assets acquired
Accounts receivable	$ 19.5
Inventory	30.8
Fixed assets	3.4
Other assets	0.1
Customer-related intangibles	20.1
Goodwill	30.8
	104.7
Liabilities assumed
Accounts payable	11.5
Accrued expenses	2.1
Income taxes payable	0.2
Deferred income taxes	7.6
	21.4
Total purchase price	$ 83.3

Goodwill associated with this transaction is not deductible for tax purposes, nor is any amortization associated with customer-related intangibles which have a useful life of 20 years.

Acquisition of Red Man Pipe & Supply Co.

On October 31, 2007, MRM, through its wholly owned subsidiary West Oklahoma PVF Company, acquired a 100% interest in Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. (Red Man). Red Man is a distributor of tubular goods and an operator of service and supply centers which distribute maintenance, repair and operating products utilized primarily in the energy industry as well as industrial products consisting primarily of line pipe, valves, fittings and flanges. Red Man distributes products and tubular goods through service and supply centers and sales locations strategically located close to major hydrocarbon producing and refining areas of the United States and Canada.

December 31, 2007

The purchase price was approximately $970.4 million (including common units issued for Red Man shares of $104.1 million at closing) and has preliminarily been allocated as follows (in millions):

Assets acquired
Cash	$ 13.9
Accounts receivable	342.3
Notes and other receivables	5.2
Inventory	378.5
Fixed assets	39.6
Other assets	0.2
Intangible Assets	451.1
Goodwill	230.8
	1,461.6
Liabilities assumed
Accounts payable	209.5
Accrued expenses	42.9
Income taxes payable	3.1
Deferred income taxes	60.3
Debt	71.6
Minority interest and amounts due to former Red Man shareholders	100.6
Other liabilities	3.2
Total purchase price	$ 970.4

This allocation of the purchase price is preliminary pending receipt of appraisals and valuations for certain of Red Man's assets, including intangible assets. Goodwill associated with this transaction is not deductible for tax purposes, nor is any amortization associated with amortizable intangibles that are still being valued.

Transaction costs capitalized in connection with the acquisition of Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. totaled $17.3 million and included $12.0 million paid to an affiliate of the Goldman Sachs Funds as reimbursement of their costs associated with due diligence and advisory services.

Subsequent to the date of the balance sheet, certain provisions of the purchase agreement, including a net working capital adjustment, were finalized resulting in an increase of the purchase price referenced above of $18.1 million, including additional shares issued of $7.0 million.

As part of the Red Man transaction, MRM indirectly acquired a call option to buy out the 49% minority interest of Midfield for approximately $100.0 million. The call option may be exercised between June 15, 2008 and December 15, 2008. The Company has concluded that it is probable the option will be exercised and has provided for the financing of such exercise in the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility. Accordingly, the Company has allocated $100.0 million of the purchase price to minority interest and amounts due to former Red Man shareholders. This balance represents the total exercise price of the call option including those amounts that are expected to be paid to the Midfield minority interest shareholders as well as additional amounts that are expected to be paid to the former shareholders of Red Man. In the event the call option is not exercised during that time period, certain additional amounts would be due to the former shareholders of Red Man on January 15, 2009.

Pro Forma Financial Information

The following unaudited pro forma results of operations assume that each of the transactions described above occurred on January 1, 2006. This unaudited pro forma information should not be relied upon as necessarily being indicative of the historical results that would have been obtained if the transactions had actually occurred on that date nor the results that may be obtained in the future.

Amortization of Intangible Assets

Amortization in future periods could change significantly based on the finalization of the purchase price allocation for the Red Man transaction. The potential impact on amortization expense for the two-month period from the date of the acquisition to December 31, 2007 is not material. The weighted average amortization period for each type of intangible is noted in the table above. The weighted average amortization period for all amortizable intangibles is 38 years. Total amortization of all acquisition-related intangible assets for each of the years ending December 31, 2008 to 2012, is currently estimated as follows (in millions):

NOTE 4 — INVENTORIES

If inventories were reported at values approximating current costs, as would have resulted from using the first-in, first-out method, they would have been $10.3 million and $74.4 million higher at December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively. In addition, after giving pro forma effect to profit sharing and income taxes, net income would have been higher by $6.7 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007, $0 for the one-month ended January 30, 2007, and $7.9 million and $13.1 million for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. For the eleven months ended December 31, 2007, the Company experienced a liquidation of certain LIFO inventories resulting in income of $1.5 million.

The Company's inventory is composed of finished goods. There are no general and administrative costs charged to inventory.

Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility: On January 31, 2007, in connection with the acquisition of McJunkin by GSCP, MRM entered into a credit agreement and related security and other agreements for a secured Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility with The CIT Group/Business Credit, Inc. as administrative agent and collateral agent. The Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility provided financing of up to $300.0 million, subject to a borrowing base equal to at any time the lesser of 85% of eligible accounts receivable and 85% of net orderly liquidation value of the eligible inventory, less certain reserves. The Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility included borrowing capacity available for letters of credit and for borrowings on same-day notice. At the closing of the acquisition, MRM utilized $75.0 million of the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility for loans and approximately $3.1 million for letters of credit.

On October 31, 2007, and concurrent with the close of the Red Man acquisition, MRM refinanced the initial Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility with a new $650.0 million facility with terms substantially the same as those described above. At that date, MRM utilized $322.5 million of the new Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility to fund a portion of the Red Man acquisition in addition to refinancing amounts previously outstanding.

December 31, 2007

As of December 31, 2007, MRM had $326.5 million of unused borrowing availability under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility based on a borrowing base of $563.8 million and after giving effect to $3.1 million used for letters of credit.

The Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility provides that MRM has the right at any time to request incremental facilities commitments, but the lenders are under no obligation to provide any such additional commitments. The Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility permits incremental facilities (together with any new commitments under the Term Loan Facility discussed below) up to (1) $200.0 million specifically available to fund the CanHCo Call Right (which pertains to the Midfield Supply minority interest) and refinance certain indebtedness of Midfield Supply, (2) $150.0 million generally available, (3) and additional amounts available so long as the secured leverage ratio as specified in the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility is satisfied. If MRM were to request any such additional commitments and the existing lenders or new lenders were to agree to provide such commitments, the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility size could be increased as described above, but MRM's ability to borrow would still be limited by the amount of the borrowing base.

Borrowings under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility bear interest at a rate per annum equal to, at MRM's option, either (a) a base rate determined by reference to the greater of (1) the prime rate as quoted in The Wall Street Journal and (2) the federal funds effective rate plus $^1/_2$ of 1% or (b) a LIBOR rate, subject to certain adjustments, in each case plus an applicable margin. The applicable margin in the initial asset revolving credit facility was 0.75% with respect to base rate borrowings and 1.75% with respect to LIBOR borrowings. As part of the refinancing, these were revised to 0.50% and 1.50%, respectively. The applicable margin is subject to adjustment downward based on the MRM's leverage ratio. In addition, MRM is required to pay a commitment fee of 0.375% per annum in respect of the unutilized commitments. This rate is also subject to adjustment downward based upon the MRM's leverage. MRM must also pay customary letter of credit fees and agency fees.

If at any time the aggregate amount of outstanding loans, unreimbursed letter of credit drawings and undrawn letters of credit under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility exceeds the lesser of (i) the total revolving credit commitments and (ii) the borrowing base, MRM will be required to repay outstanding loans or cash collateralize letters of credit in an aggregate amount equal to such excess, with no reduction of the commitment amount. If the amount available under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility is less than 7% of total revolving credit commitments, or an event of default pursuant to certain provisions of the credit agreement has occurred, MRM would then be required to deposit daily in a collection account managed by the agent under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility. MRM may voluntarily reduce the unutilized portion of the commitment amount and repay outstanding loans at any time without premium or penalty other than customary "breakage" costs with respect to LIBOR loans. There is no scheduled amortization under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility; the principal amount of the loans outstanding is due and payable in full on October 31, 2013.

All obligations under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility are guaranteed by MRM's existing and future wholly owned domestic subsidiaries. All obligations under MRM's Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility, and the guarantees of those obligations, are secured, subject to certain significant exceptions, by substantially all of the assets of MRM and the subsidiaries that have guaranteed the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility, including:

- A first-priority security interest in personal property consisting of inventory and accounts receivable;
- A second-priority pledge of certain of the capital stock held by MRM or any subsidiary guarantor; and

- A second-priority security interest in, and mortgages on, substantially all other tangible and intangible assets of MRM and each subsidiary guarantor.

The Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility contains a number of covenants that, among other things and subject to certain significant exceptions, restrict its ability and the ability of its subsidiaries to:

- Incur additional indebtedness;
- Pay dividends on MRM's capital stock or the capital stock of MRM's direct or indirect parent;
- Make investments, loans, advances or acquisitions;
- Sell assets, including capital stock of MRM's subsidiaries;
- Consolidate or merge with another entity;
- Create liens;
- Pay, redeem, or amend the terms of subordinated indebtedness;
- Enter into certain sale-leaseback transactions;
- Fundamentally or substantively alter the character of the business conducted by MRM and its subsidiaries; and
- Enter into agreements that limit (1) the ability of non-guarantors to pay dividends to MRM or any guarantor or (2) the ability of MRM or any guarantor to pledge its assets to secure its obligations under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility.

In addition to other customary exceptions, the covenants limiting dividends and other restricted payments and prepayments or redemptions of subordinated indebtedness generally permit the restricted actions in additional limited amounts, subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions, principally that MRM must have at least $50.0 million of pro forma excess availability under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility.

Although the credit agreement governing the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility does not require MRM to comply with any financial ratio maintenance covenants, if less than 7% of the then outstanding credit commitments were available to be borrowed under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility at any time, MRM would not be permitted to borrow any additional amounts unless its pro forma ratio of consolidated EBITDA to consolidated Fixed Charges (as such terms are defined in the credit agreement) were at least 1.0 to 1.0. The credit agreement also contains customary affirmative covenants and events of default.

Term Loan Facility: On January 31, 2007, in connection with the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds, MRM entered into a credit agreement and related security and other agreements for a $575.0 million Term Loan Facility with Lehman Commercial Paper as administrative agent and collateral agent. The full amount of the Term Loan Facility was borrowed on January 31, 2007.

On October 31, 2007, and concurrent with the close of the Red Man acquisition, the Term Loan Facility was amended to permit for the refinancing of the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility, as described above, in addition to revising certain provisions of the agreement as discussed in more detail below.

At December 31, 2007, borrowings under the Term Loan Facility bore interest at a rate per annum equal to, at MRM's option, either (a) a base rate determined by reference to the greater of (1) the prime rate as quoted in The Wall Street Journal and (2) the federal funds effective rate plus $^1/_2$ of 1% or (b) a LIBOR rate, subject to certain adjustments, in each case plus an applicable margin. At December 31, 2007, the applicable margin with respect to base rate borrowings was 2.25% and the applicable margin with respect to LIBOR borrowings was 3.25%. The interest rate on the outstanding borrowings pursuant to the Term Loan Facility was 8.08% at December 31, 2007.

The Term Loan Facility requires MRM to prepay outstanding term loans with 50% (which percentage will be reduced to 25% if MRM's total leverage ratio is less than a specified ratio and will be reduced to 0% if MRM's total leverage ratio is less than a specified ratio) of its annual excess cash flow (as defined in the credit agreement). For 2007, MRM was not required to prepay any outstanding term loans pursuant to the annual excess cash flow requirements.

MRM may voluntarily prepay outstanding loans under the Term Loan Facility at any time without premium or penalty other than customary "breakage" costs with respect to LIBOR loans. The Term Loan Facility amortizes at a rate of 1.00% per year with the balance due at January 31, 2014.

All obligations under the Term Loan Facility are unconditionally guaranteed by the MRM and each wholly owned domestic subsidiary of MRM. All obligations under the Term Loan Facility, and the guarantees of those obligations, are secured, subject to certain significant exceptions, by substantially all of the assets of MRM and the subsidiaries that have guaranteed the Term Loan Facility, including:

- A second-priority security interest in personal property consisting of inventory and accounts receivable;
- A first-priority pledge of certain of the capital stock held by MRM or any subsidiary guarantor; and
- A first-priority security interest in, and mortgages on, substantially all other tangible and intangible assets of the MRM and each subsidiary guarantor.

The Term Loan Facility contains a number of negative covenants that are substantially similar to those governing the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility. The credit agreement also contains customary affirmative covenants and events of default.

MRM was in compliance with the covenants contained in its credit agreements during the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 and during the one month ended January 30, 2007.

Midfield Revolving Credit Facility: Midfield, the Company's Canadian subsidiary, has a Canadian dollar revolving credit facility administered by Bank of America. This facility has a maximum limit of CAD $150 million (US$152.91 million as of 12/31/07) bearing interest at Canadian prime rate plus a margin of up to 0.25%. The revolver is secured by substantially all of Midfield's personal property assets including accounts receivable, chattel paper, bank accounts, general intangibles, inventory, investment property, cash and insurance proceeds. The balance of the revolver is due at its maturity date, November 2, 2010.

Midfield Term Loan Facility: Midfield has a term loan facility that is due on demand. This facility bears interest at Canadian prime rate plus a margin of up to 0.5%. The term loan facility is secured by substantially all of Midfield's real property and equipment.

During the period from October 31, 2007, the date of the Red Man Transaction, to December 31, 2007, Midfield was in compliance with the covenants contained in its revolving credit facility and other debt agreements.

December 31, 2007

Midfield Notes Payable: Midfield has two notes payable due April 1, 2008 pursuant to holdback provisions from recent acquisitions. These amounts, totaling $3.8 million at December 31, 2007, are owed to individuals who became and continue to be shareholders of Midfield supply as a result of these transactions.

Maturities of Long-Term Debt: At December 31, 2007, annual maturities of long-term debt during the next five fiscal years and thereafter are as follows (in millions):

2009	5.8
2012	5.8
Thereafter	774.6

The above table does not reflect future excess cash flow prepayments, if any, that may be required under the Term Loan Facility.

Interest Rate Swaps: The Company uses derivative financial instruments to help manage its interest rate risk. On December 3, 2007, MRM entered into a floating to fixed interest rate swap agreement, effective December 31, 2007, for a notional amount of $700.0 million to limit its exposure to interest rate increases related to a portion of its floating rate indebtedness. The interest rate swap agreement terminates after three years. At December 31, 2007, the fair value of MRM's interest rate swap agreement was a loss of approximately $0.4 million, which amount is included in accrued liabilities.

As of the effective date, MRM designated the interest rate swap as a cash flow hedge. As a result, changes in the fair value of MRM's swap is recorded as a component of other comprehensive income. At December 31, 2007, $0.2 million of unrecognized losses, net of tax, on the interest rate swap agreement is included in other comprehensive income.

As a result of the swap agreement, MRM's effective fixed interest rates as to the $700.0 million in floating rate indebtedness will be 5.368% for associated indebtedness on the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility and 7.118% for associated indebtedness on the Term Loan Facility, per quarter through 2010 and result in an average fixed rate of 6.771%.

Interest Paid: The Company paid interest of $52.9 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007, $0.1 million for the one month ended January 30, 2007, and $2.8 million and $2.6 million for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

NOTE 7 — LEASES

The Company leases land and buildings at various locations from Hansford Associates, Appalachian Leasing, and one stockholder. The Company leases land, buildings and vehicles from Prideco. Certain officers and directors of the Company participate in ownership of Hansford Associates, Appalachian Leasing and Prideco. Most of these leases are renewable for various periods through 2026 and are renewable at the option of the Company. The renewal options are subject to escalation clauses. These leases contain clauses for payment of real estate taxes, maintenance, insurance and certain other operating expenses of the properties. Leases with unrelated parties contain similar provisions.

Amortization of capital leases was as follows (in thousands):

Net deferred tax liability	$ (295,851)	$ (19,625)

Income tax returns are filed in the U.S. federal jurisdiction, various states, Puerto Rico and Canada. The Company is no longer subject to U.S. federal income tax examination for years through 2004.

Effective January 1, 2007, the Predecessor adopted FIN 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes. This interpretation established new standards for the financial statement recognition, measurement and disclosure of uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken in income tax returns.

The effect of adopting FIN 48 was immaterial. Upon adoption, the liability for income taxes under FIN 48 was $0.4 million and interest and penalties were $0.2 million. Interest related to income tax liabilities is classified as interest expense and penalties are recognized as a component of income tax expense. As of December 31, 2007, there were no material changes in the reserve or the amount of unrecognized tax benefits, interest or penalties. It is not anticipated that settlement of the uncertain tax positions will have a material affect on the statutory rate. The decrease in tax liability shown below was due to expiring statute of limitations and settlement of taxes.

A reconciliation of the beginning and ending amount of unrecognized tax benefits is as follows (in thousands):

	(Successor) Eleven Months Ended December 31, 2007	(Predecessor) One Month Ended January 30, 2007

NOTE 9 — STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

Restricted Stock and Stock Option Plans: Effective March 27, 2007, the Company's Board of Directors approved the formation of the 2007 Restricted Stock Plan and the 2007 Stock Option Plan. The purpose of these plans is to aid MRM in recruiting and retaining key employees, directors and consultants of outstanding ability and to motivate such key employees, directors and consultants to exert their best efforts on behalf of the Company by providing incentives in the form of restricted stock and stock options. The Company expects that it will benefit from the added interest which such key employees, directors and consultants will have in the welfare of the Company as a result of their proprietary interest in the Company's success.

Under the terms of the stock option plan, options may not be granted at prices less than their fair market value on the date of the grant, nor for a term exceeding 10 years. Vesting occurs in one-third increments on the third, fourth, and fifth anniversaries of the date specified in the employees' respective option agreements. The Company expenses the fair value of the stock option grants on a straight-line basis over the vesting period. A Black-Scholes option pricing model was used to estimate the fair value of the stock options granted in 2007. For purposes of measuring compensation, the Company relies on a calculated value that requires certain assumptions including volatility based on the appropriate industry sector. Following are the weighted average assumptions used to estimate the fair values of options granted during the eleven months ended December 31, 2007:

Risk-free interest rate	4.10%
Dividend yield	0.00%
Expected volatility	22.07%
Expected lives	6.2 years

A summary of the status of stock option grants under the stock option plan as of December 31, 2007, and changes during the eleven months ended on that date is as follows:

	Options	Weighted Average Exercise Price
Outstanding at January 31, 2007	—	$ —
Granted	3,533.46	3,933.81
Exercised	—	—
Forfeited	—	—
Expired	—	—
Outstanding at December 31, 2007	3,533.46	$ 3,933.81
Options exercisable at December 31, 2007	—	$ —
Options vested at December 31, 2007	—	—

Under the terms of the restricted stock plan, restricted stock may be granted at the direction of the Board of Directors and vesting occurs in one-fourth increments on the second, third, fourth, and fifth anniversaries of the date specified in the employees' respective restricted stock agreements. The Company expenses the fair value of the restricted stock grants on a straight-line basis over the vesting period.

The following table summarizes restricted stock activity under the restricted stock plan as of December 31, 2007, and changes during the eleven months ended on that date:

	Shares
Balance at January 31, 2007	—
Granted	635.52
Forfeited	—
Issued	—
Balance at December 31, 2007	635.52

Compensation expense recognized under the stock option and restricted stock plans totaled $0.3 million and $0.1 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007. As of December 31, 2007, the Company had $4.3 million and $1.4 million of unrecognized compensation expense related to outstanding stock options and restricted stock. These amounts will be recognized over a weighted average vesting period of five years.

Restricted Common Units: In conjunction with the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds, certain key MRM employees received restricted common units of PVF Holdings LLC that vest over a five-year requisite service period. Compensation expense associated with these restricted common units totaled $1.0 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 based upon their fair market value at the date they were issued which is being recognized on a straight-line basis over the vesting period. As of December 31, 2007, the Company had $4.6 million of unrecognized compensation expense related to outstanding restricted common units which will be amortized over a weighted average vesting period of four years.

Profits Units: In conjunction with the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds and the Red Man acquisition, certain key MRM employees received profits units in PVF Holdings LLC that vest over a five-year requisite service period. These units entitle their holders to a share of any distributions made by PVF Holdings LLC once common unit holders have received a return of all capital contributed to PVF Holdings LLC in the period of resolution.

Compensation expense associated with these profits units totaled $1.6 million for the eleven months ended December 31, 2007 based upon their fair market value at the date they were issued which is being amortized on a straight-line basis over the vesting period. As of December 31, 2007, the Company had $15.4 million of unrecognized compensation expense related to outstanding profits units which will be amortized over a weighted average vesting period of five years.

NOTE 10 — EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLANS

In 2007, the Company offered a noncontributory profit sharing plan to employees with at least six months of service. This plan provides for annual employer contributions generally based upon a formula related primarily to earnings, limited to 15% of the eligible compensation paid to all eligible employees. Employees may also participate in the McJunkin Red Man Savings Plan, whereunder any employee who has completed as least six months of service to the Company may elect to defer a percentage of their base earnings, and that deferral is partially matched by the Company, pursuant to section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Employees of Red Man located in the United States who have attained the age of 21 are eligible to participate in the Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. Retirement Savings Plan which also exists pursuant to Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code.

The Company's provisions for the profit sharing plan and matching portion under the 401(k) plans approximated (in thousands):

NOTE 11 — RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

In connection with Red Man's 2005 acquisition of 51% of the shares of Midfield, a Shareholders' Agreement between Red Man Pipe & Supply Canada, LTD., the 51% majority shareholder of Midfield Supply ULC, and Midfield Holdings (Alberta) LTD., the 49% minority interest shareholder of Midfield Supply ULC was created. This agreement, among other things, stipulates how profits of Midfield Supply ULC are shared. Midfield Holdings (Alberta) LTD's portion of the profits are accrued and subsequently paid to shareholders of Midfield Holdings (Alberta) LTD, who are also employees of Midfield Supply ULC, via a formal Employee Profit Sharing Plan (EPSP). In connection with the EPSP, $8.9 million was accrued as of December 31, 2007. Expense associated with this plan is included in selling, general and administrative expenses. Red Man Pipe & Supply Canada, LTD's portion of the profits was accrued and subsequently paid through an after-tax dividend, which has been eliminated in consolidation.

In connection with the EPSP payments, from time to time the minority shareholders make loans to the Company. These notes payable are unsecured, bear interest at 8% and have no fixed terms of repayment. Amounts payable to minority interest shareholders were $25.0 million at December 31, 2007.

Stock option grants are disregarded in this calculation if they are determined to be anti-dilutive. At December 31, 2007, the Company's anti-dilutive stock options totaled 3,533. There were no stock options outstanding at January 30, 2007, December 31, 2006 and 2005.

NOTE 13 — CONTINGENCIES

The Company is involved in various legal proceedings and claims, both as a plaintiff and a defendant, which arise in the ordinary course of business. Included in these legal proceedings are cases where the Company has been named as a defendant in lawsuits brought against a large number of entities by individuals seeking damages for injuries allegedly caused by certain products containing asbestos. Among other things, with the assistance of accounting and financial consultants, the Company conducted an analysis of pending and probable asbestos-related claims to determine the adequacy of its accrual for these claims. This analysis consisted of developing per claim settlement estimates for each category of claim by alleged disease type based on the Company's historical settlement experience. These estimates were applied to each of the Company's pending individual claims. Liability with respect to mass filings was estimated by determining the number of individual plaintiffs included in the mass filings likely to have claims resulting in settlements based on the Company's historical experience with mass filings. Finally, likely claims expected to be asserted against the Company over the next fifteen years were predicted based on public health estimates of future incidences of certain asbestos-related diseases in the general U.S. population and per claim settlement estimates were applied to those estimated claims. Based on this analysis, and the existence of certain insurance coverage, the Company believes that its current accruals for pending and probable asbestos-related litigation are adequate. However, there is a possibility that resolution of the matters could result in additional losses in excess of current accruals. Also, there is a possibility that resolution of certain of the Company's legal contingencies for which there are no liabilities recorded could result in a loss. Management is not able to estimate the amount of such loss, if any. However, in the opinion of the Company, after consultation with counsel, the ultimate resolution of all pending matters is not expected to have a material effect on its financial position, although it is possible that such resolutions could have a material adverse impact on results of operations in the period of resolution.

In addition to the foregoing, from time to time the Company is involved in various other legal and administrative proceedings that are incidental to its business, including claims relating to product liability, general negligence, environmental issues, employment, and other matters. It is not expected that the ultimate resolution of any of these matters will have a material adverse impact on the Company's consolidated financial position or results of operations.

Midfield has issued a financial guarantee in the form of an irrevocable standby letter of credit for an associated entity in the amount of $5.1 million which is recorded in the accompanying balance sheet at its fair value. This letter expires January 31, 2009 subject to certain renewal provisions.

McJUNKIN RED MAN HOLDING CORPORATION
June 26, 2008
(Unaudited)

NOTE 1 — SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Business Operations: McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation (the Company) is a holding company co-headquartered in Charleston, West Virginia and Tulsa, Oklahoma. The Company is a substantially owned subsidiary of PVF Holdings, LLC. Our wholly owned subsidiary, McJunkin Red Man Corporation and its subsidiaries (MRM) are national distributors of pipe, valves, and fittings, with locations in principal industrial, hydrocarbon producing and refining areas throughout the United States and Canada. Major customers represent the natural gas producing, petroleum refining, chemical and other segments of the raw materials processing and construction industries. Products are obtained from a broad range of suppliers.

The Company operates as a single reportable segment, which represents the Company's business of providing industrial pipe valves and fittings to various customers through our distribution operations located throughout North America. The Company has operations in eight geographic regions, which have similar economic characteristics, and similar products and services, types or classes of customers, distribution methods and similar regulatory environments in each location. The total consolidated net sales outside of the United States was 11.7% for the six months ended June 26, 2008, 0.5% for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and 0.8% for the one month ended January 30, 2007. The percentage of total consolidated assets outside of the United States as of June 26, 2008 and December 31, 2007 was 10.5% and 0.2%, respectively. The Company has a broad customer base and did not have sales to any customer in excess of 10% of gross sales for any of the periods presented.

Basis of Presentation: PVF Holdings LLC, (formerly known as McJ Holding LLC) was formed on November 20, 2006 by affiliates of the Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. (the Goldman Sachs Funds) and a control group of certain shareholders of McJunkin Corporation (McJunkin) for the purpose of acquiring McJunkin on January 31, 2007. In connection with the acquisition by the Goldman Sachs Funds of a controlling interest in McJunkin, a new basis of accounting and reporting was established that reflected the Goldman Sachs Funds' cost of the acquisition. This new accounting basis has been pushed down to the Company's accounts and is reflected in the Company's consolidated balance sheet (successor basis) at January 30, 2007.

In connection with the acquisition, GSCP and existing MRM shareholders made an aggregate cash equity contribution of $225.6 million and a noncash equity contribution of $159.5 million to PVF in exchange for 100% ownership interests in both the Company and MRM.

Because PVF Holdings LLC and the Company had no operations, assets or business prior to their acquisition of McJunkin and through December 31, 2007, MRM is the predecessor of the Company and PVF Holdings LLC as of this date. On May 22, 2008, MRM borrowed $25 million in revolving loans under its revolving credit facility and distributed the proceeds of the loans to the Company. On the same date, the Company borrowed $450 million in term loans under its term loan facility and distributed the proceeds of the term loans, together with the proceeds of the revolving loans, to its stockholders, including PVF Holdings LLC. PVF Holdings LLC used the proceeds from the dividend to fund distributions to members of PVF Holdings LLC in May 2008.

All references to the "Predecessor" relate to McJunkin for periods prior to January 31, 2007. All references to the "Successor" relate to the Company for periods subsequent to January 31, 2007. As a result, the consolidated income statements and statements of cash flows for the five-month period ended June 28, 2007 consist of the earnings and cash flows of the Company. The consolidated income statements and statements of cash flows of the Company for the month ended January 30, are presented as Predecessor financial statements for comparison purposes.

Variable Interest Entities (VIE) are those entities in which the Company, through contractual arrangements, bears the risks of, and enjoys the rewards normally associated with ownership of the entities, and therefore, the Company is the primary beneficiary of these entities. MRM owns 49% of the outstanding equity interests of Red Man Distributors LLC ("RMD"), an Oklahoma limited liability company, formed on November 1, 2007 for the purposes of distributing oil country tubular goods in North America as a certified minority supplier. MRM is retained by RMD as an independent contractor to provide general corporate and administrative services to RMD. MRM is paid an annual services fee by RMD to provide such services. In addition, MRM is paid a license fee for the right and license to use the name "Red Man". MRM pays RMD a specified percentage of RMD's gross monthly revenue for the relevant month from sales of products by RMD that are sourced from McJunkin Red Man Corporation. For the six months ended June 26, 2008, the amounts paid approximated $0.4 million (service fee), $0.6 million (license fee) and $3.7 million (sales payment). There were no such amounts paid in the year ended December 31, 2007. RMD is a VIE and MRM has determined that it is the primary beneficiary, therefore the Company has consolidated this entity.

The accompanying unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X for interim financial statements and do not include all information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete annual financial statements. However, the information furnished herein reflects all normal recurring adjustments, which are, in the opinion of management, necessary for a fair presentation of the results for the interim periods. The results of operations for the six months ended June 26, 2008 are not necessarily indicative of the results that will be realized for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2008. The consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2007 has been derived from audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2007. These condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto for the year ended December 31, 2007.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results may differ from these estimates. The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation and its wholly owned and majority owned subsidiaries. The residual ownership in the equity and income of Midfield Supply ULC (Midfield), a 51% owned, Canada-based subsidiary, is reflected as minority interest. All significant intercompany transactions have been eliminated.

There have been no significant changes in our significant accounting polices during the six months ended June 26, 2008 as compared to the significant accounting policies described in our audited financial statements for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2007.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements:

In March 2008, the FASB issued SFAS No. 161, Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. SFAS No. 161 amends and expands the disclosure requirements of SFAS No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. It requires qualitative disclosures about objectives and strategies for using derivatives, quantitative disclosures about fair value amounts of gains and losses on derivative instruments, and disclosures about credit-risk-related contingent features in derivative agreements. This statement is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2008. The Company is still assessing the impact of this pronouncement.

In April 2008, the FASB issued FSP FAS 142-3, Determination of the Useful Life of Intangible Assets, (FSP FAS 142-3). FSP FAS 142-3 amends the factors that should be considered in developing renewal or extension assumptions used to determine the useful life of a recognized intangible asset under SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. The intent of the position is to improve the consistency between the useful life of a recognized intangible asset under SFAS No. 142 and the period of expected cash flows used to measure the fair value of the intangible asset. FSP FAS 142-3 is effective for the fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2008. The Company is assessing the potential impact that the adoption of FSP FAS 142-3 may have on its consolidated financial statements.

In May 2008, the FASB issued SFAS No. 162, The Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, (SFAS No. 162). SFAS No. 162 identifies the sources of accounting principles and the framework for selecting the principles used in the preparation of financial statements of nongovernmental entities that are presented in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. This statement shall be effective 60 days following the Securities and Exchange Commission's approval of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board amendments to AU Section 411, The Meaning of Present Fairly in Conformity With Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. The Company does not believe that implementation of this standard will have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

In June 2008, the FASB ratified Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. 08-3, Accounting for Lessees for Maintenance Deposits Under Lease Arrangements, (EITF 08-3). EITF 08-3 provides guidance for accounting for nonrefundable maintenance deposits. EITF 08-3 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2008. The Company does not currently expect the adoption of EITF 08-3 to have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

NOTE 2 — TRANSACTIONS AND SUBSEQUENT EVENT

Acquisition of Controlling Interest in McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds

In connection with the acquisition of controlling interest in McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds, the purchase price paid to effect the acquisition was allocated to the fair value of acquired assets and liabilities at January 31, 2007.

Certain members of the Company's executive management team held equity interests in McJunkin, the Predecessor, prior to this transaction and continue to hold equity interests in the Successor. In accordance with the provisions of Emerging Issues Task Force No. 88-16, Basis in Leveraged Buyout Transactions, the basis of executive management's interests in the Company, the Successor, after the acquisition was carried over at the basis of their interests in the Predecessor prior to the acquisition.

Acquisition of Midway-Tristate Corporation

On April 30, 2007, MRM, through its wholly owned subsidiary McJunkin Appalachian , acquired a 100% interest in Midway-Tristate Corporation (Midway). Midway is engaged primarily in the distribution of pipe, equipment and supplies to the oil and gas and utility industries in Michigan, West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah, Wyoming, and Colorado. The acquisition of Midway significantly increased McApple's presence particularly in the strategic Rocky Mountain region.

Goodwill associated with this transaction is not deductible for tax purposes, nor is any amortization associated with customer-related intangibles which have a useful life of 20 years.

Acquisition of Red Man Pipe & Supply Co.

On October 31, 2007, MRM, through its wholly owned subsidiary West Oklahoma PVF Company, acquired a 100% interest in Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. (Red Man). Red Man is a distributor of tubular goods and an operator of service and supply centers which distribute maintenance, repair and operating products utilized primarily in the energy industry as well as industrial products consisting primarily of line pipe, valves, fittings and flanges. Red Man distributes products and tubular goods through service and supply centers and sales locations strategically located close to major hydrocarbon producing and refining areas in the United States and Canada.

Total purchase price	$ 991.0

Transaction costs capitalized in connection with the acquisition of Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. totaled $17.3 million and included $12.0 million paid to an affiliate of GSCP as reimbursement of their costs associated with due diligence and advisory services.

As part of the Red Man transaction, MRM indirectly acquired a call option to buy out the 49% minority interest of Midfield for approximately $100.0 million. The call option may be exercised between June 15, 2008 and December 15, 2008. On July 31, 2008 MRM exercised this call right. Approximately $68 million of the purchase price was paid in cash with proceeds from MRM's Asset Based Revolving Credit Facility while the remainder was paid through the issuance of PVF stock. In addition to the $100.0 million purchase price, the company repaid $29 million of loans to the selling shareholders of Midfield Supply.

Pro Forma Financial Information

The following unaudited pro forma results of operations assume that each of the transactions described above occurred on January 1, 2007. This unaudited pro forma information should not be relied upon as necessarily being indicative of the historical results that would have been obtained if the transactions had actually occurred on that date nor the results that may be obtained in the future.

Amortization of Intangible Assets

The weighted average amortization period for each type of intangible is noted in the table above. The weighted average amortization period for all amortizable intangibles is 30.3 years. The sales order backlog is amortized over one year, the non-compete agreements are amortized over the life of the agreements (five years) and the customer base is amortized based upon estimated attrition rates. Total amortization of all acquisition-related intangible assets for each of the years ending December 31, 2008 to 2012, is currently estimated as follows (in millions):

2010	26.1
2011	26.1

NOTE 4 — INVENTORIES

If inventories were reported at values approximating current costs, as would have resulted from using the first-in, first-out method, they would have been $65.9 million and $10.3 million higher at June 26, 2008 and December 31, 2007, respectively. In addition, after giving pro forma effect to profit sharing and income taxes, net income would have been higher by $34.9 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 and $1.8 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007, respectively. No such amounts were recorded for the one month ended January 30, 2007. For the six months ended June 26, 2008, the Company experienced a liquidation of certain LIFO inventories resulting in income of $15.1 million. For the five months ended June 28, 2007, the Company experienced a liquidation of certain LIFO inventories resulting in income of $1.6 million. The liquidation for the one month ended January 30, 2007 was immaterial.

The Company's inventory is composed of finished goods. There are no general and administrative costs charged to inventory.

NOTE 5 — LONG-TERM DEBT

The significant components of our long-term debt are as follows (in thousands):

	June 26, 2008	December 31, 2007
Asset-based revolving credit facility	$ 204,394	$ 234,146
Term loan facility	567,813	569,250
Junior Term loan facility	450,000	—
Midfield revolving credit facility	51,727	50,970
Midfield term loan facility	9,845	10,228
Midfield notes payable	967	3,803
	1,284,746	868,397
Less current portion	16,562	19,781
	$ 1,268,184	$ 848,616

Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility: On January 31, 2007, in connection with the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds, MRM entered into a credit agreement and related security and other agreements for a secured Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility with The CIT Group/Business Credit, Inc. as administrative agent and collateral agent. The Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility provided financing of up to $300.0 million, subject to a borrowing base equal to at any time the lesser of 85% of eligible accounts receivable and 85% of net orderly liquidation value of the eligible inventory, less certain reserves. The Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility included borrowing capacity available for letters of credit and for borrowings on same-day notice. At the closing of the acquisition, MRM utilized $75.0 million of the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility for loans and approximately $3.1 million for letters of credit.

On October 31, 2007, and concurrent with the close of the Red Man acquisition, MRM refinanced the initial Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility with a new $650.0 million facility with terms substantially the same as those described above. At that date, MRM utilized $322.5 million of the new Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility to fund a portion of the Red Man acquisition in addition to refinancing amounts previously outstanding. In June 2008, the facility limit increased to $700.0 million.

As of June 26, 2008 and December 31, 2007, $204.4 million and $234.1 million, respectively, in borrowings were outstanding under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility. As of June 26, 2008, MRM had $490.8 million of unused borrowing availability based on a borrowing base of $700 million and after giving effect to $4.8 million used for letters of credit.

The Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility provides that MRM has the right at any time to request incremental facilities commitments, but the lenders are under no obligation to provide any such additional commitments. The Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility permits incremental facilities (together with any new commitments under the Term Loan Facility discussed below) up to (1) $150.0 million generally available, (2) and additional amounts available so long as the secured leverage ratio as specified in the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility is satisfied. If MRM were to request any such additional commitments and the existing lenders or new lenders were to agree to provide such commitments, the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility size could be increased as described above, but MRM's ability to borrow would still be limited by the amount of the borrowing base.

Borrowings under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility bear interest at a rate per annum equal to, at MRM's option, either (a) a base rate determined by reference to the greater of (1) the prime rate as quoted in The Wall Street Journal and (2) the federal funds effective rate plus 1/2 of 1% or (b) a LIBOR rate, subject to certain adjustments, in each case plus an applicable margin. The applicable margin in the initial asset revolving credit facility was 0.75% with respect to base rate borrowings and 1.75% with respect to LIBOR borrowings. As part of the refinancing, these were revised to 0.50% and 1.50%, respectively. The applicable margin is subject to adjustment downward based on the MRM's leverage ratio. In addition, MRM is required to pay a commitment fee of 0.375% per annum in respect of the unutilized commitments. This rate is also subject to adjustment downward based upon the MRM's leverage. MRM must also pay customary letter of credit fees and agency fees. The weighted average interest rate on the revolving loans was 4.21% and 6.53% at June 26, 2008 and December 31, 2007, respectively.

If at any time the aggregate amount of outstanding loans, unreimbursed letter of credit drawings and undrawn letters of credit under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility exceeds the lesser of (i) the total revolving credit commitments and (ii) the borrowing base, MRM will be required to repay outstanding loans or cash collateralize letters of credit in an aggregate amount equal to such excess, with no reduction of the commitment amount. If the amount available under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility is less than 7% of total revolving credit commitments, or an event of default pursuant to certain provisions of the credit agreement has occurred, MRM would then be required to deposit daily in a collection account managed by the agent under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit

Facility. MRM may voluntarily reduce the unutilized portion of the commitment amount and repay outstanding loans at any time without premium or penalty other than customary "breakage" costs with respect to LIBOR loans. There is no scheduled amortization under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility; the principal amount of the loans outstanding is due and payable in full on October 31, 2013.

All obligations under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility are guaranteed by MRM's existing and future wholly owned domestic subsidiaries. All obligations under MRM's Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility, and the guarantees of those obligations, are secured, subject to certain significant exceptions, by substantially all of the assets of MRM and the subsidiaries that have guaranteed the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility, including:

- A first-priority security interest in personal property consisting of inventory and accounts receivable;
- A second-priority pledge of certain of the capital stock held by MRM or any subsidiary guarantor; and
- A second-priority security interest in, and mortgages on, substantially all other tangible and intangible assets of MRM and each subsidiary guarantor.

The Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility contains a number of covenants that, among other things and subject to certain significant exceptions, restrict MRM's ability and the ability of its subsidiaries to:

- Incur additional indebtedness;
- Pay dividends on MRM's capital stock or the capital stock of MRM's direct or indirect parent;
- Make investments, loans, advances or acquisitions;
- Sell assets, including capital stock of MRM's subsidiaries;
- Consolidate or merge with another entity;
- Create liens;
- Pay, redeem, or amend the terms of subordinated indebtedness;
- Enter into certain sale-leaseback transactions;
- Fundamentally or substantively alter the character of the business conducted by MRM and its subsidiaries; and
- Enter into agreements that limit (1) the ability of non-guarantors to pay dividends to MRM or any guarantor or (2) the ability of MRM or any guarantor to pledge its assets to secure its obligations under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility.

In addition to other customary exceptions, the covenants limiting dividends and other restricted payments and prepayments or redemptions of subordinated indebtedness generally permit the restricted actions in additional limited amounts, subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions, principally that MRM must have at least $50.0 million of pro forma excess availability under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility.

Although the credit agreement governing the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility does not require MRM to comply with any financial ratio maintenance covenants, if less than 7% of the then outstanding credit commitments were available to be borrowed under the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility at any time, MRM would not be permitted to borrow any additional amounts unless its pro forma ratio of consolidated EBITDA to consolidated Fixed Charges (as such terms are defined in the credit agreement) were at least 1.0 to 1.0. The credit agreement also contains customary affirmative covenants and events of default.

Term Loan Facility: On January 31, 2007, in connection with the acquisition of McJunkin by GSCP, MRM entered into a credit agreement and related security and other agreements for a $575.0 million Term Loan Facility with Lehman Commercial Paper as administrative agent and collateral agent. The full amount of the Term Loan Facility was borrowed on January 31, 2007.

On October 31, 2007, and concurrent with the close of the Red Man acquisition, the Term Loan Facility was amended to permit for the refinancing of the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility, as described above, in addition to revising certain provisions of the agreement as discussed in more detail below.

These borrowings bear interest at a rate per annum equal to, at MRM's option, either (a) the greater of the prime rate and the federal funds rate effective rate plus 0.50%, plus in either case 2.25%; or (b) LIBOR plus 3.25%. On June 26, 2008 and December 31, 2007, $567.8 million and $569.3 million, respectively, were outstanding under the Term Loan. The weighted average interest rate on the term loan was 6.13% and 8.08% at June 26, 2008 and December 31, 2007, respectively.

The Term Loan Facility requires MRM to prepay outstanding term loans with 50% (which percentage will be reduced to 25% if MRM's total leverage ratio is less than a specified ratio and will be reduced to 0% if MRM's total leverage ratio is less than a specified ratio) of its annual excess cash flow (as defined in the credit agreement). For 2008 and 2007, MRM was not required to prepay any outstanding term loans pursuant to the annual excess cash flow requirements.

MRM may voluntarily prepay outstanding loans under the Term Loan Facility at any time without premium or penalty other than customary "breakage" costs with respect to LIBOR loans. The Term Loan Facility amortizes at a rate of 1.00% per year with the balance due at January 31, 2014.

All obligations under the Term Loan Facility are unconditionally guaranteed by MRM and each wholly owned domestic subsidiary of MRM. All obligations under the Term Loan Facility, and the guarantees of those obligations, are secured, subject to certain significant exceptions, by substantially all of the assets of MRM and the subsidiaries that have guaranteed the Term Loan Facility, including:

- A second-priority security interest in personal property consisting of inventory and accounts receivable;
- A first-priority pledge of certain of the capital stock held by MRM or any subsidiary guarantor; and
- A first-priority security interest in, and mortgages on, substantially all other tangible and intangible assets of the Company and each subsidiary guarantor.

The Term Loan Facility contains a number of negative covenants that are substantially similar to those governing the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility. The credit agreement also contains customary affirmative covenants and events of default.

Junior Term Loan Facility: On May 22, 2008, McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation, as the borrower, entered into a $450 Million Term Loan Credit Agreement (the "Junior Term Loan Facility"). The proceeds from the Junior Term Loan Facility, along with $25 million in proceeds from revolving loans drawn under the Revolving Credit Facility, were used to fund a dividend to McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation's stockholders, including PVF Holdings LLC. PVF Holdings LLC distributed the proceeds it received from the dividend to its members, including the Goldman Sachs Funds and certain of the Company's directors and members of its management. The term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility are not subject to amortization and the principal of such loans must be repaid on January 31, 2014.

The term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility bear interest at a rate per annum equal to, at the borrower's option, either (i) the greater of the prime rate and the federal funds effective rate plus 0.50%, plus in either case 2.25%, or (ii) LIBOR multiplied by the statutory reserve rate plus 3.25%. On June 26, 2008, $450.0 million was outstanding under the Junior Term Loan Facility and the interest rate on these loans was 5.73%.

We may voluntarily prepay term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility in whole or in part at our option, without premium or penalty. After the payment in full of the term loans under the Term Loan Facility, we will be required to prepay outstanding term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility with 100% of the net cash proceeds of:

- a disposition of any of our or our restricted subsidiaries' business units, assets or other property not in the ordinary course of business, subject to certain exceptions for permitted asset sales;
- a casualty event with respect to collateral for which we or any of our restricted subsidiaries receives insurance proceeds, or proceeds of a condemnation award or other compensation;
- the issuance or incurrence by us or any of our restricted subsidiaries of indebtedness, subject to certain exceptions; and
- any sale-leaseback transaction permitted under the Junior Term Loan Facility.

Also, after the payment in full of the term loans under the Term Loan Facility, we will be required to prepay the outstanding term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility. We must also prepay the principal amount of the term loans under the Junior Term Loan Facility with 50% of the cash proceeds received by us from a "Qualified IPO", net of underwriting discounts and commissions and other related reasonable costs and expenses. A "Qualified IPO" is defined as a bona fide underwritten sale to the public of our common stock or the common stock of any of our direct or indirect subsidiaries or our direct or indirect parent companies pursuant to a registration statement that is declared effective by the SEC or the equivalent offering on a private exchange or platform.

The Junior Term Loan Facility contains a number of negative covenants that are substantially similar to those governing the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility. The credit agreement also contains customary affirmative covenants and events of default.

Midfield Revolving Credit Facility: Midfield, the Company's Canadian subsidiary, has a Canadian dollar revolving credit facility administered by Bank of America. This facility has a maximum limit of CAD $150 million (US $148.26 million as of June 26, 2008) bearing interest at Canadian prime rate plus a margin of up to 0.25%. The revolver is secured by substantially all of Midfield's personal property assets including accounts receivable, chattel paper, bank accounts, general intangibles, inventory, investment property, cash and insurance proceeds. The balance of the revolver is due at its maturity date, November 2, 2010.

Midfield Term Loan Facility: Midfield has a term loan facility that is due on demand. This facility bears interest at Canadian prime rate plus a margin of up to 0.5%. The term loan facility is secured by substantially all of Midfield's real property and equipment.

Midfield Notes Payable: Midfield has two notes payable pursuant to holdback provisions from recent acquisitions. These amounts, totaling $1.0 million and $3.8 million at June 26, 2008 and December 31, 2007, respectively, are owed to individuals who became and continue to be shareholders of Midfield supply as a result of these transactions. These notes were paid in August 2008.

Maturities of Long-Term Debt: At June 26, 2008, annual maturities of long-term debt during the next five fiscal years and thereafter are as follows (in millions):

2009	5.8
2011	5.8
2012	5.8
Thereafter	1,194.0

The above table does not reflect future excess cash flow prepayments, if any, that may be required under the Term Loan Facility.

Interest Rate Swaps: The Company uses derivative financial instruments to help manage its interest rate risk exposure. On December 3, 2007, MRM entered into a floating to fixed interest rate swap agreement, effective December 31, 2007, for a notional amount of $700.0 million to limit its exposure to interest rate increases related to a portion of its floating rate indebtedness. The interest rate swap agreement terminates after three years. At June 26, 2008 and December 31, 2007, the fair value of MRM's interest rate swap agreement was a loss of approximately $3.2 million and $0.4 million, respectively, which amount is included in accrued liabilities. As of the effective date, MRM designated the interest rate swap as a cash flow hedge.

For cash flow hedges, the effective portion of the gain or loss on the derivative hedging instrument is reported in other comprehensive income, while the ineffective portion is recorded in current earnings as other income or other expense. At June 26, 2008 and December 31, 2007, $1.6 million and $0.2 million, respectively, of unrecognized losses, net of tax, on the interest rate swap agreement is included in other comprehensive income. During the six months ended June 26, 2008, the Company recognized a hedge ineffectiveness loss of $0.4 million on the consolidated statements of income. There was no hedge ineffectiveness at December 31, 2007.

As a result of the swap agreement, MRM's effective fixed interest rates as to the $700.0 million in floating rate indebtedness will be 4.868% for associated indebtedness on the Asset-Based Revolving Credit Facility and 7.118% for associated indebtedness on the Term Loan Facility, per quarter through 2010 and result in an average fixed rate of 6.672%.

NOTE 6 — INCOME TAXES

Management evaluates the estimated annual effective income tax rate for interim periods based on current and forecasted business levels and activities, including enacted tax laws. Items unrelated to current year ordinary income are recognized entirely in the period identified as a discrete item of tax. The interim period income tax provisions are comprised of tax on ordinary income at the most recent estimated annual effective tax rate, adjusted for the effect of discrete items.

The effective tax rates were 36.26% for the six months ended June 26, 2008, 41.18% for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and 41.08% for the one month ended January 30, 2007. These rates differ from the federal statutory rate of 35% principally as a result of state and foreign income taxes. The rate for the six months ended June 26, 2008 is lower than the rates for the five months ended June 28, 2007 and the one month ended January 30, 2007 primarily due to lower state taxes.

During the interim period, there were no material changes to the amount of previously disclosed unrecognized tax benefits.

NOTE 7 — CONTINGENCIES

The Company is involved in various legal proceedings and claims, both as a plaintiff and a defendant, which arise in the ordinary course of business. Included in these legal proceedings are cases where the Company has been named as a defendant in lawsuits brought against a large number of entities by individuals seeking damages for injuries allegedly caused by certain products containing asbestos. Among other things, with the assistance of accounting and financial consultants, the Company conducted an analysis of pending and probable asbestos-related claims to determine the adequacy of its accrual for these claims. This analysis consisted of developing per claim settlement estimates for each category of claim by alleged disease type based on the Company's historical settlement experience. These estimates were applied to each of the Company's pending individual claims. Liability with respect to mass filings was estimated by determining the number of individual plaintiffs included in the mass filings likely to have claims resulting in settlements based on the Company's historical experience with mass filings. Finally, likely claims expected to be asserted against the Company over the next fifteen years were predicted based on public health estimates of future incidences of asbestos-related diseases in the general U.S. population and per claim settlement estimates were applied to those estimated claims. Based on this analysis and the existence of certain insurance coverage, the Company believes that its current accruals for pending and probable asbestos-related litigation are adequate. However, there is a possibility that resolution of the matters could result in additional losses in excess of current accruals. Also, there is a possibility that resolution of certain of the Company's legal contingencies for which there are no liabilities recorded could result in a loss. Management is not able to estimate the amount of such loss, if any. However, in the opinion of the Company, after consultation with counsel, the ultimate resolution of all pending matters is not expected to have a material effect on its financial position, although it is possible that such resolutions could have a material adverse impact on the Company's results of operations.

In addition to the foregoing, from time to time the Company is involved in various other legal and administrative proceedings that are incidental to its business, including claims relating to product liability, general negligence, environmental issues, employment, and other matters. It is not expected that the ultimate resolution of any of these matters will have a material adverse impact on the Company's consolidated financial position or results of operations.

Midfield has issued a financial guarantee in the form of an irrevocable standby letter of credit for an associated entity in the amount of $4.9 million which is recorded in the accompanying balance sheet at its fair value. This letter expires January 31, 2009 subject to certain renewal provisions.

NOTE 8 — FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

On January 1, 2008, the Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 157, Fair Value Measurements (SFAS No. 157), which clarifies the definition of fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, and enhances disclosures about fair value measurements. In accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Staff Position No. 157-2, "Effective Date of FASB Statement No. 157", the Company will delay application of SFAS No. 157 for non-financial assets and non-financial liabilities until January 1, 2009.

SFAS No. 157 clarified the definition of fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability (exit price) in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

SFAS 157 establishes a fair value hierarchy for valuation inputs that gives the highest priority to quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs. The fair value hierarchy established by SFAS No. 157 is as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity has the ability to access at the measurement date.

Level 2: Significant observable inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities, quoted prices in markets that are not active, and other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data.

Level 3: Significant unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. Unobservable inputs should reflect a company's own assumptions about the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability (including all assumptions about risk).

The Company used the following methods and significant assumptions to estimate fair value for assets and liabilities recorded at fair value.

Assets Held for Sale. Included in assets held for sale are certain investments held for sale that are reported at fair value utilizing Level 1 inputs. The fair value of these investments held for sale is determined by obtaining quoted prices on nationally recognized securities exchanges.

Derivatives. Derivatives are reported at fair value utilizing Level 2 inputs. The Company obtains dealer quotations to value its interest rate swaps.

The following table presents assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis.

Effective January 1, 2008, the Company adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities — Including an amendment of FASB Statement No. 115 (SFAS No. 159). SFAS No. 159 permits entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value at specified election dates. The Company has not elected to account for any of its assets or liabilities at fair value and therefore adoption of SFAS No. 159 on January 1, 2008 did not effect its financial statements.

NOTE 10 — STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

Restricted Stock and Stock Option Plans: Effective March 27, 2007, the Company's Board of Directors approved the formation of the 2007 Restricted Stock Plan and the 2007 Stock Option Plan. The purpose of these plans is to aid MRM in recruiting and retaining key employees, directors and consultants of outstanding ability and to motivate such key employees, directors and consultants to exert their best efforts on behalf of the Company by providing incentives in the form of restricted stock and stock options. The Company expects that it will benefit from the added interest which such key employees, directors and consultants will have in the welfare of the Company as a result of their proprietary interest in the Company's success.

Under the terms of the stock option plan, options may not be granted at prices less than their fair market value on the date of the grant, nor for a term exceeding 10 years. Vesting occurs in one-third increments on the third, fourth, and fifth anniversaries of the date specified in the employees' respective option agreements. The Company expenses the fair value of the stock option grants on a straight-line basis over the vesting period. A Black-Scholes option pricing model was used to estimate the fair value of the stock options granted in 2007 and 2008. For purposes of measuring compensation, the Company relies on a calculated value that requires certain assumptions including volatility based on the appropriate industry sector. Following are the weighted average assumptions used to estimate the fair values of options:

Risk-free interest rate	3.19%	4.10%
Dividend yield	0.00%	0.00%
Expected volatility	22.07%	22.07%
Expected lives	6.2 years	6.2 years

Outstanding at June 26, 2008	3,799.70	$ 2,612.34
Options exercisable at June 26, 2008	—	$ —
Options vested at June 26, 2008	—	—

Under the terms of the restricted stock plan, restricted stock may be granted at the direction of the Board of Directors and vesting occurs in one-fourth increments on the second, third, fourth, and fifth anniversaries of the date specified in the employees' respective restricted stock agreements. The Company expenses the fair value of the restricted stock grants on a straight-line basis over the vesting period.

The following table summarizes restricted stock activity under the restricted stock plan as of June 26, 2008, and changes during the six months ended on that date:

	Shares
Balance at January 1, 2008	635.52
Granted	—
Forfeited	(41.95)
Issued	—
Balance at June 26, 2008	593.57

Recognized compensation expense under the stock option and restricted stock plans is set forth in the table below. There were no such expenses for the one month ended January 30, 2007.

	Six Months Ended June 26, 2008	Five Months Ended June 28, 2007
Compensation expense Stock options	$ 501,000	$ 80,000
Restricted stock	139,000	39,000
Total compensation expense	$ 640,000	$ 119,000

At June 26, 2008, the Company had $7.3 million and $1.1 million of unrecognized compensation expense related to outstanding stock options and restricted stock, respectively.

Restricted Common Units: In conjunction with the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds, certain key MRM employees received restricted common units of PVF Holdings LLC that vest over a five-year requisite service period. Compensation expense associated with these restricted common units totaled $0.6 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 and $0.5 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 based upon their fair market value at the date they were issued which is being recognized on a straight-line basis over the vesting period. There was no such expense for the one month ended January 30, 2007. As of June 26, 2008, the Company had $4.1 million of unrecognized compensation expense related to outstanding restricted common units which will be amortized over a weighted average vesting period of four years.

Profits Units: In conjunction with the acquisition of McJunkin by the Goldman Sachs Funds and the Red Man acquisition, certain key MRM employees received profits units in PVF Holdings LLC that vest over a five-year requisite service period. These units entitle their holders to a share of any distributions made by PVF Holdings LLC once common unit holders have received a return of all capital contributed to PVF Holdings LLC. Compensation expense associated with these profits units totaled $1.6 million for the six months ended June 26, 2008 and $0.7 million for the five months ended June 28, 2007 based upon their fair market value at the date they were issued which is being amortized on a straight-line basis over the vesting period. There was no such expense for the one month ended January 30, 2007. As of June 26, 2008, the Company had $13.8 million and of unrecognized compensation expense related to outstanding profits units which will be amortized over a weighted average vesting period of five years.

NOTE 11 — EARNINGS PER SHARE

Basic earnings per share are computed based on the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding, excluding any dilutive effects of stock options and restricted stock. Diluted earnings per share are computed based on the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding including any dilutive effect of stock options and restricted stock. The dilutive effect of stock options and restricted stock are calculated under the treasury stock method. Earnings per share are calculated as follows:

	(Successor)		(Predecessor)
	Six Months Ended June 26, 2008	Five Months Ended June 28, 2007	One Month Ended January 30, 2007
Net income (in thousands)	$ 75,934	$ 17,614	$ 6,596
Average basic shares outstanding	309,421	102,594	17,510
Effect of dilutive securities	613	198	—
Average dilutive shares outstanding	310,034	102,792	17,510
Net income per share:
Basic	$ 245.41	$ 171.69	$ 376.70
Diluted	$ 244.92	$ 171.36	$ 376.70

Stock option grants are disregarded in this calculation if they are determined to be anti-dilutive. At June 26, 2008, the Company's anti-dilutive stock options totaled 3,800. At June 28, 2007, the Company's anti-dilutive stock options totaled 1,169. There were no stock options outstanding at January 30, 2007.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors
McJunkin Corporation
Charleston, West Virginia

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of McJunkin Corporation and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the related consolidated statements of income, shareholders' equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of McJunkin Corporation and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the consolidated results of their operations and their cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

McJUNKIN CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES
December 31, 2006

NOTE A — SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Business Operations: McJunkin Corporation and its subsidiaries (the Company) are national distributors of pipe, valves, and fittings (PVF), with locations in principal industrial centers. Major customers represent the chemical, petroleum refining and other segments of the raw materials processing industry and the construction industry. PVF product lines and their share of total sales for 2006 and 2005 include carbon steel pipe (approximately 33% and 34%) and stainless steel and carbon steel valves (approximately 20% and 21%). Products are obtained from a broad range of suppliers.

Basis of Presentation: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of McJunkin Corporation and its wholly-owned and majority-owned subsidiaries. The residual ownership in the equity and income of McJunkin Appalachian Oilfield Supply Company (approximately 14%) is reflected as minority interest. All significant intercompany transactions have been eliminated. Certain 2005 amounts have been reclassified to conform to 2006 presentation. Such reclassifications did not impact net income or shareholders' equity.

Financial Instruments: Financial instruments that potentially could subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of trade accounts and notes receivable. The Company minimizes such risk by closely monitoring extensions of trade credit. Sales to industries in 2006 and 2005 in which the Company has significant receivables were gas utility (15% and 17%), petroleum refining (14% in both years), chemical processing (12% in both years), and contractors (12% in both years). The Company estimates losses for uncollectible accounts based on the aging of the accounts receivable and the evaluation of the likelihood of collection. Credit losses relating to customers in these industries historically have been insignificant.

The Company sells to a large, U.S.-owned, multi-national, energy company in Nigeria through its wholly-owned subsidiary, McJunkin-Nigeria Limited. The collection of the receivables generated by these sales could be negatively impacted by such factors as changes in Nigerian or worldwide economic or political conditions. Credit losses relating to sales in Nigeria have been insignificant. Total net assets invested in Nigeria at December 31, 2006 and 2005, approximated $2,956,000 and $5,205,000.

The Company believes that the carrying values of all significant assets and liabilities, which meet the definition of financial instruments, approximate their fair values.

Income Taxes: Deferred income taxes are provided under the liability method. The liability method requires that deferred tax assets and liabilities be determined based on differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of assets and liabilities using the tax rate expected to be in effect when the taxes will actually be paid or refunds received.

Insurance: The Company is self-insured for portions of employee healthcare and maintains a deductible program as it relates to workers' compensation, automobile liability, and general liability claims including, but not limited to, product liability claims, which are secured by various letters of credit totaling $3,195,000. Commercially comprehensive catastrophic coverage is maintained. The company's liability and related expenses for claims are estimated based upon past experience. The company's historical claim data is used to project anticipated losses. The reserves are deemed by the company to be sufficient to cover outstanding claims including those incurred but not reported as of the estimation date.

December 31, 2006

Inventories: Inventories are valued at the lower of cost (principally last-in, first-out method) or market.

Investments: The Company has equity investments in certain oil and gas interests that are either thinly traded in the over-the-counter market or are not publicly traded. Such investments, considered available for sale, are carried at estimated fair value. Unrealized gains and losses on available-for-sale securities are recognized in comprehensive income to the extent they are material. Total accumulated gains, net of deferred taxes, in comprehensive income are $24,286,000 at December 31, 2006.

The thinly traded nature of PrimeEnergy stock results in significant fluctuations in the stock price. Accordingly, the proceeds from any sale of the stock could be significantly less than the December 31, 2006 carrying value, $40,217,000. An officer of the Company serves as a director of PrimeEnergy.

Real estate investments, primarily limited partnerships, are generally carried at the lower of cost or estimated realizable value.

Fixed Assets: Land, buildings and equipment are stated on the basis of cost. For financial statement purposes, depreciation is computed over the estimated useful lives of the assets by the straight-line method; accelerated depreciation and cost recovery methods are used for income tax purposes.

Certain long-term lease transactions relating to the financing of land and buildings are accounted for as installment purchases. These properties are capitalized as leased facilities and amortized on a straight-line basis over their lease terms. The corresponding lease rental obligations represent the present value of future lease payments.

Derivative Instruments: The Company had an interest rate swap, which expired in December 2005, and collar, which expired in September 2006, that were carried at fair value as either assets or liabilities on the balance sheet. Changes in the fair value of the derivative instruments were recognized in current earnings in the year of change.

Retirement Plans: Employees with at least six months of service participate in the Company's profit sharing plan. Contributions to the plan are based on the earnings of the Company, as defined in the plan document. Employees may also participate in the McJunkin Savings Plan, whereby a portion of the individuals' base earnings may be deferred and partially matched by the Company, pursuant to section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Company's matching portion under the 401(k) plan approximated $837,000 and $830,000 in 2006 and 2005.

Revenue Recognition: The Company records sales revenue upon shipment of goods or performance of services. Shipping costs are included in cost of goods sold in the consolidated statements of income.

Intangibles: The Company tests its goodwill and intangible assets for impairment annually. The impairment tests are performed at the distribution operations reporting level of the Company, which holds 100% of the consolidated intangible assets. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, the Company had no impairment in the carrying value of its intangible assets.

Goodwill carried by the Company is not amortized for financial reporting purposes, but is eligible for deduction for income tax purposes. The Company amortizes intangible assets with finite lives, such as non-compete agreements, trade names, and customer lists and relationships over the legal or estimated lives of the individual assets, principally from one to six years.

McJUNKIN CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES
December 31, 2006

Stock Split: All prior period capital stock and applicable share amounts have been retroactively adjusted to reflect a 5-for-1 split of the Company's capital stock effective October 4, 2005.

NOTE B — INVENTORIES

If inventories were reported at values approximating current costs, as would have resulted from using the first-in, first-out method, they would have been $74,414,000 and $62,188,000 higher at December 31, 2006 and 2005. In addition, after giving pro forma effect to profit sharing and income taxes, net income would have been higher by $7,947,000 in 2006 and $13,114,000 in 2005.

The Company's inventory is composed of finished goods. There are no general and administrative costs charged to inventory.

NOTE C — LONG-TERM DEBT

The Company maintains lines of credit that include an unsecured multi-bank revolving lending agreement totaling $60 million. In addition, McJunkin Appalachian, which is financed on a stand-alone basis with no guarantees provided by McJunkin Corporation, maintains its own long-term revolving credit/term loan agreement totaling $7.5 million. These long-term loan agreements contain covenants that require maintenance of minimum tangible net worth and other financial ratios. Such covenants could restrict investments outside the Company's primary line of business, capital expenditures, and dividend payments.

The Company has a $50 million trade receivables securitization facility with a group of financial institutions and uses a special-purpose, wholly-owned, consolidated subsidiary, McJunkin Receivables Corporation (MRC), for the sole purpose of buying substantially all of the trade accounts receivable of the Company, other than McJunkin Appalachian, McJunkin-Nigeria and McJunkin-Puerto Rico. Under these facilities, the Company transfers all eligible accounts receivable to MRC, which in turn sells an undivided ownership interest in the receivables into commercial paper conduits administered by the banks. This agreement is accounted for as a secured borrowing; thus, all receivables outstanding under the program and corresponding debt are recognized in the consolidated balance sheet. The assets of MRC are available to satisfy the claims of the financial institutions to the extent of the securitized debt. The Company services the receivables and retains an interest in the receivables subordinate to the amount borrowed under the agreement. MRC retains the risk of credit loss on the receivables and, accordingly, the full amount of the allowance for doubtful accounts has been reflected on the consolidated balance sheets. The credit losses and delinquencies relating to these receivables were not material in 2006 and 2005.

The conduits obtain the funds to purchase interests in receivables by selling commercial paper to third-party investors. The facility provides that as accounts receivable are collected, MRC can elect to have the commercial paper conduits reinvest the proceeds in new accounts receivable. Fundings under the facility are limited to the lesser of a funding base of eligible receivables, as defined in the agreement, or $50 million. Amounts outstanding under the agreement as of December 31, 2006, were $2 million. There were no amounts outstanding at the end of 2005. Due to the current nature of the Company's retained interest in the receivables, the book value of the receivables represents the best estimate of the fair market value. This three-year agreement bears interest at a margin over A1P1 commercial paper rates.

The facility requires the Company to comply with various affirmative or negative covenants including, among other things, accounts receivable delinquency, dilution, and days sales outstanding ratios and maintenance of a minimum $5 million net worth in MRC. The securitization agreement contains certain restrictive covenants, including further sale or placement of liens on accounts receivable, adherence to collection policies, restrictions concerning mergers, and commingling of funds between MRC and the Company. The financial institutions may terminate the facility upon the occurrence of, and failure to cure, termination events including violations of representations, warranties and covenants. The commercial paper conduits, in addition to their rights to collect payments from that portion of the interest in the accounts receivable owned by them, also have rights to collect payments from that portion of the ownership interest in the accounts receivable that is owned by MRC.

The total trade receivables pledged as collateral under this agreement at December 31, 2006 and 2005, were $121,641,000 and $119,692,000.

Maturities of long-term debt are $2,000,000 in 2009 and $11,035,000 in 2010, including certain amounts that are due on demand but excluded from current liabilities because the Company intends to replace such borrowings with funds available under existing, unused long-term lines of credit. At December 31, 2006, the Company, exclusive of McJunkin Appalachian, had unused short-term and long-term lines of credit of $10,765,000 and $99,700,000; McJunkin Appalachian had unused short-term and long-term lines of credit of $5 million and $7.5 million.

The Company entered into an interest rate swap agreement in 2000 and interest rate collar agreement in 2001 to reduce its exposure to potential interest rate increases. The swap agreement, which expired in 2005, enabled the Company to make fixed rate (6.39%) payments and receive floating rate (one-month LIBOR) payments on a notional amount of $10 million. The collar agreement, which expired in 2006, enabled the Company to make fixed rate (ceiling rate of 5.50% and a floor rate of 4.08%) payments and receive floating rate (one-month LIBOR) payments on a notional amount of $10 million. Only interest payments, not the notional amounts, were exchanged. The differences between the amounts exchanged in 2006 and 2005 were not significant. The Company's interest cost exposure was limited to the difference between the 5.24% (weighted average) and a lower floating interest rate, if any, applied to the notional amounts then outstanding. Management believes it mitigated counter party credit risk by entering into these agreements only with major financial institutions. There were no accumulated derivative liabilities at December 31, 2006 and 2005.

The Company paid interest of $2,831,000 and $2,630,000 in 2006 and 2005.

The Company's long-term debt consists of:

	December 31,
	2006	2005
	(In $000's)
Revolving credit/term loan agreement at a variable rate between LIBOR and prime, due in 2010	$ 8,300	$ 2,500

NOTE D — LEASES

The Company leases land and buildings at various locations from Hansford Associates and Appalachian Leasing. Certain officers and directors of the Company participate in the ownership of Hansford Associates and Appalachian Leasing. Most of these leases are renewable for various periods through 2026 and contain clauses for escalation of lease payments, payment of real estate taxes, maintenance, insurance, and certain other operating expenses of the properties. Leases with unrelated parties contain similar provisions. Lease amortization was $179,000 in 2006 and 2005.

Property held under capital leases in the balance sheets consists of:

	December 31,
	2006	2005
	(In $000's)
Land and buildings	$ 4,881	$ 4,881
Allowances for amortization	(2,777)	(2,598)

Future minimum lease payments under capital leases aggregate to $11,088,000, of which $3,608,000 represents interest and $3,678,000 represents escalation and executory costs. The present value of net minimum lease payments is $3,802,000, all applicable to Hansford Associates. Annual payments under capital leases are $949,000 for years 2007 through 2011.

Rental expense under operating leases amounted to $8,836,000 in 2006 and $8,070,000 in 2005, including $1,534,000 in 2006 and $1,474,000 in 2005 applicable to leases with Hansford Associates and $153,000 in 2006 and $154,000 in 2005 applicable to leases with Appalachian Leasing. Future minimum rental payments required under operating leases that have initial or remaining noncancelable lease terms in excess of one year aggregate to $19,061,000 and include leases applicable to Hansford Associates ($3,902,000) and leases applicable to Appalachian Leasing ($180,000). Annual operating lease payments are $7,848,000, $6,616,000, $2,237,000, $956,000, and $626,000 for years 2007 through 2011.

NOTE E — FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

In the normal course of business, the Company invests in various financial assets and incurs various financial liabilities. The Company's financial assets and liabilities are recorded in the consolidated balance sheets at historical cost, which approximates fair value.

Investments: Investments are carried at fair market value based on quoted market prices.

Short-Term and Long-Term Borrowings: Borrowings under the credit facilities have variable rates that reflect currently available terms and conditions for similar debt. The carrying amount of this debt is a reasonable estimate of its fair value.

Leases: Management estimated the fair value of the Company's lease obligations using discounted cash flow analysis based on the Company's current lease rates for similar leases, and determined that the fair value is not materially different from their carrying values.

Derivatives: The Company utilized interest rate swaps and collars to reduce its exposure to potential interest rate increases. Changes in fair values of derivative instruments were based upon independent market quotes.

Net deferred tax liabilities	$ (19,625)	$ (12,592)

NOTE G — CONTINGENCIES

The Company is involved in various legal proceedings and claims, both as a plaintiff and a defendant, which arise in the ordinary course of business. Included in these legal proceedings are cases where the Company has been named as a defendant in lawsuits brought against a large number of entities by individuals seeking damages for injuries allegedly caused by certain products containing asbestos. Among other things, with the assistance of accounting and financial consultants, the Company conducted an analysis of pending and probable asbestos-related claims to determine the adequacy of its accrual for these claims. This analysis consisted of developing per claim settlement estimates for each category of claim by alleged disease type based on the Company's historical settlement experience. These estimates were applied to each of the Company's pending individual claims. Liability with respect to mass filings was estimated by determining the number of individual plaintiffs included in the mass filings likely to have claims resulting in settlements based on the Company's historical experience with mass filings. Finally, likely claims expected to be asserted against the Company over the next fifteen years were predicted based on public health estimates of future incidences of certain asbestos-related diseases in the general U.S. population and per claim settlement estimates were applied to those estimated claims. Based on this analysis and the existence of certain insurance coverage, the Company believes that its current accruals for pending and probable asbestos-related litigation are adequate. However, there is a possibility that resolution of these matters could result in additional losses in excess of current accruals. Also, there is a possibility that resolution of certain of the Company's legal contingencies for which there are no liabilities recorded could result in a loss. Management is not able to estimate the amount of such loss, if any. However, in the opinion of the Company, after consultation with counsel, the ultimate resolution of all pending matters is not expected to have a material effect on its financial position, although it is possible that such resolutions could have a material adverse impact on net income and cash flows.

NOTE H — SUBSEQUENT EVENT

On December 4, 2006, McJunkin entered into a definitive agreement (the Merger Agreement) to be acquired by McJ Holding Corporation (ParentCo), a wholly owned subsidiary of McJ Holding LLC (HoldCo). Both ParentCo and HoldCo were formed by Goldman Sachs Capital Partners (GSCP) for purposes of facilitating this acquisition. On January 12, 2007, McJunkin's shareholders voted to approve the Merger Agreement. Under the terms of the Merger Agreement, McJunkin's shareholders will exchange their shares in McJunkin for cash and ownership units of HoldCo in a transaction valued at approximately $1.065 billion, including associated fees and refinanced debt. At the conclusion of the transaction, McJunkin shareholders will own an approximate 40% interest in HoldCo with GSCP and their affiliates holding the remaining interest. The transaction is expected to close on or about January 30, 2007.

It is anticipated that the acquisition will be financed with a term loan of $575 million, asset-based revolver borrowings of $75 million, existing capital leases of $3.6 million and an equity investment of approximately $411 million, which includes equity rolled over from existing McJunkin shareholders of approximately $169 million.

Under the provisions of the Merger Agreement, certain of the Company's assets will be liquidated subsequent to closing and distributed to McJunkin's current shareholders. These include the investment in PrimeEnergy as well as certain real estate holdings. At December 31, 2006, these assets had a net book value of approximately $27.1 million.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors
McJunkin Corporation
Charleston, West Virginia

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of McJunkin Corporation and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and for the years then ended, and have issued our report thereon dated January 13, 2007. Our audits also included the consolidated financial statement schedule of the Company listed in the accompanying schedule. This consolidated financial statement schedule is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion based on our audits. In our opinion, the consolidated financial statement schedule as of and for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, when considered in relation to the basic consolidated financial statements taken as a whole, presents fairly, in all material respects, the information set forth therein.

Report of Independent Auditors

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders
Red Man Pipe & Supply Co.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and the related consolidated statements of operations, comprehensive income, preferred stock and stockholders' equity, and cash flows present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Red Man Pipe and Supply Co. and Subsidiaries (the "Company") at October 31, 2006 and 2007, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended October 31, 2007 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

RED MAN PIPE & SUPPLY CO. AND SUBSIDIARIES

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
October 31, 2005, 2006 and 2007

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies and Nature of Operations

Nature of Operations

Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. ("the Company") is a distributor of tubular goods, including oil country tubular goods and line pipe, and operates service and supply centers which distribute maintenance, repair and operating products utilized primarily in the energy industry as well as industrial products consisting primarily of line pipe, valves, fittings and flanges. The Company distributes products and tubular goods through service and supply centers and sales locations strategically located close to the major hydrocarbon producing and refining areas of the United States and Canada. Additionally, the Company distributes its products and tubular goods to customers in various locations outside of North America.

Principles of Consolidation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. and its majority-owned subsidiaries. All significant intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated in consolidation. Investments that are not wholly owned, but where we exercise control, are fully consolidated with the equity held by minority owners reflected as minority interest in the accompanying financial statements. Investments in unconsolidated affiliates, over which we exercise significant influence, but not control, are accounted for by the equity method. Investments in which we exercise no control or significant influence are accounted for under the cost method.

Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less at the date of purchase to be cash equivalents.

Derivatives and Hedging

The Company follows Financial Accounting Standard No. 133 (including subsequent amendments) Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. These statements require all derivatives to be recognized on the balance sheet and measured at fair value. If a derivative is designated as a cash flow hedge, the Company is required to measure the effectiveness of the hedge, or the degree that the gain (loss) for the hedging instrument offsets the loss (gain) on the hedged item, at each reporting period. The effective portion of the gain (loss) on the derivative instrument is recognized in other comprehensive income as a component of equity and, subsequently, reclassified into earnings when the forecasted transaction affects earnings. The ineffective portion of a derivative's change in fair value is required to be recognized in earnings immediately. Derivatives that do not qualify for hedge treatment under FAS 133 must be recorded at fair value with gains (losses) recognized in earnings in the period of change. There were no derivatives outstanding at October 31, 2006 and 2007.

Insurance

The Company is self-insured for portions of employee healthcare, maintained a large deductible program for Automobile Collision, and maintains a guaranteed cost program as it relates to Workers Compensation, Automobile Liability, and General Liability, including but not limited to Product Liability.

Under our Property & Casualty Program, we have an Umbrella Liability policy that covers liabilities in excess of $1 million. We also have Excess Liability coverage for liabilities in excess of $25 million.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Inventories

The Company accounts for inventories using the Last-In, First-Out ("LIFO") method. The majority of the Company's inventories are valued at the lower of LIFO cost or market. If the LIFO method of valuing inventories were not used, total inventories would have been $70.0 and $62.0 million higher at October 31, 2006 and 2007, respectively. However, certain of the Company's Canadian-based inventories, totaling $73.6 million and $79.1 million at October 31, 2006 and 2007, respectively, are valued utilizing the lower of cost or market method. The Company's inventory is composed of finished goods. There are no general and administrative costs charged to inventory.

During 2007, inventory quantities were reduced. This reduction resulted in a liquidation of LIFO inventory quantities carried at lower costs prevailing in prior years as compared with the current cost of purchases, the effect of which decreased costs of products sold by approximately $28.3 million in 2007. There were no LIFO liquidations in 2005 and 2006.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are recorded at cost and include expenditures for facilities as well as significant improvements to existing facilities. When assets are retired or otherwise disposed of, the cost and related accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and any gain or loss is reflected in income for the period. Maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred.

Depreciation and amortization are computed utilizing both straight-line and accelerated methods over the estimated useful lives of the property. The ranges of estimated useful lives for financial reporting are as follows:

	Years
Buildings and improvements	5 -- 40
Machinery, shop equipment and vehicles	5 -- 12
Furniture, fixtures and office equipment	3 -- 7
Leasehold improvements	5 -- 15

Depreciation expense from continuing operations for the years ended October 31, 2005, 2006 and 2007 was $2,828,000, $4,770,000 and $5,971,000, respectively.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue as products are shipped or accepted by the customer.

The results of discontinued operations (Note 4) include manufacturing revenue generated on long-term fixed price contracts. Revenue on these contracts is recognized on the percentage of completion basis. The Company progress bills the customers based upon the contract terms. When the amount that is billed is greater than the revenue that is recognized based upon the percentage of completion, deferred revenue is recognized. Anticipated losses are provided for in the period incurred.

Rental, service and other revenues are recorded when such services are performed and collectibility is reasonably assured.

Income Taxes

The Company follows the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes ("SFAS No. 109"). SFAS No. 109 requires the measurement of deferred tax assets and liabilities based on the future tax consequences attributable to the differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases.

As the result of a recent FASB deferral, FIN 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes ("FIN 48") is effective for the Company for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2007. FIN 48 prescribes a two-step model for how companies should recognize and measure uncertain tax positions. FIN 48 also requires several new disclosures. The Company is assessing the impact FIN 48 will have on our financial statements.

Treasury Stock

The Company utilizes the cost method to account for its treasury stock acquisitions and dispositions.

Freight

The Company follows EITF 00-10 "Accounting for Shipping and Handling Fees and Costs". Accordingly, all out-bound shipping and handling costs are reflected in cost of goods sold and all freight reimbursements billed to customers are reflected in revenues.

Comprehensive Income

The Company follows Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 130, Reporting Comprehensive Income ("SFAS No. 130"). SFAS 130 established rules for the reporting and display of comprehensive income and its components. Comprehensive income includes gains and losses on hedging activities.

Foreign Currency Translation and Transactions

Gains and losses from balance sheet translation of operations outside of the United States where the applicable foreign currency is the functional currency is included as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income within stockholders' equity. Gains and losses resulting from foreign currency transactions are recognized currently in the consolidated statements of operations.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets

Goodwill represents the excess of cost over the fair value of net assets acquired. Recorded goodwill balances are not amortized but, instead, evaluated for impairment annually or more frequently if circumstances indicate that an impairment may exist. The goodwill valuation, which is prepared each fiscal year, is largely influenced by projected future cash flows and, therefore, is significantly impacted by estimates and judgments.

Intangible assets are initially recorded at cost. Amortization is provided using the straight-line method over 3 to 10 years which is intended to amortize the cost of assets over their estimated useful lives. The carrying value of intangible assets are reviewed for possible impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying amount may not be recoverable.

As a result of the Company's annual impairment analysis, impairment losses of $3,954,000 related to goodwill and $1,195,000 related to intangibles were recognized in 2007 (2006: $0). The impairment charge was recorded in Other, net in the Consolidated Statement of Operations.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fair Value Measurements

In September 2006, the FASB issued Statement 157, Fair Value Measurements, which establishes a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosures about fair value measurements. The Company does not believe this pronouncement will have a material impact on our financial statement. The provisions of this statement are effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007.

2. Merger Agreement

On July 6, 2007 Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. and its Shareholders, collectively entered into a definitive agreement to be acquired by a subsidiary of McJunkin Corporation (“McJunkin”). The Company’s Shareholders approved the Merger Agreement and the transaction closed on October 31, 2007. In exchange for all of the outstanding stock of the Company, Shareholders received cash and other considerations. In conjunction with this Merger Agreement certain Shareholders exchanged some of their shares for common units in McJ Holding LLC, the ultimate parent corporation of McJunkin Corporation. McJ Holding LLC is majority-owned by Goldman Sachs Capital Partners and their affiliates. In connection with this merger, the combined company has been renamed McJunkin Red Man Corporation. The cash consideration to be ultimately paid to the shareholders of the company approximates $1.1 billion, less debt and certain transaction expenses, and is subject to a working capital adjustment and any additional consideration related to McJunkin’s right to purchase the remaining equity of the Company’s majority-owned Canadian subsidiary, Midfield Supply ULC (“Midfield”). As part of the agreement McJunkin loaned the Company $120,027,000 in order to pay off the Company’s existing Revolving credit facility. McJunkin also agreed to accept the obligation arising from certain transaction expenses and from the termination of the Phantom Stock plan. This amounted to $6,181,000 of capital contributions.

6. Operating Lines of Credit (in thousands of dollars)

The Company has one Canadian dollar line of credit with Bank of America, which is further described in Note 7.

In 2006 bank indebtedness consisted of three Canadian dollar and one U.S. dollar revolving lines of credit. The Canadian dollar lines of credit had a maximum limit of $30,000 bearing interest to Canadian prime rate plus 0.625%, a maximum limit of $25,000 bearing interest at prime plus 0.5% and a maximum limit of $1,500 bearing interest at prime plus 0.5%. The U.S. dollar line of credit had a maximum of $250 US, bearing interest at 5.875%. All of these lines of credit were fully repaid in the current year.

7. Long-Term Debt, Notes Payable and Term Loans

Long-term debt, notes payable and term loans as of October 31, 2006 and 2007 consists of the following:

	2006	2007
	(in thousands of dollars)
Revolving credit facility(A)	$ 207,418	$ —
Notes payable(B)	6,939	3,910

	218,332	45,863
Less: Current portion	10,914	14,429
	$ 207,418	$31,434

(A) At October 31, 2006, the Credit Facility, as amended and restated, permitted the Company to borrow amounts up to the lesser of (i) $260 million or (ii) an amount equal to the borrowing base plus the outstanding balance on the term loan portion. On the revolving credit portion of the Credit Facility, the Company is permitted to borrow amounts up to the lesser of (i) $260 million or (ii) an amount equal to the borrowing base amount. The borrowing base amount is determined through a computation of eligible accounts receivable and inventories as defined in the Credit Facility. The amount of unused borrowings available under the Credit Facility at October 31, 2006 was $52.6 million. The borrowings under the revolving credit portion of the Credit Facility bear an interest rate equal to the lesser of the Eurodollar rate, as defined in the Credit Facility plus a margin based upon the average daily availability and a fixed charge coverage ratio, as defined in the Credit Facility or the maximum legal rate permitted by applicable state or federal law, as defined in the Credit Facility. The term loan portion of the Credit Facility bears interest at (i) the lesser of the bank's Eurodollar margin plus the Eurodollar base rate, as defined in the Credit Facility, or the maximum legal rate permitted by applicable state or federal law, as defined in the Credit Facility or (ii) the lesser of the bank's base rate margin, plus the base rate, as defined by the Credit Facility, or the maximum legal rate permitted by applicable state or federal law, as defined by the Credit Facility. The term loan was paid off in 2006. The Company pays a fee on the unused portion of the Credit Facility equal to 0.25% per year. Additionally, the Company will pay a fee equal to 2.5% per annum of the face amount of the letters of credit outstanding during the month, for which letter of credit guarantees have been issued. As discussed in Note 2, the Credit Facility was paid off on October 31, 2007, using funds loaned from McJunkin Corporation.

The amended and restated credit agreement contained customary restrictions and limitations on the Company's ability to incur liens, incur additional debt, make investments or engage in transactions with affiliates, make capital expenditures, and pay dividends or make other distributions. The Company was also subject to financial covenants which included a total leverage and a fixed charge ratio.

(D) On November 2, 2006, Midfield entered into a loan and security agreement for a CAD150 million revolving credit facility. As of October 31, 2007, $31.4 million of borrowings were outstanding under the facility and the unused borrowing capacity was approximately $125.8 million. Midfield must pay a monthly fee with respect to unutilized revolving loan commitments equal to amounts ranging from 0.25% to 0.375%, depending upon average borrowing levels for the previous quarter. The facility provides for borrowings up to CAD150 million, subject to adjustments based on the borrowing base and less the aggregate letters of credit outstanding under the facility. Letters of credit may be issued under the facility subject to certain conditions, including a CAD10 million sub-limit. The revolving loan has a maturity date of November 2, 2010. All letters of credit issued under the facility must expire at least 20 business days prior to November 2, 2010.

The revolving credit facility bears interest with various variable interest rate options. Midfield can elect a variable rate based upon either the Canadian prime rate or Canadian Dollar Bankers' Acceptance rate ("Canadian BA"). If the Canadian prime rate is elected, the rate ranges from prime rate to prime rate plus 0.25%, depending upon average borrowing levels for the previous quarter. If the Company elects the Canadian BA rate, the rate ranges from Canadian BA rate plus 1.25% to 1.75%, depending upon borrowing levels for the previous quarter.

The revolving credit facility is secured by substantially all of the personal property of Midfield, with a carrying value of $317.3 million at October 31, 2007. Provisions contained in the revolving credit facility require Midfield to maintain certain financial ratios and limit capital expenditures. At October 31, 2007, the Company was in compliance with all such debt covenants. Prior to October 31, 2007, Midfield obtained waivers for various events of default under its revolving credit facility, including events of default for not providing financial statements when due and making capital expenditures in excess of certain limits.

The CAD150 million facility is subject to an inter-creditor agreement which relates to, among other things, priority of liens and proceeds of sale of collateral.

Aggregate future principal maturities of long-term debt as of October 31, 2007, are as follows:

	(in thousands of dollars)
Year ending October 31,
2008	$ 10,519
2009	—
2010	31,434
	$ 41,953

During February 2003, the Company entered into a swap agreement and swapped $50 million at a variable rate ("LIBOR") for a fixed rate of 3.88%. This derivative instrument was settled monthly on the first day of the month and terminated in October 2005. This derivative qualified as a cash flow hedge under FAS 133. The fair value of this derivative instrument at October 31, 2005 was approximately $0. This instrument expired effective October 31, 2005.

8. Stockholders' Equity

Common Stock

The Company has two classes of common stock. One class consists of 50,000,000 authorized shares of $.01 par value voting Class A Common stock. As of October 31, 2006 and 2007, there were 144,831 and 143,976 shares, issued and outstanding, respectively. The other class consists of 50,000,000 authorized shares of $.01 par value nonvoting Class B Common Stock. As of October 31, 2006 and 2007, there were 34,344 shares issued and outstanding.

Preferred Stock

The Company also has 2,000 authorized shares of $2,500 par value redeemable Class C Preferred Stock. As of October 31, 2002, there were 2,000 preferred shares issued and outstanding, and there were no preferred shares issued or outstanding as of October 31, 2006 and 2007. The Class C Preferred Stock is nonvoting and subordinate to indebtedness of the Company, but bears full preference to the Common Stock as to dividends and to redemption in the event of liquidation of the Company. On November 30, 1999, certain rights and privileges relating to the Class C Preferred Stock were amended. Effective April 1, 2000, the Preferred Stock bears an annual dividend of 8%, payable quarterly, beginning on June 30, 2000. Effective April 1, 2002, the preferred stock annual dividend rate was increased to 9% per annum, payable quarterly, beginning on July 1, 2002. Dividends paid on Class C Preferred Stock were $0, $0 and $0 during 2005, 2006 and 2007, respectively.

In September 2003, the Company redeemed the 2,000 shares of Class C Preferred Stock for $5,000,000.

Incentive Stock Plan

In December 1997, the Company established the Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. Incentive Stock Plan (the "Incentive Plan") in which officers, employees and directors are eligible to participate. The Incentive Plan authorizes the grant of incentive stock options, non-qualified stock options and awards of restricted stock. Incentive stock options may only be awarded to employees and the exercise price may not be less than the fair market value of the Class A common stock on the date of grant (or 110% of such fair market value if granted to employees who own more than 10% of the combined voting power of all classes of the stock of the Company). The exercise price of non-qualified stock options shall be determined by the Board of Directors or its committee and shall not be less than the fair market value of the Class A Common Stock on the date of grant. The vesting period for all options will be determined by the Board of Directors or its committees at the time of the grant. The incentive stock option may not be exercised after the expiration of 10 years from the date of grant (or 5 years if granted to employees who own more than 10% of the combined voting power of all classes of stock of the Company). No options have been granted under the Incentive Plan. In connection with the Merger Agreement (Note 2), the Incentive Stock Plan was terminated on October 31, 2007.

A restricted stock award will consist of shares of Class A Common Stock that are nontransferable or subject to risk of forfeiture until specific conditions are met. The restrictions will lapse in accordance with the schedule or other conditions as determined by the Board of Directors or its committee. During the restriction period, the recipient of restricted stock will have certain rights as a shareholder, including the right to vote the stock and receive dividends. No awards have been granted under the Incentive Plan. In connection with the Merger Agreement (Note 2), the Incentive Stock Plan was terminated on October 31, 2007.

Phantom Stock Plan

In April 2003, the Company established the Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. Phantom Stock Plan (the "Phantom Plan") in which officers and key employees are eligible to participate. The Plan authorizes the grant of up to 5,000 shares of phantom stock. The shares are credited to the participants' accounts and are eligible for redemption payment after vesting at a price per share based upon the annual stock valuation. As of October 31, 2005, 1,957 shares had been granted under the Phantom Plan and have a redemption value of approximately $750,000, upon vesting in years 2012 through 2027. Selling, general and administrative expenses include compensation expense related to the Phantom Plan of $84,000, $426,000 and $2,482,000 for the periods ended October 31, 2005, 2006 and 2007, respectively. In connection with the Merger Agreement (Note 2), the Phantom Plan was terminated on October 31, 2007, in exchange for an agreement to pay Phantom Plan participants a total of $3,075,000.

9. Leases

The Company occupies facilities and operates motor vehicles under long-term operating leases that expire during the fiscal years ending 2005 through 2014. Certain of these leases are subject to renewal or purchase options and escalation clauses. 11. Employee Benefit Plans

The Red Man Pipe & Supply Co. Retirement Savings Plan (the “Plan”) incorporates the provisions of Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Plan covers all employees in the United States who have attained the age of twenty-one (21). Participants are allowed to contribute a portion of their salary with employer matching contributions based on the contributions of the participants. The employer matching contributions were approximately $927,000, $1,081,000 and $1,215,000 for the years ended October 31, 2005, 2006 and 2007, respectively.

12. Related Party Transactions

The Company leases certain equipment from Prideco, a partnership related by common ownership and control. The Company also leases certain buildings from Prideco. Amounts paid to Prideco for building and equipment rental were $2,205,000, $2,695,000 and $3,086,000 for the years ended October 31, 2005, 2006 and 2007, respectively.

A stockholder leases a supply and service center to the Company for use in its operations. The stated term of the lease will expire in January 2008. The aggregate lease payments made to the stockholder were $13,200 in each of fiscal years ended October 31, 2005, 2006 and 2007.

In connection with the Company's acquisition of 51% of the shares of Midfield Supply ULC, a Shareholders' Agreement between Red Man Pipe & Supply Canada, LTD., the 51% majority shareholder of Midfield Supply ULC, and Midfield Holdings (Alberta) LTD., the 49% minority interest shareholder of Midfield Supply ULC was created. This agreement, among other things, stipulates how profits of Midfield Supply ULC are shared. Midfield Holdings (Alberta) LTD's portion of the profits are accrued and subsequently paid to shareholders of Midfield Holdings (Alberta) LTD, who are also employees of Midfield Supply ULC, via a formal Employee Profit Sharing Plan ("EPSP"). In connection with the EPSP, $22,186,000 and $8,212,000 is accrued as of October 31, 2006 and 2007, respectively, and is included in selling, general and administrative expenses. Red Man Pipe & Supply Canada, LTD's portion of the profits were accrued and subsequently paid via an after-tax dividend, which has been eliminated in consolidation.

In connection with the EPSP payments, from time to time the minority shareholder makes loans to the Company. These subordinated notes payable are unsecured, bear interest at 8% and have no fixed terms of repayment. Amounts payable to minority interest shareholders were $28,009,000 and $25,718,000 as of October 31, 2006 and 2007, respectively, for amounts loaned to the Company.

The Company has unsecured advances to a related entity, Europump Systems Inc. ("Europump"), with no fixed terms of repayment bearing interest at 8% per annum in 2006 and 0% in 2007. The outstanding balance on the advances was $4,940,000 and $2,921,000 at October 31, 2006 and 2007, respectively. The Company has also issued a financial guarantee in the form of an irrevocable standby letter of credit for Europump for an amount up to CAD5,000,000 (2006: CAD0), to support a line of credit that Europump has established with its bank. The expiry date of the letter of credit is January 31, 2008, subject to an automatic renewal of one year unless such bank elects not to renew this letter of credit.

13. Concentration of Credit Risk and Sources of Supply

Most of the Company's business activity is with customers in the oil and gas industry. In the normal course of business the Company grants credit to these customers. Trade accounts receivable are primarily from these customers. The Company generally does not require collateral on its trade receivables. During 2005, 2006 and 2007, the Company did not have sales to any customers in excess of 10% of gross sales.

A substantial portion of the Company's tubular goods is purchased from two manufacturers. The Company has no long-term supply contracts with these manufacturers which would assure the Company of a continued supply of tubular products in the future. Although the Company believes there are numerous manufacturers having the capacity to supply its tubular products, the loss of one of these major suppliers could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations.

Item 13. Other Expenses of Issuance and Distribution.

The following table sets forth the costs and expenses to be paid by the Registrant in connection with the sale of the shares of common stock being registered hereby. All amounts are estimates except for the SEC registration fee, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") filing fee and the New York Stock Exchange listing fee.

SEC registration fee	$ 29,475
FINRA filing fee	75,500
The New York Stock Exchange listing fee	250,000
Accounting fees and expenses	850,000
Legal fees and expenses	3,500,000
Printing and engraving expenses	650,000
Blue Sky qualification fees and expenses	10,000
Transfer agent and registrar fees and expenses	10,000
Miscellaneous expenses	25,025
Total	$ 5,400,000

Item 14. Indemnification of Directors and Officers.

Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law authorizes a court to award, or a corporation's board of directors to grant, indemnity to directors and officers in terms sufficiently broad to permit such indemnification under certain circumstances for liabilities (including reimbursement for expenses incurred) arising under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act").

As permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law, the Registrant's Certificate of Incorporation includes a provision that eliminates the personal liability of its directors for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except for liability:

- for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the Registrant or its stockholders;
- for acts or omissions not in good faith or that involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law;
- under section 174 of the Delaware General Corporation Law regarding unlawful dividends and stock purchases; or
- for any transaction for which the director derived an improper personal benefit.

As permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law, the Registrant's Bylaws provide that:

- the Registrant is required to indemnify its directors and officers to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law, subject to very limited exceptions;
- the Registrant may indemnify its other employees and agents to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law, subject to very limited exceptions;
- the Registrant is required to advance expenses, as incurred, to its directors and officers in connection with a legal proceeding to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law, subject to very limited exceptions;

- the Registrant may advance expenses, as incurred, to its employees and agents in connection with a legal proceeding; and
- the rights conferred in the Bylaws are not exclusive.

The Registrant may enter into Indemnity Agreements with each of its current directors and officers to give these directors and officers additional contractual assurances regarding the scope of the indemnification set forth in the Registrant's Certificate of Incorporation and to provide additional procedural protections. At present, there is no pending litigation or proceeding involving a director, officer or employee of the Registrant regarding which indemnification is sought, nor is the Registrant aware of any threatened litigation that may result in claims for indemnification.

The indemnification provisions in the Registrant's Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws and any Indemnity Agreements entered into between the Registrant and each of its directors and officers may be sufficiently broad to permit indemnification of the Registrant's directors and officers for liabilities arising under the Securities Act.

The Registrant and its subsidiaries are covered by liability insurance policies which indemnify their directors and officers against loss arising from claims by reason of their legal liability for acts as such directors, officers or trustees, subject to limitations and conditions as set forth in the policies.

The underwriting agreement to be entered into among the Company, the selling stockholder and the underwriters will contain indemnification and contribution provisions.

Stephen W. Lake, senior corporate vice president, general counsel and corporate secretary of our company, holds an employed lawyer's professional liability policy with Ace American Insurance Company, insuring him against liability which he may incur in his capacity as an officer of our company. The policy provides for $2 million of coverage with a $10,000 deductible.

Item 17. Undertakings.

The undersigned Registrant hereby undertakes to provide to the underwriters at the closing specified in the underwriting agreement certificates in such denominations and registered in such names as required by the underwriters to permit prompt delivery to each purchaser.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the Registrant pursuant to the provisions described in Item 14 above, or otherwise, the Registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the Registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the Registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the Registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

The undersigned Registrant hereby undertakes that:

(1) For purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act, the information omitted from the form of prospectus filed as part of this Registration Statement in reliance upon Rule 430A and contained in a form of prospectus filed by the Registrant pursuant to Rule 424(b)(1) or (4) or 497(h) under the Securities Act shall be deemed to be part of this Registration Statement as of the time it was declared effective; and

(2) For the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act, each post-effective amendment that contains a form of prospectus shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at the time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

SIGNATURES

Pursuant to the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, the Registrant has duly caused this Registration Statement to be signed on its behalf by the undersigned, thereunto duly authorized in the City of Tulsa, State of Oklahoma, on September 26, 2008.

AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF MERGER

Among

MCJUNKIN CORPORATION,

MCJ HOLDING CORPORATION

And

HG ACQUISITION CORP.

Dated as of December 4, 2006

TABLE OF CONTENTS

AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF MERGER

AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF MERGER (this "Agreement"), dated as of December 4, 2006, among McJunkin Corporation, a West Virginia corporation (the "Company"), McJ Holding Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("Parent"), and Hg Acquisition Corp., a West Virginia corporation and a wholly owned subsidiary of Parent ("Merger Sub").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, the respective boards of directors of each of Parent, Merger Sub and the Company have approved the merger of Merger Sub with and into the Company (the "Merger") upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement and have adopted this Agreement;

WHEREAS, Parent is a wholly owned subsidiary of McJ Holding LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Holdco");

WHEREAS, in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Contribution Agreement (as defined in Section 4.1(a)(ii)), prior to the Effective Time (as defined in Section 1.3), those certain existing shareholders of the Company listed on Schedule II (the "Major Shareholders") and other shareholders as set forth herein will contribute to Holdco the Contribution Shares (as defined in Section 4.1(a)(ii)) held by them in exchange for Holdco Units (as defined in Section 4.1(a)(ii)) as part of a larger transaction that is intended to be governed by Sections 707 and 721 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code");

WHEREAS, in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Letters of Transmittal (as defined in Section 4.1(a)(ii)), prior to the Effective Time, certain other existing shareholders of the Company will become parties to the Contribution Agreement and will contribute to Holdco the Contribution Shares held by them in exchange for Holdco Units as part of a larger transaction that is intended to be governed by Sections 707 and 721 of the Code;

WHEREAS, in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the McApple Agreement (as defined in Section 5.1(c)(iv)), prior to the Effective Time, all of the existing shareholders of McJunkin Appalachian Oilfield Supply Company ("McApple") other than the Company (the "McApple Shareholders") will contribute to Holdco all of the shares of McApple held by them in exchange for Holdco Units and cash in a transaction that is intended to be governed by Sections 707 and 721 of the Code;

WHEREAS, Holdco, the GSCP Members named therein (the "GSCP Members"), the Major Shareholders and the McApple Shareholders have executed and delivered a limited liability company operating agreement with respect to Holdco (the "Holdco LLC Agreement") and a Registration Rights Agreement relating to their interests in Holdco effective as of the Effective Time (the "Registration Rights Agreement");

WHEREAS, the Major Shareholders have entered into an agreement pursuant to which such shareholders have agreed to take specified action in furtherance of the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement (the "Shareholder Support Agreement");

WHEREAS, the Company has entered into an employment agreement with each of those persons listed in Schedule III, effective as of the Effective Time (each an "Employment Agreement");

WHEREAS, as soon as practicable following execution of this Agreement the existing shareholders of the Company shall vote, at a duly convened meeting of the Company's shareholders, whether or not to approve this Agreement in accordance with its articles of incorporation and by-laws and the WVBCA (as defined in Section 1.1); and

WHEREAS, the Company, Parent and Merger Sub desire to make certain representations, warranties, covenants and agreements in connection with this Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises, and of the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements contained herein, the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

The Merger; Closing; Effective Time

1.1. The Merger. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, at the Effective Time (as defined in Section 1.3) Merger Sub shall be merged with and into the Company and the separate existence of Merger Sub shall thereupon cease. The Company shall be the surviving corporation in the Merger (sometimes hereinafter referred to as the "Surviving Corporation"), and the Company shall continue unaffected by the Merger, except as set forth in Articles II, III and IV. The Merger shall have the effects specified in the West Virginia Business Corporation Act (the "WVBCA").

1.2. Closing. Unless otherwise mutually agreed in writing between the Company and Parent, the closing for the Merger (the "Closing") shall take place at the offices of Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, 125 Broad Street, New York, New York, commencing at 9:00 a.m. on the later of (a) the first business day following the day on which the last to be satisfied or waived of the conditions set forth in Article VII (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at the Closing, but subject to the fulfillment or waiver of those conditions) shall be satisfied or waived in accordance with this Agreement and (b) January 30, 2007. The date of the Closing is referred to herein as the "Closing Date". For purposes of this Agreement, the term "business day" shall mean any day ending at 11:59 p.m. (Eastern Time) other than a Saturday or Sunday or a day on which banks are required or authorized to close in the City of New York.

1.3. Effective Time. Simultaneously with the Closing, the Company and Parent will cause articles of merger (the "West Virginia Articles of Merger") to be delivered by the Company to the Secretary of State of the State of West Virginia for filing as provided in Section 31D-11-1106(b) of the WVBCA. The Merger shall become effective at the time when the Secretary of State of the State of West Virginia has issued a certificate of merger to the Surviving Corporation (the "Effective Time").

ARTICLE II

Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws of the Surviving Corporation

2.1. The Articles of Incorporation. The articles of incorporation of the Company shall be amended as a result of the Merger to read in their entirety as set forth in Annex B hereto and as so amended shall be the articles of incorporation of the Surviving Corporation (the "Articles"), until thereafter amended as provided therein or by applicable Law (as defined in Section 5.1(i)).

2.2. The By-Laws. The by-laws of the Company shall be amended as a result of the Merger to read in their entirety as set forth in Annex C hereto and as so amended shall be the by-laws of the Surviving Corporation (the "By-Laws"), until thereafter amended as provided therein or by applicable Law.

ARTICLE III

Officers and Directors of the Surviving Corporation

3.1. Directors. The parties hereto shall take all actions necessary so that the directors of Merger Sub immediately prior to the Effective Time shall, from and after the Effective Time, be the directors of the Surviving Corporation until their successors have been duly elected or appointed and qualified or until their earlier death, resignation or removal in accordance with the Articles and the By-Laws.

3.2. Officers. The parties hereto shall take all actions necessary so that the individuals identified by Parent immediately prior to the Effective Time shall, from and after the Effective Time, be the officers of the Surviving Corporation until their successors shall have been duly elected or appointed and qualified or until their earlier death, resignation or removal in accordance with the Articles and the By-Laws.

ARTICLE IV

Effect of the Merger on Capital Stock;
Exchange of Certificates

4.1. Effect on Capital Stock. At the Effective Time, as a result of the Merger and without any action on the part of the holder of any capital stock of the Company:

(a) Merger Consideration.

(i) Each share of the Class A Common Stock, par value $700.00 per share, of the Company (a "Class A Share" or collectively the "Class A Shares") and each share of the Class B Common Stock, par value $700.00 per share, of the Company (a "Class B Share" or collectively the "Class B Shares" and together with the Class A Shares, the "Shares") including for purposes of this Agreement, fractional Shares rounded to the nearest 1/10,000 of a Share, issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time and listed opposite a shareholder's name in Column C of Schedule I other than (x) Shares owned by Holdco (other than Contribution Shares), Parent, Merger Sub or any other direct or indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Holdco and Shares owned by the Company or any direct or indirect wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, and in each case not held on behalf of third parties, (y) Shares that are owned by shareholders ("Dissenting Shareholders") who have asserted their appraisal rights prior to the Effective Time pursuant to Section 31D-13-1321 of the WVBCA and thereafter exercised or remained entitled to exercise their appraisal rights under Article 13 of the WVBCA and (z) Contribution Shares (as defined in Section 4.1(a)(ii)) (each share referred to in (x), (y) and (z) above, an "Excluded Share" and collectively, "Excluded Shares") shall be converted into the right to receive an amount in cash equal to (1) $960,000,000 divided by (2) the total number of Shares issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (including in such calculation, all Excluded Shares referred to in subsections (y) and (z) of the definition of Excluded Shares) (the "Per Share Merger Consideration"), plus the right to receive after the Closing a portion of the proceeds of the sale of certain assets as provided in Section 6.13. Two business days prior to the Closing, the Company shall deliver to Parent a certificate setting forth the number of Shares that will be issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time.

(ii) In accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Letter of Transmittal (as defined below) and the agreement attached hereto as Annex D (the "Contribution Agreement"), between Holdco and the Major Shareholders (together with all shareholders of the Company who execute and deliver to the Company a letter of transmittal substantially in the form of Annex E attached hereto (a "Letter of Transmittal") prior to the Effective Time and who are "accredited investors" (as defined in Section 501(a) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended), the "Continuing Shareholders"), prior to the Effective Time the Continuing Shareholders shall contribute or have contributed on their behalf by the Company to Holdco the Contribution Shares held by them in exchange for newly issued common units of Holdco ("Holdco Units") having a value equal to the number of Contribution Shares so contributed multiplied by the Per Share Merger Consideration. The value of each Holdco Unit received in exchange for the Contribution Shares will be determined immediately prior to the Effective Time and shall be equal to the total amount of cash contributed to Holdco prior to or at the Effective Time by the GSCP Members divided by the total number of Holdco Units held by such GSCP Members as of the Effective Time after giving effect to all such cash contributions. An illustrative example of the determination of the valuation of the Holdco Units is set forth on Schedule IV attached hereto. As used in this Agreement, the term "Contribution Shares" means Shares to be contributed to Holdco in exchange for Holdco Units in accordance with the Contribution Agreement, including Shares contributed to Holdco pursuant to the Contribution Agreement by shareholders of the Company who have executed and delivered Letters of Transmittal to the Company prior to the Effective Time and who are "accredited investors" (as defined in Section 501(a) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended).

(iii) At the Effective Time, each of the Shares, other than Excluded Shares, shall, by virtue of the Merger and without any action of the holder thereof, cease to be outstanding, be cancelled automatically and cease to exist, and each certificate (a "Certificate") formerly representing any of such Shares shall thereafter represent only the right to receive the Per Share Merger Consideration in cash, without interest, plus the right to receive after the Closing a portion of the proceeds of the sale of certain assets as provided in Section 6.13, for each such Share such Certificate formerly represented. At the Effective Time, each Certificate formerly representing Shares owned by Dissenting Shareholders shall thereafter represent only the right to receive the payment to which reference is made in Section 4.2(d). At the Effective Time, each Contribution Share shall, by virtue of the Merger and without any action of the holder thereof, cease to be outstanding, be cancelled automatically and shall cease to exist without payment of any consideration therefor. For the avoidance of doubt, the parties understand and agree that no portion of the Per Share Merger Consideration shall be paid in cash in respect of the Contribution Shares, and that instead such Contribution Shares shall only entitle the Continuing Shareholders to receive Holdco Units in exchange therefor as provided herein, in the Contribution Agreement and in the Letter of Transmittal.

(iv) The Company shall arrange for each Company Advisor (as defined below) to deliver to the Company a final invoice for all fees, costs and expenses paid or payable by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries in connection with this Agreement, the agreements and documents referenced herein, and the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby forty—eight (48) hours prior to the proposed Closing Date. Each such invoice shall provide that except for the amounts set forth in such invoice, such Company Advisor is not and will not be owed by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, any fees, costs or expenses in connection with this Agreement, the agreements and documents referenced herein, and the transaction contemplated hereby and thereby, and each such invoice shall be in a form reasonably satisfactory to Parent. To the extent the aggregate amount of these fees, costs and expenses set forth on such invoices exceeds $11,500,000, the $960,000,000 referred to in Section 4.1(a)(i)(1) shall be reduced by an amount equal to such aggregate excess. For purposes of this Agreement, "Company Advisors" means Lehman Brothers Inc., Raymond James & Associates, Inc., Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, Bowles Rice McDavid Graff & Love LLP and Goodwin & Goodwin LLP.

(b) Cancellation of Excluded Shares. Each Excluded Share referred to in clause 4.1(a)(i)(x) or 4.1(a)(i)(y) shall, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of the holder thereof, cease to be outstanding, be cancelled automatically and cease to exist without payment of any consideration therefor (except, in the case of Excluded Shares referred to in Section 4.1(a)(i)(y), as provided in Article 13 of the WVBCA).

(c) Merger Sub. At the Effective Time, each share of Common Stock, par value $1.00 per share, of Merger Sub issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be converted into one share of common stock, par value $1.00 per share, of the Surviving Corporation (a "Surviving Corporation Share" and collectively the "Surviving Corporation Shares").

4.2. Exchange of Certificates.

(a) Exchange Procedures. At or after the Effective Time, each holder of an outstanding Certificate or Certificates formerly representing any of the Shares (other than Excluded Shares) shall surrender to the Surviving Corporation each of such holder's Certificate or Certificates (or affidavit of lost certificate in lieu thereof as provided in Section 4.2(c)), together with a duly executed Letter of Transmittal and, upon acceptance thereof by the Surviving Corporation, be entitled to the amount of cash into which such holder's Shares have been converted pursuant to this Agreement plus the right to receive after the Closing a portion of the proceeds of the sale of certain assets as provided in Section 6.13. Until surrendered as contemplated by this Section 4.2(a), each Certificate formerly representing Shares (other than Excluded Shares) shall be deemed at any time after the Effective Time to represent only the right to receive upon such surrender the Per Share Merger Consideration in cash, plus the right to receive after the Closing a portion of the proceeds of the sale of certain assets as provided in Section 6.13, with respect to each such Share represented by such Certificate as contemplated by Section 4.1(a)(i). No interest will be paid or accrued on any amount payable upon due surrender of the Certificates. In the event of a transfer of ownership of Shares that is not registered in the transfer records of the Company, a check for any cash to be exchanged upon due surrender of the Certificate may be issued to such transferee if the Certificate formerly representing such Shares is presented to the Surviving Corporation, accompanied by all documents required to evidence and effect such transfer and to evidence that any stock transfer taxes have been paid or are not applicable. No dividends or other distributions with respect to Shares with a record date after the Effective Time shall be paid to the holder of any unsurrendered Certificate with respect to the Shares represented thereby.

(b) Transfers. From and after the Effective Time, there shall be no transfers on the stock transfer books of the Company of the Shares that were outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Excluded Shares). If, after the Effective Time, any Certificate (other than any Certificate evidencing Excluded Shares) is presented to the Surviving Corporation for transfer, it shall be cancelled and exchanged for the aggregate Per Share Merger Consideration in cash to which the holder thereof is entitled pursuant to this Article IV plus the right to receive after the Closing a portion of the proceeds of the sale of certain assets as provided in Section 6.13.

(c) Lost, Stolen or Destroyed Certificates. In the event any Certificate shall have been lost, stolen or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the Person claiming such Certificate to be lost, stolen or destroyed and, if required by Parent, the posting by such Person of a bond in customary amount and upon such terms as may be required by Parent as indemnity against any claim that may be made against it or the Surviving Corporation with respect to such Certificate, the Surviving Corporation will issue a check in the amount (after giving effect to any required Tax (as defined in Section 5.1(n)) withholdings as provided in Section 4.2(e) equal to the number of Shares (other than Contribution Shares) represented by such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate multiplied by the Per Share Merger Consideration and, with respect to Contribution Shares represented by such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate, Parent will cause Holdco to issue a number of Holdco Units in respect of such Shares determined in accordance with Section 4.1(a)(ii) above. As used in this Agreement, "Person" shall mean any individual, corporation (including not-for-profit), general or limited partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, estate, trust, association, organization, Governmental Entity (as defined in Section 5.1(d)(i)) or other entity of any kind or nature.

(d) Appraisal Rights. No Person who has asserted appraisal rights pursuant to Section 31D-13-1321 of the WVBCA shall be entitled to receive the Per Share Merger Consideration with respect to the Shares owned by such Person unless and until such Person shall have effectively withdrawn or lost such Person's right to appraisal under Article 13 of the WVBCA. Each Dissenting Shareholder shall be entitled to receive only the payment provided under Article 13 of the WVBCA with respect to Shares owned by such Dissenting Shareholder. The Company shall give Parent prompt notice of any written demands for appraisal, attempted withdrawals of such demands, and any other instruments served pursuant to applicable Law that are received by the Company relating to shareholders' rights of appraisal. The Company shall not, except with the prior written consent of Parent, voluntarily make any payment with respect to any demands for appraisal, offer to settle or settle any such demands or approve any withdrawal of any such demands.

(e) Withholding Rights. Each of Parent and the Surviving Corporation shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from the consideration otherwise payable pursuant to this Agreement to any holder of Shares such amounts as it is required to deduct and withhold with respect to the making of such payment under the Code; or any other applicable state, local or foreign Tax law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld by Parent or the Surviving Corporation, as the case may be, such withheld amounts (i) shall be remitted by Parent or the Surviving Corporation, as applicable, to the applicable Governmental Entity, and (ii) shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as having been paid to the holder of Shares in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made by Parent or the Surviving Corporation, as the case may be.

ARTICLE V

Representations and Warranties

5.1. Representations and Warranties of the Company. Except as set forth in the corresponding sections of the disclosure letter delivered to Parent by the Company prior to entering into this Agreement (the "Company Disclosure Letter") (it being agreed that disclosure of any item in any section of the Company Disclosure Letter shall be deemed disclosure with respect to any other section to which the relevance of such item is reasonably apparent), the Company hereby represents and warrants to Parent and Merger Sub that:

(a) Organization, Good Standing and Qualification. Each of the Company and its Subsidiaries is a legal entity duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of its respective jurisdiction of organization and has all requisite corporate or similar power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and assets and to carry on its business as presently conducted and is qualified to do business and is in good standing as a foreign corporation in each jurisdiction where the ownership, leasing or operation of its assets or properties or conduct of its business requires such qualification, except where the failure to be so organized, qualified or in good standing, or to have such power or authority, are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect (as defined below). The Company has made available to Parent complete and correct copies of the Company's and its Subsidiaries' articles of incorporation and by-laws or comparable governing documents, each as amended to the date hereof, and each as so delivered is in full force and effect. Section 5.1(a) of the Company Disclosure Letter contains a correct and complete list of each jurisdiction where the Company and its Subsidiaries are organized and qualified to do business. McJunkin-Nigeria, Ltd. (Nigeria) is not and has never engaged in business in Nigeria or in any other location and does not have any assets or liabilities. As used in this Agreement, the term (i) "Subsidiary" means, with respect to any Person, any other Person of which at least a majority of the securities or ownership interests having by their terms ordinary voting power to elect a majority of the board of directors or other persons performing similar functions is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by such Person and/or by one or more of its Subsidiaries; for the avoidance of doubt, the parties agree that Hansford Associates Limited Partnership, a West Virginia limited partnership, is not a Subsidiary of the Company for purposes of this Agreement, and (ii) "Company Material Adverse Effect" means a material adverse effect on the financial condition, properties, assets, liabilities, business or results of operations of the Company and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole; provided, however, that none of the following, in and of itself or themselves, shall constitute a Company Material Adverse Effect:

(A) changes in the economy or financial markets generally in the United States or other countries in which the Company conducts material operations or that are the result of acts of war or terrorism;

(B) changes that are the result of factors generally affecting the principal industries in which the Company and its Subsidiaries operate;

(C) any loss of, or adverse change in, the relationship of the Company with its customers, employees or suppliers caused by the announcement of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement; and

(D) changes in United States generally accepted accounting principles or in any statute, rule or regulation unrelated to the Merger and of general applicability after the date hereof; provided, further, that, with respect to clauses (A), (B) and (D), such change, event, circumstance or development may be taken into consideration for purposes of determining if a Material Adverse Effect has occurred if such change, event, circumstance or development (i) primarily relates only to (or have the effect of primarily relating only to) the Company and its Subsidiaries or (ii) disproportionately adversely affects the Company and its Subsidiaries compared to other companies of similar size operating in the principal industries in which the Company and its Subsidiaries operate.

(b) Capital Structure.

(i) The authorized capital stock of the Company consists of (x) 37,860 Class A Shares, of which 16,940 Class A Shares were issued and outstanding as of the date of this Agreement and (y) 5,000 Class B Shares, of which 570 Class B Shares were issued and outstanding as of the date of this Agreement. All of the outstanding Shares have been duly authorized and are validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable. The Company has no Shares reserved for issuance. Each of the outstanding shares of capital stock or other securities of each of the Company's Subsidiaries is duly authorized, validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and owned by the Company or by a direct or indirect wholly owned Subsidiary of the Company, free and clear of any lien, charge, pledge, security interest, claim or other encumbrance (each, a "Lien"). There are no preemptive or other outstanding rights, options, warrants, conversion rights, stock appreciation rights, redemption rights, repurchase rights, agreements, arrangements, calls, commitments or rights of any kind that obligate the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to issue or sell any Shares or any shares of capital stock or other securities of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or any securities or obligations convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for, or giving any Person a right to subscribe for or acquire, any Shares or any securities of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, and no securities or obligations evidencing such rights are authorized, issued or outstanding. The Company does not have outstanding any bonds, debentures, notes or other obligations the holders of which have the right to vote (or convertible into or exercisable for securities having the right to vote) with the shareholders of the Company on any matter.

(ii) Section 5.1(b) of the Company Disclosure Letter sets forth (x) each of the Company's Subsidiaries and the ownership interest of the Company in each such Subsidiary, as well as the ownership interest of any other Person or Persons in each such Subsidiary and (y) the Company's or its Subsidiaries' capital stock, voting or equity interest or other direct or indirect ownership interest in any other Person. With respect to each Person identified on Section 5.1(b)(iv)(y) of the Company Disclosure Letter as an entity which is not a Subsidiary of the Company and is identified as an investment therein (each such entity, a "Minority Investment"), the Company has delivered to Parent copies of all Contracts and other documents to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is a party that was entered into or relates in any way to any Minority Investment. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is obligated to make any capital contribution or to assume or otherwise become liable for any debts or obligations or make any other payments with respect to any of the Minority Investments.

(iii) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries conducts any business with, or is a party to any Contract or arrangement with, PrimeEnergy Corporation. Other than restrictions pursuant to applicable Law, there are no restrictions on the ability of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to sell any of the shares of common stock of PrimeEnergy Corporation that the Company or any of its Subsidiaries holds.

(c) Corporate Authority; Approval and Fairness.

(i) The Company has all requisite corporate power and authority and has taken all corporate action necessary in order to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement and the Shareholder Support Agreement, subject, in the case of this Agreement only to obtaining approval and adoption of this Agreement and the Merger by the Company's shareholders (the "Company Requisite Vote") and to consummate the Merger. This Agreement and the Shareholder Support Agreement have been duly executed and delivered by the Company and constitute valid and binding agreements of the Company enforceable against the Company in accordance with their respective terms, subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent transfer, reorganization, moratorium and similar Laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights and to general equity principles (the "Bankruptcy and Equity Exception").

(ii) The board of directors of the Company has (A) adopted this Agreement and approved the Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby and resolved to transmit a recommendation to the holders of the Shares that such holders approve this Agreement (the "Company Recommendation") and (B) directed that this Agreement be submitted to the holders of the Shares for their approval. A special committee of the Board of Directors has received the opinion of its financial advisor, Raymond James & Associates, Inc., to the effect that the Per Share Merger Consideration to be received in the Merger by the non-management holders (i.e. all holders except Parent, Parent's Subsidiaries, E. Gaines Wehrle, Michael H. Wehrle, M. Chilton Wehrle Mueller, Stephen D. Wehrle, and H.B. Wehrle, III) of the Shares is fair, as of the date of such opinion, to such holders. It is agreed and understood that such opinion is for the benefit of special committee of the Company's Board of Directors and may not be relied on by Parent or Merger Sub.

(iii) The Major Shareholders and the Company have executed and delivered to Parent and Merger Sub the Shareholder Support Agreement and the Major Shareholders and the Company have executed and delivered to Holdco the Contribution Agreement.

(iv) Each McApple Shareholder has executed and delivered to Holdco the contribution agreement (the "McApple Agreement") substantially in the form set forth in Annex F. As of the Effective Time, Holdco will directly or indirectly own 100% of the equity interests of McApple.

(v) Each of the Persons listed on Schedule III has executed and delivered to the Company an Employment Agreement which will be effective on the Closing.

(vi) Birchwood LLC, Ridgeway LLC, Greenbrier Petroleum Company and Ruffner Realty Company have executed an agreement by which Greenbrier Petroleum Company and Ruffner Realty Company have resigned as partners of Hillcrest Associates and Birchwood LLC and Ridgeway LLC have survived as partners of Hillcrest Associates.

(vii) E. Gaines Wehrle has executed and delivered to the Company a letter of resignation from the board of directors of PrimeEnergy Corporation which will be effective on the Closing, which letter has been accepted and agreed to by the Company, and is attached hereto as Annex H.

(viii) The Company and E. Gaines Wehrle have executed and delivered to each other a letter agreement whereby E. Gaines Wehrle agrees to purchase the Company's 19/60 percentage interest in Vision Exploration & Production Co., L.L.C. ("Vision Letter Agreement"), subject to the consummation of the Merger, which agreement is attached hereto as Annex I.

(d) Governmental Filings; No Violations; Certain Contracts.

(i) Other than the filing of the West Virginia Articles of Merger with the Secretary of State of West Virginia pursuant to Section 1.3 and the filing under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (the "HSR Act"), no notices, reports or other filings are required to be made by the Company with, nor are any consents, registrations, approvals, permits or authorizations required to be obtained by the Company from, any domestic or foreign governmental or regulatory authority, agency, commission, body, court or other legislative, executive or judicial governmental entity (each, a "Governmental Entity"), in connection with the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the Shareholder Support Agreement by the Company and the consummation by the Company of the Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, or in connection with the continuing operation of the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries following the Effective Time, except those for which the failure to obtain such consent, approval or waiver is not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect.

(ii) The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the Shareholder Support Agreement by the Company do not, and the consummation of the Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby and thereby will not, constitute or result in (A) a breach or violation of, or a default under, the articles of incorporation or by-laws of the Company or the comparable governing instruments of any of its Subsidiaries, (B) with or without notice, lapse of time or both, a breach or violation of, a termination (or right of termination) or a default under, the creation or acceleration of any obligations or the creation of a Lien on any of the assets of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries pursuant to any agreement, lease, license, contract, note, mortgage, indenture, arrangement or other obligation (each, a "Contract") binding upon the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or, assuming (solely with respect to performance of this Agreement and consummation of the Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby) the filing of the West Virginia Articles of Merger with the Secretary of State of West Virginia and the requisite filing under the HSR Act, under any Law to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is subject, or (C) any change in the rights or obligations of any party under any Contract binding on the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, except, in the case of clause (B) or (C) above, for any such breach, violation, termination, default, creation, acceleration or change that, individually or in the aggregate, is not reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect.

(iii) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to or bound by any non-competition Contracts or other Contract that purports to limit either the type of business in which the Company or its Affiliates (or, after giving effect to the Merger, Parent or its Affiliates) may engage or the manner or locations in which any of them may so engage in any business (for the avoidance of doubt, distribution agreements and similar Contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice shall not be deemed to be "non-competition contracts" provided that such distribution agreements or similar Contracts do not in any way restrict Parent, Holdco or any of their Affiliates after consummation of the Merger). As used in this Agreement the term "Affiliate" means, with respect to any Person, any other Person controlling, controlled by or under common control with such Person, where "control" means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct the management and policies of a Person whether through the ownership of voting securities, contract or otherwise. For the avoidance of doubt, the parties agree that Hansford Associates Limited Partnership, a West Virginia limited partnership, is, and at all times will be, considered an Affiliate of the Company for purposes of this Agreement.

(e) Financial Statements. The Company has delivered to Parent copies of (a) the audited consolidated financial statements and other financial information for the Company and its consolidated Subsidiaries as of December 31, 2003, December 31, 2004 and December 31, 2005 and for the fiscal years then ended (the "Audited Financial Statements"), and (b) the unaudited consolidated financial statements and other financial information for the Company and its consolidated Subsidiaries for the nine-month period ending September 30, 2006 (collectively, the "Financial Statements"). Each of the consolidated balance sheets included in the Financial Statements (including any related notes and schedules) fairly presents in all material respects the consolidated financial position of the Company and its consolidated Subsidiaries as of its date and each of the consolidated statements of income, shareholders' equity and cash flows included in the Financial Statements (including any related notes and schedules) fairly presents in all material respects the consolidated results of operations and cash flows of the Company and its consolidated Subsidiaries for the periods then ended, in each case in conformity with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"), subject in the case of the unaudited financial statements to (i) the absence of footnote disclosures and other presentation items and (ii) changes resulting from normal de minimis year-end adjustments. The audit reports with respect to the Audited Financial Statements are not subject to any qualification.

(f) Absence of Certain Changes. Since December 31, 2005, the Company and its Subsidiaries have conducted their respective businesses only in, and have not engaged in any material transaction other than according to the ordinary and usual course of such businesses and there has not been, with respect to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries:

(i) any change adopted or proposed to its articles of incorporation or by-laws or other applicable governance instruments;

(ii) any change in the financial condition, properties, assets, liabilities, business or results of their operations or any event, change, development or state of facts which, individually or in the aggregate, has had or is reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect;

(iii) any material damage, destruction or other casualty loss with respect to any material asset or property owned, leased or otherwise used by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, whether or not covered by insurance;

(iv) other than regular quarterly dividends on the Shares paid in the first three quarters of 2006 consistent with past practice which did not exceed $200,000 in the aggregate per quarter and a special dividend paid in the first quarter of 2006 in the aggregate amount of $26,216,000, any declaration, setting aside or payment of any dividend or other distribution, with respect to any shares of capital stock of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (except for dividends or other distributions by any direct or indirect wholly owned Subsidiary of the Company to the Company or to any wholly owned Subsidiary of the Company), any repurchase, redemption or other acquisition by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or any issuance, sale, pledge, disposal of, grant, transfer, lease, license, guarantee or encumbrance of, any shares of capital stock or other securities of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries;

(v) any material change in any method of accounting or accounting practice by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or change in the independent accountants of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries;

(vi) any merger or consolidation of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with any other Person, or restructuring, reorganization or complete or partial liquidation of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or entry into any other agreements or arrangements imposing material restrictions on its assets, operations or businesses;

(vii) any acquisition of assets outside of the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice from any other Person with a value or purchase price in the aggregate in excess of $5 million in any transaction or series of related transactions, other than acquisitions pursuant to Contracts in effect as of the date of this Agreement;

(viii) any Lien incurred or created which is material to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries on any assets of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries having a value in excess of $5 million;

(ix) any loans, advances or capital contributions to or investments in any Person in excess of $5 million in the aggregate;

(x) entry into any agreement with respect to the voting of its capital stock, other than as contemplated by this Agreement;

(xi) any incurrence of indebtedness for borrowed money (other than borrowings under the Company's existing working capital debt facilities in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice to fund working capital of the Company) or any guarantee of any indebtedness of another Person or the issuance or sale of any debt securities or warrants or other rights to acquire any debt security of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries;

(xii) any capital expenditures in excess of $6 million in the aggregate;

(xiii) any material Tax election made, any material position taken on any material Tax Return or any material tax accounting method adopted that is inconsistent with positions taken or methods used in preparing or filing similar Tax Returns in prior periods, or any material Tax controversy settled or resolved;

(xiv) any transfer, sale, lease, license, mortgage, pledge, surrender, encumbrance, divestiture, cancellation, abandonment or lapse or expiration or other disposition of any assets, product lines or businesses of the Company or its Subsidiaries, other than pursuant to Contracts in effect prior to the date of this Agreement and except in connection with services provided in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice and sales of obsolete assets and except for sales, leases, licenses or other dispositions of assets with a fair market value not in excess of $5 million in the aggregate;

(xv) except as otherwise required by applicable Law, (i) any increase in the compensation, bonus or pension or welfare benefits of (other than those increases in the ordinary course consistent with past practice (A) to employees below the Senior Vice President level or (B) resulting from the Company's improved performance, based on existing 2005 incentive formulas), or any new equity awards made to, any director, officer or employee of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, (ii) any establishment, adoption, amendment or termination of any Benefit Plan (as defined in Section 5.1(h)(i)) or amendment to the terms of any outstanding equity-based awards, or (iii) any action taken to accelerate the vesting or payment, or funding or in any other way securing the payment, of compensation or benefits under any Benefit Plan, to the extent not already provided in any such Benefit Plan;

(xvi) entry into any Contract or any amendment or modification of any Contract with any officer, director or Affiliate of the Company or its Subsidiaries other than as expressly contemplated by this Agreement; or (xvii) any agreement to do any of the foregoing.

(g) Litigation and Liabilities. (i) There are no (a) civil, criminal or administrative actions, information requests, suits, claims, hearings, arbitrations, investigations or other proceedings (collectively, "Claims") pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or (b) except as reflected or reserved against in the Company's audited consolidated balance sheet for the year ending December 31, 2005 (and the notes thereto) and for obligations or liabilities incurred in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice since December 31, 2005 (and reflected or reserved against in the Company's unaudited consolidated balance sheet for the nine months ended September 30, 2006, to the extent incurred prior to such date), obligations or liabilities of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, whether or not accrued, contingent or otherwise and whether or not required to be disclosed, or any other facts or circumstances of which the Company has knowledge that is reasonably likely to result in any Claims against, or obligations or liabilities of, the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, including those relating to matters involving any Environmental Law (as defined in Section 5.1(m)), except for those that are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect. (ii) Neither the execution of this Agreement or the Shareholder Support Agreement nor the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated hereunder or thereunder waives, modifies, compromises or extinguishes any of the Company's rights with respect to (A) any insurance coverage relating to any actions, suits or claims against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries alleging personal injury or property damage arising from exposure to asbestos or asbestos-containing materials, or (B) any agreements, understandings or arrangements relating to any such coverage, except in the case of (A) or (B) as is not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect. (iii) The defense of all actions, suits or claims currently pending against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries alleging personal injury or property damage arising from exposure to asbestos or asbestos-containing materials have been assumed by the Company's insurers. As used in this Agreement, the term "knowledge" with respect to the Company shall mean the actual knowledge of Michael Wehrle, H.B. Wehrle III, E. Gaines Wehrle, Steven D. Wehrle, James F. Underhill, David Fox, III, Cody Mueller or Theresa Dudding after reasonable inquiry. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to or subject to the provisions of any judgment, order, writ, injunction, decree or award of any Governmental Entity which is, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect.

(h) Employee Benefits.

(i) All material benefit, employment, retention, transaction, severance, change in control and compensation plans, contracts, policies or arrangements covering current or former employees of the Company and its subsidiaries (the "Employees") and current or former directors of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or with respect to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries could have any liability including, but not limited to, "employee benefit plans" within the meaning of Section 3(3) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), and deferred compensation, severance, stock option, stock purchase, stock appreciation rights, stock based, incentive and bonus plans (the "Benefit Plans") are listed on Schedule 5.1(h)(i) of the Company Disclosure Letter, and each Benefit Plan which has received a favorable opinion letter from the Internal Revenue Service National Office, has been separately identified. True and complete copies of all Benefit Plans listed on Schedule 5.1(h)(i) of the Company Disclosure Letter have been made available to Parent.

(ii) To the knowledge of the Company, all Benefit Plans, other than "multiemployer plans" within the meaning of Section 3(37) of ERISA (each, a "Multiemployer Plan") (collectively, "Company Benefit Plans") are in compliance in all material respects with their terms and ERISA, the Code and other applicable Laws. Each Company Benefit Plan which is subject to ERISA (an "ERISA Plan") that is an "employee pension benefit plan" within the meaning of Section 3(2) of ERISA intended to be qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code, has received a favorable determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") covering all tax law changes prior to the Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2001 or has applied to the IRS for such favorable determination letter within the applicable remedial amendment period under Section 401(b) of the Code, and to the knowledge of the Company no circumstances are likely to result in the loss of the qualification of such Company Benefit Plan under Section 401(a) of the Code. No Benefit Plan which is a Multiemployer Plan is insolvent or is in reorganization within the meaning of Part 3 of Subtitle E of Title IV of ERISA and to the Company's knowledge no condition exists which presents a risk of any Multiemployer Plan becoming insolvent or going into reorganization. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has engaged in a transaction with respect to any ERISA Plan that, assuming the taxable period of such transaction expired as of the date hereof, could subject the Company or any Subsidiary to a tax or penalty imposed by either Section 4975 of the Code or Section 502(i) of ERISA in an amount which would be material.

(iii) No material liability under Subtitle C or D of Title IV of ERISA has been or is expected to be incurred by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with respect to any on-going, frozen or terminated Company Benefit Plan or with respect to the single-employer plan of any entity which is considered one employer with the Company under Section 4001 of ERISA or Section 414 of the Code (an "ERISA Affiliate"). Other than the Company and its Subsidiaries, neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has any ERISA Affiliates nor any liability with respect to any entity that previously was an ERISA Affiliate. The Company and its Subsidiaries have not incurred and do not expect to incur any material withdrawal liability with respect to a Multiemployer Plan under Subtitle E of Title IV of ERISA (regardless of whether based on contributions of an ERISA Affiliate).

(iv) As of the date hereof, there is no material pending or, to the knowledge of the Company threatened, litigation or dispute relating to the Benefit Plans or by a current or former employee against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, other than routine claims for benefits. No Benefit Plan is under audit, investigation or similar proceeding by the IRS, the Department of Labor, the Pension Benefit Guarantee Corporation or any other Governmental Entity and, to the knowledge of the Company, no such audit, investigation or proceeding is pending. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has any obligations for retiree health or life benefits under any ERISA Plan or collective bargaining agreement or has obligations to any Employee (either individually or Employees as a group) that such Employee(s) would be provided with such retiree health or life benefits upon their retirement or termination of employment, except to the extent required by Section 4980B of the Code.

(v) Neither the execution of this Agreement, shareholder approval of this Agreement nor the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby will (x) entitle any employees of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to severance pay or any material increase in severance pay upon any termination of employment after the date hereof, or (y) accelerate the time of payment or vesting, or result in any payment or funding (through a grantor trust or otherwise) of compensation or benefits under, or increase the amount payable, or result in any other material obligation pursuant to, any of the Benefit Plans or (z) result in the triggering or imposition of any restrictions or limitation on the right of the Company to amend or terminate any Benefit Plan. Except as set forth in Section 5.1(h)(v) of the Company Disclosure Letter, no payment or benefit which will or may be made by Parent, the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with respect to any Employee will be characterized as an "excess parachute payment," within the meaning of Section 280G(b)(1) of the Code.

(vi) None of the Benefit Plans, if administered in accordance with their terms, could result in the imposition of interest or an additional tax on any participant thereunder pursuant to Section 409A of the Code.

(i) Compliance with Laws; Licenses. The businesses of each of the Company and its Subsidiaries have not been, and are not being, conducted in violation of any federal, state, local or foreign law (including the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977, as amended), statute or ordinance, common law, or any rule, regulation, standard, judgment, order, writ, injunction, decree, arbitration award, agency requirement, license or permit of any Governmental Entity (collectively, "Laws"), except for violations that, individually or in the aggregate, are not reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect. Except with respect to regulatory matters covered by Section 6.5, no investigation or review by any Governmental Entity with respect to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened, nor has any Governmental Entity indicated an intention to conduct the same, except for those the outcome of which are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect. To the knowledge of the Company, no material change is required in the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' processes, properties or procedures in connection with any such Laws, and the Company has not received any notice or communication of any material noncompliance with any such Laws that has not been cured as of the date hereof. The Company and its Subsidiaries each has obtained and is in compliance with all permits, licenses, certifications, approvals, registrations, consents, authorizations, franchises, variances, exemptions and orders issued or granted by a Governmental Entity necessary to conduct its business as presently conducted, except those the absence of which is not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect.

(j) Material Contracts and Government Contracts.

(i) As of the date of this Agreement and except as otherwise expressly contemplated by this Agreement, neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to or bound by:

(A) any individual lease of real or personal property providing for annual rentals of $5 million or more;

(B) any Contract with any Governmental Entity or any Contract (other than purchase orders entered into the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice) that is reasonably likely to require either (x) annual payments to or from the Company and its Subsidiaries of more than $5 million or

(y) aggregate payments to or from the Company and its Subsidiaries of more than $5 million;

(C) other than with respect to any partnership that is wholly owned by the Company or any wholly owned Subsidiary of the Company, any partnership, joint venture or other similar agreement or arrangement relating to the formation, creation, operation, management or control of any partnership or joint venture material to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or in which the Company owns more than a 15% voting or economic interest, or any interest valued at more than $5 million without regard to percentage voting or economic interest;

(D) any Contract (other than among direct or indirect wholly owned Subsidiaries of the Company) relating to indebtedness for borrowed money or the deferred purchase price of property (in either case, whether incurred, assumed, guaranteed or secured by any asset) in excess of $5 million;

(E) any non-competition Contract or other Contract that purports to limit either the type of business in which the Company or its Subsidiaries or, after consummation of the Merger, Parent, Holdco or any of their respective Affiliates may engage or the manner or locations in which any of them may so engage in any business (for the avoidance of doubt, distribution agreements and similar Contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice shall not be deemed to be "non-competition contracts" provided that such distribution agreements or similar Contracts do not in any way restrict Parent, Holdco or any of their Affiliates after consummation of the Merger);

(F) any Contract containing a standstill or similar agreement pursuant to which one party has agreed not to acquire assets or securities of the other party or any of its Affiliates;

(G) any Contract with any Affiliate, director or officer of the Company, any Affiliate, director or officer of any Subsidiary of the Company, or any Person beneficially owning five percent or more of the outstanding Shares or of the outstanding shares of any Subsidiary of the Company;

(H) any Contract providing for indemnification by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries of any Person, except for any such Contract that is (x) not material to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or is a purchase order and (y) entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice;

(I) any Contract that contains a put, call or similar right pursuant to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries could be required to purchase or sell, as applicable, any equity interests of any Person or assets that have a fair market value or purchase price of more than $5 million; and

(J) any other Contract or group of related Contracts that, if terminated or subject to a default by any party thereto, is, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to result in a Company Material Adverse Effect (the Contracts described in clauses (A) — (J), together with all exhibits and schedules to such Contracts, being the "Material Contracts").

(ii) A copy of each Material Contract has previously been delivered or made available to Parent and each Material Contract is a valid and binding agreement of the Company or one of its Subsidiaries, as the case may be, and is in full force and effect, and neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any other party thereto is in default or breach in any respect under the terms of any such agreement, contract, plan, lease, arrangement or commitment.

(k) Real Property.

(i) With respect to the real property owned by the Company or its Subsidiaries (the "Owned Real Property"), (A) the Company or one of its Subsidiaries, as applicable, has good and marketable title to the Owned Real Property, free and clear of any Encumbrance, (B) there are no outstanding options or rights of first refusal to purchase the Owned Real Property, or any portion thereof or interest therein, and (C) neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries leases Owned Real Property to anyone else.

(ii) With respect to the real property leased or subleased to the Company or its Subsidiaries (the "Leased Real Property"), the lease or sublease for such property is valid, legally binding, enforceable and in full force and effect, and none of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is in material breach of or default under such lease or sublease, and no event has occurred which, with notice, lapse of time or both, would constitute a breach or default by any of the Company or its Subsidiaries or permit termination, modification or acceleration by any third party thereunder.

(iii) Section 5.1(k)(iii) of the Company Disclosure Letter contains a true and complete list of all Owned Real Property and Leased Real Property. Section 5.1(k)(iii) of the Company Disclosure Letter sets forth a correct street address and such other information as is reasonably necessary to identify each parcel of Owned Real Property.

(iv) For purposes of this Section 5.1(k) only, "Encumbrance" means any mortgage, lien, pledge, charge, security interest, easement, covenant, or other restriction or title matter or encumbrance of any kind in respect of such asset but specifically excludes (a) specified encumbrances described in Section 5.1(k)(iv) of the Company Disclosure Letter; (b) encumbrances for current Taxes or other governmental charges not yet due and payable; (c) mechanics', carriers', workmen's, repairmen's or other like encumbrances arising or incurred in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice relating to obligations as to which there is no default on the part of the Company, or the validity or amount of which is being contested in good faith by appropriate proceedings; (d) other encumbrances that do not, individually or in the aggregate, materially impair the continued use, operation, value or marketability of the specific parcel of Owned Real Property to which they relate or the conduct of the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries as presently conducted; (e) restrictions or exclusions which would be shown by a current title report or similar report; and (f) any condition or other matter, if any, that may be shown or disclosed by a current and accurate survey or physical inspection.

(l) Takeover Statutes. No "fair price," "moratorium," "control share acquisition" or other similar anti-takeover statute or regulation (each, a "Takeover Statute") or any anti-takeover provision in the Company's articles of incorporation or by-laws is applicable to the Company, the Shares, the Merger or the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(m) Environmental Matters.

(i) Except as is not reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect: (A) the Company and its Subsidiaries are, and have since January 1, 2001, been in compliance with all applicable Environmental Law; (B) the Company and its Subsidiaries possess all permits, licenses, registrations, identification numbers, authorizations and approvals required under applicable Environmental Laws for the operation of the business as presently conducted; (C) neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has received any claim, notice of violation, citation or other communication concerning any violation or alleged violation of, or liability under, any applicable Environmental Law which has not been fully resolved, imposing no outstanding liability or obligation on the Company or any of its Subsidiaries; (D) there are no writs, injunctions, decrees, orders or judgments outstanding, or any actions, suits, proceedings, inquiries, information requests, or investigations pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened, concerning compliance by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with, or liability of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries under, any Environmental Law; and (E) there are no Hazardous Substances at, on, under, or migrating to or from, the Owned Real Property, the Leased Real Property, or, the knowledge of the Company, any real property formerly owned, leased or operated by the Company, any of its Subsidiaries (the "Former Real Property"), in each case, which is reasonably expected to result in liability to the Company or any Subsidiary under Environmental Law.

(ii) The Company has made available to Purchaser true and complete copies of any material reports, site assessments, tests, or monitoring possessed by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (A) pertaining to Hazardous Substances at, on, under, or migrating to or from, any Owned Property, Leased Property or Former Real Property, or (B) concerning compliance by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with Environmental Law or their liability thereunder.

(iii) Notwithstanding any other representation and warranty in Article V, the representations and warranties contained in this Section 5.1(m) and in Section 5.1(g) constitute the sole representations and warranties of Sellers relating to any Environmental Law.

As used in this Agreement, (i) the term "Environmental Law" means any applicable law (including common law), regulation, code, license, permit, order, judgment, decree or injunction from any Governmental Entity relating to (A) the protection of the environment (including air, water, soil and natural resources), (B) the use, storage, handling, release or disposal of or exposure to hazardous substances, or (C) occupational health or safety as it relates to Hazardous Substance handling or exposure, in each case as presently in effect, and (ii) "Hazardous Substance" means any substance listed, defined, designated or classified as a pollutant or contaminant or as hazardous, toxic or radioactive under any applicable Environmental Law, including, without limitation, petroleum and any derivative or by-products thereof and asbestos and asbestos-containing materials.

(n) Taxes. The Company and each of its Subsidiaries (i) have prepared in good faith and duly and timely filed (taking into account any extension of time within which to file) all Tax Returns (as defined below) required to be filed by any of them and all such filed Tax Returns are complete and accurate in all material respects; (ii) have paid all Taxes (as defined below) that are shown as due on such filed Tax Returns (or that are otherwise due and payable) or that the Company or any of its Subsidiaries are obligated to withhold from amounts owing to any employee, creditor or third party, except with respect to matters contested in good faith and for which adequate reserves have been established in accordance with GAAP; and (iii) have not waived any statute of limitations with respect to Taxes or agreed to any extension of time with respect to a Tax assessment or deficiency. As of the date hereof, there are not pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened, any audits, examinations, investigations or other proceedings in respect of Taxes or Tax matters. There are not, to the knowledge of the Company, any material unresolved questions or claims concerning the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' Tax liability. The Company has made available to Parent true and correct copies of the United States federal income Tax Returns filed by the Company and its Subsidiaries for each of the three most recent fiscal years. The consolidated United States federal income Tax Returns of the Company have been examined, or the statutes of limitations have closed, with respect to all taxable years through and including 2004. To the knowledge of the Company, no claim has been made in the previous five years by a taxing authority in a jurisdiction where the Company or any of its Subsidiaries does not file Tax Returns that the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is or may be subject to taxation by that jurisdiction. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has any liability for Taxes of any Person (other than the Company and its Subsidiaries) under Treasury Regulation Section 1.1502-6, any comparable provision of U.S., state, local or foreign law, or otherwise. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has been a party to a "reportable transaction" (as that term is defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.6011-4(b)(1)). Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to any Tax sharing agreement (with any Person other than the Company and/or any of its Subsidiaries). Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has been a party to any distribution occurring during the last 30 months in which the parties to such distribution treated the distribution as one to which Section 355 of the Code (or any similar provision of state, local or foreign law) applied. Each material Tax election made by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has been timely and properly made.

As used in this Agreement, (i) the term "Tax" (including, with correlative meaning, the term "Taxes") includes all federal, state, local and foreign income, profits, franchise, gross receipts, environmental, customs duty, capital stock, severances, stamp, payroll, sales, employment, unemployment, disability, use, property, withholding, excise, production, value added, occupancy and other taxes, duties or assessments of any nature whatsoever, together with all interest, penalties and additions imposed with respect to such amounts and any interest in respect of such penalties and additions, and (ii) the term "Tax Return" includes all returns and reports (including elections, declarations, disclosures, schedules, estimates and information returns) required to be supplied to a Tax authority relating to Taxes.

(o) Labor Matters.

(i) To the knowledge of the Company, there is no organizational effort currently being made or threatened on behalf of any labor organization to organize the employees of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, nor a demand for recognition of any of the employees of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries on behalf of any labor organization within the last two (2) years; nor is the Company or any of its Subsidiaries the subject of any material proceeding asserting that the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has committed an unfair labor practice within the meaning of the National Labor Relations Act or seeking to compel it to bargain with any labor organization; nor is there pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened, nor has there been for the past two (2) years, any labor strike, picketing, walk-out, work stoppage or lockout involving the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. Neither the Company nor any Subsidiary is presently, nor has been in the past a party to, or bound by, any collective bargaining agreement or union contract with respect to Employees, and no such agreement or contract is currently being negotiated. The consummation of the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement will not entitle any third party (including any labor organization) to any payments under any collective bargaining agreement or union contract with respect to Employees to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is a party or by which any of them are otherwise bound.

(ii) The Company and its Subsidiaries (i) are in compliance in all material respects with all applicable federal, state and local laws, rules and regulations (domestic and foreign) respecting employment, overtime pay and wages and hours, in each case, with respect to their employees; (ii) have withheld all material amounts required by law or by agreement to be withheld from the wages, salaries and other payment to their employees; and (iii) are not liable for or in arrears with respect to material wages or any material taxes or any penalty for failure to comply with any of the foregoing except, in each case, to the extent as is not reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect.

(iii) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has classified any individual as an "independent contractor" or similar status who, according to a Benefit Plan or applicable law, should have been classified as an employee or of similar status.

(p) Insurance. All fire and casualty, general liability, business interruption, product liability, and sprinkler and water damage insurance policies maintained by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries ("Insurance Policies") are with reputable insurance carriers, provide full and adequate coverage for all normal risks incident to the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries and their respective properties and assets, and are in character and amount at least equivalent to that carried by persons engaged in similar businesses and subject to the same or similar perils or hazards, except for any such failures to maintain insurance policies that, individually or in the aggregate, are not reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect. Each Insurance Policy is in full force and effect and all premiums due with respect to all Insurance Policies have been paid, with such exceptions that, individually or in the aggregate, are not reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect.

(q) Affiliated Transactions. No officer, director, stockholder or Affiliate of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is a party to any Contract, commitment or transaction with the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or has any interest in any property used by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries.

(r) Product Warranty and Product Liability. There is no notice, demand, claim, action, suit, inquiry, hearing, proceeding, notice of violation or investigation from, by or before any Governmental Entity relating to any product, including the packaging and advertising related thereto, designed, formulated, manufactured, processed, sold, distributed or placed in the stream of commerce by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (a "Product"), or claim or lawsuit involving a Product which is, to the knowledge of the Company, pending or threatened, by any Person which is reasonably likely to result in any material liability to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. There has not been, nor is there under consideration by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, any Product recall or post-sale warning conducted by or on behalf of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries concerning any Product, except for such recalls or post-sale warnings that are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect. To the knowledge of the Company, all Products, complied and comply in all material respects with applicable specifications, government safety standards and laws, and are or were substantially free from contamination, deficiencies or defects, except for such non-compliance, contamination, deficiency or defect as is not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely have a Company Material Adverse Effect.

(s) Customers and Suppliers. Section 5.1(s) of the Company Disclosure Letter sets forth a list of (i) the fifteen (15) largest suppliers (by dollar amount) to the Company and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, during the period from January 1, 2005 to October 31, 2006 ("Major Suppliers") and (ii) the fifteen (15) customers with the highest dollar amount of purchases from or services of, the companies, taken as a whole, during the period from January 1, 2005 to October 31, 2006 (the "Major Customers"). No Major Supplier or Major Customer has during the last two (2) years materially decreased or limited, or to the knowledge of the Company threatened to materially decrease or limit, its provision or receipt of services or supplies to or from the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. No termination, cancellation or material limitation of, or any material modification or change in, the business relationship of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has occurred or, to the knowledge of the Company, has been threatened by any Major Supplier or Major Customer.

(t) Purchase and Sale Agreements. No claims for indemnification under any prior purchase and sale agreements to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is a party, have been made by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries in the last five (5) years, or are pending or threatened by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries and, to the knowledge of the Company, no claims for indemnification have been made in the last five (5) years or are pending or threatened, by any counterparties thereto.

(u) Brokers and Finders. Neither the Company nor any of its officers, directors or employees has employed, retained or engaged any broker or finder or incurred any liability for any brokerage, finder's or similar fees or commissions in connection with the Merger or the other transactions contemplated in this Agreement except that the Company has employed Lehman Brothers Inc. as its financial advisor and a special committee of the Board of Directors of the Company has employed Raymond James & Associates, Inc. as its financial advisor. The Company has made available to Parent complete and accurate copies of all agreements pursuant to which Lehman Brothers Inc. and Raymond James & Associates, Inc. are entitled to any fees and expenses in connection with any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Other than the Company Advisors, neither the Company, nor any of its Subsidiaries has employed, engaged or retained any legal counsel, accountants, investment broker or other advisors in connection with the Merger or the other transactions contemplated in this Agreement.

5.2. Representations and Warranties of Parent and Merger Sub. Except as set forth in the corresponding sections of the disclosure letter delivered to the Company by Parent prior to entering into this Agreement (the "Parent Disclosure Letter") (it being agreed that disclosure of any item in any section of the Parent Disclosure Letter shall be deemed disclosure with respect to any other section to which the relevance of such item is reasonably apparent), Parent and Merger Sub each hereby represent and warrant to the Company that:

(a) Organization, Good Standing and Qualification. Each of Parent and Merger Sub is a legal entity duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of its respective jurisdiction of organization and has all requisite corporate or similar power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and assets and to carry on its business as presently conducted and is qualified to do business and is in good standing as a foreign corporation in each jurisdiction where the ownership, leasing or operation of its assets or properties or conduct of its business requires such qualification, except where the failure to be so organized, qualified or in such good standing, or to have such power or authority, are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to prevent, materially delay or materially impair the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Parent has made available to the Company complete and correct copies of the articles of incorporation and by-laws of Parent and Merger Sub, each as amended to the date hereof, and each as so delivered is in full force and effect.

(b) Corporate Authority. No vote of holders of capital stock of Parent is necessary to approve this Agreement and the Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby. Each of Parent and Merger Sub has all requisite corporate power and authority and has taken all corporate action necessary in order to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement, including the approval of this Agreement by Parent as the sole shareholder of Merger Sub, and to consummate the Merger. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by each of Parent and Merger Sub and is a valid and binding agreement of Parent and Merger Sub, enforceable against each of Parent and Merger Sub in accordance with its terms, subject to the Bankruptcy and Equity Exception.

(c) Governmental Filings; No Violations; Etc.

(i) Other than the filing of the West Virginia Articles of Merger with the Secretary of State of West Virginia pursuant to Section 1.3 and the requisite filing under the HSR Act, no notices, reports or other filings are required to be made by Parent or Merger Sub with, nor are any consents, registrations, approvals, permits or authorizations required to be obtained by Parent or Merger Sub from, any Governmental Entity in connection with the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by Parent and Merger Sub and the consummation by Parent and Merger Sub of the Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby, except those that the failure to make or obtain are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to prevent, materially delay or materially impair the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(ii) The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by Parent and Merger Sub do not, and the consummation by Parent and Merger Sub of the Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby will not, constitute or result in (A) a breach or violation of, or a default under, the articles of incorporation or by-laws of Parent or Merger Sub or the comparable governing instruments of any of its Subsidiaries, (B) with or without notice, lapse of time or both, a breach or violation of, a termination (or right of termination) or a default under, the creation or acceleration of any obligations or the creation of a Lien on any of the assets of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries pursuant to, any Contracts binding upon Parent or any of its Subsidiaries, or (C) any change in the rights or obligations of any party under any such Contract, except, in the case of clause (B) or (C) above, for any such breach, violation, termination, default, creation, acceleration or change that is not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to prevent, materially delay or materially impair the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(d) Litigation. There are no civil, criminal or administrative actions, suits, claims, hearings, investigations or proceedings pending or, to the knowledge of the officers of Parent, threatened against Parent or Merger Sub, except for those that are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the financial condition, properties, assets, liabilities, business or results of operations of Parent or Merger Sub or to prevent, materially delay or materially impair the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(e) Financing. Attached as Annex 5.2(e)(i) to the Parent Disclosure Letter is a true and complete copy of a debt commitment letter, other than the fee letter relating thereto (collectively, the "Debt Financing Commitment"), pursuant to which the lenders party thereto have agreed, subject to the terms and conditions set forth therein, to lend the amounts set forth therein for the purposes of financing the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (the "Debt Financing"). Attached as Annex 5.2(e)(ii) to the Parent Disclosure Letter is a true and complete copy of the equity commitment letter, dated as of the date hereof, from GS Capital Partners V Fund, L.P. (the "Equity Financing Commitment" and together with the Debt Financing Commitment, the "Financing Commitments"), pursuant to which the parties thereto have committed, subject to the terms and conditions set forth therein, to invest the amount set forth therein (the "Equity Financing" and together with the Debt Financing Commitment, the "Financing"). None of the Financing Commitments has been amended or modified prior to the date of this Agreement, no such amendment or modification is contemplated, and the respective commitments contained in the Financing Commitments have not been withdrawn or rescinded in any respect. Parent has fully paid any and all commitment fees or other fees in connection with the Financing Commitments that are payable on or prior to the date hereof, and the Financing Commitments are in full force and effect and are the valid, binding and enforceable obligations of Parent, Merger Sub and to the knowledge of Parent, the other parties thereto. There are no conditions precedent or other contingencies related to the funding of the full amount of the Financing, other than as set forth in or contemplated by the Financing Commitments. No event has occurred which, with or without notice, lapse of time or both, would constitute a default on the part of Parent or Merger Sub under any of the Financing Commitments, and as of the date hereof Parent has no reason to believe that any of the conditions to the Financing contemplated by the Financing Commitments will not be satisfied or that the Financing will not be made available to Parent on the Closing Date. Subject to the terms and conditions contained in this Agreement and the Financing Commitments, Parent and Merger Sub will have at the Closing, together with the available cash of the Company and its Subsidiaries on the Closing Date, funds sufficient to pay the cash portion of the aggregate Per Share Merger Consideration (and any repayment or refinancing of debt contemplated by this Agreement or the Financing Commitments) and any other amounts required to be paid in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, and to pay all related fees and expenses.

(f) Capitalization of Merger Sub and Parent. (i) As of the date hereof the authorized capital stock of Merger Sub consists solely of 5,000 shares of Common Stock, par value $1.00 per share, 100 of which are validly issued and outstanding. All of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Merger Sub is, and immediately prior to the Effective Time will be, owned by Parent, free and clear of all Liens and there are (A) no other voting securities of Merger Sub authorized, issued or outstanding, (B) no preemptive or other outstanding rights, options, warrants, conversion rights, stock appreciation rights, redemption rights, repurchase rights, agreements, arrangements, calls, commitments or rights of any kind that obligate Merger Sub to issue or sell any shares of capital stock or other securities of Merger Sub, (C) no securities or obligations convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for, or giving any Person a right to subscribe for or acquire, any securities of Merger Sub, and (D) no securities or obligations evidencing such rights described in clause (C) of this Section 5.2(f)(i) are authorized, issued or outstanding.

(ii) As of the date hereof the authorized capital stock of Parent consists solely of 100,000 shares of Common Stock, par value $0.01 per share, 100 of which are validly issued and outstanding. All of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Parent is, and immediately prior to the Effective Time will be, owned by Holdco, free and clear of all Liens, there are (A) no other voting securities of Parent authorized, issued or outstanding, (B) no preemptive or other outstanding rights, options, warrants, conversion rights, stock appreciation rights, redemption rights, repurchase rights, agreements, arrangements, calls, commitments or rights of any kind that obligate Parent to issue or sell any shares of capital stock or other securities of Parent, (C) no securities or obligations convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for, or giving any Person a right to subscribe for or acquire, any securities of Parent, and (D) no securities or obligations evidencing such rights described in clause (C) of this Section 5.2(f)(ii) are authorized, issued or outstanding.

(g) Business of Parent and Merger Sub. Neither Parent nor Merger Sub has conducted any business prior to the date hereof or has, or prior to the Effective Time will have, any assets, liabilities or obligations of any nature other than those incident to its formation and pursuant to this Agreement and the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Since the dates of their respective incorporations, there has not been any change in the financial condition, properties, assets, liabilities, business or results of their operations of Parent or Merger Sub or any circumstance, occurrence or development to the knowledge of the officers of Parent, except for those that are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the financial condition, properties, assets, liabilities, business or results of operations of Parent or Merger Sub or to prevent, materially delay or materially impair the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(h) Holdco. Holdco is a legal entity duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of Delaware and has all requisite corporate or similar power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and assets and to carry on its business as presently conducted and is qualified to do business and is in good standing as a foreign corporation in each jurisdiction where the ownership, leasing or operation of its assets or properties or conduct of its business requires such qualification, except where the failure to be so organized, qualified or in such good standing, or to have such power or authority, are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on Holdco.

5.3. Assets of Holdco, Parent and Merger Sub. The Company hereby acknowledges and agrees that (x) as of the date hereof, (i) Holdco's sole assets are equity interests in Parent, cash in a de minimis amount and its rights under the Merger Agreement and the agreements contemplated hereby, (ii) Parent's sole assets are equity interests in Merger Sub, cash in a de minimis amount and its rights under the Merger Agreement and the agreements contemplated hereby and (iii) Merger Sub's sole assets are cash in a de minimis amount and its rights under the Merger Agreement and the agreements contemplated hereby and (y) no additional funds are expected to be contributed to Holdco, Parent or Merger Sub unless and until the Closing occurs.

ARTICLE VI

Covenants

6.1. Interim Operations.

(a) The Company covenants and agrees as to itself and its Subsidiaries that, after the date hereof and prior to the Effective Time (unless Parent shall otherwise approve in writing, such approval not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed, and except as otherwise expressly contemplated by this Agreement, and except as required by applicable Laws) the business of it and its Subsidiaries shall be conducted in the ordinary and usual course and, to the extent consistent therewith, it and its Subsidiaries shall use their respective reasonable best efforts to preserve their business organizations intact and maintain existing relations and goodwill with Governmental Entities, customers, suppliers, distributors, creditors, lessors, employees and business associates and keep available the services of its and its Subsidiaries' present employees and agents. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing and in furtherance thereof, from the date of this Agreement until the Effective Time, except (A) as otherwise expressly contemplated by this Agreement, (B) as Parent may approve in writing (such approval not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed) or (C) for transactions set forth in Section 6.1 of the Company Disclosure Letter, the Company will not and will not permit any of its Subsidiaries to:

(i) adopt or propose any change in its articles of incorporation or by-laws or other applicable governing instruments;

(ii) merge or consolidate the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with any other Person, or restructure, reorganize or completely or partially liquidate or otherwise enter into any agreements or arrangements imposing material changes or restrictions on its assets, operations or businesses;

(iii) acquire assets outside of the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice from any other Person, other than acquisitions pursuant to Contracts in effect as of the date of this Agreement;

(iv) issue, sell, pledge, dispose of, grant, transfer, encumber, or authorize the issuance, sale, pledge, disposition, grant, transfer, lease, license, guarantee or encumbrance of, any Shares or any shares of capital stock of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (other than the issuance of shares by a wholly owned Subsidiary of the Company to the Company or another wholly owned Subsidiary), or securities convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for any shares of such capital stock, or any options, warrants or other rights of any kind to acquire any Shares or any shares of such capital stock or such convertible or exchangeable securities;

(v) create or incur any Lien in excess of $5 million on any assets of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries;

(vi) make any loans, advances or capital contributions to or investments in any Person, other than non-material advances to vendors and employees in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice;

(vii) enter into any agreement with respect to the voting of its capital stock or declare, set aside, make or pay any dividend or other distribution, or purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire any of its capital stock payable in cash, stock, property or otherwise, with respect to any of its capital stock except for (x) dividends paid by any direct or indirect wholly owned Subsidiary of the Company to the Company or to any other direct or indirect wholly owned Subsidiary of the Company or (y) a regular quarterly dividend paid in the fourth quarter of 2006 consistent with past practice, which shall not exceed $200,000 in the aggregate as set forth in Section 5.1(f) of the Company Disclosure Letter;

(viii) reclassify, split, combine, subdivide or redeem, purchase or otherwise acquire, directly or indirectly, any of its capital stock or securities convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for any shares of its capital stock;

(ix) incur any indebtedness for borrowed money (other than borrowings under the Company's existing working capital debt facilities in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice to fund working capital of the Company) or guarantee such indebtedness of another Person, or issue or sell any debt securities or warrants or other rights to acquire any debt security of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries;

(x) make or authorize any capital expenditures in excess of $5 million in the aggregate;

(xi) enter into any Contract that would have been a Material Contract had it been entered into prior to this Agreement;

(xii) make any changes with respect to accounting policies or procedures, except as required by changes in GAAP;

(xiii) other than in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice, amend, modify or terminate any Material Contract, or cancel, modify or waive any debts or claims held by it or waive any rights;

(xiv) make any material Tax election, take any material position on any material Tax Return filed on or after the date of this Agreement or adopt any tax accounting method that is inconsistent with positions taken or methods used in preparing or filing similar Tax Returns in prior periods, or settle or resolve any material Tax controversy;

(xv) other than pursuant to Contracts in effect prior to the date of this Agreement, transfer, sell, lease, license, mortgage, pledge, surrender, encumber, divest, cancel, abandon or allow to lapse or expire or otherwise dispose of any assets, product lines or businesses of the Company or its Subsidiaries, including capital stock of any of its Subsidiaries, except (x) in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice, (y) for sales of obsolete assets or (z) for sales, leases, licenses or other dispositions of assets with a fair market value not in excess of $5 million in the aggregate;

(xvi) except as otherwise required by applicable Law, (i) increase the compensation, bonus or pension or welfare benefits of (other than those increases in the ordinary course consistent with past practice (A) to employees below the Senior Vice President level or (B) resulting from the Company's improved performance, based on existing 2005 incentive formulas), or make any new equity awards to, any director, officer or employee of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, (ii) establish, adopt, amend or terminate any Benefit Plan or amend the terms of any Benefit Plan or outstanding equity-based awards, or (iii) take any action to accelerate the vesting or payment, or fund or in any other way secure the payment, of compensation or benefits under any Benefit Plan, to the extent not already required by any such Benefit Plan;

(xvii) settle, or consent to any settlement of, any actions, suits, claims or proceedings against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or any obligation or liability of the Company (i) alleging personal injury or property damage arising from exposure to asbestos or asbestos-containing materials (other than disputes paid under the Company's insurance not exceeding $50,000 per claimant), or (ii) alleging any other injury or damage (other than disputes with customers or suppliers in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice and not exceeding $50,000 per claimant);

(xviii) take any action or omit to take any action that will waive, modify, compromise or extinguish any of the Company's rights with respect to (A) any insurance coverage relating to any actions, suits or claims against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries alleging personal injury or property damage arising from exposure to asbestos or asbestos-containing materials, or (B) any agreements, understandings or arrangements relating to any such coverage;

(xix) take any action or omit to take any action that is reasonably likely to result in any of the conditions to the Merger set forth in Article VII not being satisfied, except actions or omissions expressly permitted by Section 6.2; provided that the foregoing shall not expand, diminish or modify in any way any of the Company's express obligations hereunder;

(xx) enter into, terminate, amend or modify any Contract or transaction with any officer, director or Affiliate of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or any Person beneficially owning five percent or more of the outstanding Shares or of the outstanding shares of any Subsidiary of the Company;

(xxi) enter into any purchase order (other than purchase orders entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice and in an amount less than $10 million); or

(xxii) agree, authorize or commit to do any of the foregoing.

(b) Parent will not and will not permit any of its Subsidiaries to take any action or omit to take any action that is reasonably likely to result in any of the conditions to the Merger set forth in Section 7.2 or Section 7.3 not being satisfied, except actions or omissions expressly permitted by Section 6.12(c); provided that the foregoing shall not expand, diminish or modify in any way any of Parent's or Merger Sub's express obligations hereunder.

6.2. Acquisition Proposals.

(a) No Solicitation or Negotiation. The Company agrees that, except as expressly permitted by this Section 6.2, neither it nor any of its Subsidiaries nor any of the officers and directors of it or any of its Subsidiaries shall, and that it shall use its reasonable best efforts to instruct and cause its and its Subsidiaries' employees, investment bankers, attorneys, accountants and other advisors or representatives (such directors, officers, employees, investment bankers, attorneys, accountants and other advisors or representatives, collectively, "Representatives") not to, directly or indirectly:

(i) initiate, solicit or knowingly encourage any inquiries or the making of any proposal or offer that constitutes, or would be reasonably likely to lead to, any Acquisition Proposal (as defined below); or

(ii) engage in, continue or otherwise participate in any discussions or negotiations regarding, or provide any non-public information or data to any Person relating to, any Acquisition Proposal; or

(iii) otherwise knowingly facilitate any effort or attempt to make an Acquisition Proposal.

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any violation of any of the restrictions set forth in this Section 6.2 by any Representative of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries shall be deemed to be a breach of this Section 6.2 by the Company.

Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing to the contrary, prior to the time, but not after, the Company Requisite Vote is obtained, the Company may, if it and its Subsidiaries and their respective Representatives have not breached this Section 6.2, and there has been no breach of Section 1(g) of the Shareholder Support Agreement, (A) provide information in response to a request therefor by a Person who has made an unsolicited bona fide written Acquisition Proposal providing for the acquisition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis (including, without limitation, equity securities of the Company's Subsidiaries) or all or substantially all of the Shares, if the Company receives from the Person so requesting such information an executed confidentiality agreement on terms not less restrictive to the other party than those contained in the Confidentiality Agreement (as defined in Section 9.7); it being understood that such confidentiality agreement need not prohibit the making, or amendment, of an Acquisition Proposal; and promptly discloses (and, if applicable, provides copies of) any such information to Parent to the extent not previously provided to Parent; (B) engage or participate in any discussions or negotiations with any Person who has made an unsolicited bona fide written Acquisition Proposal described in clause (A); or (C) after having complied with this Section 6.2, approve, recommend, or otherwise declare advisable or propose to approve, recommend or declare advisable (publicly or otherwise) an Acquisition Proposal described in clause (A), if and only to the extent that, (x) prior to taking any action described in clause (A), (B) or (C) above, the board of directors of the Company determines in good faith after consultation with outside legal counsel taking such action, in light of the Acquisition Proposal and the terms of this Agreement, is reasonably required for the directors to comply with their fiduciary duties under applicable Law, (y) in each such case referred to in clause (A) or (B) above, the board of directors of the Company has determined in good faith based on the information then available and after consultation with its financial advisor that such Acquisition Proposal either constitutes a Superior Proposal (as defined below) or is reasonably likely to result in a Superior Proposal, and (z) in the case referred to in clause (C) above, the board of directors of the Company determines in good faith (after consultation with its financial advisor and outside legal counsel) that such Acquisition Proposal is a Superior Proposal.

(b) Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

"Acquisition Proposal" means (i) any proposal or offer with respect to a merger, joint venture, partnership, consolidation, dissolution, liquidation, tender offer, recapitalization, reorganization, share exchange, business combination or similar transaction involving the Company or any of its Subsidiaries and (ii) any proposal or offer to acquire in any manner, directly or indirectly, 15% or more of the Shares or of any class of equity securities of any of the Company's Subsidiaries, or 15% or more of the consolidated total assets (including, without limitation, equity securities of the Company's Subsidiaries) of the Company and its Subsidiaries, in each case other than the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

"Superior Proposal" means an unsolicited bona fide Acquisition Proposal to acquire all or substantially all of the assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis (including, without limitation, equity securities of the Company's Subsidiaries) or all or substantially all of the Shares, in either such case, that the board of directors of the Company has determined in its good faith judgment (after consultation with its financial advisor and outside legal counsel) (x) is reasonably likely to be consummated in accordance with its terms (if accepted), taking into account all legal, financial and regulatory aspects of the proposal and the Person making the proposal, (y) if consummated, would result in a transaction that would be more favorable to the Company's shareholders from a financial point of view than the transaction contemplated by this Agreement (in each such case after taking into account any revisions to the terms of the transaction contemplated by this Agreement pursuant to Section 6.2(c), and the time likely to be required to consummate such Acquisition Proposal) and (z) if any debt or equity financing is required to consummate such Acquisition Proposal, such Person shall have provided to the Company executed financing commitment letters for such financing from bona fide financing sources in an amount sufficient to consummate such Acquisition Proposal and containing conditions to obtaining such financing which are not materially less favorable to the Company than those contained in the Financing Commitments.

(c) No Change in Recommendation or Alternative Acquisition Agreement. The board of directors of the Company and each committee thereof shall not, directly or indirectly:

(i) withhold, withdraw, qualify or modify (or publicly propose or resolve to withhold, withdraw, qualify or modify), in a manner adverse to Parent or Merger Sub, the Company Recommendation;

(ii) approve, recommend or otherwise declare advisable or propose to approve, recommend or otherwise declare advisable or resolve to approve, recommend or otherwise declare advisable any Acquisition Proposal;

(iii) cause or permit the Company to enter into any letter of intent, memorandum of understanding, agreement in principle, acquisition agreement, merger agreement or other agreement (other than a confidentiality agreement referred to in Section 6.2(a) entered into in compliance with Section 6.2(a)) relating to any Acquisition Proposal (an "Alternative Acquisition Agreement");

(iv) enter into any agreement requiring the Company to abandon, terminate or fail to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby or breach its obligations hereunder; or

(v) propose or agree to do any of the foregoing.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth in this Agreement, prior to the time, but not after, the Company Requisite Vote is obtained, in response to an Acquisition Proposal made after the date hereof that was not solicited, initiated, encouraged or knowingly facilitated in breach of this Agreement or the Shareholder Support Agreement, the board of directors of the Company may (A) withhold, withdraw, qualify or modify the Company Recommendation, or approve, recommend or otherwise declare advisable any Superior Proposal (a "Change of Recommendation") or (B) terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.3(a) simultaneously with paying to Parent by wire transfer in immediately available funds the Termination Fee to be paid pursuant to Section 8.5, if (in the case of (A) and (B)) (I) the board of directors of the Company determines in good faith, after consultation with outside legal counsel, that taking such action is reasonably required for the directors of the Company to comply with their fiduciary duties under applicable Law, (II) the board of directors of the Company after consultation with its outside legal counsel and financial advisor has determined in good faith that such Acquisition Proposal is a Superior Proposal, (III) the Company has provided Parent prior written notice of its determination that such Acquisition Proposal is a Superior Proposal, (IV) Parent has had the opportunity to revise the terms of this Agreement to match or exceed the terms of such Superior Proposal within five (5) business days following receipt by Parent of such notice, which shall include the right to match any non-price terms of such Superior Proposal and (V) following the expiration of the five (5) business day period referenced in clause (IV) above, the board of directors of the Company has determined that the Acquisition Proposal remains a Superior Proposal. Any material amendment to any Acquisition Proposal will be deemed to be a new Acquisition Proposal for purposes of this Section 6.2(c).

(d) Existing Discussions. The Company agrees that it will immediately cease and cause to be terminated any existing activities, discussions or negotiations with any parties conducted heretofore with respect to any Acquisition Proposal. The Company agrees that it will take the necessary steps to promptly inform the Persons referred to in the first sentence hereof of the obligations undertaken in this Section 6.2. The Company also agrees that it will promptly request each Person that has heretofore executed a confidentiality agreement in connection with its consideration of acquiring it or any of its Subsidiaries to return all confidential information heretofore furnished to such Person by or on behalf of it or any of its Subsidiaries.

(e) Notice. The Company agrees that it will promptly (and, in any event, within 48 hours) notify Parent if any proposals or offers with respect to an Acquisition Proposal are received by, any such information is requested from, or any such discussions or negotiations are sought to be initiated or continued with, the Company, any of its Subsidiaries or Affiliates, or any of their Representatives indicating, in connection with such notice, the name of such Person and the material terms and conditions of any proposals or offers (including, if applicable, copies of any written requests, proposals or offers, including proposed agreements) and thereafter shall keep Parent reasonably informed, on a prompt basis, of the status and terms of any such proposals or offers (including any amendments thereto) and the status of any such discussions or negotiations.

6.3. Information Supplied. The Company shall prepare and mail to all holders of Shares as promptly as practicable after the date of this Agreement (and in no event more than 20 days after the date of this Agreement) a proxy statement relating to the Shareholders Meeting (as defined in Section 6.4) (such proxy statement, including any amendment or supplement thereto, the "Proxy Statement"). The Company agrees, as to it and its Subsidiaries, that none of the information supplied by it or any of its Subsidiaries for inclusion in the Proxy Statement will, at the date of mailing to shareholders of the Company or at the time of the Shareholders Meeting, contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. The Proxy Statement shall include the Company Recommendation.

6.4. Shareholders Meeting. Subject to Section 31D-11-1104 of the WVBCA and fiduciary obligations under applicable Law, the Company will take, in accordance with applicable Law and its articles of incorporation and by-laws, all action necessary to convene a meeting of holders of Shares (the "Shareholders Meeting") as promptly as practicable after the date hereof but no later than twenty-one (21) days from the date on which the Proxy Statement is mailed to shareholders of the Company to submit this Agreement to the shareholders of the Company for their approval. The Shareholders Meeting shall not be adjourned or postponed without the prior written consent of Parent. Subject to Section 6.2, (i) the Company will use its reasonable best efforts to solicit from its shareholders proxies in favor of approval of this Agreement and will take all other action necessary or advisable to secure the Company Requisite Vote and (ii) the board of directors of the Company shall recommend such approval and shall take all lawful action to solicit such approval of this Agreement. The Company shall keep Parent updated with respect to proxy solicitation results as reasonably requested by Parent.

6.5. Other Actions; Notification.

(a) Cooperation. Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, the Company and Parent shall cooperate with each other and use (and shall cause their respective Subsidiaries to use) their respective commercially reasonable efforts to take or cause to be taken all actions, and do or cause to be done all things, reasonably necessary, proper or advisable on its part under this Agreement and applicable Laws to consummate and make effective the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement as soon as practicable, including preparing and filing as promptly as practicable all documentation to effect all necessary notices, reports and other filings and to obtain as promptly as practicable all consents, registrations, approvals, permits and authorizations necessary or advisable to be obtained from any third party and/or any Governmental Entity in order to consummate the Merger or any of the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Notwithstanding anything contained in this agreement to the contrary, Parent shall not be required to proffer or accept any Order providing for Parent or any of its Affiliates to (x) sell or otherwise dispose of, or hold separate or agree to sell or otherwise dispose of, any entities, assets, or facilities of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or any entity, facility or asset of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries or any of its or their Affiliates, (y) terminate, amend or assign any existing relationships or contractual rights or obligations, or (z) amend, assign or terminate any existing licenses or other agreements or enter into any new licenses or other agreements.

(b) Information. The Company and Parent each shall, upon request by the other, furnish the other with all information concerning itself, its Subsidiaries, directors, officers and shareholders and such other matters as may be reasonably necessary or advisable in connection with the Proxy Statement and any filing, notice or application made by or on behalf of Parent, the Company or any of their respective Subsidiaries to any Governmental Entity in connection with the Merger and the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(c) Status. Subject to applicable Laws and the instructions of any Governmental Entity, the Company and Parent each shall keep the other apprised of the status of matters relating to completion of the transactions contemplated hereby, including promptly furnishing the other with copies of notices or other communications received by Parent or the Company, as the case may be, or any of its Subsidiaries, from any third party and/or any Governmental Entity, including under the HSR Act, with respect to the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement. The Company shall give prompt notice to Parent of any change, fact or condition that is reasonably likely to result in a Company Material Adverse Effect or of any failure of any condition to Parent's obligations to effect the Merger. Parent shall give prompt notice to the Company of any failure of any condition to the Company's obligations to effect the Merger.

6.6. Access and Reports. Subject to applicable Law, upon reasonable notice, the Company shall (and shall cause its Subsidiaries to) afford Parent's officers, its financing sources and other authorized Representatives of Parent reasonable access, during normal business hours throughout the period prior to the Effective Time, to its employees, properties, books, contracts and records and, during such period, the Company shall (and shall cause its Subsidiaries to) furnish promptly to Parent all information concerning its business, properties and personnel as may reasonably be requested, provided that no investigation pursuant to this Section 6.6 shall affect or be deemed to modify any representation or warranty made by the Company herein, and provided, further, that the foregoing shall not require the Company (i) to permit any inspection, or to disclose any information, that in the reasonable judgment of the Company would result in the disclosure of any trade secrets of third parties or violate any of its obligations with respect to confidentiality or (ii) to disclose any privileged information of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. All requests for information made pursuant to this Section 6.6 shall be directed to the executive officer or other Person designated by the Company. All such information shall be governed by the terms of the Confidentiality Agreement.

6.7. Publicity. The initial press release regarding the Merger shall be a joint press release and thereafter, no press releases or public announcements with respect to the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement and filings with any third party and/or any Governmental Entity (including any national securities exchange or interdealer quotation service) with respect thereto, shall be issued or made by the Company, on the one hand, or the Parent or Merger Sub, on the other hand, without the prior written consent of the Parent or the Company, as the case may be (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed), except as may be required by Law or by obligations pursuant to any listing agreement with or rules of any national securities exchange or interdealer quotation service or by the request of any Government Entity.

6.8. Investigations and Actions. The Company shall keep Parent informed, on a current basis, of any events, discussions, notices or changes with respect to any criminal or regulatory investigation or action involving the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, so that Parent, and its Affiliates will have the opportunity to take appropriate steps to avoid or mitigate any regulatory consequences to them that might arise from such investigation or action.

6.9. Expenses. If the Merger is consummated, the Surviving Corporation shall pay all charges and expenses of the Company, Holdco, Parent, Merger Sub, and the GSCP Members in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. If the Merger is not consummated, except as provided in Section 8.5(c), all costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement and the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall be paid by the party incurring such expense; provided, that, if the Company or Parent terminates this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.2(b) or Parent terminates this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.4 (but with respect to Section 8.4(h) only for a Willful or Deliberate Breach (as defined below) by the Company) the Company shall pay all of Parent's, Merger Sub's and their respective Affiliates' costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement, unless a Termination Fee is payable to Parent by the Company pursuant to Section 8.5(b). For purposes of this Agreement, a "Willful or Deliberate Breach" means a willful or deliberate material breach which does not require malicious or tortuous intent. The provisions of this Section 6.9 are intended to be for the benefit of, and shall be enforceable by Holdco and the GSCP Members in addition to the parties hereto.

6.10. Indemnification; Directors' and Officers' Insurance.

(a) From and after the Effective Time, each of Parent and the Surviving Corporation agrees that it will indemnify and hold harmless, to the fullest extent permitted under applicable Law (and Parent and the Surviving Corporation shall also advance expenses as incurred to the fullest extent permitted under applicable Law provided the Person to whom expenses are advanced provides an undertaking to repay such advances if it is ultimately determined that such Person is not entitled to indemnification), each present and former director, officer and employee of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (collectively, the "Indemnified Parties") against any costs or expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), judgments, fines, losses, claims, damages or liabilities incurred in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, arising out of or pertaining to matters existing or occurring at or prior to the Effective Time, including the transactions contemplated by this Agreement; provided, however, that the Surviving Corporation shall not indemnify any director, officer or employee for any liability for (i) receipt of a financial benefit to which such Indemnified Party is not entitled; (ii) an intentional infliction of harm on the Company or its shareholders; (iii) in the case of a director, a distribution in violation of Section 31D-8-833 of the WVBCA; or (iv) an intentional violation of criminal Law.

(b) Any Indemnified Party wishing to claim indemnification under paragraph (a) of this Section 6.10, upon learning of any such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, shall promptly notify Parent thereof, but the failure to so notify shall not relieve Parent or the Surviving Corporation of any liability it may have to such Indemnified Party except to the extent such failure materially prejudices the indemnifying party. In the event of any such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation (whether arising before or after the Effective Time), (i) Parent or the Surviving Corporation shall have the right to assume the defense thereof and Parent and the Surviving Corporation shall not be liable to such Indemnified Parties for any legal expenses of other counsel or any other expenses subsequently incurred by such Indemnified Parties in connection with the defense thereof, except that if Parent or the Surviving Corporation elects not to assume such defense or counsel for the Indemnified Parties advises that there are issues which raise conflicts of interest between Parent or the Surviving Corporation and the Indemnified Parties, the Indemnified Parties may retain counsel satisfactory to them, and Parent or the Surviving Corporation shall pay all reasonable fees and expenses of such counsel for the Indemnified Parties promptly as statements therefor are received; provided, however, that Parent and the Surviving Corporation shall be obligated pursuant to this paragraph (b) to pay for only one firm of counsel for all Indemnified Parties in any jurisdiction unless the use of one counsel for such Indemnified Parties would present such counsel with a conflict of interest; provided that the fewest number of counsels necessary to avoid conflicts of interest shall be used; (ii) the Indemnified Parties will cooperate in the defense of any such matter; and (iii) Parent and the Surviving Corporation shall not be liable for any settlement effected without Parent's or the Surviving Corporation's, as applicable, prior written consent; and provided, further, that Parent and the Surviving Corporation shall not have any obligation hereunder to any Indemnified Party if and when a court of competent jurisdiction shall ultimately determine, and such determination shall have become final, that the indemnification of such Indemnified Party in the manner contemplated hereby is prohibited by applicable Law. If such indemnity is not available with respect to any Indemnified Party, then Parent and the Surviving Corporation and the Indemnified Party shall contribute to the amount payable in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect relative faults and benefits.

(c) Prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall obtain and fully pay for "tail" insurance policies with a claims period of at least six years from and after the Effective Time from an insurance carrier with the same or better credit rating as the Company's current insurance carrier with respect to directors' and officers' liability insurance and fiduciary liability insurance with benefits and levels of coverage at least as favorable as the Company's existing policies with respect to matters existing or occurring at or prior to the Effective Time (including in connection with this Agreement or the transactions or actions contemplated hereby); provided, however, that in no event shall Parent or the Surviving Corporation be required to expend for such policies an annual premium amount in excess of 200% of the annual premiums currently paid by the Company for such insurance; and provided, further, that if the annual premiums of such insurance coverage exceed such amount, Parent or the Surviving Corporation shall obtain a policy with the greatest coverage available for a cost not exceeding such amount.

(d) If Parent or the Surviving Corporation or any of their respective successors or assigns (i) shall consolidate with or merge into any other corporation or entity and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) shall transfer all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any individual, corporation or other entity, then, and in each such case, proper provisions shall be made so that the successors and assigns of Parent or the Surviving Corporation shall assume all of the obligations set forth in this Section 6.10.

(e) The provisions of this Section 6.10 are intended to be for the benefit of, and shall be enforceable by, each of the Indemnified Parties.

(f) The rights of the Indemnified Parties under this Section 6.10 shall be in addition to any rights such Indemnified Parties may have under the articles of incorporation or by-laws of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or under any applicable Contracts or Laws.

6.11. Takeover Statutes. If any Takeover Statute is or may become applicable to the Merger or the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement, the Company and its board of directors shall grant such approvals and take such actions as are necessary so that such transactions may be consummated as promptly as practicable on the terms contemplated by this Agreement and otherwise act to eliminate or minimize the effects of such statute or regulation on such transactions.

6.12. Financing.

(a) Parent shall use its reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable to arrange the Debt Financing on the terms and conditions described in the Debt Financing Commitment (provided that Parent and Merger Sub may replace or amend the Debt Financing Commitment to add lenders, lead arrangers, bookrunners, syndication agents or similar entities which had not executed the Debt Financing Commitment as of the date hereof, or otherwise so long as the terms would not materially adversely impact the ability of Parent or Merger Sub to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby or the likelihood of consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby), including using reasonable best efforts to (i) maintain in effect the Debt Financing Commitment, (ii) satisfy on a timely basis all conditions applicable to Parent and Merger Sub to obtaining the Debt Financing set forth in the Debt Financing Commitment (including by consummating the equity financing pursuant to the terms of the Equity Financing Commitments), (iii) enter into definitive agreements with respect thereto on the terms and conditions contemplated by the Financing Commitments or on other terms that would not adversely impact the ability or likelihood of Parent or Merger Sub to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby and (iv) consummate the Financing at or prior to the Closing. If any portion of the Debt Financing becomes unavailable on the terms and conditions contemplated in the Debt Financing Commitment, Parent shall use its reasonable best efforts to arrange to obtain alternative financing from alternative sources in an amount sufficient to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement as promptly as practicable following the occurrence of such event; provided, that such alternative financing shall be on terms and conditions materially no less favorable than those provided in the Debt Financing Commitment, or otherwise on terms and conditions acceptable to Parent. Parent shall give the Company prompt notice of any material breach by any party to the Financing Commitments, of which Parent or Merger Sub becomes aware, or any termination of the Financing Commitments. Parent shall keep the Company informed on a reasonably current basis in reasonable detail of the status of its efforts to arrange the Debt Financing and provide copies of all documents related to the Debt Financing (other than any fee letters and ancillary documents subject to confidentiality agreements) to the Company. The Company hereby consents to the use of its and its Subsidiaries' names and logos in connection with the Debt Financing.

(b) Prior to the Closing, the Company shall provide to Parent and Merger Sub, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to, and shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause the respective officers, employees and advisors, including legal and accounting, of the Company and its Subsidiaries to, provide to Parent and Merger Sub all cooperation reasonably requested by Parent that is necessary in connection with the Financing, including using reasonable best efforts to (i) participate in meetings, presentations, road shows, due diligence sessions and sessions with rating agencies, (ii) provide assistance in preparation of confidential information memoranda (including execution and delivery of a customary representation letter) and other materials to be used in connection with obtaining financing contemplated by the Debt Financing Commitment and all information (including financial information) customarily contained therein, (iii) provide assistance in the preparation for, and participate in, meetings, due diligence sessions and similar presentations to and with, among others, prospective lenders, investors and rating agencies, (iv) enter into a loan agreement and related documents (including pledge and security documents), (v) execute and deliver customary certificates, legal opinions or other documents reasonably requested by Parent (including a certificate of the chief financial officer of the Company with respect to solvency matters) and otherwise reasonably facilitate the pledging of collateral contemplated by the Debt Financing Commitment (including taking all actions reasonably necessary to (A) permit the prospective lenders involved in the Financing to evaluate the Company's current assets, cash management and accounting systems, policies and procedures relating thereto for the purpose of establishing collateral arrangements and to conduct the appraisals and field examinations relating thereto as contemplated by the Debt Financing Commitment and (B) establish bank and other accounts and blocked account agreements and lock box arrangements in connection with the foregoing) and (vi) provide the financial statements and other information necessary for the satisfaction of the obligations and conditions set forth in the Debt Financing Commitment within the time periods required thereby in order to permit a Closing Date on or prior to the Termination Date; provided, however, that nothing herein shall require such cooperation to the extent it would interfere unreasonably with the business or operations of the Company or its Subsidiaries. The Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to obtain pay-off letters, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Parent, from holders of all indebtedness of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries as set forth in Section 7.2(g) of the Company Disclosure Letter and to ensure that each such pay-off letter will provide for the waiver of any notice provisions relating thereto. The Company and its Subsidiaries shall not pay or agree to pay any amounts in excess of all principal and accrued interest, if any, outstanding thereon as of the Closing in respect of such indebtedness in connection with obtaining such pay-off letters and waivers without the prior written consent of Parent (which shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed). If this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 8.1 or 8.3(b) (but with respect to Section 8.3(b) only for a Willful or Deliberate Breach by Parent or Merger Sub) Parent shall, promptly upon request by the Company, reimburse the Company for all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket costs incurred by the Company or its Subsidiaries in connection with such cooperation.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth in this Agreement or in the Debt Financing Commitment, the Company and Parent agree that Parent shall have the right, in its sole discretion, to determine the aggregate principal amount of funded debt to be incurred at Closing to finance the transactions contemplated hereby (the "Aggregate Closing Funded Debt"). If at any time prior to February 23, 2007, Parent determines, in its sole discretion, that the Aggregate Closing Funded Debt shall be an aggregate principal amount less than $600,000,000, Parent shall notify the Company in writing of such determination, which notice shall specify the Aggregate Closing Funded Debt Parent has determined will be incurred at Closing. The Company shall have seventy-two (72) hours after receipt of such notice to advise Parent in writing whether or not the Company elects to waive irrevocably the condition set forth in Section 7.3(c) hereof by reason of such determination by Parent. If the Company fails to respond to such notice or does not elect in writing to waive such condition prior to the end of such seventy-two (72) hour period, Parent shall have the right, in its sole discretion, to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.4(i) at any time on or prior to the Termination Date. Parent may exercise its right under this Section 6.12(c) to determine Aggregate Closing Funded Debt on one or more occasions so long as it complies with its notice requirements each time it exercises such right.

6.13. Non-Core Assets. The Surviving Corporation agrees that promptly following the Effective Time it will use commercially reasonable efforts to sell for cash the assets listed on Annex G (all such assets, the "Non-Core Assets"). The Surviving Corporation agrees, subject to complying with applicable Laws and regulatory requirements (including those applicable to Holdco and its Affiliates) to sell the Non-Core Assets (other than the shares of common stock of PrimeEnergy Corporation) only after consultation with H.B. Wehrle III and E. Gaines Wehrle. With respect to the sale of shares of common stock of PrimeEnergy Corporation, prior to December 31, 2008, the Surviving Corporation shall sell such shares only with the prior written consent of E. Gaines Wehrle (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed). Following the sale of any Non-Core Assets, the Surviving Corporation shall promptly remit to the record holders of Shares immediately prior to the Effective Time (other than Excluded Shares referred to in subsection (x) and (z) of the definition of Excluded Shares in Section 4.1(a)(i)) (the "Cashed-Out Shares") an amount per Share equal to (x) 95% of the Net Proceeds (as defined below) of such sale less 40% of the taxable gain therefrom divided by (y) the total number of Cashed-Out Shares outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time; provided, that the Surviving Corporation shall not be required to make payments pursuant to this Section 6.13 more often than semi-annually. For purposes of this Agreement "Net Proceeds" means the cash proceeds received in the sale of a Non-Core Asset less all costs, charges, fees, expenses, losses, liabilities, obligations, claims, fines, Transfer Taxes and other Taxes (other than Taxes measured by income), and penalties or interest paid or payable with respect to the sale of such Non-Core Asset or to the holding of such Non-Core Asset by the Surviving Corporation (including, without limitation, attorneys', brokers', accountants', consultants' and appraisers' fees and amounts paid or payable with respect to any investigation or remediation in connection with any Hazardous Substances at, on, under or migrating to or from any property being sold).

ARTICLE VII

Conditions

7.1. Conditions to Each Party's Obligation to Effect the Merger. The respective obligation of each party to effect the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement is subject to the satisfaction or waiver at or prior to the Effective Time of each of the following conditions:

(a) Shareholder Approval. This Agreement shall have been duly approved by holders of Shares constituting the Company Requisite Vote in accordance with applicable law and the articles of incorporation and by-laws of each such corporation.

(b) HSR Waiting Period. The waiting period applicable to the consummation of the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement under the HSR Act shall have expired or been terminated.

(c) Litigation. No court or other Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any Law (whether temporary, preliminary or permanent) that is in effect and restrains, enjoins or otherwise prohibits consummation of the Merger or the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement (collectively, an "Order").

7.2. Conditions to Obligations of Parent and Merger Sub. The obligations of Parent and Merger Sub to effect the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement are also subject to the satisfaction or waiver by Parent at or prior to the Effective Time of each of the following conditions:

(a) Representations and Warranties. (i) The representations and warranties of the Company set forth in this Agreement (other than those in Section

5.1(b)) shall be true and correct as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing Date (without giving effect to any "material", "materiality", "Company Material Adverse Effect" or "knowledge" qualification to such representations and warranties), except (A) to the extent that the failure of such representations and warranties of the Company to be true and correct, individually or in the aggregate, has not had, and is not reasonably likely to have, a Company Material Adverse Effect and (B) for those representations and warranties which expressly relate to an earlier date (in which case such representations and warranties shall have been true and correct as of such earlier date); (ii) the representations and warranties set forth in Section 5.1(b) shall be true and correct in all respects as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing Date; and (iii) Parent shall have received at the Closing a certificate signed on behalf of the Company by an executive officer of the Company to the effect that such executive officer has read this Section 7.2(a) and the conditions set forth in this Section 7.2(a) have been satisfied.

(b) Performance of Obligations of the Company. The Company shall have performed in all material respects all obligations required to be performed by it under this Agreement at or prior to the Closing Date, and Parent shall have received a certificate signed on behalf of the Company by an executive officer of the Company to such effect.

(c) No Restraints. There shall not be instituted or pending any suit, action or proceeding in which a Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction is seeking (i) an Order or (ii) (A) to prohibit, limit, restrain or impair Parent's ability to own or operate or to retain or change all or a material portion of the assets, licenses, operations, rights, product lines, businesses or interest therein of the Company or its Subsidiaries or other Affiliates from and after the Effective Time (including, without limitation, by requiring any sale, divestiture, transfer, license, lease, disposition of or encumbrance or hold separate arrangement with respect to any such assets, licenses, operations, rights, product lines, businesses or interest therein) or (B) to prohibit or limit Parent's ability to vote, transfer, receive dividends or otherwise exercise full ownership rights with respect to the stock of the Surviving Corporation, and no Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any Law deemed applicable to the Merger individually or in the aggregate resulting in, or that is reasonably likely to result in, any of the foregoing.

(d) Consents Under Agreements. The Company shall have obtained and delivered to Parent, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Parent, all consents and approvals specified in Section 7.2(d) of the Company Disclosure Letter.

(e) Financing. Parent shall have received the proceeds of the Debt Financing on the terms and conditions set forth in the Debt Financing Commitment, or the proceeds of any alternative debt financing as contemplated by Section 6.12(a).

(f) Material Adverse Effect. No event, development, circumstance or occurrence shall have occurred, since the date of this Agreement that, individually or in the aggregate, has had or is reasonably likely to have a Company Material Adverse Effect.

(g) Pay-Off Letters. The Company shall have received pay-off letters, in a form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Parent, from holders of all indebtedness of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries as set forth in Section 7.2(g) of the Company Disclosure Letter and each such pay-off letter shall provide for the waiver of any notice provisions relating thereto. The Company and its Subsidiaries shall not have paid or agreed to pay any amounts in excess of all principal and accrued interest, if any, outstanding thereon as of the Closing in respect of such indebtedness in connection with obtaining such pay-off letters and waivers without the prior written consent of Parent (which shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed).

(h) Other Agreements. The Employment Agreements, the Holdco LLC Agreement, the Vision Letter Agreement and the Registration Rights Agreement shall be in full force and effect.

(i) McApple Restructuring. The transactions contemplated by the McApple Agreement shall have been consummated, each McApple Shareholder shall have contributed to Holdco all McApple Shares held by him in exchange for Holdco Units and cash pursuant to the McApple Agreement, and Holdco shall own directly or indirectly 100% of the equity interests of McApple.

(j) Continuing Shareholders. Each Continuing Shareholder shall have contributed to Holdco all Contribution Shares held by him, her or it in exchange for Holdco Units pursuant to the Contribution Agreement and the Letters of Transmittal.

(k) Dissenting Shareholders. Dissenting Shareholders holding not more than 5% of the Shares shall have demanded and perfected appraisal of such Shares in accordance with the WVBCA.

(l) Withholding Certificate. Parent shall have received a certificate from the Company, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Parent, conforming to the requirements of Treasury Regulation Sections 1.1445-2(c)(3) and 1.897-2(h).

(m) PrimeEnergy Resignation. E. Gaines Wehrle shall have resigned from the board of directors of PrimeEnergy Corporation, with effect on or prior to the Closing Date.

7.3. Conditions to Obligation of the Company. The obligation of the Company to effect the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement is also subject to the satisfaction or waiver by the Company at or prior to the Effective Time of each of the following conditions:

(a) Representations and Warranties. (i) The representations and warranties of Parent set forth in this Agreement shall be true and correct as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing Date (without giving effect to any "material," "materiality" or "material adverse effect" qualifications to such representations and warranties), except (A) to the extent that the failure of such representations and warranties of Parent to be true and correct individually or in the aggregate would not have, or reasonably be likely to have, a material adverse effect on Parent, and (B) for those representations and warranties which expressly relate to any earlier date (in which case such representations and warranties shall have been true and correct as of such earlier date) and (ii) the Company shall have received at the Closing a certificate signed on behalf of Parent by an executive officer of Parent to the effect that such executive officer has read this Section 7.3(a) and the conditions set forth in this Section 7.3(a) have been satisfied.

(b) Performance of Obligations of Parent and Merger Sub. Each of Parent and Merger Sub shall have performed in all material respects all obligations required to be performed by it under this Agreement at or prior to the Closing Date, and the Company shall have received a certificate signed on behalf of Parent and Merger Sub by an executive officer of Parent to such effect.

(c) Aggregate Closing Funded Debt. The Aggregate Closing Funded Debt shall be not be less than $600,000,000.

ARTICLE VIII

Termination

8.1. Termination by Mutual Consent. This Agreement may be terminated and the Merger may be abandoned at any time prior to the Effective Time, whether before or after the Company Requisite Vote is obtained, by mutual written consent of the Company and Parent by action of their respective boards of directors.

8.2. Termination by Either the Company or Parent. This Agreement may be terminated and the Merger may be abandoned at any time prior to the Effective Time by action of the board of directors of the Company or Parent if (a) the Merger shall not have been consummated by the Termination Date (as defined below) whether such date is before or after the Company Requisite Vote is obtained, (b) the Company Requisite Vote shall not have been obtained at the Shareholders Meeting or at any adjournment or postponement thereof permitted hereunder; provided, however that the Company shall not be permitted to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 8.2(b) until after the Tender Offer Commencement Period (as defined in Section 8.6) and then only if Parent, Merger Sub and their respective Affiliates have not commenced a Tender Offer (as defined in Section 8.6) during the Tender Offer Commencement Period, or (c) any Order permanently restraining, enjoining or otherwise prohibiting consummation of the Merger shall become final and non-appealable (whether before or after the Company Requisite Vote is obtained); provided, that, in each of the foregoing cases, the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 8.2 shall not be available to any party that is responsible for a Willful or Deliberate Breach of its obligations under this Agreement in any manner that shall have proximately contributed to the occurrence of the failure of a condition to the consummation of the Merger. For purposes of this Agreement, the "Termination Date" shall mean February 28, 2007 as such date may be extended pursuant to Section 8.6.

8.3. Termination by the Company. This Agreement may be terminated and the Merger may be abandoned by action of the board of directors of the Company:

(a) at any time prior to the time, but not after, the Company Requisite Vote is obtained, in connection with entering into a definitive agreement to effect a Superior Proposal in accordance with Section 6.2(c); provided, however, that prior to terminating this Agreement pursuant to this Section 8.3(a), the Company shall have complied with the provisions of Section 6.2(c); or

(b) at any time prior to the Effective Time, if there has been a breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement made by Parent or Merger Sub in this Agreement, or any such representation and warranty shall have become untrue after the date of this Agreement, such that Section 7.3(a) or 7.3(b) would not be satisfied and such breach or condition is not curable or, if curable, is not cured prior to the earlier of (A) 30 days after written notice thereof is given by the Company to Parent or (B) two business days prior to the Termination Date.

8.4. Termination by Parent. This Agreement may be terminated and the Merger may be abandoned at any time prior to the Effective Time by action of the board of directors of Parent if (a) the board of directors of the Company shall have made a Change of Recommendation, (b) the Company shall have failed to take a vote of shareholders on approval of this Agreement within twenty-one (21) days following the date on which the Proxy Statement is mailed to shareholders of the Company, (c) the Company or its board of directors (or any committee thereof) shall have (x) publicly approved or recommended, or shall have proposed to approve or recommend any Acquisition Proposal or (y) caused or permitted the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to enter into an Alternative Acquisition Agreement, (d) the Company shall have failed to include in the Proxy Statement the Company Recommendation, (e) the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or their respective Representatives shall have breached in any material respect any of their obligations under Section 6.2, (f) at any time after the end of ten (10) business days following receipt of an Acquisition Proposal, the Company board of directors shall have failed to reaffirm its approval or recommendation of this Agreement and the Merger as promptly as practicable (but in any event within five (5) business days) after receipt of any written request to do so from Parent, (g) a tender offer or exchange offer for outstanding Shares shall have been publicly disclosed (other than by Parent or an Affiliate of Parent) and the board of directors of the Company recommends that the shareholders of the Company tender their shares in such tender or exchange offer or, within ten (10) business days after the commencement of such tender or exchange offer, the Company board of directors fails to recommend unequivocally against acceptance of such offer, (h) there has been a breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement made by the Company in this Agreement, or any such representation and warranty shall have become untrue after the date of this Agreement, such that Section 7.2(a) or 7.2(b) would not be satisfied and such breach or condition is not curable or, if curable, is not cured prior to the earlier of (A) 30 days after written notice thereof is given by Parent to the Company or (B) two business days prior to the Termination Date, or (i) Parent delivers to the Company a notice in accordance with Section 6.12(c) advising the Company that the Aggregate Closing Funded Debt will be less than $600,000,000 and the Company shall have failed to waive irrevocably the condition set forth in Section 7.3(c) within the seventy-two (72) hour period referred to in Section 6.12(c).

8.5. Effect of Termination and Abandonment. (a) Subject to Sections 8.5(b), 8.5(c) and 9.1, in the event of termination of this Agreement and the abandonment of the Merger pursuant to this Article VIII, this Agreement shall become void and of no effect with no liability to any Person on the part of any party hereto (or of any of its Representatives or Affiliates); provided, however, and notwithstanding anything in the foregoing to the contrary, that except as otherwise provided herein, no such termination shall relieve any party hereto of any liability or damages to the other party hereto resulting from any Willful or Deliberate Breach of this Agreement.

(b) In the event that (i) this Agreement is terminated by either Parent or the Company pursuant to Section 8.2(a) or 8.2(b) and prior to such termination a bona fide Acquisition Proposal shall have been made to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or Affiliates or any of its shareholders, or any Person shall have publicly announced an intention (whether or not conditional) to make an Acquisition Proposal with respect to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (and such Acquisition Proposal or publicly announced intention shall not have been publicly withdrawn without qualification), (ii) this Agreement is terminated by Parent pursuant to Sections 8.4(a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f) or (g), (iii) this Agreement is terminated by Parent pursuant to Section 8.4(h) (with respect to a Willful or Deliberate Breach) and prior to the breach giving rise to Parent's right to terminate pursuant to Section 8.4(h) a bona fide Acquisition Proposal shall have been made to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or Affiliates, or any of its shareholders or any Person shall have publicly announced an intention (whether or not conditional) to make an Acquisition Proposal with respect to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (and such Acquisition Proposal or publicly announced intention shall not have been publicly withdrawn without qualification), or (iv) this Agreement is terminated by the Company pursuant to Section 8.3(a), then the Company shall promptly, but in no event later than two business days after the date of such termination, pay Parent a termination fee of $50,000,000 (the "Termination Fee") by wire transfer of immediately available funds; provided, however, that no Termination Fee shall be payable to Parent pursuant to clause (i) of this paragraph (b) unless and until within 12 months of such termination the Company or any of its Subsidiaries shall have entered into an Alternative Acquisition Agreement with respect to, or shall have consummated or shall have approved or recommended to the Company's shareholders or otherwise not opposed, an Acquisition Proposal (substituting, for purposes of this proviso only, 50% for 15% in the definition thereof). Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, subject to Section 8.5(c), the parties hereby acknowledge that in the event that the Termination Fee becomes payable and is paid by the Company and accepted by Parent pursuant to this Section 8.5(b), the Termination Fee shall be Parent's and Merger Sub's sole and exclusive remedy for damages under this Agreement and, for the avoidance of doubt, in such circumstance no costs or expenses shall be payable by the Company pursuant to Section 6.9.

(c) The parties acknowledge that the agreements contained in this Section 8.5 and in Section 6.9 are an integral part of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, and that, without these agreements, the parties would not enter into this Agreement; accordingly, if the Company fails to promptly pay the Termination Fee pursuant to Section 8.5(b) or any expenses pursuant to Section 6.9, and, in order to obtain such payment, Parent or Merger Sub commences a suit that results in a judgment against the Company for the Termination Fee set forth in Section 8.5(b) or expenses pursuant to Section 6.9, the Company shall pay to Parent or Merger Sub its costs and expenses (including attorneys' fees) in connection with such suit, together with interest on the amount of the fee at the prime rate of Citibank N.A. in effect on the date such payment was required to be made through the date of payment (it being understood and agreed that any costs and expenses paid by the Company pursuant to this Section 8.5(c) shall be in addition to any costs and expenses otherwise paid by the Company pursuant to Section 6.9).

8.6. Tender Offer. If the Company Requisite Vote shall not have been obtained at the Shareholders Meeting or any adjournment or postponement thereof permitted hereunder, then Parent, Merger Sub or any of their Affiliates may at any time, during the fifteen (15) business day period beginning the business day after date of the Shareholder Meeting or any adjournment or postponement thereof permitted hereunder (the "Tender Offer Commencement Period"), elect to commence a tender offer for 83.958% of the Shares held by each shareholder of the Company (a "Tender Offer"). Such Tender Offer and the consummation thereof shall be subject to all of the terms and conditions of this Agreement and will be conducted pursuant to applicable Law. In the event that Parent, Merger Sub or any of their Affiliates elect to commence a Tender Offer, the "Termination Date" hereunder shall be automatically amended without any action of the parties hereto to be the later of (x) March 31, 2007 and (y) the date that is sixty (60) days after the date of commencement of the Tender Offer. If a Tender Offer is commenced, (i) the Company shall cooperate with Parent, Merger Sub and their Affiliates in connection with the Tender Offer (including by executing any agreements and other documents at the reasonable request of Parent, Merger Sub or any of their Affiliates) and shall provide Parent, Merger Sub and their Affiliates with all information reasonably requested by Parent, Merger Sub or any of their Affiliates in connection with the Tender Offer and (ii) the board of directors of the Company shall recommend that the shareholders of the Company tender their Shares into the Tender Offer.

ARTICLE IX

Miscellaneous and General

9.1. Survival. This Article IX and the agreements of the Company, Parent and Merger Sub contained in Article IV and Sections 6.9 (Expenses), 6.10 (Indemnification; Directors' and Officers' Insurance) and Section 6.13 (Non-Core Assets), and any related definitions, shall survive the consummation of the Merger. This Article IX and the agreements of the Company, Parent and Merger Sub contained in Section 6.9 (Expenses) and Section 8.5 (Effect of Termination and Abandonment) and the Confidentiality Agreement (as defined in Section 9.7) shall survive the termination of this Agreement. All other representations, warranties, covenants and agreements in this Agreement shall not survive the consummation of the Merger or the termination of this Agreement.

9.2. Modification or Amendment. Subject to the provisions of the applicable Laws, at any time prior to the Effective Time, the parties hereto may modify or amend this Agreement, by written agreement executed and delivered by duly authorized officers of the respective parties; provided that this Agreement may not be modified or amended subsequent to the Company Requisite Vote, but prior to the filing of the West Virginia Articles of Merger with the Secretary of State of West Virginia as provided in Section 1.3 to change (i) the Per Share Merger Consideration, (ii) the Articles or (iii) any other term or condition if, in each such case, the change in such other term or condition would adversely affect the holders of Shares in any material respect.

9.3. Waiver of Conditions. The conditions to each of the parties' obligations to consummate the Merger are for the sole benefit of such party and may be waived by such party in whole or in part to the extent permitted by applicable Laws.

9.4. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each such counterpart being deemed to be an original instrument, and all such counterparts shall together constitute the same agreement.

9.5. GOVERNING LAW AND VENUE; WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL; SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

(a) THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE DEEMED TO BE MADE IN AND IN ALL RESPECTS SHALL BE INTERPRETED, CONSTRUED AND GOVERNED BY AND IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAW OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE WITHOUT REGARD TO THE CONFLICTS OF LAW PRINCIPLES THEREOF, EXCEPT TO THE EXTENT THE LAWS OF WEST VIRGINIA LAW ARE MANDATORILY APPLICABLE TO THE MERGER. The parties hereby irrevocably submit to the personal jurisdiction of the courts of the State of Delaware located in the County of New Castle and the Federal courts of the United States of America located in the County of New Castle solely in respect of the interpretation and

enforcement of the provisions of this Agreement and of the documents referred to in this Agreement, and in respect of the transactions contemplated hereby, and hereby waive, and agree not to assert, as a defense in any action, suit or proceeding for the interpretation or enforcement hereof or of any such document, that it is not subject thereto or that such action, suit or proceeding may not be brought or is not maintainable in said courts or that the venue thereof may not be appropriate or that this Agreement or any such document may not be enforced in or by such courts, and the parties hereto irrevocably agree that all claims with respect to such action or proceeding shall be heard and determined in such a Delaware State or Federal court located in the County of New Castle. The parties hereby consent to and grant any such court jurisdiction over the person of such parties and, to the extent permitted by law, over the subject matter of such dispute and agree that mailing of process or other papers in connection with any such action or proceeding in the manner provided in Section 9.6 or in such other manner as may be permitted by law shall be valid and sufficient service thereof.

(b) EACH PARTY ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY CONTROVERSY WHICH MAY ARISE UNDER THIS AGREEMENT IS LIKELY TO INVOLVE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT ISSUES, AND THEREFORE EACH SUCH PARTY HEREBY IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT SUCH PARTY MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LITIGATION DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT, OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED BY THIS AGREEMENT. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (i) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (ii) EACH PARTY UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF THIS WAIVER, (iii) EACH PARTY MAKES THIS WAIVER VOLUNTARILY, AND (iv) EACH PARTY HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 9.5.

(c) The parties agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that (i) Parent and Merger Sub shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement by the Company and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in Delaware State or Federal court in the County of New Castle, this being in addition to any other remedy to which Parent and Merger Sub are entitled at law or in equity and (ii) notwithstanding the first sentence of this Section 9.5(c), the Company shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement by Parent or Merger Sub and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in Delaware State or Federal court in the County of New Castle, this being in addition to any other remedy to which the Company is entitled at law or in equity, but the Company shall be entitled to such injunction or injunctions solely to prevent breaches of or to enforce compliance with (x) Sections 6.5, 6.7, 6.9, 6.10 and 6.13 and (y) those covenants of Parent or Merger Sub contained in Sections 4.1 and 4.2, only if the proceeds of the financing provided for in the Debt Financing Commitment (and, if alternative debt financing is being used in accordance with Section 6.12, the proceeds of the financing contemplated by such alternative debt financing) are available to be drawn down by Parent pursuant to the terms of the applicable agreements but is not so drawn down solely as a result of Parent refusing to do so in breach of this Agreement.

9.6. Notices. Any notice, request, instruction or other document to be given hereunder by any party to the others shall be in writing and delivered personally or sent by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, or by facsimile:

document given as provided above shall be deemed given to the receiving party upon actual receipt, if delivered personally; three business days after deposit in the mail, if sent by registered or certified mail; upon confirmation of successful transmission, if sent by facsimile (provided that if given by facsimile such notice, request, instruction or other document shall be followed up within one business day by dispatch pursuant to one of the other methods described herein); or on the next business day after deposit with an overnight courier, if sent by an overnight courier.

9.7. Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including any annexes hereto), the Shareholder Support Agreement, the Company Disclosure Letter, the Confidentiality Agreement, dated May 9, 2006, between Affiliates of Parent and the Company (the "Confidentiality Agreement") and the other agreements referred to or contemplated hereby constitute the entire agreement, and supersede all other prior agreements, understandings, representations and warranties both written and oral, among the parties, with respect to the subject matter hereof. EACH PARTY HERETO AGREES THAT, EXCEPT FOR THE REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES CONTAINED IN THIS AGREEMENT, NEITHER THE COMPANY NOR PARENT AND MERGER SUB MAKES ANY OTHER REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES, AND EACH HEREBY DISCLAIMS ANY OTHER REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING AS TO THE ACCURACY OR COMPLETENESS OF ANY OTHER INFORMATION, MADE BY, OR MADE AVAILABLE BY, ITSELF OR ANY OF ITS REPRESENTATIVES, WITH RESPECT TO, OR IN CONNECTION WITH, THE NEGOTIATION, EXECUTION OR DELIVERY OF THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY, NOTWITHSTANDING THE DELIVERY OR DISCLOSURE TO THE OTHER OR THE OTHER'S REPRESENTATIVES OF ANY DOCUMENTATION OR OTHER INFORMATION WITH RESPECT TO ANY ONE OR MORE OF THE FOREGOING.

9.8. No Third Party Beneficiaries. Except as provided in Section 6.9 (Expenses) and Section 6.10 (Indemnification; Directors' and Officers' Insurance) only, Parent and the Company hereby agree that their respective representations, warranties and covenants set forth herein are solely for the benefit of the other party hereto, in accordance with and subject to the terms of this Agreement, and this Agreement is not intended to, and does not, confer upon any Person other than the parties hereto any rights or remedies hereunder, including, without limitation, the right to rely upon the representations and warranties set forth herein. The parties hereto further agree that the rights of third party beneficiaries under Section 6.10 shall not arise unless and until the Effective Time occurs. The representations and warranties in this Agreement are the product of negotiations among the parties hereto and are for the sole benefit of the parties hereto. Any inaccuracies in such representations and warranties are subject to waiver by the parties hereto in accordance with Section 9.3 without notice or liability to any other Person. In some instances, the representations and warranties in this Agreement may represent an allocation among the parties hereto of risks associated with particular matters regardless of the knowledge of any of the parties hereto. Consequently, Persons other than the parties hereto may not rely upon the representations and warranties in this Agreement as characterizations of actual facts or circumstances as of the date of this Agreement or as of any other date.

9.9. Obligations of Parent and of the Company. Whenever this Agreement requires a Subsidiary of Parent to take any action, such requirement shall be deemed to include an undertaking on the part of Parent to cause such Subsidiary to take such action. Whenever this Agreement requires a Subsidiary of the Company to take any action, such requirement shall be deemed to include an undertaking on the part of the Company to cause such Subsidiary to take such action and, after the Effective Time, on the part of the Surviving Corporation to cause such Subsidiary to take such action.

9.10. Transfer Taxes. All transfer, documentary, sales, use, stamp, registration and other similar Taxes (including penalties and interest) ("Transfer Taxes") of the Company incurred in connection with the Merger (excluding Transfer Taxes incurred in connection with the sale of any Non-Core Assets pursuant to Section 6.13) shall be paid by the Surviving Corporation when due.

9.11. Definitions. Each of the terms set forth in Annex A is defined in the Section of this Agreement set forth opposite such term.

9.12. Severability. The provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed severable and the invalidity or unenforceability of any provision shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the other provisions hereof. If any provision of this Agreement, or the application thereof to any Person or any circumstance, is invalid or unenforceable, (a) a suitable and equitable provision shall be substituted therefor in order to carry out, so far as may be valid and enforceable, the intent and purpose of such invalid or unenforceable provision and (b) the remainder of this Agreement and the application of such provision to other Persons or circumstances shall not be affected by such invalidity or unenforceability, nor shall such invalidity or unenforceability affect the validity or enforceability of such provision, or the application thereof, in any other jurisdiction.

9.13. Interpretation; Construction.

(a) The table of contents and headings herein are for convenience of reference only, do not constitute part of this Agreement and shall not be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any of the provisions hereof. Where a reference in this Agreement is made to a Section or Annex, such reference shall be to a Section of or Annex to this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. Whenever the words "include," "includes" or "including" are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words "without limitation."

(b) The parties have participated jointly in negotiating and drafting this Agreement. In the event that an ambiguity or a question of intent or interpretation arises, this Agreement shall be construed as if drafted jointly by the parties, and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favoring or disfavoring any party by virtue of the authorship of any provision of this Agreement.

(c) Each party hereto has or may have set forth information in its respective disclosure letter in a section thereof that corresponds to the section of this Agreement to which it relates. The fact that any item of information is disclosed in a disclosure letter to this Agreement shall not be construed to mean that such information is required to be disclosed by this Agreement.

9.14. Assignment. This Agreement shall not be assignable by operation of law or otherwise. Any purported assignment in violation of this Agreement is void; provided, however, that Parent and/or Merger Sub may, without prior written consent of the other parties hereto, (i) assign any or all of its rights hereunder to one or more of its Affiliates, (ii) designate one or more of its Affiliates to perform its obligations hereunder and (iii) assign its rights, but not its obligations, under this Agreement to any of its or its Affiliates' financing sources (in any or all of which cases Parent nonetheless shall remain responsible for the performance of all of its obligations hereunder).

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, this Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the duly authorized officers of the parties hereto as of the date first written above.

McJUNKIN CONTRIBUTION AGREEMENT

CONTRIBUTION AGREEMENT, dated as of December 4, 2006 (the "Agreement"), among McJunkin Corporation, a West Virginia corporation (the "Company"), McJ Holding LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Holdco"), the shareholders of the Company named in Exhibit A hereto and any other shareholders of the Company who becomes a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering a Letter of Transmittal (defined below) to the Company prior to the Effective Time (as defined in the Merger Agreement) (collectively, the "Contributing Shareholders").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, simultaneously with the execution and delivery of this Agreement, each Contributing Shareholder is executing and delivering a limited liability company operating agreement (the "Holdco LLC Agreement") and a registration rights agreement (the "Registration Rights Agreement") relating to membership interests in Holdco to be received pursuant to this Agreement;

WHEREAS, simultaneously with the execution and delivery of this Agreement, the Company is executing and delivering an agreement and plan of merger (the "Merger Agreement") with McJ Holding Corporation, a Delaware corporation and wholly owned subsidiary of Holdco ("Parent") and Hg Acquisition Corp., a West Virginia corporation and wholly owned subsidiary of Parent ("Merger Sub"), pursuant to which Merger Sub will merge with and into the Company (the "Merger") and the Company will become a wholly owned subsidiary of Parent;

WHEREAS, each of the Contributing Shareholders owns the number of shares (rounded for purposes of the Merger Agreement to the nearest one ten-thousandth (1/10,000) of a share) of common stock, par value $700.00 per share of the Company ("Company Shares") set forth opposite his, her or its name in Column D of Schedule I to the Merger Agreement and desires to contribute to Holdco the number of Company Shares set forth opposite his, her or its name in Column D of Schedule I to the Merger Agreement ("Contribution Shares" and all Contribution Shares owned by the Contributing Shareholders, collectively "the Contribution Shares");

WHEREAS, the parties hereto desire that the Contribution Shares be contributed immediately prior to the consummation of the Merger by or on behalf of the Contributing Shareholders on the terms and conditions provided in this Agreement; and

WHEREAS, the contribution of the Contribution Shares by or on behalf of the Contributing Shareholders to Holdco in exchange for the Per Share Consideration (as defined below) is part of a larger transaction that is intended to be governed by Sections 707 and 721 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code");

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises, and of the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements contained herein and in the Merger Agreement, the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

Contribution

1.1. Contribution. At the Closing provided for in Section 1.3, Holdco shall receive from each of the Contributing Shareholders, and each of the Contributing Shareholders shall contribute or cause to be contributed to Holdco, all Contribution Shares owned by such Contributing Shareholder for the Per Share Consideration (as defined below).

1.2. Consideration. The consideration per Contribution Share (the "Per Share Consideration") shall be as set forth in Section 4.1(a)(ii) of the Merger Agreement.

1.3. Closing. Subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth in Article IV, the closing of the transactions contemplated hereunder (the "Closing") shall take place at the offices of Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, 125 Broad Street, New York, New York (or such other place as the parties may agree) immediately prior to the consummation of the Merger. The actual time and date of the Closing is referred to herein as the "Closing Date".

1.4. Delivery by the Company. The parties hereto agree that contribution to Holdco by the Company of Contribution Shares on behalf of any Contributing Shareholder pursuant to, and accompanied by, a letter of transmittal duly executed and delivered by such Contributing Shareholder prior to the Effective Time (as defined in the Merger Agreement), substantially in the form set out in Annex A (the "Letter of Transmittal") shall satisfy such Contributing Shareholder's obligation to deliver Contribution Shares under this Agreement.

Representations and Warranties

2.1. Representations and Warranties of the Contributing Shareholders. Each Contributing Shareholder hereby represents and warrants to Holdco that:

(a) Such Contributing Shareholder has all requisite power and authority and has taken all action necessary in order to execute, deliver and perform his obligations under this Agreement, the Holdco LLC Agreement and the Registration Rights Agreement. Each of this Agreement, the Holdco LLC Agreement and the Registration Rights Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by such Contributing Shareholder and constitutes a valid and binding agreement of such Contributing Shareholder enforceable against him in accordance with its terms, subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent transfer, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights and to general equity principles. Such Contributing Shareholder is an "accredited investor" as such term is defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933 and, in connection with the execution of this Agreement, agrees to deliver such certificates to that effect as Holdco may request.

(b) Such Contributing Shareholder is the sole record owner of, and has good and marketable title to, the number of Contribution shares (rounded for purposes of the Merger Agreement to the nearest one ten-thousandth (1/10,000) of a share) set forth opposite his name in Column D of Schedule I to the Merger Agreement, free and clear of any lien, charge, pledge, security interest, claim or other encumbrance (collectively, "Liens"). Except as set forth on said Schedule I to the Merger Agreement, such Contributing Shareholder does not own any shares of capital stock or other securities of the Company or any securities or obligations convertible, or exchangeable or exercisable for, or giving him a right to subscribe for or acquire, any securities of the Company. Upon consummation of the contribution of Contribution Shares by such Contributing Shareholders as provided in this Agreement, Holdco will acquire good and marketable title to such Contribution Shares free and clear of all Liens.

(c) The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by such Contributing Shareholder does not and will not (i) require him, her or it to obtain any consents, registrations, approvals, permits or authorizations from any domestic or foreign governmental or regulatory authority, agency, commission body, court or other legislative, executive or judiciary government entity (except as would not have a material adverse effect on his, her or its ability to perform his, hers or its obligations under this Agreement) or (ii) constitute or result in a breach or violation of, or a default under, or result in the creation of a lien or encumbrance on any of his, hers or its properties pursuant to any bond, debenture, note or other evidence of indebtedness of him, her or it or any indenture or other material agreement to which he, she or it is a party or by which he, she or it is bound or to which any of his, her or its material property may be subject (except as would not have a material adverse effect on his, her or its ability to perform his, her or its obligations under this Agreement).

(d) Such Contributing Shareholder has not granted and is not a party to any proxy, voting trust or other agreement which conflicts with any provision of this Agreement, and such Contributing Shareholder shall not grant any proxy or become party to any voting trust or other agreement which conflicts with any provision of this Agreement.

2.2. Representations and Warranties of Holdco. Holdco hereby represents and warrants to each of the Contributing Shareholders that as to itself:

(a) It has all requisite corporate power and authority and has taken all corporate action necessary in order to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by it and constitutes its valid and binding agreement enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent transfer, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights and to general equity principles.

(b) Immediately following the Closing, all of such issued and outstanding Holdco Units will be duly authorized and validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable.

(c) Except as set forth in Section 5.2(c) of the Merger Agreement, the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by Holdco does not and will not (i) require it to obtain any consents, registrations, approvals, permits or authorizations from or to deliver any notice or make any report or other filing with any domestic or foreign governmental or regulatory authority, agency, commission body, court or other legislative, executive or judiciary government entity (except such as may have previously been obtained or is permitted to be, and will be, filed or made promptly following the date hereof) or (ii) constitute or result in a breach or violation of, or a default under, or result in the creation of a lien or encumbrance on any of its properties pursuant to any bond, debenture, note or other evidence of indebtedness of it or any indenture or other material agreement to which it is a party or by which it is bound or to which any of its material property may be subject (except as would not adversely affect its ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement).

ARTICLE III

Deliveries at the Closing

3.1. Deliveries by Holdco at the Closing. At the Closing, Holdco shall:

(a) amend Schedule A to the Holdco LLC Agreement to reflect the Holdco Units acquired by the Contributing Shareholders pursuant to this Agreement; and

(b) deliver to each Contributing Shareholder a copy of the Holdco LLC Agreement duly executed by all GSCP Members (as defined therein).

3.2. Deliveries by the Contributing Shareholders at the Closing. At the Closing, each Contributing Shareholder (or pursuant to Section 1.4 above, the Company) shall deliver the following to Holdco:

(a) certificates representing the number of Contribution Shares set forth opposite his, her or its name in Column D of Schedule I to the Merger Agreement, to Holdco, duly endorsed in blank or otherwise in proper form for transfer to Holdco.

ARTICLE IV

Conditions to Closing

4.1. Conditions to Obligations of Holdco. The obligations of Holdco to consummate the transactions contemplated hereunder and to take the other actions at Closing required by this Agreement are subject to the satisfaction or waiver by such party of the following conditions as of the Closing Date:

The representations and warranties of each Contributing Shareholder set forth in this Agreement shall have been true and correct in all material respects when made and shall be true and correct in all material respects as of, and as if made on, the Closing Date.

4.2. Conditions to Obligations of the Contributing Shareholders. The obligations of each Contributing Shareholder to consummate the transactions contemplated hereunder and to take the other actions at Closing required by this Agreement are subject to the satisfaction or waiver by such Contributing Shareholder of the following conditions as of the Closing Date:

The representations and warranties of Holdco set forth in this Agreement shall have been true and correct in all material respects when made and shall be true and correct in all material respects as of, and as if made on, the Closing Date.

4.3. Merger not Consummated. The parties hereto agree that if the Merger is not consummated on or prior to the third business day after the Closing, then the transactions effected at the Closing shall be unwound and the provisions of this Agreement shall be restored as if the Closing had not taken place and shall thereafter remain in full force and effect until terminated pursuant to the terms hereof.

ARTICLE V

Termination

5.1. Termination. This Agreement shall automatically terminate upon termination of the Merger Agreement pursuant to the terms thereof prior to consummation of the Merger.

ARTICLE VI

Miscellaneous

6.1. Entire Agreement; Binding Effect; Assignment; No Third Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement, the Holdco LLC Agreement, the Registration Rights Agreement and the Shareholder Support Agreement (as defined in the Merger Agreement) constitute the entire agreement, and supersede all other prior agreements, understandings, representations and warranties both written and oral, among the parties, with respect to the subject matter hereof and thereof. This Agreement shall be binding upon, inure to the benefit of and be enforceable only by the parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns. No party may assign its rights or obligations under this Agreement to any other person or entity without the prior written consent of the other parties and any purported assignment without such consent is void. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to, or shall, give to any person other than the parties hereto, their successors and permitted assigns any benefit or any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under this Agreement.

6.2. Modification or Amendment; Waiver. This Agreement may only be amended, modified, supplemented or waived with the written approval of each party hereto. No failure or delay on the part of any party in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof or of any other or future exercise of any such right, power or privilege.

6.3. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each such counterpart being deemed to be an original instrument, and all such counterparts shall together constitute the same agreement.

6.4. Governing Law and Venue; Waiver of Jury Trial; Specific Performance.

(a) THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE DEEMED TO BE MADE IN AND IN ALL RESPECTS SHALL BE INTERPRETED, CONSTRUED AND GOVERNED BY AND IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAW OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE WITHOUT REGARD TO THE CONFLICTS OF LAW PRINCIPLES THEREOF. The parties hereby irrevocably submit to the personal jurisdiction of the courts of the State of Delaware located in the County of New Castle and the Federal courts of the United States of America located in the County of New Castle solely in respect of the interpretation and enforcement of the provisions of this Agreement and of the documents referred to in this Agreement, and in respect of the transactions contemplated hereby, and hereby waive, and agree not to assert, as a defense in any action, suit or proceeding for the interpretation or enforcement hereof or of any such document, that it is not subject thereto or that such action, suit or proceeding may not be brought or is not maintainable in said courts or that the venue thereof may not be appropriate or that this Agreement or any such document may not be enforced in or by such courts, and the parties hereto irrevocably agree that all claims with respect to such action or proceeding shall be heard and determined in such a Delaware State or Federal court located in the County of New Castle. The parties hereby consent to and grant any such court jurisdiction over the person of such parties and, to the extent permitted by law, over the subject matter of such dispute and agree that mailing of process or other papers in connection with any such action or proceeding in the manner provided in Section 6.5 or in such other manner as may be permitted by law shall be valid and sufficient service thereof.

(b) EACH PARTY ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY CONTROVERSY WHICH MAY ARISE UNDER THIS AGREEMENT IS LIKELY TO INVOLVE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT ISSUES, AND THEREFORE EACH SUCH PARTY HEREBY IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT SUCH PARTY MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LITIGATION DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT, OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED BY THIS AGREEMENT. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (i) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (ii) EACH PARTY

UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF THIS WAIVER, (iii) EACH PARTY MAKES THIS WAIVER VOLUNTARILY, AND (iv) EACH PARTY HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 6.4.

(c) The parties agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that the parties shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in Delaware State or Federal court in the County of New Castle, this being in addition to any other remedy to which such party is entitled at law or in equity.

6.5. Notices. Any notice, request, instruction or other document to be given hereunder by any party to the others shall be in writing and delivered personally or sent by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, or by facsimile:

6.6. Interpretation; Construction.

(a) The headings herein are for convenience of reference only, do not constitute part of this Agreement and shall not be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any of the provisions hereof. Where a reference in this Agreement is made to a Section, such reference shall be to a Section of this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. Whenever the words “include,” “includes” or “including” are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words “without limitation.”

(b) The parties have participated jointly in negotiating and drafting this Agreement. In the event that an ambiguity or a question of intent or interpretation arises, this Agreement shall be construed as if drafted jointly by the parties, and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favoring or disfavoring any party by virtue of the authorship of any provision of this Agreement.

6.7. Tax Matters. The parties hereto shall not take any position on any tax return inconsistent with the treatment of the contribution of the Contribution Shares to Holdco in exchange for Holdco Units when considered together with the Merger as a transaction governed by Sections 707 and 721 of the Code, unless otherwise required pursuant to a “determination” within the meaning of Section 1313(a) of the Code. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the obligations imposed by this Section 6.7 will survive indefinitely.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement as of the date first mentioned above.

Exhibit 2.1.2

Execution Version

McAPPLE CONTRIBUTION AGREEMENT

CONTRIBUTION AGREEMENT, dated as of December 4, 2006 (the "Agreement"), among McJunkin Corporation, a West Virginia corporation (the "Company"), McJ Holding LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Holdco"), and the shareholders of McJunkin Appalachian Oilfield Supply Company, a West Virginia corporation ("McApple"), named in Exhibit A hereto (collectively, the "Contributing Shareholders").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, simultaneously with the execution and delivery of this Agreement, each Contributing Shareholder is executing and delivering a limited liability company operating agreement (the "Holdco LLC Agreement") and a registration rights agreement (the "Registration Rights Agreement") relating to membership interests in Holdco to be received pursuant to this Agreement;

WHEREAS, simultaneously with the execution and delivery of this Agreement, the Company is executing and delivering an agreement and plan of merger (the "Merger Agreement") with McJ Holding Corporation, a Delaware corporation and wholly owned subsidiary of Holdco ("Parent"), and Hg Acquisition Corp., a West Virginia corporation and wholly owned subsidiary of Parent ("Merger Sub"), pursuant to which Merger Sub will merge with and into the Company (the "Merger") and the Company will become a wholly owned subsidiary of Parent;

WHEREAS, each of the Contributing Shareholders owns the number of shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of McApple set forth opposite his name in Exhibit A hereto ("Shares" and all Shares owned by the Contributing Shareholders, collectively "the Shares");

WHEREAS, the parties hereto desire that the Shares be contributed immediately prior to the consummation of the Merger by the Contributing Shareholders on the terms and conditions provided in this Agreement; and

WHEREAS, the contribution of the Shares by the Contributing Shareholders to Holdco in exchange for Holdco Units (as defined below) and the Cash Consideration (as defined below) is intended to qualify as a transaction governed by Sections 707 and 721 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises, and of the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements contained herein and in the Merger Agreement, the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

Contribution

1.1. Contribution. At the Closing provided for in Section 1.3, Holdco shall receive from each of the Contributing Shareholders, and each of the Contributing Shareholders shall contribute to Holdco, all Shares owned by such Contributing Shareholder for the Per Share Consideration (as defined below).

1.2. Consideration. The consideration per Share (the "Per Share Consideration") shall be (i) an amount in cash equal to the Book Value per Share (as defined below) as of the close of business on the last day of the month preceding the one in which the Closing occurs as reasonably estimated by James F. Underhill, Chief Financial Officer of the Company (the "Cash Consideration") and (ii) a number of Common Units (as defined in the Holdco LLC Agreement) of Holdco ("Holdco Units") equal in value to $8,000,000 divided by the number of shares of common stock of McApple issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Closing (other than the shares held by the Company). It being understood and agreed that the value of each Holdco Unit shall be as determined pursuant to Section 4.2(a)(ii) of the Merger Agreement. "Book Value per Share" means (i) the total assets of McApple minus the total liabilities of McApple, in each case, as determined under U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles consistent with the balance sheet of McApple for the nine month period ended September 30, 2006 previously provided to Holdco adjusted for the deferred tax impact of LIFO valued inventories contributed by the Company when McApple was formed divided by (ii) the number of shares of common stock of McApple outstanding immediately prior to the Closing (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the shares held by the Company).

1.3. Closing. Subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth in Article IV, the closing of the transactions contemplated hereunder (the "Closing") shall take place at the offices of Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, 125 Broad Street, New York, New York (or such other place as the parties may agree) immediately prior to the consummation of the Merger. The actual time and date of the Closing is referred to herein as the "Closing Date".

1.4. Adjustments to the Consideration. Holdco shall, as soon as practicable following the Closing and in any event within thirty (30) days after the Closing Date, procure that a balance sheet for McApple as of the Closing Date is prepared and delivered to the Contributing Shareholders (the "Closing Balance Sheet"). If the Book Value per Share on the Closing Date as set forth on the Closing Balance Sheet exceeds the Cash Consideration, Holdco shall deliver to each Contributing Shareholder an amount in cash equal to such excess for each Share contributed to Holdco by such Contributing Shareholder pursuant to this Agreement by wire transfer of immediately available funds within five (5) days after the Closing Balance Sheet is delivered to the Contributing Shareholders. If the Book Value per Share on the Closing Date as set forth on the Closing Balance Sheet is less than the Cash Consideration, each Contributing Shareholder shall deliver to Holdco an amount equal to such shortfall for each Share contributed to Holdco by such Contributing Shareholders pursuant to this Agreement by wire transfer of immediately available funds within five (5) days after the Closing Balance Sheet is delivered to the Contributing Shareholders. If the Contributing Shareholders disagree with the Book Value per Share on the Closing Date as set forth on the Closing Balance Sheet, then no later than three

(3) days after the Closing Balance Sheet is delivered to the Contributing Shareholders, the Contributing Shareholders may, at their sole cost and expense, hire Ernst & Young LLP ("EY") to audit the Closing Balance Sheet. If the Contributing Shareholders hire EY to audit the Closing Balance Sheet, then the determination by EY of the Book Value per Share on the Closing Date shall be binding on the parties hereto and any amount owed pursuant to this Section 1.4 shall be paid by wire transfer of immediately available funds within five (5) days after EY has made such determination.

ARTICLE II

Representations and Warranties

2.1. Representations and Warranties of the Contributing Shareholders. Each Contributing Shareholder hereby represents and warrants to Holdco that:

(a) Such Contributing Shareholder has all requisite power and authority and has taken all action necessary in order to execute, deliver and perform his obligations under this Agreement, the Holdco LLC Agreement and the Registration Rights Agreement. Each of this Agreement, the Holdco LLC Agreement and the Registration Rights Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by such Contributing Shareholder and constitutes a valid and binding agreement of such Contributing Shareholder enforceable against him in accordance with its terms, subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent transfer, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights and to general equity principles. Such Contributing Shareholder is an "accredited investor" as such term is defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended and, in connection with the execution of this Agreement, agrees to deliver such certificates to that effect as Holdco may request.

(b) Such Contributing Shareholder is the sole record and beneficial owner of, and has good and marketable title to, the number of Shares set forth opposite his name in Exhibit A hereto free and clear of any lien, charge, pledge, security interest, claim or other encumbrance (collectively, "Liens"). Except as set forth on Exhibit A, such Contributing Shareholder does not own any shares of capital stock or other securities of McApple or any securities or obligations convertible, or exchangeable or exercisable for, or giving him a right to subscribe for or acquire, any securities of McApple. Upon consummation of the contribution of Shares by such Contributing Shareholders as provided in this Agreement, Holdco will acquire good and marketable title to such Shares free and clear of all Liens. There are no preemptive or other outstanding rights, options, warrants, conversion rights, stock appreciation rights, redemption rights, repurchase rights, agreements, arrangements, calls, commitments or rights of any kind that will obligate McApple to issue or sell any shares of capital stock or other securities of McApple or any securities or obligations convertible, or exchangeable or exercisable for, or giving any person a right to subscribe for or acquire, any securities of McApple, and no securities or obligations evidencing such rights are authorized, issued or outstanding.

(c) The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by such Contributing Shareholder does not and will not (i) require him to obtain any consents, registrations, approvals, permits or authorizations from any domestic or foreign governmental or regulatory authority, agency, commission body, court or other legislative, executive or judiciary government entity (except as would not have a material adverse effect on his ability to perform his obligations under this Agreement) or (ii) constitute or result in a breach or violation of, or a default under, or result in the creation of a lien or encumbrance on any of his properties pursuant to any bond, debenture, note or other evidence of indebtedness of him or any indenture or other material agreement to which he is a party or by which he is bound or to which any of his material property may be subject (except as would not have a material adverse effect on his ability to perform his obligations under this Agreement).

(d) At the Effective Time (as defined in the Merger Agreement) of the Merger (as defined in the Merger Agreement) each of (i) the Put/Call Agreement among the Company, McApple and the individual shareholders named therein, dated as of December 21, 1988, as amended by the Amendment between the Company, McApple and David Fox, III, dated as of September 2002 and (ii) the Shareholders' Agreement dated as of December 21, 1988 among McApple and the Contributing Shareholders relating to the Shares will have been terminated and will be of no further force and effect.

(e) Such Contributing Shareholder has not granted and is not a party to any proxy, voting trust or other agreement which conflicts with any provision of this Agreement, and such Contributing Shareholder shall not grant any proxy or become party to any voting trust or other agreement which conflicts with any provision of this Agreement.

2.2. Representations and Warranties of Holdco. Holdco hereby represents and warrants to each of the Contributing Shareholders that:

(a) It has all requisite corporate power and authority and has taken all corporate action necessary in order to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by it and constitutes its valid and binding agreement enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent transfer, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights and to general equity principles.

(b) Immediately following the Closing, all of such issued and outstanding Holdco Units will be duly authorized and validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable.

(c) Except as set forth in Section 5.2(c) of the Merger Agreement, the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by Holdco does not and will not (i) require it to obtain any consents, registrations, approvals, permits or authorizations from or to deliver any notice or make any report or other filing with any domestic or foreign governmental or regulatory authority, agency, commission body, court or other legislative, executive or judiciary government entity (except such as may have previously been obtained or is permitted to be, and will be, filed or made promptly following the date hereof) or (ii) constitute or result in a breach or violation of, or a default under, or result in the creation of a lien or encumbrance on any of its properties pursuant to any bond, debenture, note or other evidence of indebtedness of it or any indenture or other material agreement to which it is a party or by which it is bound or to which any of its material property may be subject (except as would not adversely affect its ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

ARTICLE III

3.1. Deliveries by Holdco at the Closing. At the Closing, Holdco shall:

(a) deliver the Cash Consideration by wire transfer of immediately available funds as instructed by each Contributing Shareholder prior to the Closing Date; and

(b) amend Schedule A to the Holdco LLC Agreement to reflect the Holdco Units acquired by the Contributing Shareholders pursuant to this Agreement; and

(c) deliver to each Contributing Shareholder a copy of the Holdco LLC Agreement duly executed by all GSCP Members (as defined therein).

3.2. Deliveries by the Contributing Shareholders at the Closing. At the Closing, each Contributing Shareholder shall deliver the following to Holdco:

(a) certificates representing the number of Shares set forth opposite his name in Exhibit A hereto, free and clear of any and all Liens, duly endorsed in blank or otherwise in proper form for transfer to Holdco.

3.3. Put Option. On and for fifteen (15) business days after (x) January 8, 2010 or, if earlier, (y)(i) each date that the Contributing Shareholders receive a Drag-Along Notice pursuant to Section 12.8 of the Holdco LLC Agreement, or (ii) the date of notice to Holdco by McJ Members of the exercise of their rights under Section 12.10 of the Holdco LLC Agreement, each Contributing Shareholder shall have the right and option, but not the obligation (the "Put Option"), to cause Holdco to purchase all of the Holdco Units acquired by such Contributing Shareholder hereunder for a purchase price in cash equal to the value of each Holdco Unit as set forth in Section 1.2(ii) (as adjusted for any split, subdivision, combination, consolidation, recapitalization or similar event with respect to the Holdco Units) (the "Put Consideration") by written notice to Holdco of the exercise of such right and option (an "Exercise Notice"). The closing of any exercise of the Put Option shall occur at 9:00 A.M. at the offices of Holdco on, as applicable, (a) February 25, 2010, (b) the date and time of the closing of each Drag-Along Sale pursuant to the Holdco LLC Agreement (provided, that if the Drag-Along Sale expires pursuant to Section 12.8(d) of the Holdco LLC Agreement, the Contributing Shareholders may withdraw the Exercise Notice, or, if not withdrawn, the Contributing Shareholders and Holdco shall agree to another time and place for the closing), or (c) the date of the redemption under Section 12.10 of the Holdco LLC Agreement. The Put Option shall expire on the earliest of (x) the sixteenth business day after January 8, 2010, (y) the date of closing of the Drag-Along Sale pursuant to which all Holdco Units of all Contributing Shareholders are sold at such closing, or (z), the date of the redemption pursuant to Section 12.10 of the Holdco LLC Agreement. Holdco (or its designee) shall pay the Put Consideration for each Holdco Unit acquired by such Contributing Shareholder hereunder to the Contributing Shareholder exercising his Put Option, by wire transfer of immediately available funds, and such Contributing Shareholder shall, if applicable, deliver to Holdco certificates representing all of the Holdco Units acquired by such Contributing Shareholder hereunder, duly endorsed in blank or otherwise in proper form for transfer to Holdco. Notwithstanding any of the above, if any Contributing Shareholder(s) has exercised his Put Option pursuant to this Section 3 and Holdco is not permitted to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Put Option under applicable law, or due to a default under any debt financing agreement of Holdco or any of its direct or indirect subsidiaries, or if a payment pursuant to this Section 3 would trigger a default under any such debt financing agreement, Holdco shall issue to such Contributing Shareholder(s) a promissory note with a principal amount equal to the applicable Put Consideration and an interest rate equal to the prime rate then in effect, and such principal and interest will be paid in full by wire transfer of immediately available funds at such time as Holdco is permitted to pay such Put Consideration under applicable law and any debt financing of Holdco and its direct and indirect subsidiaries.

ARTICLE IV

Conditions to Closing

4.1. Conditions to Obligations of Holdco. The obligations of Holdco to consummate the transactions contemplated hereunder and to take the other actions at Closing required by this Agreement are subject to the satisfaction or waiver by such party of the following condition as of the Closing Date:

The representations and warranties of each Contributing Shareholder set forth in this Agreement shall have been true and correct in all material respects when made and shall be true and correct in all material respects as of, and as if made on, the Closing Date.

4.2. Conditions to Obligations of the Contributing Shareholders. The obligations of each Contributing Shareholder to consummate the transactions contemplated hereunder and to take the other actions at Closing required by this Agreement are subject to the satisfaction or waiver by such Contributing Shareholder of the following condition as of the Closing Date:

The representations and warranties of Holdco set forth in this Agreement shall have been true and correct in all material respects when made and shall be true and correct in all material respects as of, and as if made on, the Closing Date.

4.3. Merger not Consummated. The parties hereto agree that if the Merger is not consummated on or prior to the third business day after the Closing, then the transactions effected at the Closing shall be unwound and the provisions of this Agreement shall be restored as if the Closing had not taken place and shall thereafter remain in full force and effect until terminated pursuant to the terms hereof.

ARTICLE V

Release

5.1. Release. From and after the Closing, each Contributing Shareholder hereby absolutely, generally, irrevocably, unconditionally and completely releases and forever discharges Holdco, the Company, McApple and their respective directors, officers, employees, representatives, affiliates, stockholders, direct and indirect subsidiaries, successors and assigns (collectively, the "Holdco Parties") from all past, present and future claims directly or indirectly relating to such Contributing Shareholder's interest in McApple ("Claims"), and hereby absolutely, generally, irrevocably, unconditionally and completely waives and relinquishes all Claims against the Holdco Parties.

ARTICLE VI

Termination

6.1. Termination. This Agreement shall automatically terminate upon termination of the Merger Agreement pursuant to the terms thereof prior to consummation of the Merger.

ARTICLE VII

Miscellaneous

7.1. Entire Agreement; Binding Effect; Assignment; No Third Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement, the Holdco LLC Agreement and the Registration Rights Agreement constitute the entire agreement, and supersede all other prior agreements, understandings, representations and warranties both written and oral, among the parties, with respect to the subject matter hereof and thereof. This Agreement shall be binding upon, inure to the benefit of and be enforceable only by the parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns. No party may assign its rights or obligations under this Agreement to any other person or entity without the prior written consent of the other parties and any purported assignment without such consent is void. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to, or shall, give to any person other than the parties hereto, their successors and permitted assigns any benefit or any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under this Agreement.

7.2. Modification or Amendment; Waiver. This Agreement may only be amended, modified, supplemented or waived with the written approval of each party hereto. No failure or delay on the part of any party in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof or of any other or future exercise of any such right, power or privilege.

7.3. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each such counterpart being deemed to be an original instrument, and all such counterparts shall together constitute the same agreement.

7.4. Government Law and Venue; Waiver of Jury Trial; Specific Performance.

(a) THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE DEEMED TO BE MADE IN AND IN ALL RESPECTS SHALL BE INTERPRETED, CONSTRUED AND GOVERNED BY AND IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAW OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE WITHOUT REGARD TO THE CONFLICTS OF LAW PRINCIPLES THEREOF. The parties hereby irrevocably submit to the personal jurisdiction of the courts of the State of Delaware located in the County of New Castle and the Federal courts of the United States of America located in the County of New Castle solely in respect of the interpretation and enforcement of the provisions of this Agreement and of the documents referred to in this Agreement, and in respect of the transactions contemplated hereby, and hereby waive, and agree not to assert, as a defense in any action, suit or proceeding for the interpretation or enforcement hereof or of any such document, that it is not subject thereto or that such action, suit or proceeding may not be brought or is not maintainable in said courts or that the venue thereof may not be appropriate or that this Agreement or any such document may not be enforced in or by such courts, and the parties hereto irrevocably agree that all claims with respect to such action or proceeding shall be heard and determined in such a Delaware State or Federal court located in the County of New Castle. The parties hereby consent to and grant any such court jurisdiction over the person of such parties and, to the extent permitted by law, over the subject matter of such dispute and agree that mailing of process or other papers in connection with any such action or proceeding in the manner provided in Section 7.5 or in such other manner as may be permitted by law shall be valid and sufficient service thereof.

(b) EACH PARTY ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY CONTROVERSY WHICH MAY ARISE UNDER THIS AGREEMENT IS LIKELY TO INVOLVE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT ISSUES, AND THEREFORE EACH SUCH PARTY HEREBY IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT SUCH PARTY MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LITIGATION DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT, OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED BY THIS AGREEMENT. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (i) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY

OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (ii) EACH PARTY UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF THIS WAIVER, (iii) EACH PARTY MAKES THIS WAIVER VOLUNTARILY, AND (iv) EACH PARTY HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 7.4.

(c) The parties agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that the parties shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in Delaware State or Federal court in the County of New Castle, this being in addition to any other remedy to which such party is entitled at law or in equity.

7.6. Interpretation; Construction.

(a) The headings herein are for convenience of reference only, do not constitute part of this Agreement and shall not be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any of the provisions hereof. Where a reference in this Agreement is made to a Section, such reference shall be to a Section of this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. Whenever the words “include,” “includes” or “including” are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words “without limitation.”

(b) The parties have participated jointly in negotiating and drafting this Agreement. In the event that an ambiguity or a question of intent or interpretation arises, this Agreement shall be construed as if drafted jointly by the parties, and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favoring or disfavoring any party by virtue of the authorship of any provision of this Agreement.

7.7. Tax Matters. The parties hereto shall not take any position on any tax return inconsistent with the treatment of the contribution of the Shares by the Contributing Shareholders to Holdco in exchange for Holdco Units and the Cash Consideration as a transaction governed by Sections 707 and 721 of the Code, unless otherwise required pursuant to a "determination" within the meaning of Section 1313(a) of the Code. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the obligations imposed by this Section 7.7 will survive indefinitely.

STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT, dated April 5, 2007 (the "Agreement"), by and among McJunkin Development Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("Buyer"), Midway-Tristate Corporation, a New York Corporation (the "Company"), and the holders of all outstanding shares of stock of the Company listed on Schedule 1 (each, a "Shareholder" and, collectively, the "Shareholders"). Buyer, the Company and each of the Shareholders are separately referred to herein as a "Party" and, together, as the "Parties".

WHEREAS, Buyer desires to acquire all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of the Company;

WHEREAS, the Shareholders own, in the aggregate, 83,185 shares of common stock, par value $0.01, of the Company (the "Company Stock"), which represents the entire issued and outstanding capital stock of the Company;

WHEREAS, Buyer desires to acquire, and the Shareholders desire to sell, the Company Stock upon the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement; and

WHEREAS, the Company has entered into an employment agreement ("Employment Agreement") or consulting agreement ("Consulting Agreement") with each of those persons listed on Schedule 2.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the mutual promises herein made, and in consideration of the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements herein contained, the Parties agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

Certain Definitions

1.1. Certain Definitions. As used in this Agreement, the following terms have the respective meanings set forth below.

"Actual Adjustment" means (x) the Purchase Price as set forth on the Final Statement of Purchase Price minus (y) the Estimated Purchase Price.

"Affiliate", "Affiliated" (or any correlative term) means, with respect to a Person, any Person that, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, or is controlled by, or is under common control with, such Person (and, for purposes of this Agreement, the Company shall be considered an Affiliate of each of the Shareholders before the Closing and an Affiliate of Buyer after the Closing).

"Agreement" shall have the meaning assigned such term in the Preamble.

"Associate" means, with respect to a Person, (A) any corporation or organization of which such Person is an officer or partner or is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of 10% or more of any class of equity securities, (B) any trust or other estate in which such Person has a substantial beneficial interest or as to which such Person serves as trustee or in a similar fiduciary capacity, and (C) any relative or spouse of a Person described in clauses (A) or (B) of this definition or any relative of such spouse, who has the same home as such Person.

"Benefit Plans" means any "employee benefit plans" (as defined in Section 3(3) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA")), bonus, pension, profit sharing, deferred compensation, incentive compensation, excess benefit, stock, stock option, employment, severance, termination pay, change in control or other compensation or employee benefit plans, programs, arrangements or agreements currently maintained or contributed to, or required to be maintained or contributed to, by the Company for the benefit of any current or former employees, officers, directors or independent contractors of the Company, each an "Employee" .

"Business Day" means a day, other than a Saturday or Sunday, on which commercial banks in New York City are open for the general transaction of business.

"Buyer" shall have the meaning assigned such term in the Preamble.

"Cash and Cash Equivalents" means the sum of the fair market value (expressed in United States dollars) of all cash and cash equivalents (including marketable securities and short term investments) of the Company as of immediately prior to the Closing, but shall not include any amounts paid or held in escrow to fund payments to be made, under the Settlement Agreement or Settlement Agreement Waiver and Release.

"Company" means Midway-Tristate Corporation and includes any of its predecessors.

"Company Expenses" means the sum of (i) the collective amount of the Company's and the Shareholders' expenses payable by the Company to Thelen, Reid, Brown, Raysman & Steiner LLP as of the Closing and all other out-of-pocket costs and expenses incurred by the Company or any of the Shareholders and payable by the Company, in each case in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, plus (ii) any fees payable by the Company to the Shareholders or any Affiliate of the Company, plus (iii) Transfer Taxes, plus (iv) any broker's, finder's, investment banker's, financial adviser's or similar fee payable by the Company or any of the Shareholders in connection with this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated hereby, plus (v) any amounts payable by the Company to any officer, director or employee of the Company in the nature of a "change in control", closing or signing bonus, severance or retention payment or similar payment, including, without limitation, the Severance Payments, as a result of the execution and delivery of this Agreement or the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, including the Closing, except that any severance or termination payments required to be made to any employees of the Company (other than those persons listed on Schedule 6.10 hereto) by reason of such employees being terminated prior to the Closing at the written request of Buyer shall not be deemed a Company Expense, plus (vi) any amounts arising out of or relating to the Settlement Agreement, including any waiver, amendment or release thereunder (including without limitation, the Settlement Agreement Waiver and Release), plus (vii) all Taxes and expenses arising from, attributable to, or related to the Excluded Assets and the Company's distribution thereof. Company Expenses shall not include any amounts taken into account in Net Working Capital.

"Company Stock" shall have the meaning assigned such term in the Recitals.

"Confidential Information" means all information (whether or not reduced to written, electronic, magnetic or other tangible form) acquired in any way by any Shareholder or the Company during the course of such Person's affiliation with the Company, concerning the products, services, projects, activities, business or affairs of the Company or its clients or customers, including (i) all information concerning Intellectual Property Rights of the Company, computer programs, system documentation, special hardware, product hardware, related software development, manuals, formulae, processes, methods, machines, compositions, ideas, improvements or inventions, (ii) all sales and financial information, (iii) all independent contractor, client, customer and supplier lists, (iv) all information concerning services, clients, customers, cases, projects or marketing plans for any of those services, clients, customers, cases or projects, and (v) all information relating to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term Confidential Information shall not include information that is generally available to the public or becomes generally available to the public other than as a result of a breach by any of the Shareholders of Section 6.7.

"Debt" means the outstanding principal amount of, all accrued and unpaid interest on and other payment obligations (including any premiums, termination fees, expenses or breakage costs due upon prepayment of or payable in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement) in respect of, (i) any indebtedness for borrowed money of the Company, whether or not recourse to the Company, (ii) any obligation of the Company evidenced by bonds, debentures, notes or other similar instruments, (iii) any reimbursement obligation of the Company with respect to letters of credit (including standby letters of credit to the extent drawn upon), bankers' acceptances or similar facilities issued for the account of the Company, (iv) any obligation of the Company issued or assumed as the deferred purchase price of property or services, (v) any capitalized lease obligation of the Company, and (vi) any obligation of the type referred to in clauses (i) through (v) of this definition of another Person the payment of which the Company has guaranteed or for which the Company is responsible or liable, directly or indirectly, jointly or severally, as obligor, guarantor or otherwise. For the avoidance of doubt, Debt shall not include the lease agreements to be entered into by the Company as contemplated by Section 7.3(m).

"Debt Amount" means the aggregate amount of Debt outstanding immediately prior to the Closing.

"Enterprise Value" means $82,500,000.

"Environmental Laws" means any and all federal, state, local and foreign Laws (including case or common law) relating to human health and safety, the environment or emissions, discharges or releases of pollutants, contaminants, Hazardous Substances or wastes into the environment including, without limitation, ambient air, surface water, ground water, facilities, structures, or land, or otherwise relating to the manufacture, processing, distribution, use, treatment, storage, disposal, transport or handling of pollutants, contaminants, Hazardous Substances or wastes or the investigation, clean-up or other remediation thereof. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, "Environmental Laws" include: (i) the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, 42 U.S.C. § 6901 et seq., as amended; (ii) the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980, 26 U.S.C. § 4611 and 42 U.S.C. § 9601 et seq., as amended; (iii) the Superfund Amendment and Reauthorization Act of 1984, as amended; and (iv) the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1976, 29 U.S.C. § 651, as amended, and all rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

"Estimated Purchase Price" means a good faith estimate of the Purchase Price, as determined by the Representative three (3) Business Days prior to the Closing based upon the Company's most recent financial statements as of the date of such estimate while taking into account changes in the Company's consolidated financial position since the date of such financial statements. In connection with determining the Estimated Purchase Price, the Representative shall (i) use the Enterprise Value, and (ii) estimate (A) the Debt Amount, (B) the amount of Company Expenses, (C) the Net Working Capital Adjustment, and (D) the amount of Cash and Cash Equivalents.

"GAAP" means United States generally accepted accounting principles and practices as in effect from time to time and applied consistently throughout the periods involved.

"Governmental Entity" means the government of the United States of America, any other nation or any political subdivision of any of the foregoing, whether state or local, and any agency, authority, instrumentality, regulatory body, court, or other entity exercising executive, legislative, judicial, taxing, regulatory or administrative powers or functions of government.

"Hazardous Substances" means any substance that is toxic, ignitable, reactive, corrosive, radioactive, caustic, or regulated or defined as a hazardous substance, contaminant, toxic substance, toxic pollutant, hazardous waste, special waste, or pollutant, including, without limitation, petroleum, its derivatives, by-products and other hydrocarbons, poly-chlorinated bi-phenyls and asbestos regulated under, or which is the subject of, applicable Environmental Laws.

"including" means including without limitation.

"Intellectual Property Rights" means and includes all inventions, know-how, logos, marks (including brand names, product names, logos, and slogans), methods, processes, proprietary information, URLs, works of authorship and other forms of technology (whether or not embodied in any tangible form and including all tangible embodiments of the foregoing), and all domestic and foreign patents, trademarks and trade name rights, service marks, copyrights, trade secrets, moral rights and other types of similar proprietary rights and all applications, registrations, renewals and other filings with respect to any of the foregoing.

"Knowledge of the Company" means the actual knowledge of Michael J. Cetro, Thomas W. Norton or Rick Eischeid, after due inquiry.

"Laws" means any federal, state, local or foreign law (including the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977, as amended, and the laws implemented by the Office of Foreign Assets Control, United States Department of Treasury), statute or ordinance, common law, or any rule, regulation, standard, judgment, order, writ, injunction, decree, arbitration award, agency requirement, license or permit of any Governmental Entity.

"Material Adverse Effect" means an event, change or effect that has had, or would reasonably be expected to have (a) a material adverse effect on the assets, liabilities, business, results of operations or condition (financial or otherwise) of the Company, other than any, event, change or effect resulting from (i) changes in general economic conditions except to the extent such changes have a disproportionate impact on the Company, relative to the other participants in the industries in which the Company operates, (ii) the announcement of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby, or (iii) changes in GAAP applicable to the Company, or (b) a material adverse effect on the ability of the Shareholders or the Company to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby.

"Net Working Capital" means the net book value of the current assets of the Company, as of immediately prior to the Closing, less the net book value of the current liabilities of the Company, as of immediately prior to the Closing, in each case, without duplication and as determined in a manner consistent with the preparation of the column entitled "adjusted black book" set forth on the March 31 balance sheet of the Company attached on Exhibit A. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in connection with calculating Net Working Capital the rules set forth on Exhibit A shall be taken into account.

"Net Working Capital Adjustment" means (i) the amount by which Net Working Capital as of immediately prior to the Closing exceeds $36,835,000, or (ii) the amount by which Net Working Capital as of immediately prior to the Closing is less than $36,835,000; provided that any amount which is calculated pursuant to clause (ii) above shall be deemed to be a negative number.

"Non-Significant Shareholder" shall mean individually each Shareholder and their Related Parties who in the aggregate hold less than 5% of the Company Stock.

"Order" means any order, injunction, judgment, decree or ruling of any Governmental Entity.

"Permitted Encumbrances" means (i) liens for Taxes that are not yet due and payable or which are being contested in good faith for which an adequate reserve has been established on the books and records of the Company and (ii) mechanics', workmen's, repairmen's, warehousemen's, carriers' or other statutory liens arising or incurred in the ordinary course of business in respect of liabilities that will be paid prior to Closing or included in the Debt Amount or in Net Working Capital.

"Person" means an individual, a partnership, a corporation, a limited liability company, an association, a joint stock company, a trust, a joint venture, an unincorporated organization, or other entity.

"Purchase Price" means (i) the Enterprise Value, plus (ii) the Net Working Capital Adjustment (which may be a negative number if the calculation results in a negative number under clause (ii) of the definition of "Net Working Capital Adjustment"), plus (iii) the amount of Cash and Cash Equivalents, minus (iv) the Debt Amount, minus (v) the amount of Company Expenses.

"Related Party" means (i) any Shareholder or any officer or director of the Company, (ii) any spouse, former spouse, child, parent, parent of a spouse, sibling or grandchild of any of the Persons listed in clause (i) above, and (iii) any Affiliate or Associate of any of the Persons listed in clause (i) or (ii) above, other than the Company.

"Representative" shall have the meaning assigned such term in Section 10.15 hereof.

"Severance Payments" shall have the meaning assigned to such term in Section 6.13 hereof.

"Significant Shareholder" shall mean individually each Shareholder and their Related Parties who in the aggregate hold 5% or more of the Company Stock, which for the avoidance of doubt shall include Michael J. Cetro, John A. Selzer, Maythorpe Holdings Limited and Daniel J. Field.

"Tax" (and, with correlative meaning "Taxes") means any federal, state, local or foreign income, gross receipts, property, sales, use, license, excise, franchise, employment, payroll, premium, withholding, alternative or added minimum, ad valorem, escheat, inventory, transfer or excise tax, or any other tax, custom, duty, governmental fee or other like assessment or charge or any kind whatsoever, together with any interest, penalty or addition to tax, imposed by any Governmental Entity whether disputed or not and including any obligations to indemnify or otherwise assume or succeed to the Tax liability of any other Person; and "Tax Return" means any report, return, statement, estimate, declaration, notice, form or other information required to be supplied to a Governmental Entity in connection with Taxes, including any schedule or attachment thereto, and including any amendment thereof.

"Transfer Tax" means any transfer, real property transfer, documentary, gains, stock transfer and similar Tax.

ARTICLE II

Acquisition of Company Stock

2.1. Acquisition of Company Stock. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement, at the Closing the Shareholders shall assign, transfer, convey and deliver to Buyer, and Buyer shall acquire from the Shareholders, all of the shares of Company Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Closing (the "Outstanding Shares") free and clear of all Encumbrances.

2.2. Purchase Price. The Purchase Price for all of the Outstanding Shares shall be payable by the Buyer as set forth in Section 2.3, subject to the adjustments set forth therein.

2.3. Adjustment to Purchase Price.

(a) Estimated Purchase Price. No later than three (3) Business Days prior to the Closing Date, the Representative shall deliver to Buyer a calculation of the Estimated Purchase Price (which Estimated Purchase Price shall be reasonably acceptable to Buyer; provided, that if the Estimated Purchase Price is between $33,385,850 and $36,900,150, then the Estimated Purchase Price shall be deemed to be reasonably acceptable to Buyer). On the Closing Date, Buyer shall pay, or shall cause to be paid, the Estimated Purchase Price as follows:

(i) An amount in cash equal to $4,125,000 (such amount, the "Escrow Amount" and such cash, the "Escrow Funds") shall be deposited into an escrow account (the "Escrow Account"), which shall be established pursuant to an escrow agreement (the "Escrow Agreement"), which Escrow Agreement (x) shall be entered into on the Closing Date among the Representative, Buyer and an escrow agent (the "Escrow Agent") to be mutually agreed upon between the Representative and Buyer and (y) shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit B attached hereto;

(ii) An amount in cash equal to $9,000,000 (such amount, the "Settlement Agreement Indemnification Escrow Amount" and such cash, the "Settlement Agreement Indemnification Escrow Funds") shall be deposited into an escrow account (the "Settlement Agreement Indemnification Escrow Account"), which shall be established pursuant to the Escrow Agreement; and

(iii) An amount in cash equal to the Estimated Purchase Price minus the Escrow Amount and minus the Settlement Agreement Indemnification Escrow Amount shall be paid by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the Representative, on behalf of the Shareholders, for distribution to the Shareholders in accordance with Schedule 1, in an account to be designated by the Representative in a written notice to Buyer at least three (3) Business Days prior to the Closing, net of applicable withholding taxes, if any.

(b) Preparation of the Final Statement of Purchase Price.

(i) As soon as practicable, but no later than sixty (60) days after the Closing Date, Buyer shall prepare and deliver to the Representative the proposed calculation of the Purchase Price (the "Proposed Purchase Price Calculation") and the components thereof, including (A) a proposed calculation of the Net Working Capital and Net Working Capital Adjustment (the "Proposed Closing Date Statement of Net Working Capital"), (B) a proposed calculation of the amount of Cash and Cash Equivalents (the "Proposed Cash and Cash Equivalents"), (C) a proposed calculation of the Debt Amount (the "Proposed Debt Amount Calculation"), and (D) a proposed calculation of the amount of Company Expenses (the "Proposed Company Expenses Calculation"), and, in each case, the components thereof, together with reasonable supporting detail.

(ii) If the Representative does not give a written notice of dispute (a "Purchase Price Dispute Notice") to Buyer within thirty (30) days of receiving the Proposed Purchase Price Calculation, Buyer and the Representative agree that (A) the Proposed Closing Date Statement of Net Working Capital shall be deemed to set forth the Net Working Capital, (B) the Proposed Cash and Cash Equivalents shall be deemed to set forth the Cash and Cash Equivalents, (C) the Proposed Debt Amount Calculation shall be deemed to set forth the Debt Amount, (D) the Proposed Company Expenses Calculation shall be deemed to set forth the Company Expenses and (E) the Proposed Purchase Price Calculation shall be deemed to be final and binding in determining the Purchase Price. If the Representative gives a Purchase Price Dispute Notice to Buyer (which Purchase Price Dispute Notice must set forth, in reasonable detail, the items and amounts in dispute) within such 30-day period, Buyer and the Representative will use commercially reasonable efforts to resolve the dispute during the 30-day period commencing on the date Buyer receives the applicable Purchase Price Dispute Notice from the Representative. Items and amounts not objected to by the Representative shall be deemed resolved. If the Representative and Buyer do not obtain a final resolution within such 30-day period, then the items in dispute shall be submitted immediately to Deloitte & Touche LLP or another nationally-recognized, independent accounting firm reasonably acceptable to the Representative and Buyer (the "Accounting Firm"). The Accounting Firm shall be required to render a determination resolving the applicable dispute within 45 days after referral of the matter to the Accounting Firm, which determination must be in writing and must set forth, in reasonable detail, the basis therefor. The determination of the Accounting Firm shall be conclusive and binding upon the Representative, the Shareholders and Buyer. Buyer will revise the Proposed Purchase Price Calculation as appropriate to reflect the resolution of any objections thereto pursuant to this Section 2.3(b)(ii). The "Final Statement of Purchase Price" shall mean the Proposed Purchase Price Calculation together with any revisions thereto pursuant to this Section 2.3(b)(ii).

(iii) In the event the Representative and Buyer submit any unresolved objections to the Accounting Firm for resolution as provided in Section 2.3(b)(ii), the responsibility for the fees and expenses of such Accounting Firm shall be paid by Buyer, on the one hand, and the Representative on behalf of the Shareholders, on the other hand, in inverse proportion (based on value) as Buyer and the Representative prevail on any disputed matters, as determined by the Accounting Firm.

(iv) Buyer will make the Company's financial records available to the Accounting Firm and the Representative and its accountants, if any, and other representatives at reasonable times at any time during the review by the Representative and/or the Accounting Firm, as the case may be, of, and the resolution of any objections with respect to, the Proposed Purchase Price Calculation.

(i) If the Actual Adjustment is a positive amount, Buyer will pay, or cause to be paid, to the Representative on behalf of the Shareholders for distribution to the Shareholders in accordance with Schedule 1, such positive amount, net of applicable withholding taxes, if any, by wire transfer or delivery of other immediately available funds, in each case, within three (3) Business Days after the date on which the Purchase Price is finally determined pursuant to Section 2.3(b).

(ii) If the Actual Adjustment is a negative amount, Buyer and the Representative will instruct the Escrow Agent to pay to Buyer such negative amount, net of applicable withholding taxes, if any, from the Escrow Funds by wire transfer or delivery of other immediately available funds, in each case, within three (3) Business Days after the date on which the Purchase Price is finally determined pursuant to Section 2.3(b). If the Escrow Funds are insufficient to pay such negative amount, the Shareholders shall pay Buyer the amount of any shortfall pro-rata based on their equity interests in the Company as reflected on Schedule 1.

2.4. Closing. Subject to the provisions of Article VII, the closing of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (the "Closing") and all actions specified in this Agreement to occur at the Closing shall take place at the offices of Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP, One New York Plaza, New York, New York at 9:00 a.m., New York time, on the fifth Business Day immediately following the day on which the last of the conditions set forth in Article VII (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at the Closing, but subject to the satisfaction or waiver of those conditions) are satisfied or waived in accordance with this Agreement, or on such other date as Buyer and the Representative shall agree (the date on which the Closing takes place, the "Closing Date").

2.5. Withholding. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, Buyer shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from the consideration otherwise payable pursuant to this Agreement (including, without limitation, the distribution of the Excluded Assets as provided in Section 6.11) such amounts as Buyer or the Company is required to deduct and withhold with respect to the making of such payment or distribution under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), or any provision of state, local or foreign Tax law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld and paid over to the appropriate taxing authority, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as having been paid to the Person in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made.

ARTICLE III

Representations and Warranties of the Shareholders

Each Shareholder, severally and not jointly, represents to Buyer, as follows:

3.1. Ownership; Authorization of Transaction. (a) Schedule 1 accurately sets forth the number of shares of Company Stock owned of record and beneficially by such Shareholder. Such Company Stock is owned by such Shareholder free and clear of any Encumbrances.

(b) Such Shareholder has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and each agreement, certificate or other instrument executed or to be executed in connection with this Agreement, including the Escrow Agreement (which shall be executed by the Representative in his capacity as the true and lawful agent and attorney-in-fact of each of the Shareholders) (the "Ancillary Documents") to which such Shareholder is a party and to perform such Shareholder's obligations hereunder and thereunder. This Agreement and each Ancillary Document to which such Shareholder is a party constitute, or upon execution will constitute, a valid and legally binding obligation of such Shareholder, enforceable against such Shareholder in accordance with their respective terms, except as limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent conveyance, reorganization, moratorium or similar Laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights.

3.2. No Conflicts. With the exception of any filing required, if any, under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended ("HSR Act"), and except as set forth on Schedule 3.2, the execution and the delivery of this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents to which such Shareholder is a party and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby will not (a) violate any Law or Order to which such Shareholder is subject, (b) result in the creation or imposition of any mortgage, pledge, lien, encumbrance, claim, charge, security interest, or other restriction ("Encumbrances") upon the Company Stock owned of record and beneficially by such Shareholder, or (c) require such Shareholder to give any notice to, make any filing with, or obtain any authorization, consent or approval of, any Person.

ARTICLE IV

Representations and Warranties of the Company and the Shareholders

The Company and each of the Significant Shareholders, jointly and severally, represent and warrant to Buyer, as follows:

4.1. Authorization of Transaction. The Company has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and each Ancillary Document to which it is a party and to perform its obligations hereunder and thereunder, and the execution, delivery and performance by the Company of this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents to which it is a party have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of the Company. This Agreement and each Ancillary Document to which the Company is a party constitute, or upon execution will constitute, a valid and legally binding obligation of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with their respective terms, except as limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent conveyance, reorganization, moratorium or similar Laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights.

4.2. Corporate Organization; Authority. The Company is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of the State of New York, and has all requisite corporate power and authority to own, lease and operate the assets owned, leased and operated by it and to carry on its business as currently being conducted. The Company is duly qualified or licensed to do business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction in which the assets owned, leased or operated by it or the nature of the business conducted by it makes such licensing or qualification necessary, except in such jurisdictions where the failure to be so duly qualified or licensed or in good standing, individually or in the aggregate, has not had or would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. The Company has delivered to Buyer complete and correct copies of its certificate of incorporation and bylaws as in effect on the date of this Agreement. Listed on Schedule 4.2 is each jurisdiction in which the Company is qualified to do business and in good standing.

4.3. Capitalization; Debt. (a) The authorized capital stock of the Company consists of (i) 800,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.01, of which there are 83,185 shares issued and outstanding and owned by the Persons listed on Schedule 1, and (ii) 200,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.01, of which no shares are issued and outstanding. All of the outstanding shares of Company Stock have been duly authorized and validly issued, are fully paid and nonassessable and are not subject to any preemptive rights. Except as set forth on Schedule 1, there are no outstanding (A) shares of capital stock or other securities of the Company, (B) options, warrants, stock appreciation rights or other rights to acquire from the Company, or to cause the Company to issue, any capital stock or other securities, (C) phantom stock rights, stock appreciation rights or other equity related rights of the Company, or (D) Contracts, whether or not the Company is a party thereto, obligating or permitting the Company to issue, or to redeem or purchase, or otherwise pertaining to, any shares of capital stock or other securities of the Company. Upon the Closing, Buyer will own all of the Outstanding Shares, and such ownership will be free and clear of any Encumbrances.

(b) Schedule 4.3(b) sets forth a complete and current list of all outstanding Debt of the Company as of February 28, 2007. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.3(b), the Company has not incurred, assumed or guaranteed any Debt, nor is a party to a Company Contract which obligates it to incur, assume or guarantee any Debt or which provides for the imposition of any Encumbrance on any of its assets, tangible or intangible.

(c) The Company has provided Buyer with all documentation relating to the Settlement Agreement dated as of September 11, 2006 between the Company, John A. Selzer, United States Small Business Administration as Receiver of Sterling/Carl Marks Capital Inc. and CMNY Capital II, LP ("Settlement Agreement"). The Company paid in full the Compensation for Transfer (as defined in the Settlement Agreement) to United States Small Business Administration as Receiver of Sterling/Carl Marks Capital Inc. and CMNY Capital II, LP on October 3, 2006 ("Compensation for Transfer Payment Date").

4.4. Brokers' Fees. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.4, neither the Company nor any of the Shareholders has any liability or obligation to pay any finder's, investment banking or other fees or commissions to any broker, finder, or agent with respect to any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Ancillary Documents.

4.5. Subsidiaries and Investments. The Company does not have any equity interest or other equity or debt investment in, or possesses any right or obligation to purchase any equity interests or other equity or debt investment in, any Person.

4.6. No Conflicts. With the exception of any filing required under the HSR Act, if any, and except as set forth on Schedule 4.6, the execution and the delivery of this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents to which the Company or any of the Significant Shareholders is a party and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby will not (a) violate any Law or Order to which the Company is subject, (b) result in the creation or imposition of any Encumbrance upon the assets of the Company, or (c) conflict with, result in a breach of, constitute a default under, result in any loss of or any acceleration of any rights or obligations under, create in any party the right to accelerate, terminate, modify or cancel, or give rise to any payments or compensation under, any Company Contract, Permit, Order, or the certificate of incorporation or bylaws of the Company. The Company is not the beneficiary of, or exempt from, any Law, Order or Permit because of a "grandfather clause" that will not be available to it following the Closing.

4.7. Financial Statements. Attached hereto as Schedule 4.7 are the following financial statements of the Company (collectively, the "Financial Statements"): (x) the audited balance sheet of the Company and the audited statements of income, cash flows and shareholders' equity of the Company as of and for the years ended July 31, 2004, July 31, 2005 and July 31, 2006 and the reports thereon delivered by Rehmann Robson Certified Public Accountants; and (y) the unaudited balance sheet of the Company (the "February 28 Balance Sheet") and the unaudited statements of income, cash flows and shareholders' equity of the Company as of and for the seven-month period ended February 28, 2007 (together with the February 28 Balance Sheet, the "Unaudited Interim Financial Statements"). The Financial Statements (i) have been prepared in accordance with GAAP applied on a consistent basis, (ii) fairly present in all material respects the financial condition of the Company as of such dates and the results of operations, shareholders' equity and cash flows of the Company for such periods (subject, in the case of the Unaudited Interim Financial Statements, to normal year end adjustments consistent with past practice which are not, individually or in the aggregate, material, and the absence of footnotes), (iii) are correct and complete in all material respects, and (iv) are consistent with the books and records of the Company. The Company has received unqualified audit opinions from Rehmann Robson Certified Public Accountants with respect to each of the audited Financial Statements described in clause (x) of this Section 4.7. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.7, the Company has no liabilities or obligations of any kind, whether accrued, absolute, fixed or contingent (together the "Liabilities"), except for (A) Liabilities set forth or reserved against on the February 28 Balance Sheet (in the amount or of the magnitude so set forth or reserved against), and (B) Liabilities arising in the ordinary course of business since February 28, 2007 (none of which is a result of a breach of Contract or violation of Law) which, individually or in the aggregate, have not had or would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

4.8. Absence of Certain Changes. Since July 31, 2006, the Company has operated only in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices, and there has not been any event, change, action, failure to act or transaction which, individually or in the aggregate, has had or would reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.8, since July 31, 2006, the Company has not taken any actions which, had such actions occurred after the date of this Agreement, would have breached any of the covenants contained in Section 6.2.

4.9. Compliance with Laws. To the Knowledge of the Company, the Company has been and is in compliance with all applicable Laws (which compliance includes the possession by the Company of all material authorizations, licenses, permits, exemptions, certificates and approvals of any Governmental Entity (each a "Permit" and, collectively, "Permits") required under applicable Law, all of which are in full force and effect, and the Company has been and is in compliance with the terms and conditions thereof), and to the Knowledge of the Company no event has occurred and no circumstance exists that (with or without notice or lapse of time) would result in the Company failing to be in compliance in any material respect with any Law or would result in the suspension or revocation of any Permit. Schedule 4.9 sets forth a complete and accurate list of all material Permits held by the Company. During the last five (5) years, the Company has not received any written communication that alleges that the Company, or any agent thereof, is, or may be, in violation of, or has, or may have any material liability under, any Laws which has not been resolved.

4.10. Litigation. Neither the Company nor any of the Shareholders (a) is subject to any Order, or (b) is a party to or the subject of, or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened to be made a party to or the subject of, any claim, action, suit, proceeding, hearing, audit or investigation in, by or before any Governmental Entity or any arbitrator ("Litigation"). Except as set forth on Schedule 4.10, since July 31, 2003 the Company has not been a party to any Litigation that has been settled, dismissed or resolved. There is no Litigation pending, or to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened, against or involving any director, officer or employee in connection with such Person's relationship with, or actions taken by such Person on behalf of, the Company.

4.11. Tax Matters. (a) The Company has duly and timely filed all Tax Returns required to be filed by them, and all such Tax Returns are true, complete and correct in all material respects. The Company has paid all Taxes due and owing by the Company (whether or not shown on any Tax Return). The February 28 Balance Sheet reflects adequate accruals for all Taxes payable by the Company for all taxable periods and portions thereof through February 28, 2007. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.11(a), since February 28, 2007, the Company has not incurred any liability for Taxes arising from extraordinary gains or losses, as that term is used in GAAP, outside the ordinary course of business consistent with past custom or practice.

(b) The Company has complied in all material respects with all applicable Laws relating to the payment and withholding of Taxes and has, within the time and in the manner prescribed by applicable Laws, withheld and paid over to the proper Governmental Entity all amounts required to have been withheld and paid in connection with amounts paid or owing to any employee, independent contractor, creditor, stockholder or other third party.

(c) Except as set forth on Schedule 4.11(c), (i) no deficiencies for any Taxes have been proposed, asserted or assessed against the Company, and no Significant Shareholder or officer or director (or employee responsible for Tax matters) of the Company has knowledge relating to any such deficiency or otherwise expects any Governmental Entity to assess any additional Taxes for any period for which Tax Returns have been filed, (ii) no Governmental Entity is conducting or proposing to conduct an audit or administrative or judicial proceeding with respect to Taxes or any Tax Returns of the Company, (iii) no extension or waiver of the statute of limitations with respect to Taxes or any Tax Return has been granted by the Company, which remains in effect, (iv) the Company is not a party to or bound by any Contract to allocate, share or indemnify another party for Taxes, (v) all Tax deficiencies which have been proposed, asserted or assessed against the Company have been fully paid or finally settled, and no issue has been raised in any examination by a taxing authority which, by application of similar principles, could be expected to result in the proposal or assertion of a Tax deficiency against the Company for another year not so examined, (vi) no power of attorney has been granted by or with respect to the Company with respect to any matter relating to Taxes which remains in effect, (vii) the Company has not received notice of a claim by any Governmental Entity in any jurisdiction where the Company does not file Tax Returns that the Company is or may be subject to taxation by that jurisdiction and (viii) the Company has not been a member of an affiliated group filing a consolidated federal income Tax Return, and the Company is not liable for the Taxes of any Person under Treasury Regulation Section 1.1502-6 (or any similar provision of state, local or foreign Law), as a transferee or successor, by contract, or otherwise.

(d) Schedule 4.11(d) sets forth the taxable years of the Company as to which the respective statutes of limitations with respect to Taxes have not expired and, with respect to such taxable years, those years for which examinations have been completed, those years for which examinations are presently being conducted, those years for which examinations have not been initiated and those years for which required Tax Returns have not yet been filed.

(e) The Company will not be required to include any item of income in, or exclude any item of deduction from, taxable income for any taxable period (or portion thereof) ending after the Closing Date as a result of any: change in method of accounting for a taxable period ending on or prior to the Closing Date; "closing agreement" as described in Section 7121 of the Code (or any corresponding or similar provision of state, local or foreign income Tax law) executed on or prior to the Closing Date; intercompany transaction or excess loss account described in Treasury Regulations under Section 1502 of the Code (or any corresponding or similar provision of state, local or foreign income Tax law); installment sale or open transaction disposition made on or prior to the Closing Date; or prepaid amount received on or prior to the Closing Date.

(f) The Company is not and has never been a "United States real property holding corporation" within the meaning of Section 897(c)(2) of the Code.

(g) The Company (i) has not taken any deduction or received any Tax benefit arising from participation in a tax shelter as defined for purposes of Section 6111(c) of the Code, and (ii) has not participated in a reportable transaction as defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.6011-4(b) and (c)(3) or any analogous or similar state, local, or foreign Law.

(h) There are no liens for Taxes (other than Taxes not yet due and payable) upon any of the assets of the Company.

(i) Schedule 4.11(i) sets forth, as of July 31, 2006, the approximate net operating loss carryforward of the Company for U.S. federal income Tax purposes. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.11(i), the Company is not subject to any restriction or limitation (including, without limitation, a restriction or limitation imposed under Section 382, 383 or 384 of the Code) on its ability to utilize such net operating loss carryforward.

(j) Except as set forth on Schedule 4.11(j), the Company has not constituted a "distributing corporation" or a "controlled corporation" (within the meaning of Section 355(a)(1)(A) of the Code) in a distribution of stock, occurring within the past two years, that was intended to qualify for tax-free treatment under Section 355 of the Code.

(k) The Company has made available to Buyer true, correct and complete copies of all federal income Tax Returns and all other Tax Returns, examination reports, and statements of deficiencies assessed against or agreed to by the Company that have been filed or received since December 31, 2004.

(l) Each material Tax election made by the Company has been timely and properly made.

4.12. Assets. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.12, the Company owns and has good and valid title, free and clear of Encumbrances (other than Permitted Encumbrances), to all of its assets, and such assets are adequate and sufficient for the continuing conduct of the business of the Company as currently conducted. All physical assets included in any of the assets of the Company are in good operating condition and repair, subject to normal wear and tear occurring in the ordinary course of business.

4.13. Real Property. (a) Schedule 4.13(a) sets forth a true and complete list of all real property owned by the Company (the "Owned Real Property Interests"). With respect to each of the Owned Real Property Interests listed and described on Schedule 4.13(a), (i) the Company has good and marketable fee simple title, free and clear of Encumbrances (other than Permitted Encumbrances), (ii) except as set forth on Schedule 4.13(a), the Company has not leased or otherwise granted to any Person the right to use or occupy such Owned Real Property Interest or any portion thereof, and (iii) other than the rights of Buyer pursuant to this Agreement, there are no unrecorded options, rights of first offer or rights of first refusal to purchase such Owned Real Property Interest or any portion thereof or interest therein.

(b) Schedule 4.13(b) includes a true and complete list of all leases, subleases, or other occupancies used by the Company or to which the Company is a party (the "Leased Real Property Interests"). Each of the Leased Real Property Interests is in full force and effect, free and clear of any Encumbrances (other than Permitted Encumbrances), and there is no default by the Company in respect of any such Leased Real Property Interests.

4.14. Related Party Transactions. (a) Except as set forth on Schedule 4.14(a), no Shareholder or other Related Party (i) has any interest in any property (real, personal, or mixed and whether tangible or intangible), used in or pertaining to the business of the Company as currently conducted, (ii) owns, of record or as a beneficial owner, an equity interest or any other financial or a profit interest in a Person that has had business dealings or a material financial interest in any transaction with the Company, or (iii) is a party to any Contract with, or has any claim or right against, the Company (except for employment and similar Contracts and claims thereunder or under any Benefit Plan).

(b) Except as set forth on Schedule 4.14(b), the Company is not indebted, directly or indirectly, to any Person who is a Related Party in any amount whatsoever, other than for salaries for services rendered or reimbursable business expenses, nor is any such Related Party indebted to the Company, except for advances made to employees of the Company in the ordinary course of business to meet reimbursable business expenses anticipated to be incurred by such obligor.

4.15. Contracts. (a) Schedule 4.15 sets forth each contract, agreement, commitment, arrangement or understanding, written or oral (each, a "Contract" and, collectively, "Contracts"), to which the Company is a party or by which the Company or any of its properties or assets is or may be bound (each, a "Company Contract" and, collectively, "Company Contracts"):

(i) for the lease from or to any Person of any real property;

(ii) for the lease of personal property under which the Company is the lessee and is obligated to make payments of more than $25,000 per annum;

(iii) which concerns a partnership or joint venture with any Person;

(iv) which is a marketing, sales, advertising or distribution agreement relating to the Products or the Company's service offerings;

(v) which restricts the conduct of any business by the Company or any of its Affiliates, or any geographic area in which the Company or any of its Affiliates may conduct business or the ability of the Company or any of its

Affiliates to solicit for hire or to hire any Person;

(vi) which obligates any Person to maintain confidentiality of information relating to the Company or any of its Affiliates or obligates the Company or any of its Affiliates to maintain confidentiality of information relating to any Person;

(vii) which constitutes a license, sublicense or permission in respect of, or grants any right to use or practice any rights under, any intellectual property, whether the Company is the licensee or licensor thereunder, or for the development or acquisition of intellectual property;

(viii) which is a stock purchase agreement, asset purchase agreement or other acquisition or divestiture Contract entered into by the Company during the past five (5) years or contains any indemnification provision that is currently in effect;

(ix) with respect to the lending or investing of funds by the Company to or in any Person other than the Company;

(x) which relates to any Litigation that was pending against the Company at any time during the last five years;

(xi) which is a Company Contract not otherwise required to be disclosed by this Section 4.15, requiring payments after the date hereof to or by the Company of $25,000 or more over the life of the Company Contract, other than customer purchase orders entered into in the ordinary course of business;

(xii) which was not entered into in the ordinary course of business; or

(xiii) which, individually or with all other Company Contracts of the same type or with the same or Affiliated parties (whether or not required to be disclosed under any of the other clauses of this Section 4.15), is material to the Company irrespective of amount.

(b) The Company has made available to Buyer complete and correct copies of each written Company Contract (including all amendments thereto) and a summary of the material terms of each oral Company Contract (or a copy of written terms proposed for Company Contracts not executed but in which performance has begun) required to be listed in Schedule 4.15. All of the Company Contracts are valid and legally binding obligations of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with their respective terms, except as limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent conveyance, reorganization, moratorium or similar Laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights and, neither the Company, nor, to the Knowledge of the Company, any other party to any Company Contract is in breach or default thereunder, and to the Knowledge of the Company, no event has occurred which, with notice or lapse of time or both would constitute a breach or default thereof, require indemnification by the Company thereunder, or permit termination or modification thereof or acceleration thereunder.

4.16. Insurance. Schedule 4.16 contains a true and complete list of all policies of excess loss, fire, liability, production, completion bond, workmen's compensation and other forms of insurance currently in effect or in effect at any time since July 31, 2003 covering any of the assets, business, officers, directors or employees of the Company. All current insurance policies are in full force and effect and all premiums with respect thereto covering all periods up to and including the Closing Date have been paid or will be paid prior to the Closing. Such policies (i) are sufficient for compliance with all requirements of Law and of all Company Contracts, (ii) provide insurance coverage for the assets and business of the Company consistent with the coverage customarily maintained by similarly situated companies, (iii) cover the respective policy periods set forth in Schedule 4.16, and (iv) will not in any way be affected by, or terminate or lapse by reason of, the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents. During the last three years, the Company has not been refused any insurance, nor has its coverage been limited by any insurance carrier. The Company has timely filed all claims for which they are seeking payment or other coverage under any of their insurance policies. The Company has not received any notice of increase in premiums with respect to, or any notice of cancellation or non-renewal of, any of its current insurance policies, and the Company has not made any claim against an insurance policy as to which the insurer is denying coverage or defending the claim under a reservation of rights.

4.17. Employees; Benefits. (a) Schedule 4.17(a)(i) sets forth a list of all Benefit Plans. The Company does not have any Contract, whether legally binding or not, to maintain or modify any Benefit Plan, or to establish any other compensation or employee benefit plan, program, agreement or arrangement. The Company has delivered to Buyer complete and correct copies of each material Benefit Plan. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.17(a)(ii), each Benefit Plan may be amended, terminated or otherwise discontinued at the will of the Company without any liability for such amendment, termination or discontinuance other than for the payment of benefits accrued through the date thereof. The Company has no present intention to materially amend, suspend, terminate or otherwise modify any Benefit Plan in a manner that would adversely change benefits (or the level thereof) thereunder. Since January 1, 2006, there has not been any amendment or change in interpretation relating to any Benefit Plan which would, individually or in the aggregate, materially increase the aggregate cost to the Company of such Benefit Plan.

(b) Except as set forth on Schedule 4.17(b), the Company is not and has not ever been (i) a member of a "controlled group of corporations," under "common control" or an "affiliated service group" within the meaning of Section 414(b), (c) or (m) of the Code, (ii) required to be aggregated under Section 414(o) of the Code or (iii) under "common control," within the meaning of Section 4001(a)(14) of ERISA, or any regulations promulgated or proposed under any of the foregoing Sections, in each case with any other entity.

(c) Each Benefit Plan has been administered in material compliance with the terms thereof and all applicable Laws (including, without limitation, (i) provisions relating to the timely making of contributions, premiums and payments, and (ii) the prohibited transaction provisions of Section 406 of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code). Each Benefit Plan which is an "employee pension benefit plan" (within the meaning of Section 3(2) of ERISA) and which is intended to be qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code has received a favorable determination letter for such determination from the Internal Revenue Service, and no circumstances exist which could reasonably be expected to adversely affect such qualification. Each Benefit Plan that is required to be registered or approved by a Governmental Entity has been registered with, or approved by, such Governmental Entity and has been maintained in accordance with such registration or approval requirements.

(d) No Benefit Plan is subject to Title IV of ERISA or Section 412 of the Code, and no Benefit Plan is a "multiemployer plan" (as defined in Section 3(37) of ERISA). The Company has never participated in a voluntary employees beneficiary association, as defined in Section 501(c)(9) of the Code nor has it participated in a "multiemployer plan".

(e) Except as set forth on Schedule 4.17(e), with respect to any Benefit Plan that provides medical, health, life insurance or other, similar benefits, (i) no such Benefit Plan provides benefits beyond termination of employment or retirement other than coverage mandated by statute, and (ii) claims under each such Benefit Plan (x) are subject to contracts of insurance or (y) are subject to contracts with one or more health maintenance organizations, in the case of each of (x) and (y) pursuant to which one or more entities other than the Company bear the liability for such claims. Each insurance contract relating to any Benefit Plan is valid and enforceable, and, to the Knowledge of the Company, there is no ground on which the insurer might avoid liability thereunder.

(f) Except as set forth on Schedule 4.17(f), the execution and delivery of, and performance of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any Ancillary Document will not (either alone or upon the occurrence of any additional or subsequent events) (i) constitute an event under any Benefit Plan that will or is reasonably likely to result in any payment (whether of severance pay or otherwise), acceleration, forgiveness of indebtedness, vesting, distribution, increase in benefits or obligation to fund benefits with respect to any employee of the Company, or (ii) result in the triggering or imposition of any restrictions or limitations on the right of the Company or Buyer to cause any such Benefit Plan to be amended or terminated (or which would result in any adverse consequence for so doing). Except as set forth on Schedule 4.17(f), no payment or benefit that will or may be made by the Company with respect to any employee of the Company under any Benefit Plan in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement will be characterized as an "excess parachute payment" within the meaning of Section 280G(b)(1) of the Code.

(g) The Company (i) is not delinquent in payments to any of its employees for any wages, salaries, commissions, bonuses or other direct compensation for any services performed by such employee or for reimbursement of expenses, and (ii) is in compliance in all material respects with all applicable Laws respecting employment, employment practices, labor, employment discrimination, civil rights, safety and health workers' compensation, pay equity, classification of employees, the collection and payment of withholding and/or social security taxes, terms and conditions of employment and wages and hours. Except as set forth in Schedule 4.17(g), (w) the Company is not a party to any collective bargaining agreement covering any current or former employees of any of them; (x) there is no unfair labor practice complaint or charge against the Company pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened before the National Labor Relations Board or similar body of any other Governmental Entity; (y) there is no labor strike, dispute, slowdown or stoppage pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened against or affecting the Company and there has been no such job action during the past three years; and (z) no representation question exists respecting the employees of the Company, and, to the Knowledge of the Company, there are no current organizing activities among the employees of the Company. Without limiting the generality of this Section 4.17(g), to the Knowledge of the Company, any individual who performs services for the Company and who is not classified as an employee by the Company is not an employee for purposes of (i) payments of wages and related withholding of Taxes, or (ii) participation in any Benefit Plan.

(h) The Company does not have any liability for payments or benefits due as a result of any "mass layoff" or "employment loss" (as each is defined in the Worker Adjustment and Restraining Notification Act of 1988) which has not been satisfied in full; nor has the Company been affected by any transaction or engaged in layoffs or employment terminations sufficient in number to trigger application of any similar state or local Law.

(i) There are no written personnel policies or employee handbooks applicable to employees of the Company other than those set forth on Schedule 4.17(i). Complete and correct copies of such written personnel policies and employee handbooks have heretofore been delivered to Buyer.

(j) Except as set forth on Schedule 4.14(b) or Schedule 4.17(j), there are no outstanding notes payable from, accounts receivable from, or advances by the Company to, and the Company is not otherwise a creditor of, any employee of the Company, other than compensation advances in the ordinary course of business.

4.18. Intellectual Property Rights. The Company owns or has the right to use all Intellectual Property Rights used in the conduct of the business of the Company as currently conducted, including, without limitation, the ownership or right to use the name "Midway," as its, or as a part of its, trade name, corporate name, brand name, d/b/a name, trademark, service mark or any other identifier of source or goodwill, in connection with the operation of its business, as currently conducted, without conflict with rights of other Persons ("Company Intellectual Property Rights"), and all such Company Intellectual Property Rights owned by the Company are free and clear of all Encumbrances (other than Permitted Encumbrances). Neither the execution or delivery of this Agreement, nor the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby will alter or impair the Company Intellectual Property Rights or, with or without notice or lapse of time, result in, or give any other Person the right or option to cause or declare, a breach or termination of, or cancellation or reduction in rights of the Company under, any Contract providing for the license of any Intellectual Property Right to the Company. The Company has taken all commercially reasonable steps to protect and maintain the Company Intellectual Property Rights, including by obtaining enforceable assignment and confidentiality agreements from any employee or consultant that could reasonably be expected to create Company Intellectual Property Rights. To the Knowledge of the Company, no Person is infringing or otherwise violating the Company Intellectual Property Rights. Schedule 4.18 lists all Company Intellectual Property Rights owned by the Company that are patents, and applications therefor, registered trademarks, trade names, service names and service marks, logos and trade dress and applications therefor, and copyright registrations and applications therefor. To the Knowledge of the Company, the Company is not infringing or otherwise violating the Intellectual Property Rights of any other Person. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.18, since March 1, 2001, the Company has not received any written notice alleging that the Company is infringing upon or otherwise violating the Intellectual Property Rights of any Person, and to the Knowledge of the Company, there are no facts that would support any such allegation. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.18, the Company is not a party to any action, suit or other proceeding relating to Intellectual Property Rights.

4.19. Books and Records. The books and records of the Company have been maintained in accordance with sound business practices, including the maintenance of an adequate system of internal controls, and fairly and accurately reflect, in all material respects, on a basis consistent with past periods and throughout the periods involved, (i) the financial position of the Company, and (ii) all transactions of the Company. The minute books of the Company, complete and correct copies of which have been delivered to Buyer, contain complete and correct records of all meetings held of, and corporate actions taken by, the shareholders, the board of directors, and committees, if any, of the board of directors of the Company, as applicable, and no meeting of any such shareholders, board of directors or committees has been held for which minutes have not been prepared and are not contained in such minute books.

4.20. Suppliers and Customers. Schedule 4.20 contains a list of the top twenty (20) suppliers of the Company and the top twenty (20) customers of the Company in each case for the seven (7) month period ending February 28, 2007. Since July 31, 2003, there has been no termination, cancellation or threatened termination or cancellation of, or any modification in, or any dissatisfaction with, or adverse change in, the business relationship of the Company with any supplier, vendor, customer or client of the Company listed on Schedule 4.20, except for such occurrences in the ordinary course of business which, individually or in the aggregate, have not had or would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. To the Knowledge of the Company there exists no threatened termination or cancellation of, or any modification in, or any dissatisfaction with, or adverse change in, the business relationship of the Company with any material supplier, vendor, customer or client of the Company.

4.21. Environmental Matters. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.21, (i) The Company is in compliance in all material respects with all applicable Environmental Laws and possesses and is in compliance in all material respects with all permits, licenses, authorizations, certifications and registrations required under Environmental Law; (ii) all real property currently or formerly owned, leased or operated by the Company, or any its predecessors, are free of any Hazardous Substances constituting a material violation of, or likely to give rise to material liability under Environmental Laws; (iii) there have been no releases of Hazardous Substances at, under, about or migrating to or from, any real property currently or formerly owned, leased or operated by the Company, or any its predecessors, requiring investigation, remediation or other response action pursuant to Environmental Law; (iv) the Company is not the subject of any pending, or to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened, claims, notices, actions, suits, hearings, investigations, inquiries, or proceedings alleging a violation of, or liability under, Environmental Law; (v) to the Knowledge of the Company, there are no past or present conditions, events, facts or circumstances that may interfere with or prevent continued compliance by the Company with Environmental Laws or that may cause the Company to incur liability or other obligations under any Environmental Laws; and (vi) the Shareholders have delivered to Buyer true and complete copies and results of any written reports, studies, analyses, tests, or monitoring possessed by the Shareholders or the Company pertaining to any releases of Hazardous Substances at, under, about or migrating to or from, any real property currently or formerly owned, leased or operated by the Company, or any of its predecessors, or concerning compliance by the Company with Environmental Laws.

4.22. Power of Attorney. None of the Shareholders or the Company has given any irrevocable power of attorney (other than such powers of attorney given in the ordinary course of business with respect to routine matters or as may be necessary or desirable in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby) to any Person for any purpose whatsoever with respect to the Company.

4.23. Product Warranty and Product Liability. There is no notice, demand, claim, action, suit, inquiry, hearing, proceeding, notice of violation or investigation from, by or before any Governmental Entity relating to any product, including the packaging and advertising related thereto, designed, formulated, manufactured, processed, sold, distributed or placed in the stream of commerce by the Company (a "Product"), or claim or lawsuit involving a Product which is, to the Knowledge of the Company, pending or threatened in writing, by any Person which is reasonably likely to result in any material liability to the Company. There has not been, nor is there under consideration by the Company, any Product recall or post-sale warning conducted by or on behalf of the Company concerning any Product. To the Knowledge of the Company, all Products, comply in all material respects with applicable specifications, government safety standards and Laws, and are substantially free from contamination, deficiencies or defects.

4.24. Purchase and Sale Agreements. No claims for indemnification under any prior purchase and sale agreements to which the Company is a party, have been made by or against the Company in the last five (5) years, or are pending or threatened by the Company and, no claims for indemnification have been made in the last five (5) years, or to the Knowledge of the Company are pending or threatened, by any counterparties thereto.

4.25. Escheat Property. The Company has no Liabilities under any applicable Laws pertaining to abandoned property, escheat or other similar Laws with respect to return of fees, outstanding payables, unclaimed checks or other similar matters.

ARTICLE V

Representations and Warranties of Buyer

Buyer represents and warrants to the Shareholders, as follows:

5.1. Organization. Buyer is a corporation duly organized, validly existing, and in good standing under the Laws of the State of Delaware.

5.2. Authorization of Transaction. (a) Buyer has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and each Ancillary Document to which it is a party and to perform its obligations hereunder and thereunder, and the execution, delivery and performance by Buyer of this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents to which it is a party have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of Buyer.

(b) This Agreement and each Ancillary Document to which Buyer is a party constitute, or upon execution will constitute, a valid and legally binding obligation of Buyer enforceable against it in accordance with their respective terms, except as limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent conveyance, reorganization, moratorium or similar Laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights.

5.3. No Conflicts. With the exception of any filing required under the HSR Act, if any, the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents to which Buyer is a party and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby do not require Buyer to give any notice to, make any filing with, or obtain any authorization, consent, or approval of, any Person other than such notices, filings, authorization, consents and approvals the failure of which to be given, made or obtained would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on the ability of Buyer to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby (it being understood that in making the foregoing representation and warranty, Buyer is relying on the accuracy of the representations and warranties of the Shareholders contained in Sections 3.2 and 4.6).

5.4. Financing. At the Closing Buyer will have cash in an amount sufficient to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

ARTICLE VI

Covenants

6.1. Reasonable Efforts; Notification. (a) If the Estimated Purchase Price delivered to Buyer in accordance with Section 2.3(a) is greater than $57,000,000 (which Estimated Purchase Price shall be reasonably agreed to by Buyer), then as soon as practicable, and in any event no later than five (5) Business Days after receipt of such calculation by Buyer, each of the Parties hereto shall file any Notification and Report Forms and related material required to be filed by it with the Federal Trade Commission and the Antitrust Division of the United States Department of Justice under the HSR Act with respect to transactions contemplated hereby and shall promptly make any further filings pursuant thereto that may be necessary, proper or advisable. If a filing is required pursuant to this Section 6.1(a), the Closing will not occur hereunder until the expiration or termination of all applicable waiting periods (and any extensions thereof) under the HSR Act and the Termination Date shall be extended for up to sixty (60) days to enable the Parties to comply with the requirements of the HSR Act.

(b) Each Party shall furnish to the other Parties all information required or reasonably necessary for any application or other filing to be made pursuant to any applicable Law in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Each Party shall promptly inform the other Party of any communication with any Governmental Entity regarding any such filings. Each of the Parties shall use reasonable efforts to resolve such objections, if any, as may be asserted by any Governmental Entity with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement under any applicable Laws. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed to require Buyer or any of its Affiliates to enter into any agreement with any Governmental Entity or to consent to any Order requiring Buyer or any of its Affiliates to hold separate or divest, or to restrict the dominion or control of, any of its assets or businesses or any of the stock, assets or business of Buyer, the Company or any of Buyer's Affiliates.

(c) Each of the Parties shall use reasonable efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, and to assist and cooperate with the other Parties in doing, all things necessary, proper or advisable to consummate and make effective, in the most expeditious manner practicable, the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents, including (i) the giving of all other notices to, the making of all other filings with, and the obtaining of all other authorizations, consents and approvals from, Governmental Entities and other Persons, (ii) the obtaining of any third party consents, Debt pay-off letters, lease amendments and other agreements and documents required to satisfy the conditions set forth in Article VII of this Agreement, and (iii) the execution and delivery of any additional documents that may be necessary or desirable to consummate the transactions contemplated by, and to fully carry out the purposes of, this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents.

(d) The Company and the Shareholders shall keep Buyer informed, on a current basis, of any events, discussions, notices or changes with respect to any criminal or regulatory investigation or action involving the Company or any of the Shareholders (to the extent relating to the Company), so that Buyer and its Affiliates will have the opportunity to take appropriate steps to avoid or mitigate any regulatory consequences to them that might arise from such investigation or action.

6.2. Conduct of the Business. During the period from the date of this Agreement to the Closing, the Company shall and the Shareholders shall cause the Company to (a) conduct its operations in the ordinary course and in a manner consistent with prior practice; (b) use reasonable efforts to maintain and preserve its business organization and to retain the services of their officers and key employees and maintain relationships with customers, clients and other third parties to the end that their goodwill and ongoing business shall not be impaired; (c) maintain its assets in good working order; and (d) comply in all material respects with all applicable Laws. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, during the period from the date of this Agreement to the Closing, the Company shall not and the Shareholders shall cause the Company to not, except as otherwise expressly contemplated by this Agreement or as set forth in Schedule 6.2, without the prior written consent of Buyer:

(i) do or effect any of the following actions with respect to securities of the Company: (A) adjust, split, combine or reclassify its capital stock, (B) grant (whether or not for consideration) any Person any option or other right to acquire any shares of capital stock or other securities of the Company, (C) issue (whether or not for consideration) any shares of capital stock or other securities, or (D) enter into any Company Contract with respect to the sale, voting, registration or repurchase of the capital stock of the Company;

(ii) other than with respect to the distribution of the Excluded Assets as provided in Section 6.11, declare or pay any non-cash dividend or make any non-cash distribution in respect of, or repurchase or redeem, any shares of capital stock, except that the Company shall be permitted to make cash distributions to Shareholders and key employees of the Company, at any time prior to the close of business on the day preceding the Closing Date so long as any such distributions are reflected in the Purchase Price;

(iii) directly or indirectly sell, transfer, pledge, otherwise create any Encumbrance on or otherwise dispose of any of the assets of the Company, except for sale of products and services in the ordinary course of business, and the distribution of the Excluded Assets as provided in Section 6.11;

(iv) amend its certificate of incorporation or bylaws;

(v) merge or consolidate with any other Person;

(vi) acquire assets (other than purchases of supplies in the ordinary course of business in a manner consistent with past practice) or capital stock or other securities of any other Person;

(vii) incur, create, assume or otherwise become liable for any Debt or assume, guarantee, endorse or otherwise, as an accommodation, become responsible or liable for the obligations of any other Person other than in the ordinary course of business, except that the Company may incur Debt required for payments to be made to certain key employees of the Company set forth on Schedule 6.2(vii), so long as all such Debt and payments are reflected in the Purchase Price;

(viii) enter into or modify any employment, severance, stay-pay, termination or similar Company Contracts with, or grant any bonuses, salary increases, severance or termination pay to, any Employee, or otherwise increase the compensation or benefits provided to any Employee, except as may be required by applicable Law;

(ix) enter into or adopt any new employee benefit plan, program or other similar Company Contract or amend any Benefit Plan except as may be required by applicable Law;

(x) make or change any election, change an annual accounting period, adopt or change any accounting method, file any Tax Return including any amended Tax Return, enter into any closing agreement, settle any Tax claim or assessment relating to the Company, surrender any right to claim a refund of Taxes, consent to any extension or waiver of the limitation period applicable to any Tax claim or assessment relating to the Company, or take any other similar action relating to the filing of any Tax Return or the payment of any Tax, if such election, adoption, change, amendment, agreement, settlement, surrender, consent or other action would have the effect of increasing the Tax liability of the Company for any period ending after the Closing Date or decreasing any Tax attribute of the Company existing on the Closing Date;

(xi) amend or terminate, or waive, release or assign any rights or claims with respect to, any Company Contract or Permit other than in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices which, individually or in the aggregate, has not had or would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect;

(xii) enter into any confidentiality, standstill or non-compete Company Contracts under which the Company is the obligor, or modify or waive any of their rights under any existing confidentiality, standstill or non-compete Company Contract under which the Company is the beneficiary;

(xiii) incur or commit to any capital expenditures, except for the purchase of assets as set forth on Schedule 6.2(xiii);

(xiv) accelerate collection of accounts receivable, delay payment of accounts payable, or change cash balances of the Company from the collection, payment, and cash management policies of the Company in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices;

(xv) enter into, amend, terminate or waive any provision of any Contract with any Related Party or enter into any new transaction with any Related Party;

(xvi) take any action that would result in any of the representations and warranties set forth in Article IV becoming false or inaccurate in any material respect, except as may be required by applicable Laws;

(xvii) enter into or amend in any respect any labor or collective bargaining agreement or, through negotiation or otherwise, make any commitment to incur any liability to any labor organization;

(xviii) enter into, terminate, renew, modify or amend any Contract, other than in the ordinary course of business, and in each case involving amounts in excess of $25,000; or

(xix) agree to take any of the foregoing actions.

6.3. Access. During the period from the date hereof to the Closing, the Shareholders shall cause the Company to (i) permit Buyer and its representatives and financing sources of Buyer to have full access at all reasonable times to the Company's premises, books, records, Company Contracts, documents, division, store and branch managers and cause the Company's independent accountants to give Buyer reasonable access to its accountants' work papers, including without limitation reasonable access to enable Buyer to perform environmental site assessments at such places of business of the Company as Buyer requests, (ii) furnish to Buyer and its representatives and financing sources such financial and operating data and other information as such Persons may reasonably request, (iii) instruct its employees, directors, counsel and financial advisors to cooperate with Buyer in its investigation of the business of the Company and (iv) cooperate to provide reasonable access to customers and suppliers, provided, that with respect to access to customers only, such access must be (x) approved by Michael J. Cetro or a division manager of the Company and (y) in instances of direct communication or contact, Michael J. Cetro or a division manager of the Company must be present electronically or in person. No investigation pursuant to this Section 6.3 shall affect any representation or warranty in this Agreement of any Party or any condition to the obligations of the Parties. All information provided pursuant to this Section 6.3 shall be subject to the Confidentiality Agreement, dated January 19, 2007, between the Company and McJunkin Corporation.

6.4. Notification of Certain Matters. During the period from the date hereof to the Closing, the Shareholders shall give prompt notice to Buyer, and Buyer shall give prompt notice to the Representative, of (i) the occurrence or nonoccurrence of any event which would cause any representation or warranty by the Company or the Shareholders, or by Buyer, as applicable, contained in this Agreement to be untrue or inaccurate in any material respect at or prior to the Closing Date, and (ii) any material failure by the Company or any of the Shareholders, or by Buyer, as applicable, to comply with or satisfy any covenant, condition or agreement to be complied with or satisfied by them hereunder; provided, however, that the delivery of any notice pursuant to this Section 6.4 shall not limit or otherwise affect the remedies available hereunder to the Party to which such notice is given.

6.5. Certain Shareholder Restrictions. From the date of this Agreement to the Closing Date, each of the Shareholders agrees it shall not (a) sell, transfer, encumber, assign or otherwise dispose of, or enter into any Contract with respect to the sale, transfer, encumbrance, assignment or other disposition of, any of the Company Stock, or (b) take any action, or omit to take any action, which would have the effect of preventing or disabling such Shareholder from delivering such Shareholder's Company Stock to Buyer at the Closing free and clear of any Encumbrances or otherwise performing such Shareholder's obligations under this Agreement.

6.6. Shareholder Non-Compete and other Agreements. At or prior to the Closing, the Company and each Person listed on Schedule 6.6 shall enter into a Non-Compete and Non-Solicitation Agreement in the form attached hereto as Exhibit C (each, a "Non-Compete Agreement").

6.7. Shareholders' Post-Closing Confidentiality Obligation. Each Shareholder acknowledges that (i) during the course of its affiliation with the Company, it has produced and had access to Confidential Information, and (ii) the unauthorized use or disclosure of any Confidential Information at any time would constitute unfair competition with Buyer and would deprive Buyer of the benefits of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Each Shareholder agrees that it will hold in confidence the Confidential Information and will not, directly or indirectly, disclose, publish, or otherwise make available any of the Confidential Information to the public or to any Person or use any of the Confidential Information for its own benefit or for the benefit of any other Person, other than Buyer and its Affiliates; provided, however, that such Shareholder may disclose Confidential Information if, but only to the extent, required to do so by Law; provided, however, that in such case, such Shareholder shall provide Buyer with prior written notice thereof so that Buyer may seek an appropriate protective order or other appropriate remedy, and such Shareholder shall cooperate with the Company in connection therewith; and provided, further, that, in the event that a protective order or other remedy is not obtained, such Shareholder shall furnish only that portion of such information which, in the opinion of its counsel, such Shareholder is legally compelled to disclose and shall exercise commercially reasonable efforts to obtain reliable assurance that confidential treatment will be accorded any such information so disclosed. Each Shareholder acknowledges that, Buyer shall, without prejudice to any rights to judicial relief it may otherwise have, shall be entitled to seek equitable relief, including injunctive relief, in the event of any breach of this Section 6.7 and that such Shareholder will not resist such application for relief on the basis that Buyer has an adequate remedy at law.

6.8. Release of Claims by Shareholders. Effective upon the Closing, each of the Shareholders, on such Shareholder's own behalf and on behalf of such Shareholder's heirs, executors, administrators, legal representatives, successors and assigns, hereby irrevocably releases, acquits, and forever discharges the Company and each of its present or former officers, directors, agents, employees, employee benefit plans (and the fiduciaries thereof) and other Affiliates, in each case, in their capacity as such, and the successors and assigns of any of the foregoing (each, a "Released Party"), from any and all claims, actions, causes of action, suits, rights, debts, agreements, damages, injuries, losses, costs, expenses, (including legal fees) and demands whatsoever and all consequences thereof, of every nature or description, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, foreseen or unforeseen, actual or potential, whether existing as of the Closing or arising thereafter, that any of the Shareholders ever had, now has or may in the future have against any of the Released Parties, in law or in equity, as a result of any act, transaction, agreement, event or omission, occurring or committed from the beginning of time to the Closing (the "Released Claims"). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the following shall not constitute a Released Claim: (y) any obligation by Buyer or the Company to be performed after the Closing pursuant to this Agreement or any of the Ancillary Documents; and (z) any amounts owing under any Benefit Plan disclosed on Schedule 4.17(a)(i).

6.9. Taxes. (a) Buyer shall prepare or cause to be prepared and timely file or cause to be timely filed all Tax Returns for the Company for any Tax period that ends on or before the Closing Date (a "Pre-Closing Period") that are due (taking into account extensions) after the Closing Date. All such Pre-Closing Period Tax Returns shall be prepared on a basis consistent with the past practices of the Company, unless otherwise required by Law (as reasonably determined by Buyer). The Shareholders shall be jointly and severally responsible for the timely payment of all Taxes due on such Pre-Closing Period Tax Returns, except to the extent that the liability for such Taxes is reflected in the Final Statement of Purchase Price. Buyer shall provide the Representative copies of all Pre-Closing Period Tax Returns at least 15 days before filing for the Representative's review and comment. The Representative shall have ten days to comment on each such Tax Return described in this Section 6.9(a). If the Representative delivers written comments to Buyer within the applicable ten-day period, Buyer shall consider such written comments in good faith, and Buyer and the Representative shall negotiate in good faith in order to resolve any material disputes with respect to such Tax Return.

(b) Buyer shall prepare or cause to be prepared and timely file or cause to be timely filed any Tax Returns of the Company for taxable periods beginning on or before and ending after the Closing (a "Straddle Period"). All such Straddle Period Tax Returns shall be prepared on a basis consistent with the past practices of the Company, unless otherwise required by Law (as reasonably determined by Buyer). The Shareholders shall be jointly and severally responsible for the timely payment of the Taxes attributable to the portion of the Straddle Period ending on the Closing Date, determined under the principles of Section 6.9(c), except to the extent that the liability for such Taxes is reflected in the Final Statement of Purchase Price. Buyer shall provide the Representative with copies of the portions of such Tax Returns that relate to the portion of the Straddle Period ending on the Closing Date at least 15 days before filing for the Representative's review and comment. The Representative shall have ten days to comment on each such portion of such Tax Return described in this Section 6.9(b). If the Representative delivers written comments to Buyer within the applicable ten-day period, Buyer shall consider such written comments in good faith, and Buyer and the Representative shall negotiate in good faith in order to resolve any material disputes with respect to such Tax Return.

(c) For purposes of determining the liability of the Shareholders for Taxes with respect to a Straddle Period under Section 6.9(b) and Section 6.9(g), the following rules of apportionment shall apply: (i) real and personal property Taxes for the taxable period that includes the Closing Date shall be prorated between the Shareholders and Buyer, with such Taxes being borne by the Shareholders based on the ratio of the number of days in the relevant period prior to and including the Closing Date to the total number of days in the actual taxable period with respect to which such Taxes are assessed, and being borne by Buyer based on the ratio of the number of days in the relevant period after the Closing Date to the total number of days in the actual taxable period with respect to which such Taxes are assessed, irrespective of when such Taxes are due, become a lien or are assessed; (ii) sales and use Tax shall be deemed to accrue as property is purchased, sold, used, or transferred; and (iii) all other Taxes shall accrue in accordance with GAAP, except for income Tax or Tax measured by receipts, which shall accrue by way of a closing of books, as though the relevant taxable period had ended on the Closing Date.

(d) Buyer and the Representative agree, upon request, to use their reasonable efforts to obtain any certificate or other document from any Governmental Entity or any other person as may be necessary to mitigate, reduce or eliminate any Tax that could be imposed (including, but not limited to with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement).

(e) The Parties shall reasonably cooperate with each other in a timely manner in the preparation and filing of any Tax Returns, the payment of any Taxes in accordance with this Agreement, and the conduct of any Tax audit or other Tax proceeding. Each Party shall execute and deliver such powers of attorney and make available such other documents as are reasonably necessary to carry out the intent of this Section 6.9.

(f) The Company shall retain copies of all reports, returns or records relating to Pre-Closing Periods and Straddle Periods (including, without limitation, supporting schedules and data). At the request and the expense of the Representative, the Company shall deliver to the Representative a copy of any and all such reports, returns or records. No such reports, returns or records shall be destroyed without first advising the Representative, identifying such reports, returns or records and giving the Representative, at least 30 days' notice to obtain possession thereof.

(g) Each Significant Shareholder shall jointly and severally indemnify and each Non-Significant Shareholder shall severally but not jointly indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Buyer Indemnitees from and against any Losses attributable to (i) all liabilities for Taxes (including for the non-payment thereof) of the Company for all Tax periods ending on or before the Closing Date and the portion of the Straddle Period attributable to the Shareholders under the principles of Section 6.9(c) above, except to the extent that the liability for such Taxes is reflected in the Final Statement of Purchase Price, (ii) all Taxes arising from, attributable to, or related to the Excluded Assets and the Company's distribution thereof, except to the extent that the liability for such Taxes is reflected in the Final Statement of Purchase Price, (iii) all Taxes of any member of an affiliated, consolidated, combined or unitary group of which the Company (or any predecessor of the Company) is or was a member on or prior to the Closing Date, including pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.1502-6 or any analogous or similar state, local, or foreign law or regulation, and (iv) any and all liabilities for Taxes of any Person imposed on the Company as a transferee or successor, by Contract or pursuant to any Law, which relates to an event or transaction occurring before the Closing. The Shareholders shall pay Buyer for any amounts which are the responsibility of the Shareholders pursuant to this Section 6.9(g) by the later of (i) five days prior to payment of such amount by Buyer or the Company, and (ii) within five days after Buyer makes written demand upon the Representative.

(h) Buyer, on the one hand, and the Representative, on the other hand, shall (i) use reasonable efforts to keep the other advised as to the status of Tax audits or other Litigation involving any Tax relating to a Pre-Closing Period that could give rise to a liability of the Shareholders to Buyer under this Agreement (a "Tax Liability Issue"), (ii) promptly furnish to the other copies of any inquiries or requests for information from any Tax authority concerning any Tax Liability Issue, (iii) timely notify the other regarding any proposed written communication to any such Tax authority with respect to such Tax Liability Issue, (iv) promptly furnish to the other upon receipt copies of any information or document requests, notices of proposed adjustment, revenue agent's reports or similar reports or notices of deficiencies together with all relevant documents and Tax Returns related to the foregoing documents, notices or reports, relating to any Tax Liability Issue, (v) give the other and its or their accountants and counsel the reasonable opportunity to review and comment in advance on all written submissions, filings and any other information relevant to any Tax Liability Issue, and (vi) consider in good faith any suggestions made by the other and its or their accountants and counsel to submit documentation or attend those portions of any meetings and proceedings that relate to such proposed adjustment; provided, however, that the failure of one party to so notify the other party of any such audit or Tax controversy shall not affect the other party's obligations under this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the parties may make appropriate redactions in the submissions, filings and any other information provided to the other to preserve the confidentiality of such information as to issues that are not Tax Liability Issues.

(i) Subject to Section 6.9(h), Buyer shall have full responsibility for and discretion in handling, in good faith, any Tax controversy relating to a Pre-Closing Period or Straddle Period, including, without limitation, an audit, a protest to the appeals division of the Internal Revenue Service, and any Litigation in United States Tax Court or any other court of competent jurisdiction involving the Company (a "Pre-Closing Proceeding"), provided, in the case of a Pre-Closing Proceeding relating solely to a Pre-Closing Period, the Representative may elect to assume the defense of such Pre-Closing Proceeding by giving Buyer written notice of such election within five Business Days of the Representatives' receipt of notice of such claim. If the Representative assumes the defense of such Pre-Closing Proceeding relating solely to a Pre-Closing Period, the Representative shall do so at the Shareholders' sole cost and expense, through legal counsel reasonably acceptable to Buyer, and Buyer shall nonetheless have the right to participate in the defense or settlement of such Pre-Closing Proceeding, at its sole cost and expense, through its own legal counsel. In the event that the Representative assumes the defense or prosecution of a Pre-Closing Proceeding, Representative shall not settle or compromise a claim or consent to the entry of any judgment without the prior written consent of Buyer, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed.

(j) Any Tax refunds that are received by Buyer or the Company, and any amounts credited against Taxes to which Buyer or the Company become entitled, that relate to a Pre-Closing Period and were not reflected in the calculation of the Final Statement of Purchase Price (excluding, for these purposes, any Tax refund to the extent such refund results from a carry back of a net operating loss, credit or similar item arising in a taxable period (or portion thereof) beginning after the Closing Date) shall be for the account of the Shareholders, and Buyer shall pay over to the Shareholders any such refund or the amount of any such credit, in each case, net of any Tax or other cost to the Company resulting from the receipt of such refund or application of such credit, within ten days after (x) the receipt of any such refund or (y) the application of such credit against a Tax, as applicable. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event any redetermination by any Governmental Entity reduces any refund or credit described in the first sentence of this Section 6.9(j) for which Buyer made a payment to the Shareholders under the first sentence of this Section 6.9(j), the Shareholders shall promptly pay to Buyer the amount of such reduction together with any interest due thereon.

(k) All Tax sharing agreements or similar agreements with respect to or involving the Company shall be terminated as of the Closing Date and, after the Closing Date, the Company shall not be bound thereby or have any liability thereunder.

6.10. Director Resignations. The Shareholders shall cause the Company to deliver to Buyer, written letters of resignation, effective on or prior to the Closing, of each of the directors and officers of the Company listed on Schedule 6.10.

6.11. Distribution of Assets. On or prior to the Closing Date, (a) the Shareholders shall cause the Company to distribute the certain assets of the Company identified in Schedule 6.11 (the "Excluded Assets") in the manner described in Schedule 6.11, and (b) the acquiror of the Excluded Assets shall assume all liabilities with respect to any Debt or other obligations relating to the Excluded Assets and the Company shall have received releases of all Encumbrances, securing any such Debt, in form and substance satisfactory to Buyer.

6.12. Parachute Payments. As promptly as practicable after the execution of this Agreement and before the Closing Date, the Shareholders shall cause the Company to submit to the shareholders of the Company for approval in a manner which satisfies all applicable requirements of Section 280G(b)(5)(B) of the Code and the regulations thereunder including Q-7 of Section 1.280G-1 of such regulations, a written consent which, if approved, would cause no payment or benefit that has been, will or may be made by any Person to any individual to be characterized as an "excess parachute payment" within the meaning of Section 280G(b)(1) of the Code by reason of a "change in ownership," "change in effective control" or "change in the ownership of a substantial portion of the assets" of the Company occurring by reason of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

6.13. Severance Payments. At or prior to the Closing, the Company shall, and the Shareholders shall cause the Company to pay to John A. Selzer and Michael J. Cetro the amounts set forth in Section 6.1 of their respective employment agreements with the Company, each dated as of January 1, 2005 (the aggregate of such amounts, the "Severance Payments"), treating Mr. Selzer and Mr. Cetro for this purpose as though they terminated their employment immediately following the Closing pursuant to Section 5.4(e) of such employment agreements.

6.14. Termination of Midway-Tristate Corporation Employees' Savings Plan. The Company shall, and the Shareholders shall cause the Company to take all necessary and appropriate steps to terminate its Employees' Savings Plan (401(k) Plan) immediately prior to the Closing Date and contingent upon the Closing, including adoption of a duly authorized board resolution terminating such plan as of a date immediately prior to the Closing Date and contingent upon the Closing. Buyer shall cause a tax-qualified defined contribution plan established or maintained by Buyer (the "Buyer 401(k) Plan") to accept eligible rollover distributions (as defined in Section 402(c)(4) of the Code, including direct rollovers and loan rollovers) by employees continuing with Buyer and who become participants in the Buyer 401(k) Plan in respect of account balances distributed to them on, as of or after the Closing Date by the Company's 401(k) Plan. The 401(k) Plan termination and any resulting distributions and rollovers, as described herein, shall comply with applicable Laws, the terms of the Company's 401(k) Plan and Buyer 401(k) Plan and the Company and Buyer shall make all filings and take any actions required of such party by applicable Laws in connection therewith.

6.15. Norton Arrangement. At such time as Midway Structural Pipe and Supply, Inc., a Michigan corporation, TPJ Properties, L.L.C., a Michigan limited liability company, Jack Adams and Thomas W. Norton, or any of their Related Parties or Affiliates (the "MSP Parties") acquire any Excluded Assets, whether prior to or following the Closing, the Company will enter into a revocable license agreement and non-compete agreement (the "Norton Agreement") with the MSP Parties, in the form attached hereto as Exhibit D. The Company shall not, and the Shareholders shall cause the Company not to directly or indirectly, transfer the Excluded Assets to any of the MSP Parties unless such MSP Parties have entered into the Norton Agreement.

6.16. Escrow Agreement; Debt Pay-Off Letters. On or prior to the Closing, the Shareholders shall cause the Representative to execute and deliver the Escrow Agreement. Prior to the Closing, the Company shall, and the Significant Shareholders shall cause the Company to, use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain the letters contemplated by Section 7.3(i) and to deliver all notices required to obtain such letters.

6.17. Settlement Agreement Waiver and Release. (a) On or prior to the Closing, the Shareholders shall cause the Company to use its commercially reasonable efforts to obtain an executed waiver and release substantially in the form set forth on Exhibit E hereto (a "Settlement Agreement Waiver and Release") from each of the counterparties to the Settlement Agreement (which for the avoidance of doubt shall include, United States Small Business Administration as Receiver of Sterling/Carl Marks Capital Inc. and CMNY Capital II, LP).

(b) If, as a result of the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, any amounts become payable by the Company pursuant to the Settlement Agreement, such amounts shall be paid by the Shareholders.

ARTICLE VII

Conditions to Closing

7.1. Conditions to Each Party's Obligations. The respective obligations of the Shareholders and Buyer to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are subject to the satisfaction or, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, the waiver at or prior to the Closing of each of the following conditions:

(a) No Injunction; etc. No temporary restraining order, preliminary or permanent injunction or other Order by any Governmental Entity preventing the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall have been issued and be continuing in effect, and no provision of any applicable Law shall prohibit the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(b) Escrow Agreement. The Escrow Agreement shall have been executed and delivered by the Representative (on behalf of the Shareholders), Buyer and the Escrow Agent.

(c) HSR Waiting Period. If the Parties are required to make a filing under the HSR Act pursuant to Section 6.1(a) hereof, all applicable waiting periods (and any extensions thereof) under the HSR Act shall have expired or otherwise been terminated.

7.2. Conditions to the Obligations of the Shareholders. The obligations of each Shareholder to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are further subject to the satisfaction or, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, the waiver by the Representative at or prior to the Closing of each of the following conditions:

(a) Performance of Obligations by Buyer. Buyer shall have performed in all material respects each of its agreements and covenants contained in or contemplated by this Agreement that are required to be performed by it at or prior to the Closing pursuant to the terms hereof.

(b) Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of Buyer contained in Article V shall be true and correct (determined for purposes of this Section 7.2(b) without giving effect to any materiality or material adverse effect qualifiers contained therein) as of the Closing, with the same effect as though made as of the Closing (provided that any representations and warranties made as of a specified date shall be required only to continue at the Closing to be true and correct as of such specified date), except to the extent that any failures of the representations and warranties to be true and correct would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on the ability of Buyer to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(c) Closing Certificate. The Representative shall have received a certificate of Buyer, dated the Closing Date, to the effect that the conditions set forth in Sections 7.2(a) and (b) have been satisfied.

7.3. Conditions to the Obligations of Buyer. The obligations of Buyer to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are further subject to the satisfaction or, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, the waiver by Buyer at or prior to the Closing of each of the following conditions:

(a) Performance of Obligations of the Shareholders and the Company. Except for the covenants contained (i) in Section 6.13 (Severance Payments), 6.14 (Termination of Midway-Tristate Corporation Employees' Savings Plan), 6.16 (Escrow Agreement; Debt Pay-Off Letters), and 6.17(b) (Settlement Agreement Payments) which shall have been performed in all respects by the Shareholders and the Company at or prior to the Closing and (ii) in Section 6.2(i), (ii) and (vii) (Conduct of the Business) which shall not have been breached in any respect by any Shareholder or the Company, each Shareholder and the Company shall have performed in all material respects each of their respective agreements and covenants contained in or contemplated by this Agreement that are required to be performed by them at or prior to the Closing pursuant to the terms hereof.

(b) Representations and Warranties. (i) The representations and warranties of the Shareholders contained in Article III and of the Significant Shareholders and the Company contained in Article IV (other than those in Sections 3.1 (Ownership; Authorization of Transaction), 4.1 (Authorization of Transaction), 4.3 (Capitalization; Debt), 4.4 (Brokers' Fees), 4.5 (Subsidiaries and Investments) and 4.14 (Related Party Transactions)) shall be true and correct (determined for purposes of this Section 7.3(b) without giving effect to any materiality or Material Adverse Effect qualifiers contained therein) as of the Closing, with the same effect as though made as of the Closing (provided that any representations and warranties made as of a specified date shall be required only to continue at the Closing to be true and correct as of such specified date), except to the extent that any failures of such representations and warranties to be true and correct, individually or in the aggregate, has not had or would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, and (ii) the representations and warranties of the Shareholders contained in Article III and the representations and warranties of the Shareholders and/or the Significant Shareholders, as the case may be, and the Company contained in Sections 3.1 (Ownership; Authorization of Transaction), 4.1 (Authorization of Transaction), 4.3 (Capitalization; Debt), 4.4 (Brokers' Fees), 4.5 (Subsidiaries and Investments) and 4.14 (Related Party Transactions) shall be true and correct in all respects as of the Closing.

(c) Closing Certificate. Buyer shall have received a certificate from the Representative on behalf of the Shareholders, dated the Closing Date, to the effect that the conditions set forth in Sections 7.3(a), (b), (e), (f), and (h) have been satisfied.

(d) Stock Certificates. The Shareholders shall have tendered for delivery to Buyer share certificates representing all of the Outstanding Shares free and clear of any Encumbrance, duly endorsed in blank by each Shareholder, or accompanied by appropriate stock powers, in proper form for transfer.

(e) No Litigation. There shall not be pending or threatened any Litigation seeking to restrain or prohibit the consummation of, or otherwise challenging, any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(f) Filings; Consents; Good Standing. (i) All filings required to be made with, and all authorizations, consents or approvals required to be obtained from, any Governmental Entity or other Person in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall have been made or obtained, as applicable, other than those filings, authorizations, consents or approvals the failure of which to have been made or obtained, as applicable, shall not have a Material Adverse Effect, (ii) the Company shall have obtained and delivered to Buyer, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Buyer, all consents and approvals specified on Schedule 7.3(f), and (iii) the Company shall have delivered to Buyer a certificate of good standing of the Company issued no earlier than five (5) days prior to the Closing by the Secretary of the State of New York.

(g) Non-Compete Agreements. (i) The Company and each Person listed on Schedule 6.6 shall have executed and delivered a Non-Compete Agreement, and each Non-Compete Agreement shall be in full force and effect and (ii) if any of the MSP Parties has acquired any Excluded Assets on or prior to the Closing Date, the Company, and such MSP Parties who acquired the Excluded Assets, shall have executed and delivered the Norton Agreement, and the Norton Agreement shall be in full force and effect.

(h) Material Adverse Effect. No event, development, circumstance or occurrence shall have occurred, that, individually or in the aggregate, has had or would reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(i) Pay-Off Letters. The Company shall have received pay-off letters, in a form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Buyer, from holders of all Debt of the Company together with all necessary documentation required to release any Encumbrances securing repayment of any such Debt.

(j) Withholding Certificate. Buyer shall have received a certificate, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Buyer, conforming to the requirements of Treasury Regulation Sections 1.1445-2(c)(3) and 1.897-2(h).

(k) Transactions with Affiliates. The Company and the Shareholders shall have taken all actions necessary in order to terminate (i) any Contracts or other arrangements between the Company and any Related Parties and (ii) each agreement specified on Schedule 7.3(k), and shall have provided Buyer with written evidence, reasonably satisfactory to Buyer of such termination, and the Company shall have been released of all obligations thereunder without any additional cost, obligation, liability or loss to the Company.

(l) Concurrent Transaction. The Excluded Assets shall have been distributed in accordance with Section 6.11.

(m) Leased Real Property. The Contract set forth on Schedule 7.3(m) shall have been amended to extend the terms thereof substantially in accordance with the terms set forth on Schedule 7.3(m) and the rent payable with respect to such Contract shall be a market amount.

(n) Employment and Consulting Agreements. The Employment Agreement and the Consulting Agreements shall be in full force and effect.

ARTICLE VIII

Termination

8.1. Termination. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, this Agreement may be terminated and the transactions contemplated by this Agreement may be abandoned at any time prior to the Closing:

(a) by the mutual written consent of the Representative and Buyer;

(b) (i) by Buyer, if (x) there shall have been a breach by the Company or the Shareholders of any of their representations, warranties, covenants or agreements contained in this Agreement, which breach would result in the failure to satisfy one or more of the conditions set forth in Section 7.1 or 7.3, and (y) such breach shall be incapable of being cured or, if capable of being cured, shall not have been cured within 30 days after written notice thereof shall have been given to the Representative, or (ii) by the Representative, if (x) there shall have been a breach by Buyer of any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements contained in this Agreement, which breach would result in the failure to satisfy one or more of the conditions set forth in Section 7.1 or 7.2, and (y) such breach shall be incapable of being cured or, if capable of being cured, shall not have been cured within 30 days after written notice thereof shall have been given to Buyer;

(c) Subject to Section 6.1(a), by Buyer or the Representative, if the transactions contemplated by this Agreement have not been consummated by June 30, 2007 (the "Termination Date"); provided, however, that the failure of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement to occur on or before such date is not the result of the breach of any covenants, agreements, representations or warranties hereunder of the Party (or the Shareholders or the Company in the case of the Representative) desiring to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this clause (c);

(d) The Party desiring to terminate this Agreement pursuant to clause (b) or (c) of this Section 8.1 shall, in the case of Buyer, give written notice of such termination to the Representative, and, in the case of the Representative, give written notice of such termination to Buyer.

8.2. Effect of Termination. If this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 8.1, this Agreement shall have no further force or effect; provided, that the agreements contained in the last sentence of Section 6.3 and Article X shall survive the termination hereof; and provided, further, that no such termination shall relieve any Party of liability for any breach or default under this Agreement occurring prior to such termination.

ARTICLE IX

Survival and Indemnification

9.1. Survival. (a) Except as set forth in Section 9.1(b), the representations and warranties contained in this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document, together with the associated rights of indemnification, shall survive the Closing hereunder and continue in full force and effect until the second anniversary of the Closing and shall thereupon expire, together with the associated rights of indemnification, except to the extent that a claim for breach thereof has been asserted in writing prior to such expiration (in which event the representation or warranty and the associated rights of indemnification shall survive with respect to such claim until such claim has been resolved). Each of the covenants and agreements contained herein or in any Ancillary Document shall survive the Closing and continue in full force and effect until performed in accordance with their terms. The indemnification obligation contained in Section 9.3(a)(G) shall survive the Closing hereunder and continue in full force and effect until the earlier of (x) April 3, 2008, or (y) delivery to Buyer of a duly executed Settlement Agreement Waiver and Release from the United States Small Business Administration as Receiver of Sterling/Carl Marks Capital Inc. and from CMNY Capital II, LP, except to the extent that a claim pursuant to Section 9.3(a)(G) has been asserted in writing prior to such expiration (in which event such indemnification obligation shall survive with respect to such claim until such claim has been resolved).

(b) The representations and warranties contained in Sections 3.1 (Ownership; Authorization of Transaction), 4.1 (Authorization of Transaction), 4.3 (Capitalization; Debt), 4.4 (Brokers' Fees), 4.5 (Subsidiaries and Investments), 4.11 (Tax Matters), 4.14 (Related Party Transactions), 4.17(b) (ERISA Affiliates), 4.21 (Environmental Matters), 4.25 (Escheat Property) and 5.2 (Authorization of Transaction) shall survive the Closing hereunder and continue in full force and effect, together with the associated rights of indemnification, until 30 days after the expiration of any applicable statute of limitations and shall thereupon expire, together with the associated rights of indemnification, except to the extent that a claim for breach thereof has been asserted in writing prior to such expiration (in which event the representation or warranty and the associated rights of indemnification shall survive with respect to such claim until such claim has been resolved).

9.2. Indemnification by Buyer. From and after the Closing, Buyer shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Shareholders, their Affiliates, and the officers, directors, employees, agents, representatives, successors and any assigns of any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Shareholder Indemnitees") against all claims, losses, liabilities, damages (including consequential damages and lost profits), deficiencies, interest and penalties, costs and expenses, including, without limitation, losses resulting from the defense, settlement and/or compromise of a claim and/or demand and/or assessment, reasonable attorneys', accountants' and expert witnesses' fees, costs and expenses of investigation, and the costs and expenses of enforcing the indemnification provided hereunder (individually, a "Loss" and, collectively, "Losses") incurred by any of the Shareholder Indemnitees arising out of or relating to: (A) any breach of any representation or warranty made by Buyer in this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document, or (B) any breach of any covenant, agreement or obligation of Buyer contained in this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document.

9.3. Indemnification by Shareholders. (a) From and after the Closing, the Significant Shareholders shall, jointly and severally, indemnify, defend and hold harmless Buyer and its Affiliates, and the shareholders, members, officers, directors, partners, employees, agents, representatives, successors and assigns of any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Buyer Indemnitees") against all Losses incurred by any of the Buyer Indemnitees and arising out of or relating to: (A) any breach of any representation or warranty made by the Company and/or the Significant Shareholders in Article IV of this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document, (B) any breach of any covenant, agreement or obligation of any of the Shareholders contained in this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document, (C) any breach by the Company of any covenant, agreement or obligation contained in this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document and required to be performed or complied with by the Company on or prior to the Closing, (D) the Excluded Assets (including without limitation the holding and distribution thereof and obligations pursuant to the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985, as amended, with respect to former employees of the Company whose employment was terminated in connection with the distribution of the Excluded Assets), (E) activities, operations, conditions, facts or circumstances existing or conducted prior to the Closing that cause, contribute to or give rise to (x) violations of Environmental Laws, or (y) the presence of Hazardous Materials on, at, under, about or migrating to or from, real property currently or formerly owned, leased or operated by the Company, (F) any actual or alleged personal injury or property damage arising from the exposure to any asbestos containing materials manufactured, used, distributed, supplied, or sold by the Company, any of its affiliates, or any of its predecessors in interest on or prior to the Closing, (G) the Settlement Agreement, or (H) the Asset Purchase Agreement, dated on or about November 21, 1997, between Continental Emsco Company and Oil Field Supply Co., Inc. in respect of the purchase by Oil Field Supply Company, Inc., at the time a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, of three (3) store locations from Continental Emsco Company. With respect to any Losses arising out of or relating to (x) clauses (A) through (H), such Buyer Indemnitees shall be entitled to be reimbursed the amount of such Losses from the Escrow Account, and (y) clause (G), such Buyer Indemnitees shall be entitled to be reimbursed the amount of such Losses from the Settlement Agreement Indemnification Escrow Account. For the purposes of clauses (A) with respect to breaches of the representation and warranties set for in Section 4.21 and (E) of this Section 9.3(a), the term "Losses" shall further include any administrative or civil penalties, natural resources damages, environmental investigation, remediation or other response costs, medical or environmental monitoring, and sampling costs.

(b) From and after the Closing, each Shareholder shall, severally but not jointly, indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Buyer Indemnitees against all Losses incurred by any of the Buyer Indemnitees and arising out of or relating to: (A) any breach of any representation or warranty made by such Shareholder in Article III of this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document, or (B) any breach of any covenant, agreement or obligation of such Shareholder contained in this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document, and, in the case of each of (A) and (B), such Buyer Indemnitees shall be entitled to be reimbursed the amount of such Losses from the Escrow Account.

9.4. Limitations on Rights of Indemnitees. (a) Except as set forth below, the Shareholders shall not be required to indemnify the Buyer Indemnitees with respect to any claim for indemnification resulting from or arising out of matters described in Section 9.3(a)(A) and 9.3(b)(A) unless and until the aggregate amount of all such claims by the Buyer Indemnitees for such matters exceeds $250,000 (the "Deductible"), in which event the Buyer Indemnitees shall be entitled to recover such Losses resulting from or arising out of such matters, but only to the extent that the aggregate amount of such Losses exceed the Deductible; provided, however, that the foregoing limitation shall not apply to a claim for indemnification to the extent such claim is based upon a breach of any of the representations and warranties contained in Sections 3.1 (Ownership; Authorization of Transaction), 4.1 (Authorization of Transaction), 4.3 (Capitalization; Debt), 4.4 (Brokers' Fees), 4.5 (Subsidiaries and Investments), 4.11 (Tax Matters), 4.14 (Related Party Transactions), 4.17(b) (ERISA Affiliates), 4.21 (Environmental Matters), and 4.25 (Escheat Property) (collectively, the "Special Representations"), or fraud; and provided further, that the Shareholders' maximum liability to the Buyer Indemnitees under Section 9.3(a)(A), 9.3(a)(E), 9.3(a)(F) and 9.3(b)(A) shall not exceed $4,125,000 in the aggregate (the "Cap"), provided, however that the Cap shall not apply to claims in respect of breaches of any of the Special Representations or fraud. Except with respect to Losses arising out of fraud, the Shareholders' maximum liability to the Buyer Indemnitees under Section 9.3(a)(G) shall not exceed $13,125,000; provided that, except with respect to Losses arising out of fraud, the Shareholders' maximum liability to the Buyer Indemnitees under Section 9.3(a)(G) shall be reduced by $4,500,000 upon delivery of a duly executed Settlement Agreement Waiver and Release from either the United States Small Business Administration as Receiver of Sterling/Carl Marks Capital Inc. or from CMNY Capital II, LP, and the indemnification obligation contained in Section 9.3(a)(G) shall terminate upon delivery of a second duly executed Settlement Agreement Waiver and Release from the other counterparty to the Settlement Agreement (either the United States Small Business Administration as Receiver of Sterling/Carl Marks Capital Inc. or CMNY Capital II, LP).

(b) Except with respect to Losses arising out of a breach of any of the Special Representations or fraud, with respect to Losses relating to any claims for indemnification resulting from or arising out of matters described in Section 9.3(a)(A), 9.3(a)(E), 9.3(a)(F) and 9.3(b)(A), the Buyer Indemnitees (x) will be entitled to recover no more than the amount of cash then available in the Escrow Account, and (y) will not be entitled to recover any such Losses from any source other than the Escrow Account.

(c) Except as set forth below, Buyer shall not be required to indemnify the Shareholder Indemnitees with respect to any claim for indemnification resulting from or arising out of matters described in Section 9.2(A) unless and until the aggregate amount of all such claims by the Shareholder Indemnitees for such matters exceeds the Deductible, in which event the Shareholder Indemnitees shall be entitled to recover such Losses resulting from or arising out of such matters, but only to the extent that the aggregate amount of such Losses exceed the Deductible; provided, however, that the foregoing limitation shall not apply to a claim for indemnification to the extent such claim is based upon a breach of Section 5.2 (Authorization of Transaction) or fraud; and provided further, that Buyer's maximum liability to the Shareholder Indemnitees under Section 9.2(A) shall not exceed the Cap, provided, however that the Cap shall not apply to claims in respect of breaches based upon Section 5.2 or fraud.

(d) Buyer and the Representative agree to prepare and sign joint written instructions that direct the Escrow Agent to distribute (i) $4,500,000 from the Settlement Agreement Indemnification Escrow Account upon the delivery to Buyer of a duly executed Settlement Agreement Waiver and Release from the United States Small Business Administration as Receiver of Sterling/Carl Marks Capital Inc. and (ii) $4,500,000 from the Settlement Agreement Indemnification Escrow Account upon the delivery to Buyer of a duly executed Settlement Agreement Waiver and Release from CMNY Capital II, LP.

9.5. Procedure. (a) If any third party shall notify any Party (the "Indemnitee") with respect to any matter (a "Third Party Claim") which may give rise to a claim for indemnification against any other Party (the "Indemnitor") under this Article IX, then the Indemnitee shall promptly notify the Indemnitor thereof in writing; provided, however, that no delay on the part of the Indemnitee in notifying the Indemnitor shall relieve the Indemnitor from any obligation hereunder except to the extent the Indemnitor is materially prejudiced thereby.

(b) The Indemnitor shall have the right, at its option, to assume the defense of any Third Party Claim with its own counsel, but only if the Indemnitor simultaneously confirms in writing that it will indemnify the Indemnitee for such Third Party Claim. If the Indemnitor elects to assume the defense of such Third Party Claim as aforesaid, then:

(i) notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Indemnitor shall not be required to pay or otherwise indemnify the Indemnitee against any attorneys' fees incurred by the Indemnitee in connection with such Third Party Claim following the Indemnitor's election to assume the defense of such Third Party Claim, unless (A) the Indemnitor fails to defend diligently the action or proceeding within 10 days after receiving notice of such failure from the Indemnitee; or (B) the Indemnitee reasonably shall have concluded (upon advice of its counsel) that there may be one or more legal defenses available to such Indemnitee or other Indemnitees that are not available to the Indemnitor; or (C) the Indemnitee reasonably shall have concluded (upon advice of its counsel) that, with respect to such Third Party Claim, the Indemnitee and the Indemnitor may have different, conflicting, or adverse legal positions or interests;

(ii) the Indemnitee shall make available to the Indemnitor all books, records and other documents and materials that are under the direct or indirect control of the Indemnitee or any of the Indemnitee's agents and that the Indemnitor considers necessary or desirable for the defense of such Third Party Claim;

(iii) the Indemnitee shall otherwise cooperate as reasonably requested by the Indemnitor in the defense of such Third Party Claim;

(iv) the Indemnitee shall not admit any liability with respect to such Third Party Claim;

(v) the Indemnitor shall not, without the written consent of the Indemnitee, which shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed, settle or compromise any pending or threatened Litigation in respect of which indemnification may be sought hereunder (whether or not the Indemnitee is an actual or potential party to such Litigation) or consent to the entry of any judgment (A) which does not, to the extent that the Indemnitee or any of its Affiliates may have any liability with respect to such Litigation, include as an unconditional term thereof the delivery by the claimant or plaintiff to the Indemnitee of a written release of the Indemnitee and its Affiliates from all liability in respect of such Litigation, (B) which includes any statement as to or an admission of fact, culpability or a failure to act, by or on behalf of the Indemnitee or any of its Affiliates, or (C) in any manner that involves any injunctive relief against the Indemnitee or any of its Affiliates or may materially and adversely affect the Indemnitee or any of its Affiliates; and

(vi) if the Indemnitor elects not to assume the defense of or fails to confirm its obligation to indemnify for any such Third Party Claim, then the Indemnitee shall proceed diligently to defend such Third Party Claim with the assistance of counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Indemnitor, provided, however, that the Indemnitee shall not settle, adjust or compromise such Third Party Claim, or admit any liability with respect to such Third Party Claim, without the prior written consent of the Indemnitor, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed.

9.6. Indemnification Payments as Purchase Price Adjustment. Any payments made by Buyer or the Shareholders under this Article IX shall be considered an adjustment to the Purchase Price.

9.7. No Materiality. For purposes of indemnification under this Article IX, each of the representations and warranties that contain any qualifications as to materiality or Material Adverse Effect (or any correlative terms) shall be deemed to have been given as though there were no such qualifications in determining whether there has been any breach of any representations or warranties hereunder.

9.8. No Investigation of the Company. (a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, (i) no investigation of the Company by Buyer or its representatives or advisors (or any knowledge of Buyer or its representatives or advisors) prior to or after the date hereof shall, and (ii) the delivery by Buyer of any document, waiver or other instrument or written communication hereunder shall not, diminish, obviate or cure any breach of any of the representations, warranties, covenants or agreements of the Company or the Shareholders contained in this Agreement or any Ancillary Documents.

9.9. Non-Exclusivity. The foregoing indemnification provisions are in addition to, and not in derogation of, any statutory, equitable, or common law remedy any Indemnitee may have for breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement.

ARTICLE X

Miscellaneous

10.1. Press Releases and Public Announcements. No Party shall issue any press release or make any disclosure or public announcement relating to the subject matter of this Agreement or any of the Ancillary Documents without the prior consent of the other Parties unless required by Law.

10.2. No Third Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement shall not confer any rights or remedies upon any Person other than the Parties, the Buyer Indemnitees, the Shareholder Indemnitees, and their respective successors and permitted assigns.

10.3. Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the Schedules and Exhibits hereto) and the Ancillary Documents constitute the entire agreement among the Parties and supersede any prior understandings or agreements by or among the Parties, written or oral, to the extent they related in any way to the subject matter hereof.

10.4. Succession and Assignment. Except as otherwise provided herein, this Agreement may not, without the prior written consent of Buyer and the Representative, be assigned by Buyer or any of the Shareholders by operation of law or otherwise, and any attempted assignment shall be null and void; provided, that Buyer may, without prior written consent of the Representative, (i) assign any or all of its rights hereunder to one or more of its Affiliates, (ii) designate one or more of its Affiliates to perform its obligations hereunder and (iii) assign its rights, but not its obligations, under this Agreement to any of its, or any of its Affiliate's, financing sources (in any or all of which cases described in subclauses (i), (ii) or (iii), Buyer nonetheless shall remain responsible for the performance of all of its obligations hereunder). Subject to the foregoing, this Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Parties and their respective heirs, successors, permitted assigns and legal representatives.

10.5. Expenses. If the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are consummated, the Shareholders, on the one hand, and Buyer, on the other hand, shall bear all costs and expenses incurred by or on behalf of such Party (and by the Company in the case of the Shareholders); provided, that any expenses borne by the Company shall be deemed to be Company Expenses. If the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are not consummated, all costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby, shall be paid by the Party incurring such expense.

10.6. Headings. The section headings contained in this Agreement are inserted for convenience only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement.

10.7. Notices. All notices, requests, demands, claims, and other communications hereunder shall be in writing, and shall be given (and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon receipt) by personal delivery, electronic facsimile transmission, overnight courier or registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, and addressed to the intended recipient as set forth below (or at such other address as shall be specified in a notice given in accordance with this Section 10.7):

10.8. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the state of New York without giving effect to the principles of conflicts of law.

10.9. Amendments and Waivers. No amendment or waiver of any provision of this Agreement shall be valid unless the same shall be in writing and signed by the Representative and Buyer. No waiver by any Party of any default or any breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement hereunder or under any Ancillary Document shall be deemed to extend to any prior or subsequent default or breach or affect in any way any rights arising by virtue of any such prior or subsequent occurrence.

10.10. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement for any reason shall be held to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable, such illegality shall not affect any other provision of this Agreement, this Agreement shall be amended so as to enforce the illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision to the maximum extent permitted by applicable Law, and the parties shall cooperate in good faith to further modify this Agreement so as to preserve to the maximum extent possible the intended benefits to be received by the parties.

10.11. Construction. The Parties intend that each representation, warranty, covenant and agreement contained herein shall have independent significance. If any Party has breached any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement contained herein in any respect, the fact that there exists another representation, warranty, covenant or agreement relating to the same subject matter (regardless of the relative levels of specificity) which the Party has not breached shall not detract from or mitigate the fact that the Party is in breach of the first representation, warranty, covenant or agreement.

10.12. Specific Performance. The Company and each of the Shareholders acknowledge and agree that Buyer would be damaged irreparably in the event any of the provisions of this Agreement or any of the Ancillary Documents is not performed in accordance with its specific terms or otherwise is breached by the Company or any of the Shareholders. Accordingly, the Company and each of the Shareholders agree that Buyer shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of the provisions of this Agreement or of any of the Ancillary Documents and to enforce specifically this Agreement or any of the Ancillary Documents, and the terms and provisions hereof and thereof, in addition to any other rights to which Buyer may be entitled at law or in equity. Any such remedy shall be in addition to any other remedy that Buyer may have hereunder.

10.13. Jurisdiction; Court Proceedings; Waiver of Jury Trial. Any Litigation against any Party to this Agreement arising out of or relating to this Agreement shall be brought in any federal or state court located in the State of New York in New York County and each of the parties hereby submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of such courts for the purpose of any such Litigation. A final judgment in any such Litigation shall be conclusive and may be enforced in other jurisdictions by suit on the judgment or in any other manner provided by Law. To the extent that service of process by mail is permitted by applicable Law, each Party irrevocably consents to the service of process in any such Litigation in such courts by the mailing of such process by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, at its address for notices provided for herein. Each Party irrevocably agrees not to assert (a) any objection which it may ever have to the laying of venue of any such Litigation in any federal or state court located in the State of New York in New York County and (b) any claim that any such Litigation brought in any such court has been brought in an inconvenient forum. Each Party waives any right to a trial by jury, to the extent lawful, and agrees that any of them may file a copy of this paragraph with any court as written evidence of the knowing, voluntary and bargained-for agreement among the Parties irrevocably to waive its right to trial by jury in any Litigation whatsoever between them relating to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

10.14. Attorneys' Fees. In the event that any action or proceeding is brought for the purpose of determining or enforcing the right of any Party or Parties hereunder, the Party or Parties prevailing in such action or proceeding shall be entitled to recover from the other Party or Parties all reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the prevailing Party or Parties, including reasonable attorneys' fees.

10.15. Representative. (a) By the execution and delivery of this Agreement, including counterparts hereof, each Shareholder hereby irrevocably constitutes and appoints John A. Selzer as the true and lawful agent and attorney-in-fact of such Shareholder with full powers of substitution (the "Representative", and, if substituted, the Representative shall promptly notify Buyer of such substitution) to act in the name, place and stead of such Shareholder with respect to this Agreement, as the same may be from time to time amended, and with respect to the transfer of such Shareholder's Company Stock to Buyer pursuant hereto and the other transactions contemplated hereby, and to do or refrain from doing all such acts and things, and to execute all such documents, as the Representative shall deem necessary or appropriate in connection with this Agreement, the Ancillary Documents or any of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby. In the event of the death or other incapacity of the then current Representative, or resignation of the Representative, Shareholders which immediately prior to the Closing held a majority of the Company Stock, shall, by any writing executed by the appropriate number of Shareholders and the new Representative (counterparts and facsimiles of signatures acceptable) approve and appoint a new Representative by delivering a written notice to that effect, whereupon the person designated in such notice shall be the new Representative with respect to all actions taken and/or documents signed from and after actual receipt by Buyer of such notice.

(b) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Representative is hereby authorized (i) to receive any payment owing to the Shareholders pursuant to Section 2.3, (ii) to execute the Escrow Agreement on behalf of the Shareholders, and (iii) to take all actions on behalf of the Shareholders in connection with any actions taken or to be taken under Section 2.3 and Article IX of this Agreement (including accepting service of process upon the Shareholders and accepting or compromising any claim for indemnification and any claim relating to the Proposed Purchase Price Calculation). The Representative and the Shareholders hereby agree that any amounts disbursed out of the Escrow Account or the Settlement Agreement Indemnification Escrow Account to the Representative pursuant to the terms of this Agreement and/or the Escrow Agreement shall be distributed by the Representative to the Shareholders in accordance with Schedule 1. All decisions and actions of the Representative permitted hereunder shall be final, binding and conclusive on the Shareholders and may be relied upon by Buyer and its Affiliates as the decisions and actions of all of the Shareholders. The Representative shall not be liable to any of the Shareholders for any act done or omitted by him in good faith pursuant to this Agreement or any mistake of fact or Law unless caused by his own gross negligence or willful misconduct, and the Significant Shareholders shall jointly and severally and the Non-Significant Shareholders shall severally but not jointly indemnify the Representative from any Losses arising out of his serving as Representative hereunder. In taking any action or refraining from taking any action whatsoever the Representative shall be protected in relying upon any notice, paper or other document reasonably believed by him to be genuine, or upon any evidence reasonably deemed by him to be sufficient. The Representative may consult with counsel in connection with his duties and shall be fully protected in any act taken, suffered or permitted by him in good faith in accordance with the advice of counsel.

10.16. No Presumption Against Drafting Party. Buyer, the Company and each Shareholder acknowledges that each party to this Agreement has been represented by counsel in connection with this Agreement, each of the Ancillary Documents and the transactions contemplated herein and therein. Accordingly, any rule of Law or any legal decision that would require interpretation of any claimed ambiguities in this Agreement or any of the Ancillary Documents against the drafting party has no application and is expressly waived.

ASSIGNMENT AGREEMENT

This ASSIGNMENT AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), dated April 27, 2007, by and between McJunkin Development Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("Buyer") and McJunkin Appalachian Oilfield Supply Company, a West Virginia corporation and an Affiliate of Buyer ("McApple"). Each capitalized term which is used but not otherwise defined in this Agreement has the meaning assigned to such term in the Purchase Agreement (as defined below).

WHEREAS, Buyer is a party to that certain Stock Purchase Agreement, dated as of April 5, 2007 (the "Purchase Agreement"), pursuant to which Buyer has agreed to purchase 83,185 shares of common stock, par value $0.01 (the "Company Stock") of Midway-Tristate Corporation, a New York corporation (the "Company"), which represents the entire issued and outstanding capital stock of the Company, on the terms and subject to the conditions described therein and in reliance upon the representations and warranties of, and the covenants made therein by, the Company and the holders of Capital Stock listed on Schedule 1 thereto, as amended (the "Shareholders");

WHEREAS, Section 10.4 of the Purchase Agreement provides that Buyer may, without prior written consent of the Representative, (i) assign any or all of its rights thereunder to one or more of its Affiliates, (ii) designate one or more of its Affiliates to perform its obligations thereunder and (iii) assign its rights, but not its obligations, under the Purchase Agreement to any of its, or any of its Affiliate's, financing sources (in any or all of which cases described in subclauses (i), (ii) or (iii), Buyer nonetheless shall remain responsible for the performance of all of its obligations thereunder); and

WHEREAS, the Shareholders executed stock powers that state that they are transferring their Outstanding Shares to Buyer, and execution and delivery of prior to Closing of stock powers stating that the Shareholders are transferring their Outstanding Shares to McApple is not possible.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements contained herein and in the Purchase Agreement, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, Buyer and McApple agree as follows:

1. Assignment. In accordance with Section 10.4 of the Purchase Agreement, (i) Buyer does hereby assign to McApple (A) all of Buyer's rights under the Purchase Agreement and (B) Buyer's obligation to acquire from the Shareholders all of the Outstanding Shares in exchange for payment of the Purchase Price pursuant to Article II of the Purchase Agreement, and (ii) McApple does hereby (X) accept the assignment by Buyer of all of Buyer's rights under the Purchase Agreement and (Y) assume Buyer's obligation to acquire from the Shareholders all of the Outstanding Shares in exchange for payment of the Purchase Price pursuant to Article II of the Purchase Agreement (it being understood that Buyer is not assigning to McApple any other obligations under the Purchase Agreement and that Buyer nonetheless shall remain responsible for the performance of all of its other obligations under the Purchase Agreement).

2. Nominee/Agent. McApple is hereby naming Buyer as its nominee and agent for the sole purpose of receiving the Outstanding Shares from the Shareholders. Immediately after receipt of the certificates evidencing the Outstanding Shares, Buyer will retransfer such shares to McApple, as McApple's nominee and agent. At all times from and after the Closing, McApple, and not Buyer, will be the beneficial owner of the Outstanding Shares and Buyer will be acting solely in its capacity as McApple's nominee and agent. McApple may remove Buyer as its nominee and agent at any time.

3. General. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, without giving effect to the principles of conflicts of laws. This Agreement may be executed simultaneously in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT, dated July 6, 2007 (the "Agreement"), by and among West Oklahoma PVF Company, a Delaware corporation ("Buyer"), Red Man Pipe & Supply Co., an Oklahoma corporation (the "Company"), the holders of all outstanding shares of stock of the Company listed on Schedule 1 (each, a "Shareholder" and, collectively, the "Shareholders"), McJ Holding LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("McJ Holding") (for purposes of Sections 2.3(c) and 10.4 only) and Craig Ketchum, as Representative (as defined below). Buyer, the Company and each of the Shareholders (and any Person who becomes a Shareholder after the date hereof as contemplated by Section 6.17) are separately referred to herein as a "Party" and, together, as the "Parties."

WHEREAS, Buyer desires to acquire all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of the Company;

WHEREAS, the Shareholders own, in the aggregate, 143,976 shares of Class A Voting Common Stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Company (the "Class A Stock"), and 34,344 shares of Class B Non-Voting Common Stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Company (the "Class B Stock" and, together with the Class A Stock, the "Company Stock");

WHEREAS, the Company Stock represents the entire issued and outstanding capital stock of the Company;

WHEREAS, upon the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement and the Contribution Agreement (as defined below), Buyer desires to acquire, and the Shareholders desire to sell, the Company Stock;

WHEREAS, BJHK Limited Partnership and K.F. Enterprises L.L.C. (each a "Ketchum Entity" and collectively, the "Ketchum Entities") have entered into a Contribution Agreement with McJ Holding, dated as of the date hereof and attached hereto as Exhibit A (the "Contribution Agreement"), pursuant to which the Ketchum Entity has agreed to contribute the Contributed Shares (as defined below) to McJ Holding immediately prior to the Closing in exchange for limited liability company units of McJ Holding ("McJ Units"); and

WHEREAS, McJ Holding and McJunkin Corporation have entered into an employment agreement with each of those persons listed on Schedule 2 (each, an "Employment Agreement"), which Employment Agreements will be effective as of the Closing.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the mutual promises herein made, and in consideration of the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements herein contained, the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

Definitions

As used in this Agreement, the following terms have the respective meanings set forth below:

"Accounting Firm" shall have the meaning assigned to such term in Section 2.3(b)(ii).

"Actual Adjustment" means (x) the Purchase Price as set forth on the Final Statement of Purchase Price minus (y) the Estimated Purchase Price.

"Advance Ruling Certificate" means an advance ruling certificate issued by the Commissioner of Competition pursuant to section 102 of the Competition Act with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

"Affiliate," (or any correlative term) means, with respect to a Person, any Person that, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, or is controlled by, or is under common control with, such Person (and, for purposes of this Agreement, the Company and its Subsidiaries shall be considered Affiliates of each of the Shareholders before the Closing and Affiliates of Buyer after the Closing).

"Aggregate Contribution Percentage" means the percentage that (x) the aggregate number of shares of Company Stock to be contributed to McJ Holding pursuant to the Contribution Agreement bears to (y) the total number of Outstanding Shares. The Aggregate Contribution Percentage is set forth on Exhibit B and is subject to adjustment as provided in Section 6.17.

"Agreement" shall have the meaning assigned such term in the Preamble.

"Ancillary Documents" means each agreement, certificate or other instrument executed or to be executed by Buyer, the Company and/or any Shareholder in connection with this Agreement, including the Escrow Agreement, the Employment Agreements, the Contribution Agreement, the Non-Compete Agreement and the letter agreement dated on or about the date hereof between the Ketchum Entities and GS Capital Partners V Fund, L.P. and affiliated funds.

"Associate" means, with respect to a Person, (a) any corporation or organization of which such Person is an officer or partner or is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of 10% or more of any class of equity securities, (b) any trust or other estate in which such Person has a substantial beneficial interest or as to which such Person serves as trustee or in a similar fiduciary capacity, and (c) any relative or spouse of a Person described in clause (a) or (b) of this definition or any relative of such spouse, who has the same home as such Person.

Acquisition of Company Stock

2.1. Acquisition of Company Stock. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement, at the Closing, the Shareholders shall assign, transfer, convey and deliver to Buyer, and Buyer shall acquire from the Shareholders, all of the Outstanding Shares, other than the Contributed Shares (the "Transferred Shares"), free and clear of all Encumbrances.

2.2. Purchase Price. The Purchase Price shall be allocated among the Shareholders in proportion to their respective shareholdings set forth in Schedule 1, and payment in respect of Transferred Shares shall be made in cash in accordance with Section 2.3 and payment in respect of Contributed Shares shall be made by exchanging McJ Units therefor in accordance with the Contribution Agreement. Subject to the adjustments set forth in Section 2.3, the Purchase Price to be paid for all of the Outstanding Shares shall consist of cash and McJ Units and shall be payable by Buyer as set forth in Section 2.3.

2.3. Calculation of Purchase Price.

(a) Estimated Purchase Price. No later than five (5) Business Days prior to the Closing Date, the Representative shall deliver to Buyer a calculation of the Estimated Purchase Price and the components thereof, together with reasonable supporting detail, and based on the Company's books and records and other information then available. The Estimated Purchase Price shall be reasonably acceptable to Buyer. On the Closing Date, Buyer shall pay, or shall cause to be paid, the Estimated Purchase Price as follows:

(i) an amount in cash equal to the product of (A) the Escrow Amount and (B) 100% minus the Aggregate Contribution Percentage (such amount, the "Cash Escrow Amount" and such cash, the "Escrow Funds") shall be deposited into an escrow account (the "Escrow Account"), which shall be established pursuant to an escrow agreement (the "Escrow Agreement"), which Escrow Agreement (x) shall be entered into on the Closing Date among the Representative, Buyer and an escrow agent (the "Escrow Agent") to be mutually agreed upon between the Representative and Buyer and (y) shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit D; and

(ii) an amount in cash equal to the Estimated Purchase Price minus (A) the Cash Escrow Amount and minus (B) an amount equal to the product of (x) the Estimated Purchase Price and (y) the Aggregate Contribution Percentage, shall be paid by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the Representative, on behalf of the Shareholders, for distribution to the Shareholders in accordance with their respective Cash Proceeds Percentages set forth on Exhibit B, in an account to be designated by the Representative in a written notice to Buyer at least five (5) Business Days prior to the Closing, net of applicable withholding taxes, if any. The portion of the Estimated Purchase Price not otherwise allocated pursuant to clauses (i) and (ii) of this Section 2.3(a) (i.e., that will consist of McJ Units) shall be paid in accordance with the Contribution Agreement.

(b) Preparation of the Final Statement of Purchase Price.

(i) As soon as practicable, but no later than one hundred and twenty (120) days after the Closing Date, Buyer shall prepare and deliver to the Representative the proposed calculation of the Purchase Price (the "Proposed Purchase Price Calculation") and the components thereof, including (A) a proposed calculation of Net Working Capital and the Net Working Capital Adjustment (the "Proposed Net Working Capital"), (B) a proposed calculation of the amount of Cash and Cash Equivalents (the "Proposed Cash and Cash Equivalents"), (C) a proposed calculation of the Debt Amount (the "Proposed Debt Amount"), and (D) a proposed calculation of the amount of Company

Expenses (the "Proposed Company Expenses"), and, in each case, the components thereof, together with reasonable supporting detail.

(ii) If the Representative does not give a written notice of dispute (a "Purchase Price Dispute Notice") to Buyer within thirty (30) days after receiving the Proposed Purchase Price Calculation, Buyer and the Representative agree that (A) the Proposed Net Working Capital shall be deemed to set forth the Net Working Capital, (B) the Proposed Cash and Cash Equivalents shall be deemed to set forth the Cash and Cash Equivalents, (C) the Proposed Debt Amount shall be deemed to set forth the Debt Amount, (D) the Proposed Company Expenses shall be deemed to set forth the Company Expenses and (E) the Proposed Purchase Price Calculation shall be deemed to be final and binding in determining the Purchase Price. If the Representative gives a Purchase Price Dispute Notice to Buyer (which Purchase Price Dispute Notice must set forth, in reasonable detail, the items and amounts in dispute) within such 30-day period, Buyer and the Representative will use commercially reasonable efforts to resolve the dispute during the 30-day period commencing on the date Buyer receives the applicable Purchase Price Dispute Notice from the Representative. Items and amounts not objected to by the Representative in the Purchase Price Dispute Notice shall be deemed resolved. If the Representative and Buyer do not obtain a final resolution within such 30-day period, then the items in dispute shall be submitted immediately to Deloitte & Touche LLP or another nationally-recognized, independent accounting firm reasonably acceptable to the Representative and Buyer (the "Accounting Firm"). The Accounting Firm shall be required to render a determination resolving the applicable dispute within 45 days after referral of the matter to the Accounting Firm, which determination must be in writing and must set forth, in reasonable detail, the basis therefor. The determination of the Accounting Firm shall be conclusive and binding upon the Representative, the Shareholders and Buyer. Buyer will revise the Proposed Purchase Price Calculation as appropriate to reflect the resolution of any objections thereto pursuant to this Section 2.3(b)(ii). The "Final Statement of Purchase Price" shall mean the Proposed Purchase Price Calculation together with any revisions thereto pursuant to this Section 2.3(b)(ii).

(iii) In the event the Representative and Buyer submit any unresolved objections to the Accounting Firm for resolution as provided in Section 2.3(b)(ii), the responsibility for the fees and expenses of such Accounting Firm shall be paid by Buyer, on the one hand, and the Representative on behalf of the Shareholders, on the other hand, in inverse proportion (based on value) as Buyer and the Representative prevail on any disputed matters, as determined by the Accounting Firm.

(iv) Buyer will make the Company's financial records available to the Accounting Firm and the Representative and his accountants and other representatives at reasonable times at any time during the review by the Representative and/or the Accounting Firm, as the case may be, of, and the resolution of any objections with respect to, the Proposed Purchase Price Calculation.

(c) Adjustment to Estimated Purchase Price.

(i) If the Actual Adjustment is a positive amount (the "Positive Adjustment Amount"):

(A) Buyer will pay, or cause to be paid, to the Representative on behalf of the Shareholders for distribution to the Shareholders in accordance with their respective Cash Proceeds Percentages set forth on Exhibit B, an amount in cash equal to the product of (x) the Positive Adjustment Amount and (y) 100% minus the Aggregate Contribution Percentage, net of applicable withholding taxes, if any, by wire transfer or delivery of other immediately available funds within three (3) Business Days after the date on which the Purchase Price is finally determined pursuant to Section 2.3(b);

(B) Buyer and the Representative will instruct the Escrow Agent to pay to the Representative on behalf of the Shareholders for distribution to the Shareholders in accordance with their respective Cash Proceeds Percentages set forth on Exhibit B, an amount equal to the Cash Escrow Amount, net of applicable withholding taxes, if any, out of the Escrow Account by wire transfer or delivery of other immediately available funds within three (3) Business Days after the date on which the Purchase Price is finally determined pursuant to Section 2.3(b); and

(C) McJ Holding will issue additional McJ Units to the Continuing Shareholders in accordance with Exhibit B with an aggregate value (determined based on the price per McJ Unit to be paid under the Contribution Agreement) equal to the product of (x) the Positive Adjustment Amount plus the Escrow Amount and (y) the Aggregate Contribution Percentage.

(ii) If the Actual Adjustment is a negative amount (the absolute value of such negative amount, the "Negative Adjustment Amount") and the Negative Adjustment Amount is less than the Escrow Amount:

(A) Buyer and the Representative will instruct the Escrow Agent to pay (1) to the Representative on behalf of the Shareholders for distribution to the Shareholders in accordance with their respective Cash Proceeds Percentages set forth on Exhibit B, an amount, if any, equal to the product of (x) the Escrow Amount minus the Negative Adjustment Amount and (y) 100% minus the Aggregate Contribution Percentage, net of applicable withholding taxes, if any, out of the Escrow Account by wire transfer or delivery of other immediately available funds within three (3) Business Days after the date on which the Purchase Price is finally determined pursuant to Section 2.3(b), and (2) to Buyer the remaining amount of the Escrow Funds out of the Escrow Account by wire transfer or delivery of other immediately available funds within three (3) Business Days after the date on which the Purchase Price is finally determined pursuant to Section 2.3(b); and

(B) McJ Holding will issue additional McJ Units to the Continuing Shareholders in accordance with their respective Contributed Share Percentages set forth on Exhibit B with an aggregate value (based on the price per McJ Unit set forth in the Contribution Agreement) equal to the product of (x) the Escrow Amount minus the Negative Adjustment Amount and (y) the Aggregate Contribution Percentage.

(iii) If the Actual Adjustment is a Negative Adjustment Amount and is greater than or equal to the Escrow Amount:

(A) Buyer and the Representative will instruct the Escrow Agent to pay to Buyer the Cash Escrow Amount out of the Escrow Account by wire transfer or delivery of other immediately available funds within three (3) Business Days after the date on which the Purchase Price is finally determined pursuant to Section 2.3(b);

(B) if the Negative Adjustment Amount is greater than the Escrow Amount, the Non-Plan Shareholders will pay to Buyer, in accordance with the column entitled "Non-Plan Shareholders Percentages" on Schedule 1, an amount equal to the product of (x) the Negative Adjustment Amount minus the Escrow Amount and (y) 100% minus the Aggregate Contribution Percentage by wire transfer or delivery of other immediately available funds within three (3) Business Days after the date on which the Purchase Price is finally determined pursuant to Section 2.3(b); provided that Buyer may instead, in its sole discretion, elect to set off any amount owed by the Shareholders to Buyer pursuant to this clause (B) against the Midfield Amount payable to the Shareholders pursuant to Section 6.14; and

(C) if the Negative Adjustment Amount is greater than the Escrow Amount, McJ Holding will cancel McJ Units issued to the Continuing Shareholders pursuant to the Contribution Agreement with an aggregate value equal to the product of (x) the Negative Adjustment Amount minus the Escrow Amount and (y) the Aggregate Contribution Percentage, in accordance with Exhibit B.

2.4. Closing. Subject to the provisions of Article VII, the closing of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (the "Closing") and all actions specified in this Agreement to occur at the Closing shall take place at the offices of Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP, One New York Plaza, New York, New York at 9:00 a.m., New York time, on the fifth Business Day immediately following the day on which the last of the conditions set forth in Article VII (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at the Closing, but subject to the satisfaction or waiver of those conditions) are satisfied or waived in accordance with this Agreement, or on such other date as Buyer and the Representative shall agree (the date on which the Closing takes place, the "Closing Date").

2.5 Withholding. Each of Buyer and the Company shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from the consideration otherwise payable pursuant to this Agreement to any Shareholder such amounts as it is required to deduct and withhold with respect to the making of such payment under the Code; or any other applicable state, local or foreign Tax law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld by Buyer or the Company, as the case may be, such withheld amounts (a) shall be remitted by Buyer or the Company, as applicable, to the applicable Governmental Entity, and (b) shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as having been paid to the Shareholder in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made by Buyer or the Company, as the case may be.

ARTICLE III

Representations and Warranties of the Shareholders

Each Shareholder represents and warrants to Buyer, as follows (it being understood that no Shareholder shall be liable for the representation or warranty of any other Shareholder under this Article III):

3.1. Ownership; Authorization of Transaction.

(a) Schedule 1 accurately sets forth the number of shares of Company Stock owned of record and beneficially by such Shareholder. Such Company Stock is owned by such Shareholder free and clear of any Encumbrances.

(b) Such Shareholder has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and each Ancillary Document to which such Shareholder is a party, including the Escrow Agreement (which shall be executed by the Representative in his capacity as the true and lawful agent and attorney-in-fact of each of the Shareholders), and to perform such Shareholder's obligations hereunder and thereunder, and, if such Shareholder is an entity, the execution, delivery and performance by such Shareholder of this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents to which it is a party have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate or other similar action on the part of such Shareholder. This Agreement and each Ancillary Document to which such Shareholder is a party constitute, or upon execution will constitute, a valid and legally binding obligation of such Shareholder, enforceable against such Shareholder in accordance with their respective terms, except as limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent conveyance, reorganization, moratorium or similar Laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights or by general principles of equity, whether such enforceability is considered in a court of law, a court of equity or otherwise (the "Bankruptcy and Equity Exception).

3.2. No Conflicts. With the exception of any filing required under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended ("HSR Act") and the Competition Act, the execution and the delivery of this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents to which such Shareholder is a party and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby will not (a) violate any Law or Order to which such Shareholder is subject, (b) result in the creation or imposition of any Encumbrance upon the Company Stock owned of record and beneficially by such Shareholder, or (c) require such Shareholder to give any notice to, make any filing with, or obtain any authorization, consent or approval of, any Person.

ARTICLE IV

Representations and Warranties of the Company

Except as set forth in the corresponding sections of the disclosure letter delivered to Buyer by the Company simultaneously with the execution and delivery of this Agreement (the "Schedules") (it being agreed that disclosure of any item in any section of the Schedules shall be deemed disclosure with respect to any other section to which the relevance of such item is reasonably apparent), the Company represents and warrants to Buyer, as follows:

4.1. Authorization of Transaction. The Company has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and each Ancillary Document to which it is a party and to perform its obligations hereunder and thereunder, and the execution, delivery and performance by the Company of this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents to which it is a party have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of the Company. This Agreement and each Ancillary Document to which the Company is a party constitute, or upon execution will constitute, a valid and legally binding obligation of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with their respective terms, except as limited by the Bankruptcy and Equity Exception.

4.2. Corporate Organization; Authority. Each of the Company and each of its Subsidiaries is a legal entity duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of its respective jurisdiction of organization and has all requisite corporate or similar power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and assets and to carry on its business as presently conducted and is qualified to do business and is in good standing as a foreign corporation in each jurisdiction where the ownership, leasing or operation of its assets or properties or conduct of its business requires such qualification, except where the failure to be so organized, qualified or in good standing, or to have such power or authority, are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. The Company has made available to Buyer complete and correct copies of the Company's and each of its Subsidiaries' certificate of incorporation and by laws or comparable governing documents, each as amended to the date hereof, and each as so delivered is in full force and effect. Schedule 4.2 contains a true and complete list of each jurisdiction where the Company and each of its Subsidiaries are organized and qualified to do business.

4.3. Capitalization.

(a) The authorized capital stock of the Company consists of (x) 50,000,000 shares of Class A Stock, of which 143,976 shares are issued and outstanding as of the date of this Agreement, (y) 50,000,000 shares of Class B Stock, of which 34,344 shares are issued and outstanding as of the date of this Agreement and (z) 2,000 shares of Preferred Stock, par value

$2,500 per share, of which no shares are issued and outstanding as of the date of this Agreement. All of the Outstanding Shares have been duly authorized and are validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable. The Company has no shares of capital stock reserved for issuance. At the Closing, Buyer will acquire all of the Transferred Shares free and clear of any Encumbrances other than those imposed by or as a result of any act by Buyer. Each of the outstanding shares of capital stock or other securities of each of the Company's Subsidiaries is duly authorized, validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and, except as set forth on Schedule 4.3(a), owned by the Company or by a direct or indirect wholly-owned Subsidiary of the Company, free and clear of any Encumbrance. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.3(a), there are no preemptive or other outstanding rights, options, warrants, conversion rights, stock appreciation rights, redemption rights, repurchase rights, agreements, arrangements, calls, commitments or rights of any kind that obligate the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to issue or sell any Company Stock or any shares of capital stock or other securities of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or any securities or obligations convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for, or giving any Person a right to subscribe for or acquire, any Company Stock or any shares of capital stock or other securities of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, and no securities or obligations evidencing such rights are authorized, issued or outstanding. None of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has outstanding any bonds, debentures, notes or other obligations the holders of which have the right to vote (or convertible into or exercisable for securities having the right to vote) with the shareholders of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries on any matter.

(b) Schedule 4.3(b) sets forth (i) each of the Company's Subsidiaries and the ownership interest of the Company in each such Subsidiary, as well as the ownership interest of any other Person or Persons in each such Subsidiary and (ii) the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' capital stock, voting or equity interest or other direct or indirect ownership interest in any other Person. With respect to each Person identified on Schedule 4.3(b) that is (x) a Subsidiary of the Company that is not wholly-owned by the Company or (y) not a Subsidiary of the Company (each such entity described in (x) and (y), a "Non-Wholly Owned Investment"), the Company has delivered to Buyer copies of all Contracts and other documents to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is a party that relates in any way to any Non-Wholly Owned Investment and each such Contract is a valid and binding agreement of the Company or one of its Subsidiaries, as the case may be, and is in full force and effect, and neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries nor, to the Knowledge of the Company, any other party thereto is in default or breach in any respect under the terms of any such Contract. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is obligated to make any capital contribution or to assume or otherwise become liable for any debts or obligations or make any other payments with respect to any Non-Wholly Owned Investment. The CanHCo Call Right set forth in the Midfield Shareholders Agreement is in full force and effect and entitles CanHCo to acquire all shares of Midfield Supply owned by MinorityHCo for the CanHCo Call Price during the Call Period.

4.4. No Conflicts.

(a) Other than the filings required under the HSR Act and the Competition Act, no notices, reports or other filings are required to be made by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with, nor are any consents, registrations, approvals, permits or authorizations required to be obtained by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries from, any Governmental Entity, in connection with the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents by the Company and the Shareholders and the consummation by the Company and the Shareholders of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, or in connection with the continuing operation of the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries following the Closing, except those for which the failure to obtain such consent, approval or waiver is not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(b) Except as set forth on Schedule 4.4(b), the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents by the Company or any of the Shareholders do not, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby will not, constitute or result in (i) a breach or violation of, or a default under, the certificate of incorporation or by laws of the Company or the comparable governing instruments of any of its Subsidiaries, (ii) with or without notice, lapse of time or both, a breach or violation of, a termination (or right of termination) or a default under, the creation or acceleration of any obligations or the creation of an Encumbrance on any of the assets of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries pursuant to any Contract binding upon the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or, assuming (solely with respect to performance of this Agreement and consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby) the requisite filing under the HSR Act and the Competition Act, under any Law to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is subject, or (iii) any change in the rights or obligations of any party under any Contract binding on the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, except, in the case of clause (ii) or (iii) above, for any such breach, violation, termination, default, creation, acceleration or change that, individually or in the aggregate, is not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. None of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is the beneficiary of, or exempt from, any Law, Order or Permit because of a "grandfather clause" that will not be available to it following the Closing.

(c) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to or bound by any non-competition Contracts or other Contract that purports to limit either the type of business in which the Company or its Affiliates (or, after giving effect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, Buyer or its Affiliates) may engage or the manner or locations in which any of them may engage in any business (for the avoidance of doubt, distribution agreements and similar Contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice shall not be deemed to be covered by this Section 4.4(c) provided that such distribution agreements or similar Contracts do not in any way restrict Buyer or any of its Affiliates (other than the Company and its Subsidiaries) after consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby).

4.5. Financial Statements. The Company has delivered to Buyer copies of (a) the audited consolidated financial statements and other financial information for the Company and its consolidated Subsidiaries as of October 31, 2004, October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2006 and for the fiscal years then ended (the "Audited Financial Statements"), and (b) the unaudited consolidated financial statements and other financial information for the Company and its consolidated Subsidiaries for the seven-month period ending May 31, 2007 (together with the Audited Financial Statements, the "Financial Statements"). Each of the consolidated balance sheets included in the Financial Statements (including any related notes and schedules) fairly presents in all material respects the consolidated financial position of the Company and its consolidated Subsidiaries as of its date and each of the consolidated statements of income, shareholders' equity and cash flows included in the Financial Statements (including any related notes and schedules) fairly presents in all material respects the consolidated results of operations and cash flows of the Company and its consolidated Subsidiaries for the periods then ended, in each case in conformity with GAAP, subject in the case of the unaudited financial statements to (i) the absence of footnote disclosures and other presentation items and (ii) changes resulting from normal de minimis year-end adjustments. The audit reports with respect to the Audited Financial Statements are not subject to any qualification.

4.6. Absence of Certain Changes. Since October 31, 2006, the Company and its Subsidiaries have conducted their respective businesses only in, and have not engaged in any material transaction outside the ordinary and usual course of such businesses, and there has not been any event, change, action, failure to act or transaction which, individually or in the aggregate, has had or would be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.6, since October 31, 2006, the Company has not taken any actions or omitted to take any actions which, had such actions or omissions occurred after the date of this Agreement, would have breached any of the covenants contained in Section 6.1(a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i), (k), (m), (n) (provided that the $100,000 referenced in such subsection shall be $100,000 individually, not in the aggregate), (o), (p), (q), (s), or (t).

4.7. Litigation and Liabilities.

(a) There are no civil, criminal or administrative actions, information requests, suits, claims, hearings, arbitrations, investigations or other proceedings (collectively, "Claims") pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, except as listed on Schedule 4.7 and for those that are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. Except as reflected or reserved against in the Company's audited consolidated balance sheet for the year ending October 31, 2006 (and the notes thereto) and for obligations or liabilities incurred in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice since October 31, 2006 (and reflected or reserved against in the Company's unaudited consolidated balance sheet for the seven months ended May 31, 2007, to the extent incurred prior to such date), there are no obligations or liabilities of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, whether or not accrued, contingent or otherwise and whether or not required to be disclosed, or any other facts or circumstances of which to the Knowledge of the Company is reasonably likely to result in any Claims against, or obligations or liabilities of, the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, including those relating to matters involving any Environmental Law), except for those that are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(b) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to or subject to the provisions of any Order of any Governmental Entity which is, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

4.8. Employees; Benefits.

(a) All material benefit, employment, retention, transaction, severance, change in control and compensation plans, contracts, policies or arrangements covering current or former employees of the Company and its Subsidiaries (the "Employees") and current or former directors of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or with respect to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries could have any liability, including, but not limited to, "employee benefit plans" within the meaning of Section 3(3) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), and deferred compensation, severance, stock option, stock purchase, stock appreciation rights, stock based, incentive and bonus plans (the "Benefit Plans"), are listed on Schedule 4.8(a), and each Benefit Plan which has received a favorable opinion letter from the Internal Revenue Service National Office has been separately identified. True and complete copies of all Benefit Plans listed on Schedule 4.8(a) have been made available to Buyer.

(b) To the Knowledge of the Company, all Benefit Plans, other than "multiemployer plans" within the meaning of Section 3(37) of ERISA (each, a "Multiemployer Plan") (collectively, "Company Benefit Plans") are in compliance in all material respects with their terms and ERISA, the Code and other applicable Laws. Each Company Benefit Plan which is subject to ERISA (an "ERISA Plan") that is an "employee pension benefit plan" within the meaning of Section 3(2) of ERISA intended to be qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code, has received a favorable determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") covering all tax law changes prior to the Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2001 or has applied to the IRS for such favorable determination letter within the applicable remedial amendment period under Section 401(b) of the Code, and to the Knowledge of the Company, no circumstances exist which are likely to result in the loss of the qualification of such Company Benefit Plan under Section 401(a) of the Code. No Benefit Plan which is a Multiemployer Plan is insolvent or is in reorganization within the meaning of Part 3 of Subtitle E of Title IV of ERISA and to the Company's Knowledge no condition exists which presents a risk of any Multiemployer Plan becoming insolvent or going into reorganization. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has engaged in a transaction with respect to any ERISA Plan that, assuming the taxable period of such transaction expired as of the date hereof, could subject the Company or any Subsidiary to a tax or penalty imposed by either Section 4975 of the Code or Section 502(i) of ERISA in an amount which would be material.

(c) No material liability under Subtitle C or D of Title IV of ERISA has been or is expected to be incurred by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with respect to any ongoing, frozen or terminated Company Benefit Plan or with respect to the single-employer plan of any entity which is considered one employer with the Company or any of its Subsidiaries under Section 4001 of ERISA or Section 414 of the Code (an "ERISA Affiliate"). Other than the Company and its Subsidiaries, neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has any ERISA Affiliates nor any liability with respect to any entity that previously was an ERISA Affiliate. The Company and its Subsidiaries have not incurred and do not expect to incur any material withdrawal liability with respect to a Multiemployer Plan under Subtitle E of Title IV of ERISA (regardless of whether based on contributions of an ERISA Affiliate).

(d) As of the date hereof, there is no material pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company threatened, litigation or dispute relating to the Benefit Plans or by an Employee against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, other than routine claims for benefits. No Benefit Plan is under audit, investigation or similar proceeding by the IRS, the Department of Labor, the Pension Benefit Guarantee Corporation or any other Governmental Entity and, to the Knowledge of the Company, no such audit, investigation or proceeding is pending. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has any obligations for retiree health or life benefits under any ERISA Plan or collective bargaining agreement or has obligations to any Employee (either individually or Employees as a group) that such Employee(s) would be provided with such retiree health or life benefits upon their retirement or termination of employment, except to the extent required by Section 4980B of the Code.

(e) Neither the execution and delivery of this Agreement, nor the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby will (x) entitle any Employees to severance pay or any material increase in severance pay upon any termination of employment after the date hereof, or (y) accelerate the time of payment or vesting, or result in any payment or funding (through a grantor trust or otherwise) of compensation or benefits under, or increase the amount payable, or result in any other material obligation pursuant to, any of the Benefit Plans or (z) result in the triggering or imposition of any restrictions or limitation on the right of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to amend or terminate any Benefit Plan. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.8(e), no payment or benefit which will or may be made by Buyer, the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with respect to any Employee will be characterized as an "excess parachute payment," within the meaning of Section 280G(b)(1) of the Code.

(f) Except for such Benefit Plans set forth on Schedule 4.8(f), none of the Benefit Plans, if administered in accordance with their terms, could result in the imposition of interest or an additional tax on any participant thereunder pursuant to Section 409A of the Code.

4.9. Compliance with Laws. The businesses of the Company and each of its Subsidiaries have not been, and are not being, conducted in violation of any applicable Law, except for violations that, individually or in the aggregate, are not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. Except with respect to regulatory matters covered by Section 6.2, no investigation or review by any Governmental Entity with respect to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened, nor has any Governmental Entity indicated an intention to conduct the same, except for those the outcome of which are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. To the Knowledge of the Company, no material change is required in the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' processes, properties or procedures in connection with any such Laws, and none of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has received any notice or communication of any material noncompliance with any such Laws that has not been cured as of the date hereof. The Company and its Subsidiaries each has obtained and is in compliance with all permits, licenses, certifications, approvals, registrations, consents, authorizations, franchises, variances, exemptions and orders issued or granted by a Governmental Entity (each a "Permit") necessary to conduct its business as presently conducted, except those the absence of which is not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

4.10. Material Contracts. As of the date of this Agreement and except as otherwise expressly contemplated by this Agreement or as set forth on Schedule 4.10, neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to or bound by:

(a) any individual lease of real or personal property providing for annual rentals of $5 million or more;

(b) any Contract with any Governmental Entity or any Contract (other than purchase orders entered into the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice) that is reasonably likely to require either (x) annual payments to or from the Company or any of its Subsidiaries of more than $5 million or (y) aggregate payments to or from the Company or any of its Subsidiaries of more than $5 million;

(c) other than with respect to any wholly owned Subsidiary of the Company, any partnership, joint venture or other similar agreement or arrangement relating to the formation, creation, operation, management or control of any partnership or joint venture material to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or in which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries directly or indirectly owns more than a 15% voting or economic interest, or any interest valued at more than $5 million without regard to percentage voting or economic interest;

(d) any Contract (other than among direct or indirect wholly owned Subsidiaries of the Company) relating to Debt in excess of $5 million;

(e) any non-competition Contract or other Contract that purports to limit either the type of business in which the Company or its Subsidiaries or, after consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, Buyer or any of its Affiliates may engage or the manner or locations in which any of them may so engage in any business (for the avoidance of doubt, distribution agreements and similar Contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice shall not be deemed to be covered by this Section 4.10(e) provided that such distribution agreements or similar Contracts do not in any way restrict Buyer or any of its Affiliates (other than the Company and its Subsidiaries) after consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby);

(f) any Contract containing a standstill or similar agreement pursuant to which one party has agreed not to acquire assets or securities of the other party or any of its Affiliates;

(g) any Contract with any Shareholder, Related Party, Affiliate, director or officer of the Company, or any Affiliate, shareholder, director or officer of any Subsidiary of the Company;

(h) any Contract providing for indemnification by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries of any Person, except for any such Contract that is (x) not material to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or is a purchase order and (y) entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice;

(i) any Contract that contains a put, call or similar right pursuant to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries could be required to purchase or sell, as applicable, any equity interests of any Person or assets that have a fair market value or purchase price of more than $5 million, other than the Midfield Shareholders Agreement; and

(j) any other Contract or group of related Contracts that, if terminated or subject to a default by any party thereto, is, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

The Contracts described in Sections 4.10(a) through (j), together with all exhibits and schedules to such Contracts, are referred to herein as the "Material Contracts." A copy of each written Material Contract and a summary of the material terms of each oral Material Contract (or a copy of written terms proposed for Material Contracts not executed but in which performance has begun) have previously been delivered or made available to Buyer, and each Material Contract is a valid and binding agreement of the Company or one of its Subsidiaries, as the case may be, and is in full force and effect, and neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries nor, to the Knowledge of the Company, any other party thereto is in default or breach in any respect under the terms of any such Contract.

4.11. Real Property.

(a) With respect to the real property owned by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (the "Owned Real Property"), (i) the Company or one of its Subsidiaries, as applicable, has good and marketable title to the Owned Real Property, free and clear of any Encumbrance other than Permitted Encumbrances, (ii) there are no outstanding options or rights of first refusal to purchase the Owned Real Property, or any portion thereof or interest therein, and (iii) neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries leases Owned Real Property to any other Person.

(b) With respect to the real property leased or subleased to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (the "Leased Real Property"), the lease or sublease for such property is valid, legally binding, enforceable and in full force and effect, and none of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is in material breach of or default under such lease or sublease, and no event has occurred which, with notice, lapse of time or both, would constitute a breach or default by any of the Company or its Subsidiaries or permit termination, modification or acceleration by any third party thereunder.

(c) Schedule 4.11(c) contains a true and complete list of all Owned Real Property and Leased Real Property and sets forth a correct street address or such other information as is reasonably necessary to identify each parcel of Owned Real Property and Leased Real Property.

4.12. Environmental Matters.

(a) Except as is not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect: (A) the Company and its Subsidiaries are, and have since January 1, 2002 been, in compliance with all applicable Environmental Laws; (B) the Company and its Subsidiaries possess all permits, licenses, registrations, identification numbers, authorizations and approvals required under applicable Environmental Laws for the operation of the business as presently conducted; (C) neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has received any claim, notice of violation, citation or other communication concerning any violation or alleged violation of, or liability under, any applicable Environmental Law which has not been fully resolved, imposing no outstanding liability or obligation on the Company or any of its Subsidiaries; (D) there are no writs, injunctions, decrees, orders or judgments outstanding, or any actions, suits, proceedings, inquiries, information requests, or investigations pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened, concerning compliance by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with, or liability of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries under, any Environmental Law; and (E) there are no Hazardous Substances at, on, under, or migrating to or from, the Owned Real Property, the Leased Real Property, or, to the Knowledge of the Company, any real property formerly owned, leased or operated by the Company, or any of its Subsidiaries (the "Former Real Property"), in each case, which is reasonably expected to result in liability to the Company or any Subsidiary under Environmental Law.

(b) The Company has made available to Buyer or its counsel true and complete copies of any material reports, site assessments, tests, or monitoring possessed by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (A) pertaining to Hazardous Substances at, on, under, or migrating to or from, any Owned Real Property, Leased Real Property or Former Real Property, or (B) concerning compliance by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with Environmental Law or their liability thereunder.

(c) Notwithstanding any other representation and warranty in this Article IV, the representations and warranties contained in this Section 4.12 and in Sections 4.7 and 4.9 constitute the sole representations and warranties of the Company and the Shareholders relating to any Environmental Law.

4.13. Tax Matters. The Company and each of its Subsidiaries (a) have prepared in good faith and duly and timely filed (taking into account any extension of time within which to file) all Tax Returns required to be filed by any of them and all such filed Tax Returns are complete and accurate in all material respects; (b) have paid all Taxes that are shown as due on such filed Tax Returns (or Taxes that are otherwise due and payable) or that the Company or any of its Subsidiaries are obligated to withhold from amounts owing to any employee, creditor or other third party, except with respect to matters contested in good faith and for which adequate reserves have been established in accordance with GAAP; and (c) have not waived any statute of limitations with respect to Taxes or agreed to any extension of time with respect to a Tax assessment or deficiency. As of the date hereof, there are not pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened, any audits, examinations, investigations or other proceedings in respect of Taxes or Tax matters. Except as set forth on Schedule 4.13, there are not, to the Knowledge of the Company, any material unresolved questions or claims concerning the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' Tax liability. The Company has made available to Buyer true and correct copies of the United States federal income Tax Returns filed by the Company and each of its Subsidiaries for each of the three most recent fiscal years. The consolidated United States federal income Tax Returns of the Company have been examined, or the statutes of limitations have closed, with respect to all taxable years through and including the taxable year ended October 31, 2002. To the Knowledge of the Company, no claim has been made in the previous five years by a Governmental Entity in a jurisdiction where the Company or any of its Subsidiaries does not file Tax Returns that the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is or may be subject to taxation by that jurisdiction. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has any liability for Taxes of any Person (other than the Company and its Subsidiaries) under Treasury Regulation Section 1.1502-6 or any comparable provision of U.S., state, local or foreign Law, or otherwise. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has been a party to a "reportable transaction" (as that term is defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.6011-4(b)(1)). Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to any Tax sharing agreement with any Person (other than the Company and/or any of its Subsidiaries). Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has been a party to any distribution occurring during the last 30 months in which the parties to such distribution treated the distribution as one to which Section 355 of the Code (or any similar provision of state, local or foreign law) applied. Each material Tax election made by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has been timely and properly made. Each of the Class A Stock and the Class B Stock is not "taxable Canadian property" for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada).

4.14. Labor Matters.

(a) To the Knowledge of the Company, there is no organizational effort currently being made or threatened on behalf of any labor organization to organize the employees of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, nor a demand for recognition of any of the employees of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries on behalf of any labor organization within the last two (2) years; nor is the Company or any of its Subsidiaries the subject of any material proceeding asserting that the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has committed an unfair labor practice within the meaning of the National Labor Relations Act or comparable restrictions under other applicable Laws or seeking to compel it to bargain with any labor organization; nor is there pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened, nor has there been for the past two (2) years, any labor strike, picketing, walkout, work stoppage or lockout involving the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is presently, nor has been in the past a party to, or bound by, any collective bargaining agreement or union contract with respect to Employees, and no such agreement or contract is currently being negotiated. The consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement will not entitle any third party (including any labor organization) to any payments under any collective bargaining agreement or union contract with respect to Employees to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is a party or by which any of them are otherwise bound.

(b) The Company and its Subsidiaries (i) are in compliance in all material respects with all applicable Laws respecting employment, overtime pay and wages and hours, in each case, with respect to their employees; (ii) have withheld all material amounts required by applicable Law or by agreement to be withheld from the wages, salaries and other payment to their employees; and (iii) are not liable for or in arrears with respect to material wages or any material taxes or any penalty for failure to comply with any of the foregoing except, in each case, to the extent as is not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(c) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has classified any individual as an "independent contractor" or similar status who, according to a Benefit Plan or applicable Law, should have been classified as an employee or of similar status.

4.15. Insurance. The Company and its Subsidiaries maintain fire and casualty, general liability, business interruption, product liability and sprinkler and water damage insurance policies (the "Insurance Policies") with reputable insurance carriers. The Insurance Policies provide full and adequate coverage for all normal risks incident to the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries and their respective properties and assets, and are in character and amount at least equivalent to that carried by Persons engaged in similar businesses and subject to the same or similar perils or hazards, except for any such failure to maintain insurance polices that, individually or in the aggregate, are not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. Each Insurance Policy is in full force and effect and all premiums due with respect to all Insurance Policies have been paid, with such exceptions that, individually or in the aggregate, are not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

4.16. Related Party Transactions.

(a) Except as set forth on Schedule 4.16(a), no Shareholder or other Related Party (i) has any interest in any property (real, personal, or mixed and whether tangible or intangible), used in or pertaining to the business of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries as currently conducted, (ii) owns, of record or as a beneficial owner, an equity interest or any other financial or a profit interest (other than ownership of publicly-traded securities representing less than 5% of the total equity and less than 5% of the total voting power of the issuer) in a Person that has had material business dealings or a material financial interest in any transaction with the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or (iii) is a party to any Contract with, or has any claim or right against, the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (except for employment and similar Contracts and claims thereunder).

(b) Except as set forth on Schedule 4.16(b), none of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is indebted, directly or indirectly, to any Person who is a Shareholder or other Related Party in any amount whatsoever, other than for ordinary compensation (including salaries, wages and benefits) for services rendered or reimbursable business expenses, nor is any such Shareholder or other Related Party indebted to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, except for advances made to employees of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries in the ordinary course of business to meet reimbursable business expenses anticipated to be incurred by such obligor. There is no Debt owed by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to any employee of Midfield. All Debt that is owed by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to MinorityHCo is unsecured and subordinated to any bank Debt of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, and does not exceed CDN$27 million.

4.17. Product Warranty and Product Liability. There is no notice, demand, claim, action, suit, inquiry, hearing, proceeding, notice of violation or investigation from, by or before any Governmental Entity relating to any product, including the packaging and advertising related thereto, designed, formulated, manufactured, processed, sold, distributed or placed in the stream of commerce by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (a "Product"), or claim or lawsuit involving a Product which is, to the Knowledge of the Company, pending or threatened, by any Person which is reasonably likely to result in any material liability to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. There has not been, nor is there under consideration by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, any Product recall or post-sale warning conducted by or on behalf of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries concerning any Product, except for such recalls or post-sale warnings that are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. To the Knowledge of the Company, at the time sold, distributed or placed in the stream of commerce by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, all Products, complied in all material respects with applicable specifications, government safety standards and other applicable Laws, and were substantially free from contamination, deficiencies or defects, except for such non-compliance, contamination, deficiency or defect as is not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely have a Material Adverse Effect.

4.18. Suppliers and Customers. Schedule 4.18 sets forth a list of (a) the fifteen (15) largest suppliers (by dollar amount and not by name) to the Company and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, during the seven month period ending May 31, 2007 ("Major Suppliers") and (ii) the fifteen (15) customers (by dollar amount of purchases and not by name) with the highest dollar amount of purchases from or services of, the companies, taken as a whole, during the seven month period ending May 31, 2007 (the "Major Customers"). No Major Supplier or Major Customer has during the last two (2) years materially decreased or limited, or to the Knowledge of the Company threatened to materially decrease or limit, its provision or receipt of services or supplies to or from the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. No termination, cancellation or material limitation of, or any material modification or change in, the business relationship of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has occurred or, to the Knowledge of the Company, has been threatened by any Major Supplier or Major Customer.

4.19. Purchase and Sale Agreements. No claims for indemnification under any prior purchase and sale agreements to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is a party (the "Prior Purchase Agreements"), have been made by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries in the last five (5) years, or are pending or threatened by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. No claims for indemnification under any Prior Purchase Agreements have been made in the last five (5) years or to the Knowledge of the Company are pending or threatened, by any counterparties thereto.

4.20. Brokers and Finders. None of the Shareholders, the Company, any of the Company's Subsidiaries or any of the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' officers, directors or employees has employed, retained or engaged any broker or finder or incurred any liability for any brokerage, finder's or similar fees or commissions in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, except that the Company has employed Boylan Partners, LLC as its financial advisor with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, the fees and expenses of which shall be either paid by the Shareholders or included as Company Expenses.

4.21. Power of Attorney. None of the Shareholders, the Company or any of the Company's Subsidiaries has given any irrevocable power of attorney (other than such powers of attorney given in the ordinary course of business with respect to routine matters or as may be necessary or desirable in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby) to any Person for any purpose whatsoever with respect to the Company or any of the Company's Subsidiaries.

4.22. Investment Canada Act. The Company is a WTO investor (within the meaning of the Investment Canada Act). None of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (i) is engaged in the production of uranium or owns an interest in a producing uranium property in Canada, (ii) provides a financial service (as such term is defined in the Investment Canada Act) in Canada, (iii) provides any transportation service (as such term is defined in the Investment Canada Act) in Canada, and (iv) is involved in any sensitive sector activities in Canada as described in subsections 14.1(5) and 15(a) of the Investment Canada Act. The value, calculated in the manner prescribed in the Investment Canada Act, of the assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries carrying on a business in Canada and of any Subsidiary incorporated in Canada, amounts to less than fifty per cent of the value, calculated in the manner prescribed in the Investment Canada Act, of all of the assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries.

4.23. Opinion. The Company, as the plan administrator of the Company Retirement Plan, has received a written report from Fiduciary Counselors Inc., an independent fiduciary appointed for the purpose of determining the participation by the Company Retirement Plan in the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (the "Independent Fiduciary"), which written report (i) includes an opinion from Murray, Devine & Co. to the effect that the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are fair to the Company Retirement Plan from a financial point of view, (ii) concludes that the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are fair to the Company Retirement Plan from a financial point of view and (iii) directs the trustees of the Company Retirement Plan to execute this Agreement on behalf of the Company Retirement Plan. The Company has provided Buyer a correct and complete copy of such report.

ARTICLE V

Representations and Warranties of Buyer

Buyer represents and warrants to the Shareholders as follows:

5.1. Organization, Good Standing and Qualification. Buyer is a legal entity duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of its jurisdiction of organization and has all requisite corporate or similar power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and assets and to carry on its business as presently conducted and is qualified to do business and is in good standing as a foreign corporation in each jurisdiction where the ownership, leasing or operation of its assets or properties or conduct of its business requires such qualification, except where the failure to be so organized, qualified or in such good standing, or to have such power or authority, are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to prevent, materially delay or materially impair the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

5.2. Corporate Authority. Buyer has all requisite corporate power and authority and has taken all corporate action necessary in order to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement and each Ancillary Document and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby. This Agreement and each Ancillary Document has been duly executed and delivered by Buyer and is a valid and binding agreement of Buyer, enforceable against Buyer in accordance with its terms, subject to the Bankruptcy and Equity Exception.

5.3. Governmental Filings; No Violations; Etc.

(a) Other than the filings required under the HSR Act and the Competition Act, no notices, reports or other filings are required to be made by Buyer with, nor are any consents, registrations, approvals, permits or authorizations required to be obtained by Buyer from, any Governmental Entity in connection with the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents by Buyer and the consummation by Buyer of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, except those that the failure to make or obtain are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to prevent, materially delay or materially impair the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (assuming that with respect to Investment Canada Act, the representations and warranties made by the Company in Section 4.22 are true and correct).

(b) The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents by Buyer do not, and the consummation by Buyer of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby will not, constitute or result in (i) a breach or violation of, or a default under, the certificate of incorporation or by laws of Buyer, (ii) with or without notice, lapse of time or both, a breach or violation of, a termination (or right of termination) or a default under, the creation or acceleration of any obligations or the creation of an Encumbrance on any of the assets of Buyer pursuant to, any Contracts binding upon Buyer, or (iii) any change in the rights or obligations of any party under any such Contract, except, in the case of clause (ii) or (iii) above, for any such breach, violation, termination, default, creation, acceleration or change that is not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to prevent, materially delay or materially impair the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents.

5.4. Litigation. There are no civil, criminal or administrative actions, suits, claims, hearings, investigations or proceedings pending or, to the knowledge of the officers of Buyer, threatened against Buyer, except for those that are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to (i) have a material adverse effect on the financial condition, properties, assets, liabilities, business or results of operations of Buyer or (ii) prevent, materially delay or materially impair the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

5.5. Financing. Attached as Exhibit E is a true and complete copy of a debt commitment letter, other than the fee letter relating thereto (the "Debt Financing Commitment"), pursuant to which the lenders party thereto have agreed, subject to the terms and conditions set forth therein, to lend the amounts set forth therein for the purposes of financing a portion of the proceeds to be used for the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (the "Debt Financing"). Attached as Exhibit F is a true and complete copy of an equity commitment letter (the "Equity Financing Commitment," and together with the Debt Financing Commitment, the "Financing Commitments"), pursuant to which the parties thereto have agreed, subject to the terms and conditions set forth therein, to invest the amount set forth therein (together with the Debt Financing, the "Financing"). As of the date of this Agreement, (a) the Financing Commitments have not been amended or modified, (b) no such amendment or modification is contemplated and (c) the respective commitments contained in the Financing Commitments have not been withdrawn or rescinded in any respect. Buyer has fully paid any and all commitment fees or other fees in connection with the Financing Commitments that are payable on or prior to the date hereof, and the Financing Commitments are in full force and effect and are the valid, binding and enforceable obligations of Buyer, and to the knowledge of Buyer, the other parties thereto. There are no conditions precedent or other contingencies related to the funding of the full amount of the Financing, other than as set forth in or contemplated by the Financing Commitments. As of the date hereof, no event has occurred which, with or without notice, lapse of time or both, would constitute a default on the part of Buyer under the Financing Commitments and as of the date hereof Buyer has no reason to believe that any of the conditions to the Financing contemplated by the Financing Commitments will not be satisfied or that the Financing will not be made available to Buyer. Subject to the terms and conditions contained in this Agreement and the Financing Commitments, Buyer will have at the Closing funds sufficient to pay the cash portion of the Estimated Purchase Price (and any repayment or refinancing of debt contemplated by this Agreement or the Financing Commitments) and any other amounts required to be paid in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, and to pay all related fees and expenses.

5.6. Brokers and Finders. Other than Goldman, Sachs & Co., none of the Buyer, McJ Holding, any of the their respective Subsidiaries or any of their respective members, officers, directors or employees has employed, retained or engaged any broker or finder or incurred any liability for any brokerage, finder's or similar fees or commissions in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

ARTICLE VI

Covenants

6.1. Interim Operations. After the date hereof and prior to the Closing (unless Buyer shall otherwise approve in writing, such approval not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed, and except as otherwise expressly contemplated by this Agreement, and except as required by applicable Laws), the Company shall, and the Shareholders covenant and agree to cause the Company and its Subsidiaries to, conduct the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries in the ordinary and usual course and, to the extent consistent therewith, the Company shall and the Shareholders shall cause the Company and the Company's Subsidiaries to (x) use their respective reasonable best efforts to preserve the Company's and its Subsidiaries' business organizations intact and maintain existing relations and goodwill with all Governmental Entities, customers, suppliers, distributors, creditors, lessors, employees and business associates, (y) keep available the services of the Company's and its Subsidiaries' present employees and agents and (z) make capital expenditures substantially in compliance with the Company's 2007 budget provided to Buyer prior to the date of this Agreement and set forth on Schedule 6.1. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing and in furtherance thereof, from the date of this Agreement until the Closing, except (A) as otherwise expressly contemplated by this Agreement, (B) as Buyer may approve in writing (such approval not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed) or (C) for transactions set forth on Schedule 6.1, the Company will not and the Shareholders shall cause the Company and each of its Subsidiaries not to:

(a) adopt or propose any change in its certificate of incorporation or by laws or other applicable governing instruments;

(b) merge or consolidate with any other Person, or restructure, reorganize or completely or partially liquidate or otherwise enter into any agreements or arrangements imposing material changes or restrictions on its assets, operations or businesses;

(c) acquire any entity or business (including by way of merger, stock purchase, asset purchase or otherwise) from any other Person, other than acquisitions pursuant to Contracts in effect as of the date of this Agreement and disclosed on the Schedules;

(d) issue, sell, pledge, dispose of, grant, transfer, encumber, or authorize the issuance, sale, pledge, disposition, grant, transfer, lease, license, guarantee or encumbrance of, any Company Stock or any shares of capital stock of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (other than the issuance of shares by a wholly-owned Subsidiary of the Company to the Company or another wholly-owned Subsidiary), or securities convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for any shares of such capital stock, or any options, warrants or other rights of any kind to acquire any Company Stock or any shares of such capital stock or such convertible or exchangeable securities;

(e) create or incur any Encumbrance in excess of $5 million on any assets of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries;

(f) make any loans, advances or capital contributions to or investments in any Person, other than non-material advances to vendors and employees in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice;

(g) enter into any agreement with respect to the voting of its capital stock or declare, set aside, make or pay any non-cash dividend or other distribution, or purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire any of its capital stock payable other than in cash, with respect to any of its capital stock;

(h) reclassify, split or combine, directly or indirectly, any of its capital stock or securities convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for any shares of its capital stock;

(i) incur any Debt (other than borrowings under the Company's existing debt facilities in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice) or guarantee Debt of another Person, or issue or sell any debt securities or warrants or other rights to acquire any debt security of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries;

(j) enter into any Contract that would have been a Material Contract had it been entered into prior to the entering into of this Agreement;

(k) make any changes with respect to accounting policies or procedures, except as required by changes in GAAP;

(l) other than in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice, amend, modify or terminate any Material Contract, or cancel, modify or waive any Debts or claims held by it or waive any rights;

(m) except as set forth on Schedule 6.1(m), make any material Tax election, take any material position on any Tax Return filed on or after the date of this Agreement or adopt any tax accounting method that is inconsistent with positions taken or methods used in preparing or filing similar Tax Returns in prior periods, or settle or resolve any material Tax controversy;

(n) other than pursuant to Contracts in effect prior to the date of this Agreement and disclosed on the Schedules, transfer, sell, lease, license, mortgage, pledge, surrender, encumber, divest, cancel, abandon or allow to lapse or expire or otherwise dispose of any assets, product lines or businesses of the Company or its Subsidiaries, including capital stock of any of its Subsidiaries, except for sales, leases, licenses or other dispositions of assets with a fair market value not in excess of $100,000 in the aggregate;

(o) except as set forth on Schedule 6.1(o) or otherwise required by applicable Law, (i) increase the compensation, bonus or pension or welfare benefits of, or make any new equity — based awards to, any director, officer or employee of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (other than those increases in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice to employees below the Vice President level), (ii) establish, adopt, amend or terminate any Benefit Plan or amend the terms of any Benefit Plan or outstanding equity-based awards or (iii) take any action to accelerate the vesting or payment, or fund or in any other way secure the payment, of compensation or benefits under any Benefit Plan, to the extent not already required by any such Benefit Plan;

(p) settle, or consent to any settlement of, any actions, suits, claims or proceedings against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or any obligation or liability of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries alleging any injury or damage (other than disputes with customers or suppliers in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice and not exceeding $50,000 per claimant);

(q) take any action or omit to take any action that will waive, modify, compromise or extinguish any of the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' rights with respect to any agreements, understandings or arrangements relating to any insurance coverage;

(r) take any action or omit to take any action that is reasonably likely to result in any of the conditions to Closing set forth in Article VII not being satisfied (other than the taking of any action required to be taken under applicable Law or the omission of any action prohibited under applicable Law);

(s) enter into, terminate, amend or modify any Contract or transaction with any Affiliate, Shareholder or other Related Party;

(t) enter into any purchase order (other than purchase orders entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice and in an amount less than $10 million); or

(u) agree, authorize or commit to do any of the foregoing.

6.2. Other Actions; Notification.

(a) Cooperation. Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, each Party shall cooperate with each other and use (and the Company shall cause its Subsidiaries to use) their respective commercially reasonable efforts to take or cause to be taken all actions, and do or cause to be done all things reasonably necessary, proper or advisable on its part under this Agreement and applicable Laws to consummate and make effective the transactions contemplated by this Agreement as soon as practicable, including preparing and filing as promptly as practicable all documentation to effect all necessary notices, reports and other filings and to obtain as promptly as practicable all consents, registrations, approvals, permits and authorizations necessary or advisable to be obtained from any third party and/or any Governmental Entity in order to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Without limiting the foregoing, Buyer will, as soon as practicable after the date of this Agreement, (i) prepare and file any Notification and Report Forms and related material required to be filed by it with the Federal Trade Commission and the Antitrust Division of the United States Department of Justice under the HSR Act and (ii) prepare and provide submissions to the Commissioner of Competition including a request for an Advance Ruling Certificate and, if requested by Buyer, the Company and Buyer will promptly file a short-form or long-form pre-merger notification pursuant to the Competition Act. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, Buyer shall not be required to proffer or accept any Order providing for Buyer or any of its Affiliates to (x) sell or otherwise dispose of, or hold separate or agree to sell or otherwise dispose of, any entities, assets, or facilities of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or any entity, facility or asset of Buyer or any of its Subsidiaries or any of its or their Affiliates, (y) terminate, amend or assign any existing relationships or contractual rights or obligations, or (z) amend, assign or terminate any existing licenses or other agreements or enter into any new licenses or other agreements.

(b) Information. Each Party shall, upon request by any other, furnish such other Parties with all information concerning itself, its Subsidiaries, directors, officers and shareholders and such other matters as may be reasonably necessary or advisable in connection with any filing, notice or application made by or on behalf of any Party or any of their respective Subsidiaries to any Governmental Entity in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(c) Status. Subject to applicable Laws and the instructions of any Governmental Entity, the Company and the Shareholders shall keep Buyer, and Buyer shall keep the Company and the Representative, apprised of the status of matters relating to completion of the transactions contemplated hereby, including promptly furnishing such Parties with copies of notices or other communications received by such Party, as the case may be, or any of its Subsidiaries, from any third party and/or any Governmental Entity, including under the HSR Act and the Competition Act, with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. The Company and the Shareholders shall give prompt notice to Buyer of any change, fact or condition that is reasonably likely to result in a Material Adverse Effect or of any failure of any condition to Buyer's obligations to effect the Closing and Buyer shall give prompt notice to the Company and the Representative of any change, fact or condition that is reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on Buyer's ability to consummate the Financings or of any failure of any condition to the Company's obligations to effect the Closing; provided, however, that the delivery of any notice pursuant to this sentence shall not limit or otherwise affect the remedies available hereunder to the Party to which such notice is given.

6.3. Access and Reports. Subject to applicable Law, upon reasonable notice, the Company shall (and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries to) afford Buyer's officers, its financing sources and other authorized representatives of Buyer reasonable access, during normal business hours throughout the period prior to the Closing, to its employees, properties, books, Contracts and records and, during such period, the Company shall (and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries to) furnish promptly to Buyer all information concerning its business, properties and personnel as may reasonably be requested, provided that no investigation pursuant to this Section 6.3 shall affect or be deemed to modify any representation or warranty made by the Company or the Shareholders herein, and provided, further, that the foregoing shall not require the Company (i) to permit any inspection, or to disclose any information, that in the reasonable judgment of the Company would result in the disclosure of any trade secrets of third parties or violate any of its obligations with respect to confidentiality or (ii) to disclose any privileged information of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. All requests for information made pursuant to this Section 6.3 shall be directed to the Representative or other Person designated by the Representative. All such information shall be governed by the terms of the Confidentiality Agreement.

6.4. Shareholder Restrictions. From the date of this Agreement to the Closing, except as necessary to comply with Sections 6.17 and 6.18, each of the Shareholders agrees it shall not (a) sell, transfer, encumber, assign or otherwise dispose of, or enter into any Contract with respect to the sale, transfer, encumbrance, assignment or other disposition of, any of the Company Stock held by such Shareholder or (b) take any action (other than any action required by Law), or omit to take any action (other than any action prohibited by Law), which would reasonably be expected to have the effect of preventing or disabling such Shareholder from delivering such Shareholder's Company Stock to Buyer or McJ Holding at the Closing, or immediately prior to Closing, free and clear of any Encumbrances or otherwise performing such Shareholder's obligations under this Agreement or the Contribution Agreement.

6.5. Shareholder Non-Compete Agreements. At or prior to the Closing, the Company and each Person listed on Schedule 6.5 shall enter into a Non-Compete and Non-Solicitation Agreement in the form attached hereto as Exhibit G (each, a "Non-Compete Agreement").

6.6. Shareholders' Post-Closing Confidentiality Obligation. Each Shareholder acknowledges that (i) during the course of its affiliation with the Company, it has produced and/or had access to confidential information relating to the Company and its Subsidiaries ("Confidential Information"), and (ii) the unauthorized use or disclosure of any Confidential Information at any time would constitute unfair competition with Buyer and would deprive Buyer of the benefits of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Each Shareholder agrees that it will hold in confidence the Confidential Information and will not, directly or indirectly, disclose, publish, or otherwise make available any of the Confidential Information to the public or to any Person or use any of the Confidential Information for its own benefit or for the benefit of any other Person, other than Buyer and its Affiliates; provided, however, that such Shareholder may disclose Confidential Information if, but only to the extent, required to do so by Law, provided, however, that in such case, such Shareholder shall provide Buyer with prior written notice thereof so that Buyer may seek an appropriate protective order or other appropriate remedy, and such Shareholder shall (at Buyer's expense) reasonably cooperate with the Company in connection therewith and provided, further, that, in the event that a protective order or other remedy is not obtained, such Shareholder shall furnish only that portion of such information which, in the opinion of its counsel, such Shareholder is legally compelled to disclose and shall exercise commercially reasonable efforts to obtain reasonable assurance that confidential treatment will be accorded any such information so disclosed.

6.7. Release of Claims by Shareholders. Effective upon the Closing, each of the Shareholders, on such Shareholder's own behalf and on behalf of such Shareholder's heirs, executors, administrators, legal representatives, successors and assigns, hereby irrevocably releases, acquits, and forever discharges the Company and the Company's Subsidiaries and each of their respective present or former officers, directors, agents, employees, employee benefit plans (and the fiduciaries thereof) and Affiliates, in each case, in their capacity as such, and the successors and assigns of any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Released Parties"), from any and all claims, actions, causes of action, suits, rights, debts, agreements, damages, injuries, losses, costs, expenses, (including legal fees) and demands whatsoever and all consequences thereof, of every nature or description, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, foreseen or unforeseen, actual or potential, existing as of or prior to the Closing, that any of the Shareholders ever had, now has or may in the future (as of or prior to the Closing) have against any of the Released Parties, in law or in equity, as a result of any act, transaction, agreement, event or omission, occurring or committed from the beginning of time through the Closing (the "Released Claims"), other than (i) any claims for current wages, benefits and expense reimbursements arising in the ordinary course of business or (ii) any other claims that constitute current liabilities of the Company and its Subsidiaries and the amount of which are taken in the computation of Net Working Capital. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any obligation by Buyer or the Company to any Shareholder to be performed after the Closing pursuant to this Agreement or any of the Ancillary Documents shall not constitute a Released Claim.

6.8. Investigations and Actions. The Shareholders and the Company shall keep Buyer informed, on a current basis, of any events, discussions, notices or changes with respect to any criminal or regulatory investigation or action involving the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, so that Buyer and its Affiliates will have the opportunity to take appropriate steps to avoid or mitigate any regulatory consequences to them that might arise from such investigation or action.

6.9. Indemnification; Directors' and Officers' Insurance.

(a) From and after the Closing the Company will indemnify and hold harmless, to the fullest extent permitted under applicable Law (and the Company shall also advance expenses as incurred to the fullest extent permitted under applicable Law provided the Person to whom expenses are advanced provides an undertaking to repay such advances if it is ultimately determined that such Person is not entitled to indemnification), each present and former director, officer and employee of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (collectively, the "Company Indemnified Parties") against any costs or expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), judgments, fines, losses, claims, damages or liabilities incurred in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, arising out of or pertaining to matters existing or occurring at or prior to the Closing; provided, however, that the Company shall not indemnify any director, officer or employee for any liability for (i) receipt of a financial benefit to which such Company Indemnified Party is not entitled, (ii) an intentional infliction of harm on the Company or its Affiliates, (iii) in the case of a director, a distribution in violation of Section 1052 of the Oklahoma General Corporation Act or Section 2030 of the Oklahoma Limited Liability Company Act or (iv) an intentional violation of criminal Law.

(b) Any Company Indemnified Party wishing to claim indemnification under Section 6.9(a) upon learning of any such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, shall promptly notify the Company thereof, but the failure to so notify shall not relieve the Company of any liability it may have to such Company Indemnified Party except to the extent such failure materially prejudices the indemnifying party. In the event of any such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation (whether arising before or after the Closing), (i) the Company shall have the right to assume the defense thereof and the Company shall not be liable to such Company Indemnified Parties for any legal expenses of other counsel or any other expenses subsequently incurred by such Company Indemnified Parties in connection with the defense thereof, except that if the Company elects not to assume such defense or counsel for the Company Indemnified Parties advises that there are issues which raise conflicts of interest between the Company and the Company Indemnified Parties, the Company Indemnified Parties may retain counsel satisfactory to them, and the Company shall pay all reasonable fees and expenses of such counsel for the Company Indemnified Parties promptly as statements therefor are received; provided, however, that Company shall be obligated pursuant to this Section 6.9(b) to pay for only one firm of counsel for all Company Indemnified Parties in any jurisdiction unless the use of one counsel for such Company Indemnified Parties would present such counsel with a conflict of interest; provided that the fewest number of counsels necessary to avoid conflicts of interest shall be used; (ii) the Company Indemnified Parties will cooperate in the defense of any such matter; and (iii) the Company shall not be liable for any settlement effected without the Company's prior written consent; and provided, further, that the Company shall not have any obligation hereunder to any Company Indemnified Party if and when a court of competent jurisdiction shall ultimately determine, and such determination shall have become final, that the indemnification of such Company Indemnified Party in the manner contemplated hereby is prohibited by applicable Law. If such indemnity is not available with respect to any Company Indemnified Party, then the Company and the Company Indemnified Party shall contribute to the amount payable in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect relative faults and benefits to the extent permitted by applicable Law.

(c) Prior to the Closing, Buyer shall obtain and fully pay for "tail" insurance policies with a claims period of at least six years from and after the Closing from an insurance carrier with the same or better credit rating as the Company's current insurance carrier with respect to directors' and officers' liability insurance and fiduciary liability insurance with benefits and levels of coverage at least as favorable as the Company's existing policies with respect to matters existing or occurring at or prior to the Closing (including in connection with this Agreement or the transactions or actions contemplated hereby); provided, however, that in no event shall Buyer or the Company be required to expend for such policies an annual premium amount in excess of 200% of the annual premiums currently paid by the Company for such insurance; and provided, further, that if the annual premiums of such insurance coverage exceed such amount, Buyer or the Company shall obtain a policy with the greatest coverage available for a cost not exceeding such amount.

(d) If the Company or any of their respective successors or assigns (i) shall consolidate with or merge into any other corporation or entity and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) shall transfer all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any individual, corporation or other entity, then, and in each such case, proper provisions shall be made so that the successors and assigns of the Company shall assume all of the obligations set forth in this Section 6.9.

(e) The provisions of this Section 6.9 are intended to be for the benefit of, and shall be enforceable by, each of the Company Indemnified Parties.

(f) The rights of the Company Indemnified Parties under this Section 6.9 shall be in addition to any rights such Company Indemnified Parties may have under the certificate of incorporation or bylaws of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or under any applicable Contracts or Laws.

6.10. Director Resignations. The Shareholders shall cause the Company to deliver to Buyer, written letters of resignation, effective on or prior to the Closing, of each of the directors and officers of the Company and its Subsidiaries requested by Buyer prior to the Closing.

6.11. Excluded Assets. Prior to the Closing, the Company shall cause the assets set forth on Schedule 6.11 to be transferred in accordance with such Schedule.

6.12. Ancillary Documents. On or prior to the Closing, the Shareholders shall cause the Representative to execute and deliver, and Buyer shall execute and deliver, the Escrow Agreement.

6.13. Financing.

(a) Buyer shall use its reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable to arrange the Debt Financing on the terms and conditions described in the Debt Financing Commitment (provided that Buyer may replace or amend the Debt Financing Commitment to add lenders, lead arrangers, bookrunners, syndication agents or similar entities which had not executed the Debt Financing Commitment as of the date hereof, or otherwise so long as the terms would not materially adversely impact the ability of Buyer to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby or the likelihood of consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby), including using reasonable best efforts to (i) maintain in effect the Debt Financing Commitment, (ii) satisfy on a timely basis all conditions applicable to Buyer to obtaining the Debt Financing set forth in the Debt Financing Commitment (including by consummating the equity financing pursuant to the terms of the Equity Financing Commitment), (iii) enter into definitive agreements with respect thereto on the terms and conditions contemplated by the Financing Commitments or on other terms that would not adversely impact the ability or likelihood of Buyer to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby, and (iv) consummate the Financing at or prior to the Closing. If any portion of the Debt Financing becomes unavailable on the terms and conditions contemplated in the Debt Financing Commitment, Buyer shall use its reasonable best efforts to arrange to obtain alternative financing from alternative sources in an amount sufficient to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement as promptly as practicable following the occurrence of such event; provided, that such alternative financing shall be on terms and conditions materially no less favorable to Buyer than those provided in the Debt Financing Commitment, or otherwise on terms and conditions acceptable to Buyer. Buyer shall give the Company prompt notice of any material breach by any party to the Financing Commitments of which Buyer becomes aware, or any termination of the Financing Commitments. Buyer shall keep the Company informed on a reasonably current basis in reasonable detail of the status of its efforts to arrange the Debt Financing and provide copies of all documents related to the Debt Financing (other than any fee letters and ancillary documents subject to confidentiality agreements) to the Company. The Company hereby consents to the use of its and its Subsidiaries' names and logos in connection with the Financing.

(b) Prior to the Closing, the Company shall, and the Shareholders shall cause the Company to, provide to Buyer, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to, and shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause the respective officers, employees and advisors, including legal and accounting, of the Company and its Subsidiaries to, provide to Buyer all cooperation reasonably requested by Buyer that is necessary in connection with the Debt Financing, including using reasonable best efforts to (i) participate in meetings, presentations, road shows, due diligence sessions and sessions with rating agencies, (ii) provide assistance in preparation of confidential information memoranda (including execution and delivery of a customary representation letter) and other materials to be used in connection with obtaining financing contemplated by the Debt Financing Commitment and all information (including financial information) customarily contained therein, (iii) provide assistance in the preparation for, and participate in, meetings, due diligence sessions and similar presentations to and with, among others, prospective lenders, investors and rating agencies, (iv) enter into a loan agreement and related documents (including pledge and security documents), (v) execute and deliver customary certificates, legal opinions or other documents reasonably requested by Buyer (including a certificate of the chief financial officer of the Company with respect to solvency matters) and otherwise reasonably facilitate the pledging of collateral contemplated by the Debt Financing Commitment (including taking all actions reasonably necessary to (A) permit the prospective lenders involved in the Debt Financing to evaluate the Company's current assets, cash management and accounting systems, policies and procedures relating thereto for the purpose of establishing collateral arrangements and to conduct the appraisals and field examinations relating thereto as contemplated by the Debt Financing Commitment and (B) establish bank and other accounts and blocked account agreements and lock box arrangements in connection with the foregoing) and (vi) provide the financial statements and other information necessary for the satisfaction of the obligations and conditions set forth in the Debt Financing Commitment within the time periods required thereby in order to permit a Closing Date on or prior to the Termination Date; provided, however, that nothing herein shall require such cooperation to the extent it would interfere unreasonably with the business or operations of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. The Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to obtain pay-off letters, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Buyer, from holders of all Debt and to ensure that each such pay-off letter will provide for the waiver of any notice provisions relating thereto. If this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 8.1(a) or 8.1(b)(ii) (but with respect to Section 8.1(b)(ii) only for a Willful or Deliberate Breach by Buyer), Buyer shall, promptly upon request by the Company, reimburse the Company for all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket costs incurred by the Company or its Subsidiaries in connection with such cooperation.

6.14. CanHCo Call Right. The Parties agree that during the period from June 15, 2008 to December 15, 2008 (the "Call Period"), Buyer may, in its sole discretion, cause Red Man Pipe & Supply Canada Ltd, a wholly owned Subsidiary of the Company ("CanHCo"), to exercise the CanHCo Call Right set forth in Section 10 of the Midfield Shareholders Agreement. If Buyer so elects to exercise the CanHCo Call Right, then no later than five (5) Business Days following payment of the CanHCo Call Price to Midfield Holdings (Alberta) Ltd. ("MinorityHCo") or any of its Permitted Transferees (as defined in the Midfield Shareholders Agreement), Buyer shall pay by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the Representative, on behalf of the Shareholders, for distribution to the Shareholders in accordance with Schedule 1, to an account designated by the Representative in a written notice to Buyer, an amount in cash equal to (i) $99,954,281.63 minus (ii) the sum of (x) the CanHCo Call Price (in U.S. Dollars using the spot rate at the close of business on the Business Day immediately prior to the day the CanHCo Call right is exercised) paid by CanHCo to MinorityHCo or any of its Permitted Transferees (as defined in the Midfield Shareholders Agreement) and (y) all costs, charges, fees, expenses, losses, liabilities, obligations, claims, fines, Transfer Taxes and other Taxes imposed on CanHCo, the Company or any of their Affiliates as a result of the exercise of the CanHCo Call Right or the consummation of such transaction (in U.S. Dollars using the spot rate at the close of business on the Business Day immediately prior to the day the CanHCo Call right is exercised), including the amount equal to the aggregate principal amount, plus accrued interest thereon, of all shareholder loans which are repaid by CanHCo as contemplated by Section 10(e) of the Midfield Shareholders Agreement except to the extent such amounts were included in the Debt Amount (the difference of (i) and (ii), as may be set off pursuant to Section 2.3(c), "Midfield Amount"). If Buyer elects not to cause CanHCo to exercise the CanHCo Call Right, then on or prior to the one month anniversary of the expiration of the Call Period, Buyer shall pay by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the Representative, on behalf of the Shareholders, for distribution to the Shareholders in accordance with the column entitled "Cash Proceeds Percentages" on Exhibit B, to an account designated by the Representative in a written notice to Buyer, an amount in cash equal to the Midfield Amount determined as if Buyer exercised the CanHCo Call Right on the final day of the Call Period. If the CanHCo Call Right is exercised and the Midfield Amount is a negative amount, the Non-Plan Shareholders shall, severally and not jointly, pro rata in proportion to each such Shareholder's ownership of shares of Company Stock in accordance with the column entitled "Non-Plan Shareholders Percentages" on Schedule 1, be liable to Buyer for the absolute value of such negative amount. Any payments made under this Section 6.14 shall be considered an adjustment to the Purchase Price.

6.15. Assets of Buyer. The Shareholders and the Company hereby acknowledge and agree that (a) as of the date hereof, (i) Buyer's sole assets are cash in a de minimis amount and its rights under this Agreement and the agreements contemplated hereby, and (b) no additional funds are expected to be contributed to Buyer unless and until the Closing occurs.

6.16. Phantom Stock. Prior to Closing, the Shareholders shall cause the Company to cancel all of the phantom stock awards held by Brian J. Collins, Dee Paige and Jeff Lang solely in consideration for the Shareholders' obligation to pay such individuals cash or other property at such time or times and in such amounts as may be agreed before the Closing Date, and which payments shall not constitute "parachute payments" within the meaning of Section 280G of the Code, in each case, as reasonably acceptable to Buyer.

6.17. Contribution Percentages. Each Shareholder agrees that Exhibit B under the heading "Contributed Shares" sets forth for such Shareholder the minimum number of shares of Company Stock that such Shareholder shall contribute to McJ Holding as Contributed Shares pursuant to the Contribution Agreement. The Parties agree that the Representative may, no later than 15 Business Days prior to the Closing Date, deliver a written notice to Buyer (the "Contribution Percentage Notice") changing the number of shares of Company Stock to be contributed pursuant to the Contribution Agreement by any Ketchum Entity, or adding BJHK Living Trust, CK and/or any Other Ketchum Entity that holds shares of Company Stock as a Continuing Shareholder; provided that (i) the CK Contributed Share Percentage shall in no event be less than 25% or greater than 50% and (ii) the aggregate number of Contributed Shares shall not exceed 30,996.30 (that is, an Aggregate Contribution Percentage of 17.38%). The Parties agree that Exhibit B shall be amended prior to the Closing to reflect any change in the number of Contributed Shares or any additional Person contributing shares of Company Stock pursuant to the Contribution Percentage Notice. In addition, (x) BJHK Living Trust shall execute and deliver the Contribution Agreement prior to Closing if its number of Contributed Shares as adjusted pursuant to this Section 6.17 is greater than zero and (y) each of CK and each Other Ketchum Entity shall execute and deliver the Contribution Agreement and this Agreement as a Shareholder prior to Closing if it is added as an additional Person contributing shares of Company Stock pursuant to the Contribution Percentage Notice; provided that if BJHK Living Trust or such CK or Other Ketchum Entity fails to execute and deliver the Contribution Agreement and/or this Agreement, as applicable, its number of Contributed Shares shall be zero. The Parties acknowledge and agree that Consolidated Investment Services, Inc., the Company Retirement Plan and Louie Leflore shall not be entitled to become Continuing Shareholders and shall not be entitled to contribute any shares of Company Stock to McJ Holding pursuant to the Contribution Agreement.

6.18. CK Contributed Share Percentage. Each of K.F. Enterprises, L.L.C. and BJHK Limited Partnership agree to take all such actions as may be necessary and appropriate such that the CK Contributed Share Percentage shall not be less than 25% and not greater than 50% upon the closing of the transactions contemplated by the Contribution Agreement.

ARTICLE VII

Conditions to Closing

7.1. Conditions to Obligations of the Shareholders and Buyer. The respective obligations of the Shareholders and Buyer to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are subject to the satisfaction or, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, the waiver at or prior to the Closing of each of the following conditions:

(a) Litigation. No court or other Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any Law or Order (whether temporary, preliminary or permanent) that is in effect and restrains, enjoins or otherwise prohibits consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(b) Escrow Agreement. The Escrow Agreement shall have been executed and delivered by the Representative (on behalf of the Shareholders), Buyer and the Escrow Agent.

(c) HSR Waiting Period. All applicable waiting periods (and any extensions thereof) under the HSR Act shall have expired or otherwise been terminated.

(d) Competition Act. Competition Act Compliance shall have been obtained.

7.2. Conditions to the Obligations of the Shareholders. The obligations of each Shareholder to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are further subject to the satisfaction or, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, the waiver by the Representative at or prior to the Closing of each of the following conditions:

(a) Performance of Obligations by Buyer. Buyer shall have performed in all material respects all obligations required to be performed by it under this Agreement at or prior to the Closing.

(b) Representations and Warranties. (i) The representations and warranties of Buyer set forth in this Agreement (other than those in Section 5.2 (Corporate Authority)) shall be true and correct as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing (without giving effect to any "material," "materiality" or "material adverse effect" qualifications to such representations and warranties), except (A) to the extent that the failure of such representations and warranties of Buyer to be true and correct individually or in the aggregate would not have, or reasonably be likely to have, a material adverse effect on Buyer or would not prevent, materially delay or materially impair the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and (B) for those representations and warranties which expressly relate to any earlier date (in which case such representations and warranties shall have been true and correct as of such earlier date); and (ii) the representations and warranties set forth in Section 5.2 shall be true and correct in all respects as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing.

(c) Closing Certificate. The Representative shall have received a certificate of Buyer, dated the Closing Date, to the effect that the conditions set forth in Sections 7.2(a) and (b) have been satisfied.

(d) Contribution Agreement. McJ Holding shall have performed in all material respects all obligations required to be performed by it under the Contribution Agreement at or prior to the Closing.

7.3. Conditions to the Obligations of Buyer. The obligations of Buyer to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are further subject to the satisfaction or, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, the waiver by Buyer at or prior to the Closing of each of the following conditions:

(a) Performance of Obligations of the Shareholders and the Company. Each Shareholder and the Company shall have performed in all material respects all obligations required to be performed by he, she or it under this Agreement at or prior to the Closing.

(b) Representations and Warranties. (i) The representations and warranties of the Shareholders and the Company set forth in this Agreement (other than those in Sections 3.1 (Ownership; Authorization of Transaction), 4.1 (Authorization of Transaction), 4.3 (Capitalization), 4.16 (Related Party Transactions) and 4.20 (Brokers and Finders) (collectively, the "Excluded Representations") shall be true and correct as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing (without giving effect to any "material", "materiality", "Material Adverse Effect" or "Knowledge" qualification to such representations and warranties), except (A) to the extent that the failure of such representations and warranties of the Shareholders and/or the Company to be true and correct, individually or in the aggregate, has not had, and is not reasonably likely to have, a Material Adverse Effect and (B) for those representations and warranties which expressly relate to an earlier date (in which case such representations and warranties shall have been true and correct as of such earlier date); and (ii) the Excluded Representations shall be true and correct in all respects as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing.

(c) Closing Certificate. Buyer shall have received a certificate from the Representative on behalf of the Shareholders, dated the Closing Date, to the effect that the conditions set forth in Sections 7.3(a) and (b) have been satisfied.

(d) Stock Certificates. The Shareholders shall have tendered for delivery to Buyer share certificates representing all of the Transferred Shares free and clear of any Encumbrance, duly endorsed in blank by each Shareholder, or accompanied by appropriate stock powers, in proper form for transfer.

(e) No Restraints. There shall not be instituted or pending any suit, action or proceeding in which a Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction is seeking an Order (i) to prohibit, limit, restrain or impair Buyer's ability to own or operate or to retain or change all or a material portion of the assets, licenses, operations, rights, product lines, businesses or interest therein of the Company or its Subsidiaries or other Affiliates from and after the Closing (including, without limitation, by requiring any sale, divestiture, transfer, license, lease, disposition of or encumbrance or hold separate arrangement with respect to any such assets, licenses, operations, rights, product lines, businesses or interest therein) or (ii) to prohibit or limit Buyer's ability to vote, transfer, receive dividends or otherwise exercise full ownership rights with respect to the stock of the Company, and no Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any Law deemed applicable to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement individually or in the aggregate resulting in, or that is reasonably likely to result in, any of the foregoing.

(f) Phantom Stock. The Shareholders shall have caused the Company to cancel all of the phantom stock awards held by Brian J. Collins, Dee Paige and Jeff Lang solely in consideration for the Shareholders' obligation to pay such individuals cash or other property at such time or times and in such amounts as may be agreed before the Closing Date, and which payments shall not constitute "parachute payments" within the meaning of Section 280G of the Code, in each case, as reasonably acceptable to Buyer.

(g) Debt Financing. Buyer shall have received the proceeds of the Debt Financing on the terms and conditions set forth in the Debt Financing Commitment, or the proceeds of any alternative debt financing as contemplated by Section 6.13(a).

(h) Material Adverse Effect. No event, development, circumstance or occurrence shall have occurred, since the date of this Agreement that, individually or in the aggregate, has had or is reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(i) Pay-Off Letters. The Company shall have received pay-off letters, in a form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Buyer, from holders of all Debt that Buyer has requested be paid off, together with all necessary documentation required to release any Encumbrances securing repayment of any such Debt, and each such pay-off letter shall provide for the waiver of any notice provisions relating thereto.

(j) Employment Agreements. Each of the Employment Agreements shall be in full force and effect.

(k) Continuing Shareholders. (i) Immediately prior to the Closing, each Continuing Shareholder shall have consummated the transactions contemplated by the Contribution Agreement, (ii) the Contribution Agreement shall be in full force and effect and (iii) the CK Contributed Share Percentage shall be not less than 25% and not greater than 50%.

(l) Withholding Certificate. Buyer shall have received from the Company a certificate issued by the Company, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Buyer, conforming to the requirements of Treasury Regulation Sections 1.1445-2(c)(3) and 1.897-2(h).

(m) Non-Compete Agreements. The Company and each Person listed on Schedule 6.5 shall have executed and delivered a Non-Compete Agreement, and each Non-Compete Agreement shall be in full force and effect.

ARTICLE VIII

Termination

8.1. Termination. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, this Agreement may be terminated and the transactions contemplated by this Agreement may be abandoned at any time prior to the Closing:

(a) by the mutual written consent of the Representative and Buyer;

(b) (i) by Buyer, if there has been a breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement made by any of the Shareholders or the Company in this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document, or any such representation and warranty shall have become untrue after the date of this Agreement, such that the conditions set forth in Section 7.3(a) or 7.3(b) would not be satisfied and such breach or condition is not curable or, if curable, is not cured prior to the earlier of (x) 30 days after written notice thereof is given by Buyer to the Representative or (y) two business days prior to the Termination Date; or (ii) by the Representative, if there has been a breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement made by Buyer in this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document, or any such representation and warranty shall have become untrue after the date of this Agreement, such that the conditions set forth in Section 7.2(a) or 7.2(b) would not be satisfied and such breach or condition is not curable or, if curable, is not cured prior to the earlier of (x) 30 days after written notice thereof is given by the Representative to Buyer or (y) two (2) Business Days prior to the Termination Date; or

(c) by Buyer or the Representative, if (i) the transactions contemplated by this Agreement have not been consummated on or prior to December 31, 2007 (the "Termination Date") or (ii) any Order permanently restraining, enjoining or otherwise prohibiting consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall become final and non-appealable; provided, that, in each of the foregoing cases, the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 8.1(c) shall not be available to any Party (or the Shareholders or the Company in the case of the Representative) that is responsible for a Willful or Deliberate Breach of its obligations under this Agreement in any manner that shall have proximately contributed to the occurrence of the failure of a condition to the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement on or prior to the Termination Date.

The Party desiring to terminate this Agreement pursuant to clause (b) or (c) of this Section 8.1 shall, in the case of Buyer, give written notice of such termination to the Representative, and, in the case of the Representative, give written notice of such termination to Buyer.

8.2. Effect of Termination and Abandonment. In the event of termination of this Agreement and the abandonment of the transactions contemplated hereby pursuant to Section 8.1, this Agreement shall become void and of no effect with no liability to any Person on the part of any Party (or of any of its representatives or Affiliates); provided, that Article X shall survive the termination of this Agreement; and provided, further, that except as otherwise provided herein, no such termination shall relieve any Party of any liability or damages to any other Party resulting from any Willful or Deliberate Breach of this Agreement prior to any such termination.

ARTICLE IX

Survival

9.1. Survival. The representations and warranties contained in this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document shall not survive the Closing. Each of the covenants and agreements contained in this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document shall survive the Closing and continue in full force and effect until performed in accordance with their terms.

ARTICLE X

Miscellaneous

10.1. Publicity. The initial press release regarding the transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall be a joint press release and thereafter no press releases or public announcements with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and filings with any third party and/or any Governmental Entity (including any national securities exchange or interdealer quotation service) with respect thereto, shall be issued or made by the Company or any Shareholder, on the one hand, or Buyer, on the other hand, without the prior written consent of Buyer or the Company, as the case may be (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed), except as may be required by Law or by obligations pursuant to any listing agreement with or rules of any national securities exchange or interdealer quotation service or by the request of any Government Entity.

10.2. Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the Schedules and Exhibits hereto) and those Ancillary Documents entered into contemporaneously with or subsequent to this Agreement constitute the entire agreement among the Parties and supersede any prior understandings or agreements by or among the Parties, written or oral, to the extent they related in any way to the subject matter hereof.

10.3. Succession and Assignment. Except as otherwise provided herein, this Agreement may not, without the prior written consent of Buyer and the Representative, be assigned by Buyer, the Company or any of the Shareholders by operation of law or otherwise, and any attempted assignment shall be null and void; provided that Buyer may, without prior written consent of the Representative, (i) assign any or all of its rights hereunder to one or more of its Affiliates, (ii) designate one or more of its Affiliates to perform its obligations hereunder and (iii) assign its rights, but not its obligations, under this Agreement to any of its, or any of its Affiliate's, financing sources (in any or all of which cases described in clause (i), (ii) or (iii), Buyer nonetheless shall remain responsible for the performance of all of its obligations hereunder). Subject to the foregoing, this Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Parties and their respective heirs, successors, permitted assigns and legal representatives.

10.4. Expenses. If the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are consummated, the Shareholders, on the one hand, and Buyer, on the other hand, shall bear all costs and expenses incurred by or on behalf of such Party (and by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries in the case of the Shareholders); provided, that (i) any Company Expenses borne by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries shall be taken into account in making the adjustment provided for in Section 2.3, and (ii) that all Transfer Taxes resulting from the transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall be paid by Buyer. If the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are not consummated, all costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby, shall be borne by the Party incurring such expense; provided, that if Buyer terminates this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.1(b)(i) (but only for a Willful or Deliberate Breach by the Company or any Shareholder), the Company shall pay all of Buyer's and its Affiliates' costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement. The provisions of this Section 10.4 are intended to be for the benefit of, and shall be enforceable by McJ Holding and its Affiliates (including its members and Subsidiaries) in addition to the Parties.

10.5. Headings. The section headings contained in this Agreement are inserted for convenience only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement.

10.6. Notices. All notices, requests, demands, claims, and other communications hereunder shall be in writing, and shall be given (and shall be deemed to have been duly given upon receipt) by personal delivery, electronic facsimile transmission, overnight courier or registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, and addressed to the intended recipient as set forth below (or at such other address as shall be specified in a notice given in accordance with this Section 10.6):

10.7. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the state of Delaware without giving effect to the principles of conflicts of law.

10.8. Amendments and Waivers. No amendment or waiver of any provision of this Agreement shall be valid unless the same shall be in writing and signed by the Company, the Representative and Buyer. No waiver by any Party of any default or any breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement hereunder or under any Ancillary Document shall be deemed to extend to any prior or subsequent default or breach or affect in any way any rights arising by virtue of any such prior or subsequent occurrence. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (a) this Agreement may be amended to add additional Persons as "Shareholders" to reflect changes in the ownership of Company Stock prior to the Closing as contemplated by Section 6.17 and (b) Exhibit B may be amended as contemplated by Section 6.17.

10.9. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement for any reason shall be held to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable, such illegality shall not affect any other provision of this Agreement, this Agreement shall be amended so as to enforce the illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision to the maximum extent permitted by applicable Law, and the parties shall cooperate in good faith to further modify this Agreement so as to preserve to the maximum extent possible the intended benefits to be received by the Parties.

10.10. Construction. The Parties intend that each representation, warranty, covenant and agreement contained in this Agreement or in any Ancillary Document shall have independent significance. If any Party has breached any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement contained herein in any respect, the fact that there exists another representation, warranty, covenant or agreement relating to the same subject matter (regardless of the relative levels of specificity) which the Party has not breached shall not detract from or mitigate the fact that the Party is in breach of the first representation, warranty, covenant or agreement.

10.11. Specific Performance. The Company and each of the Shareholders acknowledge and agree that Buyer would be damaged irreparably in the event any of the provisions of this Agreement or any of the Ancillary Documents is not performed in accordance with its specific terms or otherwise is breached by the Company or any of the Shareholders. Accordingly, the Company and each of the Shareholders agree that Buyer shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement or any Ancillary Document by the Company or any of the Shareholders and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement and each Ancillary Document, this being in addition to any other remedy to which Buyer is entitled at law or in equity. In addition, Buyer agrees that the Company and the Shareholders shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement by Buyer and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement, this being in addition to any other remedy to which the Company and the Shareholders are entitled at law or in equity, but the Company and the Shareholders shall be entitled to such injunction or injunctions solely to prevent breaches of or to enforce compliance with (x) Sections 6.2, 6.9, 10.1 and 10.4 and (y) those covenants of Buyer contained in Section 2.3(a), only if the proceeds of the financing provided for in the Debt Financing Commitment (and, if alternative debt financing is being used in accordance with Section 6.13(a), the proceeds of the financing contemplated by such alternative debt financing) are available to be drawn down by Buyer pursuant to the terms of the applicable agreements but is not so drawn down solely as a result of Buyer refusing to do so in breach of this Agreement.

10.12. Jurisdiction; Court Proceedings; Waiver of Jury Trial. Any Claim against any Party to this Agreement arising out of or relating to this Agreement shall be brought in any federal or state court located in the State of Delaware located in the County of New Castle and each of the parties hereby submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of such courts for the purpose of any such Claim. A final judgment in any such Claim shall be conclusive and may be enforced in other jurisdictions by suit on the judgment or in any other manner provided by Law. To the extent that service of process by mail is permitted by applicable Law, each Party irrevocably consents to the service of process in any such Claim in such courts by the mailing of such process by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, at its address for notices provided for herein. Each Party irrevocably agrees not to assert (a) any objection which it may ever have to the laying of venue of any such Claim in any federal or state court located in the State of Delaware in the County of New Castle and (b) any claim that any such Claim brought in any such court has been brought in an inconvenient forum. Each Party waives any right to a trial by jury, to the extent lawful, and agrees that any of them may file a copy of this paragraph with any court as written evidence of the knowing, voluntary and bargained-for agreement among the Parties irrevocably to waive its right to trial by jury in any Claim whatsoever between them relating to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

10.13. Attorneys' Fees. In the event that any action or proceeding is brought for the purpose of determining or enforcing the right of any Party or Parties hereunder, the Party or Parties prevailing in such action or proceeding shall be entitled to recover from the other Party or Parties all reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the prevailing Party or Parties, including reasonable attorneys' fees.

10.14. Representative.

(a) By the execution and delivery of this Agreement, including counterparts hereof, each Shareholder hereby irrevocably constitutes and appoints Craig Ketchum as the true and lawful agent and attorney-in-fact of such Shareholder with full powers of substitution (the "Representative"), and, if substituted, the Representative shall promptly notify Buyer of such substitution, to act in the name, place and stead of such Shareholder with respect to this Agreement, as the same may be from time to time amended, and with respect to the transfer of such Shareholder's Company Stock to Buyer pursuant hereto and the transactions contemplated hereby, and to do or refrain from doing all such acts and things, and to execute all such documents, as the Representative shall deem necessary or appropriate in connection with this Agreement, the Ancillary Documents or any of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby. In the event of the death or other incapacity of the then current Representative, or resignation of the Representative, Shareholders which on the date hereof hold a majority of the Company Stock, shall, by any writing executed by the appropriate number of Shareholders and the new Representative (counterparts and facsimiles of signatures acceptable) approve and appoint a new Representative by delivering a written notice to that effect, whereupon the person designated in such notice shall be the new Representative with respect to all actions taken and/or documents signed from and after actual receipt by Buyer of such notice.

(b) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Representative is hereby authorized (i) to receive any payment owing to the Shareholders pursuant to Section 2.3, (ii) to execute the Escrow Agreement on behalf of the Shareholders, and (iii) to take all actions on behalf of the Shareholders in connection with any actions taken or to be taken under Section 2.3 of this Agreement (including accepting service of process upon the Shareholders and accepting or compromising any claim relating to the Proposed Purchase Price Calculation). The Representative and the Shareholders hereby agree that any amounts disbursed out of the Escrow Account to the Representative pursuant to the terms of this Agreement and/or the Escrow Agreement shall be distributed by the Representative to the Shareholders in accordance with Schedule 1 and Exhibit B, as applicable. All decisions and actions of the Representative permitted hereunder shall be final, binding and conclusive on the Shareholders and may be relied upon by Buyer and its Affiliates as the decisions and actions of all of the Shareholders. The Representative shall not be liable to any of the Shareholders for any act done or omitted by him in good faith pursuant to this Agreement or any mistake of fact or Law unless caused by his own gross negligence or willful misconduct, and the Shareholders shall jointly and severally indemnify the Representative from any Losses arising out of his serving as Representative hereunder. In taking any action or refraining from taking any action whatsoever the Representative shall be protected in relying upon any notice, paper or other document reasonably believed by him to be genuine, or upon any evidence reasonably deemed by him to be sufficient. The Representative may consult with counsel in connection with his duties and shall be fully protected in any act taken, suffered or permitted by him in good faith in accordance with the advice of counsel.

10.15. No Third Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement shall not confer any rights or remedies upon any Person other than the Parties, the Company Indemnified Parties, the Buyer Indemnitees and McJ Holding and its Affiliates (including its members and Subsidiaries) under Section 10.4, and their respective successors and permitted assigns. The Parties further agree that the rights of the Company Indemnified Parties under Section 6.9 shall not arise unless and until the Closing occurs.

10.16. Obligations of Parties. Whenever this Agreement requires a Subsidiary of the Company to take any action, such requirement shall be deemed to include an undertaking on the part of the Company and the Shareholders to use reasonable best efforts to cause such Subsidiary to take such action.

10.17. No Presumption Against Drafting Party. Each Party acknowledges that each Party has been represented by counsel in connection with this Agreement, each of the Ancillary Documents and the transactions contemplated herein and therein. Accordingly, any rule of Law or any legal decision that would require interpretation of any claimed ambiguities in this Agreement or any of the Ancillary Documents against the drafting party has no application and is expressly waived.

10.18. Signatures. This Agreement shall be effective upon delivery of original signature pages or .pdf or facsimile copies thereof executed by each of the Parties. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each such counterpart being deemed to be an original instrument, and all such counterparts shall together constitute the same agreement.

10.19. Computation of Time. Whenever the last day for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge or any duty hereunder shall fall upon a day that is not a Business Day, the Party having such privilege or duty may exercise such privilege or discharge such duty on the next succeeding day which is a Business Day.

10.20. Dollars. Except as otherwise expressly provided, all references to dollars or “$” in this Agreement and the Ancillary Documents shall refer to United States dollars.

Execution Copy

CONTRIBUTION AGREEMENT

CONTRIBUTION AGREEMENT, dated as of July 6, 2007 (the "Agreement"), among McJ Holding LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the "Company") (whose name will be changed to PVF Holdings LLC on or prior to Closing (as defined below), and certain shareholders of Sooner (as defined below) listed under the heading "Contributing Shareholders" on the signature page hereto (collectively, the "Contributing Shareholders"). Each capitalized term which is used but not otherwise defined in this Agreement has the meaning assigned to such term in the Purchase Agreement (as defined below); provided that any references to "the Company" in any such definitions in the Purchase Agreement shall be deemed to refer to McJ Holding LLC for purposes of this Agreement.

RECITALS

WHEREAS, simultaneously with the execution and delivery of this Agreement, Red Man Pipe & Supply Co., an Oklahoma corporation ("Sooner"), the holders of all outstanding shares of stock of Sooner listed on Schedule 1 thereto, West Oklahoma PVF Company, a Delaware corporation ("Buyer") and the Company (for purposes of certain provisions only), are executing and delivering a stock purchase agreement (the "Purchase Agreement"), pursuant to which Buyer will acquire all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Sooner (the "Acquisition");

WHEREAS, each of the Contributing Shareholders owns the number of shares of Class A Voting Common Stock, par value $0.01 per share, of Sooner, and/or the number of shares of Class B Non-Voting Common Stock, par value $0.01, of Sooner (collectively, "Sooner Shares") set forth opposite his, her or its name under the heading "Number of Shares Owned" on Exhibit A hereto and desires to contribute to the Company the number of Company Shares set forth opposite his, her or its name under the heading "Number of Shares Contributed" on Exhibit A hereto ("the Contribution Shares");

WHEREAS, upon the terms and subject to the conditions contained in this Agreement, the parties hereto desire that the Contribution Shares be contributed immediately prior to the consummation of the Acquisition by or on behalf of the Contributing Shareholders; and

WHEREAS, the contribution of the Contribution Shares by or on behalf of the Contributing Shareholders to the Company in exchange for LLC Units (as defined below) is part of a larger transaction that is intended to be governed by Sections 707 and 721 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises, and of the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements contained herein and in the Purchase Agreement, the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

Definitions and Contribution

1.1. Definitions. As used in this Agreement, the following terms have the respective meanings set forth below:

"Affiliate," "Affiliated" (or any correlative term) means, with respect to a Person, any Person that, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, or is controlled by, or is under common control with, such Person (and, for purposes of this Agreement, the Company and its Subsidiaries shall be considered Affiliates of each of the members of the Company before the Closing and Affiliates of Buyer after the Closing).

"Governmental Entity" means the government of the United States of America, any other nation or any political subdivision of any of the foregoing, whether state or local, and any agency, authority, instrumentality, regulatory body, court, or other entity exercising executive, legislative, judicial, taxing, regulatory or administrative powers or functions of government.

"Knowledge of the Company" means the actual knowledge of H.B. Wehrle III, James F. Underhill, David Fox, III, Theresa Dudding, or Cody Mueller, after reasonable inquiry.

"Material Adverse Effect" means (x) any event, change or effect that, individually or in the aggregate, has a material adverse effect on the financial condition, properties, assets, liabilities, business or results of operations of the Company and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, other than any, event, change or effect resulting from (a) changes in the economy or financial markets generally in the United States or other countries in which the Company conducts material operations or that are the result of acts of war or terrorism, (b) changes that are the result of factors generally affecting the principal industries in which the Company and its Subsidiaries operate, (c) any loss of, or adverse change in, the relationship of the Company with its customers, employees or suppliers caused by the announcement of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, (d) changes required by this Agreement, and (e) changes in GAAP or in any Law unrelated to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and of general applicability after the date hereof; provided that, with respect to clauses (a), (b) and (e), such event, change or effect may be taken into consideration for purposes of determining if a Material Adverse Effect has occurred if such event, change or effect (i) primarily relates only to (or has the effect of primarily relating only to) the Company and its Subsidiaries or (ii) disproportionately adversely affects the Company and its Subsidiaries compared to other companies of similar size operating in the principal industries in which the Company and its Subsidiaries operate, or (y) a material adverse effect on the ability of the Company to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

"Unit Number" means, for each Contributing Shareholder the quotient obtained by dividing (a) the product of (i) the Estimated Purchase Price minus the Escrow Amount, times (ii) the Aggregate Contribution Percentage and times (iii) such Contributing Shareholder's Contributed Shares Percentage as set forth on Exhibit A, by (b) the Purchase Price Per Unit.

"Person" means an individual, a partnership, a corporation, a limited liability company, an association, a joint stock company, a trust, a joint venture, an unincorporated organization, or other entity.

"Purchase Price Per Unit" means the per Unit price paid by GSCP upon GSCP's investment in the Company in connection with the Company's acquisition of McJunkin Corporation (i.e., $3,933.81).

"Related Party" means (a) any member or any officer or director of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, (b) any spouse, former spouse, child, parent, parent of a spouse, sibling or grandchild of any of the Persons listed in clause (a) above, and (c) any Affiliate or Associate of any of the Persons listed in clause (a) or (b) above, other than the Company and the Company's Subsidiaries.

"Subsidiary" means, with respect to any Person, any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, or other legal entity of which such Person (either alone or through or together with any other Subsidiary) owns, directly or indirectly, more than 50% of the stock or other equity interests the holders of which are generally entitled to vote for the election of the board of directors or other governing body of such corporation or other legal entity.

1.2. Contribution. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions contained in this Agreement, at the Closing provided for in Section 1.3, each of the Contributing Shareholders shall contribute or cause to be contributed to the Company all Contribution Shares owned by such Contributing Shareholder, and in exchange therefore, the Company shall issue to each Contributing Shareholder the number of Common Units in the Company equal to such Contributing Shareholder's Unit Number ("the LLC Units"); provided, that each Contributing Shareholder acknowledges and agrees that pursuant to the purchase price adjustment provisions contained in Section 2.3(c) of the Purchase Agreement, the number of LLC Units issued to each Contributing Shareholder in such exchange may be subsequently increased or reduced by an additional issuance or cancellation thereof, as applicable, after the determination of the final Purchase Price in accordance with such Section 2.3(c) of the Purchase Agreement. The parties agree that (a) each Shareholder who becomes a Continuing Shareholder in accordance with Section 6.17 of the Purchase Agreement shall become a party to this Agreement as a Contributing Shareholder and (b) if Exhibit B to the Purchase Agreement is amended pursuant to Section 6.17 of the Purchase Agreement, then Exhibit A hereto shall be amended in the same manner.

1.3. Closing. Subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth in Article IV (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at the Closing, but subject to the satisfaction or waiver of those conditions), the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereunder (the "Closing") shall take place at the offices of Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP, One New York Plaza, New York, New York (or such other place as the parties may agree) immediately prior to the closing of the Acquisition on the Closing Date

(as defined in the Purchase Agreement). The actual time and date of the Closing is referred to herein as the "Closing Date".

ARTICLE II

Representations and Warranties

2.1. Representations and Warranties of the Contributing Shareholders. Each Contributing Shareholder hereby represents and warrants to the Company that:

(a) Such Contributing Shareholder has all requisite partnership or limited liability company or equivalent power and authority and, in the case of any Contributing Shareholder that is an entity, has taken all action necessary in order to execute, deliver and perform his, her or its obligations under this Agreement and such Contributing Shareholder is a legal entity duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of its respective jurisdiction or organization. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by such Contributing Shareholder and constitutes a valid and binding agreement of such Contributing Shareholder enforceable against him, her or it in accordance with its terms, subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent transfer, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights and to general equity principles. Such Contributing Shareholder is an "accredited investor" as such term is defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933 and, in connection with the execution of this Agreement, agrees to deliver such certificates to that effect as the Company may request.

(b) Such Contributing Shareholder is the sole record owner of, and has good and marketable title to, the number of Contribution Shares set forth opposite his, her or its name under the heading "Number of Shares Contributed" on Exhibit A hereto, free and clear of any Encumbrances. Upon consummation of the contribution of Contribution Shares by such Contributing Shareholders as provided in this Agreement, the Company will acquire good and marketable title to such Contribution Shares free and clear of all Encumbrances, other than those imposed by or as a result of any act by the Company.

(c) The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by such Contributing Shareholder does not and will not (i) require him, her or it to obtain any consents, registrations, approvals, permits or authorizations from any domestic or foreign governmental or regulatory authority, agency, commission body, court or other legislative, executive or judicial governmental entity (except as would not have a material adverse effect on his, her or its ability to perform his, hers or its obligations under this Agreement) or (ii) constitute or result in a breach or violation of, or a default under, or result in the creation of a lien or encumbrance on any of his, hers or its properties pursuant to any bond, debenture, note or other evidence of indebtedness of him, her or it or any indenture or other material agreement to which he, she or it is a party or by which he, she or it is bound or to which any of his, her or its material property may be subject

(except as would not have a material adverse effect on his, her or its ability to perform his, her or its obligations under this Agreement).

(d) Such Contributing Shareholder has not granted and is not a party to any proxy, voting trust or other agreement which conflicts with any provision of this Agreement, and such Contributing Shareholder shall not grant any proxy or become party to any voting trust or other agreement which conflicts with any provision of this Agreement.

2.2. Representations and Warranties of the Company. Except as set forth in the corresponding sections of the disclosure letter delivered to the Representative by the Company simultaneously with the execution and delivery of this Agreement (the "Schedules") (it being agreed that disclosure of any item in any section of the Schedules shall be deemed disclosure with respect to any other section to which the relevance of such item is reasonably apparent), the Company represents and warrants to the Contributing Shareholders, as follows (it being acknowledged and agreed that none of the representations and warranties made by the Company contained in this Agreement relate or pertain to any of the assets, liabilities or business of Midway-Tristate Corporation acquired pursuant to the Midway Agreement as defined herein, substantially all of which have been assigned to McJunkin Appalachian Oilfield Supply Company):

(a) Authorization of Transaction. The Company has all requisite power and authority and has taken all limited liability company action necessary in order to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by it and constitutes its valid and binding agreement enforceable against the Company in accordance with its terms, subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent transfer, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights and to general equity principles.

(b) Corporate Organization; Authority. The Company and each of its Subsidiaries is a legal entity duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of its respective jurisdiction of organization and has all requisite limited liability company power or similar power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and assets and to carry on its business as presently conducted and is qualified to do business and is in good standing as a foreign corporation in each jurisdiction where the ownership, leasing or operation of its assets or properties or conduct of its business requires such qualification, except where the failure to be so organized, qualified or in good standing, or to have such power or authority, are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. The Company's and each of its Subsidiaries' certificate of formation and limited liability company agreement or comparable governing documents, each as amended to the date hereof, is in full force and effect. Schedule 2.2(b) contains a correct and complete list of each jurisdiction where the Company and each of its Subsidiaries are organized and qualified to do business.

(c) Capitalization.

(i) Schedule 2.2(c) sets forth a complete and accurate list of the issued and outstanding limited liability company interests of the Company (collectively, the "LLC Interests"). All of the LLC Interests have been duly authorized and are validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable. At the Closing, the Contributing Shareholders will acquire all of the LLC Units free and clear of any Encumbrances other than those imposed by or as a result of any act by the Contributing Shareholders. Each of the outstanding shares of capital stock or other securities of each of the Company's Subsidiaries is duly authorized, validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and, except as set forth on Schedule 2.2(c) owned by the Company or by a direct or indirect wholly-owned Subsidiary of the Company, free and clear of any Encumbrance. Except as set forth on Schedule 2.2(c), there are no preemptive or other outstanding rights, options, warrants, conversion rights, stock appreciation rights, redemption rights, repurchase rights, agreements, arrangements, calls, commitments or rights of any kind that obligate the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to issue or sell any LLC Interests or any shares of capital stock or other securities of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or any securities or obligations convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for, or giving any Person a right to subscribe for or acquire, any LLC Interests or any shares of capital stock or other securities of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, and no securities or obligations evidencing such rights are authorized, issued or outstanding. None of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has outstanding any bonds, debentures, notes or other obligations the holders of which have the right to vote (or convertible into or exercisable for securities having the right to vote) with the members or shareholders of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries on any matter.

(ii) Schedule 2.2(c) sets forth (A) each of the Company's Subsidiaries and the ownership interest of the Company in each such Subsidiary, as well as the ownership interest of any other Person or Persons in each such Subsidiary and (B) the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' capital stock, voting or equity interest or other direct or indirect ownership interest in any other Person. With respect to each Person identified on Schedule 2.2(c) that is (x) a Subsidiary of the Company that is not wholly-owned by the Company or (y) not a Subsidiary of the Company (each such entity described in (x) and (y), a "Non-Wholly Owned Investment"), the Company has made available to the Representative copies of all Contracts and other documents to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is a party that relates in any way to any Non-Wholly Owned Investment and each such Contract is a valid and binding agreement of the Company or one of its Subsidiaries, as the case may be, and is in full force and effect, and neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries nor, to the Knowledge of the Company, any other party thereto is in default or breach in any respect under the terms of any such Contract. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is obligated to make any capital contribution or to assume or otherwise become liable for any debts or obligations or make any other payments with respect to any Non-Wholly Owned Investment.

(d) No Conflicts.

(i) No notices, reports or other filings are required to be made by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with, nor are any consents, registrations, approvals, permits or authorizations required to be obtained by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries from, any Governmental Entity, in connection with the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by the Company and the consummation by the Company of the transactions contemplated hereby, or in connection with the continuing operation of the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries following the Closing, except those for which the failure to obtain such consent, approval or waiver is not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(ii) The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by the Company or any of its members do not, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby will not, constitute or result in (i) a breach or violation of, or a default under, the certificate of formation or limited liability company agreement of the Company or the comparable governing instruments of any of its Subsidiaries, (ii) with or without notice, lapse of time or both, a breach or violation of, a termination (or right of termination) or a default under, the creation or acceleration of any obligations or the creation of an Encumbrance on any of the assets of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries pursuant to any Contract binding upon the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or under any Law to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is subject, or (iii) any change in the rights or obligations of any party under any Contract binding on the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, except, in the case of clause (ii) or (iii) above, for any such breach, violation, termination, default, creation, acceleration or change that, individually or in the aggregate, is not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. None of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is the beneficiary of, or exempt from, any Law, Order or Permit because of a "grandfather clause" that will not be available to it following the Closing.

(iii) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to or bound by any non-competition Contracts or other Contract that purports to limit either the type of business in which the Company or its Affiliates (including, after the Acquisition, Sooner and its Affiliates) may engage or the manner or locations in which any of them may engage in any business (for the avoidance of doubt, distribution agreements and similar Contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice shall not be deemed to be covered by this Section 2.2(d).

(e) Financial Statements. Attached hereto as Schedule 2.2(e) are copies of (i) the audited consolidated financial statements and other financial information for McJunkin Corporation and its consolidated Subsidiaries as of December 31, 2004, 2005 and 2006 and for the fiscal years then ended (the "Audited Financial Statements"), and (ii) the unaudited consolidated financial statements and other financial information for McJunkin Corporation and its consolidated Subsidiaries for the five month period ending May 31, 007 (together with the Audited Financial Statements, the "Financial Statements"). Each of the consolidated balance sheets included in the Financial Statements (including any related notes and schedules) fairly presents in all material respects the consolidated financial position of McJunkin Corporation and its consolidated Subsidiaries as of its date and each of the consolidated statements of income, members' equity and cash flows included in the Financial Statements (including any related notes and schedules) fairly presents in all material respects the consolidated results of operations and cash flows of McJunkin Corporation and its consolidated Subsidiaries for the periods then ended, in each case in conformity with GAAP, subject in the case of the unaudited financial statements to (A) the absence of footnote disclosures and other presentation items and (B) changes resulting from normal de minimis year-end adjustments. The audit reports with respect to the Audited Financial Statements are not subject to any qualification.

(f) Absence of Certain Changes. Since January 31, 2007, the Company and its Subsidiaries have conducted their respective businesses only in, and have not engaged in any material transaction outside the ordinary and usual course of such businesses, and there has not been any event, change, action, failure to act or transaction which, individually or in the aggregate, has had or would be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. Except as set forth on Schedule 2.2(f), since January 31, 2007, the Company has not taken any actions or omitted to take any actions which, had such actions or omissions occurred after the date of this Agreement, would have breached any of the covenants contained in Section 3.1(a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i), (k), (m), (n), (o), (p), (q), (s), or (t).

(g) Litigation and Liabilities.

(i) There are no civil, criminal or administrative actions, information requests, suits, claims, hearings, arbitrations, investigations or other proceedings (collectively, "Claims") pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, except for those that are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. Except as reflected or reserved against in McJunkin Corporation's audited consolidated balance sheet for the year ending December 31, 2006 (and the notes thereto) and for obligations or liabilities incurred in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice since December 31, 2006 (and reflected or reserved against in the Company's unaudited consolidated balance sheet for the period then ended, to the extent incurred prior to such date), there are no obligations or liabilities of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, whether or not accrued, contingent or otherwise and whether or not required to be disclosed, or any other facts or circumstances of which to the Knowledge of the Company is reasonably likely to result in any Claims against, or obligations or liabilities of, the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, including those relating to matters involving any Environmental Law), except for those that are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(ii) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to or subject to the provisions of any Order of any Governmental Entity which is, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(h) Employees; Benefits.

(i) All material benefit, employment, retention, transaction, severance, change in control and compensation plans, contracts, policies or arrangements covering current or former employees of the Company and its Subsidiaries (the "Employees") and current or former directors of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or with respect to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries could have any liability, including, but not limited to, "employee benefit plans" within the meaning of Section 3(3) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), and deferred compensation, severance, stock option, stock purchase, stock appreciation rights, stock based, incentive and bonus plans (the "Benefit Plans"), are listed on Schedule 2.2(h), and each Benefit Plan which has received a favorable opinion letter from the Internal Revenue Service National Office has been separately identified. True and complete copies of all Benefit Plans listed on Schedule 2.2(h) have been made available to the Representative.

(ii) To the Knowledge of the Company, all Benefit Plans, other than "multiemployer plans" within the meaning of Section 3(37) of ERISA (each, a "Multiemployer Plan") (collectively, "Company Benefit Plans") are in compliance in all material respects with their terms and ERISA, the Code and other applicable Laws. Each Company Benefit Plan which is subject to ERISA (an "ERISA Plan") that is an "employee pension benefit plan" within the meaning of Section 3(2) of ERISA intended to be qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code, has received a favorable determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") covering all tax law changes prior to the Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2001 or has applied to the IRS for such favorable determination letter within the applicable remedial amendment period under Section 401(b) of the Code, and to the Knowledge of the Company, no circumstances exist which are likely to result in the loss of the qualification of such Company Benefit Plan under Section 401(a) of the Code. No Benefit Plan which is a Multiemployer Plan is insolvent or is in reorganization within the meaning of Part 3 of Subtitle E of Title IV of ERISA and to the Company's Knowledge no condition exists which presents a risk of any Multiemployer Plan becoming insolvent or going into reorganization. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has engaged in a transaction with respect to any ERISA Plan that, assuming the taxable period of such transaction expired as of the date hereof, could subject the Company or any Subsidiary to a tax or penalty imposed by either Section 4975 of the Code or Section 502(i) of ERISA in an amount which would be material.

(iii) No material liability under Subtitle C or D of Title IV of ERISA has been or is expected to be incurred by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with respect to any ongoing, frozen or terminated Company Benefit Plan or with respect to the single-employer plan of any entity which is considered one employer with the Company or any of its Subsidiaries under Section 4001 of ERISA or Section 414 of the Code (an "ERISA Affiliate"). Other than the Company and its Subsidiaries, neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has any ERISA Affiliates nor any liability with respect to any entity that previously was an ERISA Affiliate. The Company and its Subsidiaries have not incurred and do not expect to incur any material withdrawal liability with respect to a Multiemployer Plan under Subtitle E of Title IV of ERISA (regardless of whether based on contributions of an ERISA Affiliate).

(iv) As of the date hereof, there is no material pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company threatened, litigation or dispute relating to the Benefit Plans or by an Employee against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, other than routine claims for benefits. No Benefit Plan is under audit, investigation or similar proceeding by the IRS, the Department of Labor, the Pension Benefit Guarantee Corporation or any other Governmental Entity and, to the Knowledge of the Company, no such audit, investigation or proceeding is pending. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has any obligations for retiree health or life benefits under any ERISA Plan or collective bargaining agreement or has obligations to any Employee (either individually or Employees as a group) that such Employee(s) would be provided with such retiree health or life benefits upon their retirement or termination of employment, except to the extent required by Section 4980B of the Code.

(v) Neither the execution and delivery of this Agreement, nor the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby will (x) entitle any Employees to severance pay or any material increase in severance pay upon any termination of employment after the date hereof, or (y) accelerate the time of payment or vesting, or result in any payment or funding (through a grantor trust or otherwise) of compensation or benefits under, or increase the amount payable, or result in any other material obligation pursuant to, any of the Benefit Plans or (z) result in the triggering or imposition of any restrictions or limitation on the right of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to amend or terminate any Benefit Plan. Except as set forth on Schedule 2.2(g), no payment or benefit which will or may be made by Buyer, the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with respect to any Employee will be characterized as an "excess parachute payment," within the meaning of Section 280G(b)(1) of the Code.

(vi) None of the Benefit Plans, if administered in accordance with their terms, could result in the imposition of interest or an additional tax on any participant thereunder pursuant to Section 409A of the Code.

(i) Compliance with Laws. The businesses of the Company and each of its Subsidiaries have not been, and are not being, conducted in violation of any applicable Law, except for violations that, individually or in the aggregate, are not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. Except with respect to regulatory matters covered by Section 6.2 of the Purchase Agreement, no investigation or review by any Governmental Entity with respect to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened, nor has any Governmental Entity indicated an intention to conduct the same, except for those the outcome of which are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. To the Knowledge of the Company, no material change is required in the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' processes, properties or procedures in connection with any such Laws, and none of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has received any notice or communication of any material noncompliance with any such Laws that has not been cured as of the date hereof. The Company and its Subsidiaries each has obtained and is in compliance with all permits, licenses, certifications, approvals, registrations, consents, authorizations, franchises, variances, exemptions and orders issued or granted by a Governmental Entity (each a "Permit") necessary to conduct its business as presently conducted, except those the absence of which is not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(j) Material Contracts. As of the date of this Agreement and except as otherwise expressly contemplated by this Agreement, neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to or bound by:

(i) any individual lease of real or personal property providing for annual rentals of $5 million or more;

(ii) any Contract with any Governmental Entity or any Contract (other than purchase orders entered into the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice) that is reasonably likely to require either (x) annual payments to or from the Company or any of its Subsidiaries of more than $5 million or (y) aggregate payments to or from the Company or any of its Subsidiaries of more than $5 million;

(iii) other than with respect to any wholly owned Subsidiary of the Company, any partnership, joint venture or other similar agreement or arrangement relating to the formation, creation, operation, management or control of any partnership or joint venture material to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or in which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries directly or indirectly owns more than a 15% voting or economic interest, or any interest valued at more than $5 million without regard to percentage voting or economic interest;

(iv) any Contract (other than among direct or indirect wholly owned Subsidiaries of the Company) relating to Debt in excess of $5 million;

(v) any non-competition Contract or other Contract that purports to limit either the type of business in which the Company or its Subsidiaries (including, after the Acquisition, Sooner and its Affiliates) may engage or the manner or locations in which any of them may so engage in any business (for the avoidance of doubt, distribution agreements and similar Contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice shall not be deemed to be covered by this Section 2.2(j)(v);

(vi) any Contract containing a standstill or similar agreement pursuant to which one party has agreed not to acquire assets or securities of the other party or any of its Affiliates;

(vii) any Contract with any member, Related Party, Affiliate, director or officer of the Company, or any Affiliate, shareholder, director or officer of any Subsidiary of the Company;

(viii) any Contract providing for indemnification by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries of any Person, except for any such Contract that is (x) not material to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or is a purchase order and (y) entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice;

(ix) any Contract that contains a put, call or similar right pursuant to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries could be required to purchase or sell, as applicable, any equity interests of any Person or assets that have a fair market value or purchase price of more than $5 million; and

(x) any other Contract or group of related Contracts that, if terminated or subject to a default by any party thereto, is, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

The Contracts described in Sections 2.2(j)(i) through (x), together with all exhibits and schedules to such Contracts, are referred to herein as the "Material Contracts". A copy of each written Material Contract (or a copy of written terms proposed for Material Contracts not executed but in which performance has begun) has been made available to Representative, and each Material Contract is a valid and binding agreement of the Company or one of its Subsidiaries, as the case may be, and is in full force and effect, and neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries nor, to the Knowledge of the Company, any other party thereto is in default or breach in any respect under the terms of any such Contract.

(k) Real Property.

(i) With respect to the real property owned by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (the "Owned Real Property"), (i) the Company or one of its Subsidiaries, as applicable, has good and marketable title to the Owned Real Property, free and clear of any Encumbrance other than Permitted Encumbrances, (ii) there are no outstanding options or rights of first refusal to purchase the Owned Real Property, or any portion thereof or interest therein, and (iii) neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries leases Owned Real Property to any other Person.

(ii) With respect to the real property leased or subleased to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (the "Leased Real Property"), the lease or sublease for such property is valid, legally binding, enforceable and in full force and effect, and none of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is in material breach of or default under such lease or sublease, and no event has occurred which, with notice, lapse of time or both, would constitute a breach or default by any of the Company or its Subsidiaries or permit termination, modification or acceleration by any third party thereunder.

(iii) Schedule 2.2(k) contains a true and complete list of all Owned Real Property and Leased Real Property and sets forth a correct street address and such other information as is reasonably necessary to identify each parcel of Owned Real Property and Leased Real Property.

(l) Environmental Matters.

(i) Except as is not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect: (A) the Company and its Subsidiaries are, and have since January 1, 2002 been, in compliance with all applicable Environmental Laws; (B) the Company and its Subsidiaries possess all permits, licenses, registrations, identification numbers, authorizations and approvals required under applicable Environmental Laws for the operation of the business as presently conducted; (C) neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has received any claim, notice of violation, citation or other communication concerning any violation or alleged violation of, or liability under, any applicable Environmental Law which has not been fully resolved, imposing no outstanding liability or obligation on the Company or any of its Subsidiaries; (D) there are no writs, injunctions, decrees, orders or judgments outstanding, or any actions, suits, proceedings, inquiries, information requests, or investigations pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened, concerning compliance by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with, or liability of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries under, any Environmental Law; and (E) there are no Hazardous Substances at, on, under, or migrating to or from, the Owned Real Property, the Leased Real Property, or, to the Knowledge of the Company, any real property formerly owned, leased or operated by the Company, or any of its Subsidiaries (the "Former Real Property"), in each case, which is reasonably expected to result in liability to the Company or any Subsidiary under any Environmental Law. As used in this Agreement, "Hazardous Substance" means any substance listed, defined, designated or classified as a pollutant or contaminant or as hazardous, toxic or radioactive under any applicable Environmental Law, including, without limitation, petroleum and any derivative or by-products thereof and asbestos and asbestos-containing materials, and "Environmental Law" means any applicable law (including common law), regulation, code, license, permit, order, judgment, decree or injunction from any Governmental Entity relating to (a) the protection of the environment (including air, water, soil and natural resources), (b) the use, storage, handling, release or disposal of or exposure to hazardous substances, or (c) occupational health or safety as it relates to Hazardous Substance handling or exposure, in each case as presently in effect.

(ii) The Company has made available to Representative or its counsel true and complete copies of any material reports, site assessments, tests, or monitoring possessed by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (A) pertaining to Hazardous Substances at, on, under, or migrating to or from, any Owned Real Property, Leased Real Property or Former Real Property, or (B) concerning compliance by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries with Environmental Law or their liability thereunder.

(iii) Notwithstanding any other representation and warranty in this Section 2.2, the representations and warranties contained in this Section 2.2(l) and in Sections 2.2(g) and 2.2(i) constitute the sole representations and warranties of the Company relating to any Environmental Law.

(m) Tax Matters. The Company and each of its Subsidiaries (i) have prepared in good faith and duly and timely filed (taking into account any extension of time within which to file) all Tax Returns required to be filed by any of them and all such filed Tax Returns are complete and accurate in all material respects; (ii) have paid all Taxes that are shown as due on such filed Tax Returns (or Taxes that are otherwise due and payable) or that the Company or any of its Subsidiaries are obligated to withhold from amounts owing to any employee, creditor or other third party, except with respect to matters contested in good faith and for which adequate reserves have been established in accordance with GAAP; and (iii) have not waived any statute of limitations with respect to Taxes or agreed to any extension of time with respect to a Tax assessment or deficiency. As of the date hereof, there are not pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened, any audits, examinations, investigations or other proceedings in respect of Taxes or Tax matters. There are not, to the Knowledge of the Company, any material unresolved questions or claims concerning the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' Tax liability. The Company has made available to Representative true and correct copies of the United States federal income Tax Returns filed by the Company and each of its Subsidiaries for each of the three most recent fiscal years. The consolidated United States federal income Tax Returns of McJunkin Corporation have been examined, or the statutes of limitations have closed, with respect to all taxable years through and including 2004. To the Knowledge of the Company, no claim has been made in the previous five years by a Governmental Entity in a jurisdiction where the Company or any of its Subsidiaries does not file Tax Returns that the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is or may be subject to taxation by that jurisdiction. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has any liability for Taxes of any Person (other than the Company and its Subsidiaries) under Treasury Regulation Section 1.1502-6 or any comparable provision of U.S., state, local or foreign Law or otherwise. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has been a party to a "reportable transaction" (as that term is defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.6011-4(b)(1)). Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to any Tax sharing agreement with any Person (other than the Company and/or any of its Subsidiaries). Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has been a party to any distribution occurring during the last 30 months in which the parties to such distribution treated the distribution as one to which Section 355 of the Code (or any similar provision of state, local or foreign law) applied. Each material Tax election made by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has been timely and properly made. As used in this Agreement, "Tax" or "Taxes" means all federal, state, local and foreign income, profits, franchise, gross receipts, environmental, customs duty, capital stock, severances, stamp, documentary, registration, payroll, sales, employment, unemployment, disability, use, transfer, real property transfer, stock transfer, property, withholding, excise, production, value added, occupancy, and other taxes, duties or assessments imposed by a Governmental Entity of any nature whatsoever, together with all interest, penalties and additions imposed with respect to such amounts and any interest in respect of such penalties and additions, and "Tax Return" means all returns and reports (including elections, declarations, disclosures, schedules, estimates and information returns) required to be supplied to a Governmental Entity relating to Taxes.

(n) Labor Matters.

(i) To the Knowledge of the Company, there is no organizational effort currently being made or threatened on behalf of any labor organization to organize the employees of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, nor a demand for recognition of any of the employees of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries on behalf of any labor organization within the last two (2) years; nor is the Company or any of its Subsidiaries the subject of any material proceeding asserting that the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has committed an unfair labor practice within the meaning of the National Labor Relations Act or comparable restrictions under other applicable Laws or seeking to compel it to bargain with any labor organization; nor is there pending or, to the Knowledge of the Company, threatened, nor has there been for the past two (2) years, any labor strike, picketing, walkout, work stoppage or lockout involving the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is presently, nor has been in the past a party to, or bound by, any collective bargaining agreement or union contract with respect to Employees, and no such agreement or contract is currently being negotiated. The consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement will not entitle any third party (including any labor organization) to any payments under any collective bargaining agreement or union contract with respect to Employees to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is a party or by which any of them are otherwise bound.

(ii) The Company and its Subsidiaries (A) are in compliance in all material respects with all applicable Laws respecting employment, overtime pay and wages and hours, in each case, with respect to their employees; (B) have withheld all material amounts required by applicable Law or by agreement to be withheld from the wages, salaries and other payment to their employees; and (C) are not liable for or in arrears with respect to material wages or any material taxes or any penalty for failure to comply with any of the foregoing except, in each case, to the extent as is not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(iii) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has classified any individual as an "independent contractor" or similar status who, according to a Benefit Plan or applicable Law, should have been classified as an employee or of similar status.

(o) Insurance. The Company and its Subsidiaries maintain fire and casualty, general liability, business interruption, product liability and sprinkler and water damage insurance policies (the "Insurance Policies") with reputable insurance carriers. The Insurance Policies provide full and adequate coverage for all normal risks incident to the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries and their respective properties and assets, and are in character and amount at least equivalent to that carried by Persons engaged in similar businesses and subject to the same or similar perils or hazards, except for any such failure to maintain insurance polices that, individually or in the aggregate, are not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. Each Insurance Policy is in full force and effect and all premiums due with respect to all Insurance Policies have been paid, with such exceptions that, individually or in the aggregate, are not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(p) Related Party Transactions.

(i) Except as set forth on Schedule 2.2(p), no member or shareholder of the Company or its Subsidiaries or other Related Party (A) has any interest in any property (real, personal, or mixed and whether tangible or intangible), used in or pertaining to the business of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries as currently conducted, (B) owns, of record or as a beneficial owner, an equity interest or any other financial or a profit interest (other than ownership of publicly-traded securities representing less than 5% of the total equity and less than 5% of the total voting power of the issuer) in a Person that has had material business dealings or a material financial interest in any transaction with the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or (C) is a party to any Contract with, or has any claim or right against, the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (except for employment and similar Contracts and claims thereunder).

(ii) Except as set forth on Schedule 2.2(p), none of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is indebted, directly or indirectly, to any Person who is a member, shareholder or other Related Party in any amount whatsoever, other than for ordinary compensation (including salaries, wages and benefits) for services rendered or reimbursable business expenses, nor is any such member, shareholder or other Related Party indebted to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, except for advances made to employees of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries in the ordinary course of business to meet reimbursable business expenses anticipated to be incurred by such obligor.

(q) Product Warranty and Product Liability. There is no notice, demand, claim, action, suit, inquiry, hearing, proceeding, notice of violation or investigation from, by or before any Governmental Entity relating to any product, including the packaging and advertising related thereto, designed, formulated, manufactured, processed, sold, distributed or placed in the stream of commerce by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (a "Product"), or claim or lawsuit involving a Product which is, to the Knowledge of the Company, pending or threatened, by any Person which is reasonably likely to result in any material liability to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. There has not been, nor is there under consideration by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, any Product recall or post-sale warning conducted by or on behalf of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries concerning any Product, except for such recalls or post-sale warnings that are not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. To the Knowledge of the Company, at the time sold, distributed or placed in the stream of commerce by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, all Products, complied in all material respects with applicable specifications, government safety standards and other applicable Laws, and were substantially free from contamination, deficiencies or defects, except for such non-compliance, contamination, deficiency or defect as is not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably likely have a Material Adverse Effect.

(r) Suppliers and Customers. Schedule 2.2(r) sets forth a list of (i) the fifteen (15) largest suppliers (by dollar amount and not by name) to the Company and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, as of December 31, 2006 immediately preceding the date of this Agreement ("Major Suppliers") and (ii) the fifteen (15) customers (by dollar amount of purchases and not by name) with the highest dollar amount of purchases from or services of, the companies, taken as a whole, as of December 31, 2006 immediately preceding the date of this Agreement (the "Major Customers"). No Major Supplier or Major Customer has during the last two (2) years materially decreased or limited, or to the Knowledge of the Company threatened to materially decrease or limit, its provision or receipt of services or supplies to or from the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. No termination, cancellation or material limitation of, or any material modification or change in, the business relationship of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has occurred or, to the Knowledge of the Company, has been threatened by any Major Supplier or Major Customer.

(s) Purchase and Sale Agreements.

(i) No claims for indemnification under any prior purchase and sale agreements to which the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is a party (the "Prior Purchase Agreements"), have been made by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries in the last five (5) years, or are pending or threatened by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. No claims for indemnification under any Prior Purchase Agreements have been made in the last five (5) years or to the Knowledge of the Company are pending or threatened, by any counterparties thereto.

(ii) Buyer has provided the Representative with a true and complete copy of the Stock Purchase Agreement (the "Midway Agreement"), dated April 5, 2007 by and among McJunkin Development Corporation (a Subsidiary of the Company), Midway-Tristate Corporation, a New York Corporation, and the shareholders of Midway-Tristate Corporation as of such date and the Disclosure Schedules referenced therein.

(t) Power of Attorney. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has given any irrevocable power of attorney (other than such powers of attorney given in the ordinary course of business with respect to routine matters or as may be necessary or desirable in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby) to any Person other than a manager of the Company with respect to the Company or any such Subsidiary.

ARTICLE III

Covenants

3.1. Interim Operations. After the date hereof and prior to the Closing (unless the Representative shall otherwise approve in writing, such approval not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed, and except as otherwise expressly contemplated by this Agreement, and except as required by applicable Laws), the Company shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to, conduct the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries in the ordinary and usual course and, to the extent consistent therewith, the Company shall and shall cause the Company's Subsidiaries to (x) use their respective reasonable best efforts to preserve the Company's and its Subsidiaries' business organizations intact and maintain existing relations and goodwill with all Governmental Entities, customers, suppliers, distributors, creditors, lessors, employees and business associates, and (y) keep available the services of the Company's and its Subsidiaries' present employees and agents. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing and in furtherance thereof, from the date of this Agreement until the Closing, except (A) as otherwise expressly contemplated by this Agreement, the Purchase Agreement or the Letter Agreement, (B) as the Representative may approve in writing (such approval not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed) or (C) for transactions set forth on Schedule 3.1, the Company will not and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries not to:

(a) adopt or propose any change in its certificate of formation or limited liability company agreement or other applicable governing instruments;

(b) merge or consolidate with any other Person, or restructure, reorganize or completely or partially liquidate or otherwise enter into any agreements or arrangements imposing material changes or restrictions on its assets, operations or businesses;

(c) acquire any entity or business (including by way of merger, stock purchase, asset purchase or otherwise) from any other Person, other than acquisitions pursuant to Contracts in effect as of the date of this Agreement and disclosed on the Schedules;

(d) issue, sell, pledge, dispose of, grant, transfer, encumber, or authorize the issuance, sale, pledge, disposition, grant, transfer, lease, license, guarantee or encumbrance of, any LLC Interests or any shares of capital stock of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (other than the issuance of shares by a wholly-owned Subsidiary of the Company to the Company or another wholly-owned Subsidiary), or securities convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for any shares of such capital stock, or any options, warrants or other rights of any kind to acquire any LLC Interests or any shares of such capital stock or such convertible or exchangeable securities;

(e) create or incur any Encumbrance in excess of $5 million on any assets of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries;

(f) make any loans, advances or capital contributions to or investments in any Person, other than non-material advances to vendors and employees in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice;

(g) enter into any agreement with respect to the voting of its LLC Interests or declare, set aside, make or pay any distribution, or purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire any of its LLC Interests payable other than in cash, with respect to any of its LLC Interests;

(h) reclassify, split or combine, directly or indirectly, any of its LLC Interests;

(i) incur any Debt (other than borrowings under the Company's existing debt facilities in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice) or guarantee Debt of another Person, or issue or sell any debt securities or warrants or other rights to acquire any debt security of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries;

(j) enter into any Contract that would have been a Material Contract had it been entered into prior to the entering into of this Agreement;

(k) make any changes with respect to accounting policies or procedures, except as required by changes in GAAP;

(l) other than in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice, amend, modify or terminate any Material Contract, or cancel, modify or waive any Debts or claims held by it or waive any rights;

(m) except as set forth on Schedule 3.1(m), make any material Tax election, take any material position on any Tax Return filed on or after the date of this Agreement or adopt any tax accounting method that is inconsistent with positions taken or methods used in preparing or filing similar Tax Returns in prior periods, or settle or resolve any material Tax controversy;

(n) other than pursuant to Contracts in effect prior to the date of this Agreement and disclosed on the Schedules, transfer, sell, lease, license, mortgage, pledge, surrender, encumber, divest, cancel, abandon or allow to lapse or expire or otherwise dispose of any assets, product lines or businesses of the Company or its Subsidiaries, including capital stock of any of its Subsidiaries, except for sales, leases, licenses or other dispositions of assets with a fair market value not in excess of $100,000 in the aggregate;

(o) except as set forth on Schedule 3.1(o) or otherwise required by applicable Law, (i) increase the compensation, bonus or pension or welfare benefits of, or make any new equity-based awards to, any director, officer or employee of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (other than those increases in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice to employees below the Vice President level), (ii) establish, adopt, amend or terminate any Benefit Plan or amend the terms of any Benefit Plan or outstanding equity-based awards or (iii) take any action to accelerate the vesting or payment, or fund or in any other way secure the payment, of compensation or benefits under any Benefit Plan, to the extent not already required by any such Benefit Plan;

(p) settle, or consent to any settlement of, any actions, suits, claims or proceedings against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or any obligation or liability of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries alleging any injury or damage (other than disputes with customers or suppliers in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice and not exceeding $50,000 per claimant);

(q) take any action or omit to take any action that will waive, modify, compromise or extinguish any of the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' rights with respect to any agreements, understandings or arrangements relating to any insurance coverage;

(r) take any action or omit to take any action that is reasonably likely to result in any of the conditions to Closing set forth in Article VI not being satisfied (other than the taking of any action required to be taken under applicable Law or the omission of any action prohibited under applicable Law);

(s) enter into, terminate, amend or modify any Contract or transaction with any Affiliate, member or other Related Party;

(t) enter into any purchase order (other than purchase orders entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice and in an amount less than $10 million); or

(u) agree, authorize or commit to do any of the foregoing.

3.2. Access and Reports. Subject to applicable Law, upon reasonable notice, the Company shall (and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries to) afford the Representative and other authorized representatives reasonable access, during normal business hours throughout the period prior to the Closing, to its employees, properties, books, Contracts and records and, during such period, the Company shall (and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries to) furnish promptly to Representative all information concerning its business, properties and personnel as may reasonably be requested, provided that no investigation pursuant to this Section 3.2 shall affect or be deemed to modify any representation or warranty made by the Company herein, and provided, further, that the foregoing shall not require the Company (i) to permit any inspection, or to disclose any information, that in the reasonable judgment of the Company would result in the disclosure of any trade secrets of third parties or violate any of its obligations with respect to confidentiality or (ii) to disclose any privileged information of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. All such information shall be governed by the terms of the Confidentiality Agreement.

ARTICLE IV

Additional Agreements

4.1. Joinder to the Company LLC Agreement. The parties hereto agree that, upon the Closing, each Contributing Shareholder shall be made a party to the limited liability company operating agreement of the Company (the "Company LLC Agreement"), as amended pursuant to the letter agreement dated on or about the date hereof between GS Capital Partners V Fund, L.P. and its related funds (collectively, "GSCP"), and the Contributing Shareholders and attached hereto (the "Letter Agreement"), as a Member with the rights and obligations of holders of Common Units and as set forth in the Letter Agreement and each Contributing Shareholder hereby agrees to become a party to the Company LLC Agreement and to be bound by, and subject to, all of the representations, covenants, terms and conditions of the Company LLC Agreement that are applicable to a Member with such rights and obligations. Execution and delivery of this Agreement by each Contributing Shareholder shall also constitute execution and delivery by him, her or it of the Company LLC Agreement, without further action of any party.

4.2. Joinder to the Registration Rights Agreement. The parties hereto agree that, upon the Closing, each Contributing Shareholder shall be made a party to the Company registration rights agreement (the "Registration Rights Agreement"), as amended pursuant to the Letter Agreement, as a Holder (as defined in the Registration Rights Agreement) and each Contributing Shareholder hereby agrees to become a party to the Registration Rights Agreement and to be bound by, and subject to, all of the representations, covenants, terms and conditions of the Registration Rights that are applicable to a Holder. Execution and delivery of this Agreement by each Contributing Shareholder shall also constitute execution and delivery by him, her or it of the Registration Rights Agreement, without further action of any party.

ARTICLE V

Deliveries at the Closing

5.1. Deliveries by the Company at the Closing. At the Closing, the Company shall:

(a) amend Schedule A to the Company LLC Agreement to reflect the LLC Units acquired by the Contributing Shareholders pursuant to this Agreement; and

(b) deliver to each Contributing Shareholder a copy of the fully executed Company LLC Agreement, as amended pursuant to the Letter Agreement, together with copies of all board resolutions and/or other writings evidencing the effectiveness of such amendments.

5.2. Deliveries by the Contributing Shareholders at the Closing. At the Closing, each Contributing Shareholder shall deliver certificates representing the number of Contribution Shares set forth opposite his, her or its name under the heading "Number of Shares Contributed" on Exhibit A hereto, to the Company, duly endorsed in blank or otherwise in proper form for transfer to the Company.

ARTICLE VI

Conditions to Closing

6.1. Conditions to Obligations of the Company. The obligations of the Company to consummate the transactions contemplated hereunder and to take the other actions at Closing required by this Agreement are subject to the satisfaction or waiver by such party of the following conditions as of the Closing Date:

(a) (i) The representations and warranties of the Contributing Shareholders set forth in this Agreement (other than those in 2.1(a)) shall be true and correct as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing (without giving effect to any "material," "materiality" or "material adverse effect" qualifications to such representations and warranties), except (A) to the extent that the failure of such representations and warranties of the Contributing Shareholders to be true and correct individually or in the aggregate would not and would not reasonably be likely to prevent, materially delay or materially impair the ability of the Contributing Shareholders to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and (B) for those representations and warranties which expressly relate to any earlier date (in which case such representations and warranties shall have been true and correct as of such earlier date); and (ii) the representations and warranties set forth in 2.1(a) shall be true and correct in all respects as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing.

(b) Each Contributing Shareholder shall have performed in all material respects each of their respective agreements and covenants contained in or contemplated by this Agreement that are required to be performed by them at or prior to the Closing pursuant to the terms hereof.

(c) The Company shall have received a certificate from the Representative on behalf of the Contributing Shareholders, dated the Closing Date, to the effect that the conditions set forth in Sections 6.1(a) and (b) have been satisfied.

6.2. Conditions to Obligations of the Contributing Shareholders. The obligations of each Contributing Shareholder to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are subject to the satisfaction, or to the extent permitted by applicable Law, the waiver by the Representative at or prior to the Closing of each of the following conditions:

(a) (i) The representations and warranties of the Company set forth in this Agreement (other than those in Sections 2.2(a) (Authorization of Transaction), 2.2(c) (Capitalization), 2.2(p) (Related Party Transactions) (collectively, the "Excluded Representations") shall be true and correct as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing (without giving effect to any "material", "materiality", "Material Adverse Effect" or "Knowledge" qualification to such representations and warranties), except (A) to the extent that the failure of such representations and warranties of the Company to be true and correct, individually or in the aggregate, has not had, and is not reasonably likely to have, a Material Adverse Effect and (B) for those representations and warranties which expressly relate to an earlier date (in which case such representations and warranties shall have been true and correct as of such earlier date); and (ii) the Excluded Representations shall be true and correct in all respects as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing.

(b) The Company shall have performed in all material respects all obligations required to be performed by it under this Agreement at or prior to the Closing.

(c) The Representative shall have received a certificate of Buyer dated the Closing Date, to the effect that the conditions set forth in Sections 6.2(a) and (b) have been satisfied.

6.3. Acquisition not Consummated. The parties hereto agree that if for any reason the Acquisition is not consummated on or prior to the third business day after the Closing, then the transactions effected at the Closing shall be unwound and the provisions of this Agreement shall be restored as if the Closing had not taken place and shall thereafter remain in full force and effect until terminated pursuant to the terms hereof.

ARTICLE VII

7.1. Termination. (a) This Agreement shall automatically terminate upon termination of the Purchase Agreement pursuant to the terms thereof prior to the closing of the Acquisition.

(b) The parties hereto acknowledge and agree that if the transactions contemplated hereby are not consummated as a result of the failure of any of the conditions contained in Section 6.1 or 6.2, the transactions contemplated by the Purchase Agreement will not be consummated since the condition contained in Section 7.1(e) thereof will not have been satisfied.

(c) In the event of termination of this Agreement and the abandonment of the transactions contemplated hereby pursuant to this Section 7.1, this Agreement shall become void and of no effect with no liability to any Person on the part of any Party (or of any of its representatives or Affiliates); provided, that Article VIII shall survive the termination of this Agreement; and provided, further, that except as otherwise provided herein, no such termination shall relieve any Party of any liability or damages to any other Party resulting from any Willful or Deliberate Breach of this Agreement prior to any such termination.

ARTICLE VIII

Miscellaneous

8.1. Entire Agreement; Binding Effect; Assignment; No Third Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement (including the Exhibit hereto), the Company LLC Agreement, the Registration Rights Agreement, the Purchase Agreement and Letter Agreement constitutes the entire agreement, and supersedes any prior understandings or agreements by or among the parties, written or oral, to the extent related in any way to the subject matter hereof. This Agreement shall be binding upon, inure to the benefit of and be enforceable only by the parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns. No party may assign its rights or obligations under this Agreement to any other person or entity without the prior written consent of the other parties and any purported assignment without such consent is void. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to, or shall, give to any person other than the parties hereto, their successors and permitted assigns any benefit or any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under this Agreement.

8.2. Modification or Amendment; Waiver. This Agreement may only be amended, modified, supplemented or waived with the written approval of each party hereto. No failure or delay on the part of any party in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof or of any other or future exercise of any such right, power or privilege.

8.3. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each such counterpart being deemed to be an original instrument, and all such counterparts shall together constitute the same agreement.

8.4. Governing Law and Venue; Waiver of Jury Trial; Specific Performance.

(a) THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE DEEMED TO BE MADE IN AND IN ALL RESPECTS SHALL BE INTERPRETED, CONSTRUED AND GOVERNED BY AND IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF

DELAWARE WITHOUT REGARD TO THE CONFLICTS OF LAW PRINCIPLES THEREOF. The parties hereby irrevocably submit to the personal jurisdiction of the courts of the State of Delaware located in New Castle County and the Federal courts of the United States of America located in New Castle County solely in respect of the interpretation and enforcement of the provisions of this Agreement and of the documents referred to in this Agreement, and in respect of the transactions contemplated hereby, and hereby waive, and agree not to assert, as a defense in any action, suit or proceeding for the interpretation or enforcement hereof or of any such document, that it is not subject thereto or that such action, suit or proceeding may not be brought or is not maintainable in said courts or that the venue thereof may not be appropriate or that this Agreement or any such document may not be enforced in or by such courts, and the parties hereto irrevocably agree that all claims with respect to such action or proceeding shall be heard and determined in such a Delaware State or Federal court located in New Castle County. The parties hereby consent to and grant any such court jurisdiction over the person of such parties and, to the extent permitted by law, over the subject matter of such dispute and agree that mailing of process or other papers in connection with any such action or proceeding in the manner provided in Section 8.5 or in such other manner as may be permitted by law shall be valid and sufficient service thereof.

(b) EACH PARTY ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY CONTROVERSY WHICH MAY ARISE UNDER THIS AGREEMENT IS LIKELY TO INVOLVE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT ISSUES, AND THEREFORE EACH SUCH PARTY HEREBY IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT SUCH PARTY MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LITIGATION DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT, OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED BY THIS AGREEMENT. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (i) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (ii) EACH PARTY UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF THIS WAIVER, (iii) EACH PARTY MAKES THIS WAIVER VOLUNTARILY, AND (iv) EACH PARTY HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 8.4.

(c) The parties agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that the parties shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in Delaware State or Federal court in New Castle County, this being in addition to any other remedy to which such party is entitled at law or in equity.

8.5. Notices. Any notice, request, instruction or other document to be given hereunder by any party to the others shall be in writing and delivered personally or sent by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, or by facsimile:

8.6. Interpretation; Construction.

(a) The headings herein are for convenience of reference only, do not constitute part of this Agreement and shall not be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any of the provisions hereof. Where a reference in this Agreement is made to a Section, such reference shall be to a Section of this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. Whenever the words “include,” “includes” or “including” are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words “without limitation.”

(b) The parties have participated jointly in negotiating and drafting this Agreement. In the event that an ambiguity or a question of intent or interpretation arises, this Agreement shall be construed as if drafted jointly by the parties, and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favoring or disfavoring any party by virtue of the authorship of any provision of this Agreement.

8.7. Tax Matters. The parties hereto shall not take any position on any tax return inconsistent with the treatment of the contribution of the Contribution Shares to the Company in exchange for LLC Units when considered together with the Acquisition as a transaction governed by Sections 707 and 721 of the Code, unless otherwise required pursuant to a “determination” within the meaning of Section 1313(a) of the Code. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the obligations imposed by this Section 8.7 will survive indefinitely.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement as of the date first mentioned above.

Title:

AMENDMENT NO. 1 TO THE STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

THIS AMENDMENT NO. 1 TO THE STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT (this "Amendment"), is made and entered into as of October 24, 2007, by and among West Oklahoma PVF Company, a Delaware corporation ("Buyer"), Red Man Pipe & Supply Co., an Oklahoma corporation (the "Company) and Craig Ketchum (the "Representative"), as Representative of the Shareholders. All capitalized terms used in this Amendment which are not otherwise defined herein are used with the same meaning attributed to such capitalized terms in the Stock Purchase Agreement (as defined below).

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Buyer, the Company and the holders of all outstanding shares of stock of the Company listed on Schedule 1 thereto (each a "Shareholder" and, collectively, the "Shareholders"), McJ Holding LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (for purposes of Sections 2.3(c) and 10.4 only) and the Representative are parties to that certain Stock Purchase Agreement dated July 6, 2007 (the "Stock Purchase Agreement");

WHEREAS, pursuant to the letter attached hereto as Annex 1, the Company is giving certain participants in the Company Retirement Plan the ability to elect to receive, prior to Closing, a distribution (the "Distribution") of shares of Company Stock from the Company Retirement Plan (the participants who elect to receive a Distribution, the "Electing Participants");

WHEREAS, as a condition precedent to receiving the Distribution, each Electing Participant will be required to sign a joinder agreement (a "Joinder Agreement"), in the form attached hereto as Annex 2, whereby each Electing Participant will agree to become a party to the Stock Purchase Agreement as a "Shareholder" and a "Plan Shareholder"; and

WHEREAS, Buyer and the Representative desire to amend and waive certain provisions of the Stock Purchase Agreement, solely to the extent necessary to permit the Distribution and the execution of the Joinder Agreement in connection therewith, as hereinafter more particularly set forth.

NOW, THEREFORE, for and in consideration of the premises, the mutual covenants contained herein and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt, adequacy and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereby covenant and agree as follows:

1. Amendments to Stock Purchase Agreement.

1.1. Article I of the Stock Purchase Agreement is hereby amended as follows:

(a) The definition of "Ancillary Documents" is hereby amended and restated in its entirety as follows:

"Ancillary Documents" means each agreement, certificate or other instrument executed or to be executed by Buyer, the Company and/or any Shareholder in connection with this Agreement, including the Escrow Agreement, the Holdback Escrow Agreement, the Employment Agreements, the Contribution Agreement, the Non-Compete Agreement and the letter agreement dated on or about the date hereof between the Ketchum Entities and GS Capital Partners V Fund, L.P. and affiliated funds.

(b) The following definition is hereby added immediately after the definition of "Debt Financing Commitment":

"Distribution" means the distribution of shares of Company Stock to the Plan Shareholders from the Company Retirement Plan pursuant to the election made by the Plan Shareholders in accordance with the letter attached hereto as Annex 1.

(c) The following definitions are hereby added immediately after the definition of "Hazardous Substances":

"Holdback Escrow Account" means the escrow account established pursuant to the Holdback Escrow Agreement.

"Holdback Escrow Agreement" means the escrow agreement to be entered into on the Closing Date among the Representative, Buyer and the Escrow Agent, to be mutually agreed upon between the Representative and Buyer and which shall be substantially similar to Escrow Agreement.

"Holdback Percentage" means, with respect to each Plan Shareholder, 20%, plus the applicable state withholding tax rate.

(d) The definition of "Non-Plan Shareholders" is amended and restated in its entirety as follows:

"Non-Plan Shareholders" means each of the Shareholders other than the Company Retirement Plan, the Plan Shareholders and T. Wayne Windham.

(e) The following definitions are hereby added immediately after the definition of "Person":

"Plan Shareholder Holdback Release Date" means, with respect to each Plan Shareholder, the later of (i) the expiration of all applicable statutes of limitations for the Company Retirement Plan's taxable year ending December 31, 2007 and (ii) the expiration of all applicable statutes of limitations for such Plan Shareholder's 2007 taxable year; provided, however, that, if the Company agrees to extend the statute of limitations with respect to the Company Retirement Plan's taxable year ending December 31, 2007 without the consent of the Representative, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, or if the Company fails to timely file IRS Form 945 (or other applicable form, if any such form is required to be filed) for the 2007 taxable year, then the Plan Shareholder Holdback Release Date with respect to each Plan Shareholder shall be the later of (x) the expiration of all applicable statutes of limitations for such Plan Shareholder's 2007 taxable year and (y) April 15, 2011. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if a Plan Shareholder, the Company Retirement Plan, the Company, or McJ Holding or any of its Subsidiaries has been notified by the IRS or any other Governmental Entity that the tax treatment of the Distribution to such Plan Shareholder may be subject to challenge by the IRS or any other Governmental Entity, then the Plan Shareholder Holdback Release Date shall not be prior to the date on which such challenge has been finally resolved and any tax, interest or penalties due and owing as a result of such challenge have been fully paid to the appropriate Governmental Entity.

"Plan Shareholders" means each person who signs a Joinder Agreement substantially in the form attached hereto as Annex 2. (For avoidance of doubt, T. Wayne Windham is not a "Plan Shareholder" as so defined.)

1.2. Section 6.12 of the Stock Purchase Agreement is hereby amended to add the following at the end thereof:

On or prior to the Closing, the Plan Shareholders shall cause the Representative to execute and deliver, and Buyer shall execute and deliver, the Holdback Escrow Agreement.

1.3. The last sentence of Section 6.17 of the Stock Purchase Agreement is hereby amended and restated in its entirety as follows:

"The Parties acknowledge and agree that Consolidated Investment Services, Inc., the Company Retirement Plan, Louie Leflore, T. Wayne Windham and the Plan Shareholders shall not be entitled to become Continuing Shareholders and shall not be entitled to contribute any shares of Company Stock to McJ Holding pursuant to the Contribution Agreement."

1.4. The following is hereby added immediately after Section 6.18 of the Stock Purchase Agreement:

"6.19. Plan Shareholder Holdback. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, including, without limitation, Article II and

Section 6.17 for each Plan Shareholder: (a) at the Closing, an amount equal to such Plan Shareholder's respective Holdback Percentage multiplied by all amounts to be paid to the Representative on behalf of such Plan Shareholder pursuant to Section 2.3(a)(ii) and Section 2.3(c)(i)(A) shall instead be deposited into the Holdback Escrow Account and not distributed to the Plan Shareholders, (b) an amount equal to such Plan Shareholder's respective Holdback Percentage multiplied by all amounts to be paid to the Representative on behalf of such Plan Shareholder out of the Escrow Account pursuant to Section 2.3(c)(i)(B) or Section 2.3(c)(ii)(A) shall instead be deposited into the Holdback Escrow Account and not distributed to the Plan Shareholders and (c) an amount equal to such Plan Shareholder's respective Holdback Percentage multiplied by all amounts to be paid to the Representative on behalf of such Plan Shareholder pursuant to Section 6.14 shall instead be deposited into the Holdback Escrow Account and not distributed to the Plan Shareholders. Buyer and the Representative will instruct the Escrow Agent to pay to Buyer or the Company (or any of their Affiliates) the amounts held in the Holdback Escrow Account pursuant to this Section 6.19 to the extent that Buyer or the Company (or any of their Affiliates) becomes obligated to pay any applicable tax, interest and/or penalties to the IRS or any other Governmental Entity in respect of the distribution of shares of Common Stock to any Plan Shareholder in the Distribution. On the applicable Plan Shareholder Holdback Release Date for a Plan Shareholder, Buyer and the Representative shall instruct the Escrow Agent to distribute to the Representative, on behalf of such Plan Shareholder, an amount (if any) equal to the amount held in the Holdback Escrow Account pursuant to this Section 6.19 with respect to such Plan Shareholder, less any amounts distributed or required to be distributed from the Holdback Escrow Account to Buyer, the Company (or any of their Affiliates) pursuant to the immediately preceding sentence with respect to the distribution of shares of Common Stock to such Plan Shareholder in the Distribution.

1.5. Section 7.3 of the Stock Purchase Agreement is hereby amended by adding the following immediately after clause (m) thereof:

(n) Holdback Escrow Agreement. The Holdback Escrow Agreement shall have been executed and delivered by the Representative (on behalf of the Shareholders) and the Escrow Agent.

1.6. Section 10.14(b) of the Stock Purchase Agreement is hereby amended by adding the following at the end thereof:

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Representative is hereby authorized (i) to receive any payment owing to the Plan Shareholders pursuant to Section 6.19, (ii) to execute the Holdback Escrow Agreement on behalf of the Plan Shareholders, and (iii) to take all actions on behalf of the Plan Shareholders in connection with any actions taken or to be taken under Section 6.19. The Representative and the Plan Shareholders hereby agree that any amounts disbursed out of the Holdback Escrow Account to the Representative pursuant to the terms of Section 6.19 and/or the Holdback Escrow Agreement shall be distributed by the Representative to the Plan Shareholders in accordance with Schedule 1 and Exhibit B, as applicable.

1.7. Annex 1 and Annex 2 to this Amendment are hereby added as Annex 1 and Annex 2 to the Stock Purchase Agreement, respectively.

2. Schedule 1 and Exhibit B. Schedule 1 and Exhibit B to the Stock Purchase Agreement will be amended to add, as Shareholders and Plan Shareholders, those persons who become Electing Participants.

3. Acceptance of Joinder. Buyer, the Company and the Representative (on behalf of the Shareholders) accept the Joinder Agreements to be entered into by each Electing Participant, and agree that upon execution of a Joinder Agreement each Electing Participant shall become a "Shareholder" and a "Plan Shareholder" under the Stock Purchase Agreement, in each case entitled to all the rights and benefits of such a party under the Stock Purchase Agreement (and bound by and subject to the terms and conditions thereof), as if a signatory directly thereto.

4. Limited Waiver; Full Force and Effect of the Stock Purchase Agreement. Buyer, the Company and the Representative (on behalf of the Shareholders) hereby waive any and all breaches of representation, warranty and covenant of the Shareholders or the Company set forth in the Stock Purchase Agreement, in each case solely to the extent necessary to permit without breach the Distribution and the execution and delivery of the Joinder Agreement and the Holdback Escrow Agreement. The waiver set forth in the immediately preceding sentence shall not be deemed to extend to any prior or subsequent default or breach or affect in any way any rights arising by virtue of any such prior or subsequent occurrence and the parties hereto do not waive any right that they may have under the Stock Purchase Agreement. Except as expressly set forth herein, the parties make no amendment, alteration or modification of the Stock Purchase Agreement. Except as expressly set forth herein, the Stock Purchase Agreement shall remain in full force and effect.

5. Applicability of Article X of the Stock Purchase Agreement. The provisions of Article X of the Stock Purchase Agreement shall apply to this Amendment as if such provisions were part of this Amendment.

JOINDER AGREEMENT AND
AMENDMENT NO. 2 TO THE STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

This JOINDER AGREEMENT AND AMENDMENT NO. 2 TO THE STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT (this "Joinder Agreement"), is made and entered into as of October 31, 2007, by and among Betts, LLC, an Oklahoma limited liability company ("Betts"), BGJC, LLC, an Oklahoma limited liability company ("BGJC"), CSK, LLC, an Oklahoma limited liability company ("CSK"), KBK, LLC, an Oklahoma limited liability company ("KBK"), KSKN, LLC, an Oklahoma limited liability company ("KSKN", and, together with Betts, BGJC, CSK and KBK, the "LLCs"), West Oklahoma PVF Company, a Delaware corporation ("Buyer"), Red Man Pipe & Supply Co., an Oklahoma corporation (the "Company), McJ Holding LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("McJ Holding") and Craig Ketchum (the "Representative"), as Representative of the Shareholders. All capitalized terms used in this Joinder Agreement which are not otherwise defined herein are used with the same meaning attributed to such capitalized terms in the Stock Purchase Agreement (as defined below).

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS Buyer, the Company and the holders of all outstanding shares of stock of the Company listed on Schedule 1 thereto (each a "Shareholder" and, collectively, the "Shareholders"), McJ Holding (for purposes of Sections 2.3(c) and 10.4 only) and the Representative are parties to that certain Stock Purchase Agreement dated, July 6, 2007, as amended by Amendment No. 1 thereto, dated October 24, 2007 (the "Stock Purchase Agreement");

WHEREAS BJHK Limited Partnership, an Oklahoma limited partnership ("BJHK LP"), K.F. Enterprises, L.L.C., an Oklahoma limited liability company ("KFE"), and BJHK Living Trust, an Oklahoma trust ("BJHK LT" and, together with BJHK LP and KFE, the "Former Shareholders"), are parties to the Stock Purchase Agreement named as Shareholders therein;

WHEREAS, pursuant to certain restructurings and business combinations consummated prior to the Closing (collectively, the "Restructurings"), among other things: (i) BJHK LP has merged with and into KFE, and (ii) effective on the Closing Date, as of immediately prior to the Closing, KFE is transferring all its shares of Company Stock in equal proportions to BGJC, CSK, KBK, and KSKN, and BJHK LT is transferring all its shares of Company Stock to Betts;

WHEREAS, as a result of the Restructurings, at the Closing, the Former Shareholders will not own any shares of Company Stock and each of the LLCs will own the number of shares of Company Stock set forth opposite the name of such LLC on Schedule 1 hereto (representing, in the aggregate, 96,549 shares of Company Stock); and

WHEREAS (i) this Joinder Agreement is intended to constitute the Contribution Percentage Notice pursuant to Section 6.17 of the Stock Purchase Agreement, (ii) Section 6.17 contemplates that, prior to the Closing, each of CK and each Other Ketchum Entity named in the Contribution Percentage Notice shall become a party to the Stock Purchase Agreement as a Shareholder, and (iii) each of the undersigned desires and intends that, by executing and delivering this Joinder Agreement, each of the LLCs shall become a party to the Stock Purchase Agreement as a Shareholder thereunder.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing, and of the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements contained herein, and intending to be legally bound hereby, the parties hereby covenant and agree as follows:

Section 1. Party to the Agreement. Each of the LLCs hereby agrees to become a party to the Stock Purchase Agreement as a "Shareholder" thereunder, effective as of the date hereof, and to be bound by, and subject to, all of the representations, covenants, agreements, terms and conditions of the Stock Purchase Agreement that are applicable to a Shareholder, and to be entitled to all the rights and benefits of such a party under the Stock Purchase Agreement, in each case as if a signatory directly thereto. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, each of the LLCs, by executing this Joinder Agreement, is (a) making the representations and warranties set forth in Article III of the Stock Purchase Agreement as a Shareholder (provided that such representations and warranties are being made by each such LLC as of the date hereof, and provided further that in the case of the representation and warranty of each LLC pursuant to Section 3.1(a) of the Stock Purchase Agreement, such representation and warranty is being made by such LLC as of immediately prior to the Closing) and (b) agreeing to be bound by, and subject to, all of the covenants and agreements set forth in the Stock Purchase Agreement applicable to a Shareholder. Execution and delivery of this Joinder Agreement by each of the LLCs shall constitute execution and delivery by it of the Stock Purchase Agreement, without further action of any party. Each of the LLCs hereby acknowledges that the Stock Purchase Agreement provides for the escrow, in accordance with an escrow agreement as set forth in the Stock Purchase Agreement, of a portion of the proceeds otherwise payable by Buyer to each Shareholder in exchange for such Shareholder's shares of Company Stock. Each of the LLCs hereby (i) appoints Craig Ketchum to serve as each such LLC's agent in selling such LLC's Company Stock to Buyer and (ii) grants Craig Ketchum an irrevocable power of attorney to sell such LLC's Company Stock to Buyer pursuant to the terms of the Stock Purchase Agreement. Pursuant to Section 10.4 of the Stock Purchase Agreement, each of the LLCs further agrees that by becoming a Shareholder it will be deemed to irrevocably constitute and appoint Craig Ketchum as its true and lawful agent and attorney-in-fact with full powers of substitution, to act in the name, place and stead of such LLC with respect to the Stock Purchase Agreement and with respect to the transfer of such LLC's Company Stock to Buyer pursuant to the Stock Purchase Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, and to do or refrain from doing all such acts and things, and to execute all such documents, as the Representative shall deem necessary or appropriate in connection with the Stock Purchase Agreement, the Ancillary Documents or any of the transactions contemplated thereby.

Section 2. Schedule 1 and Exhibit B. Schedule 1 and Exhibit B to the Stock Purchase Agreement are hereby amended and restated in the forms attached as Schedule 1 and Exhibit B hereto, respectively. Schedule 1 and Exhibit B to the Stock Purchase Agreement will be further amended to add, as Shareholders and Plan Shareholders, those persons who become Electing Participants (as defined in Amendment No. 1 to the Stock Purchase Agreement).

Section 3. Sale of Securities. Each of the LLCs hereby directs the Representative to sell the shares of Company Stock set forth opposite its name under the column "Number of Shares Sold for Cash ("Transferred Shares")" on Exhibit B, as hereby amended, to the Stock Purchase Agreement, at the Closing, in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Stock Purchase Agreement.

Section 4. Representations and Warranties. In addition to the representations and warranties in Article III of the Stock Purchase Agreement that each of the LLCs makes to Buyer as a Shareholder, each such LLC represents and warrants to Buyer and the Company that (a) such LLC has carefully reviewed copies of the Stock Purchase Agreement and all other documents such LLC deems necessary or desirable in order for it to execute this Joinder Agreement, (b) such LLC has been granted the opportunity to ask questions of, and receive answers from, representatives of the Company concerning the Stock Purchase Agreement and the terms and conditions thereof that such LLC deems necessary and (c) this Joinder Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by such LLC and constitutes a valid and binding agreement of such LLC enforceable against it in accordance with its terms. CSK represents and warrants to Buyer that it is a Person controlled by Craig Ketchum in which Craig Ketchum and his [wife and] children have at least a 90% economic beneficial interest. Each LLC other than CSK represents and warrants to Buyer that it is an "Other Ketchum Entity" as defined in the Stock Purchase Agreement.

Section 5. Contribution Percentage Notice; Limited Waivers. This Joinder Agreement constitutes a Contribution Percentage Notice pursuant to Section 6.17 of the Stock Purchase Agreement. Buyer hereby waives any requirement that the Contribution Percentage Notice be delivered to Buyer a specified number of days prior to closing and any right to object to the Contribution Percentage Notice on the ground that it was not timely delivered. Buyer hereby waives any closing condition under the Stock Purchase Agreement to the effect or other requirement that the representations and warranties of the Former Shareholders under Section 3.1(a) be true or correct at the Closing. Buyer hereby waives any closing condition under the Stock Purchase Agreement to the effect or other requirement that the representations and warranties of the LLCs under Section 3.1(a) be true or correct as of the date of the Stock Purchase Agreement, provided that such representations and warranties of the LLCs are true and correct as of the Closing after giving effect to the amendment and restatement of Schedule 1 to the Stock Purchase Agreement as provided herein.

Section 6. No Required Consents. Each of the Former Shareholders hereby represents and warrants that the Restructurings, including without limitation the direct and indirect transfers of Company Stock from the Former Shareholders to the LLCs acquiring such Company Stock, as described in third "Whereas" clause above, do not (a) violate any Law or Order to which such Former Shareholder is subject, result in the creation or imposition of any Encumbrance upon the Company Stock formerly held of record or beneficially owned by such Former Shareholder, or require such Former Shareholder to give any notice to, make any filing with, or obtain any authorization, consent or approval of, any Person.

Section 7. Further Assurances. At any time or from time to time after the date hereof, each LLC agrees to execute and deliver any further instruments or documents and take such additional actions as the Company, the Representative or Buyer may reasonably request in order to evidence or effectuate its sale of Company Stock pursuant to the Stock Purchase Agreement and to otherwise carry out the intent of the parties under this Joinder Agreement.

Section 8. Governing Law. This Joinder Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware without effect to the principles of conflicts of law.

Section 9. Acceptance of Joinder. The Company, Buyer, McJ Holding and the Representative (on behalf of the Shareholders) hereby accept this Joinder Agreement, and agree that upon execution hereof, each LLC shall become a party to the Stock Purchase Agreement as a "Shareholder," entitled to all the rights and benefits of such a party thereunder (and bound by and subject to the terms and conditions thereof), as if a signatory directly thereto.

Section 10. Effect of the Stock Purchase Agreement. Except as expressly set forth herein, the parties make no amendment, alteration or modification of the Stock Purchase Agreement. Except as expressly set forth herein, the Stock Purchase Agreement shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 11. Applicability of Article X of the Stock Purchase Agreement. The provisions of Article X of the Stock Purchase Agreement shall apply to this Joinder Agreement as if such provisions were part of this Joinder Agreement.

McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation
8023 East 63rd Place
Tulsa, Oklahoma 74133

RE: Registration Statement on Form S-1, File No. 333-153091 (the "Registration Statement")

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have acted as counsel for McJunkin Red Man Holding Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), in connection with the underwritten initial public offering (the "Offering") of shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Company (the "Shares") by PVF Holdings LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and stockholder of the Company (the "Selling Stockholder"), including Shares which may be offered and sold upon the exercise of the option granted to the underwriters by the Selling Stockholder (the "Optional Shares" and, together with the Shares, the "Offered Shares"). The Offered Shares are to be offered to the public pursuant to an underwriting agreement to be entered into among the Company, the Selling Stockholder and Goldman, Sachs & Co. and Lehman Brothers Inc., as representatives of the underwriters (the "Underwriting Agreement"). With your permission, all assumptions and statements of reliance set forth herein have been made without any independent investigation or verification on our part except to the extent otherwise expressly stated, and we express no opinion with respect to the subject matter or accuracy of such assumptions or items relied upon.

In connection with this opinion, we have (i) investigated such questions of law, (ii) examined the originals or certified, conformed or reproduction copies of such agreements, instruments, documents and records of the Company, such certificates of public officials and such other documents and (iii) received such information from officers and representatives of the Company and others, in each case, as we have deemed necessary or appropriate for the purposes of this opinion.

In all such examinations, we have assumed the legal capacity of all natural persons, the genuineness of all signatures, the authenticity of original and certified documents and the conformity to original or certified documents of all copies submitted to us as conformed or reproduction copies. As to various questions of fact relevant to the opinions expressed herein, we have relied upon, and assume the accuracy of, representations and warranties contained in the documents and certificates and oral or written statements and other information of or from representatives of the Company and others and assume compliance on the part of all parties to the documents with their covenants and agreements contained therein.

Based upon the foregoing and subject to the limitations, qualifications and assumptions set forth herein, we are of the opinion that the Shares and the Optional Shares registered pursuant to the Registration Statement to be sold by the Selling Stockholder (when issued, delivered and paid for in accordance with the Underwriting Agreement and Registration Statement) will be duly authorized, validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable.

The opinions expressed herein are limited to the laws of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, as currently in effect, together with applicable provisions of the Constitution of Delaware and relevant decisional law, and no opinion is expressed with respect to any other laws or any effect that such other laws may have on the opinions expressed herein. The opinions expressed herein are limited to the matters stated herein, and no opinion is implied or may be inferred beyond the matters expressly stated herein. The opinions expressed herein are given as of the date of effectiveness of the Registration Statement, and we undertake no obligation to supplement this letter if any applicable laws change after that date or if we become aware of any facts that might change the opinions expressed herein or for any other reason.

We hereby consent to the filing of this letter as an exhibit to the Registration Statement and to the reference to this firm under the caption “Legal Matters” in the prospectus that is included in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not hereby admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

Very truly yours,

REVOLVING LOAN CREDIT AGREEMENT dated as of October 31, 2007, among MCJUNKIN CORPORATION, a West Virginia corporation (the "Borrower"), the lending institutions from time to time parties hereto (each a "Lender" and, collectively, the "Lenders"), Goldman Sachs Credit Partners L.P. ("GSCP") and Lehman Brothers Inc., as Co-Lead Arrangers and Joint Bookrunners, The CIT Group/Business Credit, Inc. ("CIT"), as Administrative Agent and Co-Collateral Agent, Bank of America, N.A ("Bank of America"), as Co-Collateral Agent, Bank of America, as Syndication Agent and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., Wachovia Bank, N.A. and PNC Bank, National Association, as Co-Documentation Agents (such term and each other capitalized term used but not defined in this introductory statement having the meaning provided in Section 1).

WHEREAS, pursuant to the Stock Purchase Agreement (as amended from time to time in accordance therewith, the "Red Man Transaction Agreement"), dated as of July 6, 2007, among McJ Holding LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("McJ Holding") (for purposes of Sections 2.3(c) and 10.4 only), Red-Man Pipe and Supply Company, an Oklahoma corporation ("Red Man"), West Oklahoma PVF Company, a Delaware corporation ("Buyer") and the shareholders of Red Man, Buyer will acquire all of the outstanding capital stock of Red Man (the "Red Man Transaction");

WHEREAS, to fund, in part, the Red Man Transaction, (a) the Sponsors and certain other investors (including the Management Investors) will contribute an amount in cash to McJ Holding (the "Equity Contribution") in exchange for Stock and Stock Equivalents (which cash will be contributed to McJ Holding Corporation and in turn to the Borrower in exchange for common and/or preferred Stock), and (b) certain equity investments in Red Man held by existing shareholders of Red Man will be rolled over as equity of McJ Holding (the "Rollover Equity" and together with the Equity Contribution, the "Equity Investments"), which together with the amount of the Equity Contribution, shall be no less than an amount (the "Minimum Equity Investment Amount") equal to 30% of the pro forma capitalization of the Borrower and McJ Holding on the Closing Date (after giving effect to the Transactions);

WHEREAS, in connection herewith, the requisite lenders under the Term Loan Credit Agreement (as defined below) will enter into an amendment to the Term Loan Credit Agreement and the Intercreditor Agreement (as defined below) and the senior secured term loans (the "Term Loans") under the Term Loan Credit Agreement shall remain outstanding;

WHEREAS, in connection with the foregoing, the Borrower has requested that the Lenders extend credit in the form of Revolving Credit Loans made available to the Borrower at any time and from time to time prior to the Revolving Credit Maturity Date, in an aggregate principal amount at any time outstanding not in excess of the aggregate of $650,000,000 plus the amount of New Revolving Credit Commitments (as defined below) less the sum of (i) the aggregate Letters of Credit Outstanding at such time and (ii) the aggregate principal amount of all Swingline Loans outstanding at such time. The Borrower has requested (a) the Letter of Credit Issuer to issue Letters of Credit at any time and from time to time prior to the L/C Maturity Date, in an aggregate face amount at any time outstanding not in excess of $60,000,000 and (b) to deem the letters of credit identified on Schedule 1.1(a) hereto (the "Existing Letters of Credit") to be Letters of Credit for all purposes under this Agreement. The Borrower has requested the Swingline Lender to extend credit in the form of Swingline Loans at any time and from time to time prior to the Swingline Maturity Date, in an aggregate principal amount at any time outstanding not in excess of $60,000,000;

WHEREAS, the repayment of the Revolving Credit Loans will be secured by perfected security interests in and liens upon substantially all of the Accounts and Inventory and certain personal property relating to such Accounts and Inventory of the Borrower and each Guarantor, and the repayment of the Term Loans will be secured by perfected security interests in and liens upon substantially all of the personal property and certain real property of the Borrower and each Guarantor. The respective rights and priorities of the Lenders and the lenders under the Term Loan Agreement to such collateral will be as set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement;

WHEREAS, the proceeds of up to $450,000,000 of Revolving Credit Loans will be used by the Borrower, together with the net proceeds of the Equity Investments, on the Closing Date (x) to finance the repayment of (i) substantially all of the existing indebtedness of Red Man and its subsidiaries (the "Red Man Group") (other than existing indebtedness of Midfield Supply Co., a Nova Scotia unlimited liability company and its subsidiaries) and (ii) the Borrower under its existing Revolving Loan Agreement dated as of January 31, 2007 (the "Existing Revolving Credit Agreement") (collectively, the "Debt Repayment"), (y) to effect the Red Man Transaction and (z) to pay Transaction Expenses. Proceeds of Revolving Credit Loans and Swingline Loans will be used by the Borrower on or after the Closing Date for working capital and other general corporate purposes (including Permitted Acquisitions). Letters of Credit will be used by the Borrower for general corporate purposes; and

WHEREAS, the Lenders and Letter of Credit Issuer are willing to make available to the Borrower such revolving credit and letter of credit facilities upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth herein.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the covenants and agreements contained herein, the parties hereto hereby agree as follows:

SECTION 1. Definitions

1.1 Defined Terms. (a) As used herein, the following terms shall have the meanings specified in this Section 1.1 unless the context otherwise requires (it being understood that defined terms in this Agreement shall include in the singular number the plural and in the plural the singular):

"ABR" shall mean, for any day, a rate per annum (rounded upwards, if necessary, to the next 1/16 of 1%) equal to the greater of (a) the Prime Rate in effect on such day or (b) the Federal Funds Effective Rate in effect on such day plus $^1/_2$ of 1%. Any change in the ABR due to a change in the Prime Rate or the Federal Funds Effective Rate shall be effective as of the opening of business on the effective day of such change in the Prime Rate or the Federal Funds Effective Rate, respectively.

"ABR Loan" shall mean each Loan bearing interest at the rate provided in Section 2.8(a) and, in any event, shall include all Swingline Loans.

"Account" has the meaning assigned to such term in the Security Agreement.

"Account Debtor" means any Person obligated on an Account.

"Acquired EBITDA" shall mean, with respect to any Acquired Entity or Business, any Converted Restricted Subsidiary (any of the foregoing, a "Pro Forma Entity") for any period, the amount for such period of Consolidated EBITDA of such Pro Forma Entity (determined using such definitions as if references to the Borrower and its Subsidiaries therein were to such Pro Forma Entity and its Subsidiaries), all as determined on a consolidated basis for such Pro Forma Entity in accordance with GAAP.

"Acquired Entity or Business" shall have the meaning provided in the definition of the term "Consolidated EBITDA".

"Activation Notice" shall have the meaning provided in Section 15.1(d)(i).

"Adjusted Total Revolving Credit Commitment" shall mean at any time the Total Revolving Credit Commitment less the aggregate Revolving Credit Commitments of all Defaulting Lenders.

"Administrative Agent" shall mean CIT, as the administrative agent for the Lenders under this Agreement and the other Credit Documents, or any successor administrative agent pursuant to Section 13.

"Administrative Agent's Office" shall mean in respect of all Credit Events for the account of the Borrower, the office of the Administrative Agent located at 505 Fifth Avenue, New York City, New York, or such other office as the Administrative Agent may hereafter designate in writing as such to the other parties hereto.

"Administrative Questionnaire" shall have the meaning provided in Section 14.6(b).

"Affiliate" shall mean, with respect to any Person, any other Person directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under direct or indirect common control with such Person. A Person shall be deemed to control a corporation if such Person possesses, directly or indirectly, the power (a) to vote 20% or more of the securities having ordinary voting power for the election of directors of such corporation or (b) to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of such corporation, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract or otherwise.

"Agent Parties" shall have the meaning provided in Section 14.17(c).

"Agents" shall mean each Co-Lead Arranger, each Co-Collateral Agent, each Co-Documentation Agent, the Administrative Agent and the Syndication Agent.

"Agreement" shall mean this Revolving Loan Credit Agreement, as the same may be amended, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time.

"Applicable ABR Margin" shall mean at any date, with respect to each ABR Loan that is a Revolving Credit Loan or a Swingline Loan, the applicable percentage per annum set forth below based upon the Status in effect on such date:

Status	Applicable ABR Margin for Revolving Credit Loans and Swingline Loans
Level I Status	0.50%
Level II Status	0.25%
Level III Status	0.00%

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term "Applicable ABR Margin" shall mean, with respect to all ABR Loans, 0.50% per annum, during the period from and including the Closing Date to but excluding the Trigger Date.

"Applicable Amount" shall mean, at any time (the "Reference Time"), an amount equal to (a) the sum, without duplication, of:

(i) an amount (which shall not be less than zero) equal to 50% of Consolidated Net Income commencing on the Original Closing Date and ending on the last day of the most recent fiscal quarter for which Section 9.1 Financials have been delivered (taken as one accounting period); and

(ii) the amount of any capital contributions (other than the Equity Investments) made in cash to, or any proceeds of an equity issuance received by, the Borrower from and including the Business Day immediately following the Original Closing Date through and including the Reference Time, including proceeds from the issuance of Stock or Stock Equivalents of any direct or indirect parent of the Borrower but excluding the cash portion of the Minimum Equity Investment Amount, minus (b) the sum, without duplication, of:

(iii) the aggregate amount of Investments made pursuant to Section 10.5(g)(ii)(y) or 10.5(i)(ii)(y) since the Original Closing Date and prior to the Reference Time;

(iv) the aggregate amount of dividends pursuant to Section 10.6(c)(ii) since the Original Closing Date and prior to the Reference Time; and

(v) the aggregate amount of prepayments, repurchases and redemptions of Subordinated Indebtedness pursuant to Section 10.7(a)(i)(y) since the Original Closing Date and prior to the Reference Time.

"Applicable LIBOR Margin" shall mean at any date, with respect to each LIBOR Loan that is a Revolving Credit Loan, the applicable percentage per annum set forth below based upon the Status in effect on such date:

Status	Applicable LIBOR Margin for Revolving Credit Loans
Level I Status	1.50%
Level II Status	1.25%
Level III Status	1.00%

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term "Applicable LIBOR Margin" shall mean, with respect to all LIBOR Loans, 1.50% per annum, during the period from and including the Closing Date to but excluding the Trigger Date.

(ix) any costs or expenses incurred by the Borrower or a Restricted Subsidiary pursuant to any management equity plan or stock option plan or any other management or employee benefit plan or agreement or any stock subscription or shareholder agreement, to the extent that such costs or expenses are funded with cash proceeds contributed to the capital of the Borrower or net cash proceeds of an issuance of Stock or Stock Equivalents of the Borrower; and

(x) (A) for any period that includes a fiscal quarter occurring prior to fifth fiscal quarter occurring after the Original Closing Date, the cost savings described on Schedule 1.1(e)(A), and (B) for any period that includes a fiscal quarter occurring after the Closing Date, the amount of net cost savings projected by the Borrower in good faith to be realized as a result of specified actions taken by the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries in connection with the Transactions (calculated on a Pro Forma Basis as though such cost savings had been realized on the first day of such period), net of the amount of actual benefits realized during such period from such actions, provided that (1) such cost savings are reasonably identifiable, factually supportable and not duplicative of the cost savings added pursuant to clause (x)(A), (2) such actions are taken on or prior to the third anniversary of the Closing Date, (3) no cost savings shall be added pursuant to this clause (x) to the extent duplicative of any expenses or charges relating to such cost savings that are included in clause (vi) above with respect to such period and (4) the aggregate amount of cost savings added pursuant to this clause (x)(B) shall not exceed 5% of the amount of Consolidated EBITDA computed pursuant to the most recently delivered Section 9.1 Financials for any period consisting of four consecutive quarters, less

(b) without duplication and to the extent included in arriving at such Consolidated Net Income, the sum of the following amounts for such period:

(i) extraordinary gains and unusual or non-recurring gains,

(ii) non-cash gains (excluding any non-cash gain to the extent it represents the reversal of an accrual or reserve for a potential cash item that reduced Consolidated Net Income in any prior period),

(iii) gains on asset sales (other than asset sales in the ordinary course of business),

(iv) any net after-tax income from the early extinguishment of Indebtedness or hedging obligations or other derivative instruments, and

(v) all gains from investments recorded using the equity method, in each case, as determined on a consolidated basis for the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries in accordance with GAAP; provided that, to the extent included in Consolidated Net Income,

(A) there shall be excluded in determining Consolidated EBITDA currency translation gains and losses related to currency remeasurements of Indebtedness or intercompany balances (including the net loss or gain resulting from Hedge Agreements for currency exchange risk),

(B) there shall be excluded in determining Consolidated EBITDA for any period any adjustments resulting from the application of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 133, and

(C) there shall be included in determining Consolidated EBITDA for any period, without duplication, (A) the Acquired EBITDA of any Person, property, business or asset acquired by the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary during such period (including Red Man but not the Acquired EBITDA of any related Person, property, business or assets to the extent not so acquired) to the extent not subsequently sold, transferred, abandoned or otherwise disposed by the Borrower or such Restricted Subsidiary (each such Person, property, business or asset acquired and not subsequently so disposed of, an "Acquired Entity or Business") and the Acquired EBITDA of any Unrestricted Subsidiary that is converted into a Restricted Subsidiary during such period (each, a "Converted Restricted Subsidiary"), based on the actual Acquired EBITDA of such Acquired Entity or Business or Converted Restricted Subsidiary for such period (including the portion thereof occurring prior to such acquisition or conversion) and (B) an adjustment in respect of each Acquired Entity or Business equal to the amount of the Pro Forma Adjustment with respect to such Acquired Entity or Business for such period (including the portion thereof occurring prior to such acquisition) as specified in a Pro Forma Adjustment Certificate and delivered to the Lenders and the Administrative Agents and (C) there shall be excluded in determining Consolidated EBITDA for any period the Disposed EBITDA of any Person, property, business or asset (other than an Unrestricted Subsidiary) sold, transferred, abandoned or otherwise disposed of, closed or classified as discontinued operations by the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary during such period (each such Person, property, business or asset so sold or disposed of, a "Sold Entity or Business"), and the Acquired EBITDA of any Restricted Subsidiary that is converted into an Unrestricted Subsidiary during such period (each, a "Converted Unrestricted Subsidiary") based on the actual Disposed EBITDA of such Sold Entity or Business or Converted Restricted Subsidiary for such period (including the portion thereof occurring prior to such sale, transfer or disposition or conversion).

"Consolidated Fixed Charge Coverage Ratio" shall mean, for any Test Period, the ratio of (a) Consolidated EBITDA for such Test Period to (b) Consolidated Fixed Charges for such Test Period.

"Consolidated Fixed Charges" means, for any period, the sum, without duplication, of (a) Consolidated Interest Expense, (b) scheduled payments of principal on Consolidated Total Debt, (c) the aggregate of all unfinanced capital expenditures of Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries during such period determined on a consolidated basis and (d) the portion of taxes attributable to Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries based on income actually paid in cash and provisions for cash income taxes.

"Consolidated Interest Expense" shall mean, for any period, the sum of (i) the cash interest expense (including that attributable to Capital Leases in accordance with GAAP), net of cash interest income, of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP with respect to all outstanding Indebtedness of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries, including all commissions, discounts and other fees and charges owed with respect to letters of credit and bankers' acceptance financing and net costs under Hedge Agreements (other than currency swap agreements, currency future or option contracts and other similar agreements) and (ii) any cash payments made during such period in respect of obligations referred to in clause (b) below relating to Funded Debt that were amortized or accrued in a previous period (other than any such obligations resulting from the discounting of Indebtedness in connection with the application of purchase accounting in connection with the Transaction or any Permitted Acquisition), but excluding, however, (a) amortization of deferred financing costs and any other amounts of non-cash interest, (b) the accretion or accrual of discounted liabilities during such period, and (c) all non-recurring cash interest expense consisting of liquidated damages for failure to timely comply with registration rights obligations and financing fees, all as calculated on a consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP and excluding, for the avoidance of doubt, any interest in respect of items excluded from Indebtedness in the proviso to the definition thereof, provided that (a) except as provided in clause (b) below, there shall be excluded from Consolidated Interest Expense for any period the cash interest expense (or cash interest income) of all Unrestricted Subsidiaries for such period to the extent otherwise included in Consolidated Interest Expense, (b) there shall be included in determining Consolidated Interest Expense for any period the cash interest expense (or income) of any Acquired Entity or Business acquired during such period and of any Converted Restricted Subsidiary converted during such period, in each case based on the cash interest expense (or income) of such Acquired Entity or Business or Converted Restricted Subsidiary for such period (including the portion thereof occurring prior to such acquisition or conversion) assuming any Indebtedness incurred or repaid in connection with any such acquisition or conversion had been incurred or prepaid on the first day of such period, and (c) there shall be excluded from determining Consolidated Interest Expense for any period the cash interest expense (or income) of any Sold Entity or Business disposed of during such period, based on the cash interest expense (or income) relating to any Indebtedness relieved, retired or repaid in connection with any such disposition of such Sold Entity or Business for such period (including the portion thereof occurring prior to such disposal) assuming such debt relieved, retired or repaid in connection with such disposition had been relieved, retired or repaid on the first day of such period. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, for purposes of determining Consolidated Interest Expense for any period ending prior to the first anniversary of the Closing Date, Consolidated Interest Expense shall be an amount equal to actual Consolidated Interest Expense from the Closing Date through the date of determination multiplied by a fraction the numerator of which is 365 and the denominator of which is the number of days from the Closing Date through the date of determination.

"Consolidated Net Income" shall mean, for any period, the net income (loss) of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries for such period determined on a consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP, excluding, without duplication, (a) extraordinary items for such period, (b) the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principles during such period to the extent included in Consolidated Net Income, (c) in the case of any period that includes a period ending prior to June 30, 2008, Transaction Expenses and Original Transaction Expenses, (d) any fees and expenses incurred during such period, or any amortization thereof for such period, in connection with any acquisition, investment, recapitalization, asset disposition, issuance or repayment of debt, issuance of equity securities, refinancing transaction or amendment or other modification of any debt instrument (in each case, including any such transaction consummated prior to the Closing Date and any such transaction undertaken but not completed) and any charges or non-recurring merger costs incurred during such period as a result of any such transaction, (e) any income (loss) for such period attributable to the early extinguishment of Indebtedness and (f) accruals and reserves that are established that are so required to be established or adjusted as a result of the Transactions, or Original Transactions in accordance with GAAP or changes as a result of adoption of or modification of accounting policies, in each case, within twelve months after the Closing Date (or with respect to the Original Transactions, twelve months after the Original Closing Date). There shall be excluded from Consolidated Net Income for any period the purchase accounting effects of adjustments to inventory, property and equipment, software and other intangible assets and deferred revenue in component amounts required or permitted by GAAP and related authoritative pronouncements (including the effects of such adjustments pushed down to the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries), as a result of the Transactions, the Original Transactions, any acquisition whether consummated before or after the Closing Date, any Permitted Acquisition or other Investment, or the amortization or write-off of any amounts thereof.

"Consolidated Secured Debt" shall mean, as of any date of determination, (a) the aggregate principal amount of Indebtedness of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries outstanding on such date, determined on a consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP (but excluding the effects of any discounting of Indebtedness resulting from the application of purchase accounting in connection with the Transaction or any Permitted Acquisition), consisting of Indebtedness for borrowed money, Capital Lease Obligations and debt obligations evidenced by promissory notes or similar instruments, in each case secured by Liens, minus (b) the aggregate amount of cash and cash equivalents held in accounts on the consolidated balance sheet of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries as at such date to the extent the use thereof for application to payment of Indebtedness is not prohibited by law or any contract to which the Borrower or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries is a party.

"Consolidated Total Assets" shall mean, as of any date of determination, the amount that would, in conformity with GAAP, be set forth opposite the caption "total assets" (or any like caption) on a consolidated balance sheet of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries at such date.

"Consolidated Total Debt" shall mean, as of any date of determination, (a) the aggregate principal amount of Indebtedness of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries outstanding on such date, determined on a consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP (but excluding the effects of any discounting of Indebtedness resulting from the application of purchase accounting in connection with the Transaction or any Permitted Acquisition), consisting of Indebtedness for borrowed money, Capital Lease Obligations and debt obligations evidenced by promissory notes or similar instruments, minus (b) the aggregate amount of cash and cash equivalents held in accounts on the consolidated balance sheet of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries as at such date to the extent the use thereof for application to payment of Indebtedness is not prohibited by law or any contract to which the Borrower or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries is a party.

"Consolidated Total Debt to Consolidated EBITDA Ratio" shall mean, as of any date of determination, the ratio of (a) Consolidated Total Debt as of the last day of the relevant Test Period to (b) Consolidated EBITDA for such Test Period.

"Continuing Director" shall mean, at any date, an individual (a) who is a member of the board of directors of the Borrower on the date hereof, (b) who, as at such date, has been a member of such board of directors for at least the twelve preceding months, (c) who has been nominated to be a member of such board of directors, directly or indirectly, by a Sponsor or Persons nominated by a Sponsor or (d) who has been nominated to be a member of such board of directors by a majority of the other Continuing Directors then in office.

"Contract Consideration" shall have the meaning provided in the definition of Excess Cash Flow.

"Control Agreements" shall have the meaning assigned to such term in the Security Agreement.

"Converted Restricted Subsidiary" shall have the meaning provided in the definition of the term "Consolidated EBITDA".

"Converted Unrestricted Subsidiary" shall have the meaning provided in the definition of the term "Consolidated EBITDA".

"Cost" shall mean, with respect to Inventory, the weighted average cost thereof, as determined in the same manner and consistent with the most recent Inventory Appraisal which has been received and approved by Collateral Agent in its reasonable discretion.

"Credit Documents" shall mean this Agreement, the Security Documents, each Letter of Credit and any promissory notes issued by the Borrower hereunder.

"Credit Event" shall mean and include the making (but not the conversion or continuation) of a Loan and the issuance of a Letter of Credit.

"Credit Party" shall mean each of the Borrower, the Guarantors and each other Subsidiary of the Borrower that is a party to a Credit Document.

"Currency Agreement" means any foreign exchange contract, currency swap agreement, futures contract, option contract, synthetic cap or other similar agreement or arrangement, each of which is for the purpose of hedging the foreign currency risk associated with Borrower's and its Subsidiaries' operations and not for speculative purposes.

"Debt Repayment" shall have the meaning provided in the recitals to this Agreement.

"Default" shall mean any event, act or condition that with notice or lapse of time, or both, would constitute an Event of Default.

"Defaulting Lender" shall mean any Lender with respect to which a Lender Default is in effect.

"Deferred Net Cash Proceeds" shall have the meaning provided such term in the definition of "Net Cash Proceeds."

"Designated Non-Cash Consideration" shall mean the fair market value of non-cash consideration received by the Borrower or a Restricted Subsidiary in connection with a Disposition pursuant to Section 10.4(b) and Section 10.4(c) that is designated as Designated Non-Cash Consideration pursuant to a certificate of an Authorized Officer of the Borrower, setting forth the basis of such valuation (which amount will be reduced by the fair market value of the portion of the non-cash consideration converted to cash within 180 days following the consummation of the applicable Disposition).

"Disposed EBITDA" shall mean, with respect to any Sold Entity or Business or any Converted Unrestricted Subsidiary for any period, the amount for such period of Consolidated EBITDA of such Sold Entity or Business or Converted Unrestricted Subsidiary (determined as if references to the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries in the definition of Consolidated EBITDA were references to such Sold Entity or Business or Converted Unrestricted Subsidiary and its Subsidiaries), all as determined on a consolidated basis for such Sold Entity or Business.

"Disposition" shall have the meaning provided in Section 10.4(b).

"Dividends" or "dividends" shall have the meaning provided in Section 10.6.

"Dollar Equivalent" shall mean, on any date of determination, (a) with respect to any amount denominated in Dollars, such amount, and (b) with respect to any amount denominated in any Foreign Currency, the equivalent in Dollars of such amount, determined by the Administrative Agent pursuant using the applicable Exchange Rate.

"Dollars" and "$" shall mean dollars in lawful currency of the United States of America.

"Domestic Subsidiary" shall mean each Subsidiary of the Borrower that is organized under the laws of the United States, any state or territory thereof, or the District of Columbia.

"Drawing" shall have the meaning provided in Section 3.4(b).

"Eligible Accounts" means, at any time, the Accounts of the Borrower and each Borrowing Base Guarantor, as applicable at such date, except any Account (determined without duplication):

(a) which is not subject to a perfected security interest in favor of the Collateral Agent;

(b) which is subject to any Lien (including Liens permitted by Section 10.2) other than (i) a Lien in favor of the Collateral Agent and (ii) a Permitted Lien which does not have priority over the Lien in favor of the Collateral Agent; provided that, with respect to any tax Lien having such priority, eligibility of Accounts shall, without duplication, be reduced by the amount of such tax Lien;

(c) (i) owing by General Electric with respect to which more than 150 days have lapsed since the date of the original invoice therefor or (ii) owing by any other Account Debtor which more than 120 days have lapsed since the date of the original invoice therefor or which is more than 60 days past the due date for payment (provided, that the aggregate amount of all Accounts eligible under the foregoing clause (i) does not exceed $3,000,000 at any time);

(d) which is owing by an Account Debtor for which more than 50% of the Accounts owing from such Account Debtor and its Affiliates are ineligible pursuant to clause (c) above;

(e) which is owing by an Account Debtor to the extent the aggregate amount of Accounts owing from such Account Debtor and its Affiliates to such Borrower or Borrowing Base Guarantor exceeds 20% of the aggregate Eligible Accounts (but only to the extent of such excess);

(f) with respect to which any covenant, representation, or warranty relating to such Account contained in this Agreement or in the Security Agreement has been breached or is not true in any material respect;

(g) which (i) does not arise from the sale of goods or performance of services in the ordinary course of business, (ii) is not evidenced by an invoice, or other documentation satisfactory to the Administrative Agent, which has been sent to the Account Debtor, (iii) represents a progress billing, (iv) is contingent upon such Borrower's or Borrowing Base Guarantor's completion of any further performance, or (v) represents a sale on a bill-and-hold, guaranteed sale, sale-and-return, sale on approval, consignment which is billed prior to actual sale to the end user, cash-on-delivery or any other repurchase or return basis, except with respect to up to $10,000,000 of such Accounts described in this clause (v);

(h) for which the goods giving rise to such Account (other than Accounts described in the foregoing paragraph (g)(v)) have not been shipped to the Account Debtor or for which the services giving rise to such Account have not been performed by such Borrower or Borrowing Base Guarantor;

(i) with respect to which any check or other instrument of payment has been returned uncollected for any reason;

(j) which is owed by an Account Debtor which is a debtor or a debtor in possession under any bankruptcy law or any other federal, state or foreign (including any provincial) receivership, insolvency relief or other law or laws for the relief of debtors unless the payment of Accounts from such Account Debtor is secured by assets of, or guaranteed by, in either case in a manner reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent, a Person that is reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent or, if the Account from such Account Debtor arises subsequent to a decree or order for relief with respect to such Account Debtor under the federal bankruptcy laws, as now or hereafter in effect, the Administrative Agent shall have reasonably determined that the timely payment and collection of such Account will not be impaired;

(k) which is owed by an Account Debtor which is not organized under applicable law of the U.S. or any state of the U.S. unless such Account is backed by a letter of credit or other credit support reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent and which is in the possession of the Administrative Agent;

(m) which is owed in any currency other than Dollars;

(n) which is owed by (i) the government (or any department, agency, public corporation, or instrumentality thereof) of any country other than the U.S. unless such Account is backed by a Letter of Credit reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent and which is in the possession of the Administrative Agent, or (ii) the government of the U.S., or any department, agency, public corporation, or instrumentality thereof, unless the Federal Assignment of Claims Act of 1940, as amended (31 U.S.C. § 3727 et seq. and 41 U.S.C. § 15 et seq.), and any other steps necessary to perfect the Lien of the applicable Collateral Agent in such Account have been complied with to the Administrative Agent's reasonable satisfaction;

(o) which is owed by any Affiliate, employee, director, or officer of any Credit Party other than Accounts of Borrower or any Borrowing Base Guarantor which are owed by Red Man Distributors; provided that (i) the amount of any such Eligible Accounts shall not include the amount owed by Red Man Distributors to Borrower for administrative services with respect thereto, (ii) such Account shall be subject to ineligibility or such reductions in amount as determined by Collateral Agent's application of the same eligibility criteria as set forth in the remaining clauses of this definition (other than the criteria in clause (a) hereof) to the corresponding Accounts owed to Red Man Distributors by its Account Debtors, (iii) the aggregate amount of all Accounts eligible under this clause (o) (together with the aggregate amount of all Accounts eligible under clause (a) of the definition of Eligible Red Man Business Account) shall not exceed $30,000,000 at any time and (iv) the Organizational Documents of Red Man Distributors provide for a negative pledge of its Accounts (other than with respect to tax Liens) and for a right of subrogation in favor of the Collateral Agent with respect to such Accounts on terms reasonably satisfactory to the Collateral Agent;

(p) which is owed by an Account Debtor or any Affiliate of such Account Debtor which is the holder of Indebtedness issued or incurred by any Credit Party; provided, that any such Account shall only be ineligible as to that portion of such Account which is less than or equal to the amount owed by the Credit Party to such Person;

(q) which is subject to any counterclaim, deduction, defense, setoff or dispute, but only to the extent of the amount of such counterclaim, deduction, defense, setoff or dispute, unless (i) the Administrative Agent, in its Permitted Discretion, has established an appropriate Reserve and determines to include such Account as an Eligible Account or (ii) such Account Debtor has entered into an agreement reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent to waive such rights;

(r) which is evidenced by any promissory note, chattel paper, or instrument (in each case, other than any such items that are held by a Credit Party or delivered to the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent);

(s) which is owed by an Account Debtor located in any jurisdiction that requires, as a condition to access to the courts of such jurisdiction, that a creditor qualify to transact business, file a business activities report or other report or form, or take one or more other actions, unless such Borrower or Borrowing Base Guarantor has so qualified, filed such reports or forms, or taken such actions (and, in each case, paid any required fees or other charges), except to the extent such Borrower or Borrowing Base Guarantor may qualify subsequently as a foreign entity authorized to transact business in such state or jurisdiction and gain access to such courts, without incurring any cost or penalty reasonably viewed by the Administrative Agent to be material in amount, and such later qualification cures any access to such courts to enforce payment of such Account;

(t) with respect to which such Borrower or Borrowing Base Guarantor has made any agreement with the Account Debtor for any reduction thereof, but only to the extent of such reduction, other than discounts and adjustments given in the ordinary course of business; or

(u) which the Administrative Agent determines in its Permitted Discretion may not be paid by reason of the Account Debtor's inability to pay.

Subject to Sections 14.1 and 15.2 and the definition of Borrowing Base, the Administrative Agent may modify the foregoing criteria in its Permitted Discretion.

"Eligible Inventory" shall mean, at any date of determination thereof, the aggregate amount of all Inventory owned by the Borrower and each Borrowing Base Guarantor at such date except any Inventory (determined without duplication):

(a) which is not subject to a perfected Lien in favor of the Collateral Agent;

(b) which is subject to any Lien other than (i) a Lien in favor of the Collateral Agent and (ii) a Permitted Lien which does not have priority over the Lien in favor of the Collateral Agent (other than any bailee, warehouseman, landlord or similar non-consensual Liens having priority of operation of law to the extent either subclause (i) or (ii) of such clauses (h) or (i) is satisfied with respect to the relevant Inventory); provided that, with respect to any tax Lien having such priority, eligibility of Inventory shall, without duplication, be reduced by the amount of such tax Lien;

(c) which is, in the Administrative Agent's Permitted Discretion, slow moving, obsolete, unmerchantable, defective, unfit for sale, not salable at prices approximating at least the cost of such Inventory in the ordinary course of business or unacceptable due to age, type, category and/or quantity;

(d) with respect to which any covenant, representation, or warranty contained in this Agreement or any Security Agreement has been breached or is not true;

(e) which does not conform in all material respects to all standards imposed by any Governmental Authority (except that any standard that is qualified as to "materiality" shall have been conformed to in all respects);

(f) which constitutes packaging and shipping material, manufacturing supplies, display items, bill-and-hold goods in excess of $10,000,000, returned or repossessed goods (other than goods that are undamaged and able to be resold in the ordinary course of business), defective goods, goods held on consignment, goods to be returned to the Borrower's or applicable Borrowing Base Guarantor's suppliers or goods which are not of a type held for sale in the ordinary course of business;

(g) which is not located in the U.S. or which is in transit with a common carrier from vendors and suppliers;

(h) which is located in any location leased by the Borrower or applicable Borrowing Base Guarantor unless (i) the lessor has delivered to the Agents a Collateral Access Agreement or (ii) a Reserve for rent, charges, and other amounts due or to become due with respect to such facility has been established by the Administrative Agent in its Permitted Discretion; provided, that any such Reserve shall not exceed an amount equal to the rent due with respect to such facility for the time period used to determine the orderly liquidation value as set forth in the most recent Inventory Appraisal;

(i) which is located (a) in any third party warehouse or is in the possession of a bailee and is not evidenced by a Document, unless (i) such warehouseman or bailee has delivered to the Agents a Collateral Access Agreement and such other documentation as the Administrative Agent may reasonably require or (ii) an appropriate Reserve has been established by the Administrative Agent in its Permitted Discretion; provided, that any such Reserve shall not exceed an amount equal to the reasonable fees and expenses due with respect to such warehouse or bailee for the time period used to determine the orderly liquidation value as set forth in the most recent Inventory Appraisal or (b) at a vendor location unless an appropriate Reserve has been established by the Administrative Agent in its Permitted Discretion; provided, that any such Reserve shall not exceed an amount equal to the accounts payable with respect to such vendor;

(j) which is the subject of a consignment by the Borrower or any Borrowing Base Guarantor as consignor unless (i) a protective UCC-1 financing statement has been properly filed against the consignee, and (ii) there is a written agreement acknowledging that such Inventory is held on consignment, that the Borrower or such Borrowing Base Guarantor retains title to such Inventory, that no Lien arising by, through or under such consignee has attached or will attach to such Inventory and requiring consignee to segregate the consigned Inventory from the consignee's other personal or movable property and having other terms consistent with the Borrower's or such Borrowing Base Guarantor's past practices for consigned Inventory; provided that the aggregate amount of all Inventory eligible under this clause (j) shall not exceed $25,000,000 at any time;

(k) which is perishable as determined in accordance with GAAP; or

(l) which contains or bears any intellectual property rights licensed to the Borrower or any Borrowing Base Guarantor unless the Administrative Agent is satisfied that it may sell or otherwise dispose of such Inventory without (i) infringing the rights of such licensor in any material respect, (ii) violating any material contract with such licensor or (iii) incurring any material liability with respect to payment of royalties other than royalties incurred pursuant to sale of such Inventory under the current licensing agreement.

Subject to Sections 14.1 and 15.2 and the definition of Borrowing Base, the Administrative Agent may modify the foregoing criteria in its Permitted Discretion.

"Eligible Red Man Business Account" shall mean an Account arising in the ordinary course of the Red Man Business from the sale of goods or rendition of services which Collateral Agent, in the exercise of its Permitted Discretion, deems to be an Eligible Red Man Business Account. No Account shall be an Eligible Red Man Business Account if:

(a) it is owed by any Affiliate, employee, director, or officer of any Credit Party other than Accounts of Borrower or any Borrowing Base Guarantor which are owed by Red Man Distributors; provided that (i) the amount of any such Eligible Red Man Business Account shall not include the amount owed by Red Man Distributors to Borrower for administrative services with respect thereto, (ii) such Account shall be subject to ineligibility or such reductions in amount as determined by Collateral Agent's application of the same eligibility criteria as set forth in the remaining clauses of this definition (other than the criteria in clause (m) hereof) to the corresponding Accounts owed to Red Man Distributors by its Account Debtors, (iii) the aggregate amount of all Accounts eligible under this clause (a)

(together with the aggregate amount of all Accounts eligible under clause (o) of the definition of Eligible Accounts) shall not exceed $30,000,000 at any time and (iv) the Organizational Documents of Red Man Distributors provide for a negative pledge of its Accounts (other than with respect to tax Liens) and for a right of subrogation in favor of the Collateral Agent with respect to such Accounts on terms reasonably satisfactory to the Collateral Agent;

(b) it remains unpaid more than ninety (90) days after the original invoice date thereof;

(c) more than thirty percent (30%) of the total Accounts owing by an Account Debtor remain unpaid more than ninety (90) days after the invoice date thereof, to the extent of all Accounts owing by such Account Debtor;

(d) any covenant, representation or warranty contained in this Agreement with respect to such Account has been breached;

(e) the Account Debtor is also Borrower's or the Borrowing Base Guarantor's creditor or supplier, or the Account otherwise is or may become subject to any right of setoff by the Account Debtor; provided, that in such case the Account shall be deemed to be an Eligible Red Man Business Account if, and to the extent, the balance of the Account exceeds all amounts owed by Borrower or such Borrowing Base Guarantor to the Account Debtor or the amount of such setoff;

(f) the Account Debtor has disputed liability with respect to such Account (provided, that if the amount disputed is less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the entire balance of the Account, the Account shall be deemed to be an Eligible Red Man Business Account to the extent the balance of the Account exceeds the amount disputed);

(g) the Account Debtor has commenced a voluntary case under the federal bankruptcy laws, as now constituted or hereafter amended, or made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or a decree or order for relief has been entered by a court having jurisdiction in the premises in respect of the Account Debtor in an involuntary case under the federal bankruptcy laws, as now constituted or hereafter amended, or if the Account Debtor has ceased to be "solvent" (as such term is interpreted under applicable laws relating to fraudulent transfers and conveyances) or consented to or suffered a receiver, trustee, liquidator or custodian to be appointed for it or for all or a significant portion of its assets or affairs;

(h) it arises from a sale to an Account Debtor outside the United States;

(i) it arises from a sale to the Account Debtor on a bill-and-hold, guaranteed sale, sale-or-return, sale-on-approval, consignment or any other repurchase or return basis;

(j) Collateral Agent believes, in its sole judgment, that, collection of such Account is insecure or that payment thereof is doubtful or will be delayed by reason of the Account Debtor's financial condition;

(k) the Account Debtor is the United States of America or any State or any department, agency or instrumentality thereof;

(l) the Account Debtor is located in the State of New Jersey, unless Borrower or the applicable Borrowing Base Guarantor has filed a Notice of Business Activities Report with the New Jersey Division of Taxation for the then current year;

(m) the Account is not subject to Collateral Agent's duly perfected first priority security interest or is subject to a Lien, other than a Permitted Lien or a Lien permitted by Section 10.2 which is junior to Collateral Agent's security interest;

(n) the goods giving rise to such Account have not been delivered to and accepted by the Account Debtor or the services giving rise to such Account have not been performed by Borrower or the applicable Borrowing Base Guarantor and accepted by the Account Debtor or the Account otherwise does not represent a final sale;

(o) the total unpaid Accounts of the Account Debtor exceed a credit limit determined by Collateral Agent, in its reasonable discretion, to the extent such Account exceeds such limit;

(p) it is evidenced by chattel paper or an instrument of any kind, or has been reduced to judgment;

(q) Borrower or the applicable Borrowing Base Guarantor has made any agreement with the Account Debtor for any deduction therefrom, except for discounts or allowances which are made in the ordinary course of business for prompt payment and which discounts or allowances are reflected in the calculation of the face value of each invoice related to such Account;

(r) Borrower or the applicable Borrowing Base Guarantor has made an agreement with the Account Debtor to extend the time of payment thereof, or

(s) it arises from a sale to the Account Debtor on a C.O.D. or cash basis.

"Eligible Red Man Business International Accounts" shall mean an Account arising in the ordinary course of the Red Man Business from the sale of goods or rendition of services to an Account Debtor outside the United States which Collateral Agent, in the exercise of its Permitted Discretion, deems to be an Eligible Red Man International Account. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, (a) no Account which arises from a sale to an Account Debtor outside of the United States shall be an Eligible Red Man Business International Account unless each of the following is true and correct of such Account: (i) other than for clause (h) of such definition, such Account otherwise constitutes an Eligible Red Man Business Account, and (ii) such Account arises from a sale to an Account Debtor acceptable to Collateral Agent, in its sole discretion, and (b) to the extent the aggregate amount of Accounts which arise from a sale or sales to Account Debtor(s) in Nigeria are in excess of $5,000,000, such Accounts shall in no event constitute "Eligible Red Man Business International Accounts" to the extent of such excess; provided that the aggregate amount of all Eligible Red Man Business International Accounts shall not exceed $10,000,000 at any time.

"Eligible Red Man Business Inventory" shall mean Inventory of the Borrower and each Borrowing Base Guarantor which Collateral Agent, in the exercise of its Permitted Discretion, deems to be Eligible Red Man Business Inventory. No Inventory shall be Eligible Red Man Business Inventory unless, in Collateral Agent's opinion, it:

(a) is in good, new and saleable condition;

(b) is not obsolete or unmerchantable;

(c) meets all standards imposed by any Governmental Authority;

(d) conforms in all respects to the warranties and representations set forth in this Agreement or any Security Agreement;

(e) is at all times subject to Collateral Agent's duly perfected, first priority security interest and no other Lien, except Liens permitted by Section 10.2 of this Agreement;

(f) other than Inventory in transit, is situated at one of the locations disclosed to Collateral Agent; and

(g) consists of finished tubular goods or consumable supplies of the Borrower or such Borrowing Base Guarantor held for sale in the ordinary course of the Red Man Business.

In no event shall any work-in process Inventory constitute "Eligible Red Man Business Inventory". With respect to Inventory located in any leased location or third party warehouse, such Inventory shall not be deemed Eligible Red Man Business Inventory unless such lessor or warehouseman delivers to Collateral Agent a Collateral Access Agreement or Collateral Agent has established a Reserve in an amount equal to the total payments due for the remaining term of the contract for such premises.

"Environmental Claims" shall mean any and all actions, suits, orders, decrees, demands, demand letters, claims, liens, notices of noncompliance, violation or potential responsibility or investigation (other than internal reports prepared by the Borrower or any of the Subsidiaries (a) in the ordinary course of such Person's business or (b) as required in connection with a financing transaction or an acquisition or disposition of real estate) or proceedings relating in any way to any Environmental Law or any permit issued, or any approval given, under any such Environmental Law (hereinafter, "Claims"), including, without limitation, (i) any and all Claims by governmental or regulatory authorities for enforcement, cleanup, removal, response, remedial or other actions or damages pursuant to any applicable Environmental Law and (ii) any and all Claims by any third party seeking damages, contribution, indemnification, cost recovery, compensation or injunctive relief relating to the presence, release or threatened release of Hazardous Materials or arising from alleged injury or threat of injury to health or safety (to the extent relating to human exposure to Hazardous Materials), or the environment including, without limitation, ambient air, surface water, groundwater, land surface and subsurface strata and natural resources such as wetlands.

"Environmental Law" shall mean any applicable Federal, state, foreign or local statute, law, rule, regulation, ordinance, code and rule of common law now or hereafter in effect and in each case as amended, and any binding judicial or administrative interpretation thereof, including any binding judicial or administrative order, consent decree or judgment, relating to the protection of environment, including, without limitation, ambient air, surface water, groundwater, land surface and subsurface strata and natural resources such as wetlands, or human health or safety (to the extent relating to human exposure to Hazardous Materials), or Hazardous Materials.

"Equity Contribution" shall have the meaning provided in the preamble to this Agreement.

"Equity Investments" shall mean the Equity Contribution and the Rollover Equity.

"ERISA" shall mean the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended from time to time. Section references to ERISA are to ERISA as in effect at the date of this Agreement and any subsequent provisions of ERISA amendatory thereof, supplemental thereto or substituted therefor.

"ERISA Affiliate" shall mean each person (as defined in Section 3(9) of ERISA) that together with the Borrower or a Subsidiary would be deemed to be a "single employer" within the meaning of Section 414(b) or (c) of the Code or, solely for purposes of Section 302 of ERISA and Section 412 of the Code, is treated as a single employer under Section 414 of the Code.

"Event of Default" shall have the meaning provided in Section 11.

"Excess Availability" means, at any time, an amount equal to the lesser of (a) the Total Revolving Credit Commitment and (b) the Borrowing Base, in each case, minus the aggregate of all Lenders' Revolving Credit Exposure.

"Excess Cash Flow" shall have the meaning provided in the Term Loan Credit Agreement, as in effect on the Closing Date.

"Exchange Rate" shall mean on any day with respect to any Foreign Currency, the rate at which such Foreign Currency may be exchanged into Dollars, as set forth at approximately 11:00 a.m. (London time) on such day on the Reuters World Currency Page for such Foreign Currency; in the event that such rate does not appear on any Reuters World Currency Page, the Exchange Rate shall be determined by reference to such other publicly available service for displaying exchange rates as may be agreed upon by the Administrative Agent and the Borrower, or, in the absence of such agreement, such Exchange Rate shall instead be the arithmetic average of the spot rates of exchange of the Administrative Agent in the market where its foreign currency exchange operations in respect of such Foreign Currency are then being conducted, at or about 10:00 a.m. (New York City time) on such date for the purchase of Dollars for delivery two Business Days later.

"Excluded Subsidiary" means (a) each Subsidiary listed on Schedule 1.1(d) hereto, (b) any Subsidiary that is not a wholly-owned Subsidiary, (c) any Subsidiary that is prohibited by any applicable Requirement of Law from guaranteeing the Obligations, (d) any Domestic Subsidiary that is a Subsidiary of a Foreign Subsidiary, (e) any Subsidiary acquired pursuant to a Permitted Acquisition financed with secured Indebtedness incurred pursuant to Section 10.1(B)(j) or Section 10.1(B)(k) and each Restricted Subsidiary thereof that guarantees such Indebtedness to the extent and so long as the financing documentation relating to such Permitted Acquisition to which such Restricted Subsidiary is a party prohibits such Restricted Subsidiary from guaranteeing, or granting a Lien on any of its assets to secure, the Obligations; provided that after such time that such prohibitions on guarantees or granting of Liens lapses or terminates, such Restricted Subsidiary shall no longer be an Excluded Subsidiary, (f) any other Subsidiary with respect to which, in the reasonable judgment of the Administrative Agent (confirmed in writing by notice to the Borrower), the cost or other consequences (including any adverse tax consequences) of providing a Guarantee shall be excessive in view of the benefits to be obtained by the Lenders therefrom, and (g) each Unrestricted Subsidiary.

"Excluded Taxes" shall mean, with respect to the Administrative Agent, the Collateral Agent, any Letter of Credit Issuer or any Lender, (a) (i) net income taxes and franchise taxes (imposed in lieu of net income taxes) and capital taxes imposed on the Administrative Agent, any Letter of Credit Issuer or any Lender and (ii) any taxes imposed on the Administrative Agent, any Letter of Credit Issuer or any Lender as a result of any current or former connection between the Administrative Agent, any Letter of Credit Issuer or such Lender and the jurisdiction of the Governmental Authority imposing such tax or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein (other than any such connection arising solely from the Administrative Agent or such Lender having executed, delivered or performed its obligations or received a payment under, or having been a party to or having enforced this Agreement or any other Credit Document) and (b) (i) any withholding tax that is imposed by a jurisdiction in which the Borrower is located or organized on amounts payable to such Lender under the law in effect at the time such Lender becomes a party to this Agreement (or, in the case of a Participant, on the date such Participant became a Participant hereunder); provided that this clause (b)(i) shall not apply to the extent that (x) the indemnity payments or additional amounts any Lender (or Participant) would be entitled to receive (without regard to this clause (b)(i)) do not exceed the indemnity payment or additional amounts that the person making the assignment, participation or transfer to such Lender (or Participant) would have been entitled to receive in the absence of such assignment, participation or transfer or (y) any Tax is imposed on a Lender in connection with an interest or participation in any Loan or other obligation that such Lender was required to acquire pursuant to Section 14.8(a) or that such Lender acquired pursuant to Section 14.7 (it being understood and agreed, for the avoidance of doubt, that any withholding tax imposed on a Lender as a result of a Change in Law occurring after the time such Lender became a party to this Agreement (or designates a new lending office) shall not be an Excluded Tax) or (ii) any Tax to the extent attributable to such Lender's failure to comply with Section 5.4(d) or Section 5.4(e).

"Existing Letters of Credit" shall have the meaning provided in the preamble to this Agreement.

"Federal Funds Effective Rate" shall mean, for any day, the weighted average of the per annum rates on overnight federal funds transactions with members of the Federal Reserve System arranged by federal funds brokers, as published on the next succeeding Business Day by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, or, if such rate is not so published for any day that is a Business Day, the Federal Funds Effective Rate for such day shall be the average rate charged to the Administrative Agent on such day on such transactions as determined by the Administrative Agent.

"Fee Letter" shall mean that certain confidential fee letter dated as of September 20, 2007 by and among Goldman Sachs Credit Partners L.P., Lehman Brothers Inc., Lehman Commercial Paper Inc., Lehman Brothers Commercial Bank and the Borrower.

"Fees" shall mean all amounts payable pursuant to, or referred to in, Section 4.1.

"Financial Officer" shall mean the Chief Financial Officer, principal accounting officer, Treasurer, or Controller or any other senior financial officer of the Borrower designated in writing to the Administrative Agent by any of the foregoing and reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent.

"First Amendment to Term Loan Credit Agreement" shall mean that certain First Amendment to Term Loan Credit Agreement dated as of the Closing Date among Borrower, the credit support parties named therein, Lehman Commercial Paper Inc., as administrative agent and collateral agent, and each of the lenders party thereto.

"Foreign Currencies" shall mean any currency other than Dollars.

"Foreign Plan" shall mean any employee benefit plan, program, policy, arrangement or agreement maintained or contributed to by the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries with respect to employees employed outside the United States.

"Foreign Subsidiary" shall mean each Subsidiary of the Borrower that is not a Domestic Subsidiary.

"Fronting Fee" shall have the meaning provided in Section 4.1(c).

"Funded Debt" shall mean all indebtedness of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries for borrowed money that matures more than one year from the date of its creation or matures within one year from such date that is renewable or extendable, at the option of the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary, to a date more than one year from such date or arises under a revolving credit or similar agreement that obligates the lender or lenders to extend credit during a period of more than one year from such date, including all amounts of Funded Debt required to be paid or prepaid within one year from the date of its creation and, in the case of the Borrower, Indebtedness in respect of the Loans.

"GAAP" shall mean generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America, as in effect from time to time; provided, however, that if the Borrower notifies the Administrative Agent that the Borrower requests an amendment to any provision hereof to eliminate the effect of any change occurring after the Closing Date in GAAP or in the application thereof on the operation of such provision (or if the Administrative Agent notifies the Borrower that the Required Lenders request an amendment to any provision hereof for such purpose), regardless of whether any such notice is given before or after such change in GAAP or in the application thereof, then such provision shall be interpreted on the basis of GAAP as in effect and applied immediately before such change shall have become effective until such notice shall have been withdrawn or such provision amended in accordance herewith.

"Governmental Authority" shall mean any nation, sovereign or government, any state, province, territory or other political subdivision thereof, and any entity or authority exercising executive, legislative, judicial, regulatory or administrative functions of or pertaining to government, including a central bank or stock exchange.

"Guarantee" shall mean (a) the Guarantee, made by each Guarantor in favor of the Administrative Agent for the benefit of the Secured Parties, substantially in the form of Exhibit C, and (b) any other guarantee of the Obligations made by a Restricted Subsidiary in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent, in each case as the same may be amended, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time.

"Guarantee Obligations" shall mean, as to any Person, any obligation of such Person guaranteeing or intended to guarantee any Indebtedness of any other Person (the "primary obligor") in any manner, whether directly or indirectly, including any obligation of such Person, whether or not contingent, (a) to purchase any such Indebtedness or any property constituting direct or indirect security therefor, (b) to advance or supply funds (i) for the purchase or payment of any such Indebtedness or (ii) to maintain working capital or equity capital of the primary obligor or otherwise to maintain the net worth or solvency of the primary obligor, (c) to purchase property, securities or services primarily for the purpose of assuring the owner of any such Indebtedness of the ability of the primary obligor to make payment of such Indebtedness or (d) otherwise to assure or hold harmless the owner of such Indebtedness against loss in respect thereof; provided, however, that the term "Guarantee Obligations" shall not include endorsements of instruments for deposit or collection in the ordinary course of business or customary and reasonable indemnity obligations in effect on the Closing Date or entered into in connection with any acquisition or disposition of assets permitted under this Agreement (other than such obligations with respect to Indebtedness). The amount of any Guarantee Obligation shall be deemed to be an amount equal to the stated or determinable amount of the Indebtedness in respect of which such Guarantee Obligation is made or, if not stated or determinable, the maximum reasonably anticipated liability in respect thereof (assuming such Person is required to perform thereunder) as determined by such Person in good faith.

"Guarantors" shall mean the Subsidiary Guarantors.

"Hazardous Materials" shall mean (a) any petroleum or petroleum products, radioactive materials, friable asbestos, urea formaldehyde foam insulation, transformers or other equipment that contain dielectric fluid containing regulated levels of polychlorinated biphenyls, and radon gas; (b) any chemicals, materials or substances defined as or included in the definition of "hazardous substances", "hazardous waste", "hazardous materials", "extremely hazardous waste", "restricted hazardous waste", "toxic substances", "toxic pollutants", "contaminants", or "pollutants", or words of similar import, under any applicable Environmental Law; and (c) any other chemical, material or substance, which is prohibited, limited or regulated by any Environmental Law.

"Hedge Agreement" means an Interest Rate Agreement or a Currency Agreement entered into in order to satisfy the requirements of this Agreement or otherwise in the ordinary course of Borrower's or any of its Subsidiaries' businesses.

The aggregate amount of the Revolving Credit Commitment as of the Closing Date is $650,000,000.

"Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage" shall mean at any time, for each Lender, the percentage obtained by dividing (a) such Lender's Revolving Credit Commitment by (b) the aggregate amount of the Revolving Credit Commitments, provided that at any time when the Total Revolving Credit Commitment shall have been terminated, each Lender's Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage shall be its Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage as in effect immediately prior to such termination.

"Revolving Credit Exposure" shall mean, with respect to any Lender at any time, the sum of (a) the aggregate principal amount of the Revolving Credit Loans of such Lender then outstanding, (b) such Lender's Letter of Credit Exposure at such time, (c) such Lender's Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of the aggregate principal amount of all outstanding Swingline Loans and (d) such Lender's Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of the aggregate principal amount of all outstanding Protective Advances; provided that, clause (d) of this definition shall be disregarded with respect to any Protective Advance solely for purposes of calculating Excess Availability and solely to the extent that the making of such Protective Advance would result in the occurrence of a Cash Dominion Event.

"Revolving Credit Loans" shall have the meaning provided in Section 2.1(b).

"Revolving Credit Maturity Date" shall mean the date that is six (6) years after the Closing Date, or, if such date is not a Business Day, the next preceding Business Day.

"Revolving Credit Termination Date" shall mean the date on which the Revolving Credit Commitments shall have terminated, no Revolving Credit Loans shall be outstanding and the Letters of Credit Outstanding shall have been reduced to zero.

"Rollover Equity" shall have the meaning provided in the recitals hereto.

"Sale Leaseback" shall mean any transaction or series of related transactions pursuant to which the Borrower or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries (a) sells, transfers or otherwise disposes of any property, real or personal, whether now owned or hereafter acquired, and (b) as part of such transaction, thereafter rents or leases such property or other property that it intends to use for substantially the same purpose or purposes as the property being sold, transferred or disposed.

"Solvent" shall mean, with respect to the Borrower, that as of the Closing Date, both (a) (i) the sum of the Borrower's debt (including contingent liabilities) does not exceed the present fair saleable value of the Borrower's present assets; (ii) the Borrower's capital is not unreasonably small in relation to its business as contemplated on the Closing Date; and (iii) the Borrower has not incurred and does not intend to incur, or believe that it will incur, debts including current obligations beyond its ability to pay such debts as they become due (whether at maturity or otherwise); and (b) such Person is "solvent" within the meaning given that term and similar terms under applicable laws relating to fraudulent transfers and conveyances. For purposes of this definition, the amount of any contingent liability at any time shall be computed as the amount that, in light of all of the facts and circumstances existing at such time, represents the amount that can reasonably be expected to become an actual or matured liability (irrespective of whether such contingent liabilities meet the criteria for accrual under Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 5).

"Specified Subsidiary" shall mean, at any date of determination (a) any Material Subsidiary or (b) any Unrestricted Subsidiary (i) whose total assets at the last day of the Test Period ending on the last day of the most recent fiscal period for which Section 9.1 Financials have been delivered were equal to or greater than 15% of the consolidated total assets of the Borrower and the Subsidiaries at such date, (ii) whose gross revenues for such Test Period were equal to or greater than 15% of the consolidated gross revenues of the Borrower and the Subsidiaries for such period, in each case determined in accordance with GAAP and (c) each other Subsidiary that, when such Subsidiary's total assets or gross revenues are aggregated with the total assets or gross revenues, as applicable, of each other Subsidiary that is the subject of an Event of Default described in Section 11.5 would constitute a Specified Subsidiary under clause (a) or (b) above.

"Specified Transaction" shall mean, with respect to any period, any Investment, sale, transfer or other disposition of assets, incurrence or repayment of Indebtedness, Dividend, Subsidiary designation, New Revolving Credit Commitment or other event that by the terms of this Agreement requires "Pro Forma Compliance" with a test or covenant hereunder or requires such test or covenant to be calculated on a "Pro Forma Basis."

"Sponsor" shall mean GS Capital Partners V Fund, L.P. and its respective Affiliates.

"Stated Amount" of any Letter of Credit shall mean the maximum amount from time to time available to be drawn thereunder, determined without regard to whether any conditions to drawing could then be met.

"Status" shall mean, as to the Borrower as of any date, the existence of Level I Status, Level II Status or Level III Status, as the case may be on such date. Changes in Status resulting from changes in the Consolidated Total Debt to Consolidated EBITDA Ratio shall become effective (the date of such effectiveness, the "Effective Date") as of the first day following the last day of the most recent fiscal year or period for which (a) Section 9.1 Financials are delivered to the Lenders under Section 9.1 and (b) an officer's certificate is delivered by the Borrower to the Lenders setting forth, with respect to such Section 9.1 Financials, the then-applicable Status, and shall remain in effect until the next change to be effected pursuant to this definition, provided that (i) if the Borrower shall have made any payments in respect of interest or commitment fees during the period (the "Interim Period") from and including the Effective Date to but excluding the day any change in Status is determined as provided above, then the amount of the next such payment due on or after such day shall be increased or decreased by an amount equal to any underpayment or overpayment so made by the Borrower during such Interim Period and (ii) each determination of the Consolidated Total Debt to Consolidated EBITDA Ratio pursuant to this definition shall be made with respect to the Test Period ending at the end of the fiscal period covered by the relevant financial statements.

"Statutory Reserve Rate" shall mean for any day as applied to any LIBOR Loan, a fraction (expressed as a decimal), the numerator of which is the number one and the denominator of which is the number one minus the aggregate of the maximum reserve percentages that are in effect on that day (including any marginal, special, emergency or supplemental reserves), expressed as a decimal, as prescribed by the Board and to which the Administrative Agent is subject, for eurocurrency funding (currently referred to as "Eurocurrency Liabilities" in Regulation D of the Board). Such reserve percentages shall include those imposed pursuant to such Regulation D. LIBOR Loans shall be deemed to constitute eurocurrency funding and to be subject to such reserve requirements without benefit of or credit for proration, exemptions or offsets that may be available from time to time to any Lender under such Regulation D or any comparable regulation. The Statutory Reserve Rate shall be adjusted automatically on and as of the effective date of any change in any reserve percentage.

"Stock" shall mean shares of capital stock or shares in the capital, as the case may be (whether denominated as common stock or preferred stock or ordinary shares or preferred shares, as the case may be), beneficial, partnership or membership interests, participations or other equivalents (regardless of how designated) of or in a corporation, partnership, limited liability company or equivalent entity, whether voting or non-voting.

"Subsidiary" of any Person shall mean and include (a) any corporation more than 50% of whose Stock of any class or classes having by the terms thereof ordinary voting power to elect a majority of the directors of such corporation (irrespective of whether or not at the time Stock of any class or classes of such corporation shall have or might have voting power by reason of the happening of any contingency) is at the time owned by such Person directly or indirectly through Subsidiaries, (b) any partnership, association, joint venture or other entity in which such Person directly or indirectly through Subsidiaries has more than a 50% equity interest at the time and (c) with respect to the Borrower, Red Man Distributors. Unless otherwise expressly provided, all references herein to a "Subsidiary" shall mean a Subsidiary of the Borrower.

"Subsidiary Guarantors" shall mean (a) each Domestic Subsidiary (other than an Excluded Subsidiary) existing on the Closing Date and (b) each Domestic Subsidiary that becomes a party to the Guarantee after the Closing Date pursuant to Section 9.11 or otherwise.

"Successor Borrower" shall have the meaning provided in Section 10.3(a).

"Super-Majority Lenders" shall mean, at any date, (a) Non-Defaulting Lenders having or holding at least 75% of the Adjusted Total Revolving Credit Commitment at such date or (b) if the Total Revolving Credit Commitment has been terminated, Non-Defaulting Lenders having or holding at least 75% of the outstanding principal amount of the Loans and Letter of Credit Exposures (excluding the Loans and Letter of Credit Exposure of Defaulting Lenders) in the aggregate at such date.

"Swingline Commitment" shall mean $60,000,000.

"Swingline Lender" shall mean CIT in its capacity as lender of Swingline Loans hereunder.

"Swingline Loans" shall have the meaning provided in Section 2.1(c).

"Swingline Maturity Date" shall mean, with respect to any Swingline Loan, the date that is five Business Days prior to the Revolving Credit Maturity Date.

"Syndication Agent" shall mean Bank of America, N.A., together with its affiliates, as the syndication agent for the Lenders under this Agreement and the other Credit Documents.

"Taxes" shall mean any and all present or future taxes, duties, levies, imposts, assessments, deductions, withholdings or other similar charges imposed by any Governmental Authority whether computed on a separate, consolidated, unitary, combined or other basis and any and all liabilities (including interest, fines, penalties or additions to tax) with respect to the foregoing.

"Term Loans" shall have the meaning provided in the recitals hereto.

"Term Loan Credit Agreement" shall mean that certain term loan credit agreement, as amended, restated, increased or otherwise supplemented in accordance with the Intercreditor Agreement, dated as of the Original Closing Date, by and among the Borrower, Lehman Commercial Paper Inc., as administrative agent and collateral agent, Goldman Sachs Credit Partners L.P. and Lehman Brothers Inc., as the co-lead arrangers and joint bookrunners, and Goldman Sachs Credit Partners L.P., as the syndication agent.

"Test Period" shall mean, for any determination under this Agreement, the four consecutive fiscal quarters of the Borrower then last ended.

"Total Commitment" shall mean the Total Revolving Credit Commitment.

"Total Credit Exposure" shall mean, at any date, the Total Revolving Credit Commitment at such date.

"Total Revolving Credit Commitment" shall mean the sum of the Revolving Credit Commitments of all the Lenders.

"Transaction Expenses" shall mean any fees or expenses incurred or paid by the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries in connection with the Transactions, this Agreement and the other Credit Documents and the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby.

"Transactions" shall mean, collectively, the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, the Term Loan Credit Agreement, the Red Man Transaction and the Equity Investments.

"Transfer" shall have the meaning provided in Section 2.15(b).

"Transfer Date" shall have the meaning provided in Section 2.15(b).

"Transferee" shall have the meaning provided in Section 14.6(e).

"Trigger Date" shall mean the date on which Section 9.1 Financials are delivered to the Lenders under Section 9.1 for the fiscal quarter ending on March 31, 2008.

"Type" shall mean as to any Revolving Credit Loan, its nature as an ABR Loan or a LIBOR Revolving Credit Loan.

"Unfunded Current Liability" of any Plan shall mean the amount, if any, by which the present value of the accrued benefits under the Plan as of the close of its most recent plan year, determined in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 87 as in effect on the date hereof, based upon the actuarial assumptions that would be used by the Plan's actuary in a termination of the Plan, exceeds the fair market value of the assets allocable thereto.

"Unpaid Drawing" shall have the meaning provided in Section 3.4(a).

"Unrestricted Subsidiary" shall mean (a) any Subsidiary of the Borrower that is formed or acquired after the Closing Date, provided that at such time (or promptly thereafter) the Borrower designates such Subsidiary an Unrestricted Subsidiary in a written notice to the Administrative Agent, (b) any Restricted Subsidiary subsequently re-designated as an Unrestricted Subsidiary by the Borrower in a written notice to the Administrative Agent, provided that in the case of (a) and (b), (x) such designation or re-designation shall be deemed to be an Investment on the date of such re-designation in an Unrestricted Subsidiary in an amount equal to the sum of (i) the Borrower's direct or indirect equity ownership percentage of the net worth of such designation or re-designated Restricted Subsidiary immediately prior to such designation or re-designation (such net worth to be calculated without regard to any guarantee provided by such designated or re-designated Restricted Subsidiary) and (ii) the aggregate principal amount of any Indebtedness owed by such designated or re-designated Restricted Subsidiary to the Borrower or any other Restricted Subsidiary immediately prior to such designated or re-designation, all calculated, except as set forth in the parenthetical to clause (i), on a consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP and (y) no Default or Event of Default would result from such designation or re-designation and (c) each Subsidiary of an Unrestricted Subsidiary; provided, however, that at the time of any written designation or re-designation by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent that any Unrestricted Subsidiary shall no longer constitute an Unrestricted Subsidiary, such Unrestricted Subsidiary shall cease to be an Unrestricted Subsidiary to the extent no Default or Event of Default would result from such designation or re-designation. On or promptly after the date of its formation, acquisition, designation or re-designation, as applicable, each Unrestricted Subsidiary (other than an Unrestricted Subsidiary that is a Foreign Subsidiary) shall have entered into a tax sharing agreement containing terms that, in the reasonable judgment of the Administrative Agent, provide for an appropriate allocation of tax liabilities and benefits. An Unrestricted Subsidiary which has been re-designated as a Restricted Subsidiary may not be subsequently re-designated as an Unrestricted Subsidiary.

"Voting Stock" shall mean, with respect to any Person, such Person's Stock or Stock Equivalents having the right to vote for the election of directors of such Person under ordinary circumstances.

1.2 Other Interpretive Provisions. With reference to this Agreement and each other Credit Document, unless otherwise specified herein or in such other Credit Document:

(a) The meanings of defined terms are equally applicable to the singular and plural forms of the defined terms.

(b) The words "herein", "hereto", "hereof" and "hereunder" and words of similar import when used in any Credit Document shall refer to such Credit Document as a whole and not to any particular provision thereof.

(c) Article, Section, Exhibit and Schedule references are to the Credit Document in which such reference appears.

(d) The term "including" is by way of example and not limitation.

(e) The term "documents" includes any and all instruments, documents, agreements, certificates, notices, reports, financial statements and other writings, however evidenced, whether in physical or electronic form.

(f) In the computation of periods of time from a specified date to a later specified date, the word "from" means "from and including"; the words "to" and "until" each mean "to but excluding"; and the word "through" means "to and including".

(g) Section headings herein and in the other Credit Documents are included for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the interpretation of this Agreement or any other Credit Document.

1.3 Accounting Terms; Exchange Rates. (a) All accounting terms not specifically or completely defined herein shall be construed in conformity with, and all financial data (including financial ratios and other financial calculations) required to be submitted pursuant to this Agreement shall be prepared in conformity with, GAAP.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, for purposes of determining compliance with any test or covenant contained in this Agreement with respect to any period during which any Specified Transaction occurs, the Consolidated Total Debt to Consolidated EBITDA and the Consolidated EBITDA to Consolidated Interest Expense Ratio shall be calculated with respect to such period and such Specified Transaction on a Pro Forma Basis.

(c) For purposes of determining compliance under Sections 7.1(d), 10.4, 10.5 (other than with respect to determining the amount of any Indebtedness), and 10.6 with respect to any amount in a Foreign Currency, such amount shall be deemed to equal the Dollar Equivalent thereof based on the average Exchange Rate for a Foreign Currency for the most recent twelve-month period immediately prior to the date of determination determined in a manner consistent with that used in calculating Consolidated EBITDA for the related period. For purposes of determining compliance with Sections 10.1, 10.2 and 10.5, with respect to any amount of Indebtedness in a Foreign Currency, compliance will be determined at the time of incurrence or advancing thereof using the Dollar Equivalent thereof at the Exchange Rate in effect at the time of such incurrence or advancement.

1.4 Rounding. Any financial ratios required to be maintained by the Borrower pursuant to this Agreement (or required to be satisfied in order for a specific action to be permitted under this Agreement) shall be calculated by dividing the appropriate component by the other component, carrying the result to one place more than the number of places by which such ratio is expressed herein and rounding the result up or down to the nearest number (with a rounding-up if there is no nearest number).

1.5 References to Agreements, Laws, Etc. Unless otherwise expressly provided herein, (a) references to Organization Documents, agreements (including the Credit Documents) and other Contractual Obligations shall be deemed to include all subsequent amendments, restatements, amendment and restatements, extensions, supplements and other modifications thereto, but only to the extent that such amendments, restatements, amendment and restatements, extensions, supplements and other modifications are permitted by any Credit Document; and (b) references to any Applicable Law shall include all statutory and regulatory provisions consolidating, amending, replacing, supplementing or interpreting such Applicable Law.

SECTION 2.Amount and Terms of Credit

2.1 Commitments. (a) [Intentionally Omitted]

(b) (i) Subject to and upon the terms and conditions herein set forth, each Lender having a Revolving Credit Commitment severally agrees to make a loan or loans denominated in Dollars (each a "Revolving Credit Loan" and, collectively, the "Revolving Credit Loans") to the Borrower which Revolving Credit Loans (A) shall be made at any time and from time to time on and after the Closing Date and prior to the Revolving Credit Maturity Date, (B) may, at the option of the Borrower be incurred and maintained as, and/or converted into, ABR Loans or LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans, provided that all Revolving Credit Loans made by each of the Lenders pursuant to the same Borrowing shall, unless otherwise specifically provided herein, consist entirely of Revolving Credit Loans of the same Type, (C) may be repaid and reborrowed in accordance with the provisions hereof, (D) shall not, for any such Lender at any time, after giving effect thereto and to the application of the proceeds thereof, result in such Lender's Revolving Credit Exposure at such time exceeding such Lender's Revolving Credit Commitment at such time and (E) shall not, after giving effect thereto and to the application of the proceeds thereof, result at any time in the aggregate amount of the Lenders' Revolving Credit Exposures at such time exceeding the lesser of the Total Revolving Credit Commitment and the Borrowing Base then in effect.

(ii) Each Lender may at its option make any LIBOR Loan by causing any domestic or foreign branch or Affiliate of such Lender to make such Loan, provided that (A) any exercise of such option shall not affect the obligation of the Borrower to repay such Loan and (B) in exercising such option, such Lender shall use its reasonable efforts to minimize any increased costs to the Borrower resulting therefrom (which obligation of the Lender shall not require it to take, or refrain from taking, actions that it determines would result in increased costs for which it will not be compensated hereunder or that it determines would be otherwise disadvantageous to it and in the event of such request for costs for which compensation is provided under this Agreement, the provisions of Section 3.5 shall apply). On the Revolving Credit Maturity Date, all Revolving Credit Loans shall be repaid in full.

(c) Subject to and upon the terms and conditions herein set forth, the Swingline Lender in its individual capacity agrees, at any time and from time to time on and after the Closing Date and prior to the Swingline Maturity Date, to make a loan or loans (each a "Swingline Loan" and, collectively, the "Swingline Loans") to the Borrower in Dollars, which Swingline Loans (i) shall be ABR Loans, (ii) shall have the benefit of the provisions of Section 2.1(d), (iii) shall not exceed at any time outstanding the Swingline Commitment, (iv) shall not, after giving effect thereto and to the application of the proceeds thereof, result at any time in the aggregate amount of the Lenders' Revolving Credit Exposures at such time exceeding the lesser of Total Revolving Credit Commitment and the Borrowing Base then in effect and (v) may be repaid and reborrowed in accordance with the provisions hereof. On the Swingline Maturity Date, each outstanding Swingline Loan shall be repaid in full. The Swingline Lender shall not make any Swingline Loan after receiving a written notice from the Borrower or any Lender stating that a Default or Event of Default exists and is continuing until such time as the Swingline Lender shall have received written notice of (i) rescission of all such notices from the party or parties originally delivering such notice or (ii) the waiver of such Default or Event of Default in accordance with the provisions of Section 14.1.

(d) On any Business Day, the Swingline Lender may, in its sole discretion, and shall at least weekly, give notice to the Lenders with a Revolving Credit Commitment that all then- outstanding Swingline Loans shall be funded with a Borrowing of Revolving Credit Loans, in which case Revolving Credit Loans constituting ABR Loans (each such Borrowing, a "Mandatory Borrowing") shall be made on the immediately succeeding Business Day by all Lenders with a Revolving Credit Commitment pro rata based on each Lender's Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage, and the proceeds thereof shall be applied directly to the Swingline Lender to repay the Swingline Lender for such outstanding Swingline Loans. Each Lender with a Revolving Credit Commitment hereby irrevocably agrees to make such Revolving Credit Loans upon one Business Day's notice pursuant to each Mandatory Borrowing in the amount and in the manner specified in the preceding sentence and on the date specified to it in writing by the Swingline Lender notwithstanding (i) that the amount of the Mandatory Borrowing may not comply with the minimum amount for each Borrowing specified in Section 2.2, (ii) whether any conditions specified in Section 7 are then satisfied, (iii) whether a Default or an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, (iv) the date of such Mandatory Borrowing or (v) any reduction in the Total Commitment after any such Swingline Loans were made. In the event that, in the sole judgment of the Swingline Lender, any Mandatory Borrowing cannot for any reason be made on the date otherwise required above (including as a result of the commencement of a proceeding under the Bankruptcy Code in respect of the Borrower), each Lender with a Revolving Credit Commitment hereby agrees that it shall forthwith purchase from the Swingline Lender (without recourse or warranty) such participation of the outstanding Swingline Loans as shall be necessary to cause the Lenders to share in such Swingline Loans ratably based upon their respective Revolving Credit Commitment Percentages, provided that all principal and interest payable on such Swingline Loans shall be for the account of the Swingline Lender until the date the respective participation is purchased and, to the extent attributable to the purchased participation, shall be payable to the Lender purchasing same from and after such date of purchase.

2.2 Minimum Amount of Each Borrowing; Maximum Number of Borrowings. The aggregate principal amount of each Borrowing of Revolving Credit Loans shall be in a multiple of $1,000,000 and Swingline Loans shall be in a multiple of $250,000 and, in each case, shall not be less than the Minimum Borrowing Amount with respect thereto (except that Mandatory Borrowings shall be made in the amounts required by Section 2.1(d)). More than one Borrowing may be incurred on any date, provided that at no time shall there be outstanding more than six (6) Borrowings of LIBOR Loans under this Agreement.

2.3 Notice of Borrowing. (a) [Intentionally Omitted.]

(b) Whenever the Borrower desires to incur Revolving Credit Loans (other than Mandatory Borrowings or borrowings to repay Unpaid Drawings), it shall give the Administrative Agent at the Administrative Agent's Office, (i) prior to 1:00 p.m. (New York City Time) at least three Business Days' prior written notice (or telephonic notice promptly confirmed in writing) of each Borrowing of LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans, and (ii) written notice prior to 10:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the date of such Borrowing (or telephonic notice promptly confirmed in writing) of each Borrowing of ABR Loans. Such Notice of Borrowing, except as otherwise expressly provided in Section 2.10, shall specify (i) the aggregate principal amount of the Revolving Credit Loans to be made pursuant to such Borrowing, (ii) the date of Borrowing (which shall be a Business Day) and (iii) whether the respective Borrowing shall consist of ABR Loans or LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans and, if LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans, the Interest Period to be initially applicable thereto. The Administrative Agent shall promptly give each Lender written notice (or telephonic notice promptly confirmed in writing) of each proposed Borrowing of Revolving Credit Loans, of such Lender's proportionate share thereof and of the other matters covered by the related Notice of Borrowing.

(c) Whenever the Borrower desires to incur Swingline Loans hereunder, it shall give the Administrative Agent written notice (or telephonic notice promptly confirmed in writing) of each Borrowing of Swingline Loans prior to 1:00 p.m. (New York City time) on the date of such Borrowing. Each such notice shall specify (i) the aggregate principal amount of the Swingline Loans to be made pursuant to such Borrowing and (ii) the date of Borrowing (which shall be a Business Day). The Administrative Agent shall promptly give the Swingline Lender written notice (or telephonic notice promptly confirmed in writing) of each proposed Borrowing of Swingline Loans and of the other matters covered by the related Notice of Borrowing.

(d) Mandatory Borrowings shall be made upon the notice specified in Section 2.1(d), with the Borrower irrevocably agreeing, by its incurrence of any Swingline Loan, to the making of Mandatory Borrowings as set forth in such Section.

(e) Borrowings to reimburse Unpaid Drawings shall be made upon the notice specified in Section 3.4(a).

(f) Without in any way limiting the obligation of the Borrower to confirm in writing any notice it may give hereunder by telephone, the Administrative Agent may act prior to receipt of written confirmation without liability upon the basis of such telephonic notice believed by the Administrative Agent in good faith to be from an Authorized Officer of the Borrower. In each such case, the Borrower hereby waives the right to dispute the Administrative Agent's record of the terms of any such telephonic notice.

2.4 Disbursement of Funds. (a) No later than 12:00 Noon (New York City time) on the date specified in each Notice of Borrowing (including Mandatory Borrowings), each Lender will make available its pro rata portion, if any, of each Borrowing requested to be made on such date in the manner provided below, provided that all Swingline Loans shall be made available in the full amount thereof by the Swingline Lender no later than 3:00 p.m. (New York City time) on the date requested.

(b) Each Lender shall make available all amounts it is to fund to the Borrower under any Borrowing for its applicable Commitments, and in immediately available funds to the Administrative Agent at the Administrative Agent's Office and the Administrative Agent will (except in the case of Mandatory Borrowings and Borrowings to repay Unpaid Drawings) make available to the Borrower, by depositing to an account designated by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent the aggregate of the amounts so made available in Dollars. Unless the Administrative Agent shall have been notified by any Lender prior to the date of any such Borrowing that such Lender does not intend to make available to the Administrative Agent its portion of the Borrowing or Borrowings to be made on such date, the Administrative Agent may assume that such Lender has made such amount available to the Administrative Agent on such date of Borrowing, and the Administrative Agent, in reliance upon such assumption, may (in its sole discretion and without any obligation to do so) make available to the Borrower a corresponding amount. If such corresponding amount is not in fact made available to the Administrative Agent by such Lender and the Administrative Agent has made available same to the Borrower, the Administrative Agent shall be entitled to recover such corresponding amount from such Lender. If such Lender does not pay such corresponding amount forthwith upon the Administrative Agent's demand therefor the Administrative Agent shall promptly notify the Borrower and the Borrower shall immediately pay such corresponding amount to the Administrative Agent. The Administrative Agent shall also be entitled to recover from such Lender or the Borrower interest on such corresponding amount in respect of each day from the date such corresponding amount was made available by the Administrative Agent to the Borrower to the date such corresponding amount is recovered by the Administrative Agent, at a rate per annum equal to (i) if paid by such Lender, the Federal Funds Effective Rate or (ii) if paid by the Borrower, the then-applicable rate of interest or fees, calculated in accordance with Section 2.8, for the respective Loans.

(c) Nothing in this Section 2.4 shall be deemed to relieve any Lender from its obligation to fulfill its commitments hereunder or to prejudice any rights that the Borrower may have against any Lender as a result of any default by such Lender hereunder (it being understood, however, that no Lender shall be responsible for the failure of any other Lender to fulfill its commitments hereunder).

2.5 Repayment of Loans; Evidence of Debt. (a) The Borrower shall repay to the Administrative Agent in Dollars, for the benefit of the applicable Lenders, on the Revolving Credit Maturity Date, the then-unpaid Revolving Credit Loans made to the Borrower. The Borrower shall repay to the Administrative Agent in Dollars, for the account of the Swingline Lender, on the Swingline Maturity Date, the then-unpaid Swingline Loans.

(b) Each Lender shall maintain in accordance with its usual practice an account or accounts evidencing the indebtedness of the Borrower to the appropriate lending office of such Lender resulting from each Loan made by such lending office of such Lender from time to time, including the amounts of principal and interest payable and paid to such lending office of such Lender from time to time under this Agreement.

(c) The Administrative Agent shall maintain the Register pursuant to Section 14.6(b), and a sub account for each Lender, in which Register and subaccounts (taken together) shall be recorded (i) the amount of each Loan made hereunder, whether such Loan is a Revolving Credit Loan or a Swingline Loan, as applicable, the Type of each Loan made and the Interest Period applicable thereto, (ii) the amount of any principal or interest due and payable or to become due and payable from the Borrower to each Lender or the Swingline Lender hereunder and (iii) the amount of any sum received by the Administrative Agent hereunder from the Borrower and each Lender's share thereof. After the occurrence and during the continuation of an Event of Default, the Register shall be available for inspection by any Lender (solely with respect to its own interest) at any reasonable time and upon reasonable prior notice.

(d) The entries made in the Register and accounts and subaccounts maintained pursuant to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this Section 2.5 shall, to the extent permitted by applicable law, be prima facie evidence of the existence and amounts of the obligations of the Borrower therein recorded; provided, however, that the failure of any Lender or the Administrative Agent to maintain such account, such Register or such subaccount, as applicable, or any error therein, shall not in any manner affect the obligation of the Borrower to repay (with applicable interest) the Loans made to the Borrower by such Lender in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

2.6 Conversions and Continuations. (a) The Borrower shall have the option on any Business Day to convert all or a portion equal to at least the Minimum Borrowing Amount of the outstanding principal amount of Revolving Credit Loans made to the Borrower (as applicable) of one Type into a Borrowing or Borrowings of another Type and the Borrower shall have the option on any Business Day to continue the outstanding principal amount of any LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans as LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans for an additional Interest Period, on the last Business Day of the existing Interest Period, provided that (i) no partial conversion of LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans shall reduce the outstanding principal amount of LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans made pursuant to a single Borrowing to less than the Minimum Borrowing Amount, (ii) ABR Loans may not be converted into LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans if a Default or Event of Default is in existence on the date of the conversion and the Administrative Agent has or the Required Lenders have determined in its or their sole discretion not to permit such conversion, (iii) LIBOR Loans may not be continued as LIBOR Loans for an additional Interest Period if an Event of Default is in existence on the date of the proposed continuation and the Administrative Agent has or the Required Lenders have determined in its or their sole discretion not to permit such continuation and (iv) Borrowings resulting from conversions pursuant to this Section 2.6 shall be limited in number as provided in Section 2.2. Each such conversion or continuation shall be effected by the Borrower by giving the Administrative Agent at the Administrative Agent's Office prior to 1:00 p.m. (New York City time) at least three Business Days' prior written notice or written notice prior to 10:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the same Business Day in the case of a conversion into ABR Loans (or, in each case, telephonic notice promptly confirmed in writing) (each, a "Notice of Conversion or Continuation") specifying the Revolving Credit Loans to be so converted or continued, the Type of Revolving Credit Loans to be converted or continued into and, if such Revolving Credit Loans are to be converted into or continued as LIBOR Loans, the Interest Period to be initially applicable thereto. The Administrative Agent shall give each Lender notice as promptly as practicable of any such proposed conversion or continuation affecting any of its Revolving Credit Loans.

(b) If any Default or Event of Default is in existence at the time of any proposed continuation of any LIBOR Loans and the Administrative Agent has or the Required Lenders have determined in its or their sole discretion not to permit such continuation, such LIBOR Loans shall be automatically converted on the last day of the current Interest Period into ABR Loans. If upon the expiration of any Interest Period in respect of LIBOR Loans, the Borrower has failed to elect a new Interest Period to be applicable thereto as provided in paragraph (a) above, the Borrower shall be deemed to have elected to continue such Borrowing of LIBOR Loans into a Borrowing of ABR Loans, effective as of the expiration date of such current Interest Period.

2.7 Pro Rata Borrowings. Each Borrowing of Revolving Credit Loans under this Agreement shall be granted by the Lenders pro rata on the basis of their then-applicable Revolving Credit Commitments. It is understood that (a) no Lender shall be responsible for any default by any other Lender in its obligation to make Loans hereunder and that each Lender shall be obligated to make the Loans provided to be made by it hereunder, regardless of the failure of any other Lender to fulfill its commitments hereunder and (b) other than as expressly provided herein with respect to a Defaulting Lender, failure by a Lender to perform any of its obligations under any of the Credit Documents shall not release any Person from performance of its obligation under any Credit Document.

2.8 Interest. (a) The unpaid principal amount of each ABR Loan shall bear interest from the date of the Borrowing thereof until maturity (whether by acceleration or otherwise) at a rate per annum that shall at all times be the Applicable ABR Margin plus the ABR in effect from time to time.

(b) The unpaid principal amount of each LIBOR Loan shall bear interest from the date of the Borrowing thereof until maturity thereof (whether by acceleration or otherwise) at a rate per annum that shall at all times be the Applicable LIBOR Margin in effect from time to time plus the relevant LIBOR Rate.

(c) If all or a portion of (i) the principal amount of any Loan or (ii) any interest payable thereon shall not be paid when due (whether at the stated maturity, by acceleration or otherwise), such overdue amount shall bear interest (including post-petition interest in any proceeding under the Bankruptcy Code or other applicable bankruptcy laws) at a rate per annum that is (x) in the case of overdue principal, the rate that would otherwise be applicable thereto plus 2% or (y) in the case of any overdue interest, to the extent permitted by applicable law, the rate described in Section 2.8(a) plus 2% from and including the date of such non-payment to but excluding the date on which such amount is paid in full (after as well as before judgment). Payment or acceptance of the increased rates of interest provided for in this Section 2.8 is not a permitted alternative to timely payment and shall not constitute a waiver of any Event of Default or otherwise prejudice or limit any rights or remedies of Administrative Agent or any Lender.

(d) Interest on each Loan shall accrue from and including the date of any Borrowing to but excluding the date of any repayment thereof and shall be payable (i) in respect of each ABR Loan, quarterly in arrears on the last day of each March, June, September and December, (ii) in respect of each LIBOR Loan, on the last day of each Interest Period applicable thereto and, in the case of an Interest Period in excess of three months, on each date occurring at three-month intervals after the first day of such Interest Period, (iii) in respect of each Loan (except, other than in the case of prepayments, any ABR Loan), on any prepayment date (on the amount prepaid), at maturity (whether by acceleration or otherwise) and, after such maturity, on demand.

(e) All computations of interest hereunder shall be made in accordance with Section 5.5.

(f) The Administrative Agent, upon determining the interest rate for any Borrowing of LIBOR Loans, shall promptly notify the Borrower and the relevant Lenders thereof. Each such determination shall, absent clearly demonstrable error, be final and conclusive and binding on all parties hereto.

2.9 Interest Periods. At the time the Borrower gives a Notice of Borrowing or Notice of Conversion or Continuation in respect of the making of, or conversion into or continuation as, a Borrowing of LIBOR Loans (in the case of the initial Interest Period applicable thereto) or prior to 10:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the third Business Day prior to the expiration of an Interest Period applicable to a Borrowing of LIBOR Loans, the Borrower shall have the right to elect by giving the Administrative Agent written notice (or telephonic notice promptly confirmed in writing) the Interest Period applicable to such Borrowing, which Interest Period shall, at the option of the Borrower be a one, two, three, six or (if available to all the Lenders as determined by such Lenders in good faith based on prevailing market conditions) a nine or twelve month period.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained above:

(a) the initial Interest Period for any Borrowing of LIBOR Loans shall commence on the date of such Borrowing (including the date of any conversion from a Borrowing of ABR Loans) and each Interest Period occurring thereafter in respect of such Borrowing shall commence on the day on which the next preceding Interest Period expires;

(b) if any Interest Period relating to a Borrowing of LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans begins on the last Business Day of a calendar month or begins on a day for which there is no numerically corresponding day in the calendar month at the end of such Interest Period, such Interest Period shall end on the last Business Day of the calendar month at the end of such Interest Period;

(c) if any Interest Period would otherwise expire on a day that is not a Business Day, such Interest Period shall expire on the next succeeding Business Day, provided that if any Interest Period would otherwise expire on a day that is not a Business Day but is a day of the month after which no further Business Day occurs in such month, such Interest Period shall expire on the next preceding Business Day; and

(d) the Borrower shall not be entitled to elect any Interest Period if such Interest Period would extend beyond the applicable maturity date of such Loan.

2.10 Increased Costs, Illegality, etc. (a) In the event that (x) in the case of clause (i) below, the Administrative Agent or (y) in the case of clauses (ii) and (iii) below, any Lender shall have reasonably determined (which determination shall, absent clearly demonstrable error, be final and conclusive and binding upon all parties hereto):

(i) on any date for determining the LIBOR Rate for any Interest Period that (x) deposits in the principal amounts of the Loans comprising such LIBOR Borrowing are not generally available in the relevant market or (y) by reason of any changes arising on or after the Closing Date affecting the interbank LIBOR market, adequate and fair means do not exist for ascertaining the applicable interest rate on the basis provided for in the definition of LIBOR Rate; or

(ii) at any time, that such Lender shall incur increased costs or reductions in the amounts received or receivable hereunder with respect to any LIBOR Loans (other than any such increase or reduction attributable to Taxes) because of (x) any change since the date hereof in any applicable law, governmental rule, regulation, guideline or order (or in the interpretation or administration thereof and including the introduction of any new law or governmental rule, regulation, guideline or order), such as, for example, without limitation, a change in official reserve requirements, and/or (y) other circumstances affecting the interbank LIBOR market or the position of such Lender in such market; or

(iii) at any time, that the making or continuance of any LIBOR Loan has become unlawful by compliance by such Lender in good faith with any law, governmental rule, regulation, guideline or order (or would conflict with any such governmental rule, regulation, guideline or order not having the force of law even though the failure to comply therewith would not be unlawful), or has become impracticable as a result of a contingency occurring after the date hereof that materially and adversely affects the interbank LIBOR market;

then, and in any such event, such Lender (or the Administrative Agent, in the case of clause (i) above) shall within a reasonable time thereafter give notice (if by telephone, confirmed in writing) to the Borrower and to the Administrative Agent of such determination (which notice the Administrative Agent shall promptly transmit to each of the other Lenders). Thereafter (x) in the case of clause (i) above, LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans shall no longer be available until such time as the Administrative Agent notifies the Borrower and the Lenders that the circumstances giving rise to such notice by the Administrative Agent no longer exist (which notice the Administrative Agent agrees to give at such time when such circumstances no longer exist), and any Notice of Borrowing or Notice of Conversion given by the Borrower with respect to LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans that have not yet been incurred shall be deemed rescinded by the Borrower (y) in the case of clause (ii) above, the Borrower shall pay to such Lender, promptly after receipt of written demand therefor such additional amounts (in the form of an increased rate of, or a different method of calculating, interest or otherwise as such Lender in its reasonable discretion shall determine) as shall be required to compensate such Lender for such increased costs or reductions in amounts receivable hereunder (it being agreed that a written notice as to the additional amounts owed to such Lender, showing in reasonable detail the basis for the calculation thereof, submitted to the Borrower by such Lender shall, absent clearly demonstrable error, be final and conclusive and binding upon all parties hereto) and (z) in the case of clause (iii) above, the Borrower shall take one of the actions specified in Section 2.10(b) as promptly as possible and, in any event, within the time period required by law.

(b) At any time that any LIBOR Loan is affected by the circumstances described in Section 2.10(a)(ii) or (iii), the Borrower may (and in the case of a LIBOR Loan affected pursuant to Section 2.10(a)(iii) shall) either (x) if the affected LIBOR Loan is then being made pursuant to a Borrowing, cancel said Borrowing by giving the Administrative Agent telephonic notice (confirmed promptly in writing) thereof on the same date that the Borrower was notified by a Lender pursuant to Section 2.10(a)(ii) or (iii) or (y) if the affected LIBOR Loan is then outstanding, upon at least three Business Days' notice to the Administrative Agent, require the affected Lender to convert each such LIBOR Revolving Credit Loan into an ABR Loan, provided that if more than one Lender is affected at any time, then all affected Lenders must be treated in the same manner pursuant to this Section 2.10(b).

(c) If, after the date hereof, the adoption of any applicable law, rule or regulation regarding capital adequacy, or any change therein, or any change in the interpretation or administration thereof by any governmental authority, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, central bank or comparable agency charged with the interpretation or administration thereof, or compliance by a Lender or its parent with any request or directive made or adopted after the date hereof regarding capital adequacy (whether or not having the force of law) of any such authority, association, central bank or comparable agency, has or would have the effect of reducing the rate of return on such Lender's or its parent's or its Affiliate's capital or assets as a consequence of such Lender's commitments or obligations hereunder to a level below that which such Lender or its parent or its Affiliate could have achieved but for such adoption, effectiveness, change or compliance (taking into consideration such Lender's or its parent's policies with respect to capital adequacy), then from time to time, promptly after demand by such Lender (with a copy to the Administrative Agent), the Borrower shall pay to such Lender such additional amount or amounts as will compensate such Lender or its parent for such reduction, it being understood and agreed, however, that a Lender shall not be entitled to such compensation as a result of such Lender's compliance with, or pursuant to any request or directive to comply with, any such law, rule or regulation as in effect on the date hereof. Each Lender, upon determining in good faith that any additional amounts will be payable pursuant to this Section 2.10(c), will give prompt written notice thereof to the Borrower which notice shall set forth in reasonable detail the basis of the calculation of such additional amounts, although the failure to give any such notice shall not, subject to Section 2.13, release or diminish the Borrower's obligations to pay additional amounts pursuant to this Section 2.10(c) upon receipt of such notice.

(d) It is understood that to the extent duplicative of Section 5.4, this Section 2.10 shall not apply to Taxes.

2.11 Compensation. If (a) any payment of principal of any LIBOR Loan is made by the Borrower to or for the account of a Lender other than on the last day of the Interest Period for such LIBOR Loan as a result of a payment or conversion pursuant to Section 2.5, 2.6, 2.10, 5.1, 5.2 or 14.7, as a result of acceleration of the maturity of the Loans pursuant to Section 11 or for any other reason, (b) any Borrowing of LIBOR Loans is not made as a result of a withdrawn Notice of Borrowing, (c) any ABR Loan is not converted into a LIBOR Loan as a result of a withdrawn Notice of Conversion or Continuation, (d) any LIBOR Loan is not continued as an LIBOR Loan, as the case may be, as a result of a withdrawn Notice of Conversion or Continuation or (e) any prepayment of principal of any LIBOR Loan is not made as a result of a withdrawn notice of prepayment pursuant to Section 5.1 or 5.2, the Borrower shall, after receipt of a written request by such Lender (which request shall set forth in reasonable detail the basis for requesting such amount), pay to the Administrative Agent for the account of such Lender any amounts required to compensate such Lender for any additional losses, costs or expenses that such Lender may reasonably incur as a result of such payment, failure to convert, failure to continue or failure to prepay, including any loss, cost or expense (excluding loss of anticipated profits) actually incurred by reason of the liquidation or reemployment of deposits or other funds acquired by any Lender to fund or maintain such LIBOR Loan.

2.12 Change of Lending Office. Each Lender agrees that, upon the occurrence of any event giving rise to the operation of Section 2.10(a)(ii), 2.10(a)(iii), 2.10(b), 3.5 or 5.4 with respect to such Lender, it will, if requested by the Borrower use reasonable efforts (subject to overall policy considerations of such Lender) to designate another lending office for any Loans affected by such event, provided that such designation is made on such terms that such Lender and its lending office suffer no economic, legal or regulatory disadvantage, with the object of avoiding the consequence of the event giving rise to the operation of any such Section. Nothing in this Section 2.12 shall affect or postpone any of the obligations of the Borrower or the right of any Lender provided in Section 2.10, 3.5 or 5.4.

2.13 Notice of Certain Costs. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, to the extent any notice required by Section 2.10, 2.11, 3.5 or 5.4 is given by any Lender more than 180 days after such Lender has knowledge (or should have had knowledge) of the occurrence of the event giving rise to the additional cost, reduction in amounts, loss, tax or other additional amounts described in such Sections, such Lender shall not be entitled to compensation under Section 2.10, 2.11, 3.5 or 5.4, as the case may be, for any such amounts incurred or accruing prior to the 181st day prior to the giving of such notice to the Borrower; provided that if the event giving rise to such additional cost, reduction in amounts, loss, tax or other additional amounts has a retroactive effect, then the 180 day period referred to above shall be extended to include the period of retroactive effect thereof.

2.14 Incremental Facilities. (a) Borrower may by written notice to Administrative Agent elect to request the establishment of one or more increases in Revolving Credit Commitments (the "New Revolving Credit Commitments") by an aggregate amount (together with any New Term Loan Commitments obtained after the Closing Date) not in excess of the aggregate amounts permitted by clauses (w), (x) & (y) hereafter and not less than $10,000,000 individually (or such lesser amount which shall be approved by Administrative Agent). Each such notice shall specify the date (each, an "Increased Amount Date") on which the Borrower proposes that the New Revolving Credit Commitments shall be effective, which shall be a date not less than ten Business Days after the date on which such notice is delivered to Administrative Agent. The New Revolving Credit Commitments (together with any New Term Loan Commitments obtained after the Closing Date) shall not exceed the sum of: (w) up to $200,000,000 solely to the extent used to fund the exercise of the CanHCo Call Right (as defined under the Red Man Transaction Agreement as in effect on the date hereof) and the refinancing of certain indebtedness of Midfield Supply Co., plus (x) up to an additional $150,000,000, plus (y) only after the entire amount in the preceding clause (x) has been drawn, an amount such that on a Pro Forma Basis after giving effect to the borrowings to be made on the Increased Amount Date (which shall be deemed to be equal to the amount of the New Revolving Credit Commitments for the purposes of this clause (y)) and all Specified Transactions after the beginning of the relevant Test Period but prior to or simultaneous with such borrowing, the Secured Leverage Ratio shall equal or be less than 4.75 to 1.00; provided that any Lender offered or approached to provide all or a portion of the New Revolving Credit Commitments may elect or decline, in its sole discretion, to provide a New Revolving Credit Commitments. Such New Revolving Credit Commitments shall become effective, as of such Increased Amount Date; provided that (i) no Default or Event of Default shall exist on such Increased Amount Date before or after giving effect to such New Revolving Credit Commitments, as applicable; (ii) both before and after giving effect to the making of any New Revolving Loans, each of the conditions set forth in Section 7 shall be satisfied; (iii) Borrower and its Subsidiaries shall be in Pro Forma Compliance with the Borrowing Base as of the last day of the most recently ended fiscal quarter after giving effect to such New Revolving Credit Commitments and any Specified Transaction to be consummated in connection therewith; (iv) the New Revolving Credit Commitments shall be effected pursuant to one or more Joinder Agreements executed and delivered by the Borrower and Administrative Agent, and each of which shall be recorded in the Register and shall be subject to the requirements set forth in Section 5.4(d) and (e); (v) Borrower shall make any payments required pursuant to Section 2.11 in connection with the New Revolving Credit Commitments, as applicable; and (vi) Borrower shall deliver or cause to be delivered any legal opinions or other documents reasonably requested by Administrative Agent in connection with any such transaction.

(b) On any Increased Amount Date on which New Revolving Loan Commitments are effected, subject to the satisfaction of the foregoing terms and conditions, (i) each of the Lenders with Revolving Credit Commitments shall assign to each Lender with a New Revolving Credit Commitment (each, a "New Revolving Loan Lender") and each of the New Revolving Loan Lenders shall purchase from each of the Lenders with Revolving Credit Commitments, at the principal amount thereof (together with accrued interest), such interests in the Revolving Credit Loans outstanding on such Increased Amount Date as shall be necessary in order that, after giving effect to all such assignments and purchases, such Revolving Credit Loans will be held by existing Lenders with Revolving Credit Loans and New Revolving Loan Lenders ratably in accordance with their Revolving Credit Commitments after giving effect to the addition of such New Revolving Credit Commitments to the Revolving Credit Commitments, (ii) each New Revolving Credit Commitment shall be deemed for all purposes a Revolving Credit Commitment and each Loan made thereunder (a "New Revolving Loan") shall be deemed, for all purposes, a Revolving Credit Loan and (iii) each New Revolving Loan Lender shall become a Lender with respect to the New Revolving Loan Commitment and all matters relating thereto.

(c) [Intentionally Omitted].

(d) The terms and provisions of the New Revolving Loans and New Revolving Credit Commitments shall be identical to the Revolving Credit Loans and the Revolving Credit Commitments.

(e) Each Joinder Agreement may, without the consent of any other Lenders, effect such amendments to this Agreement and the other Credit Documents as may be necessary or appropriate, in the opinion of the Administrative Agent, to effect the provision of this Section 2.14.

2.15 Protective Advances. (a) Subject to the limitations set forth below, the Administrative Agent is authorized by the Borrower and the Lenders, from time to time in the Administrative Agent's sole discretion (but shall have absolutely no obligation to), to make Loans to the Borrower, on behalf of all Lenders, which the Administrative Agent, in its Permitted Discretion, deems necessary or desirable (i) to preserve or protect the Collateral or any portion thereof or (ii) to enhance the likelihood of, or maximize the amount of, repayment of the Loans and other Obligations (any of such Loans are herein referred to as "Protective Advances"); provided that no Protective Advance shall cause the aggregate amount of the Lenders' Revolving Credit Exposures at such time exceed the Total Revolving Credit Commitment then in effect; provided further that, the aggregate amount of Protective Advances outstanding at any time pursuant to clauses (i) and (ii) above shall not exceed an amount equal to five percent (5%) of the Total Revolving Credit Commitment then in effect. Protective Advances may be made even if the conditions precedent set forth in Section 7 have not been satisfied. The Protective Advances shall be secured by the Liens in favor of the Collateral Agent in and to the Collateral and shall constitute Obligations hereunder. All Protective Advances shall be ABR Borrowings. The Administrative Agent's authorization to make Protective Advances may be revoked at any time by the Required Lenders. Any such revocation must be in writing and shall become effective prospectively upon the Administrative Agent's receipt thereof. At any time that there is sufficient Excess Availability and the conditions precedent set forth in Section 7 have been satisfied, the Administrative Agent may request the Lenders to make a Revolving Loan to repay a Protective Advance. At any other time the Administrative Agent may require the Lenders to fund their risk participations described in Section 2.15(b).

(b) Upon the making of a Protective Advance by the Administrative Agent (whether before or after the occurrence of a Default or Event of Default), each Lender shall be deemed, without further action by any party hereto, to have unconditionally and irrevocably purchased from the Administrative Agent without recourse or warranty, an undivided interest and participation in such Protective Advance in proportion to its Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage. Each Lender shall transfer (a "Transfer") the amount of such Lender's Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of the outstanding principal amount of the applicable Protective Advance with respect to such purchased interest and participation promptly when requested to the Administrative Agent, to such account of the Administrative Agent as the Administrative Agent may designate, but in any case not later than 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Business Day notified (if notice is provided by the Administrative Agent prior to 12:00 p.m. New York City time, and otherwise on the immediately following Business Day (the "Transfer Date"). Transfers may occur during the existence of a Default or Event of Default and whether or not the applicable conditions precedent set forth in Section 7 have then been satisfied. Such amounts transferred to the Administrative Agent shall be applied against the amount of the Protective Advance and, together with Lender's Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of such Protective Advance, shall constitute Loans of such Lenders, respectively. If any such amount is not transferred to the Administrative Agent by any Lender on such Transfer Date, the Administrative Agent shall be entitled to recover such amount on demand from such Lender together with interest thereon as specified in Section 2.08. From and after the date, if any, on which any Lender is required to fund, and funds, its participation in any Protective Advance purchased hereunder, the Administrative Agent shall promptly distribute to such Lender, such Lender's Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of all payments of principal and interest and all proceeds of Collateral received by the Administrative Agent in respect of such Protective Advance.

SECTION 3. Letters of Credit

3.1 Letters of Credit. (a) Subject to and upon the terms and conditions herein set forth, at any time and from time to time after the Closing Date and prior to the L/C Maturity Date, the Letter of Credit Issuer agrees to issue upon the request of, and for the benefit of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries letters of credit in Dollars (the "Letters of Credit" and each, a "Letter of Credit") in such form as may be approved by the Letter of Credit Issuer in its reasonable discretion; provided that the Borrower shall be a co-applicant, and jointly and severally liable with respect to, each Letter of Credit issued for the account of a Restricted Subsidiary.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) no Letter of Credit shall be issued the Stated Amount of which, when added to the Letters of Credit Outstanding at such time, would exceed the Letter of Credit Commitment then in effect; (ii) no Letter of Credit shall be issued the Stated Amount of which would cause the aggregate amount of the Lender's Revolving Credit Exposures at such time to exceed the lesser of the Total Revolving Credit Commitment and the Borrowing Base then in effect; (iii) each Letter of Credit shall have an expiration date occurring no later than one year after the date of issuance thereof, unless otherwise agreed upon by the Administrative Agent and the Letter of Credit Issuer; provided, that (x) that in no event shall such expiration date occur later than the L/C Maturity Date and (y) each Letter of Credit may, upon the request of the Borrower, include a provision whereby such Letter of Credit shall be renewed automatically for additional consecutive periods of twelve (12) months or less (but not beyond the L/C Maturity Date); (iv) each Letter of Credit shall be denominated in Dollars; (v) no Letter of Credit shall be issued if it would be illegal under any applicable law for the beneficiary of the Letter of Credit to have a Letter of Credit issued in its favor; (vi) no Letter of Credit shall be issued if such Letter of Credit is not in form reasonably acceptable to the Letter of Credit Issuer, and (vii) no Letter of Credit shall be issued by a Letter of Credit Issuer after it has received a written notice from any Credit Party or any Lender stating that a Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing until such time as the Letter of Credit Issuer shall have received a written notice of (x) rescission of such notice from the party or parties originally delivering such notice or (y) the waiver of such Default or Event of Default in accordance with the provisions of Section 14.1.

(b) Upon at least one Business Day's prior written notice (or telephonic notice promptly confirmed in writing) to the Administrative Agent and the Letter of Credit Issuer (which notice the Administrative Agent shall promptly transmit to each of the applicable Lenders), the Borrower shall have the right, on any day, permanently to terminate or reduce the Letter of Credit Commitment in whole or in part, provided that, after giving effect to such termination or reduction, the Letters of Credit Outstanding shall not exceed the Letter of Credit Commitment.

(c) Except as otherwise agreed between the Borrower and the Letter of Credit Issuer, each Letter of Credit (other than each standby Letter of Credit), shall be subject to the Uniform Customs and Practice for Documentary Credits (1993 Revision), International Chamber of Commerce Publication No. 500, as from time to time amended, and to the extent not inconsistent therewith, shall also be subject to the New York Uniform Commercial Code as in effect from time to time. Except as otherwise agreed between the Borrower and the Letter of Credit Issuer, each standby Letter of Credit shall be subject to The International Standby Practices (ISP98 – International Chamber of Commerce Publication No. 590), as from time to time amended, and to the extent not inconsistent therewith, shall also be subject to the New York Uniform Commercial Code as in effect from time to time.

(d) The parties hereto agree that the Existing Letters of Credit shall be deemed Letters of Credit for all purposes under this Agreement, without any further action by the Borrower.

3.2 Letter of Credit Requests. (a) Whenever the Borrower desires that a Letter of Credit be issued for its account, it shall give the Administrative Agent and the Letter of Credit Issuer at least five (or such lesser number as may be agreed upon by the Administrative Agent and the Letter of Credit Issuer) Business Days' written notice thereof. Each notice shall be executed by the Borrower and shall be in the form of Exhibit H (each a "Letter of Credit Request"). The Administrative Agent shall promptly transmit copies of each Letter of Credit Request to each Lender.

(b) The making of each Letter of Credit Request shall be deemed to be a representation and warranty by the Borrower that the Letter of Credit may be issued in accordance with, and will not violate the requirements of, Section 3.1(b).

3.3 Letter of Credit Participations. (a) Immediately upon the issuance by the Letter of Credit Issuer of any Letter of Credit (and on the Closing Date in respect of Existing Letters of Credit), the Letter of Credit Issuer shall be deemed to have sold and transferred to each other

Lender (each such other Lender, in its capacity under this Section 3.3, an "L/C Participant"), and each such L/C Participant shall be deemed irrevocably and unconditionally to have purchased and received from the Letter of Credit Issuer, without recourse or warranty, an undivided interest and participation (each an "L/C Participation"), to the extent of such L/C Participant's Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage in such Letter of Credit, each substitute letter of credit, each drawing made thereunder and the obligations of the Borrower under this Agreement with respect thereto, and any security therefor or guaranty pertaining thereto; provided that the Letter of Credit Fees will be paid directly to the Administrative Agent for the ratable account of the L/C Participants as provided in Section 4.1(b) and the L/C Participants shall have no right to receive any portion of any Fronting Fees.

(b) In determining whether to pay under any Letter of Credit, the relevant Letter of Credit Issuer shall have no obligation relative to the L/C Participants other than to confirm that any documents required to be delivered under such Letter of Credit have been delivered and that they appear to comply on their face with the requirements of such Letter of Credit. Any action taken or omitted to be taken by the relevant Letter of Credit Issuer under or in connection with any Letter of Credit issued by it, if taken or omitted in the absence of gross negligence or willful misconduct, shall not create for the Letter of Credit Issuer any resulting liability.

(c) In the event that the Letter of Credit Issuer makes any payment under any Letter of Credit issued by it and the Borrower shall not have repaid such amount in full to the respective Letter of Credit Issuer pursuant to Section 3.4(a), the Letter of Credit Issuer shall promptly notify the Administrative Agent and each applicable L/C Participant of such failure, and each such L/C Participant shall promptly and unconditionally pay to the Administrative Agent for the account of the Letter of Credit Issuer, the amount of such L/C Participant's Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of such unreimbursed payment in Dollars and in immediately available funds; provided, however, that no L/C Participant shall be obligated to pay to the Administrative Agent for the account of the respective Letter of Credit Issuer its Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of such unreimbursed amount arising from any wrongful payment made by the Letter of Credit Issuer under a Letter of Credit as a result of acts or omissions constituting willful misconduct or gross negligence on the part of the Letter of Credit Issuer. If the Letter of Credit Issuer so notifies, prior to 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on any Business Day, any L/C Participant required to fund a payment under a Letter of Credit, such L/C Participant shall make available to the Administrative Agent for the account of the Letter of Credit Issuer such L/C Participant's Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of the amount of such payment on such Business Day in immediately available funds. If and to the extent such L/C Participant shall not have so made its Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of the amount of such payment available to the Administrative Agent for the account of the Letter of Credit Issuer, such L/C Participant agrees to pay to the Administrative Agent for the account of the Letter of Credit Issuer, forthwith on demand, such amount, together with interest thereon for each day from such date until the date such amount is paid to the Administrative Agent for the account of the Letter of Credit Issuer at the Federal Funds Effective Rate. The failure of any L/C Participant to make available to the Administrative Agent for the account of the Letter of Credit Issuer its Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of any payment under any Letter of Credit shall not relieve any other L/C Participant of its obligation hereunder to make available to the Administrative Agent for the account of the Letter of Credit Issuer its Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of any payment under such Letter of Credit on the date required, as specified above, but no L/C

Participant shall be responsible for the failure of any other L/C Participant to make available to the Administrative Agent such other L/C Participant's Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of any such payment.

(d) Whenever the Letter of Credit Issuer receives a payment in respect of an unpaid reimbursement obligation as to which the Administrative Agent has received for the account of the Letter of Credit Issuer any payments from the L/C Participants pursuant to paragraph (c) above, the Letter of Credit Issuer shall pay to the Administrative Agent and the Administrative Agent shall promptly pay to each L/C Participant that has paid its Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of such reimbursement obligation, in Dollars and in immediately available funds, an amount equal to such L/C Participant's share (based upon the proportionate aggregate amount originally funded by such L/C Participant to the aggregate amount funded by all L/C Participants) of the principal amount of such reimbursement obligation and interest thereon accruing after the purchase of the respective L/C Participations.

(e) The obligations of the L/C Participants to make payments to the Administrative Agent for the account of a Letter of Credit Issuer with respect to Letters of Credit shall be irrevocable and not subject to counterclaim, set-off or other defense or any other qualification or exception whatsoever and shall be made in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement under all circumstances, including under any of the following circumstances:

(i) any lack of validity or enforceability of this Agreement or any of the other Credit Documents;

(ii) the existence of any claim, set-off, defense or other right that the Borrower may have at any time against a beneficiary named in a Letter of Credit, any transferee of any Letter of Credit (or any Person for whom any such transferee may be acting), the Administrative Agent, the Letter of Credit Issuer, any Lender or other Person, whether in connection with this Agreement, any Letter of Credit, the transactions contemplated herein or any unrelated transactions (including any underlying transaction between the Borrower and the beneficiary named in any such Letter of Credit);

(iii) any draft, certificate or any other document presented under any Letter of Credit proving to be forged, fraudulent, invalid or insufficient in any respect or any statement therein being untrue or inaccurate in any respect;

(iv) the surrender or impairment of any security for the performance or observance of any of the terms of any of the Credit Documents; or

(v) the occurrence of any Default or Event of Default; provided, however, that no L/C Participant shall be obligated to pay to the Administrative Agent for the account of the Letter of Credit Issuer its Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of any unreimbursed amount arising from any wrongful payment made by the Letter of Credit Issuer under a Letter of Credit as a result of acts or omissions constituting willful misconduct or gross negligence on the part of the Letter of Credit Issuer.

3.4 Agreement to Repay Letter of Credit Drawings. (a) The Borrower hereby agrees to reimburse the relevant Letter of Credit Issuer, by making payment in Dollars to the Administrative Agent in immediately available funds for any payment or disbursement made by the Letter of Credit Issuer under any Letter of Credit (each such amount so paid until reimbursed, an "Unpaid Drawing") no later than the date that is one Business Day after the date on which the Borrower receives notice of such payment or reimbursement (the "Reimbursement Date"), with interest on the amount so paid or disbursed by the Letter of Credit Issuer, to the extent not reimbursed prior to 5:00 p.m. (New York City time) on the Reimbursement Date, from and including the Reimbursement Date to but excluding the date the Letter of Credit Issuer is reimbursed therefor at a rate per annum that shall at all times be the Applicable ABR Margin plus the ABR as in effect from time to time, provided that, notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, (i) unless the Borrower shall have notified the Administrative Agent and the relevant Letter of Credit Issuer prior to 10:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the Reimbursement Date that the Borrower intends to reimburse the relevant Letter of Credit Issuer for the amount of such drawing with funds other than the proceeds of Loans, the Borrower shall be deemed to have given a Notice of Borrowing requesting that, with respect to Letters of Credit, the Lenders with Revolving Credit Commitments make Revolving Credit Loans (which shall be ABR Loans) on the Reimbursement Date in the amount of such drawing and (ii) the Administrative Agent shall promptly notify each relevant L/C Participant of such drawing and the amount of its Revolving Credit Loan to be made in respect thereof, and each L/C Participant shall be irrevocably obligated to make a Revolving Credit Loan to the Borrower in the manner deemed to have been requested in the amount of its Revolving Credit Commitment Percentage of the applicable Unpaid Drawing by 12:00 noon (New York City time) on such Reimbursement Date by making the amount of such Revolving Credit Loan available to the Administrative Agent. Such Revolving Credit Loans shall be made without regard to the Minimum Borrowing Amount. The Administrative Agent shall use the proceeds of such Revolving Credit Loans solely for purpose of reimbursing the Letter of Credit Issuer for the related Unpaid Drawing.

(b) (i) The obligations of the Borrower under this Section 3.4 to reimburse the Letter of Credit Issuer with respect to Unpaid Drawings (including, in each case, interest thereon) shall be absolute and unconditional under any and all circumstances and irrespective of any set-off, counterclaim or defense to payment that the Borrower or any other Person may have or have had against the Letter of Credit Issuer, the Administrative Agent or any Lender (including in its capacity as an L/C Participant), including any defense based upon the failure of any drawing under a Letter of Credit (each a "Drawing") to conform to the terms of the Letter of Credit or any non-application or misapplication by the beneficiary of the proceeds of such Drawing, provided that the Borrower shall not be obligated to reimburse the Letter of Credit Issuer for any wrongful payment made by the Letter of Credit Issuer under the Letter of Credit issued by it as a result of acts or omissions constituting willful misconduct or gross negligence on the part of the Letter of Credit Issuer.

(ii) The Borrower further agrees with the Letter of Credit Issuer that the Letter of Credit Issuer shall not be responsible for, and the Borrower's reimbursement obligations under Section 3.4 shall not be affected by, among other things, (A) the validity or genuineness of documents or of any endorsements thereon, even though such documents shall in fact prove to be invalid, fraudulent or forged, (B) any dispute between or among the Borrower and any beneficiary of any Letter of Credit or any other party to which such Letter of Credit may be transferred, (C) any claims whatsoever of the Borrower against any beneficiary of such Letter of Credit or any such transferee, or (D) any change in the time, manner or place of payment of, or in any other term of, all or any of the Obligations of the Borrower in respect of any Letter of Credit or any other amendment or waiver of or any consent to departure from the terms of any Letter of Credit or any document executed or delivered in connection with the issuance or payment thereof

3.5 Increased Costs. If after the date hereof, the adoption of any applicable law, rule or regulation, or any change therein, or any change in the interpretation or administration thereof by any Governmental Authority, central bank or comparable agency charged with the interpretation or administration thereof, or actual compliance by the Letter of Credit Issuer or any L/C Participant with any request or directive made or adopted after the date hereof (whether or not having the force of law), by any such authority, central bank or comparable agency shall either (a) impose, modify or make applicable any reserve, deposit, capital adequacy or similar requirement against letters of credit issued by the Letter of Credit Issuer, or any L/C Participant's L/C Participation therein, or (b) impose on the Letter of Credit Issuer or any L/C Participant any other conditions affecting its obligations under this Agreement in respect of Letters of Credit or L/C Participations therein or any Letter of Credit or such L/C Participant's L/C Participation therein, and the result of any of the foregoing is to increase the cost to the Letter of Credit Issuer or such L/C Participant of issuing, maintaining or participating in any Letter of Credit, or to reduce the amount of any sum received or receivable by the Letter of Credit Issuer or such L/C Participant hereunder (other than any such increase or reduction attributable to taxes) in respect of Letters of Credit or L/C Participations therein, then, promptly after receipt of written demand to the Borrower by the Letter of Credit Issuer or such L/C Participant, as the case may be, (a copy of which notice shall be sent by the Letter of Credit Issuer or such L/C Participant to the Administrative Agent (with respect to Letter of Credit issued on account of the Borrower)) the Borrower shall pay to the Letter of Credit Issuer or such L/C Participant such additional amount or amounts as will compensate the Letter of Credit Issuer or such L/C Participant for such increased cost or reduction, it being understood and agreed, however, that the Letter of Credit Issuer or a L/C Participant shall not be entitled to such compensation as a result of such Person's compliance with, or pursuant to any request or directive to comply with, any such law, rule or regulation as in effect on the date hereof. A certificate submitted to the Borrower by the relevant Letter of Credit Issuer or a L/C Participant, as the case may be, (a copy of which certificate shall be sent by the Letter of Credit Issuer or such L/C Participant to the Administrative Agent (with respect to Letters of Credit issued on account of the Borrower)) setting forth in reasonable detail the basis for the determination of such additional amount or amounts necessary to compensate the Letter of Credit Issuer or such L/C Participant as aforesaid shall be conclusive and binding on the Borrower absent clearly demonstrable error.

3.6 New or Successor Letter of Credit Issuer. (a) The Letter of Credit Issuer may resign as a Letter of Credit Issuer upon 60 days' prior written notice to the Administrative Agent, the Lenders and the Borrower. The Borrower may replace the Letter of Credit Issuer for any reason upon written notice to the Administrative Agent and the Letter of Credit Issuer. The Borrower may add Letter of Credit Issuers at any time upon notice to the Administrative Agent. If the Letter of Credit Issuer shall resign or be replaced, or if the Borrower shall decide to add a new Letter of Credit Issuer under this Agreement, then the Borrower may appoint from among the Lenders a successor issuer of Letters of Credit or a new Letter of Credit Issuer, as the case may be, or, with the consent of the Administrative Agent (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld), another successor or new issuer of Letters of Credit, whereupon such successor issuer shall succeed to the rights, powers and duties of the replaced or resigning Letter of Credit Issuer under this Agreement and the other Credit Documents, or such new issuer of Letters of Credit shall be granted the rights, powers and duties of a Letter of Credit Issuer hereunder, and the term "Letter of Credit Issuer" shall mean such successor or such new issuer of Letters of Credit effective upon such appointment. At the time such resignation or replacement shall become effective, the Borrower shall pay to the resigning or replaced Letter of Credit Issuer all accrued and unpaid fees pursuant to Sections 4.1(c) and 4.1(d). The acceptance of any appointment as a Letter of Credit Issuer hereunder whether as a successor issuer or new issuer of Letters of Credit in accordance with this Agreement, shall be evidenced by an agreement entered into by such new or successor issuer of Letters of Credit, in a form satisfactory to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent and, from and after the effective date of such agreement, such new or successor issuer of Letters of Credit shall become a "Letter of Credit Issuer" hereunder. After the resignation or replacement of a Letter of Credit Issuer hereunder, the resigning or replaced Letter of Credit Issuer shall remain a party hereto and shall continue to have all the rights and obligations of a Letter of Credit Issuer under this Agreement and the other Credit Documents with respect to Letters of Credit issued by it prior to such resignation or replacement, but shall not be required to issue additional Letters of Credit. In connection with any resignation or replacement pursuant to this clause (a) (but, in case of any such resignation, only to the extent that a successor issuer of Letters of Credit shall have been appointed), either (i) the Borrower, the resigning or replaced Letter of Credit Issuer and the successor issuer of Letters of Credit shall arrange to have any outstanding Letters of Credit issued by the resigning or replaced Letter of Credit Issuer replaced with Letters of Credit issued by the successor issuer of Letters of Credit or (ii) the Borrower shall cause the successor issuer of Letters of Credit, if such successor issuer is reasonably satisfactory to the replaced or resigning Letter of Credit Issuer, to issue "back-stop" Letters of Credit naming the resigning or replaced Letter of Credit Issuer as beneficiary for each outstanding Letter of Credit issued by the resigning or replaced Letter of Credit Issuer, which new Letters of Credit shall have a face amount equal to the Letters of Credit being back-stopped and the sole requirement for drawing on such new Letters of Credit shall be a drawing on the corresponding back-stopped Letters of Credit. After any resigning or replaced Letter of Credit Issuer's resignation or replacement as Letter of Credit Issuer, the provisions of this Agreement relating to a Letter of Credit Issuer shall inure to its benefit as to any actions taken or omitted to be taken by it (A) while it was a Letter of Credit Issuer under this Agreement or (B) at any time with respect to Letters of Credit issued by such Letter of Credit Issuer.

(b) To the extent that there are, at the time of any resignation or replacement as set forth in clause (a) above, any outstanding Letters of Credit, nothing herein shall be deemed to impact or impair any rights and obligations of any of the parties hereto with respect to such outstanding Letters of Credit (including, without limitation, any obligations related to the payment of Fees or the reimbursement or funding of amounts drawn), except that the Borrower, the resigning or replaced Letter of Credit Issuer and the successor issuer of Letters of Credit shall have the obligations regarding outstanding Letters of Credit described in clause (a) above.

3.7 Role of the Letter of Credit Issuer. (a) The responsibility of the Letter of Credit Issuer to the Borrower in connection with any draft presented for payment under any Letter of Credit shall, in addition to any payment obligation expressly provided for in such Letter of Credit, be limited to determining that the documents (including each draft) delivered under such

Letter of Credit in connection with such presentment are in conformity with such Letter of Credit. In addition, each Lender and the Borrower agree that, in paying any drawing or demand for payment under any Letter of Credit, the Letter of Credit Issuer of such Letter of Credit shall not have any responsibility to inquire as to the validity or accuracy of any document presented in connection with such drawing or demand for payment or the authority of the Person executing or delivering the same. In determining whether to pay under any Letter of Credit, the relevant Letter of Credit Issuer shall have no obligation relative to the Borrower other than to confirm that any documents required to be delivered under such Letter of Credit have been delivered and that they appear to comply on their face with the requirements of such Letter of Credit. Any action taken or omitted to be taken by the relevant Letter of Credit Issuer under or in connection with any Letter of Credit issued by it, if taken or omitted in the absence of gross negligence or willful misconduct, shall not create for the Letter of Credit Issuer any resulting liability.

(b) Neither the Letter of Credit Issuer nor any of the respective correspondents, participants or assignees of the Letter of Credit Issuer shall be liable to any Lender for: (i) any action taken or omitted in connection herewith in respect of any Letter of Credit at the request or with the approval or deemed approval of the Required Lenders; (ii) any action taken or omitted in respect of any Letter of Credit in the absence of gross negligence or willful misconduct; or (iii) the due execution, effectiveness, validity or enforceability of any Letter of Credit or any document delivered in connection with the issuance or payment of such Letter of Credit.

SECTION 4. Fees; Commitments

4.1 Fees. (a) (i) The Borrower agrees to pay to the Administrative Agent in Dollars, for the account of each Lender (in each case pro rata according to the respective Revolving Credit Commitments of all such Lenders), a commitment fee for each day from and including the Closing Date to but excluding the Revolving Credit Termination Date. Such commitment fee shall be payable in arrears (x) on the last day of each March, June, September and December (for the three-month period (or portion thereof) ended on such day for which no payment has been received) and (y) on the Revolving Credit Termination Date (for the period ended on such date for which no payment has been received pursuant to clause (x) above), and shall be computed for each day during such period at a rate per annum equal to the Commitment Fee Rate in effect on such day on the Available Commitments in effect on such day.

(ii) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Borrower shall not be obligated to pay any amounts to any Defaulting Lender pursuant to this Section 4.1.

(b) The Borrower agrees to pay to the Administrative Agent in Dollars for the account of the Lenders pro rata on the basis of their respective Letter of Credit Exposure, a fee in respect of each Letter of Credit (the "Letter of Credit Fee"), for the period from and including the date of issuance of such Letter of Credit to but excluding the termination date of such Letter of Credit computed at the per annum rate for each day equal to the Applicable LIBOR Margin for Revolving Credit Loans minus 0.125% per annum on the average daily Stated Amount of such Letter of Credit. Such Letter of Credit Fees shall be due and payable quarterly in arrears on the last day of each March, June, September and December and on the date upon which the Total Revolving Credit Commitment terminates and the Letters of Credit Outstanding shall have been reduced to zero.

(c) The Borrower agrees to pay to the Administrative Agent in Dollars for the account of the Letter of Credit Issuer a fee in respect of each Letter of Credit issued by it (the "Fronting Fee"), for the period from and including the date of issuance of such Letter of Credit to but excluding the termination date of such Letter of Credit, computed at the rate for each day equal to 0.125% per annum on the average daily Stated Amount of such Letter of Credit (or at such other rate per annum as agreed in writing between the Borrower and the Letter of Credit Issuer). Such Fronting Fees shall be due and payable quarterly in arrears on the last day of each March, June, September and December and on the date upon which the Total Revolving Credit Commitment terminates and the Letters of Credit Outstanding shall have been reduced to zero.

(d) The Borrower agrees to pay directly to the Letter of Credit Issuer in Dollars upon each issuance of, drawing under, and/or amendment of, a Letter of Credit issued by it such amount as the Letter of Credit Issuer and the Borrower shall have agreed upon for issuances of, drawings under or amendments of, letters of credit issued by it.

(e) The Borrower agrees to pay to each of the Co-Collateral Agents, for its own account, fees in the amounts and at the times set forth in the Co-Collateral Agent Fee Letters.

4.2 Voluntary Reduction of Revolving Credit Commitments. Upon at least one Business Day's prior written notice (or telephonic notice promptly confirmed in writing) to the Administrative Agent at the Administrative Agent's Office (which notice the Administrative Agent shall promptly transmit to each of the Lenders), the Borrower (on behalf of itself) shall have the right, without premium or penalty, on any day, permanently to terminate or reduce the Revolving Credit Commitments in whole or in part, provided that (a) any such reduction shall apply proportionately and permanently to reduce the Revolving Credit Commitment of each of the Lenders, (b) any partial reduction pursuant to this Section 4.2 shall be in the amount of at least $5,000,000 and (c) after giving effect to such termination or reduction and to any prepayments of the Loans made on the date thereof in accordance with this Agreement, the aggregate amount of the Lenders' Revolving Credit Exposures shall not exceed the lesser of the Total Revolving Credit Commitment and the Borrowing Base then in effect.

4.3 Mandatory Termination of Commitments. (a) [Intentionally Omitted.]

(b) The Total Revolving Credit Commitment shall terminate at 5:00 p.m. (New York City time) on the Revolving Credit Maturity Date.

(c) The Swingline Commitment shall terminate at 5:00 p.m. (New York City time) on the Swingline Maturity Date.

SECTION 5. Payments

5.1 Voluntary Prepayments. The Borrower shall have the right to prepay Revolving Credit Loans and Swingline Loans, in each case, without premium or penalty, in whole or in part from time to time on the following terms and conditions: (a) the Borrower shall give the Administrative Agent and at the Administrative Agent's Office written notice (or telephonic notice promptly confirmed in writing) of its intent to make such prepayment, the amount of such prepayment and (in the case of LIBOR Loans) the specific Borrowing(s) pursuant to which made, which notice shall be given by the Borrower no later than (i) in the case of a LIBOR Loans, 12:00 noon (New York City time) three Business Days prior to or (ii) in the case of ABR Loans, 12:00 noon (New York City time) on, the date of such prepayment and shall promptly be transmitted by the Administrative Agent to each of the Lenders or the Swingline Lender, as the case may be; (b) each partial prepayment of any Borrowing of Revolving Credit Loans shall be in a multiple of $100,000 and in an aggregate principal amount of at least $1,000,000 and each partial prepayment of Swingline Loans shall be in a multiple of $10,000 and in an aggregate principal amount of at least $250,000, provided that no partial prepayment of LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans made pursuant to a single Borrowing shall reduce the outstanding LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans made pursuant to such Borrowing to an amount less than the Minimum Borrowing Amount for LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans and (c) any prepayment of LIBOR Revolving Credit Loans pursuant to this Section 5.1 on any day other than the last day of an Interest Period applicable thereto shall be subject to compliance by the Borrower with the applicable provisions of Section 2.11. At the Borrower's election in connection with any prepayment pursuant to this Section 5.1, such prepayment shall not be applied to any Revolving Credit Loan of a Defaulting Lender.

5.2 Mandatory Prepayments. (a) [Intentionally Omitted].

(b) Repayment of Revolving Credit Loans. If on any date the aggregate amount of the Lenders' Revolving Credit Exposures (all the foregoing, collectively, the "Aggregate Revolving Credit Outstandings") exceeds 100% of the Total Revolving Credit Commitment or the Borrowing Base as then in effect, the Borrower shall forthwith repay on such date first, the principal amount of all Protective Advances, second, after all Protective Advances have been paid in full, the principal amount of all Swingline Loans and third, after all Swingline Loans have been paid in full, Revolving Credit Loans in an amount equal to such excess. If, after giving effect to the prepayment of all outstanding Protective Advances, Swingline Loans and Revolving Credit Loans, the Aggregate Revolving Credit Outstandings exceed the Total Revolving Credit Commitment or Borrowing Base then in effect, the Borrower shall pay to the Administrative Agent an amount in cash equal to such excess and the Administrative Agent shall instruct the Collateral Agent to hold such payment for the benefit of the Lenders as security for the obligations of the Borrower hereunder (including obligations in respect of Letters of Credit Outstanding) pursuant to a cash collateral agreement to be entered into in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent (which shall permit certain Investments in Permitted Investments satisfactory to the Administrative Agent, until the proceeds are applied to the secured obligations).

(c) [Intentionally Omitted].

(d) [Intentionally Omitted].

(e) Application to Revolving Credit Loans. With respect to each prepayment of Revolving Credit Loans required by Section 5.2(b), the Borrower may designate (i) the Types of Loans that are to be prepaid and the specific Borrowing(s) pursuant to which made and (ii) the Revolving Credit Loans to be prepaid, provided that (y) each prepayment of any Loans made pursuant to a Borrowing shall be applied pro rata among such Loans; and (z) notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding clause (y), no prepayment made pursuant to Section 5.2(b) of Revolving Credit Loans shall be applied to the Revolving Credit Loans of any Defaulting Lender. In the absence of a designation by the Borrower as described in the preceding sentence, the Administrative Agent shall, subject to the above, make such designation in its reasonable discretion with a view, but no obligation, to minimize breakage costs owing under Section 2.11.

(f) LIBOR Interest Periods. In lieu of making any payment pursuant to this Section 5.2 in respect of any LIBOR Loan other than on the last day of the Interest Period therefor so long as no Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, the Borrower at its option may deposit with the Administrative Agent an amount equal to the amount of the LIBOR Loan to be prepaid and such LIBOR Loan shall be repaid on the last day of the Interest Period therefor in the required amount. Such deposit shall be held by the Administrative Agent in a corporate time deposit account established on terms reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent, earning interest at the then-customary rate for accounts of such type. Such deposit shall constitute cash collateral for the Obligations, provided that the Borrower may at any time direct that such deposit be applied to make the applicable payment required pursuant to this Section 5.2.

5.3 Method and Place of Payment. (a) Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, all payments under this Agreement shall be made by the Borrower, without set-off, counterclaim or deduction of any kind, to the Administrative Agent for the ratable account of the Lenders entitled thereto, the Letter of Credit Issuer or the Swingline Lender entitled thereto, as the case may be, not later than 12:00 Noon (New York City time) on the date when due and shall be made in immediately available funds at the Administrative Agent's Office or at such other office as the Administrative Agent shall specify for such purpose by notice to the Borrower, it being understood that written or facsimile notice by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent to make a payment from the funds in the Borrower's account at the Administrative Agent's Office shall constitute the making of such payment to the extent of such funds held in such account. All repayments or prepayments of Loans (whether of principal, interest or otherwise) hereunder shall be made in Dollars. The Administrative Agent will thereafter cause to be distributed on the same day (if payment was actually received by the Administrative Agent prior to 2:00 p.m. (New York City time) on such day) like funds relating to the payment of principal or interest or Fees ratably to the Lenders entitled thereto.

(b) Any payments under this Agreement that are made later than 2:00 p.m. (New York City time) shall be deemed to have been made on the next succeeding Business Day. Whenever any payment to be made hereunder shall be stated to be due on a day that is not a Business Day, the due date thereof shall be extended to the next succeeding Business Day and, with respect to payments of principal, interest shall be payable during such extension at the applicable rate in effect immediately prior to such extension.

5.4 Net Payments. (a) Any and all payments made by or on behalf of the Borrower or any Guarantor under this Agreement or any other Credit Document shall be made free and clear of, and without deduction or withholding for or on account of, any Indemnified Taxes; provided that if the Borrower or any Guarantor shall be required by law to deduct or withhold any Indemnified Taxes from such payments, then (i) the sum payable shall be increased as necessary so that after making all required deductions and withholdings (including deductions or withholdings applicable to additional sums payable under this Section 5.4) the Administrative Agent, the Collateral Agent, the Letter of Credit Issuer or any Lender, as the case may be, receives an amount equal to the sum it would have received had no such deductions or withholdings been made, (ii) the Borrower or any Guarantor shall make such deductions or withholdings and (iii) the Borrower or any Guarantor shall pay the full amount deducted or withheld to the relevant Governmental Authority in accordance with applicable law. Whenever any Indemnified Taxes are payable by the Borrower, as promptly as possible thereafter, the Borrower shall send to the Administrative Agent for its own account or for the account of such Lender, as the case may be, a certified copy of an original official receipt (or other evidence acceptable to such Lender, acting reasonably) received by the Borrower showing payment thereof.

(b) The Borrower shall pay and shall indemnify and hold harmless the Administrative Agent, the Collateral Agent, the Letter of Credit Issuer and each Lender with regard to any Other Taxes (whether or not such Other Taxes were correctly or legally imposed or asserted by the relevant Governmental Authority).

(c) The Borrower shall indemnify and hold harmless the Administrative Agent, the Collateral Agent, any Letter of Credit Issuer and each Lender within 15 Business Days after written demand therefor, for the full amount of any Indemnified Taxes imposed on, or paid by, the Administrative Agent, the Collateral Agent, the Letter of Credit Issuer or such Lender as the case may be, on or with respect to any payment by or on account of any obligation of Borrower or any Guarantor under this Agreement or under any other Credit Document (including Indemnified Taxes imposed or asserted on or attributable to amounts payable under this Section 5.4) and any reasonable expenses arising therefrom or with respect thereto, whether or not such Indemnified Taxes were correctly or legally imposed or asserted by the relevant Governmental Authority. A certificate as to the amount of such payment or liability delivered to the Borrower by a Lender or by the Administrative Agent, any Letter of Credit Issuer or the Collateral Agent on its own behalf or on behalf of a Lender shall be conclusive absent manifest error.

(d) Each Non-U.S. Lender making or acquiring a loan to the Borrower shall:

(i) deliver to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent two copies of either (x) in the case of a Non-U.S. Lender claiming exemption from U.S. federal withholding tax under Section 871(h) or 881(c) of the Code with respect to payments of "portfolio interest", United States Internal Revenue Service Form W-8BEN (together with a certificate representing that such Non-U.S. Lender is not a bank for purposes of Section 881(c) of the Code, is not a 10-percent shareholder (within the meaning of Section 871(h)(3)(B) of the Code) of the Borrower and is not a controlled foreign corporation related to the Borrower (within the meaning of Section 864(d)(4) of the Code)), (y) Internal Revenue Service Form W-8BEN or Form W-8ECI, or (z) Internal Revenue Service Form W-8IMY (together with the forms and certificates described in clauses (x) and (y), as appropriate), in each case properly completed and duly executed by such Non-U.S. Lender claiming complete exemption from, or reduced rate of, U.S. Federal withholding tax on payments by the Borrower under this Agreement; and

(ii) deliver to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent two further copies of any such form or certification (or any applicable successor form) on or before the date that any such form or certification expires or becomes obsolete and after the occurrence of any event requiring a change in the most recent form previously delivered by it to the Borrower; unless in any such case any Change in Law or other event has occurred prior to the date on which any such delivery would otherwise be required that renders any such form inapplicable or would prevent such Lender from duly completing and delivering any such form with respect to it and such Lender so advises the Borrower and the Administrative Agent. Each Person that shall become a Participant pursuant to Section 14.6 or a Lender pursuant to Section 14.6 shall, upon the effectiveness of the related transfer, be required to provide all the forms and statements required pursuant to this Section 5.4(d), provided that in the case of a Participant such Participant shall furnish all such required forms and statements to the Lender from which the related participation shall have been purchased.

(e) Each Lender that is entitled to an exemption from or reduction of non-U.S. withholding tax under the laws of the jurisdiction in which any Borrower or Guarantor is organized, or any treaty to which such jurisdiction is a party, with respect to payments under this Agreement or any other Credit Document by such Borrower or Guarantor shall deliver to such Borrower or Guarantor (with a copy to the Administrative Agent), as applicable, at the time or times prescribed by applicable law and reasonably requested by such Borrower or Guarantor, as applicable, such properly completed and executed documentation prescribed by applicable law as will permit such payments to be made without such withholding or at such reduced rate, provided that such Lender is legally entitled to complete, execute and deliver such documentation, such documentation is necessary in order for such exemption or reduction to apply and in such Lender's reasonable judgment the completion, execution or submission would not materially prejudice the legal position of the Lender. In addition, each Lender shall deliver such other documentation prescribed by applicable law and reasonably requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent (including an IRS Form W-8 or W-9) as will enable the Borrower or the Administrative Agent to determine whether such Lender is subject to United States backup withholding or information reporting requirements.

(f) If the Borrower determines in good faith that a reasonable basis exists for contesting any taxes for which indemnification has been demanded hereunder, the relevant Lender, the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent, as applicable, shall cooperate with the Borrower in a reasonable challenge of such taxes at the Borrower's expense if so requested by the Borrower. If any Lender, the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent, as applicable, receives a refund of a tax for which a payment has been made by the Borrower pursuant to this Agreement, which refund in the good faith judgment of such Lender, the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent, as the case may be, is attributable to such payment made by the Borrower, then the Lender, the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent, as the case may be, shall reimburse the Borrower for such amount (together with any interest received thereon) as the Lender, Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent, as the case may be, determines to be the proportion of the refund as will leave it, after such reimbursement, in no better or worse position (taking into account expenses or any taxes imposed on the refund) than it would have been in if the payment had not been required. A Lender, the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent shall claim any refund that it determines is available to it, unless it concludes in its reasonable discretion that it would be adversely affected by making such a claim. The Borrower, upon the request of the Lender, the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent, as applicable, agrees to repay the amount paid over to the Borrower to the Lender, the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent, as applicable, in the event the Lender, the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent, as applicable, is required to repay the refund to the Governmental Authority. Neither the Lender, the Administrative Agent nor the Collateral Agent shall be obliged to disclose any information regarding its tax affairs or computations to the Borrower in connection with this paragraph (f) or any other provision of this Section 5.4.

(g) The agreements in this Section 5.4 shall survive the termination of this Agreement and the payment of the Loans and all other amounts payable hereunder.

5.5 Computations of Interest and Fees. (a) Interest on LIBOR Loans and, except as provided in the next succeeding sentence, ABR Loans shall be calculated on the basis of a 360-day year for the actual days elapsed. Interest on ABR Loans in respect of which the rate of interest is calculated on the basis of the Prime Rate and interest on overdue interest shall be calculated on the basis of a 365- (or 366-, as the case may be) day year for the actual days elapsed.

(b) Fees and Letters of Credit Outstanding shall be calculated on the basis of a 365- (or 366-, as the case may be) day year for the actual days elapsed.

5.6 Limit on Rate of Interest.

(a) No Payment shall exceed Lawful Rate. Notwithstanding any other term of this Agreement, the Borrower shall not be obliged to pay any interest or other amounts under or in connection with this Agreement in excess of the amount or rate permitted under or consistent with any applicable law, rule or regulation.

(b) Payment at Highest Lawful Rate. If the Borrower is not obliged to make a payment which it would otherwise be required to make, as a result of Section 5.6(a), the Borrower shall make such payment to the maximum extent permitted by or consistent with applicable laws, rules and regulations.

(c) Adjustment if any Payment exceeds Lawful Rate. If any provision of this Agreement or any of the other Credit Documents would obligate the Borrower to make any payment of interest or other amount payable to any Lender in an amount or calculated at a rate which would be prohibited by any applicable law, rule or regulation, then notwithstanding such provision, such amount or rate shall be deemed to have been adjusted with retroactive effect to the maximum amount or rate of interest, as the case may be, as would not be so prohibited by law, such adjustment to be effected, to the extent necessary, by reducing the amount or rate of interest required to be paid by the Borrower to the affected Lender under Section 2.8.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, and after giving effect to all adjustments contemplated thereby, if any Lender shall have received from the Borrower an amount in excess of the maximum permitted by any applicable law, rule or regulation, then the Borrower shall be entitled, by notice in writing to the Administrative Agent to obtain reimbursement from that Lender in an amount equal to such excess, and pending such reimbursement, such amount shall be deemed to be an amount payable by that Lender to the Borrower.

SECTION 6. Conditions Precedent to Initial Borrowing

The initial Borrowing under this Agreement is subject to the satisfaction of the following conditions precedent, except as otherwise agreed between the Borrower and the Administrative Agent.

6.1 Credit Documents. The Administrative Agent shall have received:

(a) this Agreement, executed and delivered by a duly authorized officer of the Borrower and each Lender;

(b) the Guarantee, executed and delivered by a duly authorized officer of each Guarantor;

(c) the Security Agreement, executed and delivered by a duly authorized officer of each grantor party thereto; and

(d) the Intercreditor Agreement, executed and delivered by a duly authorized officer of each Credit Party, the Collateral Agent and Lehman Commercial Paper Inc., as collateral agent under the Term Loan Credit Agreement.

6.2 [Reserved].

(b) All documents and instruments, including Uniform Commercial Code or other applicable personal property and fixture security financing statements, required by law or reasonably requested by the Collateral Agent, as applicable, to be filed, registered or recorded to create the Liens intended to be created by the Security Agreement and perfect such Liens to the extent required by, and with the priority required by, the Security Agreement shall have been filed, registered or recorded or delivered to the Collateral Agent for filing, registration or recording (except those to be filed, registered, recorded or delivered pursuant to Section 9.17(c)).

(c) [Intentionally Omitted].

(d) The Borrower shall deliver to the Collateral Agent a completed Perfection Certificate, executed and delivered by an Authorized Officer of the Borrower, together with all attachments contemplated thereby.

6.3 Legal Opinions. The Administrative Agent shall have received the executed legal opinions of (a) Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP, special New York counsel to the Borrower, substantially in the form of Exhibit I-1 and (b) local counsel to the Borrower in certain jurisdictions as may be reasonably requested by the Administrative Agent, substantially in the form(s) of Exhibit I-2. The Borrower, the other Credit Parties and the Administrative Agent hereby instruct such counsel to deliver such legal opinions.

6.4 First Amendment to Term Loan Credit Agreement and Intercreditor Agreement. The Borrower shall deliver to the Collateral Agent a fully-executed copy of the First Amendment to Term Loan Credit Agreement and the Intercreditor Agreement.

6.5 Equity Investments; Existing Indebtedness. (a) Equity Investments in an amount equal to not less than the Minimum Equity Investment Amount shall have been made and (b) after giving effect to the Transactions, the Borrower and its Subsidiaries shall have no outstanding Indebtedness other than (A) the loans and other extensions of credit under the Revolving Credit Loans and the Term Loans and (B) other Indebtedness listed on Schedule 10.1.

6.6 Closing Certificates. The Administrative Agent shall have received a certificate of each Credit Party, dated the Closing Date, substantially in the form of Exhibit J, with appropriate insertions, executed by the President or any Vice President and the Secretary or any Assistant Secretary of such Credit Party, and attaching the documents referred to in Section 6.7.

6.7 Organizational Documents; Incumbency. The Administrative Agent shall have received a copy of (a) each Organizational Document of each Credit Party certified, to the extent applicable, as of a recent date by the applicable Governmental Authority, (b) signature and incumbency certificates of the Authorized Officers of each Credit Party executing the Credit Documents to which it is a party; (c) resolutions of the Board of Directors or similar governing body of each Credit Party (A) approving and authorizing the execution, delivery and performance of Credit Documents to which it is a party and (B) in the case of the Borrower, the extensions of credit contemplated hereunder, certified as of the Closing Date by its secretary or an assistant secretary as being in full force and effect without modification or amendment and (d) a good standing certificate from the applicable Governmental Authority of each Credit Party's jurisdiction of incorporation, organization or formation.

6.8 Fees. The Co-Lead Arrangers and the Collateral Agent shall have received the fees to be received on the Closing Date set forth in the Fee Letter and the Collateral Agent Fee Letter, respectively. The Lenders shall have received the fees in the amounts previously agreed in writing by the Agents and such Lenders to be received on the Closing Date and all expenses (including the reasonable fees, disbursements and other charges of counsel) for which invoices have been presented prior to the Closing Date shall have been paid.

6.9 Representations and Warranties. On the Closing Date, the representations and warranties made by the Credit Parties in Section 8.2, 8.3(a), Section 8.5 and Section 8.7, as they relate to the Credit Parties at such time, shall be true and correct in all material respects.

6.10 Related Agreements. Administrative Agent shall have received a fully executed or conformed copy of the Red Man Transaction Agreement which shall be in full force and effect.

6.11 Solvency Certificate. On the Closing Date, Administrative Agent shall have received a certificate from an Authorized Officer of the Borrower, with appropriate attachments and demonstrating that after giving effect to the consummation of the Transactions, the Borrower on a consolidated basis with its Subsidiaries is Solvent.

6.12 Historical Financial Statements. Lenders shall have received the Historical Financial Statements.

6.13 Red Man Transaction. Concurrently with the initial Credit Event made hereunder, the Red Man Transaction shall have been consummated in accordance with the terms of the Red Man Transaction Agreement, without giving effect to any amendments or waivers thereto that are materially adverse to the Lenders without the reasonable consent of the Agents.

6.14 Insurance. Certificates of insurance evidencing the existence of insurance to be maintained by the Borrower pursuant to Section 9.3 and, if applicable, the designation of the Collateral Agent as an additional insured and loss payee as its interest may appear thereunder, or solely as the additional insured, as the case may be, thereunder (provided that if such endorsement as additional insured cannot be delivered by the Closing Date, the Administrative Agent may consent to such endorsement being delivered at such later date as it deems appropriate in the circumstances).

6.15 Pro Forma Financial Statements. The Administrative Agent shall have received a pro forma consolidated balance sheet of Borrower as of September 30, 2007 and a pro forma statement of income for the twelve month period ending on such balance sheet date, in each case, after giving effect to the Transactions, together with a certificate of an Authorized Officer of Borrower to the effect that such balance sheets accurately present the pro forma financial position of Borrower and its Subsidiaries in a manner consistent with previous disclosures to the Co-Lead Arrangers, unless disclosed in the notes to the pro forma statements.

6.16 Borrowing Base Certificate. The Administrative Agent shall have received a Borrowing Base Certificate effective as of the Business Day preceding the day such initial Loans are to be funded or any such initial Letter of Credit is to be issued.

6.17 Initial Borrowings. The aggregate amount of the initial Loans and Letters of Credit hereunder on the Closing Date shall not exceed $450,000,000.

SECTION 7. Conditions Precedent to All Credit Events

The agreement of each Lender to make any Loan requested to be made by it on any date (excluding Mandatory Borrowings and Protective Advances) and the obligation of the Letter of Credit Issuer to issue Letters of Credit on any date is subject to the satisfaction of the following conditions precedent:

7.1 No Default; Representations and Warranties; Excess Availability. At the time of each Credit Event and also after giving effect thereto (other than any Credit Event on the Closing Date) (a) no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, (b) all representations and warranties made by any Credit Party contained herein or in the other Credit Documents shall be true and correct in all material respects with the same effect as though such representations and warranties had been made on and as of the date of such Credit Event (except where such representations and warranties expressly relate to an earlier date, in which case such representations and warranties shall have been true and correct in all material respects as of such earlier date), (c) Excess Availability of not less than the amount of the proposed Borrowing shall exist and (d) if Excess Availability (after giving effect to the proposed Borrowing) is less than 7% of the then existing Total Revolving Credit Commitment, the Consolidated Fixed Charge Coverage Ratio, calculated on a Pro Forma Basis on the date of such proposed Borrowing and for the most recent Test Period, after giving effect to such proposed Borrowing and all Specified Transactions after the beginning of the relevant Test Period but prior to or simultaneous with such proposed Borrowing, would not be less than 1.0:1.0.

7.2 Notice of Borrowing; Letter of Credit Request. (a) [Intentionally Omitted].

(b) Prior to the making of each Revolving Credit Loan (other than any Revolving Credit Loan made pursuant to Section 3.4(a)) and each Swingline Loan, the Administrative Agent shall have received a Notice of Borrowing (whether in writing or by telephone) meeting the requirements of Section 2.3.

(c) Prior to the issuance of each Letter of Credit, the Administrative Agent and the Letter of Credit Issuer shall have received a Letter of Credit Request meeting the requirements of Section 3.2(a).

The acceptance of the benefits of each Credit Event shall constitute a representation and warranty by each Credit Party to each of the Lenders that all the applicable conditions specified above exist as of that time.

SECTION 8. Representations, Warranties and Agreements

In order to induce the Lenders to enter into this Agreement, to make the Loans and issue or participate in Letters of Credit as provided for herein, the Borrower (with respect to itself and its Subsidiaries) makes the following representations and warranties to, and agreements with, the Lenders, all of which shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the making of the Loans and the issuance of the Letters of Credit:

8.1 Corporate Status. The Borrower and each Material Subsidiary (a) is a duly organized and validly existing corporation or other entity in good standing under the laws of the jurisdiction of its organization and has the corporate or other organizational power and authority to own its property and assets and to transact the business in which it is engaged and (b) has duly qualified and is authorized to do business and is in good standing in all jurisdictions where it is required to be so qualified, except where the failure to be so qualified could not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

8.2 Corporate Power and Authority. Each Credit Party has the corporate or other organizational power and authority to execute, deliver and carry out the terms and provisions of the Credit Documents to which it is a party and has taken all necessary corporate or other organizational action to authorize the execution, delivery and performance of the Credit Documents to which it is a party. Each Credit Party has duly executed and delivered each Credit Document to which it is a party and each such Credit Document constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of such Credit Party enforceable in accordance with its terms, except as the enforceability thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency or similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally and subject to general principles of equity. Each Credit Party is in compliance with all laws, orders, writs and injunctions except to the extent that failure to do so could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

8.3 No Violation. Neither the execution, delivery or performance by any Credit Party of the Credit Documents to which it is a party nor compliance with the terms and provisions thereof nor the consummation of the Red Man Transaction and the other transactions contemplated hereby or thereby will (a) contravene any applicable provision of any material law, statute, rule, regulation, order, writ, injunction or decree of any court or governmental instrumentality, (b) result in any breach of any of the terms, covenants, conditions or provisions of, or constitute a default under, or result in the creation or imposition of (or the obligation to create or impose) any Lien upon any of the property or assets of such Credit Party or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries (other than Liens created under the Credit Documents) pursuant to, the terms of any material indenture, loan agreement, lease agreement, mortgage, deed of trust, agreement or other material instrument to which such Credit Party or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries is a party or by which it or any of its property or assets is bound or (c) violate any provision of the certificate of incorporation, by-laws or other constitutional documents of such Credit Party or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries.

8.4 Litigation. There are no actions, suits or proceedings (including Environmental Claims) pending or, to the knowledge of the Borrower, threatened with respect to the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect or a Material Adverse Change.

8.5 Margin Regulations. Neither Borrower nor any of its Subsidiaries is engaged principally, as one or more of its important activities, in the business of extending credit for the purpose of purchasing any "margin stock" as defined in Regulation U. Neither the making of any Loan hereunder nor the use of the proceeds thereof will violate the provisions of Regulation T, U or X of the Board.

8.6 Governmental Approvals. The execution, delivery and performance of the Red Man Transaction Agreement or any Credit Document does not require any consent or approval of, registration or filing with, or any other action by, any Governmental Authority, except for (i) such as have been obtained or made and are in full force and effect, (ii) filings and recordings in respect of the Liens created pursuant to the Security Documents and (iii) such licenses, approvals, authorizations or consents the failure to obtain or make could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

8.7 Investment Company Act. No Credit Party is an "investment company", or a company "controlled" by an "investment company", within the meaning of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

8.8 True and Complete Disclosure. (a) None of the factual information and data (taken as a whole) heretofore or contemporaneously furnished by or on behalf of the Borrower, any of the Subsidiaries or any of their respective authorized representatives in writing to the Administrative Agent and/or any Lender on or before the Closing Date (including (i) the Confidential Information Memorandum and (ii) all information contained in the Credit Documents) for purposes of or in connection with this Agreement or any transaction contemplated herein contained any untrue statement or omitted to state any material fact necessary to make such information and data (taken as a whole) not misleading at such time in light of the circumstances under which such information or data was furnished, it being understood and agreed that for purposes of this Section 8.8(a), such factual information and data shall not include projections and pro forma financial information.

(b) The projections and pro forma financial information contained in the information and data referred to in paragraph (a) above were based on good faith estimates and assumptions believed by such Persons to be reasonable at the time made, it being recognized by the Lenders that such projections as to future events are not to be viewed as facts and that actual results during the period or periods covered by any such projections may differ from the projected results.

8.9 Financial Condition; Financial Statements. The (a) unaudited historical consolidated financial information of the Borrower as set forth in the Confidential Information Memorandum, and (b) the Historical Financial Statements, in each case present or will, when provided, present fairly in all material respects the combined financial position of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries at the respective dates of said information, statements and results of operations for the respective periods covered thereby. The financial statements referred to in clause (b) of this Section 8.9 have been prepared in accordance with GAAP, consistently applied (except to the extent provided in the notes to said financial statements), and the audit reports accompanying such financial statements are not subject to any qualification as to the scope of the audit or the status of the Borrower as a going concern. There has been no Material Adverse Change since December 31, 2006; provided, that on the Closing Date, the representation in this sentence shall not apply to the Red Man Group.

8.10 Tax Returns and Payments. The Borrower and each of the Subsidiaries has filed all federal income tax returns and all other material tax returns, domestic and foreign, required to be filed by it and has paid all income and other material Taxes payable by it that have become due, other than those (a) not yet delinquent or (b) contested in good faith as to which adequate reserves have been provided in accordance with GAAP and which could not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect. The Borrower and each of the Subsidiaries have paid, or have provided adequate reserves (in the good faith judgment of the management of the Borrower) in accordance with GAAP for the payment of, all material federal, state, provincial and foreign income taxes applicable for all prior fiscal years and for the current fiscal year to the Closing Date.

8.11 Compliance with ERISA. (a) Each Plan is in compliance with ERISA, the Code and any applicable Requirement of Law; no Reportable Event has occurred (or is reasonably likely to occur) with respect to any Plan; no Plan is insolvent or in reorganization (or is reasonably likely to be insolvent or in reorganization), and no written notice of any such insolvency or reorganization has been given to the Borrower, any Subsidiary or any ERISA Affiliate; no Plan (other than a multiemployer plan) has an accumulated or waived funding deficiency (or is reasonably likely to have such a deficiency); none of the Borrower, any Subsidiary or any ERISA Affiliate has incurred (or is reasonably likely expected to incur) any liability to or on account of a Plan pursuant to Section 409, 502(i), 502(l), 515, 4062, 4063, 4064, 4069, 4201 or 4204 of ERISA or Section 4971 or 4975 of the Code or has been notified in writing that it will incur any liability under any of the foregoing Sections with respect to any Plan; no proceedings have been instituted (or are reasonably likely to be instituted) to terminate or to reorganize any Plan or to appoint a trustee to administer any Plan, and no written notice of any such proceedings has been given to the Borrower, any Subsidiary or any ERISA Affiliate; and no lien imposed under the Code or ERISA on the assets of the Borrower or any Subsidiary or any ERISA Affiliate exists (or is reasonably likely to exist) nor has the Borrower, any Subsidiary or any ERISA Affiliate been notified in writing that such a lien will be imposed on the assets of the Borrower, any Subsidiary or any ERISA Affiliate on account of any Plan, except to the extent that a breach of any of the representations, warranties or agreements in this Section 8.11 would not result, individually or in the aggregate, in an amount of liability that would be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. No Plan (other than a multiemployer plan) has an Unfunded Current Liability that would, individually or when taken together with any other liabilities referenced in this Section 8.11, be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect. With respect to Plans that are multiemployer plans (as defined in Section 3(37) of ERISA), the representations and warranties in this Section 8.11(a), other than any made with respect to (i) liability under Section 4201 or 4204 of ERISA or (ii) liability for termination or reorganization of such Plans under ERISA, are made to the best knowledge of the Borrower.

(b) All Foreign Plans are in compliance with, and have been established, administered and operated in accordance with, the terms of such Foreign Plans and applicable law, except for any failure to so comply, establish, administer or operate the Foreign Plans as would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. All contributions or other payments which are due with respect to each Foreign Plan have been made in full and there are no funding deficiencies thereunder, except to the extent any such events would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

8.12 Subsidiaries. Schedule 8.12 lists each Subsidiary of the Borrower (and the direct and indirect ownership interest of the Borrower therein), in each case existing on the Closing Date. To the knowledge of the Borrower, after due inquiry, each Material Subsidiary as of the Closing Date has been so designated on Schedule 8.12.

8.13 Intellectual Property. The Borrower and each of the Restricted Subsidiaries have obtained all intellectual property, free from burdensome restrictions, that are necessary for the operation of their respective businesses as currently conducted and as proposed to be conducted, except where the failure to obtain any such rights could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

8.14 Environmental Laws. (a) Except as could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect: (i) the Borrower and each of the Subsidiaries and all Real Estate are, and have been, in compliance with, and possess all permits, licenses and registrations required pursuant to, all Environmental Laws; (ii) neither the Borrower, nor any of the Subsidiaries is subject to any Environmental Claim or any other liability under any Environmental Law; (iii) the Borrower and its Subsidiaries are not conducting, or required to conduct, any investigation, removal, remedial or other corrective action pursuant to any Environmental Law at any location, including any Real Estate currently owned or leased by the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries, and any real property to which the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries may have sent Hazardous Materials; and (iv) no underground storage tank or related piping, or any impoundment or other disposal area containing Hazardous Materials is located at, on or under any Real Estate currently owned or leased by the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries.

(b) Neither the Borrower, nor any of the Subsidiaries has treated, stored, transported, released or disposed or arranged for disposal or transport for disposal of Hazardous Materials at, on, under or from any currently or formerly owned or leased Real Estate or facility in a manner that could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

8.15 Properties. The Borrower and each of the Subsidiaries have good and marketable title to or leasehold interest in all properties that are necessary for the operation of their respective businesses as currently conducted and as proposed to be conducted, free and clear of all Liens (other than any Liens permitted by this Agreement or the Term Loan Credit Agreement) and except where the failure to have such good title could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

8.16 Solvency. On the Closing Date (after giving effect to the Transactions), immediately following the making of each Loan and after giving effect to the application of the proceeds of such Loans, the Borrower on a consolidated basis with its Subsidiaries will be Solvent.

SECTION 9. Affirmative Covenants

The Borrower hereby covenants and agrees that on the Closing Date and thereafter, until the Commitments, the Swingline Commitment and each Letter of Credit have terminated and the Loans and Unpaid Drawings, together with interest, Fees and all other Obligations incurred hereunder, are paid in full:

9.1 Information Covenants. The Borrower will furnish to the Administrative Agent:

(a) Annual Financial Statements. As soon as available and in any event on or before the date on which such financial statements are required to be filed with the SEC (or, if such financial statements are not required to be filed with the SEC, on or before the date that is 105 days after the end of each such fiscal year), the consolidated balance sheet of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries as at the end of such fiscal year, and the related consolidated statement of operations and consolidated statement of cash flows for such fiscal year, setting forth comparative consolidated figures for the preceding fiscal year, and certified by independent certified public accountants of recognized national standing whose opinion shall not be qualified as to the scope of audit or as to the status of the Borrower or any of the Material Subsidiaries (or group of Subsidiaries that together would constitute a Material Subsidiary) as a going concern, together in any event with a certificate of such accounting firm stating that in the course of its regular audit of the business of the Borrower and the Material Subsidiaries, which audit was conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, such accounting firm has obtained no knowledge of any Default or Event of Default relating to Section 10.9 that has occurred and is continuing or, if in the opinion of such accounting firm such a Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, a statement as to the nature thereof which shall be certified by a Financial Officer of the Borrower.

(b) Quarterly Financial Statements. As soon as available and in any event on or before the date on which such financial statements are required to be filed with the SEC with respect to each of the first three quarterly accounting periods in each fiscal year of the Borrower (or, if such financial statements are not required to be filed with the SEC, on or before the date that is sixty (60) days after the end of each such quarterly accounting period), the consolidated balance sheet of (i) the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries and (ii) the Borrower and its Subsidiaries, in each case as at the end of such quarterly period and the related consolidated statement of operations for such quarterly accounting period and for the elapsed portion of the fiscal year ended with the last day of such quarterly period, and the related consolidated statement of cash flows for the elapsed portion of the fiscal year ended with the last day of such quarterly period, and setting forth comparative consolidated figures for the related periods in the prior fiscal year or, in the case of such consolidated balance sheet, for the last day of the prior fiscal year, all of which shall be certified by a Financial Officer of the Borrower, subject to changes resulting from audit and normal year-end audit adjustments.

(c) Monthly Financial Statements. As soon as available and in any event on or before the date that is thirty (30) days after the end of each fiscal month of Borrower, the consolidated balance sheet of (i) the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries and (ii) the Borrower and its Subsidiaries, in each case as at the end of such fiscal month and the related consolidated statement of operations for such fiscal month and for the elapsed portion of the fiscal year ended with the last day of such fiscal month, and the related consolidated statement of cash flows for the elapsed portion of the fiscal year ended with the last day of such fiscal month, and setting forth comparative consolidated figures for the related periods in the prior fiscal year or, in the case of such consolidated balance sheet, for the last day of the prior fiscal year, all of which shall be certified by a Financial Officer of the Borrower, subject to changes resulting from audit and normal year-end audit adjustments.

(d) Budgets. Not more than sixty (60) days after the commencement of each fiscal year of the Borrower, a budget of the Borrower in reasonable detail for such fiscal year as customarily prepared by management of the Borrower for their internal use consistent in scope with the financial statements provided pursuant to Section 9.1(a), setting forth the principal assumptions upon which such budgets are based.

(e) Officer's Certificates. At the time of the delivery of the financial statements provided for in Sections 9.1(a) and (b), a certificate of an Authorized Officer of the Borrower to the effect that no Default or Event of Default exists or, if any Default or Event of Default does exist, specifying the nature and extent thereof, which certificate shall set forth (i) the Consolidated Fixed Charge Coverage Ratio (and accompanying calculations) as at the end of such fiscal year or period, as the case may be, (ii) a specification of any change in the identity of the Restricted Subsidiaries and Unrestricted Subsidiaries as at the end of such fiscal year or period, as the case may be, from the Restricted Subsidiaries and Unrestricted Subsidiaries, respectively, provided to the Lenders on the Closing Date or the most recent fiscal year or period, as the case may be, (iii) the then applicable Status and (iv) the amount of any Pro Forma Adjustment not previously set forth in a Pro Forma Adjustment Certificate or any change in the amount of a Pro Forma Adjustment set forth in any Pro Forma Adjustment Certificate previously provided and, in either case, in reasonable detail, the calculations and basis therefor. At the time of the delivery of the financial statements provided for in Section 9.1(a), (i) a certificate of an Authorized Officer of the Borrower setting forth in reasonable detail the Applicable Amount as at the end of the fiscal year to which such financial statements relate and (ii) a certificate of an Authorized Officer of the Borrower setting forth the information required pursuant to Section 1(a) of the Perfection Certificate or confirming that there has been no change in such information since the Closing Date or the date of the most recent certificate delivered pursuant to this subsection (e)(ii), as the case may be.

(f) Borrowing Base Certificates. As soon as available but in any event within twenty-five (25) days of the end of each calendar month, a Borrowing Base Certificate (which shall be calculated in a consistent manner with the most recently delivered Borrowing Base Certificate) and supporting information in connection therewith as of the end of such month, provided that the Borrower will be required to furnish a Borrowing Base Certificate and supporting information in connection therewith within four (4) days of the end of each calendar week as of the end of such calendar week if (A) a Cash Dominion Event is continuing or (B) an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing and the Administrative Agent so requests.

(g) Collateral Reports. As soon as available but in any event within twenty-five (25) days of the end of each calendar month, in each case as of the period then ended:

(i) a detailed aging of the Borrower's and Guarantors' Accounts reconciled to the Borrowing Base Certificate delivered as of such date in a form reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent;

(ii) a schedule detailing the Borrower's and Guarantors' Inventory, in form reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent, (1) by location (showing Inventory located with a third party under any consignment, bailee arrangement, or warehouse agreement, in each case, to the extent the Cost of Inventory at such location exceeds $50,000 in the aggregate which Inventory shall be valued at Cost and adjusted for Reserves as the Administrative Agent has previously indicated to the Borrower are deemed by the Administrative Agent to be appropriate in their Permitted Discretion, (2) including a report of material variances or other results of Inventory counts performed by the Borrower or any Guarantor since the last Inventory schedule, and (3) reconciled to the Borrowing Base Certificate delivered as of such date;

(iii) a worksheet of calculations prepared by the Borrower to determine Eligible Accounts and Eligible Inventory, such worksheets detailing the Accounts and Inventory excluded from Eligible Accounts and Eligible Inventory and the reason for such exclusion; and

(iv) a schedule and aging of the Borrower's and each Guarantor's accounts payable presented at the vendor level.

(h) Notice of Default or Litigation. Promptly after an Authorized Officer of the Borrower or any of the Subsidiaries obtains knowledge thereof, notice of (i) the occurrence of any event that constitutes a Default or Event of Default, which notice shall specify the nature thereof, the period of existence thereof and what action the Borrower proposes to take with respect thereto and (ii) any litigation or governmental proceeding pending against the Borrower or any of the Subsidiaries that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect or a Material Adverse Change.

(i) Environmental Matters. The Borrower will promptly advise the Administrative Agent in writing after obtaining knowledge of any one or more of the following environmental matters, unless such environmental matters could not, individually or when aggregated with all other such matters, be reasonably expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect:

(i) Any pending or threatened Environmental Claim against any Credit Party or any current or former Real Estate;

(ii) Any condition or occurrence on or otherwise related to any current or former Real Estate that (x) could reasonably be expected to result in noncompliance by any Credit Party with any applicable Environmental Law or (y) could reasonably be anticipated to form the basis of an Environmental Claim against any Credit Party or any current or former Real Estate;

(iii) Any condition or occurrence on or otherwise related to any current or former Real Estate that could reasonably be anticipated to cause such Real Estate to be subject to any restrictions on the ownership, occupancy, use or transferability of such Real Estate under any Environmental Law; and

(iv) The conduct or need to conduct of any investigation, or any removal, remedial or other corrective action in response to the actual or alleged presence, release or threatened release of any Hazardous Material on, at, under or from any current or former Real Estate or otherwise related to Environmental Law.

All such notices shall describe in reasonable detail the nature of the claim, investigation, condition, occurrence or removal or remedial action and the response thereto. The term “Real Estate” shall mean land, buildings and improvements owned or leased by any Credit Party, but excluding all operating fixtures and equipment, whether or not incorporated into improvements.

(j) Other Information. Promptly upon filing thereof, copies of any filings (including on Form 10-K, 10-Q or 8-K) or registration statements with, and reports to, the SEC or any analogous Government Authority in any relevant jurisdiction by the Borrower or any of the Subsidiaries (other than amendments to any registration statement (to the extent such registration statement, in the form it becomes effective, is delivered to the Lenders and the Administrative Agent), exhibits to any registration statement and, if applicable, any registration statements on Form S-8) and copies of all financial statements, proxy statements, notices and reports that the Borrower or any of the Subsidiaries shall send to the holders of any publicly issued debt of the Borrower and/or any of the Subsidiaries in their capacity as such holders (in each case to the extent not theretofore delivered to the Lenders and the Administrative Agent pursuant to this Agreement) and, with reasonable promptness, such other information (financial or otherwise) as the Administrative Agent on its own behalf or on behalf of any Lender (acting through the Administrative Agent) may reasonably request in writing from time to time.

(k) Pro Forma Adjustment Certificate. Not later than any date on which financial statements are delivered with respect to any Test Period in which a Pro Forma Adjustment is made as a result of the consummation of the acquisition of any Acquired Entity or Business by the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary for which there shall be a Pro Forma Adjustment, a certificate of an Authorized Officer of the Borrower setting forth the amount of such Pro Forma Adjustment and, in reasonable detail, the calculations and basis therefor.

(l) Information Regarding Collateral. Reasonably promptly but not later than sixty (60) days following the occurrence of any change referred to in subclauses (i) through (iv) below, written notice of any change (i) in the legal name of any Credit Party, (ii) in the jurisdiction of organization or location of any Credit Party for purposes of the Uniform Commercial Code, (iii) in the identity or type of organization of any Credit Party or (iv) in the Federal Taxpayer Identification Number or organizational identification number of any Credit Party. The Borrower shall also promptly provide the Collateral Agent with certified Organizational Documents reflecting any of the changes described in the first sentence of this clause (l).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the obligations in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Section 9.1 may be satisfied with respect to financial information of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries by furnishing (A) the applicable financial statements of any direct or indirect parent of the Borrower or (B) the Borrower's (or any direct or indirect parent thereof's), as applicable, Form 10-K or 10-Q, as applicable, filed with the SEC; provided that, with respect to each of clauses (A) and (B) above, to the extent such information relates to a parent of the Borrower, such information is accompanied by consolidating information that explains in reasonable detail the differences between the information relating to such parent, on the one hand, and the information relating to the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries on a standalone basis, on the other hand.

9.2 Books, Records and Inspections. The Borrower will, and will cause each of the Subsidiaries to, permit officers and designated representatives of the Administrative Agents or the Required Lenders to visit and inspect any of the properties or assets of the Borrower and any such Subsidiary in whomsoever's possession to the extent that it is within such party's control to permit such inspection, and to examine the books and records of the Borrower and any such Subsidiary and discuss the affairs, finances and accounts of the Borrower and of any such Subsidiary with, and be advised as to the same by, its and their officers and independent accountants, all at such reasonable times and intervals and to such reasonable extent as the Administrative Agents or the Required Lenders may desire; provided that, excluding any such visits and inspections during the continuation of an Event of Default, only the Administrative Agent (or any of their respective representatives or independent contractors) on behalf of the Required Lenders may exercise rights of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders under this Section 9.2 and the Administrative Agent shall not exercise such rights more often than two times during any calendar year absent the existence of an Event of Default and only one such time shall be at the Borrower's expense unless Excess Availability is less than 7% of the then Existing Total Revolving Credit Commitments, in which case the second time shall also be at the Borrower's expense; provided further that when an Event of Default exists, the Administrative Agent (or any of its representatives or independent contractors) or any representative of the Required Lenders may do any of the foregoing at the expense of the Borrower at any time during normal business hours and upon reasonable advance notice. The Administrative Agent and the Required Lenders shall give the Borrower the opportunity to participate in any discussions with the Borrower's independent public accountants.

9.3 Maintenance of Insurance. The Borrower will, and will cause each of the Material Subsidiaries to, at all times maintain in full force and effect, with insurance companies that the Borrower believes (in the good faith judgment of the management of the Borrower) are financially sound and responsible at the time the relevant coverage is placed or renewed, insurance in at least such amounts (after giving effect to any self-insurance which the Borrower believes (in the good faith judgment of management of the Borrower) is reasonable and prudent in light of the size and nature of its business) and against at least such risks (and with such risk retentions) as the Borrower believes (in the good faith judgment of management of the Borrower) is reasonable and prudent in light of the size and nature of its business; and will furnish to the Administrative Agent (for delivery to the Lenders), upon written request from the Administrative Agent, information presented in reasonable detail as to the insurance so carried. Each such policy of insurance shall (i) name Collateral Agent, on behalf of Secured Parties as an additional insured thereunder as its interests may appear and (ii) in the case of each casualty insurance policy, contain a loss payable clause or endorsement reasonably satisfactory in form and substance to Collateral Agent, that names Collateral Agent, on behalf of Lenders as the loss payee thereunder and provides for at least thirty days' prior written notice to Collateral Agent of any modification or cancellation of such policy.

9.4 Payment of Taxes. Each Credit Party will pay and discharge, and will cause each of the Subsidiaries to pay and discharge, all material taxes, assessments and governmental charges or levies imposed upon it or upon its income or profits, or upon any properties belonging to it, prior to the date on which material penalties attach thereto, and all lawful material claims that, if unpaid, could reasonably be expected to become a material Lien upon any properties of each Credit Party or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries, provided that no Credit Party, nor any of the Subsidiaries shall be required to pay any such tax, assessment, charge, levy or claim that is being contested in good faith and by proper proceedings if it has maintained adequate reserves (in the good faith judgment of the management of the Borrower) with respect thereto in accordance with GAAP and the failure to pay could not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

9.5 Consolidated Corporate Franchises. The Borrower will do, and will cause each Material Subsidiary to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary to preserve and keep in full force and effect its existence, corporate rights and authority, except to the extent that the failure to do so could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect; provided, however, that the Borrower and its Subsidiaries may consummate any transaction permitted under Section 10.3, 10.4 or 10.5.

9.6 Compliance with Statutes, Regulations, etc. The Borrower will, and will cause each Subsidiary to, comply with all applicable laws, rules, regulations and orders applicable to it or its property, including all governmental approvals or authorizations required to conduct its business, and to maintain all such governmental approvals or authorizations in full force and effect, in each case except where the failure to do so, individually or in the aggregate, could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.7 ERISA. Promptly after the Borrower or any Subsidiary or any ERISA Affiliate knows or has reason to know of the occurrence of any of the following events that, individually or in the aggregate (including in the aggregate such events previously disclosed or exempt from disclosure hereunder, to the extent the liability therefor remains outstanding), would be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect, the Borrower will deliver to each of the Lenders a certificate of an Authorized Officer or any other senior officer of the Borrower setting forth details as to such occurrence and the action, if any, that the Borrower, such Subsidiary or such ERISA Affiliate is required or proposes to take, together with any notices (required, proposed or otherwise) given to or filed with or by the Borrower, such Subsidiary, such ERISA Affiliate, the PBGC, a Plan participant (other than notices relating to an individual participant's benefits) or the Plan administrator with respect thereto: that a Reportable Event has occurred; that an accumulated funding deficiency has been incurred or an application is to be made to the Secretary of the Treasury for a waiver or modification of the minimum funding standard (including any required installment payments) or an extension of any amortization period under Section 412 of the Code with respect to a Plan; that a Plan having an Unfunded Current Liability has been or is to be terminated, reorganized, partitioned or declared insolvent under Title IV of ERISA (including the giving of written notice thereof); that a Plan has an Unfunded Current Liability that has or will result in a lien under ERISA or the Code; that proceedings will be or have been instituted to terminate a Plan having an Unfunded Current Liability (including the giving of written notice thereof); that a proceeding has been instituted against the Borrower, a Subsidiary or an ERISA Affiliate pursuant to Section 515 of ERISA to collect a delinquent contribution to a Plan; that the PBGC has notified the Borrower, any Subsidiary or any ERISA Affiliate of its intention to appoint a trustee to administer any Plan; that the Borrower, any Subsidiary or any ERISA Affiliate has failed to make a required installment or other payment pursuant to Section 412 of the Code with respect to a Plan; or that the Borrower, any Subsidiary or any ERISA Affiliate has incurred or will incur (or has been notified in writing that it will incur) any liability (including any contingent or secondary liability) to or on account of a Plan pursuant to Section 409, 502(i), 502(l), 515, 4062, 4063, 4064, 4069, 4201 or 4204 of ERISA or Section 4971 or 4975 of the Code.

9.8 Maintenance of Properties. The Borrower will, and will cause each of the Restricted Subsidiaries to, keep and maintain all property material to the conduct of its business in good working order and condition, ordinary wear and tear excepted, except to the extent that the failure to do so could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.9 Transactions with Affiliates. The Borrower will conduct, and cause each of the Restricted Subsidiaries to conduct, all transactions with any of its Affiliates (other than the Borrower or the Restricted Subsidiaries) on terms that are substantially as favorable to the Borrower or such Restricted Subsidiary as it would obtain in a comparable arm's-length transaction with a Person that is not an Affiliate, provided that the foregoing restrictions shall not apply to (a) the payment of customary fees to the Sponsors for management, consulting and financial services rendered to the Borrower and the Subsidiaries and customary investment banking fees paid to the Sponsors for services rendered to the Borrower and the Subsidiaries in connection with divestitures, acquisitions, financings and other transactions, (b) transactions permitted by Section 10.6, (c) Transaction Expenses, (d) the issuance of Stock or Stock Equivalents of the Borrower to the management of the Borrower (or any direct or indirect parent thereof) or any of its Subsidiaries in connection with the Transactions or pursuant to arrangements described in clause (f) of this Section 9.9, (e) loans and other transactions by the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries to the extent permitted under Section 10, (f) employment and severance arrangements between the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries and their respective officers and employees in the ordinary course of business, (g) payments by the Borrower (and any direct or indirect parent thereof) and the Restricted Subsidiaries pursuant to the tax sharing agreements among the Borrower (and any such parent) and the Restricted Subsidiaries on customary terms to the extent attributable to the ownership or operation of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries, (h) the payment of customary fees and reasonable out of pocket costs to, and indemnities provided on behalf of, directors, managers, consultants, officers and employees of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries in the ordinary course of business to the extent attributable to the ownership or operation of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries, (i) transactions pursuant to permitted agreements in existence on the Closing Date and set forth on Schedule 9.9 or any amendment thereto to the extent such an amendment is not adverse, taken as a whole, to the Lenders in any material respect, and (j) customary payments by the Borrower and any Restricted Subsidiaries to the Sponsors made for any financial advisory, financing, underwriting or placement services or in respect of other investment banking activities (including in connection with acquisitions or divestitures), which payments are approved by the majority of the members of the board of directors or a majority of the disinterested members of the board of directors of the Borrower (or any direct or indirect parent thereof), in good faith.

9.10 End of Fiscal Years; Fiscal Quarters. The Borrower will, for financial reporting purposes, cause (a) each of its, and each of its Subsidiaries', fiscal years to end on December 31 of each year and (b) each of its, and each of its Subsidiaries', fiscal quarters to end on dates consistent with such fiscal year-end and the Borrower's past practice; provided, however, that the Borrower may, upon written notice to the Administrative Agent, change the financial reporting convention specified above to any other financial reporting convention reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent, in which case the Borrower and the Administrative Agent will, and are hereby authorized by the Lenders to, make any adjustments to this Agreement that are necessary in order to reflect such change in financial reporting.

9.11 Additional Guarantors and Grantors. Except as set forth in Section 10.1(B)(j) or 10.1(B)(k) and subject to any applicable limitations set forth in the Security Documents, the Borrower will cause each direct or indirect Subsidiary (other than any Excluded Subsidiary) formed or otherwise purchased or acquired after the date hereof (including pursuant to a Permitted Acquisition) to execute a supplement to each of the Guarantee and the Security Agreement, substantially in the form of Annex B or Annex 1, as applicable, to the respective agreement in order to become a Guarantor under the Guarantee and a grantor under Security Agreement or, to the extent reasonably requested by the Collateral Agent, enter into a new Security Agreement in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Collateral Agent.

9.12 [Intentionally Omitted.]

9.13 Use of Proceeds. (a) The Borrower will use the proceeds of all Revolving Loans made on the Closing Date to effect the Red Man Transaction and Debt Repayment and to pay Transaction Expenses; and

(b) The Borrower will use Letters of Credit and the proceeds of all other Revolving Credit Loans and Swingline Loans for general corporate purposes (including Permitted Acquisitions and permitted dividends) and to pay Transaction Expenses.

9.14 Appraisals; Field Examinations. At any time that the Administrative Agent or Collateral Agent reasonably requests, the Borrower will, and will cause each Borrowing Base Guarantor to, permit Administrative Agent, Collateral Agent or professionals (including consultants, accountants, lawyers and appraisers) retained by the Administrative Agent or Collateral Agent, on reasonable prior notice and during normal business hours and with reasonable frequency, to conduct appraisals and commercial finance examinations or updates thereof including, without limitation, of (i) the Borrower's practices in the computation of the Borrowing Base and (ii) the assets included in the Borrowing Base and related financial information such as, but not limited to, sales, gross margins, payables, accruals and reserves, in each case, prepared on a basis reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and Collateral Agent and at the sole expense of the Borrower; provided, however, if no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, only one (1) such appraisal and one (1) such examination or update per fiscal year shall be conducted at Borrower's expense; provided, further, however, that if Excess Availability is less than 7% of the then existing Total Revolving Credit Commitment, one (1) additional appraisal and one (1) additional examination or update per fiscal year may be conducted without cost to the Borrower.

9.15 Interest Rate Protection. No later than 90 days following the Closing Date and at all times thereafter until the third anniversary of the Closing Date, Borrower shall obtain and cause to be maintained protection against fluctuations in interest rates pursuant to one or more Interest Rate Agreements in order to ensure that no less than 50% of the aggregate principal amount of the total Indebtedness of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries then outstanding is either (i) subject to such Interest Rate Agreements or (ii) Indebtedness that bears interest at a fixed rate.

9.16 Collateral Access Agreements. Borrower and each Guarantor shall use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain a Collateral Access Agreement with respect to Inventory which is located in any location leased by such Credit Party, located in any third-party warehouse or in the possession of a bailee, in each case, to the extent the Cost of Inventory at such location exceeds $50,000 in the aggregate.

9.17 Further Assurances. (a) The Borrower will, and will cause each other Credit Party to, execute any and all further documents, financing statements, agreements and instruments, and take all such further actions (including the filing and recording of financing statements and other documents), which may be required under any applicable law, or which the Collateral Agent or the Required Lenders may reasonably request, in order to grant, preserve, protect and perfect the validity and priority of the security interests created or intended to be created by the Security Agreement, all at the expense of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries.

(b) If any assets are acquired by the Borrower or any other Credit Party after the Closing Date (other than assets constituting Collateral under the Security Agreement that become subject to the Lien of the Security Agreement upon acquisition thereof) that are of the nature secured by the Security Agreement, the Borrower will notify the Collateral Agent, and, if requested by the Collateral Agent, the Borrower will cause such assets to be subjected to a Lien securing the applicable Obligations and will take, and cause the other Credit Parties to take, such actions as shall be necessary or reasonably requested by the Collateral Agent to grant and perfect such Liens consistent with the applicable requirements of the Security Documents, including actions described in clause (a) of this Section 9.17, all at the expense of the Borrower.

(c) The Borrower agrees that it will, or will cause its relevant Subsidiaries to, complete each of the actions described on Schedule 9.17(c) as soon as commercially reasonable and by no later than the date set forth in Schedule 9.17(c) with respect to such action or such later date as the Administrative Agent may reasonably agree.

(d) The Borrower agrees that it will cause Red Man Distributors to comply with the terms of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents and will not permit Red Man Distributors to amend, restate, supplement or otherwise modify its Organizational Documents in a manner that amends the subrogation rights or is materially adverse to the Lenders (other than as required by the applicable Governmental Authority to become certified as a minority business enterprise) without obtaining the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and Collateral Agent to such amendment, restatement, supplement or other modification.

SECTION 10. Negative Covenants

The Borrower (for itself and each of its Restricted Subsidiaries) hereby covenants and agrees that on the Closing Date (immediately after consummation of the Red Man Transaction) and thereafter, until the Commitments, the Swingline Commitment and each Letter of Credit have terminated and the Loans and Unpaid Drawings, together with interest, Fees and all other Obligations incurred hereunder, are paid in full:

10.1 Limitation on Indebtedness. (A) The Borrower will not, and will not permit any of the Restricted Subsidiaries to, incur, create, assume or permit to exist, directly or indirectly (collectively, "incur" and collectively, an "incurrence"), any Indebtedness; provided, however, that Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries will be entitled to incur Indebtedness if the Consolidated Total Debt to Consolidated EBITDA Ratio at the time such additional Indebtedness is incurred would have been no greater than 5.50 to 1.0 determined on a Pro Forma Basis (including a pro forma application of the net proceeds therefrom), as if the additional Indebtedness had been incurred and the application of proceeds therefrom had occurred at the beginning of the most recent Test Period; provided, that such additional Indebtedness shall not be secured Indebtedness unless (i) the Secured Leverage Ratio at the time such additional Indebtedness is incurred would have been no greater than 5.0 to 1.0, determined on a Pro Forma Basis in the manner set forth above, (ii) such secured Indebtedness has a later final maturity and a longer weighted average life than the Term Loans, (iii) the Liens securing such Indebtedness shall be subordinate to the Liens securing the Obligations and the "Obligations" (as defined in the Term Loan Credit Agreement) and (iv) the holders of such Indebtedness, the Collateral Agent and the collateral agent under the Term Loan Credit Agreement shall have entered into an intercreditor agreement in a form reasonably satisfactory to Collateral Agent.

(B) The limitation set forth in clause (A) of this Section 10.1 will not prohibit any of the following:

(a) Indebtedness arising under the Credit Documents and the Term Loan Agreement;

(b) Indebtedness of (i) the Borrower or any Subsidiary Guarantor owing to the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary, (ii) any Subsidiary who is not a Guarantor owing to any other Subsidiary who is not a Guarantor and (iii) subject to compliance with Section 10.5, any Subsidiary who is not a Guarantor owing to the Borrower or any Subsidiary Guarantor;

(c) Indebtedness in respect of any bankers' acceptance, bank guarantees, letter of credit, warehouse receipt or similar facilities entered into in the ordinary course of business (including in respect of workers compensation claims, health, disability or other employee benefits or property, casualty or liability insurance or self-insurance or other Indebtedness with respect to reimbursement-type obligations regarding workers compensation claims);

(d) subject to compliance with Section 10.5, Guarantee Obligations incurred by (i) Restricted Subsidiaries in respect of Indebtedness of the Borrower or other Restricted Subsidiaries that is permitted to be incurred under this Agreement and (ii) the Borrower in respect of Indebtedness of the Restricted Subsidiaries that is permitted to be incurred under this Agreement, provided that, except as provided in clauses (j) and (k) below, there shall be no Guarantee (a) by a Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor of any Indebtedness of the Borrower and (b) in respect of any Permitted Additional Debt, unless such Guarantee is made by a Guarantor and, in the case of Permitted Additional Debt that is subordinated, is subordinated;

(e) Guarantee Obligations (i) incurred in the ordinary course of business in respect of obligations of (or to) suppliers, customers, franchisees, lessors and licensees or (ii) or otherwise constituting Investments permitted by Section 10.5;

(f) (i) Indebtedness (including Indebtedness arising under Capital Leases) incurred within 270 days of the acquisition, construction or improvement of fixed or capital assets to finance the acquisition, construction or improvement of such fixed or capital assets, (ii) Indebtedness arising under Capital Leases entered into in connection with Permitted Sale Leasebacks and (iii) Indebtedness arising under Capital Leases, other than Capital Leases in effect on the date hereof and Capital Leases entered into pursuant to subclauses (i) and (ii) above, provided, that the aggregate amount of Indebtedness incurred pursuant to this subclause (iii) shall not exceed $20,000,000 at any time outstanding, and (iv) any modification, replacement, refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension of any Indebtedness specified in subclause (i), (ii) or (iii) above, provided that, except to the extent otherwise expressly permitted hereunder, the principal amount thereof (including pursuant to clause (iii)) does not exceed the principal amount thereof outstanding immediately prior to such modification, replacement, refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension, except by an amount equal to the unpaid accrued interest and premium thereon plus other reasonable amounts paid and fees and expenses incurred in connection with such modification, replacement, refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension;

(g) Indebtedness outstanding on the date hereof (i) listed on Schedule 10.1 and any modification, replacement, refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension thereof, provided that, except to the extent otherwise expressly permitted hereunder, (x) the principal amount thereof does not exceed the principal amount thereof outstanding immediately prior to such modification, replacement, refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension, except by an amount equal to the unpaid accrued interest and premium thereon plus other reasonable amounts paid and fees and expenses incurred in connection with such modification, replacement, refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension plus an amount equal to any existing commitment unutilized and letters of credit undrawn thereunder and (y) the direct and contingent obligors with respect to such Indebtedness are not changed and (ii) owing by the Borrower to any Restricted Subsidiary or by any Restricted Subsidiary to the Borrower or any other Restricted Subsidiary;

(h) Indebtedness in respect of Hedge Agreements;

(i) [Reserved];

(j) (i) Indebtedness of a Person or Indebtedness attaching to assets of a Person that, in either case, becomes a Restricted Subsidiary (or is a Restricted Subsidiary that survives a merger with such Person) or Indebtedness attaching to assets that are acquired by the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary, in each case after the Closing Date as the result of a Permitted Acquisition, provided, that (w) such Indebtedness existed at the time such Person became a Restricted Subsidiary or at the time such assets were acquired and, in each case, was not created in anticipation thereof, (x) such Indebtedness is not guaranteed in any respect by the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary (other than by any such Person that so becomes a Restricted Subsidiary or is the survivor of a merger with such Person and any of its Subsidiaries) and (y) such Person executes a supplement to each of the Guarantee and the Security Agreement to the extent required under Section 9.11, provided that the requirements of this subclause (y) shall not apply to (I) an aggregate amount at any time outstanding of up to the greater of (A) $300,000,000 or (B) 10% of Consolidated Total Assets at the time of the incurrence of such Indebtedness (less all Indebtedness as to which the proviso to clause (k)(i)(y) below then applies) at such time of such Indebtedness (and modifications, replacements, refinancings, refundings, renewals and extensions thereof pursuant to subclause (ii) below) and (II) any Indebtedness of the type that could have been incurred under Section 10.1(B)(f), and (ii) any modification, replacement, refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension of any Indebtedness specified in subclause (i) above, provided that, except to the extent otherwise expressly permitted hereunder, (X) the principal amount of any such Indebtedness does not exceed the principal amount thereof outstanding immediately prior to such modification, replacement, refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension except by an amount equal to the unpaid accrued interest and premium thereon plus other reasonable amounts paid and fees and expenses incurred in connection with such modification, replacement, refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension plus an amount equal to any existing commitment unutilized and letters of credit undrawn thereunder and (Y) the direct and contingent obligors with respect to such Indebtedness are not changed;

(k) (i) Permitted Additional Debt of the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary incurred to finance a Permitted Acquisition, provided that (x) if such Indebtedness is incurred by a Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor, such Indebtedness is not guaranteed by the Borrower or any Guarantor except as permitted by Section 10.5(g) and (y) such acquired Person executes a supplement to the Guarantee and the Security Agreement (or alternative guarantee and security arrangements in relation to the Obligations reasonably acceptable to the Collateral Agent) to the extent required under Section 9.11, provided that the requirements of this subclause (y) shall not apply to an aggregate amount at any time outstanding of up to the greater of (A) $300,000,000 or (B) 10% of Consolidated Total Assets at the time of the incurrence of such Indebtedness (less all Indebtedness as to which clause (I) of the proviso to clause (j)(i)(y) above then applies) at such time of the aggregate of such Indebtedness (and modifications, replacements, refinancings, refundings, renewals and extensions thereof pursuant to subclause (ii) below), and (ii) any modification, replacement, refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension of any Indebtedness specified in subclause (i) above, provided that, except to the extent otherwise expressly permitted hereunder, (x) the principal amount of any such Indebtedness does not exceed the principal amount thereof outstanding immediately prior to such modification, replacement, refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension except by an amount equal to the unpaid accrued interest and premium thereon plus other reasonable amounts paid and fees and expenses incurred in connection with such modification, replacement, refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension plus an amount equal to any existing commitment unutilized and letters of credit undrawn thereunder and (y) the direct and contingent obligors with respect to such Indebtedness are not changed;

(l) Indebtedness in respect of performance bonds, bid bonds, appeal bonds, surety bonds and completion guarantees and similar obligations not in connection with money borrowed, in each case provided in the ordinary course of business, including those incurred to secure health, safety and environmental obligations in the ordinary course of business;

(m) (i) Indebtedness incurred in connection with any Permitted Sale Leaseback (provided that the Net Cash Proceeds thereof are promptly applied to the prepayment of the Term Loans to the extent required by Section 5.2 of the Term Loan Credit Agreement) and (ii) any refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension of any Indebtedness specified in subclause (i) above, provided that, except to the extent otherwise permitted hereunder, (x) the principal amount of any such Indebtedness is not increased above the principal amount thereof outstanding immediately prior to such refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension and (y) the direct and contingent obligors with respect to such Indebtedness are not changed;

(n) (i) additional Indebtedness and (ii) any refinancing, refunding, renewal or extension of any Indebtedness specified in subclause (i) above; provided that the aggregate amount of Indebtedness incurred and remaining outstanding pursuant to this clause (n) shall not at any time exceed the greater of (w) $150,000,000 and (x) 5% of Consolidated Total Assets at the time of the incurrence of such Indebtedness; provided, however, not more than the greater of (y) $50,000,000 and (z) 1.5% of Consolidated Total Assets at the time of the incurrence of such Indebtedness in aggregate principal amount of Indebtedness of the Borrower or any Subsidiary Guarantor incurred under this clause (n) shall be secured;

(o) Indebtedness in respect of Permitted Additional Debt to the extent that the Net Cash Proceeds therefrom are, immediately after the receipt thereof, applied to the prepayment of Term Loans in accordance with Section 5.2 of the Term Loan Credit Agreement;

(p) Indebtedness in respect of overdraft facilities, employee credit card programs and other cash management arrangements in the ordinary course of business;

(q) unsecured Indebtedness in respect of obligations of the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary to pay the deferred purchase price of goods or services or progress payments in connection with such goods and services, provided that such obligations are incurred in connection with open accounts extended by suppliers on customary trade terms (which require that all such payments be made within 60 days after the incurrence of the related obligation) in the ordinary course of business and not in connection with the borrowing of money or Hedging Agreements;

(r) Indebtedness arising from agreements of the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary providing for indemnification, adjustment of purchase price or similar obligations, in each case entered into in connection with Permitted Acquisitions, other Investments and the disposition of any business, assets or Capital Stock permitted hereunder, other than Guarantee Obligations incurred by any Person acquiring all or any portion of such business, assets or Capital Stock for the purpose of financing such acquisition, provided that (i) such Indebtedness is not reflected on the balance sheet of the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary (contingent obligations referred to in a footnote to financial statements and not otherwise reflected on the balance sheet will not be deemed to be reflected on such balance sheet for purposes of this clause (i)) and (ii) the maximum assumable liability in respect of all such Indebtedness shall at no time exceed the gross proceeds, including non-cash proceeds (the fair market value of such non-cash proceeds being measured at the time received and without giving effect to any subsequent changes in value), actually received by the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries in connection with such disposition;

(s) Indebtedness of the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary consisting of (i) obligations to pay insurance premiums or (ii) take or pay obligations contained in supply agreements, in each case arising in the ordinary course of business and not in connection with the borrowing of money or Hedging Agreements;

(t) Indebtedness representing deferred compensation to employees of the Borrower (or any direct or indirect parent thereof) and the Restricted Subsidiaries incurred in the ordinary course of business;

(u) Unsecured, subordinated Indebtedness consisting of promissory notes in an aggregate principal amount of not more than $10,000,000 issued by the Borrower or any Guarantor to current or former officers, managers, consultants, directors and employees (or their respective spouses, former spouses, successors, executors, administrators, heirs, legatees or distributees) to finance the purchase or redemption of Stock or Stock Equivalents of the Borrower (or any direct or indirect parent thereof) permitted by Section 10.6;

(v) Indebtedness consisting of obligations of the Borrower or the Restricted Subsidiaries under deferred compensation or other similar arrangements incurred by such Person in connection with the Transactions and Permitted Acquisitions or any other Investment expressly permitted hereunder;

(w) cash management obligations and other Indebtedness in respect of netting services, automatic clearinghouse arrangements, overdraft protections and similar arrangements in each case in connection with deposit accounts; and

(x) all premiums (if any), interest (including post-petition interest), fees, expenses, charges and additional or contingent interest on obligations described in clauses (a) through (w) above.

10.2 Limitation on Liens. The Borrower will not, and will not permit any of the Restricted Subsidiaries to, create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any Lien upon any property or assets of any kind (real or personal, tangible or intangible) of the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary, whether now owned or hereafter acquired, except:

(a) Liens arising under the Credit Documents;

(b) Permitted Liens;

(c) (i) Liens securing Indebtedness permitted pursuant to Section 10.1(B)(f), provided that (x) such Liens attach at all times only to the assets so financed except for accessions to such property Indebtedness and the proceeds and the products thereof and (y) that individual financings of equipment provided by one lender may be cross collateralized to other financings of equipment provided by such lender, and (ii) Liens on the assets of Restricted Subsidiaries that are not Guarantors securing Indebtedness permitted pursuant to Section 10.1(B)(n) and (p);

(d) Liens existing on the date hereof and listed on Schedule 10.2;

(e) the replacement, extension or renewal of any Lien permitted by clauses (a) through (d) above and clause (f) of this Section 10.2 upon or in the same assets (other than after acquired property that is affixed or incorporated into the property covered by such Lien or financed by Indebtedness permitted under Section 10.1(B) and proceeds and products thereof) theretofore subject to such Lien or the replacement, extension or renewal (without increase in the amount or change in any direct or contingent obligor except to the extent otherwise permitted hereunder) of the Indebtedness secured thereby;

(f) Liens existing on the assets of any Person that becomes a Restricted Subsidiary (or is a Restricted Subsidiary that survives a merger with such Person), or existing on assets acquired, pursuant to a Permitted Acquisition or other Investment to the extent the Liens on such assets secure Indebtedness permitted by Section 10.1(B)(j) or other obligations permitted by this Agreement, provided that such Liens attach at all times only to the same assets that such Liens (other than after acquired property that is affixed or incorporated into the property covered by such Lien or financed by Indebtedness permitted under Section 10.1(B) and proceeds and products thereof) attached to, and secure only the same Indebtedness or obligations (or any modifications, refinancings, extensions, renewals, refundings or replacements of such Indebtedness permitted by Section 10.1(B)) that such Liens secured, immediately prior to such Permitted Acquisition or other Investment, as applicable;

(g) (i) Liens placed upon the Stock and Stock Equivalents of any Restricted Subsidiary acquired pursuant to a Permitted Acquisition to secure Indebtedness incurred pursuant to Section 10.1(B)(k) in connection with such Permitted Acquisition and (ii) Liens placed upon the assets of such Restricted Subsidiary to secure a guarantee by, or Indebtedness of, such Restricted Subsidiary of any Indebtedness of the Borrower or any other Restricted Subsidiary incurred pursuant to Section 10.1(B)(k);

(h) Liens securing Indebtedness or other obligations of the Borrower or a Subsidiary in favor of the Borrower or any Subsidiary that is a Guarantor and Liens securing Indebtedness or other obligations of any Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor in favor of any Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor;

(i) Liens (i) of a collection bank arising under Section 4-210 of the Uniform Commercial Code on items in the course of collection, (ii) attaching to commodity trading accounts or other commodities brokerage accounts incurred in the ordinary course of business; and (iii) in favor of a banking institution arising as a matter of law encumbering deposits (including the right of set-off) and which are within the general parameters customary in the banking industry;

(j) Liens (i) on cash advances in favor of the seller of any property to be acquired in an Investment permitted pursuant to Sections 10.5 to be applied against the purchase price for such Investment, and (ii) consisting of an agreement to sell, transfer, lease or otherwise dispose of any property in a transaction permitted under Section 10.4, in each case, solely to the extent such Investment or sale, disposition, transfer or lease, as the case may be, would have been permitted on the date of the creation of such Lien;

(k) Liens arising out of conditional sale, title retention, consignment or similar arrangements for sale of goods entered into by the Borrower or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries in the ordinary course of business permitted by this Agreement;

(l) Liens deemed to exist in connection with Investments in repurchase agreements permitted under Section 10.5;

(m) Liens encumbering reasonable customary initial deposits and margin deposits and similar Liens attaching to commodity trading accounts or other brokerage accounts incurred in the ordinary course of business and not for speculative purposes;

(n) Liens that are contractual rights of set-off (i) relating to the establishment of depository relations with banks not given in connection with the issuance of Indebtedness, (ii) relating to pooled deposit or sweep accounts of the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary to permit satisfaction of overdraft or similar obligations incurred in the ordinary course of business of the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries or (iii) relating to purchase orders and other agreements entered into with customers of the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary in the ordinary course of business;

(o) Liens solely on any cash earnest money deposits made by the Borrower or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries in connection with any letter of intent or purchase agreement permitted hereunder;

(p) Liens on insurance policies and the proceeds thereof securing the financing of the premiums with respect thereto;

(q) Liens securing obligations under the Term Loan Agreement; and

(r) additional Liens so long as the aggregate principal amount of the obligations so secured does not exceed the greater of (y) $50,000,000 at any time outstanding and (z) 1.5% of Consolidated Total Assets at the time of the incurrence of such obligations.

10.3 Limitation on Fundamental Changes. Except as expressly permitted by Section 10.4 or 10.5, the Borrower will not, and will not permit any of the Restricted Subsidiaries to, enter into any merger, consolidation or amalgamation, or liquidate, wind up or dissolve itself (or suffer any liquidation or dissolution), or convey, sell, lease, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of, all or substantially all its business units, assets or other properties, except that:

(a) so long as no Default or Event of Default would result therefrom, any Subsidiary of the Borrower or any other Person may be merged or consolidated with or into the Borrower, provided that (i) the Borrower shall be the continuing or surviving corporation or (ii) if the Person formed by or surviving any such merger or consolidation is not the Borrower (such Person, the "Successor Borrower"), (A) the Successor Borrower shall be an entity organized or existing under the laws of the United States, any state thereof, the District of Columbia or any territory thereof, (B) the Successor Borrower shall expressly assume all the obligations of the Borrower under this Agreement and the other Credit Documents pursuant to a supplement hereto or thereto in form reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent, (C) each Guarantor, unless it is the other party to such merger or consolidation, shall have by a supplement to the Guarantee confirmed that its Guarantee shall apply to the Successor Borrower's obligations under this Agreement, (D) each Subsidiary grantor and each Subsidiary pledgor, unless it is the other party to such merger or consolidation, shall have by a supplement to the Security Agreement confirmed that its obligations thereunder shall apply to the Successor Borrower's obligations under this Agreement, and (E) the Borrower shall have delivered to the Administrative Agent (x) an officer's certificate stating that such merger or consolidation and such supplements to this Agreement preserve the enforceability of the Guarantee and the perfection and priority of the Liens under the Security Documents and (y) if reasonably requested by the Administrative Agent, an opinion of counsel to the effect that such merger or consolidation does not violate this Agreement or any other Credit Document, and provided further that if the foregoing are satisfied, the Successor Borrower will succeed to, and be substituted for, such Borrower under this Agreement;

(b) any Subsidiary of the Borrower or any other Person may be merged, amalgamated or consolidated with or into any one or more Subsidiaries of the Borrower, provided that (i) in the case of any merger, amalgamation or consolidation involving one or more Restricted Subsidiaries, (A) a Restricted Subsidiary shall be the continuing or surviving corporation or (B) the Borrower shall take all steps necessary to cause the Person formed by or surviving any such merger, amalgamation or consolidation (if other than a Restricted Subsidiary) to become a Restricted Subsidiary, (ii) in the case of any merger, amalgamation or consolidation involving one or more Guarantors, a Guarantor shall be the continuing or surviving corporation or the Person formed by or surviving any such merger, amalgamation or consolidation (if other than a Guarantor) shall execute a supplement to the Guarantee Agreement and the Security Agreement in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Collateral Agent in order to become a Guarantor and grantor of Collateral for the benefit of the Secured Parties, (iii) no Default or Event of Default would result from the consummation of such merger, amalgamation or consolidation, (iv) the Borrower shall be in compliance, on a Pro Forma Basis after giving effect to such merger, amalgamation or consolidation, with the covenant set forth in Section 10.9 of the Term Loan Agreement, as such covenant is recomputed as at the last day of the most recently ended Test Period under such Section as if such merger or consolidation had occurred on the first day of such Test Period, and (v) the Borrower shall have delivered to the Administrative Agent an officer's certificate stating that such merger, amalgamation or consolidation and such supplements to any Security Document preserve the enforceability of the Guarantee and the perfection and priority of the Liens under the Security Documents;

(c) any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor may sell, lease, transfer or otherwise dispose of any or all of its assets (upon voluntary liquidation or otherwise) to the Borrower, a Guarantor or any other Restricted Subsidiary;

(d) any Guarantor may sell, lease, transfer or otherwise dispose of any or all of its assets (upon voluntary liquidation or otherwise) to the Borrower or any other Guarantor; and

(e) any Restricted Subsidiary may liquidate or dissolve if (i) the Borrower determines in good faith that such liquidation or dissolution is in the best interests of the Borrower and is not materially disadvantageous to the Lenders and (ii) to the extent such Restricted Subsidiary is a Credit Party, any assets or business not otherwise disposed of or transferred in accordance with Section 10.4 or 10.5, or, in the case of any such business, discontinued, shall be transferred to, or otherwise owned or conducted by, another Credit Party after giving effect to such liquidation or dissolution.

10.4 Limitation on Sale of Assets. The Borrower will not, and will not permit any of the Restricted Subsidiaries to, (i) convey, sell, lease, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of its property, business or assets (including receivables and leasehold interests), whether now owned or hereafter acquired (other than any such sale, transfer, assignment or other disposition resulting from any casualty or condemnation, of any assets of the Borrower or the Restricted Subsidiaries) or (ii) sell to any Person (other than the Borrower or a Guarantor) any shares owned by it of any Restricted Subsidiary's Stock and Stock Equivalents, except that:

(a) the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries may sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of (i) used or surplus equipment, vehicles, inventory and other assets in the ordinary course of business and (ii) Permitted Investments;

(b) the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries may sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of other assets (other than accounts receivable) (each a "Disposition") for fair value, provided that:

(i) with respect to any Disposition pursuant to this clause (b) for a purchase price in excess of $10,000,000, the Borrower or a Restricted Subsidiary shall receive not less than 75% of such consideration in the form of cash or Permitted Investments; provided that for the purposes of this clause (i):

(A) any liabilities (as shown on the Borrower's or such Restricted Subsidiary's most recent balance sheet provided hereunder or in the footnotes thereto) of the Borrower or such Restricted Subsidiary, other than liabilities that are by their terms subordinated to the payment in cash of the Obligations, that are assumed by the transferee with respect to the applicable Disposition and for which the Borrower and all of the Restricted Subsidiaries shall have been validly released by all applicable creditors in writing,

(B) any securities received by the Borrower or such Restricted Subsidiary from such transferee that are converted by the Borrower or such Restricted Subsidiary into cash (to the extent of the cash received) within 180 days following the closing of the applicable Disposition, and

(C) any Designated Non-Cash Consideration received by the Borrower or such Restricted Subsidiary in respect of such Disposition having an aggregate fair market value, taken together with all other Designated Non-Cash Consideration received pursuant to this Section 10.4(b) and Section 10.4(c) that is at that time outstanding, not in excess of 6% of Consolidated Total Assets at the time of the receipt of such Designated Non-Cash Consideration, with the fair market value of each item of Designated Non-Cash Consideration being measured at the time received and without giving effect to subsequent changes in value, shall in each case under this clause (i) be deemed to be cash;

(ii) [intentionally omitted];

(iii) with respect to any such sale, transfer or disposition (or series of related sales, transfers or dispositions), the Borrower shall be in compliance, on a Pro Forma Basis after giving effect to such sale, transfer or disposition, with the covenant set forth in Section 10.9 of the Term Loan Agreement), as such covenant is recomputed as at the last day of the most recently ended Test Period under such Section as if such sale, transfer or disposition had occurred on the first day of such Test Period; and

(iv) after giving effect to any such sale, transfer or disposition, no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing;

(c) the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries may make sales of assets to the Borrower or to any Restricted Subsidiary, provided that with respect to any such sales to Restricted Subsidiaries that are not Guarantors:

(i) such sale, transfer or disposition shall be for fair value;

(ii) with respect to any Disposition pursuant to this clause (c) for a purchase price in excess of $10,000,000, the Borrower or a Restricted Subsidiary shall receive not less than 75% of such consideration in the form of cash or Permitted Investments; provided that for the purposes of this clause (ii):

(A) any liabilities (as shown on the Borrower's or such Restricted Subsidiary's most recent balance sheet provided hereunder or in the footnotes thereto) of the Borrower or such Restricted Subsidiary, other than liabilities that are by their terms subordinated to the payment in cash of the Obligations, that are assumed by the transferee with respect to the applicable Disposition and for which the Borrower and all of the Restricted Subsidiaries shall have been validly released by all applicable creditors in writing,

(B) any securities received by the Borrower or such Restricted Subsidiary from such transferee that are converted by the Borrower or such Restricted Subsidiary into cash (to the extent of the cash received) within 180 days following the closing of the applicable Disposition,

(C) any Designated Non-Cash Consideration received by the Borrower or such Restricted Subsidiary in respect of such Disposition having an aggregate fair market value, taken together with all other Designated Non-Cash Consideration received pursuant to this Section 10.4(c) and Section 10.4(b) that is at that time outstanding, not in excess of 6% of Consolidated Total Assets at the time of the receipt of such Designated Non-Cash Consideration, with the fair market value of each item of Designated Non-Cash Consideration being measured at the time received and without giving effect to subsequent changes in value, shall in each case under this clause (ii) be deemed to be cash; and

(iii) [intentionally omitted].

(d) the Borrower and any Restricted Subsidiary may effect any transaction permitted by Section 10.3, 10.5 or 10.6;

(e) in addition to selling or transferring accounts receivable pursuant to the other provisions hereof, the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries may sell or discount without recourse accounts receivable arising in the ordinary course of business in connection with the compromise or collection thereof consistent with such Person's current credit and collection practices;

(f) the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries may lease, sublease, license or sublicense (on a non-exclusive basis with respect to any intellectual property) real, personal or intellectual property in the ordinary course of business;

(g) sales, transfers and other dispositions of property to the extent that (i) such property is exchanged for credit against the purchase price of similar replacement property or (ii) the proceeds of such Disposition are promptly applied to the purchase price of such replacement property;

(h) sales, transfers and other dispositions of property pursuant to Permitted Sale Leaseback transactions;

(i) Dispositions of Non-Core Assets; and

(j) sales, transfers and other dispositions of Investments in joint ventures to the extent required by, or made pursuant to customary buy/sell arrangements between, the joint venture parties set forth in joint venture arrangements and similar binding arrangements.

10.5 Limitation on Investments. The Borrower will not, and will not permit any of the Restricted Subsidiaries to, make any advance, loan, extensions of credit or capital contribution to, or purchase any stock, bonds, notes, debentures or other securities of or any assets of, or make any other Investment in, any Person, except:

(a) extensions of trade credit and asset purchases in the ordinary course of business;

(b) Permitted Investments;

(c) loans and advances to officers, directors and employees of the Borrower (or any direct or indirect parent thereof) or any of its Subsidiaries (i) for reasonable and customary business-related travel, entertainment, relocation and analogous ordinary business purposes (including employee payroll advances), (ii) in connection with such Person's purchase of Stock or Stock Equivalents of the Borrower (or any direct or indirect parent thereof) to the extent that the amount of such loans and advances are contributed to the Borrower in cash and (iii) for purposes not described in the foregoing clauses (i) and (ii), in an aggregate principal amount outstanding not to exceed $5,000,000;

(d) Investments existing on, or contemplated as of, the date hereof and listed on Schedule 10.5 and any extensions, renewals or reinvestments thereof, so long as the aggregate amount of all Investments pursuant to this clause (d) is not increased at any time above the amount of such Investments existing on the date hereof;

(e) Investments received in connection with the bankruptcy or reorganization of suppliers or customers and in settlement of delinquent obligations of, and other disputes with, customers arising in the ordinary course of business or upon foreclosure with respect to any secured Investment or other transfer of title with respect to any secured Investment;

(f) Investments to the extent that payment for such Investments is made solely with Stock or Stock Equivalents of the Borrower;

(g) Investments (i) in any Guarantor or the Borrower, (ii) in Restricted Subsidiaries that are not Guarantors, in an aggregate amount pursuant to this clause (ii) not to exceed (x) the greater of (A) $50,000,000 and (B) 1.5% of Consolidated Total Assets at the time of the incurrence of such Investment plus (y) the Applicable Amount at such time, and (iii) in Restricted Subsidiaries that are not Guarantors so long as such Investment is part of a series of simultaneous Investments by Restricted Subsidiaries in other Restricted Subsidiaries that result in the proceeds of the initial Investment being invested in one or more Guarantors;

(h) Investments constituting Permitted Acquisitions;

(i) (i) Investments (including Investments in Unrestricted Subsidiaries) and (ii) Investments in joint ventures or similar entities that do not constitute Restricted Subsidiaries, in each case, as valued at the fair market value of such Investment at the time each such Investment is made, in an amount that, at the time such Investment is made, would not exceed the sum of (x) the greater of (A) $100,000,000 and (B) 3% of Consolidated Total Assets at the time of the incurrence of such Investment, plus (y) the Applicable Amount at such time plus (z) an amount equal to any repayments, interest, returns, profits, distributions, income and similar amounts actually received in cash in respect of any such Investment (which amount shall not exceed the amount of such Investment valued at the fair market value of such Investment at the time such Investment was made),

(j) Investments constituting non-cash proceeds of sales, transfers and other dispositions of assets to the extent permitted by Section 10.4;

(k) Investments made to repurchase or retire Stock of the Borrower or any direct or indirect parent thereof owned by any employee stock ownership plan or key employee stock ownership plan of the Borrower (or any direct or indirect parent thereof);

(l) Investments permitted under Section 10.6;

(m) loans and advance to any direct or indirect parent of the Borrower in lieu of, and not in excess of the amount of, dividends to the extent permitted to be made to such parent in accordance with Section 10.6;

(n) Investments consisting of extensions of credit in the nature of accounts receivable or notes receivable arising from the grant of trade credit in the ordinary course of business, and Investments received in satisfaction or partial satisfaction thereof from financially troubled account debtors and other credits to suppliers in the ordinary course of business;

(o) Investments in the ordinary course of business consisting of Article 3 endorsements for collection or deposit and Article 4 customary trade arrangements with customers consistent with past practices;

(p) advances of payroll payments to employees in the ordinary course of business;

(q) [Intentionally Omitted];

(r) Guarantee Obligations of the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary of leases (other than Capitalized Leases) or of other obligations that do not constitute Indebtedness, in each case entered into in the ordinary course of business;

(s) Investments made to repurchase or retire equity interests of the Borrower (or any direct or indirect parent thereof) owned by any employee stock ownership plan or key employee stock ownership plan of the Borrower (or any direct or indirect parent thereof);

(t) Investments of a Restricted Subsidiary acquired after the Closing Date or of any Person merged into the Borrower or merged or consolidated with a Restricted Subsidiary in accordance with Section 10.3 after the Closing Date to the extent that such Investments were not made in contemplation of or in connection with such acquisition, merger or consolidation and were in existence on the date of such acquisition, merger or consolidation; and

(u) Investments with respect to the purchase of the outstanding Stock and Stock Equivalents of Red Man Pipe and Supply Canada, Ltd. in accordance with the exercise of the CanHCo Call Right (as defined in the Redman Acquisition Agreement) so long as no Default or Event of Default exists or would exist after giving effect thereto.

10.6 Limitation on Dividends. The Borrower will not declare or pay any dividends (other than dividends payable solely in its Stock) or return any capital to its stockholders or make any other distribution, payment or delivery of property or cash to its stockholders as such, or redeem, retire, purchase or otherwise acquire, directly or indirectly, for consideration, any shares of any class of its Stock or Stock Equivalents or the Stock or Stock Equivalents of any direct or indirect parent now or hereafter outstanding, or set aside any funds for any of the foregoing purposes, or permit any of the Restricted Subsidiaries to purchase or otherwise acquire for consideration (other than in connection with an Investment permitted by Section 10.5) any Stock or Stock Equivalents of the Borrower, now or hereafter outstanding (all of the foregoing "dividends"), provided that, (x) to the extent that a dividend, distribution or any other return of capital pursuant to paragraph (c) below is funded with a Borrowing hereunder, Excess Availability is not less than $100,000,000 after giving effect to such dividend, distribution or other return of capital and (y) so long as no Default or Event of Default exists or would exist after giving effect thereto:

(a) the Borrower may redeem in whole or in part any of its Stock or Stock Equivalents for another class of its Stock or Stock Equivalents or with proceeds from substantially concurrent equity contributions or issuances of new Stock or Stock Equivalents, provided that such new Stock or Stock Equivalents contain terms and provisions at least as advantageous to the Lenders in all respects material to their interests as those contained in the Stock or Stock Equivalents redeemed thereby;

(b) the Borrower may (or may make dividends to permit any direct or indirect parent thereof to) repurchase shares of its (or such parent's) Stock or Stock Equivalents held by officers, directors and employees of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries, so long as such repurchase is pursuant to, and in accordance with the terms of, management and/or employee stock plans, stock subscription agreements or shareholder agreements; provided, that the aggregate amount of all cash paid in respect of all such shares so repurchased in any calendar year does not exceed the sum of (i) $10,000,000 plus (ii) all amounts obtained by the Borrower during such calendar year from the sale of such Stock or Stock Equivalents to other officers, directors and employees of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries in connection with any permitted compensation and incentive arrangements plus (iii) all amounts obtained from any key-man life insurance policies received during such calendar year; provided further that the aggregate amount permitted by the foregoing proviso with respect to any calendar year commencing with 2008 shall be increased by 100% of the amount of unused share repurchases for the immediately preceding year (such amount, a "carry-over amount") without giving effect to any carry-over amount that was added in such preceding calendar year and assuming any such carry-over amount is utilized first and so long as the aggregate amount of cash paid in respect of all such shares so repurchased in any calendar year does not exceed $20,000,000; and provided still further the aggregate amount of all cash paid in respect of all such shares so repurchased in any calendar year may exceed the aggregate amount permitted by the foregoing provisos if Excess Availability is not less than $100,000,000 after giving effect to such dividend, distribution or other return of capital;

(c) the Borrower may pay dividends on the Stock or Stock Equivalents, provided that the amount of any such dividends pursuant to this clause (c) shall not exceed an amount equal to (i)(a) $50,000,000 or (b) $100,000,000, if the Consolidated Total Debt to Consolidated EBITDA Ratio for the Test Period last ended is less than 4.00:1.00, determined on a Pro Forma Basis after giving effect to such dividend, less any amount expended pursuant to Section 10.7(a)(i)(x) plus (ii) the Applicable Amount at such time; and

(d) the Borrower may pay dividends:

(i) so long as the Borrower is a member of a group filing a consolidated, combined, unitary or affiliated tax return with a parent, the proceeds of which will be used to pay (or to make dividends to allow any direct or indirect parent of the Borrower to pay) within 30 days of the receipt thereof, the tax liability to each relevant jurisdiction in respect of such consolidated, combined, unitary or affiliated returns for the relevant jurisdiction of such parent to the extent such tax liability is directly attributable to the taxable income of the

Borrower or its Subsidiaries (that are included in such consolidated, combined, unitary or affiliated tax return), determined as if the Borrower and such Subsidiaries filed a separate consolidated, combined, unitary or affiliated tax return as a stand-alone group;

(ii) the proceeds of which shall be used to allow any direct or indirect parent of Borrower to pay (A) its operating expenses incurred in the ordinary course of business and other corporate overhead costs and expenses (including administrative, legal, accounting and similar expenses provided by third parties), which are reasonable and customary and incurred in the ordinary course of business, in an aggregate amount not to exceed $2,000,000 in any fiscal year of the Borrower plus any reasonable and customary indemnification claims made by directors or officers of the Borrower (or any parent thereof) attributable to the ownership or operations of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries or (B) fees and expenses otherwise (x) due and payable by the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries and (y) permitted to be paid by the Borrower or such Subsidiary under this Agreement;

(iii) the proceeds of which shall be used to pay franchise taxes and other fees, taxes and expenses required to maintain the corporate existence of any direct or indirect parent of the Borrower, within thirty (30) days of the receipt thereof;

(iv) in amount equal to the Net Cash Proceeds of any Disposition of Non-Core Assets for the purposes of complying with the requirements of the Red Man Transaction Agreement or the Merger Agreement (as defined in the Existing Revolving Credit Agreement), as applicable, relating thereto;

(v) to any direct or indirect parent of the Borrower to finance any Investment permitted to be made pursuant to Section 10.5; provided that (A) such dividend shall be made substantially concurrently with the closing of such Investment and (B) such parent shall, immediately following the closing thereof, cause (1) all property acquired (whether assets, Stock or Stock Equivalents) to be contributed to the Borrower or its Restricted Subsidiaries or (2) the merger (to the extent permitted in Section 10.5) of the Person formed or acquired into the Borrower or its Restricted Subsidiaries in order to consummate such Permitted Acquisition; and

(vi) in an amount not to exceed the amount necessary to effect the Investment described in Section 10.5(u).

10.7 Limitations on Debt Payments and Amendments. (a) The Borrower will not, and will not permit any Restricted Subsidiary to, prepay, repurchase or redeem or otherwise defease any Subordinated Indebtedness; provided, however, that so long as no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing at the date of such prepayment, repurchase, redemption or other defeasance or would result after giving effect thereof and Excess Availability is not less than $50,000,000 after giving effect to such prepayment, repurchase, redemption or other defeasance, the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary may prepay, repurchase or redeem Subordinated Indebtedness (i) for an aggregate price not in excess of (x)(A) $50,000,000 or (B) $100,000,000, if the Consolidated Total Debt to Consolidated EBITDA Ratio for the Test Period last ended is less than 4.00:1.00, determined on a Pro Forma Basis after giving effect to such prepayment, repurchase, redemption or other defeasance, less any amount expended pursuant to Section 10.6(c)(i) plus (y) the Applicable Amount at the time of such prepayment, repurchase or redemption, or (ii) with the proceeds of Subordinated Indebtedness that (A) is permitted by Section 10.1(B) (other than Section 10.1(B)(o)) and (B) has terms material to the interests of the Lenders not materially less advantageous to the Lenders than those of such Subordinated Indebtedness being refinanced.

(b) The Borrower will not waive, amend, modify, terminate or release any Subordinated Indebtedness to the extent that any such waiver, amendment, modification, termination or release would be adverse to the Lenders in any material respect.

10.8 Limitations on Sale Leasebacks. The Borrower will not, and will not permit any of the Restricted Subsidiaries to, enter into or effect any Sale Leasebacks, other than Permitted Sale Leasebacks.

10.9 [Reserved].

10.10 Changes in Business. The Borrower and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, will not fundamentally and substantively alter the character of their business, taken as a whole, from the business conducted by the Borrower and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, on the Closing Date and other business activities incidental or related to any of the foregoing.

10.11 Burdensome Agreements. The Borrower will not, and will not permit any Restricted Subsidiary to, enter into or permit to exist any contractual obligation (other than this Agreement or any other Credit Document) that limits the ability of (a) any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor to make dividends to the Borrower or any Guarantor or (b) the Borrower or any Subsidiary Guarantor to create, incur, assume or suffer to exist Liens on property of such Person for the benefit of the Lenders with respect to the Obligations; provided that the foregoing clauses (a) and (b) shall not apply to contractual obligations which (i) (x) exist on the date hereof and (to the extent not otherwise permitted by this Section 10.11) are listed on Schedule 10.11 and (y) to the extent contractual obligations permitted by clause (x) are set forth in an agreement evidencing Indebtedness, are set forth in any agreement evidencing any permitted renewal, extension or refinancing of such Indebtedness so long as such renewal, extension or refinancing does not expand the scope of such contractual obligation, (ii) are binding on a Restricted Subsidiary at the time such Restricted Subsidiary first becomes a Restricted Subsidiary of the Borrower, so long as such contractual obligations were not entered into solely in contemplation of such Person becoming a Restricted Subsidiary of the Borrower; (iii) represent Indebtedness of a Restricted Subsidiary of the Borrower which is not a Credit Party which is permitted by Section 10.1, (iv) arise in connection with any Disposition permitted by Section 10.4, (v) are customary provisions in joint venture agreements and other similar agreements applicable to joint ventures permitted under Section 10.5 and applicable solely to such joint venture entered into in the ordinary course of business, (vi) are negative pledges and restrictions on Liens in favor of any holder of Indebtedness permitted under Section 10.1 but solely to the extent any negative pledge relates to the property financed by or the subject of such Indebtedness, (vii) are customary restrictions on leases, subleases, licenses or asset sale agreements otherwise permitted hereby so long as such restrictions relate to the assets subject thereto, (viii) comprise restrictions imposed by any agreement relating to secured Indebtedness permitted pursuant to Section 10.1 to the extent that such restrictions apply only to the property or assets securing such Indebtedness or, in the case of secured Indebtedness incurred pursuant to Section 10.1(B)(j) or Section 10.1(B)(k)) only, to the Restricted Subsidiaries incurring or guaranteeing such Indebtedness, (ix) are customary provisions restricting subletting or assignment of any lease governing a leasehold interest of the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary, (x) are customary provisions restricting assignment of any agreement entered into in the ordinary course of business, (xi) are restrictions on cash or other deposits imposed by customers under contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business, and (xii) exist under the Term Loan Credit Agreement or any documentation relating to such debt.

SECTION 11. Events of Default

Upon the occurrence of any of the following specified events (each an "Event of Default"):

11.1 Payments. The Borrower shall (a) default in the payment when due of any principal of the Loans or (b) default, and such default shall continue for five or more days, in the payment when due of any interest or stamping fees on the Loans or any Fees or any Unpaid Drawings or of any other amounts owing hereunder or under any other Credit Document; or

11.2 Representations, etc. Any representation, warranty or statement made or deemed made by any Credit Party herein or in any Security Document or any certificate, statement, report or other document delivered or required to be delivered pursuant hereto or thereto shall prove to be untrue in any material respect on the date as of which made or deemed made; or

11.3 Covenants. Any Credit Party shall:

(a) default in the due performance or observance by it of any term, covenant or agreement contained in Section 9.1(h) or Section 10;

(b) default in the due performance or observance by it of any term, covenant or agreement contained in Section 9.1(f) and such default shall continue unremedied for a period of at least ten (10) Business Days after the earlier of the date on which an Authorized Officer of the Borrower has knowledge of such default and the date of receipt of written notice by the Borrower from the Administrative Agent or the Required Lenders; or

(c) default in the due performance or observance by it of any term, covenant or agreement (other than those referred to in Section 11.1 or 11.2 or clauses (a) or (b) of this Section 11.3) contained in this Agreement, any Security Document or the Fee Letter and such default shall continue unremedied for a period of at least thirty (30) days after receipt of written notice by the Borrower from the Administrative Agent or the Required Lenders; or

11.4 Default Under Other Agreements. (a) The Borrower or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries shall (i) default in any payment with respect to any Indebtedness (other than the Obligations) in excess of $30,000,000 in the aggregate, for the Borrower and such Restricted Subsidiaries, beyond the period of grace, if any, provided in the instrument or agreement under which such Indebtedness was created or (ii) default in the observance or performance of any agreement or condition relating to any such Indebtedness or contained in any instrument or agreement evidencing, securing or relating thereto, or any other event shall occur or condition exist (other than, with respect to Indebtedness consisting of any Hedge Agreements, termination events or equivalent events pursuant to the terms of such Hedge Agreements), the effect of which default or other event or condition is to cause, or to permit the holder or holders of such Indebtedness (or a trustee or agent on behalf of such holder or holders) to cause, any such Indebtedness to become due prior to its stated maturity; or (b) without limiting the provisions of clause (a) above, any such Indebtedness shall be declared to be due and payable, or required to be prepaid other than by a regularly scheduled required prepayment or as a mandatory prepayment (and, with respect to Indebtedness consisting of any Hedge Agreements, other than due to a termination event or equivalent event pursuant to the terms of such Hedge Agreements), prior to the stated maturity thereof; or

11.5 Bankruptcy, etc. The Borrower or any Specified Subsidiary shall commence a voluntary case, proceeding or action concerning itself under (a) Title 11 of the United States Code entitled "Bankruptcy," or (b) in the case of any Foreign Subsidiary that is a Specified Subsidiary, any domestic or foreign law relating to bankruptcy, judicial management, insolvency reorganization or relief of debtors legislation of its jurisdiction of incorporation, in each case as now or hereafter in effect, or any successor thereto (collectively, the "Bankruptcy Code"); or an involuntary case, proceeding or action is commenced against the Borrower or any Specified Subsidiary and the petition is not controverted within 10 days after commencement of the case, proceeding or action; or an involuntary case, proceeding or action is commenced against the Borrower or any Specified Subsidiary and the petition is not dismissed within 60 days after commencement of the case, proceeding or action; or a custodian (as defined in the Bankruptcy Code), judicial manager, receiver, receiver manager, trustee or similar person is appointed for, or takes charge of, all or substantially all of the property of the Borrower or any Specified Subsidiary; or the Borrower or any Specified Subsidiary commences any other proceeding or action under any reorganization, arrangement, adjustment of debt, relief of debtors, dissolution, insolvency or liquidation or similar law of any jurisdiction whether now or hereafter in effect relating to the Borrower or any Specified Subsidiary; or there is commenced against the Borrower or any Specified Subsidiary any such proceeding or action that remains undismissed for a period of 60 days; or the Borrower or any Specified Subsidiary is adjudicated insolvent or bankrupt; or any order of relief or other order approving any such case or proceeding or action is entered; or the Borrower or any Specified Subsidiary suffers any appointment of any custodian receiver, receiver manager, trustee or the like for it or any substantial part of its property to continue undischarged or unstayed for a period of 60 days; or the Borrower or any Specified Subsidiary makes a general assignment for the benefit of creditors; or any corporate action is taken by the Borrower or any Specified Subsidiary for the purpose of effecting any of the foregoing; or

11.6 ERISA. (a) Any Plan shall fail to satisfy the minimum funding standard required for any plan year or part thereof or a waiver of such standard or extension of any amortization period is sought or granted under Section 412 of the Code; any Plan is or shall have been terminated or is the subject of termination proceedings under ERISA (including the giving of written notice thereof); an event shall have occurred or a condition shall exist in either case entitling the PBGC to terminate any Plan or to appoint a trustee to administer any Plan (including the giving of written notice thereof); any Plan shall have an accumulated funding deficiency (whether or not waived); the Borrower or any Subsidiary or any ERISA Affiliate has incurred or is likely to incur a liability to or on account of a Plan under Section 409, 502(i), 502(l), 515, 4062, 4063, 4064, 4069, 4201 or 4204 of ERISA or Section 4971 or 4975 of the Code (including the giving of written notice thereof); (b) there could result from any event or events set forth in clause (a) of this Section 11.6 the imposition of a lien, the granting of a security interest, or a liability, or the reasonable likelihood of incurring a lien, security interest or liability; and (c) such lien, security interest or liability will or would be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect; or 11.7 Guarantee. Any Guarantee provided by any Material Subsidiary or any material provision thereof shall cease to be in full force or effect or any such Guarantor thereunder or any Credit Party shall deny or disaffirm in writing any such Guarantor's obligations under the Guarantee (or any of the foregoing shall occur with respect to a Guarantee provided by a Subsidiary that is not a Material Subsidiary and shall continue unremedied for a period of at least 5 Business Days after receipt of written notice by the Borrower from the Administrative Agent, the Collateral Agent or the Required Lenders); or

11.8 [Reserved].; or

11.9 Security Agreement. The Security Agreement pursuant to which the assets of the Borrower or any Material Subsidiary are pledged as Collateral or any material provision thereof shall cease to be in full force or effect (other than pursuant to the terms hereof or thereof or as a result of acts or omissions of the Collateral Agent or any Lender) or any grantor thereunder or any Credit Party shall deny or disaffirm in writing any grantor's obligations under the Security Agreement (or any of the foregoing shall occur with respect to Collateral provided by a Subsidiary that is not a Material Subsidiary and shall continue unremedied for a period of at least 5 Business Days after receipt of written notice by the Borrower from the Administrative Agent, the Collateral Agent or the Required Lenders); or

11.10 [Intentionally Omitted].

11.11 Judgments. One or more judgments or decrees shall be entered against the Borrower or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries involving a liability of $30,000,000 or more in the aggregate for all such judgments and decrees for the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries (to the extent not paid or fully covered by insurance provided by a carrier not disputing coverage) and any such judgments or decrees shall not have been satisfied, vacated, discharged or stayed or bonded pending appeal within 60 days from the entry thereof; or

11.12 Change of Control. A Change of Control shall occur; or

11.13 Subordination. The subordination provisions of any document or instrument evidencing any Permitted Additional Debt having a principal amount in excess of $15,000,000 that are subordinated shall be invalidated or otherwise cease to be legal, valid and binding obligations of the holders of such Permitted Additional Debt, enforceable in accordance with their terms;

then, (1) upon the occurrence of any Event of Default described in Section 11.5, automatically, and (2) upon the occurrence of any other Event of Default, at the request of (or with the consent of) Required Lenders, upon notice to the Borrower by Administrative Agent, (A) the Revolving Credit Commitments of each Lender and the obligation of the Letter of Credit Issuer to issue any Letter of Credit shall immediately terminate; (B) each of the following shall immediately become due and payable, in each case without presentment, demand, protest or other requirements of any kind, all of which are hereby expressly waived by each Credit Party: (I) the unpaid principal amount of and accrued interest on the Loans, (II) an amount equal to the maximum amount that may at any time be drawn under all Letters of Credit then outstanding (regardless of whether any beneficiary under any such Letter of Credit shall have presented, or shall be entitled at such time to present, the drafts or other documents or certificates required to draw under such Letters of Credit), and (III) all other Obligations; provided, the foregoing shall not affect in any way the obligations of Lenders under Section 2.1(d) or Section 3.3(a); (C) Administrative Agent may cause Collateral Agent to enforce any and all Liens and security interests created pursuant to Security Documents; and (D) Administrative Agent shall direct the Borrower to pay (and the Borrower hereby agrees upon receipt of such notice, or upon the occurrence of any Event of Default specified in Section 11.5 to pay) to Administrative Agent such additional amounts of cash as reasonably requested by the Letter of Credit Issuer, to be held as security for the Borrower's reimbursement Obligations in respect of Letters of Credit then outstanding.

SECTION 12. [Reserved].

SECTION 13. The Administrative Agent

13.1 Appointment. (a) Each Lender hereby irrevocably designates and appoints the Administrative Agent as the agent of such Lender under this Agreement and the other Credit Documents, and each such Lender irrevocably authorizes the Administrative Agent, in such capacity, to take such action on its behalf under the provisions of this Agreement and the other Credit Documents and to exercise such powers and perform such duties as are expressly delegated to the Administrative Agent by the terms of this Agreement and the other Credit Documents, together with such other powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary elsewhere in this Agreement, the Administrative Agent shall not have any duties or responsibilities, except those expressly set forth herein, or any fiduciary relationship with any Lender, and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities shall be read into this Agreement or any other Credit Document or otherwise exist against the Administrative Agent. The provisions of this Section 13 are solely for the benefit of the Agents, any sub-agent and the Lenders and no Credit Party shall have any rights as a third party beneficiary of any of the provisions hereof. In performing its functions and duties hereunder, each Agent shall act solely as an agent of Lenders and does not assume and shall not be deemed to have assumed any obligation towards or relationship of agency or trust with or for Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries. Except as expressly otherwise provided in this Agreement, the Administrative Agent shall have and may use its sole discretion with respect to

(i) the determination of the applicability of ineligibility criteria and other determinations with respect to the calculation of the Borrowing Base, (ii) the making of Protective Advances pursuant to Section 2.15, and (iii) the exercise of remedies pursuant to Section 11.

(b) The Administrative Agent, each Lender, the Swingline Lender and the Letter of Credit Issuer hereby irrevocably designate and appoint the Collateral Agent as its agent under this Agreement and the other Credit Documents, and the Administrative Agent, each Lender, the Swingline Lender and the Letter of Credit Issuer irrevocably authorize the Collateral Agent, in such capacity, (i) to take such action on their behalf under the provisions of this Agreement and the other Credit Documents and to exercise such powers and perform such duties as are expressly delegated to the Collateral Agent by the terms of this Agreement and the other Credit Documents, together with such other powers as are reasonably incidental thereto and (ii) to enter into any and all of the Security Documents (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Intercreditor Agreement) together with such other documents as shall be necessary to give effect to (x) the ranking and priority of Indebtedness contemplated by the Intercreditor Agreement and (y) the Collateral contemplated by the other Security Documents, on its behalf. For the avoidance of doubt, each Lender agrees to be bound by the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement to the same extent as if it were a party thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary elsewhere in this Agreement, the Collateral Agent shall not have any duties or responsibilities, except those expressly set forth herein, or any fiduciary relationship with the Administrative Agent, any Lender, the Swingline Lender or the Letter of Credit Issuer, and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities shall be read into this Agreement or any other Credit Document or otherwise exist against the Collateral Agent.

(c) The Syndication Agent, in its capacity as such, shall not have any obligations, duties or responsibilities under this Agreement but shall be entitled to all benefits of this Section 13.

(d) Each Co-Documentation Agent, in its capacity as such, shall not have any obligations, duties or responsibilities under this Agreement but shall be entitled to all benefits of this Section 13.

13.2 Delegation of Duties. Administrative Agent may perform any and all of its duties and exercise its rights and powers under this Agreement or under any other Credit Document by or through any one or more sub-agents appointed by Administrative Agent. Administrative Agent and any such sub-agent may perform any and all of its duties and exercise its rights and powers by or through their respective Affiliates. The exculpatory, indemnification and other provisions of this Section 13.2 and of Section 13.7 shall apply to any the Affiliates of Administrative Agent and shall apply to their respective activities in connection with the syndication of the credit facilities provided for herein as well as activities as Administrative Agent. All of the rights, benefits, and privileges (including the exculpatory and indemnification provisions) of this Section 13 and Section 14.5 shall apply to any such sub-agent and to the Affiliates of any such sub-agent, and shall apply to their respective activities as sub-agent as if such sub-agent and Affiliates were named herein. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, with respect to each sub-agent appointed by the Administrative Agent, (i) such sub-agent shall be a third party beneficiary under this Agreement with respect to all such rights, benefits and privileges (including exculpatory rights and rights to indemnification) and shall have all of the rights and benefits of a third party beneficiary, including an independent right of action to enforce such rights, benefits and privileges (including exculpatory rights and rights to indemnification) directly, without the consent or joinder of any other Person, against any or all of the Credit Parties and the Lenders, (ii) such rights, benefits and privileges (including exculpatory rights and rights to indemnification) shall not be modified or amended without the consent of such sub-agent, and (iii) such sub-agent shall only have obligations to Administrative Agent and not to any Credit Party, Lender or any other Person and no Credit Party, Lender or any other Person shall have any rights, directly or indirectly, as a third party beneficiary or otherwise, against such sub-agent.

13.3 General Immunity. (a) No Responsibility for Certain Matters. No Agent shall be responsible to any Lender for the execution, effectiveness, genuineness, validity, enforceability, collectability or sufficiency hereof or any other Credit Document or for any representations, warranties, recitals or statements made herein or therein or made in any written or oral statements or in any financial or other statements, instruments, reports or certificates or any other documents furnished or made by any Agent to Lenders or by or on behalf of any Credit Party, or for the financial condition or business affairs of any Credit Party or any other Person liable for the payment of any Obligations, nor shall any Agent be required to ascertain or inquire as to the performance or observance of any of the terms, conditions, provisions, covenants or agreements contained in any of the Credit Documents or as to the use of the proceeds of the Loans or as to the existence or possible existence of any Event of Default or Default or to make any disclosures with respect to the foregoing. Anything contained herein to the contrary notwithstanding, Administrative Agent shall not have any liability arising from confirmations of the amount of outstanding Loans or the Letters of Credit Outstanding or the component amounts thereof.

(b) Exculpatory Provisions. No Agent nor any of its officers, partners, directors, employees or agents shall be liable to Lenders for any action taken or omitted by any Agent under or in connection with any of the Credit Documents except to the extent caused by such Agent's gross negligence or willful misconduct. Each Agent shall be entitled to refrain from any act or the taking of any action (including the failure to take an action) in connection herewith or any of the other Credit Documents or from the exercise of any power, discretion or authority vested in it hereunder or thereunder unless and until such Agent shall have received instructions in respect thereof from Required Lenders (or such other Lenders as may be required to give such instructions under Section 14.1) and, upon receipt of such instructions from Required Lenders (or such other Lenders, as the case may be), such Agent shall be entitled to act or (where so instructed) refrain from acting, or to exercise such power, discretion or authority, in accordance with such instructions. Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, (i) each Agent shall be entitled to rely, and shall be fully protected in relying, upon any communication, instrument or document believed by it to be genuine and correct and to have been signed or sent by the proper Person or Persons and shall be entitled to rely and shall be protected in relying on opinions and judgments of attorneys (who may be attorneys for Borrower and its Subsidiaries), accountants, experts and other professional advisors selected by it; and (ii) no Lender shall have any right of action whatsoever against any Agent as a result of such Agent acting or (where so instructed) refraining from acting hereunder or any of the other Credit Documents in accordance with the instructions of Required Lenders (or such other Lenders as may be required to give such instructions under Section 14.1)

13.4 Reliance by Agents. The Administrative Agent and the Collateral Agent shall be entitled to rely, and shall be fully protected in relying, upon any writing, resolution, notice, consent, certificate, affidavit, letter, telecopy, telex or teletype message, statement, order or other document or conversation believed by it to be genuine and correct and to have been signed, sent or made by the proper Person or Persons and upon advice and statements of legal counsel (including counsel to the Borrower), independent accountants and other experts selected by the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent. The Administrative Agent may deem and treat the Lender specified in the Register with respect to any amount owing hereunder as the owner thereof for all purposes unless a written notice of assignment, negotiation or transfer thereof shall have been filed with the Administrative Agent. The Administrative Agent and the Collateral Agent shall be fully justified in failing or refusing to take any action under this Agreement or any other Credit Document unless it shall first receive such advice or concurrence of the Required Lenders as it deems appropriate or it shall first be indemnified to its satisfaction by the Lenders against any and all liability and expense that may be incurred by it by reason of taking or continuing to take any such action. The Administrative Agent and the Collateral Agent shall in all cases be fully protected in acting, or in refraining from acting, under this Agreement and the other Credit Documents in accordance with a request of the Required Lenders, and such request and any action taken or failure to act pursuant thereto shall be binding upon all the Lenders and all future holders of the Loans.

13.5 Notice of Default. Neither the Administrative Agent nor the Collateral Agent shall be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Default or Event of Default hereunder unless it has received notice from a Lender or the Borrower referring to this Agreement, describing such Default or Event of Default and stating that such notice is a "notice of default". In the event that the Administrative Agent receives such a notice, it shall give notice thereof to the Lenders. The Administrative Agent shall take such action with respect to such Default or Event of Default as shall be reasonably directed by the Required Lenders, provided that unless and until the Administrative Agent shall have received such directions, the Administrative Agent may (but shall not be obligated to) take such action, or refrain from taking such action, with respect to such Default or Event of Default as it shall deem advisable in the best interests of the Lenders (except to the extent that this Agreement requires that such action be taken only with the approval of the Required Lenders or each of the Lenders, as applicable).

13.6 Non-Reliance on Administrative Agent, Collateral Agent and Other Lenders. Each Lender expressly acknowledges that neither the Administrative Agent nor the Collateral Agent nor any of their respective officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys-in-fact or Affiliates has made any representations or warranties to it and that no act by the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent hereinafter taken, including any review of the affairs of the Borrower, any Guarantor or any other Credit Party, shall be deemed to constitute any representation or warranty by the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent to any Lender, the Swingline Lender or the Letter of Credit Issuer. Each Lender, Swingline Lender and Letter of Credit Issuer represents to the Administrative Agent and the Collateral Agent that it has, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent, the Collateral Agent or any other Lender, and based on such documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own appraisal of and investigation into the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Borrower, any Guarantor and any other Credit Party and made its own decision to make its Loans hereunder and enter into this Agreement. Each Lender also represents that it will, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent, the Collateral Agent or any other Lender, and based on such documents and information as it shall deem appropriate at the time, continue to make its own credit analysis, appraisals and decisions in taking or not taking action under this Agreement and the other Credit Documents, and to make such investigation as it deems necessary to inform itself as to the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Borrower, any Guarantor and any other Credit Party. Except for notices, reports and other documents expressly required to be furnished to the Lenders by the Administrative Agent hereunder, neither the Administrative Agent nor the Collateral Agent shall have any duty or responsibility to provide any Lender with any credit or other information concerning the business, assets, operations, properties, financial condition, prospects or creditworthiness of the Borrower, any Guarantor or any other Credit Party that may come into the possession of the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent any of their respective officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys-in-fact or Affiliate. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, each Lender acknowledges that the lien and security interest granted to the Collateral Agent pursuant to the Security Agreement or other applicable Security Document, and the exercise of any right or remedy by the Collateral Agent thereunder, are subject to the provisions of the Intercreditor Agreement and that in the event of any conflict between the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement and such Security Document, the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement shall govern and control.

13.7 Indemnification. The Lenders agree to indemnify the Administrative Agent and the Collateral Agent and any sub-agent thereof, each in its capacity as such (to the extent not reimbursed by the Borrower and without limiting the obligation of the Borrower to do so), ratably according to their respective portions of the Total Credit Exposure in effect on the date on which indemnification is sought (or, if indemnification is sought after the date upon which the Commitments shall have terminated and the Loans shall have been paid in full, ratably in accordance with their respective portions of the Total Credit Exposure in effect immediately prior to such date), from and against any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs (including legal fees and costs), expenses or disbursements of any kind whatsoever that may at any time (including at any time following the payment of the Loans) be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent or such sub-agent in any way relating to or arising out of, the Commitments, this Agreement, any of the other Credit Documents or any documents contemplated by or referred to herein or therein or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby or any action taken or omitted by the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent or such sub-agent under or in connection with any of the foregoing, provided that no Lender shall be liable for the payment of any portion of such liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements resulting from the Administrative Agent's or the Collateral Agent's or such sub-agent's gross negligence or willful misconduct. The agreements in this Section 13.7 shall survive the payment of the Loans and all other amounts payable hereunder.

13.8 Agents in their Individual Capacity. The agency hereby created shall in no way impair or affect any of the rights and powers of, or impose any duties or obligations upon, any Agent or any sub-agent thereof in its individual capacity as a Lender hereunder. With respect to its participation in the Loans and the Letters of Credit, each Agent and any sub-agent thereof shall have the same rights and powers hereunder as any other Lender and may exercise the same as if it were not performing the duties and functions delegated to it hereunder, and the term "Lender" shall, unless the context clearly otherwise indicates, include each Agent or any sub-agent thereof in its individual capacity. Any Agent or any sub-agent thereof and its respective Affiliates may accept deposits from, lend money to, own securities of, and generally engage in any kind of banking, trust, financial advisory or other business with Borrower or any of its Affiliates as if it were not performing the duties specified herein, and may accept fees and other consideration from the Borrower for services in connection herewith and otherwise without having to account for the same to Lenders.

13.9 Successor Agents. The Administrative Agent may resign as Administrative Agent and the Collateral Agent may resign as Collateral Agent upon 20 days' prior written notice to the Lenders and the Borrower. If the Administrative Agent shall resign as Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent shall resign as Collateral Agent under this Agreement and the other Credit Documents, then the Required Lenders shall appoint from among the Lenders a successor Administrative Agent or successor Collateral Agent, as applicable, which successor agent in each case, shall be approved by the Borrower (which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld) so long as no Default or Event of Default is continuing, whereupon such successor agent shall succeed to the rights, powers and duties of the Administrative Agent or the Collateral Agent, as the case may be, and the term "Administrative Agent" or "Collateral Agent", as the case may be, shall mean such successor agent effective upon such appointment and approval, and the former Administrative Agent's or Collateral Agent's rights, powers and duties as Administrative Agent or Collateral Agent, as the case may be, shall be terminated, without any other or further act or deed on the part of such former Administrative Agent or Collateral Agent, as the case may be, or any of the parties to this Agreement or any holders of the Loans. After any retiring Administrative Agent's or Collateral Agent's resignation as Administrative Agent or Collateral Agent, as the case may be, the provisions of this Section 13 shall inure to its benefit as to any actions taken or omitted to be taken by it while it was Administrative Agent or Collateral Agent under this Agreement and the other Credit Documents.

13.10 Withholding Tax. To the extent required by any applicable law, the Administrative Agent may withhold from any interest payment to any Lender an amount equivalent to any applicable withholding tax. If the Internal Revenue Service or any authority of the United States or other jurisdiction asserts a claim that the Administrative Agent did not properly withhold tax from amounts paid to or for the account of any Lender (because the appropriate form was not delivered, was not properly executed, or because such Lender failed to notify the Administrative Agent of a change in circumstances which rendered the exemption from, or reduction of, withholding tax ineffective, or for any other reason), such Lender shall indemnify the Administrative Agent (to the extent that the Administrative Agent has not already been reimbursed by the Borrower and without limiting the obligation of the Borrower to do so) fully for all amounts paid, directly or indirectly, by the Administrative Agent as tax or otherwise, including penalties and interest, together with all expenses incurred, including legal expenses, allocated staff costs and any out of pocket expenses.

13.11 REPORTS AND FINANCIAL STATEMENTS; DISCLAIMER BY LENDERS. By signing this Agreement, each Lender:

(a) is deemed to have requested that the Agents furnish such Lender and Agents hereby agree to deliver to each Lender, promptly after it becomes available, (i) a copy of all financial statements and Borrowing Base Certificates to be delivered by the Borrower hereunder, (ii) a copy of any notice of Default or Event of Default received by such Agent, (iii) a copy of each Report and (iv) a copy of each budget and certificate to be delivered by the Borrower pursuant to Sections 9.1(d) and (e);

(b) expressly agrees and acknowledges that no Agent (i) makes any representation or warranty as to the accuracy of any Report, or (ii) shall be liable for any information contained in any Report;

(c) expressly agrees and acknowledges that the Reports are not comprehensive audits or examinations, that the Agent or other party performing any audit or examination will inspect only specific information regarding the Borrower and will rely significantly upon the Borrower's books and records, as well as on representations of the Borrower's personnel;

(d) agrees to keep all Reports confidential in accordance with Section 14.16; and without limiting the generality of any other indemnification provision contained in this Agreement, agrees: (i) to hold the Agents and any such other Person or Lender preparing a Report harmless from any action the indemnifying Lender may take or conclusion the indemnifying Lender may reach or draw from any Report in connection with any loans or other credit accommodations that the indemnifying Lender has made or may make to the Borrower, or the indemnifying Lender's participation in, or the indemnifying Lender's purchase of, a loan or loans of the Borrower; and (ii) to pay and protect, and indemnify, defend, and hold the Agents and any such other Person or Lender preparing a Report harmless from and against, the claims, actions, proceedings, damages, costs, expenses, and other amounts (including reasonable costs of counsel) incurred by the Agents and any such other Lender preparing a Report as the direct or indirect result of any third parties who might obtain all or part of any Report through the indemnifying Lender. Upon a Lender's reasonable request, the Administrative Agent agrees to deliver to such Lender a copy of the documents delivered by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent pursuant to Section 9.1.

SECTION 14. Miscellaneous

14.1 Amendments and Waivers. Neither this Agreement nor any other Credit Document, nor any terms hereof or thereof may be amended, supplemented or modified except in accordance with the provisions of this Section 14.1. The Required Lenders may, or, with the written consent of the Required Lenders, the Administrative Agent may, from time to time, (a) enter into with the relevant Credit Party or Credit Parties written amendments, supplements or modifications hereto and to the other Credit Documents for the purpose of adding any provisions to this Agreement or the other Credit Documents or changing in any manner the rights of the Lenders or of the Credit Parties hereunder or thereunder or (b) waive, on such terms and conditions as the Required Lenders or the Administrative Agent, as the case may be, may specify in such instrument, any of the requirements of this Agreement or the other Credit Documents or any Default or Event of Default and its consequences; provided, however, that no such waiver and no such amendment, supplement or modification shall directly (i) forgive or reduce any portion of any Loan or Unpaid Drawing or extend the final scheduled maturity date of any Loan or Unpaid Drawing or reduce the stated rate (it being understood that any change to the definitions of Consolidated Total Debt to Consolidated EBITDA Ratio, Secured Leverage Ratio or Consolidated Fixed Charge Coverage Ratio or in the component definitions thereof shall not constitute a reduction in the stated rate and only the consent of the Required Lenders shall be necessary to waive any obligation of the Borrower to pay interest at the "default rate" or amend Section 2.8(c)), or forgive any portion, or extend the date for the payment, of any interest or fee payable hereunder (other than as a result of waiving the applicability of any post-default increase in interest rates), or extend the final expiration date of any Lender's Commitment or extend the final expiration date of any Letter of Credit beyond the L/C Maturity Date, or increase the aggregate amount of the Commitments of any Lender, or amend or modify any provisions of Section 5.3(a) (with respect to the ratable allocation of any payments only), 2.4 (with respect to the ratable disbursement of funds) and 14.8(a), in each case without the written consent of each Lender directly and adversely affected thereby, or (ii) amend, modify or waive any provision of this Section 14.1 or reduce the percentages specified in the definitions of the term "Required Lenders" or "Super-Majority Lenders" or consent to the assignment or transfer by the Borrower of its rights and obligations under any Credit Document to which it is a party (except as permitted pursuant to Section 10.3), in each case without the written consent of each Lender directly and adversely affected thereby, or (iii) amend, modify or waive any provision of Section 13 without the written consent of the then-current Administrative Agent, or (iv) amend, modify or waive any provision of Section 3 with respect to any rights or obligations of the Letter of Credit Issuer, Section 5.4 in a manner that directly and adversely affects the rights of the Letter of Credit Issuer set forth therein or Section 14.6(b) or Section 14.7 to eliminate or reduce the Letter of Credit Issuer's right to consent to assignments of Revolving Credit Commitments or Revolving Credit Loans, without the written consent of the Letter of Credit Issuer, or (v) amend, modify or waive any provisions hereof relating to Swingline Loans without the written consent of the Swingline Lender, or (vi) increase the advance rates or modify the definition of "Borrowing Base" or any component definition thereof if such increase or modification is intended to have the effect of making more credit available, in each case without the prior written consent of the Super-Majority Lenders and, solely in the case of an increase to the $30,000,000 figure in clause (o) of the definition of Eligible Account and/or clause (a) of the definition of Eligible Red Man Business Account, the prior written consent of all Lenders; provided that the foregoing shall not limit the discretion of the Administrative Agent to establish, change or eliminate Reserves or otherwise exercise its Permitted Discretion, or (vii) release or limit the liability of all or substantially all of the Guarantors under the Guarantee (except as expressly permitted by the Guarantee) or release all or substantially all of the Collateral under the Security Agreement (except with respect to transactions in accordance with Section 10.4) without the prior written consent of each Lender, or (viii) amend Section 2.9 so as to permit Interest Period intervals greater than six months without regard to availability to Lenders, without the written consent of each Lender directly and adversely affected thereby; or (ix) amend, modify or waive any provisions hereof relating to the Administrative Agent in a manner that directly and adversely affects it rights and obligations hereunder without the written consent of the Administrative Agent; or (x) amend, modify or waive any provisions hereof relating to the Collateral Agent in a manner that directly and adversely affects it rights and obligations hereunder without the written consent of the Collateral Agent. Any such waiver and any such amendment, supplement or modification shall apply equally to each of the affected Lenders and shall be binding upon the Borrower, such Lenders, the Administrative Agent and all future holders of the affected Loans. In the case of any waiver, the Borrower, the Lenders and the Administrative Agent shall be restored to their former positions and rights hereunder and under the other Credit Documents, and any Default or Event of Default waived shall be deemed to be cured and not continuing, it being understood that no such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other Default or Event of Default or impair any right consequent thereon.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, no Defaulting Lender shall have any right to approve or disapprove any amendment, waiver or consent hereunder, except that the Commitment of such Lender may not be increased or extended without the consent of such Lender (it being understood that any Commitments or Loans held or deemed held by any Defaulting Lender shall be excluded for a vote of the Lenders hereunder requiring any consent of the Lenders).

14.2 Notices. Unless otherwise expressly provided herein, all notices and other communications provided for hereunder or under any other Credit Document shall be in writing (including by facsimile transmission). All such written notices shall be mailed, faxed or delivered to the applicable address, facsimile number or electronic mail address, and all notices and other communications expressly permitted hereunder to be given by telephone shall be made to the applicable telephone number, as follows:

(a) if to the Borrower, the Administrative Agent, the Letter of Credit Issuer or the Swingline Lender, to the address, facsimile number, electronic mail address or telephone number specified for such Person on Schedule 14.2 or to such other address, facsimile number, electronic mail address or telephone number as shall be designated by such party in a notice to the other parties; and

(b) if to any other Lender, to the address, facsimile number, electronic mail address or telephone number specified in its Administrative Questionnaire or to such other address, facsimile number, electronic mail address or telephone number as shall be designated by such party in a notice to the Borrower, the Administrative Agent, the Letter of Credit Issuer and the Swingline Lender.

All such notices and other communications shall be deemed to be given or made upon the earlier to occur of (i) actual receipt by the relevant party hereto and (ii) (A) if delivered by hand or by courier, when signed for by or on behalf of the relevant party hereto; (B) if delivered by mail, three (3) Business Days after deposit in the mails, postage prepaid; (C) if delivered by facsimile, when sent and receipt has been confirmed by telephone; and (D) if delivered by electronic mail, when delivered; provided that notices and other communications to the Administrative Agent or the Lenders pursuant to Sections 2.3, 2.6, 2.9, 4.2 and 5.1 shall not be effective until received.

14.3 No Waiver; Cumulative Remedies. No failure to exercise and no delay in exercising, on the part of the Administrative Agent, the Collateral Agent or any Lender, any right, remedy, power or privilege hereunder or under the other Credit Documents shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any right, remedy, power or privilege hereunder preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right, remedy, power or privilege. The rights, remedies, powers and privileges herein provided are cumulative and not exclusive of any rights, remedies, powers and privileges provided by law.

14.4 Survival of Representations and Warranties. All representations and warranties made hereunder, in the other Credit Documents and in any document, certificate or statement delivered pursuant hereto or in connection herewith shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the making of the Loans hereunder.

14.5 Payment of Expenses and Taxes. The Borrower agrees (a) to pay or reimburse the Agents for all their reasonable and documented out-of-pocket costs and expenses incurred in connection with the development, preparation and execution of, and any amendment, supplement or modification to, this Agreement and the other Credit Documents and any other documents prepared in connection herewith or therewith, and the consummation and administration of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, including the reasonable and documented costs, fees and expenses associated with the initial collateral appraisal and field examination and all subsequent appraisals, examinations or updates to the extent set forth in Section 9.14 and the reasonable fees, disbursements and other charges of Latham & Watkins LLP, one local counsel in each relevant local jurisdiction and such additional counsel to the extent consented to by the Borrower, (b) to pay or reimburse each Lender, Letter of Credit Issuer and Agent for all its reasonable and documented costs and expenses incurred in connection with the enforcement or preservation of any rights under this Agreement, the other Credit Documents and any such other documents, including the reasonable fees, disbursements and other charges of one counsel to the Administrative Agent, Collateral Agent and the other Agents (unless there is an actual or perceived conflict of interest in which case each such Person may retain its own counsel), (c) to pay, indemnify, and hold harmless each Lender, Letter of Credit Issuer and Agent from, any and all recording and filing fees and (d) to pay, indemnify, and hold harmless each Lender, Letter of Credit Issuer and Agent and their respective directors, officers, employees, trustees, investment advisors and agents from and against any and all other liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements of any kind or nature whatsoever, including reasonable and documented fees, disbursements and other charges of one primary counsel and one local counsel in each relevant jurisdiction to such indemnified Persons (unless there is an actual or perceived conflict of interest or the availability of different claims or defenses in which case each such Person may retain its own counsel), related to the Transactions or with respect to the execution, delivery, enforcement, performance and administration of this Agreement, the other Credit Documents and any such other documents, including, without limitation, any of the foregoing relating to the violation of, noncompliance with or liability under, any Environmental Law or to any actual or alleged presence, release or threatened release of Hazardous Materials or any other Environmental Claims involving or attributable to the operations of the Borrower, any of its Subsidiaries or any of the Real Estate (all the foregoing in this clause (d), collectively, the "indemnified liabilities"), provided that the Borrower shall have no obligation hereunder to the Administrative Agent or any Lender nor any of their Related Parties with respect to indemnified liabilities to the extent attributable to the bad faith, gross negligence or willful misconduct of, or material breach of the Credit Documents by, the party to be indemnified or any of its Related Parties (other than its trustees and advisors). All amounts payable under this Section 14.5 shall be paid within ten (10) Business Days of receipt by the Borrower of an invoice relating thereto setting forth such expense in reasonable detail. No Person indemnified under this Section 14.5 shall be liable for any special, indirect, consequential or punitive damages relating to this Agreement or any other Credit Document or arising out of its activities in connection herewith or therewith. The agreements in this Section 14.5 shall survive repayment of the Loans and all other amounts payable hereunder

14.6 Successors and Assigns; Participations and Assignments. (a) The provisions of this Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns permitted hereby (including any Affiliate of the Letter of Credit Issuer that issues any Letter of Credit), except that (i) the Borrower may not assign or otherwise transfer any of its rights or obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of each Lender (and any attempted assignment or transfer by the Borrower or without such consent shall be null and void) and (ii) no Lender may assign or otherwise transfer its rights or obligations hereunder except in accordance with this Section 14.6. Nothing in this Agreement, expressed or implied, shall be construed to confer upon any Person (other than the parties hereto, their respective successors and assigns permitted hereby (including any Affiliate of the Letter of Credit Issuer that issues any Letter of Credit), Participants (to the extent provided in paragraph (c) of this Section 14.6) and, to the extent expressly contemplated hereby, the Related Parties of each of the Administrative Agent, the Letter of Credit Issuer and the Lenders) any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or by reason of this Agreement.

(b) (i) Subject to the conditions set forth in paragraph (b)(ii) below, any Lender may assign to one or more assignees all or a portion of its rights and obligations under this Agreement (including all or a portion of its Commitments and the Loans at the time owing to it) with the prior written consent of:

(A) the Borrower (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed; provided that it being understood that, without limitation, the Borrower shall have the right to withhold its consent to any assignment if, in order for such assignment to comply with applicable law, the Borrower would be required to obtain the consent of, or make any filing or registration with, any Governmental Authority), provided that no consent of the Borrower shall be required for an assignment to a Lender, an Affiliate of a Lender, an Approved Fund (unless increased costs would result therefrom at any time when no Event of Default under Section 11.1 or Section 11.5 is continuing) or, if an Event of Default under Section 11.1 or Section 11.5 has occurred and is continuing, any other assignee;

(B) the Administrative Agent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed; provided that no consent of the Administrative Agent shall be required for an assignment to a Lender, an Affiliate of a Lender, an Approved Fund), or, in the case of assignments in connection with the initial syndication of Commitments and Loans only, the Co-Lead Arrangers, and, except in connection with the initial syndication of Revolving Credit Commitments or Revolving Loans, the Swingline Lender and the applicable Letter of Credit Issuer;

(ii) Assignments shall be subject to the following additional conditions:

(A) except in the case of an assignment to a Lender, an Affiliate of a Lender or an Approved Fund or an assignment of the entire remaining amount of the assigning Lender's Commitment or Loans, or assignments in connection with the initial syndication of Commitments and Loans (in amounts, and to such Persons, as previously agreed between the Borrower and the Co-Lead Arrangers), the amount of the Commitment or Loans of the assigning Lender subject to each such assignment (determined as of the date the Assignment and Acceptance with respect to such assignment is delivered to the Administrative Agent) shall not be less than $5,000,000, and increments of $1,000,000 in excess thereof, unless each of the Borrower and the Administrative Agent otherwise consents (which consents shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed), provided that no such consent of the Borrower shall be required if an Event of Default under Section 11.1 or Section 11.5 has occurred and is continuing; provided, further, that contemporaneous assignments to a single assignee made by Affiliates of Lenders and related Approved Funds shall be aggregated for purposes of meeting the minimum assignment amount requirements stated above;

(B) each partial assignment shall be made as an assignment of a proportionate part of all the assigning Lender's rights and obligations under this Agreement, provided that this clause shall not be construed to prohibit the assignment of a proportionate part of all the assigning Lender's rights and obligations in respect of one Class of Commitments or Loans;

(C) the parties to each assignment shall execute and deliver to the Administrative Agent an Assignment and Acceptance, together with a processing and recordation fee of $3,500, provided that only one such fee shall be payable in the event of simultaneous assignments to or from two or more Approved Funds; and

(D) the assignee, if it shall not be a Lender, shall deliver to the Administrative Agent an administrative questionnaire in a form approved by the Administrative Agent (the "Administrative Questionnaire").

For the purpose of this Section 14.6(b), the term "Approved Fund" means any Person (other than a natural person) that is engaged in making, purchasing, holding or investing in bank loans and similar extensions of credit in the ordinary course and that is administered, advised or managed by (a) a Lender, (b) an Affiliate of a Lender or (c) an entity or an Affiliate of an entity that administers, advises or manages a Lender.

(iii) Subject to acceptance and recording thereof pursuant to paragraph (b)(v) of this Section 14.6, from and after the effective date specified in each Assignment and Acceptance, the assignee thereunder shall be a party hereto and, to the extent of the interest assigned by such Assignment and Acceptance, have the rights and obligations of a Lender under this Agreement, and the assigning Lender thereunder shall, to the extent of the interest assigned by such Assignment and Acceptance, be released from its obligations under this Agreement (and, in the case of an Assignment and Acceptance covering all of the assigning Lender's rights and obligations under this Agreement, such Lender shall cease to be a party hereto but shall continue to be entitled to the benefits of Sections 2.10, 2.11, 3.5, 5.4 and 14.5). Any assignment or transfer by a Lender of rights or obligations under this Agreement that does not comply with this Section 14.6 shall be treated for purposes of this Agreement as a sale by such Lender of a participation in such rights and obligations in accordance with paragraph (c) of this Section 14.6.

(iv) The Administrative Agent, acting for this purpose as an agent of the Borrower shall maintain at the Administrative Agent's Office a copy of each Assignment and Acceptance delivered to it and a register for the recordation of the names and addresses of the Lenders, and the Commitments of, and principal amount of the Loans and any payment made by the Letter of Credit Issuer under any Letter of Credit owing to, each Lender pursuant to the terms hereof from time to time (the "Register"). Further, the Register shall contain the name and address of the Administrative Agent and the lending office through which each such Person acts under this Agreement. The entries in the Register shall be conclusive absent manifest error, and the Borrower, the Administrative Agent, the Letter of Credit Issuer and the Lenders shall treat each Person whose name is recorded in the Register pursuant to the terms hereof as a Lender hereunder for all purposes of this Agreement. The Register shall be available for inspection by the Borrower or any Lender (with respect to any entry relating to such Lender's Loans) at any reasonable time and from time to time upon reasonable prior notice.

(v) Upon its receipt of a duly completed Assignment and Acceptance executed by an assigning Lender and an assignee, the assignee's completed Administrative Questionnaire (unless the assignee shall already be a Lender hereunder), the processing and recordation fee referred to in paragraph (b) of this Section 14.6 and any written consent to such assignment required by paragraph (b) of this Section 14.6, the Administrative Agent shall accept such Assignment and Acceptance and record the information contained therein in the Register.

(c) (i) Any Lender may, without the consent of the Borrower, the Administrative Agent, the Letter of Credit Issuer or the Swingline Lender, sell participations to one or more banks or other entities (each, a "Participant") in all or a portion of such Lender's rights and obligations under this Agreement (including all or a portion of its Commitments and the Loans owing to it), provided that (A) such Lender's obligations under this Agreement shall remain unchanged, (B) such Lender shall remain solely responsible to the other parties hereto for the performance of such obligations and (C) the Borrower, the Administrative Agent, the Letter of Credit Issuer and the other Lenders shall continue to deal solely and directly with such Lender in connection with such Lender's rights and obligations under this Agreement. Any agreement or instrument pursuant to which a Lender sells such a participation shall provide that such Lender shall retain the sole right to enforce this Agreement and to approve any amendment, modification or waiver of any provision of this Agreement or any other Credit Document, provided that such agreement or instrument may provide that such Lender will not, without the consent of the Participant, agree to any amendment, modification or waiver described in the first proviso to Section 14.1 under subsections (i), (vi), and (vii) that affects such Participant. Subject to paragraph (c)(ii) of this Section 14.6, the Borrower agrees that each Participant shall be entitled to the benefits of Sections 2.10, 2.11 and 5.4 to the same extent as if it were a Lender (subject to the requirements of those Sections) and had acquired its interest by assignment pursuant to paragraph (b) of this Section 14.6. To the extent permitted by law, each Participant also shall be entitled to the benefits of Section 14.8(b) as though it were a Lender, provided such Participant agrees to be subject to Section 14.8(a) as though it were a Lender.

(ii) A Participant shall not be entitled to receive any greater payment under Section 2.10 or 5.4 than the applicable Lender would have been entitled to receive with respect to the participation sold to such Participant, unless the sale of the participation to such Participant is made with the Borrower's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld).

(d) Any Lender may, without the consent of the Borrower or the Administrative Agent, at any time pledge or assign a security interest in all or any portion of its rights under this Agreement to secure obligations of such Lender, including any pledge or assignment to secure obligations to a Federal Reserve Bank, and this Section 14.6 shall not apply to any such pledge or assignment of a security interest, provided that no such pledge or assignment of a security interest shall release a Lender from any of its obligations hereunder or substitute any such pledgee or assignee for such Lender as a party hereto. In order to facilitate such pledge or assignment, the Borrower hereby agrees that, upon request of any Lender at any time and from time to time after the Borrower has made its initial borrowing hereunder, the Borrower shall provide to such Lender, at the Borrower's own expense, a promissory note, substantially in the form of Exhibit L evidencing the Revolving Credit Loans and Swingline Loans, respectively, owing to such Lender.

(e) Subject to Section 14.16, the Borrower authorizes each Lender to disclose to any Participant, secured creditor of such Lender or assignee (each, a "Transferee") and any prospective Transferee any and all financial information in such Lender's possession concerning the Borrower and its Affiliates that has been delivered to such Lender by or on behalf of the Borrower and its Affiliates pursuant to this Agreement or which has been delivered to such Lender by or on behalf of the Borrower and its Affiliates in connection with such Lender's credit evaluation of the Borrower and its Affiliates prior to becoming a party to this Agreement.

14.7 Replacements of Lenders under Certain Circumstances. (a) The Borrower shall be permitted to replace any Lender that (a) requests reimbursement for amounts owing pursuant to Section 2.10, 3.5 or 5.4, (b) is affected in the manner described in Section 2.10(a)(iii) and as a result thereof any of the actions described in such Section is required to be taken or (c) becomes a Defaulting Lender, with a replacement bank or other financial institution, provided that (i) such replacement does not conflict with any Requirement of Law, (ii) no Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing at the time of such replacement, (iii) the Borrower shall repay (or the replacement bank or institution shall purchase, at par) all Loans and other amounts (other than any disputed amounts), pursuant to Section 2.10, 2.11, 3.5 or 5.4, as the case may be) owing to such replaced Lender prior to the date of replacement, (iv) the replacement bank or institution, if not already a Lender, and the terms and conditions of such replacement, shall be reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent, the Swingline Lender and the Letter of Credit Issuer, (v) the replaced Lender shall be obligated to make such replacement in accordance with the provisions of Section 14.6 (provided that the Borrower shall be obligated to pay the registration and processing fee referred to therein) and (vi) any such replacement shall not be deemed to be a waiver of any rights that the Borrower, the Administrative Agent or any other Lender shall have against the replaced Lender.

(b) If any Lender (such Lender, a "Non-Consenting Lender") has failed to consent to a proposed amendment, waiver, discharge or termination, then provided no Event of Default then exists, the Borrower shall have the right (unless such Non-Consenting Lender grants such consent) to replace such Non-Consenting Lender by requiring such Non-Consenting Lender to assign its Loans, and its Commitments hereunder to one or more assignees reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent, the Swingline Lender and the Letter of Credit Issuer, provided that: (a) all Obligations of the Borrower owing to such Non-Consenting Lender being replaced shall be paid in full to such Non-Consenting Lender concurrently with such assignment, (b) the replacement Lender shall purchase the foregoing by paying to such Non-Consenting Lender a price equal to the principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon and (c) the replacement Lender shall grant such consent. In connection with any such assignment, the Borrower, Administrative Agent, such Non-Consenting Lender and the replacement Lender shall otherwise comply with Section 14.6.

14.8 Adjustments; Set-off. (a) If any Lender (a "benefited Lender") shall at any time receive any payment of all or part of its Loans, or interest thereon, or receive any collateral in respect thereof (whether voluntarily or involuntarily, by set-off, pursuant to events or proceedings of the nature referred to in Section 11.5, or otherwise), in a greater proportion than any such payment to or collateral received by any other Lender, if any, in respect of such other Lender's Loans, or interest thereon, such benefited Lender shall purchase for cash from the other Lenders a participating interest in such portion of each such other Lender's Loan, or shall provide such other Lenders with the benefits of any such collateral, or the proceeds thereof, as shall be necessary to cause such benefited Lender to share the excess payment or benefits of such collateral or proceeds ratably with each of the Lenders; provided, however, that if all or any portion of such excess payment or benefits is thereafter recovered from such benefited Lender, such purchase shall be rescinded, and the purchase price and benefits returned, to the extent of such recovery, but without interest.

(b) After the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, in addition to any rights and remedies of the Lenders provided by law, each Lender shall have the right, without prior notice to the Borrower, any such notice being expressly waived by the Borrower to the extent permitted by applicable law, subject to the consent of the Administrative Agent (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld) upon any amount becoming due and payable by the Borrower hereunder (whether at the stated maturity, by acceleration or otherwise) to set-off and appropriate and apply against such amount any and all deposits (general or special, time or demand, provisional or final), in any currency, and any other credits, indebtedness or claims, in any currency, in each case whether direct or indirect, absolute or contingent, matured or unmatured, at any time held or owing by such Lender or any branch or agency thereof to or for the credit or the account of the Borrower. Each Lender agrees promptly to notify the Borrower and the Administrative Agent after any such set-off and application made by such Lender, provided that the failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of such set-off and application.

14.9 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed by one or more of the parties to this Agreement on any number of separate counterparts (including by facsimile or other electronic transmission), and all of said counterparts taken together shall be deemed to constitute one and the same instrument. A set of the copies of this Agreement signed by all the parties shall be lodged with the Borrower and the Administrative Agent.

14.10 Severability. Any provision of this Agreement that is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remaining provisions hereof, and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction.
